(By Hastings)

The Cherokee Nation objects to that question because it is purely argumentative and because it calls for an opinion of the witness.

(By Hollister or witness)

Q Is it not a fact that you were not present at that time at all?

Q No sir.

Q Is it not a fact that you were not at the time? A No sir.

I went there.

Q You swear that you were at the time they were tried for stealing hogs from Alex. Rider? A Yes sir.

Q And that before any proof was introduced against these men they showed that they were not citizens of the Cherokee Nation? A That is my recollection.

Q And do you consider your recollection as correct? A Yes sir.

(By Hastings)

Q Good enough to swear to? A Yes sir.

Lewis Wolf being called and sworn by Commissioner T. B. Needles testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation through Simon R. Wainwright as interpreter.

(By Hastings)

Q What is your name? A Lewis Wolf.

Q How old are you? A Something near 46 about 45.

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes sir I am a full blood.

Q Where do you live? A I live in Coowasagoochee district.

Q How long have you lived in Coowasagoochee district? A I think I came here in '48 or '9 somewhere along there.

Q Did you ever know a colored man named Riley Nair, father of Nose and Andrew Riley? A Yes sir I knew him, he had been a slave of Dr. Mc Nair.

Q Was he ever at court in Coowasagoochee district where he was brought up for trial? A Yes sir.

Q Were you summoned there in any capacity? A Yes sir as a jury man.

Q Who was the judge? A Charles Rogers.

Q What was done with the case? A Just turned him loose.

Q Do you know why? A He proved that he wasn't a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, that he had returned too late to entitle him to citizenship.

Q They were not tried? A No sir.

(By Kallette)

I enter the same formal objection and ask that this testimony be stricken out.

(By Kallette of witness)

Q Who proved that? A I can't state as to who proved these facts as I was outside. I had been selected summoned but not selected on the panel to try the case.

Q You didn't hear the trial did you? A I was on the outside, as soon as the jury was selected I stepped out, I was left out and had no business there.

Q When you don't know what occurred inside of the court house do you? A Yes sir I know they turned that loose, that is about all I know.

Q All you know is that they were turned loose and left the court house? A Yes sir.

Q That year was that? A I am not able to state the exact date but I think it was in 1893.

Q Were you not too young to be a juror at that time? A I think I am old enough, I had been summoned as a juror anyway.

Q Did the jury go out in a room and decide the case? A No sir.

Q How do you know? A I saw him go in and when I saw him leave.

Q Saw who? A Tale Nair Riley Nair, colored man.

Q Was he all you knew about it? A Yes sir.

Q Did they ever hear the case or turned loose? A I didn't hear the case in the court house, it was said by everyone that they were turned loose.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Where and when? A Spring of '88, February or March at the old Lynch farm.

Q Was he living there then? A He told me he had just moved in the day before. I rode up to the fence and he came out on the porch and I never got off my horse.

Q Where did he tell you he came from? A From Kansas, he said.

Q That was in the spring of '88? A Yes sir.

Q Was that the first time you saw him there? A Yes sir.

Q Did he have any family with him then? A I never saw any. I never got off my horse as I never had no business there, just rode up to the fence and talked with him.

Q Do you know this applicant here, Jesse Vinn? A I do now, but I didn't at that time.

Q Did you know at that time that he was Steve Lynch's step son? A No sir.

Q When did you learn that? A Afterwards.

Q How far is it from where you live to where Steve Lynch stopped that time? A Two and a half or three miles.

Q How far from the mouth of Cabin creek was that to where you lived?

A About two and a half miles.

Q You met him on the east side of Grand river did you? A Yes sir.

Q What place did you say it was? A The old Lynch place.

(By applicant or witness.)

Q In the first place I would like to know where was Steve Lynch living when you moved there and went to hauling that lumber for to build that house? A He was in Kansas I reckon, that is what he said.

~~Q That is what he said.~~ (This question cut out by request of applicant.)

Q Next question: When you met Steve Henry, did you know where he was living at that time? A He didn't have any place at that time.

Q I understand that you didn't have any business to get down off'n your horse so how could you know he had no place? A Well that was Lynch's house where I saw him.

Q I want to know if this Steve Henry told you what place he was living on at that time? A He never told me that. I told you that he said he had just moved in the day before.

Q You say you met him on the Lynch farm when he first came in? A I didn't meet him, I rode by there and stopped and he was there at the house.

Q Was he horseback or standing? A He was standing on his feet talking to me.

Q Where did you live at that time? A This side of the river.

Q In a house? A Yes sir.

Q How far from Grand river? A Two and a half miles.

Q You never knew this woman that they called Indian Peggie before the war did you? A Yes sir.

Q Who did she belong to before she belonged to Joe Lynch? A To a full blood Indian who lived on Rose Prairie named Wate Stopp.

Q Do you know when Lynch bought her? A Just before the war.

Q Then you moved the whole family all but the children? A I knowed Steve and Peggie.

Q When Peggie was sold did she have any children? A I don't remember how many children she had.

Q Don't remember? A (No response.)

Q How long did you know her before the war? A I knowed her about 2 or 3 years maybe longer.

Q You knew if it she belonged to some full blood before the war but didn't know his name? A I told you it was Wate Stopp.

Q How far did you live from him? A 3 or 4 miles.

Q How long did you know him? A I never went to his house except when he was preaching, he and my grandfather used to preach together and I went there then.

(By the Commission)

Q You knew Steve Lynch before the war? A Yes sir.

Q He was a slave? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't know Jess Vann, his step son? A No sir not until after the war.

Q All you know of Steve Lynch's returned to the Cherokee Nation is what he told you? A Yes sir.

Q All you know of where he lived before his return was what he told you? A Yes sir.

Q Peggie, Indian Peggie, was his wife? A Not sir.

Q Was she there when you saw him first? A I never saw her that morning, I saw her a few weeks afterwards.

(By Bed)

Q Where did Steve Henry settle after '68? A On the south side of Grand river, or east you might call it, below Island Ford two miles.

Q How far from the Lynch place where you first saw him? A Mile and a half.

(By the Commission)

Q Is this Steve Henry and Steve Lynch the same man? A Yes sir.

Q You have no doubt in your own mind as to this being in '68? A No sir

Q You went out yourself during the war? A Yes sir.

Q When did you return? A In '66.

Q And you are satisfied that it was two years after you returned that you saw him? A Yes sir.

File with Cherokee Freedmen B-451, Mollie Townsend.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Winita, I. T., October 31, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Jesse Vann et al, for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of the applicants:

Recommender:

Mr. T. Brown, Agent for applicants;
J. S. Davernport, of Council for Cherokee Nation.

Allen Lynch, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Breckenridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name? A Allen Lynch.

Q How old are you? A 41 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Winita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Well, I have lived here all my life pretty near.

Q Mr. T. Brown, are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir.

Q Does your name appear upon the authenticated roll of 1890?

A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know the applicant, Jesse Vann? A Yes, sir, I know him.

Q Has he any brothers or sisters? A Yes, sir.

Q Name them please? A Well there is Bill Vann and Dan Henry.

Q Is he known by any other name than Henry? A Well they call him
Dan Lynch, or Dan Steve, he is a son of Stephen Lynch.

Q What was Jesse Vann's father's name? A Bill Vann.

Q Jesse Vann's father's name was Bill Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q What was Dan Lynch's father's name? A Steve Lynch.

Q What relation is Dan Lynch to Jesse Vann? A Half brothers.

Q Jesse Vann and Dan Lynch had the same mother? A Same mother.

Q What was her name? A Peggy Lynch.

Q At the close of the war, with whom was Steve Lynch living? A At the close of the war Steve Lynch was in Kansas.

Q With whom was he living as his wife? A Peggy Lynch, that is the mother of Bill and Jesse.

Q Is she also the mother of Dan? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know when Steve Lynch returned to the Cherokee Nation after the close of the Civil War? A Yes, I know the first time he came down.

Q Please state when? A Well he came down in the fall of '65, I can't tell just exactly what time.

Q He went ahead Mr. Lynch and relate the circumstance of his coming?

A Well he came down here and some other men and stayed down here a week or ten days resting up their horses, and then went back to Kansas; first they went and improved their claim and afterwards somebody took it away from him when he came back, but they went with him
Christmas and helped them move down, but what time they got down here
I can't tell.

Q What day is that you came off? A One day Lynch.

Q This you say was in the fall or winter of '65? A Just in the fall before it got cold weather.

Q Now after he went back to Kansas during that year, did he ever return? A That I don't know, I don't know when he got back.

Q Did he return? A Yes, sir, he got back.

Q After his return the second time did he continue to live in the Cherokee Nation until his death? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Davernport: Is Crap Lynch sometimes known as Anderson Lynch?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did Anderson Lynch come back to the Cherokee Nation? A Anderson
Lynch came back in '65 if I recollect just right.

Q Well when this happened, Jesse Vann, came back, there were you living? A Steve Lynch, I recollect that.

Q Well, where was this applicant at that time? A He was back in Kansas with his mother, the children was back in Kansas when the old man came.

Q Well, where was Jess? A He was living with the old man, his stepfather. Steve Lynch was his stepfather.

Q Well, where was you sitting when this applicant in this case came to the Cherokee Nation? A Jess: I was living out there about ten miles, about that. I don't know when they did come down here, I can't tell you just when Jess did come. I know when the old man came.

Q When did the old man come? A He came along in the fall, before Christmas, and him and Crap went back to move down. I don't know just when he got back.

Q He came back down here with his family sometime after George Clark moved out there near you and George Clark lived up there? A Maybe he did, but I don't know.

Q Don't you know when George Clark moved there? A No, sir, I went away, I wasn't there when he came.

Q Well, Watt West was living there when he came? A No, sir, not there on the river.

Q Was either Watt West or George Clark living there when you went away? A George Clark moved out the time I went away.

Q Had he moved out there before this man and his family moved down? A Before Crap went after him, no, sir.

Q But you don't know anything about when any of these applicants came, you know the father came here sometime after the war? A I saw him here and I saw him and Crap when he started back to Kansas.

Q Is Crap has testified George Clark and Watt West were both living out there when they came down, is that true or not? A I don't know, I wasn't living in the neighborhood.

Q You don't know when the applicant moved down? A No, sir, not when they moved down.

By L. P. Brown: I believe you have already stated that when Steve Lynch returned to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866, that he made him a claim here? A Yes, I say he made him a claim.

Mr. Davenport: Where was that claim? A It was on the prairie the other side of Lynch's old place and old man Houston Bengé took it away from him when he came down. Anderson Bengé.

By L. B. Bell, Cherokee counsel: Where was you in October, 1866? A I was down there on that Dirtwater place.

Q What time did you move onto it? A Well I don't know exactly, didn't exactly move on there at all, I was just living. I had no family, I stayed at McCrary's and Simon's sometimes and at Lewis' and Simon's and sometimes at Crap's. I had nothing to move.

Q Well, you stayed around there at Crap's you say? A I was around to Crap's, yes, sir.

Q You had no particular location? A No, sir.

Q What time did you finally locate? A It was in '67 I believe it was.

Q Where did you settle then? A Settled right down there, that is I stopped down there at Andy Frye's family right below the Doctor Thompson place, that is I stopped with him but I worked for Johnson Thompson.

Q That was in '67? A That was in '67.

Q You married along about that time, that year? A Yes, sir, I believe so.

Q Now where were you living in August, 1866? A If I don't mistake, I was living right there at the mouth of Mustang Creek close to what was called the Arch place, I was right there, there is where I was in August.

Q Well, you were living with somebody then, stopping with somebody?

A Yes, sir.

Q Well, where were you living the early part of '66 around in there, in May and June? A I was living right down here at the mouth of this creek at the old Archer place. I made a crop there.

WILLARD FILMORE HICKS, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Brockinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name? A Willard Filmore Hicks.

Q What is your age? A About 52.

Q You have been giving your name heretofore as Filmore Hicks? A No, sir, as Willard Filmore.

BY L. T. Brown: Mr. Hicks, do you know Stephen Henry Lynch, did you during his life time? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you see him for the first time after the close of the civil war, in the Cherokee Nation? A My best recollection, it was sometime in the fall of '68.

Q Did he continue to live in the Cherokee Nation from that time until his death? A Well, I can't say right from that time that he did.

Q Well, did he make that his home? A He made it his home.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Claim to be.

Q By blood? A Yes, sir. 3

Q Your name is on the roll of 1860? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: You are sometimes called Cap Hicks? A Yes, sir.

Q Now are you the same Cap Hicks that you and a man called Anderson got that male for murdering for that party; didn't you and Andy Frye get a male for swearing for that fellow? A I and Andy Frye did.

Q Who did you swear for? A For a man.

Mr. Bell: Do you know where he came from in Kansas or where he went to? A No, sir, I don't.

Commissioner: Copies of this testimony will be filed in Cherokee Pre-Grand doubtful cases D-254, D-651, D-190, D-316, and D-309.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 14th of November, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Jesse Vann and others for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Applicant represented by Lewis T. Brown, Vinita, I. T.
Cherokee Nation represented by James S. Davenport.

JOSEPHINE HUMISTON, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A Josephine Humiston.

Q Where do you live, Mrs. Humiston? A I live in Linn County, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in Linn County, Kansas? A I have lived there the greater part of the time since '57. I have been out of the county a few times on visits, and was away some eight or ten months at a time, but that's been my home ever since '57.

Q Since you lived in that county did you get acquainted with a colored man by the name of Stephen Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first get acquainted with him? A I must have seen him first in the fall of '58 or winter. I won't be certain whether it was in the winter or fall, but I think it was in the fall.

Q Do you know whether or not he had a family? A Yes, sir, he had a wife and some children.

Q What was his wife's name, if you know? A Peggie.

Q Do you remember the names of any of his children? A The older boy they called Jesse, and Will, and Viney the oldest girl, and I am not positive which of the others was the older, Julia Ann, and one called Judie, I think Julia Ann is probably the oldest one. Those children he brought there to the place when he came.

Q Well, now, on whose place did I understand you to say they lived; after you got acquainted with them whose farm did they live on? A They lived on my husband's place, William B. Emerson, that's my first husband.

Q You say that the children you have named they were in the family when they moved on the place? A When they moved on the place he brought those four children with them.

Q While they were living on your place were there any children born to the family? A Three others.

Q What were their names? A Judie was one, and Nettie and Sarah, but Sarah died when she was small, Sarah died when she was probably about two months old.

Q Well, about how long did they live on your place or about what year did they leave or move away from the place? A They moved in the fall of '57.

Q Your husband was a man or business conducting affairs, and kept accounts with the different parties that was on the farm? A He was always particular in keeping his accounts. He was the surveyor of Linn County, and had a great deal of business, and it became necessary for him to keep them in good order.

Q Do you know whether or not during the year '57 he kept an account between himself and Stephen Lynch, a book account? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know where that book is now? A I have had it in my possession all these years.

Q Is that husband living or dead? A Dead; he died in '60 I think.

Q Would you recognize his handwriting if you should see it? A Yes, sir, I would.

Q I wish you would examine the book that I hand you and see whether or not the account on page 17 of that book is in the handwriting of your deceased husband, Mr. Emerson? A Yes, sir, that's his handwriting; I will swear to it.

Q As I understand, you have had this book in your possession since the death of your husband? A Yes, sir.

Q You knew Stephen Lynch's family quite well because they lived on the farm there for several years? A Lived on the farm, they raised five crops on the farm.

Q You don't know where those older children were born that you speak of? A No, I don't.

Q Do you know whether or not Stephen's children, the older ones that you named, are children by another husband of Peggles? A I think they were children by another husband.

Q You don't know that or anything about it? A Only as I have heard them say so. I have heard Peggles speak of it frequently, that those older children were not Steve's.

Q I want to introduce the entries on page 17 that have been identified by the witness as being in the handwriting of her deceased husband, which book she states has been in her possession continuously since the death of her husband:

MR. BROWN: Mrs. Summison, at the top of this page referred to I see there has been some name there written before the word Stephen was written; can you tell me what that word was? A No.

Q Don't know what name was there before the word Stephen was wrote over it, do you? A No, sir, I don't; I didn't know that there was any such words there; of course a person might make a mistake in writing.

Q Now how long did this man Stephen Lynch rent a place from your husband? A He raised five crops.

Q Raised five crops? A Yes, sir.

Q When did he raise the first crop? A In the year '66.

Q Well, where was he Christian? A He wasn't on the place; don't know where they was; he was there all through those years.

Q Where was he Christian? A He was on the place or at least his family was.

Q And during the month of December, '86, where was he? A If he was off of the place I didn't know it; I don't know where he was, he was on there I think.

Q It was possible for him to have gone away from that place and stayed as much as ten days and you not know it? A He might have done it.

Q He could have done it without you knowing it; you didn't have no occasion to know when he went and where he went, did you? A No, sir, not at all times.

Q Now then, if this applicant claims to have come to the Cherokee Nation in the month of December, '86, and stayed three or four or five days, are you prepared to say that he didn't come? A Not to my knowledge he didn't.

Q But you wouldn't swear positively that he wasn't here three or four days in the month of December, '86, would you? A I have no knowledge of it whatever.

Q Well, I say you wouldn't swear positively that he wasn't here three or four days during that month in that year? A Well, I think I could certainly say no, he wasn't.

Q Well, were you away from the farm any time during the years from '83 to '87? A Not any length of time.

Q For how long a time would you be away? A Not more than two days at a time.

Q Not more than two days? A No, sir.

Q Well, now you spoke of being away eight or ten months, was that during that time or since then? A Years and years since, probably fifteen years ago; not while they were there though.

Q There were a great many colored people in that neighborhood at that time that come from the Territory, were there not? A Well, I didn't know where they come from. There were quite a number come to visit Steve while he was on my place.

Q Well, now, Mrs. Humiston, do you know any colored family that left there in the fall of '86? A I do not.

Q You wouldn't have remembered anything about Stephen Lynch being there during the year '87 if it hadn't been from the fact that you have this book, would you? A Certainly I would; I remember well when he left if I hadn't seen that book.

Q How many years ago has that been? A It was the year of '87 I guess.

Q It's been about thirty-five years ago, has it not? A Yes, sir, I should say it has.

Q Is there anything to impress the leaving of this man upon your mind or your memory? A Yes, sir, we saw him leave the place.

Q Well, you have seen other people leave, haven't you? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember the month and the year they left thirty-five or six years ago? A Well, I didn't remember the month to be sure, but I know it was after the crop was laid by and gathered and everything.

Q Well, now, during the winter months there wasn't much to do on the farm was there? A My husband always hired his work done; he was away from home and always hired his work done, hired Steve to attend to everything on the place.

Q Well now did your husband hire Steve Lynch during the year '86? A Yes, sir.

Q Does this book show any record that he was hired? A No, not that book.

Q Have you any book that does? A I had a diary, but I didn't bring it.

Q Did you look in that diary before you left home to see whether or not that it showed that he worked during that year? A No, sir.

Q And notwithstanding the fact that this man worked for your husband five years this is the only account that he kept as far as you know as to what work was done by him on that place? A Well, I think that he didn't keep his books in that form; he had it mixed up with diaries before that. You see that this began about that time I think.

COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-261, D-190, D-516, D-509, D-488, and in the case at bar, No. D-454.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of JOHN ADAMS for enrollment
as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by McIlwain & Smith, Cherokee Nation, by
W. W. Hastings.

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Hosea Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation,
No. 17202 filed in the Harish Hayden case T. B. 426, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Harish Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Case No. 17202,

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1856, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship.
Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be sustained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Harish Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Hall of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Harish Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to.

in the case of W. Moser Whitmore, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

F. W. Hastings

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case re-opened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings had in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jesse Vann, et al., as Cherokee Freed men, consolidating the applications of:

Jesse Vann et al.,	Cherokee Freedmen D 254,
William Vann, et al.	" " " D 309,
Nettie Eaton,	" " " D 190,
Daniel Lynch, et al.,	" " " D 316.

D E C I S I O N .

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen were made to this Commission: By Jesse Vann for himself and his minor children, Frank, Riley and Levat Vann; by William Vann for himself, his wife, Hannah Vann, and his minor child, Annie Vann; by Tom Eaton for his wife, Nettie Eaton, among others, the other parties to this application, being differently classified, are not embraced in this decision; and by Daniel Lynch for himself, his wife, Mary Lynch, and his minor children, Arthur and Lucine Lynch.

The evidence shows that William Vann, Hannah Vann and Jesse Vann were the slaves of Cherokee citizens at the commencement of the rebellion; and that they were taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the rebellion. It further shows that neither William Vann, Jesse Vann, nor their parents, Steve Lynch or Peggie Lynch, returned to said Nation until after January 19, 1867.

The evidence further shows that Nettie Eaton, Daniel Lynch and their children, above named, were all born since the commencement of the rebellion, and are descendants of the said Steve Lynch and Peggie Lynch, and have no rights as Cherokee Freedmen, except such as they may have derived through them; that Mary Riley was born since 1866, and is the daughter of one, Nancy Ross, through whom she claims the right to enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman; that Nancy Ross was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion and was taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the rebellion, but did not return thereto until after January 19, 1867.

It does not appear that the names of any of the applicants herein are found on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll.

The evidence further shows that the said Hannah Vann returned to the Cherokee Nation prior to January 19, 1867, and that she has resided therein from that time up to and including the date of her application herein. The said Annie Vann, who was born since 1866, is the daughter of Hannah Vann, and being a minor is considered to have resided since her birth with her mother.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Hannah Vann and her minor child, Annie Vann, should be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, approved June 28, 1906 (34 Stat., 498), and that the applications for the enrollment of Jesse Vann, Frank Vann, Wiley Vann, Lewis Vann, William Vann, Nettie Eaton, Daniel Lynch, Mary Lynch, Arthur Lynch and Twins Lynch as Cherokee Freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of said section twenty-one, and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Emma Purtle and others as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of

DECISION.

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen were made to this Commission by Emma Purtle for herself; by Ellen Bean for herself, and by Walter Vann for himself and his minor child, Waneta Vann, among others. His wife, Elnora Vann, was also included in the application, but she is differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. Copies of the testimony taken at various times in the matter of the application of Moses Riley, et al., are made a part of the record in this case.

The evidence herein shows that the applicant, Emma Purtle, was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that she was taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the rebellion and returned thereto with her brother, Moses Riley, and others, some time after February 11, 1867.

It further appears that all the other applicants herein were born since 1866; that they are the descendants of, and claim right to enrollment through, Jesse Vann and Emma Purtle; and that none of the names of the applicants herein are found on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll. (See decisions of the Commission denying the applications of Moses Riley, et al., Cherokee Freedmen D-258 and Jesse Vann, et al., Cherokee Freedmen D-254)

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the applications for the enrollment of Emma Purtle, Ellen Bean, Walter Vann and Waneta Vann should be denied under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress, approved June 28, 1892 (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

May 11, 1904.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.
Gentlemen:

March 17, 1904, the Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs submitted the case involving the applications for the enrollment as Cherokee freedmen of Jesse, Frank, Riley, Lovat, William, Hannah and Annie Vann; of Tom Eaton and Nettie Eaton, and of Daniel, Mary, Arthur and Lucine Lynch, and recommended that your decision of July 10, 1903, in favor of Hannah and Annie Vann, and adverse to all the other applicants except Tom Eaton, who is otherwise classified by you, and in regard to whom no decision was rendered, be affirmed.

The Department finds no reason to disturb your decision and it is hereby concurred in.

As William Vann and Nettie Eaton are married to recognized Cherokee freedmen, you will proceed to determine their rights, if any, as intermarried Cherokees. A copy of the Acting Commissioner's letter is inclosed.

Respectfully,

Thos. Ryan

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

July 28, 1904, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Emma Purtle, et al., for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen (D-305, D-595, D-596), including your decision of July 23, 1904, rejecting the applicants, Emma Purtle, Ellen Bean, Walter and Vaneta Vann.

Reporting in the matter September 28, 1904, the Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommends that your decision be approved. A copy of his letter is inclosed.

The Department concurs in said recommendation, and your decision is hereby affirmed.

If the name of Josie Beans husband of Ellen Bean, is on the 1880 roll as she asserts, her rights, in any, as a Cherokee freedman by intermarriage, should be passed upon.

Respectfully,

A Yes sir.
Q When did you come back from Kansas? A In '66.
Q Did you know her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Did you know this woman in slavery days? A Yes sir, I used to see her.
Q Did she live in your neighborhood? A No sir she lived about, to my knowledge about 12 miles from me.
Q When did you first see her when the war closed? A First at Fort Gibson.
Q How long after you got back here? A I just had got back, about three weeks after I came back.
Q Are you on the roll of 1880? A Yes sir.
Q That was before her marriage? A Yes sir, she wasn't married when I used to see her.

By Mr. Davenport, for the Cherokee Nation:

Q Did you ever live in Tahlequah district? A Yes sir.
Q Was you ever up there before the court for anything? A Not as I know of.
Q Don't you know you was before the court for stealing and convicted and whipped publicly at Tahlequah? A Not as I know of.
Q Was you or was you not convicted and publicly whipped by the Sheriff of Tahlequah district for stealing? A I won't answer nothing that wasn't done lawfully. I won't answer nothing that was just done to keep my vote out, anything that was done lawfully I will answer.

By the Commission:

Q You don't want to give in testimony to your own hurt, is that it?
A It would not hurt me, no sir, if it was lawful I would answer it.

Q When did you leave the Cherokee Nation to go to Kansas? A Right at the Q Do you know where this woman was living at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir.
Q Where was she living? A She was living—I think in Georgia.
Q Do you know? A Yes sir she was living there.

Sarah London 4

Q In Going snake? A Yes sir.

Q Was she a slave of Lewis T. Ridge at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where was Lewis T. Ridge living at the breaking out of the war? A I dont know.

Q I will ask you if you dont know that he was a citizen of the state of Arkansas at the breaking out of the war and not living in the Cherokee Nation at all then? A I dont know as he was living there.

Q Was or wasn't he not a citizen of the state of Arkansas and residing there then? A I cant tell you that.

Q You hadn't seen him for some years in the Cherokee Nation before the war broke out had you? A I hadn't seen him just before the war.

Q How long before the war broke out that you saw Lewis T. Ridge in the Cherokee Nation? A About 20 years.

Q Then you have no idea whatever as to where this woman was living and where Lewis T. Ridge was living when the war broke out? A I used to see this woman.

Q But that was some years before the war broke out? A Not right in the neighborhood where I was living, but I seen her.

Q You know as a matter of fact dont you, that Lewis T. Ridge and his family did not live in the Cherokee Nation for a long time prior to the breaking out of the war, and that the Lewis T. Ridge family are not recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation to-day? A No sir, I dont.

Q Did Lewis T. Ridge have any children? A Yes sir, if I am not mistaken, I was never to his house, just seed the colored people that he owned.

Q Where did you see the colored people that he owned if you were never at his house? A (No response)

Q Give me the name of one of Lewis T. Ridge's children? A I cant give the names.

Q Who was she living with when you saw her at Fort Gibson right after the war? A There was three women staying there together.

Q What was her name then? A Sarah.

Q Sarah what? A Rogers.

Q Did she say then if she had left the Cherokee Nation during the war? A No sir I never asked her.

Q You didnt ask her where she had been living after the war broke out? A No sir.

Q That was just after war times and you colored folks were all coming back and meeting one another again, and yet you say you didnt ask her where she had been all through the war? A I was not there meeting people, I was selling and trafficking.

Q You dont know if this was '66 or '68 that you saw this woman in Fort Gibson do you? A I hadn't been there long.

Q Well you dont know when it was that you got back yourself do you? A Yes sir.

Q When was it? A In '66, in the spring.

Q How do you know it was? A I was told it was.

Q Was it before or after the treaty? A It was inside of the treaty.

Q Did you come back before or after the treaty was made? A Yes sir I guess I did.

Sarah London 5

Q Well which was it? A I don't know nothing about the days of the months.

Q But you would know if it was before or after the treaty was made had you heard of the treaty having been made when you returned?

A Never heard nothing about it then.

Q Did you come back in the fall or in the spring of the year?

A In the spring of '66 I tell you.

Q When you got back to Fort Gibson, did they tell you about the treaty? A No sir.

Q What made you come back then? A I was born and raised here and wanted to get back to my old home, I loved my home and wanted to get back to it, didn't know no other place but this as my home.

Q Was the war over? A Not quite done yet cause there was still soldiers here.

Q The troops were still here were they? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know what year this is? A No sir I don't.

Q Don't know anything except '66 do you? A Yes sir, but I don't know anything about your high language.

DAVID MARTIN, called and sworn as a witness, testified as follows on the part of the applicant; Examined by the Commission:

Q What is your name? A, David Martin.

Q What is your age? A 64.

Q What is your post office address? A Coffeyville.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life only when I was out during the war.

Q Are you on the roll of 1880? A No sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q What do you know about this woman? A I knowed her owners.

Q How long before the war did you see her? A In '59.

Q Where was you living then? A With Joe Martin, right adjoining places, he had her young Misans for a wife, we was together all the time.

Q Do you know where the Ridge went? A No sir.

Q Are you able to state if they left the Territory? A No sir I can't.

Q Where did you see this woman after the war closed? A Never saw her again until I saw her at the Wallace court.

By Commission:

Q You say that you lived on adjoining places to where this woman lived? A Yes sir, and some of the time on the same place.

Q Where did you go to during the war? A Kansas.

Q When did you go to Kansas? A I went to Kansas in '61.

Q What time in '61? A I left in February of '61-I was in the woods scouting since '59.

Q How does it happen that you did not see this woman from '59, until the Wallace court, and that you did not know where she went during the war if you lived on adjoining places to her? A Well you see I was not at home from '59, I was in the woods scouting, from what I learned they take this woman south during the war and I went north.

Q Why didn't you see her from '59 until '61 when you went to Kansas? A I was not at home, I was in the woods scouting all the time.

Sarah London 6

Q You know the family do you? A Yes sir.

Applicant recalled and examined by Mr. Davenport:

Q You own property there in Muskogee now do you? A No sir I am working there is all.

By Com'r Breckinridge:

The applicant applies for herself and two children who are minors. She is identified on the Kern Clifton roll but not upon the roll of 1890 or that of 1896. It appears from the testimony that she was at one time a slave of a Cherokee citizen, but that she was sold prior to the war to a man, presumably a Creek, who lived near what is now known as Fulton, Arkansas, and that she was there taken before the breaking out of the Civil war, and lived there until she was set free by the war. She claims to have come to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866. This is confirmed by two witnesses cited in the case, but her testimony is vague and does not convey an impression of being reliable; however, it appears that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since she returned, except some years in the Creek Nation. Her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner. Giving her the benefit of any doubts that may exist at this time, she will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card and the final decision will be made known to her at her post office address. As for her two children, Levi and Ham, they are both minors and are living at this time; they are identified on the Kern-Clifton roll but not upon the roll of 1896; their claim is only through their mother as their father is a Creek; it is stated that neither the applicant nor any of the children have ever been enrolled as Creeks, the only application that has been made for them, being for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen; these children will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen on a doubtful card to await the termination of the status of their mother, through whom they claim. The final decision of their case will be made known to their mother at her post office address.

Q How long was it after you came back from Texarkanna before you went to Muskogee? A It was four or five years.
Q Well now, with the exception of that stay in Muskogee and your stay in Texarkanna, have you lived in the Cherokee Nation all your life? A Yes, sir, until we went to Texarkanna.
Q I say have you lived in the Cherokee Nation except while you were in Texarkanna and while you were at Muskogee? A Yes, sir, I haven't been nowhere else.
Q When were you married? A I don't know.
Q Well, did you marry pretty soon after you went to Texarkanna? A Yes, sir.
Q You have been married then about eleven or twelve years have you? A Yes sir, I suppose so.
Q How old is your oldest child? A My oldest child is not his child, my husband's.
Q Was your oldest child born in Texarkanna? A No, sir, born in the Nation.

Bettie McCormick - 2.

Q How old is your oldest child after your marriage? A Up to now, I reckon he is about 21. I guess he may be that old, I don't remember my age and my children's.

Q How old was that child when you went to Texarkanna? A He was about a little over a year old I reckon.

Q Give me the name of your father? A My father's name is Charley Rogers.

Q Is he living? A No, sir.

Q Give me the name of your mother? A Sarah Rogers.

Q Is she living? A Yes, sir.

Q Has your mother married since your father died? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your mother's present husband's name? A Ed London.

Q Was that your mother testifying here just now? A Yes, sir.

Q When did your father Charley Rogers die? A He has been dead, I don't know how long he has been dead, I can't tell you.

Q Do you remember him? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he die when you were a little girl? A I wasn't so little, I can remember him.

Q You don't remember the war, do you? A No, sir; my mother told me I was a good big girl.

Q Your father died before you went to Texarkanna, didn't he? A Yes sir, he was dead then.

Q Did he die before your mother married Ed London? A Yes, sir.

Q Give me the name of the man you married? A Calvin McCormick.

Q He is the only man you ever married? A Yes, sir.

Q Now give me the names of your children, begin with the oldest, give me their full names? A Will Rogers.

Q How old do you think that child is? A About 21.

Q Well, he will have to apply for himself I expect; that is not a child of McCormick? A No, sir.

Q Now give me the name of the next child? A Henry McCormick.

Q How old is he? A 17.

Q Give me the name of the next child? A Bertha McCormick.

Q How old is Bertha? A 14.

Q Give me the name of the next child? A Clara.

Q How old is Clara? A 12.

Q Now the next child after Clara? A Hattie.

Q How old is Hattie? A 8 years old.

Q Now the next child? A Helena, 6.

Q Now the next child? A O. D. McCormick.

Q How old is that child O. D.? A He is about 3 years old.

Q You have got one or two more children, haven't you? A Just one.

Q What is its name? A Dewey.

Q How old is that child? A He is a year old.

Commissioner: Make the application for seven children leave out the oldest one.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The 1896 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

Q She is a good deal older than you are? A Yes sir.

Applicant, BETSY MCCORMACK, re-called and further examined,
by Com'r Breckinridge:

- Q Do you know why you are not on the roll of 1880? A No sir.
By Com'r Breckinridge:
Q Did your mother go with you to Texas? A No sir.
A Didn't move down there.
Q Didn't she go with you to Texas? A No sir.
Q Where was your mother living when you went to Texas? A Brushy Mountain, Cherokee Nation.
Q What year was it you went to Texas? A I don't know.
Q You went before you married your last husband? A Yes sir.
Q What year did you marry him? A I don't know.
Q You married him in Texas? A Yes sir.
Q On the Arkansas side or the Texas side? A On the Texas side.
Q You worked how long there after you married? A About two or three years.
Q Where did you go from Texas? A Back to the Cherokee Nation.
Q What part of the Cherokee Nation? A Over at Ft. Gibson.
Q What year did you come back to Ft. Gibson? A I don't know anything else about the years.
Q How long has it been since you went to Ft. Gibson? A It has been years.
Q Where did you go after you went left Ft. Gibson? A I went to Brushy Mountain.
Q How long did you live there? A Four or five years.
Q Where did you go when you left Brushy Mountain? A I came over to Muskogee.
Q Been living there ever since, part of the time with my mother.
Q The other part of the time where have you been? A Come up over to Vinita, and elsewhere, working around.
Q Where was your husband during that time? A He was at home at Muskogee.
Q Have you been back to Texas to live since you left there?
A No sir.
Q Have you any living children? A I am stopping with at present.

Betsy McCormack et al continued page 2

- Q How long have you been stopping there? A Little over two years I reckon.
- Q You have lived two years in Muskogee? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you live at Brushy Mountain? Before you went to Muskogee?
- A I lived out there near about three or four years, I don't know exactly how long I lived out there, I stayed out there terrible time.
- Q How long did you stay at Ft. Gibson before you went to Brushy Mountain? A I didn't stay over there so long.
- Q About how long? A I reckon about two years.
- Q And you came from Texas to Ft. Gibson? A Yes sir.
- Q That would make it about eight years ago you left Texas na?
- A Yes sir.

By Con'r Breckinridge:

- Q Where was your child Henry born? A Born in the Cherokee nation.

- Q Your money gave out when you got there? A Yes sir.
- Q You were just going until your money gave out? A Just going, I was travelling, travelling about.

Con'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and seven minor children; she has no application for her husband, as he is a state man and they were married in the State of Texas at Texas na; the applicant is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1890 or that of 1896; it appears from the testimony that she is in the neighborhood of forty years of age; she seems to have lived in the Cherokee Nation all of her life, except an indefinite period embracing perhaps several years when she lived at Texas na, Texas previous to her marriage, and somewhat subsequent thereto, and she says that she has made and is now making in the Creek Nation; her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner; her original right under the treaty of 1866 appears to be derived through her mother, now Sarah London; under the conditions stated the applicant will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and for further evidence in her case there will be filed therewith a copy of the testimony in the case of her mother, Cherokee Freedman doubtful, 577; when the final decision of the Commission is rendered, it will be made known to the applicant at her post-office address;

Of the seven children named in the testimony, the first five are identified on the Kern-Clifton roll; they are living and they will now be listed for enrollment with their mother as Cherokee Freedmen, and when she supplies the birth records of D. D. and Henry McCormack, these children ren will also be listed for enrollment on a doubtful card as Cherokee Freedmen, and the final decision as to all of these children will be made known to the applicant at her post-office address.

SUPPLEMENTAL to judgment.

SARAH LONDON, re-called and further examined testified as follows:

- Q Where did you say this daughter was born? A She was born on Spavinaw.
- Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Was that before the war? A Yes sir.
- Q You were out of the Cherokee Nation during the war were you?
- Q Yes sir, before the war started Miss Ellen sent me to Texas.
- Q How long before it started? A It was a good while.
- Q Several years? A Yes sir, I reckon it was.
- Q Several years before the war began? A Yes sir.
- Q Where was it you lived down there in Texas? A I lived right down on a place now -- I can't call the name of that place, but there about it was on the side of the river on Crabtree's place.
- Q Who was Crabtree? A It was Mount Crabtree's daddy, the one that lives right here in Muskogee.
- Q You were living on Crabtree's place, the father of Mount Crabtree who lives in Muskogee now? A Mount Crabtree's widow.
- Q Was Mount Crabtree a Creek? A Yes sir.
- Q Was his father a Creek? A No sir, white man.
- Q Mount Crabtree's mother was a Creek? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you live with the Crabtrees? A Until the surrender.
- Q What was it you belonged to after you went to live with the Crabtrees? A Lewis Rogers; he raised me, he was my first master.
- Q And he sold you to the Crabtrees? A Miss Ellen Rogers did.
- Q Did you live with them until the war closed? A Yes sir.
- Q Was this child born when you went down to the Crabtrees? A Yes sir.
- Q They taken this child away from me and kept her here in the nation, when I come back here she was about that high (indicating), and I taken her.
- Q About how old? A I couldn't tell you how old she was.
- Q She was a little thing was she? A Yes sir.
- Q This child then didn't go out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A No sir, it was after the war when she went out; when I come and gather and carried her away from here.
- Q Where did you carry her? A I carried her down there to Fulton.
- Q That is down in Arkansas? A Yes sir.
- Q When was it you carried her there? A That was after the war.
- Q Pretty soon after the war? A Yes sir.
- Q How did you happen to go down to Fulton? A I had been down there all the time, and I couldn't find none of my people up here that I knowed.
- Q Had you been down there about Fulton during the war?
- Q Yes sir.
- Q Did this daughter ever work at Texarkana? A She was down there after she grew up.
- Q Did she go from Fulton to Texarkana? A No sir, I brought her back here and she run off and went down there.
- Q How long did she stay with you at Fulton? A She was a little thing when I took her there, and stayed there until she was a young woman. And then I brought her back here and she went off down to Texarkana.
- Q And there she married? A Yes sir.

Q How long before the war was it that this daughter was born, was it as much as five or six or seven years? A Mister, I can't tell you and tell you the truth, because I don't know one year from another. Only Miss Ellen said it was Christmas, and that's all I know about it.

Q When you were sold to the Crabtree's they didn't sell this child with you? A No sir.

Q They kept her back here? A Yes sir.

Q And then when you came back after the war you took her to Fulton with you? A Yes sir.

Q How did you happen to go back to Fulton after you came here after the war? A I couldn't find none of my people, ~~that~~ I knowed the people down there and I just went back; it was harder time here than then it was down there.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q When you came from Fulton back to the Territory after the war what route did you travel? A Big road.

Q How did you come? A Come afoot, walking; I walked down there and I walked back; Crabtree carried me down there and I walked down there.

Q There was some one went with you down there? A Yes sir, and some one come back with me too.

Q Who was it you came back with? A Liza and Rachel.

Q Your sisters? A No sir, no kin to me at all; they belong to the Nation.

Q You know how many children by Bettie McCormack was born while she was living in Texarkana? A Two, of them, Henry and Bertie.

Q They were born at Texarkana, Texas? A They was born there.

Q The others were born in the Creek and the Cherokee Nations together? A Yes sir, as well as I can tell.

By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q When was it you say you first came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A They said it was after '66, I don't know.

Q After '66? A It was just a little before that.

Q Little before what? A Little before '66.

Q You said just now after '66? A Person is liable to make mistake now.

Q What do you mean now? A I mean before, that's what I heard, I don't know.

Q How long did you stay here before you started back to Fulton?

A When I come back then I stayed here and about here ever since.

Q You told me just now you didn't find your people and went back to Fulton? A I stayed here a right smart while and then I went back and stayed there a good while.

Q You told me you came back here at the close of the war and didn't find your people, and times were hard? A Yes sir.

Q And that then you turned around and walked back to Fulton? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay here before you turned around and walked back to Fulton? A I didn't stay here long, I guess I stayed here about a month or two.

Q Now that time you got here was it the first time you saw this girl after the war? A Yes sir.

Q And when you got back here you then saw her? A Yes sir.

Q You had been down at Fulton separated from your child? A Yes sir.

Q Then when you went back to Fulton that time you took her? A Yes sir I did.

Q Now when she came back here from Fulton was her child William born, - where was William born? A William was born down there.

- Q Down in Fulton? A Yes sir.
- Q And after William was born she came here? A Yes sir.
- Q And stayed awhile and then she went to make this stay in Texas and got married? A Yes sir, that's the time she run off from me.
- Q She claims she didn't run off, she just went? A She run off.
- Q She was of age wasn't she, and had a right to go where she wanted to? A I don't know.
- Q How old was she when Will was born? A Said she was about 15 years old.
- Q Her brother I think said she was about 25? A They don't know exactly and I don't know; we don't know exactly the children's age at all, because I don't know and I can't tell them.
- Q How old was her child Will when she first brought him here? A Like this one. (Indicating child in mother's arms.)
- Q Little thing in arms? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did she stay before she ran off from you and made that visit back to Texas? A I reckon she stayed here about two or three years, as near as I can remember.
- Q And then when did you see her next, how long was it? A It was a long time before I see her.
- Q Where did you see her next? A Second time I saw her she was down here in, I forget the name of the place now.
- Q Some place in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, she was in the Creek nation.
- Q Had she just come back from Texas? A Yes sir, she just had come back from Texas, and she was staying down there.
- Q Down there in the Creek nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Was that at Muskogee? A No sir, it was away below Muskogee.
- Q On the railroad? A No sir, she wasn't on no railroad, out in the country.
- Q That was a long time after she had left you and gone to Texas? A Yes sir.
- Q Well now when she left that place in the Creek Nation where did she go? A She come home then back in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q How long did she stay down there at that place in the Creek Nation? A She stayed down there as near as I can recollect, yes she had then two children.
- Q That is Will and Henry? A Will and Henry and Bertha.
- Q Was Bertha a little thing? A Yes sir, she was a baby then, and Henry he could run all about.
- Q And then she came to the Cherokee nation? A Yes sir.
- Q And then has she been living in the Cherokee nation and the Creek Nation ever since? A Yes sir, ever since then.

Applicant, BETSY MCCORMACK, re-called, and further examined, by Com'r Breckinridge:

- Q You didn't tell me about your having lived at Fulton Arkansas? A Because I didn't know anything about it.
- Q You stayed there until your child Will was born? A I don't know anything about it.
- Q You stayed there until you were grown young woman, your child Will was born there? A No sir, he wasn't.
- Q Your mother said he was? A She made a mistake.

Witness, MARAH LONDON, re-called and further examined, by Com'r Breckinridge:

- Q Where do you say now Will was born? A I tell you where Will was born.
- Q At Fulton? A Yes sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: This will be filed with the testimony.

EXHIBIT TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of BARON LONDON, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation.

APPEARANCES:

Applicant present in person;

Mr. V. W. Hastings, for Cherokee Nation.

CALVIN McCORMICK, being sworn and examined by Commissioner
Breckinridge, testified as follows on behalf of Cherokee Nation:

Q What is your name? A Calvin McCormick.

Q How old are you? A About 32 years old.

Q What is your post office? A Muskogee.

Q Do you live in the Cherokee Nation or do you live in the Creek Nation? A No, sir; I live in the Creek Nation.

Q Where were you born? A I was born in Arkansas.

Q What part of Arkansas? A I was born pretty close down to Fulton, Arkansas.

Q Where did you come from to the Territory? A Fulton, Arkansas.

Q When? A Five or six years ago.

Q And before that did you live all your life about Fulton?

A Yes, sir, right around Fulton.

MR. HASTINGS: Mr. McCormick, what did you give as your age, I didn't understand it? A 32 years old, I am close to 32, or 3 years old.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes, sir.

Q What was your wife's name? A Married her by the name of Bettie Rogers.

Q Did she go by the name of Rogers prior to your marriage?

A That is the name she was going in when I went to see her and I married her.

Q Did you know your wife's mother? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Sarah London.

Q Where did you first know Sarah London? A I first got acquainted with her in the town of Fulton, Arkansas.

Q Was that before or after you married her daughter? A It was before.

Q How long had you known Sarah London before you married her daughter? A Well, give you as close as I possibly can, I think it must have been two or three years, or probably four, it was somewhere close to about that.

Q Where was she living when you first knew her? A She was living in Fulton.

Q Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her husband's name? A His name was Ed London.

Q You knew her there three or four years before you married her daughter? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, how long did you know her after you married her daughter?

A Well, I guess it must have been somewhere about a year or two after I married her, I don't know the exact time, I guess it was close about that time.

Q Did she leave down there or you, which left first? A No, sir, she left me there, said she was going to the Territory, since then she left me there.

Q What was your wife's given name? A Given name was Bettie.

Q When did she first come to the Territory? A Let's see she came here in the year they discharged the payment down here, that

Is the year she came down there.
Q You have reference to the strip payment? A Yes, sir.
Q About how many years ago? A I don't know, it has been I guess;
just about how many years it has been.
Q Well, five or six years ago? A Yes, sir, fully that long.
Q Do you mean that payment? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember the year that you were married? A No, sir, I don't know exactly.
Q Where were you married? A I was married down at Fulton.
Q How old is your oldest child? A He is about 18 or 19 years old.
Q You married of course before that child was born? A Yes, sir.
Q That was your first child? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know the rest of Sarah London's family? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know some of the other children? A Yes, sir.
Q Name them. A She had a child named Mina London, that is a boy, and another one by the name of Billy London, he is a boy; she has got one named Ham, I think he is a boy and Yub, I think he is a boy.
She has got two daughters.
Q Was Ed London the father of your wife? A No, sir.
Q That was this woman's second husband? A I don't know, that was the only husband I knewed of.
Q That was not the father of your wife? A No, sir.
Q Steppather? A Yes, sir.
Q Was Sarah London and Ed London living down there keeping house when you knew them? A Yes, sir.
Q You remember whether or not Sarah London was there when your first child was born or no? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, I will ask you to look at this applicant here and see if that is the same Sarah London you are talking about? A This lady here (referring to applicant.)
Q Yes. A Yes, sir.
COM'R SPECKINBRIDGE: You say you married your wife Bettie, daughter of this Sarah London, down at Fulton, Arkansas?
A Yes, sir.
Q That was a year or such a matter before your 18 year old child was born? A Yes, sir.
Q Then you and Bettie have been married some 19 or 20 years ago somewhere along there? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was your wife's mother living then (No response.)
Q Was she down there at Fulton when you married that daughter Bettie? A Yes, sir.
Q She was there? A Yes, sir; it seems to me like she was there.
Q How long did you and your wife live at and about Fulton?
A We have always lived there; Sarah London lives from the time we was married up until the time she came down here to this payment and then co-operated.
Q Some six or seven years ago? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was your wife's mother during all that time, this woman over here? A She left them down there, she was there a short while as I said a while ago and then she left to come to the Territory.
Q A short time after you married? A Yes, sir.
Q And then came to the Territory? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you ever seen her back there from that day to this?
A No, sir.
Q What do you know about her being there at Fulton before you and your wife married? A I don't know about her being out away from there and going back down after we was married.
Q Did you know of your wife's mother back there before you and your wife married? A No, sir.
Q You don't remember her there before you and your wife were married? A Before we was married, yes, sir, I was acquainted with her before I and her was married.
Q When did you first see your wife's mother? A I first met her at Fulton, Arkansas.

Q How long was that before you married her daughter, Bettie?

A Oh, it was about two or three years.

Q Well, now, did your wife's mother live there at Fulton from the time you first saw the old lady until you got married? A Yes, sir; around about there, working.

Q You don't know anything about her leaving there and coming to the Territory during that time? A No, sir.

Q Then you say she lived there and about there a short time after you and your wife married? A Yes, sir.

Q About how long? A Two or three years.

Q And it was your understanding that she came to the Territory?

A Yes, sir, and I never saw her until I came here myself.

Q And you then saw her in the Territory? A Yes, sir.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled, testified as follows:

Q You have listened to this testimony, now if you want to ask this witness any questions you may do so? A No, sir, I don't know what to ask him.

Q Well, has he made any mistakes in what he said? A I don't know what to say.

Q You have heard him say everything, is there anything you want to correct and say where it was wrong? A No, sir, he is perfectly right, of course he married my daughter when I went down there, after I went down on the river.

Q How long did you know this man before he married your daughter, Bettie? A I knowed him I reckon about three years.

Q And did you live there in and about Fulton from the time you knew him until he married your daughter, Bettie? A Yes, sir, lived around there at Mrs. Adams.

Q And how long was it before this man married your daughter and came to the Territory? A I reckon it was about three years.

Q Just about like he says? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, now, had you been there about Fulton all the time from the time you left the Territory until you came back after your daughter Bettie married? A Yes, sir.

Q When you came back after your daughter Bettie married that was the first time you came back to the Territory after you left? A Now, listen to me good, I came here first before I ever knowed this boy, and got Bettie and married her from here down there with me.

Q How long did you stay here when you got Bettie? A I never got down on the river with her until she and Healy was grown.

Q So you had made that trip back here after you first left?

A Yes, sir, when I first left here I come back here and got this child, I left this child when I was sent off and went back there and stayed there until this girl married and then I come back here.

Q And that is all the going and coming that was done? A Yes, sir.

Q How old was Bettie when you come and got her? A I think she was about four years old, she was a little bit of a thing.

Q How old is Bettie now? A I could not tell you how old she is.

Q Where was Betsey born? A Betsey was born in slavery time.

Q Before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q How long before the war? A Well, I can tell you when Miss Ellen sent for me Betsey was a little girl just commencing to walk, and the black folk wasn't free then.

Q Now, was the war over when you come back and got Betsey? A When I came and got Betsey the war was over.

Q Well, how long before the war was it Betsey was born? A I don't know how long it was, Betsey was a child, she was about that high (indicating) when I taken her away from here.

Q When you took her with you? A Yes, sir.

Q You took about four years old? A I reckon she was.

- Q Which came out here first when you came out here to look, you or your husband, Ed? A Ed came first.
- Q About how long before you came? A Ed came out here and stayed a year, I don't know whether he stayed a year before I come because I didn't make any crop that year before I come.
- Q Did you go over in Canadian district near Mr. Lowrey's and Smith's? A Yes, sir.
- Q That is where you first came? A Yes, sir.

HENRY C. LOWREY, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows, on behalf of Cherokee Nation:

- Q Give me your full name, please? A Henry C. Lowrey.
- Q How old are you? A 52.
- Q What is your post office? A Muskogee.
- Q You live in the Cherokee Nation, do you not? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A About 48 years, all my life nearly excepting the time during the war.
- Q Were you born in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q You lived there all your life then except during the war? A Yes, sir.

MR. HASTINGS: Mr. Lowrey, did you know a colored man in Canadian district by the name of Ed London, whose wife was Sarah? A Yes, sir. I used to know him when he lived there, I don't live there now.

- Q I will ask you to look at this woman and see if this is the woman? A Yes, sir, that is Sarah London.
- Q About when did you first know her husband, Ed London? A I think about '84 or '85, along there somewhere.
- Q Where did you know him and in what circumstances? A They moved in our neighborhood, Canadian district.
- Q Which came first? A The old man.
- Q And about how long until his wife and family followed? A I don't know, it may have been a year, I don't know what time he came in the spring something like a year.
- Q Did you know from him where his family was? A Just what he said.
- Q What did he say about it? A They said they was on the line of Arkansas and Texas, near Texarkana.
- Q His family came out you say about a year after he came? A Yes, sir.
- Q That was your first acquaintance with them? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long did they live in your neighborhood there? A About two years.
- Q And then where did they go? A Went to Muskogee.
- Q Have they lived about there since then? A Yes, sir, I have saw part of the family all the while there, especially the old man.
- Q Do you know anything about his making arrangements to send for his family? A Oh, yes, that is they were talking about going after his family; he said they were coming from Texas.
- Q You mean Texarkana? A Yes, sir, and he was making arrangements with his brother-in-law to go after them; he lived with his brother-in-law right by me, and I say they lived close to me, a mile and a half, after they first came in.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge

Q Now, you have heard Mr. Lowrey's testimony, do you want to ask him any questions? A Ed, sir.

Q Has he made any mistakes that you want to correct? A No, sir; none at all.

McCOY SMITH, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows, on behalf of Cherokee Nation:

- Q Give me your full name, please? A McCoy Smith.
Q How old are you? A 54.
Q What is your post office? A Braggs, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 54 years.
Q All your life? A Born and raised here, yes, sir.
MR. HASTINGS: You know the applicant here, Sarah London?
A Yes, sir, I know her.
Q Did you know her husband, Ed London? A Yes, sir.
Q Smith, how long have you known either or both of them? A I have known Sarah 17 years.
Q Which did you know first, she or her husband? A Her husband.
Q Where did you first see her husband? A There in Gooseneck Bend, just above Mountain, about two miles above Brushy mountain.
Q What district? A Canadian.
Q There is a Gooseneck bend in Canadian? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did he have his family there then? A No sir, not when I first saw him.
Q Do you know where his family was? A He said they were down at Texarkana.
Q Well, did you afterwards see his family? A Yes, sir.
Q About how long after you first saw him? A About a year.
Q Texarkana, Arkansas? A Yes, sir, that is the place.
Q And about a year afterwards you saw the applicant and family?
A Yes, sir.
Q Is that the first time you ever saw the applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q How long did they live in that neighborhood by you? A They were there about two years, and they moved up to Muskogee, and they went, I think they moved in the spring and that fall they came back down there to pick cotton, down in the neighborhood there.
Q How far did they live from you when they first came up in there?
A She came to her brother-in-law's first, that is a little more than a quarter of a mile, and stayed I don't know how long to Brushy Mountain, about a mile from me and lived there about a year and the second year following from that lived right down in the hollow, six or seven hundred yards of my place.
Q You know the family well? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know who moved them up there? A I think it was Ed's brother maybe, but I don't recollect his name. Brought them from Muskogee though I believe.

SARAH LONDON, applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:

- Q Sarah London, you have heard this testimony, do you want to ask any questions? A No, sir.
Q Has she made any mistakes now that you want to correct? A No, sir.

FRANK SMITH, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows, on part of Cherokee Nation:

- Q Give me your full name, please? A Frank Smith.
Q How old are you? A 56.
Q What is your post office? A Braggs.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
MR. HASTINGS: Mr. Smith, you know this applicant sitting behind you, Sarah London? A Yes, sir, I see her, not very well acquainted with her.
Q Did you know her husband, Ed London? A Yes, sir.
Q When did you first see either of them and where? A I saw Ed about '88 on Gooseneck bend on the Arkansas river.
Q In what district? A Canadian.
Q Did you see his family after that? A Yes, sir.
Q About how long? A About a year I guess after he came in there his family came.

- Q Do you know where they went from when they came there? A No, sir, I have never had any talk with him.
Q About how long did they live around there? A About year.
Q And then where did they go? A Muskegee.
Q That is about all you know about it? A Yes, sir.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:
Q Do you want to ask the witness any questions? A No, sir.

J. P. VanHoy, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows, on part of Cherokee Nation:

Q How old are you? A I am 72, be 73 the first day of December next.
Q What is your post office? A Fort Gibson.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 50 years last Christmas.

MR. HASTINGS: Mr. VanHoy, do you know this applicant, Sarah London? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know her before the war? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was she first living when you first knew her? A On Spaulsaw, at Lewis Rogers.
Q In what district? A In Saline district.
Q About how long before the war was it when you first knew her? A Oh, it was several years before the war, ten or 11 years somewhere along there.
Q Are you well acquainted with Lewis Rogers? A Very well, sir.
Q Were you about his place much? A Good deal, sir, I built houses there.
Q Are you carpenter by trade? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know Lewis Rogers' wife? A Yes, sir.
Q What was her name? A Ellen one of them, and the other one was named Lucy.
Q Was Lewis Rogers alive when the war came up? A No, sir.
Q How long had he been dead before the war? A I do not recollect, but I think Lewis Rogers died about '57, I think so.
Q His wife survived him, lived after him? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, were you about Lewis Rogers place and his wife's place after Lewis Rogers' death? A Very often, there was a store there down a mile from there then, I was one time with the family.
Q Trading point was it? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether Sarah London was there just before the war come up or not? A Well, they told me they had sold Sarah, that is what they told me.
Q Who told you? A Tom Rogers and Ellen Rogers.
Q When did they tell you that? A About '58.
Q Did they say to whom they sold her? A Man by the name of Crabtree, they said.
Q Do you know where Crabtree lived? A No, sir.
Q Well, did they say? A No, sir; I don't remember.
Q Well, you say you were about Rogers' place frequently a few years before, immediately preceding the war? A Yes, sir.
Q You didn't see her there? A No, sir, I didn't see her there I saw her sisters there.
Q When was the first time you saw her since the war? A Well, sir, it was about '83 or '84 in Canadian district, I was passing a blacksmith's house and saw her and knew her and got over the fence and had a talk with her.
Q Did she say where she had been? A Yes, sir, she said she had come back from Arkansas if I remember right.
Q That was about 1884? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember whether she went by her present name or not, London, or did you just call her Sarah? A I just called her Sarah.

- Q Do you know where they went from when they came there? A No, sir, I have never had any talk with him.
Q About how long did they live around there? A About year.
Q And then where did they go? A Muskogee.
Q That is about all you know about it? A Yes, sir.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:
Q Do you want to ask the witness any questions? A No, sir.

Q Did she say where she had been? A Yes, sir, she said she had come back from Arkansas if I remember right.
Q That was about 1864? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember whether she went by her present name or not, London, or did you just call her Sarah? A I just called her Sarah.

there was a man there she called husband and I guess he was.

Q Did she have some children? A Yes, sir, she had some children, but I didn't notice the children; I see her old man in a while at Muskogee and talk with him yet and ask him about Sarah.

Q Do you know whether Rogers' wife is alive now or not? A She told me she was dead; that is, her son Tom told me she was.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Are there any questions you want to ask the witness? A No, sir.

Q Are there any mistakes he made? A No, sir.

R. L. MARTIN, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give your full name? A R. L. Martin.

Q How old are you? A Going on 54.

Q What is your post office? A Pensacola.

Q In what district do you live? A Delaware district.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

MR. HASTINGS: Did you know Lewis Rogers before the war?

A Yes, sir.

Q What relation, if any, was he to you? A He was my father-in-law; since the war I married his daughter.

Q Did you know a slave that he formerly owned by the name of Sarah?

A Yes, sir.

Q I will ask you to look at this applicant and see if you recognize her? A I don't know as I could recognize her, it has been so long since I seen her.

Q What was Lewis Rogers' wife's name? A Ellen, he had two wives at that time.

Q Well, do you know what became of Sarah? A Yes, she fell into my father's hands and he sold her.

Q Well, when did he sell her? A About '58 I reckon, I don't know just exactly the date.

Q Do you know to whom he sold her? A Yes, I think the man's name was Crabtree.

Q Do you know where Crabtree lived? A I understand he lived in Arkansas, I don't know him personally.

Q You have never seen her since, or have you? A No, sir.

Q You have never seen her since the war? A No, sir.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE: When did you first know this woman, Sarah, how long before the war? A I guess along about '57 or '8, I knew her before the old man Rogers died, I don't know just how long it was I don't know just how long it was.

Q You knew her some time before she came into your father's possession? A Yes, sir.

Q She did belong to Lewis Rogers did she? A Yes, sir.

Q How did your father happen to get possession of her?

A It was by divisions of the estate, his wife was old man Rogers daughter.

Q Your father's wife? A Yes, sir.

Q And you knew Sarah while she was still the property of Lewis Rogers? A Yes, sir.

Q Your father sold her then very soon after he got possession of her? A Yes, sir; I think it was in '58, it may be a little longer.

Q How long did your father have possession of her?

A I don't know, it could not have been long, I think old man Rogers died in '57.

Q How far did your father live from Lewis Rogers? A At the time he died I think he lived right there, but he moved away about ten miles.

Q Did this woman leave the farm of Lewis Rogers and come over to your father's house? A Yes, sir.

Q Came and lived with your father until she was sold to Crabtree?

A Yes, sir.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Sarah, you have heard the witness' statement, do you want to ask him any questions? A No, sir.

Q Has he made any mistakes? A No, sir, none.

Q Are you the Sarah that belonged to this witness' father?

A Yes, sir.

Q That is correct? Yes, sir.

Q And then he sold you to Crabtree? A Yes, sir.

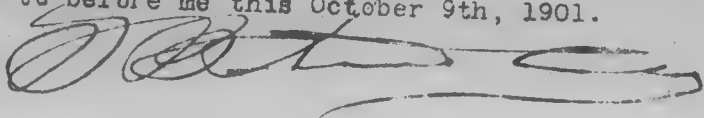

Com'r Breckinridge: This will be filed as supplemental testimony in Cherokee Freedman case D.#577, and sets of the testimony will also be filed in Cherokee Freedmen doubtful cases #649, 652, and 654.

- Q Were you ever at Fulton, Arkansas? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Calvin McCormick? A Yes sir, I married him in Texarkanna.
- Q He appeared before the commission on October 2, 1901, and when asked this question, "Where were you married?" answered, "I was married down in Fulton," is that statement of his under oath correct or not? A No sir, it aint, I didn't marry him there.
- Q In answer to this question, "You say you married your wife, Bettie daughter of this Sarah London, down at Fulton, Arkansas," and his answer was, "Yes sir." A No sir, I didn't marry him there.
- Q Your mother upon the same date appeared before the Commission, and Commissioner Breckinridge conducting the examination asked of her this question, "You have heard him say everything (referring to Calvin McCormick) is there anything you want to correct and shew where it is wrong," and her answer was, "No sir he is perfectly right, of course he married my daughter after I went down there, after I wet down on the river," in view of what your mother swore, is that statement correct? A No sir, it aint.

- Q And in answer to this question propounded to your mother, "And did you live there in and about Fulton from the time you knew him (referring to Calvin McCormick) until he married your daughter, Bettie," answer, "Yes sir lived around there at Mrs. Adams," is that statement made by your mother correct? A No sir, it aint.
- Q Did you know a Mrs. Adams? A No sir.
- Q During this same examination your mother was asked this question, "how old was Bettie (referring to yourself) when you came and got her," answer, "I think she was about 4 years old, she was a little bit of a thing," "How old is Bettie now," "I couldn't tell you how old she was born in slave time," "Before the war," "Yes sir," now ~~xxx~~ your mother has testified under oath that she came here and got you just at the close of the war when you were about 4 years of age and took you in the neighborhood of Fulton, Arkansas, where you continued to reside and she continued to reside until after you were married, is that correct? A No sir, it is not true.
- Q Have you got a single witness that you can bring before this Commission to disprove that fact, and have you ever brought one? A Never have called on me for no witnesses, didn't have no witnesses by my mother and uncle Daniel Martin, he is dead now. If they were not dead I could get those witnesses.
- Q You haven't got a single witness that you can bring before the Commission to the effect that you were living over here in the Cherokee Nation and was not living down there as your mother stated? A No sir, but I know she didn't do it.
- Q You don't know when the 1880 Roll was made, do you? A When it was made.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
MUSKOGEE, NOVEMBER 14, 1900.

In the matter of the application of Sarah London for the enrollment of herself and children as Cherokee Freedmen, Cherokee Freedman D. 652.

The testimony in this case shows that Sarah London was the slave of Lewis Rogers, a Cherokee citizen. Her testimony and the testimony of Ben Grimsitt, David Martin, shows that she returned to the Cherokee Nation within six months of the treaty of 1866, which would entitle herself and her children to enrollment.

This we respectfully submit.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
MUSKOGEE, NOVEMBER 18th, 1900.

In the matter of the application for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen of Bettie Rogers, now Bettie McCormack, and her eight children, William, Bertha, Henry, Clara, Hattie, Helena, Odee and Dewey, Cherokee Freedmen D-652.

In behalf of these applicants for enrollment, I wish respectfully but earnestly to submit that the undisputed testimony in this case shows that Bettie McCormack, formerly Bettie Rogers, the mother of the other applicants herein, was born in the Cherokee Nation, the slave of Lewis Rogers, who was a well known and recognized Cherokee citizen. She was born in the Cherokee Nation a few years prior to the beginning of the war of 1861, and remained a slave of the Rogers family and in the Cherokee Nation until emancipated by law, and until after the close of the war in 1865.

I do not deny that in the testimony in this case, there is great discrepancy in some points, but, on the legal question involved in the right of Bettie McCormack and her children to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, there is and can be found no dispute or discrepancy whatever.

What are the conditions necessary to entitle these colored people to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen? First, they or those from whom they descended must at the beginning of the war of 1861 have been the slave of some Cherokee Indian of the Cherokee Nation, residing in the Cherokee Nation on the 19th of July, 1866.

Second, if at the date of the treaty of 1866 between the United States and the Cherokee people, they were absent from the Cherokee Nation, they must return within six months from the date of the ratification of that treaty.

Now, we insist that Bettie McCormack was in that class of Cherokee slaves first named; that is, she was the slave of a Cherokee and a resident of the Cherokee Nation at the date of that treaty, July 19th, 1866.

Can any reasonable person read this testimony and have any doubts about the fact that Bettie McCormack was the slave of a Cherokee and a resident of the Cherokee Nation at the date of that treaty, July 19th, 1866?

born a slave of Lewis Rogers, and that he was a Cherokee Indian, residing in the Cherokee Nation at the date of his death, which occurred just before or during the war of 1861, and after his death that she remained the slave of his heirs until emancipated.

There is no controversy or dispute of discrepancy in the testimony on this point, and I think it can be set down in this case as a fact or point settled.

Bettie McCormack herself testifies that she was born a slave of Lewis Rogers, in the Cherokee Nation. Her mother, Sarah London, swears to it also, and further that Sophie Rogers, the grand-mother of Bettie McCormack, was the slave of Lewis Rogers, a Cherokee. The testimony is further to the effect that Bettie McCormack was a small girl when the war began, and that when her mother was sold, she, Bettie McCormack, was left behind with her former owners, while her mother was taken off to Arkansas by Crabtree, who had bought her.

The testimony also shows that Bettie McCormack never left the Cherokee Nation, until after the war, and several years after the war, but remained all the time with her Cherokee relatives and the family of her former owner until many years after the war.

We are not, therefore, in this case embarrassed with any question or dispute as to whether Bettie McCormack returned within six months after the ratification of the treaty of July 19th, 1866, for until after the ratification of that treaty she had never been out of the Cherokee Nation, so we think there is no evading the question of the right of Bettie McCormack and her children to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, and this we respectfully submit to this Honorable Commissioner.

And we further submit that Bettie McCormack, formerly Bettie Rogers was enrolled upon the roll of 1880. The name of Bettie Rogers is found upon that roll. No other Cherokee Freedmen appears to claim or appropriate that name, and it is a well established principle of law that from identity of name the presumption of identity of person arises.

Besides, Bettie McCormack testifies that she was placed on the roll of 1880, all of which is respectfully submitted.

Hon. Secretary of Interior,
Washington, D.C.

In the matter for the application for enrollment as Cherokee Freedman of Bettie Rogers, now Bettie McCormack and her eight children, William, Martha, Henry, Clara, Hattie, Helena, Odessa and Dewey, Cherokee Freedman D-662.

In behalf of this particular family, I wish to call attention especially to the fact of the difference in status between this family and the family of Sarah London, this case being consolidated with that of Sarah London. Bettie McCormack is the child of Sarah London who was the slave of Lewis Rogers, a Cherokee Indian residing in the Cherokee Nation. The testimony shows Sarah London, the mother of Bettie ^{McCormack} London, was sold before the war by her owner, Rogers, to one Crabtree. When Sarah London was sold as the testimony clearly shows her child Bettie McCormack was not sold but remained in the Cherokee Nation a slave in the Rogers Family until after the close of the war and until after the ratification of the Treaty of 1866. She remained a slave in the Rogers family until emancipated by the proclamation of President Lincoln. Bettie McCormack was born in the Cherokee Nation and when her mother Sarah ^{was} sold to Crabtree, Bettie was a girl grown to considerable size, large enough to be separated from her mother and large enough as she testifies to carry wood and water and wait upon her mistress when the war began. The war lasted four years so that as its close she must have been ten years of age at least. She remained in the Cherokee Nation with her Aunt Sukey until she was grown and until her first child William was born which would certainly locate her within the Cherokee Nation at and long after the ratification of the Treaty of 1866, so that whatever may be the right of Sarah London, the mother, the right of Bettie McCormack and her children was fixed by the Treaty of 1866 as a Cherokee Freedman.

These people may be entirely ignorant as to dates and years and periods of time but they know when occurrences take place. Bettie McCormack knows when and where William, her first child was born. She swears that he was born at Fort Gibson in the Cherokee Nation some time after the war and that she had never been out of the Cherokee Nation until after that time. She had grown to woman-hood and mother-hood before she left the Cherokee Nation and this distinction of Bettie McCormack and her children and the status of her mother, Sarah London, seems to have been overlooked by the Honorable Commission of the Five Civilized Tribes in refusing en-

in no way to Bettie McCormack and her children

Bettie McCormack until after her marriage with a man by the name of McCormack retained and was known by the name of Bettie Rogers, she retaining the name of her former owner. Bettie testifies that she was enrolled upon the Cherokee roll of 1880; the name of Bettie Rogers is found upon that roll of 1880; no other Cherokee Freedman has appeared to claim or to appropriate that name.

It is a well established principle of law that identity of person is presumed from identity of name. In support of this proposition I refer to the case of Jackson vs King reported in 5th. Cowen New York reports, page 257. This proposition is decided as well in the case of Garrett vs State 76 Ala. 18, in Lee vs Murphy 119 California 364 and also by the supreme court of Georgia, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Texas, Vermont and Washington.

Taking this presumption of the law arising from the identity of names, with the testimony of Bettie Rogers that she was enrolled upon the rolls of 1880 we think that there can be no question but that Bettie McCormack was not only the slave of a Cherokee Indian, residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the war and continuing to reside there until after the Treaty of 1866, but she was also enrolled upon the roll of 1880, and she and her children, above named, ought certainly to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedman.

All of which is respectfully submitted. This case was consolidated with the case of Sarah London and will doubtless be found reported with that case by the Honorable Commission of the Five Civilized Tribes.

Very respectfully,

Wm H. Craver

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of BETTIE MCCORMICK, ET AL., as Cherokee Freedmen, C. F. D. No. 652.

Argument on behalf of the Cherokee nation.

The attorneys for applicants have served the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation with quite a lengthy brief and argument in support of the claim of applicants to be enrolled as Cherokee freedmen. All of the applicants, except Bettie McCormick, must depend upon Bettie McCormick for their rights in the Cherokee Nation, and we will therefore discuss the testimony as applied to Bettie McCormick.

Applicants' attorneys insist that the undisputed testimony shows that Bettie McCormick was formerly Betsy Rogers and was born in the Cherokee Nation and was at the time of her birth the slave of Lewis Rogers who was a recognized citizen of the Cherokee nation. They further contend that the testimony shows that she was born a few years prior to the war of the Rebellion and remained a slave of the Rogers family in the Cherokee nation until emancipated by law and until after the close of the war in 1865. Bettie McCormick is not found upon the 1880 roll, nor does the testimony offered by Bettie McCormick show that she is one and the same person as the Betsy Rogers she seems to be seeking to impersonate. The testimony is not sufficient in our judgment to identify the principal applicant in this case as being Betsy Rogers. On the other hand, it is clearly shown by competent testimony that Bettie McCormick and her mother left the Indian Territory and lived for many years at or near Fulton, Arkansas, and that Calvin McCormick married his wife, Bettie, who is the principal applicant in this case, at or near Fulton, Arkansas, at least in the State of Arkansas.

The attorneys for applicants say that there are two conditions necessary for the applicants to be enrolled as Cherokee freedmen. We agree that there are at least two, the first being that the applicant must have been a slave of a Cherokee citizen residing in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the Rebellion and must have and must have remained in the Cherokee Nation during the war or, second, if the principal applicant was a slave of a citizen of the Cherokee Nation residing in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the war and left the Cherokee Nation during the war, in order to acquire rights as a freedman citizen she must have returned to and taken up her residence in the Cherokee Nation within six months after the date of the ratification of the treaty of 1866, or third, she must have been a free colored person residing in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the Rebellion and remained in the Cherokee Nation during the said rebellion or, if she left the Cherokee Nation during the rebellion, she must have returned to the Cherokee Nation and taken up her permanent residence therein within six months after the date of the ratification of the treaty of July 19, 1866.

Now we contend that the principal applicant in this case does not come within either of the conditions precedent to acquiring citizenship as a freedman in the Cherokee Nation. We contend that she is not a Cherokee freedman and that she has failed, first, to show that she was a slave of a Cherokee citizen residing in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the rebellion, or that she was a free colored person residing in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the rebellion, or, second, the testimony fails to show that she returned to the Cherokee Nation within six months after the date of the ratification of the treaty of 1866 and establish her residence therein. Calvin McCormick, the husband of the principal applicant in this case, testifies that he is 32 years of age and that he first got acquainted with his wife, Beatie, in Fulton, Arkansas, where she was living at that time and where she had been living for some time prior to his marriage. He also testifies that he knew Sarah London, his wife's mother, in Fulton, Arkansas, prior to the date of his marriage to Bettie and that his wife first came to the Territory about the time of the payment of the strip money five or six years ago, that he did not remember the year of his marriage, but that his oldest child was 18 or 19 years old, and that he was married to Bettie, his wife, prior to the birth of that child, and that Sarah London and her husband, Ed London, lived in Fulton, Arkansas, and were keeping house there and lived there until after their marriage and until after their first child was born, and that he and his wife Bettie had been married about twenty years. This, we think, shows conclusively to any fair, reasonable and unbiased mind that Bettie McCormick was not a slave as contended by her of a Cherokee citizen in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the Rebellion, and that she did not continue to reside in the Cherokee Nation after the war and establish a residence therein within the provisions of the treaty of 1866.

We, therefore, respectfully submit that the facts shown by the principal applicant are not sufficient to entitle her to be enrolled as a Cherokee freedman and that this application should be denied.

Respectfully submitted,

Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of BETTIE
McCORMICK ET AL., as Cherokee Freedmen.

Reply of the Cherokee Nation.

In reply to the argument filed by William M. Gravens on behalf of Bettie McCormick and her minor children, we desire to say that the testimony in this case shows that Bettie McCormick, nee Rogers, was born some time about the beginning of the Civil War. The exact date of her birth is not shown, but the testimony conclusively shows that her mother, Sarah London, was sold out of the Cherokee Nation to a man by the name of Crabtree in about the year 1858, and the witnesses who testified as to the sale of the mother of Bettie were not inquired of as to Bettie, whether she accompanied her mother, which was probable, because if she was born at that time she would have been quite small indeed, because she is given to be about 40 years old when she testified in August, 1905, and if she were as much as 47 at that time she would have been born about the time her mother was sold out. Of one thing, however, we are certain, and that is she does not show herself in the Cherokee Nation by no witness outside of herself and her mother prior to during the payment which was given some five or six years before 1901. While of course she testified that she had always lived in the Cherokee Nation, which of course we expect of all of these freedmen applicants, yet her former husband, Calvin McCormick, appears upon the stand on October 2, 1901, and testified that he had been married to this woman and that their oldest child was then 18 or 19 years of age. Assuming, for the sake of argument, that it was 18 and that they were married a year prior to the birth of this child, that would have made them have been married about the year 1881.

Now, Calvin McCormick testifies positively that he was reared in the vicinity of Fulton, Arkansas, and that he knew Bettie, her mother and step-father, and that he knew them some three years before he married Bettie. He was asked:

"Q Where was she living when you first knew her? A She was living in Fulton."

"Q Arkansas? A Yes sir."

Q What was her husband's name? A His name was Ed London."

"Q You knew her three or four years before you married her daughter?
A Yes sir."

If this be true, and if he married her as he stated in about the year 1881, then he knew Bettie from about 1877 or 1878, or anyway as far back as 1879, and she was then a resident of Fulton, Arkansas. Again, it will be noted that Bettie had a child when she and McCormick were married and if they were married in 1881, the child must have been born in all probability prior to 1880 and therefore she had a child living in 1880. We call attention to these facts because she claims to be enrolled upon the 1880 roll, and if the testimony of McCormick is true, which is admitted by Sarah London, to the effect that they were married in about 1881 and that he knew her three or four years before that, then Bettie was living in Fulton, Arkansas, and was not living in the Cherokee Nation, and Bettie also had a child born to her in 1880, this William Rogers, and if she had been enrolled upon the 1880 roll her child who was then in existence would also have been enrolled. But lets examine the testimony of her mother a little further. Sarah London on October 2, 1901, when called to the stand after McCormick left it, after attempting to testify that Bettie had been left in the Cherokee Nation during the war, and that she came up afterwards and got her, this question was asked her:

"Q How old was Bettie when you came and got her? A I think she was about four years old. She was a little bit of a thing."

Later on when being interrogated about taking Bettie away she said:

"Q Well, how long before the war was it Betsy was born? A I don't know how long it was; Betsy was a child; she was about that high (indicating) when I taken her away from here."

"Q. When you took her with you? A Yes sir.

"Q You mean about four years old? A I reckon she was."

Now then it will be seen from the testimony that this woman was sold out in 1858. If Bettie was born prior to that time it might be that she was referring to the time that she was sent to Grubtree before the war that Bettie was taken with her and was then about four years of age. But if she had reference to after the war it must have been before the war closed or else Bettie would have been older. At any rate we are trying to impress upon the Department that Bettie was out of the Cherokee Nation from either just before the war, during the war or immediately after the war for a period of thirty or thirty-five years, or until the time of the payment some five or six years before she made her application. Now, if it was the payment made to freedmen, that was made in 1897, and her mother testified that Bettie never came back to the Cherokee Nation after she took her out of it, after she was about four years of age, until 1897, and her mother testifies that she married McCormick at Fulton, Arkansas, as does McCormick--corroborates him in every particular; so that the testimony is clear and unmistakable that Bettie was not in the Cherokee Nation within fifteen years of the time of 1880 roll was made. There is no evidence that she was ever in the Cherokee Nation after the war until some five or six years before she made this application, because if she was born a slave of Lewis Rogers prior to the time her mother was sold in 1858, and her mother admits being sold, admits what all of the witnesses on behalf of the Cherokee Nation testified, and if Bettie was a little thing when she took her out, not more than four years of age, then she must have returned about the beginning of the war and took Bettie to Fulton, Arkansas, with her. Henry C. Lowery testified that Sarah London came to his neighborhood in Canadian District about the year 1884 or 1885 and McCormick testified that he had been married to this woman some three or four years when Sarah left and came to the Cherokee Nation, so that this tends to show that they were married in about the year 1881.

In the presence of Sarah London, J. F. Van Hoy and R. L. Martin were placed upon the stand, who testified as to her sale prior to the war and Sarah London, the mother of Bettie, was afterwards called to the stand and she admitted the truthfulness of the statement.

In the light of this testimony the commissioner to the five civilized Tribes very properly held that Bettie Rogers was not enrolled upon the Cherokee authenticated roll of 1880. She was in Fulton, Arkansas, at that time and had been, according to the testimony of her mother, fifteen or twenty years, and according to the testimony of her mother and her husband, remained there fifteen or twenty years after that time, and it could not therefore have been her name upon the roll of 1880. The same of Rogers is a very common one in the Cherokee Nation, but this Bettie Rogers not being here could not have been enrolled.

Even if she had ever been entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, or even if she had been enrolled in 1880 as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation, under the testimony of her mother and of Calvin McCormick, she would not now be entitled to enrollment in the Cherokee Nation, because it is admitted about the year 1880 she married a citizen and resident of the State of Arkansas, and that she continued to reside in the State of Arkansas with her husband until the payment which as a matter of history we know was made in 1897, or a period of seventeen years, and not having any property in the Cherokee Nation, if she lived without the limits of the nation for that length of time, her residence followed that of her husband, and she would have forfeited any rights she may have had in the Cherokee Nation if she had ever had any, and would not therefore be entitled to be enrolled as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation. See case of Catherine Mix decided by the Department May 21, 1906 (I.T.D. 9556-1906).

But we think the testimony conclusively shows that either Bettie Rogers was taken with her mother at the time she was sold out, which is the more reasonable theory, or if her mother did ever return for her when she was some four years of age, we think that was about the beginning of the war and that therefore Bettie never lived in the Cherokee Nation there after until about the time of the payment, or about 1897, as testified by Sarah London and Bettie McCormick. Taking that view of the case she never acquired any rights, was never enrolled, was never entitled to be enrolled, and is clearly now not entitled to be enrolled as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. Hastings

Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

Hon. Commissioner of Indian Affairs,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am advised by the Honorable Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes of the decision of your office, denying the application of Betty McCormack and her children, Henry, Bertha, Clara, Mattie, Helena, Odee and Dewey McCormack, to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen.

This case was consolidated with that of Sarah London, and her children, and I fear has not been fully considered, as disconnected from the case of Betty's mother, Sarah London; she does not claim through her mother, but acquires her right by reason of having been a slave of a Cherokee citizen; born and raised in the Cherokee Nation, and living there at the time of the treaty of 1866, she and her children claim under the provisions of the ninth article of that treaty.

In order to deprive these people of their just legal rights, resort is had to the provision of section two, article one, of the constitution of the Cherokee Nation. This article provides that:

"Whenever any citizen shall remove with his affects out of the limits of this Nation, and become a citizen of any other government, all his rights and privileges as a citizen of this Nation shall cease."

A few years after the treaty of 1866, Betty, then a girl, left the Cherokee Nation for a time, but with the purpose of returning, and never with any purpose to renounce herself or to become a citizen of any other government, and we insist, that in order to bring her within this provision of the constitution, she must leave her country, not temporarily, or to hunt work, and without any purpose to return, and, in addition, must become a citizen of some other government, and the burden, we insist, is upon the party who would deprive these people of rights already acquired and by law vested in them, to show all the conditions necessary to take their rights away from them; they must show, not only that she left her country, but that she acquired citizenship in some other government.

In this case it is shown that she always had the intention to return, and claimed the Cherokee Nation as her home, and no effort is made to show that she acquired citizenship in some other government.

Now, because we are so thoroughly convinced of a gross injustice, unintentionally done these poor people, we ask you to further consider their application and submit same to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, with such recommendations as your careful consideration will authorize you to make.

COM'R NEEDLES:--Joshua Holt applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Jane, his two stepchildren, Laura and Ella Beason, and his own four children, Jessie, Willard, Clifford and Maucelia Holt. He cannot be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880 or census roll of 1886, upon examination; neither can his wife. He is identified as well as his wife on the Kern-Clifton and Wallace rolls according to the page and number of the rolls as indicated in the testimony, and his older stepchild, Laura, is identified upon the Wallace roll and Kern-Clifton roll. His remaining stepchild and his own children, Jessie, Willard, are identified upon the Kern-Clifton roll. His two children, Clifford and Maucelia, are not identified upon said rolls, having been born after said roll was compiled. He avers that he is a child of Esther Holt, and that his wife is the daughter of Anderson and Dinah Johnson. He avers that Dinah Johnson was a slave of a citizen of the State of Arkansas, and that Anderson Johnson was a slave of a Cherokee citizen. He also avers that Anderson Johnson, father of his wife, was a United States soldier and returned to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866, where his wife, Jane, was born. Anderson Johnson being a Cherokee slave and his wife, Dinah being a slave of a citizen of the State of Arkansas, it will be necessary to make satisfactory proof of the marriage between the said Anderson Johnson and the said Dinah Johnson in order to establish the citizenship of his wife, Jane; and it will also be necessary for satisfactory proof of marriage to be made between Joshua Holt and his wife, Jane, in order to establish the citizenship of his children, in case the citizenship and marriage of Jane's mother is not fully proven. By reason of the facts as set forth in the testimony, said Joshua Holt, his wife, Jane, and his two stepchildren, Laura and Ella Beason, and his four children, to-wit: Jessie, Willard, Clifford and Maucelia, will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card. The fact that his two children's Clifford and Maucelia, names do not appear upon any rolls of the Cherokee Nation it will be necessary for him to file satisfactory proof of birth as to said children.

J. A. Rosson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q How long did Anderson and Dinah live together? A From the time they married until he was killed. I don't know exactly the number of years.

Q How long since he was killed? A I think about 10 years.

Q Do you know when they married, Anderson and Dinah? A I don't know the exact date, it was somewhere about 5 or 6 years after he came here.

Q Did you see them married? A No, sir, but I know they occupied a house and kept house there and lived together as man and wife.

Q How were they recognized by the neighbors there? A As man and wife.

Q Do you know when those children or children were born? A No, sir.

Q Where they born while they were living together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they born? A On Big Creek, where they lived.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember which one of the girls John Holt married? A No, sir, I don't believe I remember her name.

Q Do you know whether she is the oldest child or not? A Yes, sir, I don't.

Q Do you know whether she was born? A Yes, sir, but exactly, but to my best judgment she was all born in the Cherokee Nation on Big Creek.

By the Court: With whom did Anderson and Dinah live when he came down here? A Where I live.

Q You all first came down in August and then went back? A Yes, sir.

Q You say Anderson wasn't married then? A No, sir.

Q His wife was up in Kansas then? A Yes, sir, his wife at that time.

Q The woman that he afterwards married? A Yes, sir.

Q Yes, sir.

Q So afterwards went up there and married her? A Yes, sir, and then brought her back with him.

Q Did you know his wife before she married him? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did she live? A There in Kansas.

Q And your recollection is that about 10 years after you all came down there she came here as Anderson's wife? A Yes, sir.

Department of the Interior,
Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Sparta, I. T., June 25, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Ruth Chinnatt for the enrollment of herself and 4 children as Cherokee Freedmen; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, she testified as follows:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Louis Brown, for the applicant;
Mr. W. F. Hastings, for the Cherokee Nation.

SAM WEBBER, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows: By Mr. Brown:
Q. What is your name? A. Sam Webber.
Q. Mr. Webber, do you know Anderson Johnson and Dinah Johnson, the mother and father of this applicant? A. Yes, sir.
Q. You know whether they were ever married or not?
A. I couldn't tell you about the wedding, they were living together as man and wife.
Q. So recognized by the community? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were they living together as man and wife at the time this applicant was born? A. Yes, sir.
Q. You know this girl's sister, Mary Johnson? A. Yes, sir.
Q. At the time she was born were they living together as man and wife? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you testify for Jane Holt in the Johns Holt case? A. I did 3 years ago, I didn't this time.
Q. You testified 3 years ago in the Mary Johnson case? A. Yes, sir.
Q. You didn't say anything about their wedding then? A. No one asked me, I didn't have no right to say they asked me.
Q. When did you first see Anderson Johnson and the mother of this girl living together as husband and wife? A. They came and settled down there, he married her somewhere and brought her there. I don't know where he married her.
Q. When was it? A. I don't believe I can tell you just when that was.
Q. How long after the war was it? A. I couldn't tell you that and be positive in it.
Q. Was Anderson Johnson married when he came down there?
A. No, sir, he was a single man.
Q. It was sometime after that when he married? A. Yes, sir.
Q. How long after the war was it? A. I don't know.
Q. In all the time he lived down there, was he ever married?
Q. You testified 3 years ago? A. He was married when he came down.

Q You don't remember how long after that when you saw him living with this woman? A No, sir, I couldn't say positive, but they was living together as man and wife on the creek there when he got killed, and had been for several years.

Q You remember just what year he got killed? A No, sir.

Q You don't remember just about how long after he come down there? A No, sir.

Q The circumstance of his getting killed isn't as great as the circumstance of your first seeing him after the war? A I don't know, it might be greater for all I know, but I never paid no particular attention.

Q About what is the first date that you are willing to swear that you saw them living together as husband and wife? A I don't know, I never paid no attention to it, so many people married, I can't keep the dates of all of them, of course I didn't try.

Q I am not asking you, Mr. Webber, the exact date, but how long ago, now when they first began living together, but about how many years ago are you willing to testify you saw them living together? A I don't know, I couldn't be positive about that.

Q Did they have any children when you first saw them living together as husband and wife? A When I first saw them they didn't have any.

Q Do you have any idea how old this woman is, (indicating applicant) A No, sir, not exactly.

By Com'r. Needles: Well, Mr. Webber, how long did they live together as husband and wife according to your best recollection, your knowledge? A I declare I couldn't answer that correct.

Q Did they raise a family there? A Raised them right there on the creek, three children.

Q While they were living together as man and wife they raised a family? A Yes, sir.

By Mr. Hastings: You don't know where he got the woman?

A No, sir, I couldn't tell you.

Q How far did they live from you? A About 10 miles I guess, as near as I can guess at it.

Kern-Clifton pay roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation examined and applicant identified on page 184, #3581, Chin-hatt, Holt, Coconawover district.

SAM WEBBER, witness, recalled and further examined. By Mr. Smith: (Of Mellette & Smith.)

Q Did you know Jane Holt? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was she now? A John Holt's.

Q Whose child is Jane Holt? A That's Anderson Johnson's child, by Dinah, his wife.

Q And the mother? A Dinah I said.

MR. SMITH: If the Court please, I would like a copy of the statement of Sam Webber taken in this case, I filed with D 644.

M. D. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he made the foregoing copy and that same is a true and complete copy of the original transcript of the testimony of Sam Webber in above styled case.

In the matter of the application of PIERRE ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Hellatte & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17200, filed in the Mariah Hayden case F. D. 496, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Thomas H. Hall, D 653;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because: First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicants be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case re-opened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and perfect transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Tecumseh Holt, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of--

Tecumseh Holt,
William Holt,

Cherokee Freedmen D-653,
Cherokee Freedmen D-694,

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen were made to this Commission by Tecumseh Holt for himself and by William Holt for himself. A copy of the testimony taken at Chelsea, Indian Territory, on June 10, 1901, in Cherokee Freedmen D-644, and a copy of the testimony of Sam Webber taken at Nowata, Indian Territory, on June 26, 1901 in Cherokee Freedmen D-866, are filed herewith and made a part of the record in this case.

The evidence shows that the applicant, Tecumseh Holt, was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that during said rebellion he left the Cherokee Nation and did not return thereto and establish a residence therein within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitacre, trustee, et al., vs. the Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Cherokee Freedmen to said Nation. The evidence further shows that the applicant, William Holt, is the son of said Tecumseh Holt; that he was born since 1866 and has no right to enrollment except through his said father.

It does not appear that either of the applicants is identified on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee Roll.

It is therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the applications for the enrollment of Tecumseh Holt and William Holt as Cherokee Freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

- Q In Coingsnake? A Yes sir.
- Q Was she a slave of Lewis T. Ridge at the breaking out of the war?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Where was Lewis T. Ridge living at the breaking out of the war?
- A I dont know.
- Q I will ask you if you dont know that he was a citizen of the state of Arkansas at the breaking out of the war and not living in the Cherokee nation at all then? A I dont know as he was living there
- Q Was or wasn't he not a citizen of the state of Arkansas and residing there then? A I cant tell you that.
- Q You hadn't seen him for some years in the Cherokee Nation before the war broke out had you? A I hadn't seed him just before the war.
- Q How long before the war broke out that you saw Lewis T. Ridge in the Cherokee nation? A About 20 years.
- Q Then you have no idea whatever as to where this woman was living and where Lewis T. Ridge was living when the war broke out? A I used to see this woman.
- Q But that was some years before the war broke out? A Not right in the neighborhood where I was living, but I seen her.
- Q You know as a matter of fact dont you, that Lewis T. Ridge, and his family did not live in the Cherokee Nation for a long time prior to the breaking out of the war, and that the Lewis T. Ridge family are not recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation to-day? A No sir I dont.
- Q Did Lewis T. Ridge have any children? A Yes sir, if I am not mistaken, I was never to his house, just seed the colored people that he owned.
- Q Where did you see the colored people that he owned if you were never at his house? A (No response).
- Q Give me the name of one of Lewis T. Ridge's children? A I cant give the names.
- Q Did he have a boy named William Cornelius? A Yes sir I guess it was.
- Q You know he had one son? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know where William Cornelius is living now? A I dont know.
- Q You claim to have seen this woman where after the war? A At Gibson.
- Q How old was she? A I dont know.
- Q Was she a child then? A No sir a woman.
- Q Grown woman? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you stay with her when you were at Fort Gibson?

- Q You were living in Tahquah district before the war weren't you?
- A No sir in Flint.
- Q Who was she living with when you saw her at Fort Gibson right after the war? A There was three women staying there together.
- Q What was her name then? A Sarah.
- Q Sarah what? A Rogers.
- Q Did she stay then if she had left the Cherokee nation during the war? A No sir I never asked her.
- Q You didnt ask her where she had been living after the war broke out? A No sir.
- Q That was just after the war times and you colored folks were all coming back and meeting one another again, and yet you say you didnt ask her where she had been all through the war? A I was not there meeting people, I was selling and trafficking.
- Q You dont know if this was '66 or '68 that you saw this woman in Fort Gibson do you? A I hadn't been there long.
- Q Well you dont know when it was that you got back yourself do you?
- A Yes sir.
- Q When was it? A In '66, in the spring.
- Q How do you know it was? A I was told it was.
- Q Was it before or after the treaty? A I was inside of the treaty.
- Q Did you come back before or after the treaty was made? A Yes sir

Sarah London 5

Q Well which was it? A I dont know nothing about the days of the months.

Q But you would know if it was before or after the treaty was made- had you heard of the treaty having been made when you returned? A Never heard nothing about it then.

Q Did you come back in the fall or in the spring of the war?

A In the spring of '66 I tell you.

Q When you got back to Fort Gibson, did they tell you about the treaty? A No sir.

Q What made you come back then? A I was born and raised here and wanted to get back to my old home, I loved my home and wanted to get back to it, didn't know no other place but this as my home.

Q Was the war over? A Not quite done yet cause there was still soldiers here.

Q The troops were still here were they? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know what year this is? A No sir I dont.

Q Dont know anything except '66 do you? A Yes sir, but I dont know anything about your high language.

JOHN ROSS, called and sworn as a witness, testified as follows for the applicant:

By the Commission:

Q What is your name? A John Ross.

Q How old are you? A 36.

Q What is your post office? A Muskogee.

Q Do you know the applicant here? A I have known her about ten years.

Q She is married is she? A Yes sir.

Q What is the name of her husband? A Ed London.

Q Has she been living with him as his wife ever since you have known her? A Yes sir.

Q They have a lot of grown children have they? A Yes sir.

Q You know the family do you? A Yes sir.

Applicant recalled and examined by Mr. Davenport:

Q Your own property there in Muskogee how do you? A No sir, I am working there is all.

By Don's Breckinridge: The applicant applies for herself and two children she are minors. She is identified on the Varn Clinton roll but not upon the roll of 1880 or that of 1896. It appears from the testimony that she was at one time a slave of a Cherokee citizen, but that she was sold prior to the war to a man, presumably a Creek, who lived near what is now known as Sutton, Arkansas, and that she was there taken before the breaking out of the Civil war, and lived there until she was set free by the war. She claims to have come to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866. This is confirmed by two witnesses cited in the case, but her testimony is vague and does not convey an impression of being reliable; however, it appears that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since she returned except some years in the Creek Nation. Her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner. Giving her the benefit of any doubts that may exist at this time, she will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card and the final decision will be made known to her at her post-office address. As for her two children, Levi and Ham, they are both minors, and applying under their mother's name. It is stated that neither the applicant nor any of the children have ever been enrolled as Creek, the only application that has been made for them being for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen; the three children will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card to await the termination of the status of their mother, through whom they claim. The final decision of in their case will be made known to their mother at her post-office address.

- Q Where did you say this daughter was born? A She was born on Spavinaw.
- Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Was that before the war? A Yes sir.
- Q You were out of the Cherokee nation during the war were you?
- A Yes sir, before the war started Miss Ellen went up to Texas.
- Q How long before it started? A It was a good while.
- Q Several years? A Yes sir, I reckon it was.
- Q Several years before the war began? A Yes sir.
- Q Where was it you lived down there in Texas? A I lived right down on a place now I can't call the name of that place, but there about it was on the side of the river, on Crabtree's place.
- Q Who was Crabtree? A I was Mount Crabtree's daddy, the one that lives right here in Muskogee.
- Q You were living on Crabtree's place, the father of Mount Crabtree who lives in Muskogee now? A Mount Crabtree's widow.
- Q Was Mount Crabtree a Creek? A Yes sir.
- Q Was his father a Creek? A No sir, white man.
- Q Mount Crabtree's mother was a Creek? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you live with the Crabtree? A Until the surrender.
- Q Who was it you belonged to after you went to live with the Crabtree? A Lewis Rogers, he raised me, he was my first master.
- Q And he sold you to the Crabtree? A Miss Ellen Rogers did.
- Q Did you live with them until the war closed? A Yes sir.
- Q Was this child born when you went down to the Crabtree? A Yes sir.
- Q They took this child away from me and kept her here in the nation when I come back here she was about that high (indicating), and I taken her.
- Q About how old? A I couldn't tell you how old she was.
- Q She was a little thing was she? A Yes sir.
- Q This child then didn't go out of the Cherokee nation during the war? A No sir, it was after the war when she went out; when I come and got her and married her away from here.
- Q Where did you marry her? A I married her down there in Fulton.
- Q That's down in Arkansas? A Yes sir.
- Q When did it you married her? A No sir, that was after the war.
- Q Pretty soon after the war? A Yes sir.
- Q How did you happen to go down to Fulton? A I had been down there all the time, and I couldn't find none of my people up here that I knowed.
- Q Had you been down there about Fulton during the war? A Yes sir.
- Q Did this daughter ever work at Muskogee? A No sir, she was down there when the war was on.
- Q Did you go from Fulton to Muskogee? A No sir, I brought her down here and she was with me all the time.
- Q How long did she stay with you at Muskogee? A She was a little while, but I took her down and she was there when the war was on.

down to Texarkana.

Q And there she married? Yes sir.

Q How long before the war was it that a daughter was born, was it as much as five or six or seven years? A Mister, I can't tell you and tell you the truth, because I don't know one year from another. Only Miss Ella said it was Christmas, and that's all I know about it.

Q When you were sold to the Grubtree they didn't sell this child with you? No sir.

Q They kept her back here? A Yes sir.

Q And then when you came back after the war you took her to Fulton with you? A Yes sir.

Q How did you happen to go back to Fulton after you came home after the war? A I couldn't find none of my people, and I knowed the people down there and I just went back; it was harder times here than that it was down there.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q When you came from Fulton back to the Territory after the war what route did you travel? A Big road.

Q How did you come? A Come afoot, walking; I walked down there and I walked back; Grubtree carried me down there and I walked down there.

Q There was some one went with you down there? A Yes sir, and some one came back with me too.

Q Who was it you came back with? A Liza and Rachel.

Q Your sisters? A No sir, no kin to me at all; they belong to the Nation.

Q You know how many children by Bettie McCormick was born while she was living in Texarkana? A Two, of them, Henry and Bertie.

Q They were born at Texarkana, Texas? A They was born there.

Q The others were born in the Creek and the Cherokee nations together? A Yes sir, as well as I can tell.

By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q When was it you say you first came back to the Cherokee nation after the war? A They said it was after '66, I don't know.

Q After '66? A It was just a little before that.

Q Little before what? A Little before '66.

Q You said just now after '66? A Person is liable to make mistake now.

Q What do you mean now? A I mean before, that's what I heard, I don't know.

Q How long did you stay here before you started back to Fulton?

A When I came back then I stayed here and about here ever since.

Q You told me just now you didn't find your people and went back to Fulton? A I stayed here a right smart while, and then I went back and stayed there a good while.

Q You told me you came back here at the close of the war and didn't find your people, and times were hard? A Yes sir.

Q And that then you turned around and walked back to Fulton? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay here before you turned around and walked back to Fulton? A I didn't stay here long, I guess I stayed here about a month or two.

Q Now that time you got here was it the first time you saw this girl after the war? A Yes sir.

Q And when you got back here you then saw her? A Yes sir.

Q You had been down at Fulton separated from your child? A Yes sir.

Q Then when you went back to Fulton that time you took her?

A Yes sir.

Q Now when she came back here from Fulton she was with William?

A Yes, there was William there. William was down there.

Betsy McDermack • 3 al continued page 3.

Q Dook in Fulton? Yes sir.

Q And after William was born she came here? A Yes sir.

Q And stayed awhile and then she went to make this stay in Texas and got married? A Yes sir, that's the time she ran off from me.

Q She claims she didn't run off, she just went? A She run off.

Q She was of age wasn't she, and had a right to go where she wanted to? A I don't know.

Q How old was she when Will was born? A Said she was about 15 years old.

Q Her brother I think said she was about 20? A They don't know exactly and I don't know, we don't know exactly the children's age at all, because I don't know and I can't tell them.

Q How old was her child Will when she first brought him here?

A Like this one, indicating child in mother's arms.

Q Little thing in arms? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay before she ran off from you and made that visit back to Texarkana? A I reckon she stayed here about two or three years, as near as I can remember.

Q And then when did you see her next, how long was it? A It was a long time before I see her.

Q Where did you see her next? A Second time I see her she was down here in, I forget the name of the place now.

Q Some place in the Cherokee nation? A No sir, she was in the Creek nation.

Q Had she just come back from Texarkana? A Yes sir, she just had come back from Texarkana, and she was staying down there.

Q Down there in the Creek nation? A Yes sir.

Q Was that at Muskogee? A No sir, it was away below Muskogee.

Q On the railroad? A No sir, she wasn't on no railroad, out in the country.

Q That was a long time after she had left you and gone to Texarkana? A Yes sir.

Q Well now when she left that place in the Creek nation where did she go? A She come home then back in the Cherokee nation.

Q How long did she stay down there at that place in the Creek Nation? A She stayed down there at that as near as I can recollect, yes she had then two children.

Q That is Will and Henry? A Will and Henry and Bertha.

Q Was Bertha a little thing? A Yes sir, she was a baby then, and Henry he could run all about.

Q And then she came to the Cherokee nation? A Yes sir.

Q And then she has been living in the Cherokee Nation and the Creek Nation ever since? A Yes sir, ever since then.

Applicant, BETSY McDERMACK, recalled, and further examined, by Conr. Breckinridge.

Q You didn't tell me about your having lived at Fulton Arkansas? A Because I didn't know anything about it.

Q You stayed there until your child Will was born? A I don't know anything about it.

Q You stayed there until you were grown young woman, your child Will was born there? A No sir, he wasn't.

Q Your mother said he was? A She made a mistake.

Witness, SARAH LONDON, recalled and further examined, by Conr. Breckinridge.

Q Where do you say now Will was born? A I told you where Will was born.

Q At Fulton? A Yes sir.

A Yes, sir.

MR. HASTINGS: Mr. Lowrey, did you know a colored man in Canadian district by the name of Ed London, whose wife was Sarah? A Yes, sir. I used to know him when he lived there, I don't live there now.

Q I will ask you to look at this woman and see if this is the woman?
A Yes, sir, that is Sarah London.
Q About when did you first know her husband, Ed London?
A I think about '84 or '85, along there somewhere.
Q Where did you know him and in what circumstances?
A They moved in our neighborhood, Canadian district.
Q Which came first? A The old man.
Q And about how long until his wife and family followed?
A I don't know, it may have been a year, I don't know what time he came in the spring something like a year.
Q Did you know from him where his family was? A Just what he said.
Q What did he say about it? A They said they was on the line of Arkansas and Texas, near Texarkana.
Q His family came out you say about a year after he came?
A Yes, sir.
Q That was your first acquaintance with them? A Yes, sir.
Q How long did they live in your neighborhood there? A About two years.
Q And then where did they go? A Went to Muskogee.
Q Have they lived about there since then? A Yes, sir, I have saw part of the family all the while there, especially the old man.
Q Do you know anything about his making arrangements to send for his family? A Oh, yes, that is they were talking about going after his family; he said they were coming from Texas.
Q You mean Texarkana? A Yes, sir, and he was making arrangements with his brother-in-law to go after them; he lived with his brother-in-law right by me, and I say they lived close to me, a mile and a half, after they first came in.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge
Q Now, you have heard Mr. Lowrey's testimony, do you want to ask him any questions? A No, sir.
Q Has he made any mistakes that you want to correct? A No, sir; none at all.

McGOY SMITH, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows, on behalf of Cherokee Nation:

- Q Give me your full name, please? A McGoy Smith.
Q How old are you? A 54.
Q What is your post office? A Braggs, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 54 years.
Q All your life? A Born and raised here, yes, sir.
MR. HASTINGS: You know the applicant here, Sarah London?
A Yes, sir, I know her.
Q Did you know her husband, Ed London? A Yes, sir.
Q Smith, how long have you known either or both of them? A I have known Sarah 17 years.
Q Which did you know first, she or her husband? A Her husband.
Q Where did you first see her husband? A There in Gooseneck Bend, just above Mountain, about two miles above Brushy mountain.
Q What district? A Canadian.
Q There is a Gooseneck bend in Canadian? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, did he have his family there then? A No sir, not when I first saw him.
Q Do you know where his family was? A He said they were down at Texarkana.
Q Well, did you afterwards see his family? A Yes, sir.
Q About how long after you first saw him? A About a year.
Q Texarkana, Arkansas? A Yes, sir, that is the place.
Q And about a year afterwards you saw the applicant and family?
A Yes, sir.
Q Is that the first time you ever saw the applicant? A Yes, sir.
Q How long did they live in that neighborhood by you? A They were there about two years, and they moved up to Muskogee, and they went, I think they moved in the spring and that fall they came back down there to pick cotton, down in the neighborhood there.
Q How far did they live from you when they first came up in there?
A He came to her brother-in-law's first, that is a little more than a quarter of a mile, and stayed I don't know how long to Brushy Mountain, about a mile from me, and lived there about a year and the second year following from that lived right down in the hollow, six or seven hundred yards of my place.
Q You know the family well? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know who moved them up there? A I think it was Ed's brother maybe, but I don't recollect his name. Brought them from Muskogee though I believe.

SARAH LONDON, applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:
Q Sarah London, you have heard this testimony, do you want to ask any questions? A No, sir.
Q Has he made any mistakes now that you want to correct? A No, sir.

- Q Did you know her before the war? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was she first living when you first knew her? A On Spavinaw, at Lewis Rogers.
- Q In what district? A In Saline district.
- Q About how long before the war was it when you first knew her? A Oh, it was several years before the war, ten or 11 years somewhere along there.
- Q Are you well acquainted with Lewis Rogers? A Very well, sir.
- Q Were you about his place much? A Good deal, sir, I built houses there.
- Q Are you carpenter by trade? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you know Lewis Rogers' wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q What was her name? A Ellen one of them, and the other one was named Lucy.
- Q Was Lewis Rogers alive when the war came up? A No, sir.
- Q How long had he been dead before the war? A I do not recollect, but I think Lewis Rogers died about '57, I think so.
- Q His wife survived him, lived after him? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, were you about Lewis Rogers place and his wife's place after Lewis Rogers' death? A Very often, there was a store there down a mile from there then; I was one time with the family.
- Q Trading point was it? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you know whether Sarah London was there just before the war come up or not? A Well, they told me they had sold Sarah, that is what they told me.
- Q Who told you? A Tom Rogers and Ellen Rogers.
- Q When did they tell you that? A About '58.
- Q Did they say to whom they sold her? A Man by the name of Crabtree, they said.
- Q Do you know where Crabtree lived? A No, sir.
- Q Well, did they say? A No, sir; I don't remember.
- Q Well, you say you were about Rogers' place frequently a few years before, immediately preceding the war? A Yes, sir.
- Q You didn't see her there? A No, sir, I didn't see her there I saw her sisters there.
- Q When was the first time you saw her since the war? A Well, sir, it was about '83 or '4 in Canadian district, I was passing a blackman's house and saw her and knew her and got over the fence and had a talk with her.
- Q Did she say where she had been? A Yes, sir, she said she had come back from Arkansas if I remember right.
- Q That was about 1864? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you remember whether she went by her present name or not, London, or did you just call her Sarah? A I just called her Sarah;

there was a man there she called husband and I guess he was.
 Q Did she have some children? A Yes, sir, she had some children, but I didn't notice the children; I see her old man in a while at Muskogee and talk with him yet and ask him about Sarah.
 Q Do you know whether Rogers' wife is alive now or not? A She told me she was dead; that is, her son Tom told me she was.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:
 Q Are there any questions you want to ask the witness? A No, sir.
 Q Are there any mistakes he made? A No, sir.

R. L. MARTIN, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:
 Q Give your full name? A R. L. Martin.
 Q How old are you? A Going on 54.
 Q What is your post office? A Pensacola.
 Q In what district do you live? A Delaware district.
 Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
 MR. HASTINGS: Did you know Lewis Rogers before the war?

A Yes, sir.
 Q What relation, if any, was he to you? A He was my father-in-law; since the war I married his daughter.
 Q Did you know a slave that he formerly owned by the name of Sarah? A Yes, sir.
 Q I will ask you to look at this applicant and see if you recognize her? A I don't know as I could recognize her, it has been so long since I seen her.
 Q What was Lewis Rogers' wife's name? A Ellen, he had two wives at that time.
 Q Well, do you know what became of Sarah? A Yes, she fell into my father's hands and he sold her.
 Q Well, when did he sell her? A About '58 I reckon, I don't know just exactly the date.
 Q Do you know to whom he sold her? A Yes, I think the man's name was Crabtree.
 Q Do you know where Crabtree lived? A I understand he lived in Arkansas, I don't know him personally.
 Q You have never seen her since, or have you? A No, sir.
 Q You have never seen her since the war? A No, sir.
 COM'R BRECKINRIDGE: When did you first know this woman, Sarah, how long before the war? A I guess along about '57 or '8, I knew her before the old man Rogers died, I don't know just how long it was.
 Q You knew her some time before she came into your father's possession? A Yes, sir.
 Q She did belong to Lewis Rogers did she? A Yes, sir.
 Q How did your father happen to get possession of her? A It was by divisions of the estate, his wife was old man Rogers daughter.
 Q Your father's wife? A Yes, sir.
 Q And you knew Sarah while she was still the property of Lewis Rogers? A Yes, sir.
 Q Your father sold her then very soon after he got possession of her? A Yes, sir, I think it was in '58, it may be a little longer.
 Q How long did your father have possession of her? A I don't know, it could not have been long, I think old man Rogers died in '57.
 Q How far did your father live from Lewis Rogers? A At the time he died I think he lived right there, but he moved away about ten miles.
 Q Did this woman leave the farm of Lewis Rogers and come over to your father's house? A Yes, sir.
 Q Came and lived with your father until she was sold to Crabtree? A Yes, sir.

SARAH LONDON, the applicant, recalled: Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Sarah, you have heard the witness' statement, do you want to ask him any questions? A No, sir.

Q Has he made any mistakes? A No, sir, none.

Q Are you the Sarah that belonged to this witness' father?

A Yes, sir.

Q That is correct? Yes, sir.

Q And then he sold you to Crabtree? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: This will be filed as supplemental testimony in Cherokee Freedmen case D.#577, and sets of the testimony will also be filed in Cherokee Freedmen doubtful cases #649, 652, and 654.

- Q You was there at all the meetings of the Commission? A. No sir I wasn't there when he enrolled.
- Q You was 18 years old when you saw him? A. Yes sir.
- Q You were in the Horse Creek fight? A. Yes sir.
- Q You were the captain and there were older men there than you, some of them 30 years old or more? A. Yes sir, but you want me to tell you what happened.
- Q Yes sir. A. We had a fight before that and every one of them run except me and I stand and fought them off, and then they all said that they wanted me as captain that would fight and they voted for me.
- Q And you were the only one who would stand first? A. Yes sir.
- Q And you were only 18 years old then? A. Yes sir, and as tall as I am now and not afraid of anything.
- Q You didn't say a word about this Horse Creek fight before the Koss Klinton Commission did you? A. No sir because they didn't ask me.

Harry Still, called and sworn as a witness for the Applicant, testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A. Harry Still.
- Q How old are you? A. 54.
- Q What is your post office address? A. Haydon.
- Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.
- Q Is your name on the roll of 1866? A. I don't think it is.
- Q You have been listed for enrollment? A. Yes sir.
- Q Do you know this applicant? A. Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A. Except I have known him 30 years.
- Q Was he a slave? A. I don't know sure.
- Q Where did you first see him? A. First time I ever saw Albert was at his several places, at Okseon, Fort Gibson.
- Q The first time where was it? A. Ft. Gibson.
- Q Then was that? A. In Ft. Gibson.
- Q Has he been living in the Cherokee Nation ever since? A. I think he has and in the Creek Nation.
- Q You don't know if he was a slave or not? A. No sir.

By Hastings:

- Q You know he married a Creek woman? A. No sir I don't.
- Q Do you know if he has any children? A. No sir I don't.

By Sam'l Beegles, -see

Albert Sam'l Beegles for himself; he is not identified in the rolls of 1866 or 1869; he is identified in the Koss Klinton roll; he swears that his wife is a Creek woman and that his children are all Creeks and enrolled in the Creek Nation; he swears that he was a slave and was taken out of the Cherokee Nation to Kansas and returned in 1866; he will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a Government card and when the final decision is reached will be notified by mail.

That, on being taken from place to place, as a slave, to the Five Civilized Tribes, he was captured in 1861 and was taken to the above place and that the following is a full, true and correct transcript of his statement as given.

NOTICE!

IN THE MATTER OF the application of Samuel L. Hunt for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen:

Case No. D. 645

To

You are hereby notified that the Cherokee Nation will present before the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes testimony on behalf of the Cherokee Nation tending to disprove your right to be enrolled as a Cherokee citizen at the office of the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory.

Indian Territory, on Sept 7 1901 or from day to day thereafter until the same can be heard by said Commission during the usual business hours of said Commission on the respective days above named, for the taking of testimony both for and against applicants for enrollment as Cherokee citizens.

In testimony whereof, the undersigned representatives of the Cherokee Nation have hereunto set our hands this Sept 7 1901

M. W. Hastings
Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Washington, D.C., May 22, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Gilbert Ross for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO 2-552.

APPEARANCES:

L. P. Blodgett for applicant,
W. F. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

TESTIMONY IN BEHALF OF APPLICANT.

JOHNNA ROSS, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

Q. Now, BLINSON: What is your name? A. Jackson Ross.

Q. How old are you? A. 38 years old.

Q. Where do you live? A. Muskogee.

Q. Cherokee citizen by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Upon the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Gilbert Ross? A. I do.

Q. How long have you known him, Mr. Ross? A. Well I have known him practically since '91; I have seen him before that, but then I didn't recognize him until '91.

Q. Do you know of him being a Cherokee citizen? A. Yes, sir.

MR. HASTINGS: You didn't know him before that? A. No, I didn't know him before '91.

MR. BLINSON: Well, that's the way I asked him. A. Well I had seen the man before, but I knew him definitely in '91.

Q. Where has he resided since '91? A. In the Creek Nation here.

Q. In the Creek Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is he a Creek citizen? A. No, sir.

Q. What is he? A. Cherokee Freedman.

Q. Has he ever exercised any rights as a Cherokee citizen? I mean as a Creek citizen? A. Not to my knowledge. I don't think he has.

Q. Why has he resided in the Creek Nation, if you know? A. Because he had a wife belonged in the Creek Nation.

Q. Married a Creek woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He has just simply resided here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Because his wife was a Creek citizen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And exercised no rights as a citizen of the Creek Nation, but has always been considered—

MR. HASTINGS: Don't tell about the consideration of the business, about the considering.

MR. BLINSON: Has he always been considered as a Cherokee?

MR. HASTINGS: I object to that, that's no testimony at all.

Now have you considered him? A. I have considered him as a Cherokee Freedman.

Q. You didn't consider him as a Cherokee citizen; there's a difference between a freedman and a Cherokee citizen. I mean that; he is living over here you know.

Q. You are not the Creek government are you? A. No, I'm not.

Q. Well are you an authority on Creek affairs? A. I am pretty good authority on it, sir.

Q. Then you get authority that the people of the Creek Nation are you? A. I don't say that.

Q. I am not making any statement to you, but I am to the man that hears you to have to make testimony that ought to be by record.

Q. And I have now that all of this testimony is given because the whole of the testimony of this witness is incompetent and irrelevant except as to the residence of the applicant since '71, that being the only thing that has been testified by this witness that is relevant to this case, because as to whether his wife is a Creek citizen and all of these other things, all matters of record, they are obtainable and could be introduced.

MR. BLISSON (of witness): You are living in the Creek Nation are you not? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you been living there? A I have been living here since '71.

Q You are a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Gilbert Vann for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

D E C I S I O N

The record in this case shows that on June 10, 1901, Gilbert Vann appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made personal application for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on May 26, 1902.

The evidence shows that the applicant, Gilbert Vann, was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the war of the rebellion and left the Cherokee Nation during said rebellion, but returned thereto in 1866.

The evidence further shows that the said Gilbert Vann has continuously resided in the Indian Territory since his return in 1866.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Gilbert Vann should be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman, in accordance with the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 22, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application of Lewis Martin for the enrollment of himself, his wife and one child as Cherokee Freedmen.

Lewis Martin, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Lewis Martin.
Q Who is it you want to apply for, anybody besides yourself?
A Just one child.
Q Yourself and one child? A Yes, sir.
Q Is that child under 21 years of age? A Yes, sir.
Q Is it unmarried? A Yes, sir.
Q Never been married? A No, sir.
Q How old are you? A No, I am about 62 years old.
Q What is your postoffice? A Chelsea.
Q In what district do you live? A Cooweescoowee.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been living in the Cherokee Nation more or less ever since '66.
Q Where did you live before '66? A Before '66 I lived here till the breaking out of the war I went to Kansas.
Q You said you had been living in the Cherokee Nation more or less since 1866? A I was running around, I have been in the Cherokee Nation, I never lived anywhere particular, worked around, I worked in Kansas some of the time, my time has been here ever since '66.
Q Where did you live before the war broke out between the North and South? A I lived on Grand River.
Q Were you a slave in that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you a slave at the time the war broke out? A Yes, sir.
Q Here in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q To whom did you belong? A Joe Martin.
Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you been duly recognized and admitted to the rolls as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir, I am not.
Q Give me the name of your father? A My father's name was Harry Martin, was my owner's name.
Q Is he dead? A Yes, sir.
Q Has he been dead how long? A Well, I don't know, he died during of the war.
Q Give me the name of your mother? A Celia.
Q Is she dead? A Yes, sir.
Q How long since she died? A I don't know, about ten or twelve years as near as I can remember.
Q Was she a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.
Q Was she duly recognized as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir, she was too old to ever get around to be recognized.
Q Give me the name of your child? A Ernest Martin.
Q How old is the child? A I think, as well as I can remember, it is about 12 years old.
Q Is your child living now? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the name of the mother of that child? A Sarah.
Q Your wife Sarah? A Yes, sir.
Q Is she dead? A No, sir.
Q She is living, is she? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you and she parted? A No, sir.
Q Why don't you not apply for her? A Well, because she is a non citizen, she isn't a citizen.
Q When did you marry Sarah? A I married her I think about '64.
Q Where did you marry her? A Married her in Kansas.

Q Have you and her lived together as husband and wife ever since 1864? A Yes, sir.

Q How old is your wife? A I think, as well as I can remember, she is about 64 years old.

Q What district were you living in in 1830, or were you living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q What district were you in? A I was in Cooweescoowee part of the time.

Q Are you on any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you ever drawn money? A Yes, sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The 1898 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

A I am not on that I know; I know the reason why I am not.

Q Did you draw Cherokee strip money? A Yes, sir.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined, and the applicants identified thereon as follows:

Ernest Martin on page 158, No. 3918, Cooweescoowee district.

Sarah Martin not on Kern-Clifton roll.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant Lewis Martin identified thereon, page 131, No. 2748, Cooweescoowee district.

Q Your wife Sarah, she is not on any roll at all? A No, sir, she is not a citizen.

Q Were you ever married except to her? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times were you married before you married her? A Only once.

Q Was your wife dead when you married Sarah? A Yes, sir.

Q Was Sarah ever married except to you? A Well, no, sir, she wasn't married before she married me.

Q Hadn't she ever lived with a man as husband and wife? A No, sir.

Q Well now, how comes it you are not on the roll of 1880; didn't you apply? A The reason I didn't apply a man used to live with me and another fellow I was acquainted with, he had went to enroll and they told him they wasn't enrolling any negroes that has been in Kansas, and I knew I had been there, and didn't go.

Q How comes it you are not on the 1898 roll? A I am not on the 1898 roll; I went towards the enrolling, I didn't go for that purpose, and I asked the question, what are you doing, and a man told me they were taking a roll of the Cherokees, and I didn't pay any more attention, I just walked off; I knew I wasn't any Cherokee.

Q You were up in Kansas during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q What time did you come from Kansas? A Come back in the fall of '66.

Q How did you happen to come back in '66? A Well, the postmaster was reading the paper, and he told me, and he asked me did I live in the Cherokee Nation before the war, and I told him yes, sir, and he said you people that belong in that Cherokee Nation down there have the same rights as they have, says if you will go back, and I told him at the time I didn't care nothing about it, I was a little afraid and he says don't be afraid, they have made a treaty and if you all go back you have the same rights as they have, and I pulled up and started.

Q You came back when you heard of that treaty? A Yes, sir.

Q You came back in order to keep your being in Kansas from counting against you? A I don't understand that.

Q Did you come back so as to be within the time fixed by the treaty?

A Yes, sir, that is what I aimed to do.

Q Did you understand that if you come back within a certain time that your being in Kansas wouldn't count against you? A Yes, sir, he told me if I came back in '66, he says you will be a citizen of that country.

Q That is what you understood at the time? A That is the way I understood it.

Q Is that your object then in coming back in '66? A Yes, sir, that was my object.

Q So as to get your rights? A So as to get my rights.

Q So your being in Kansas wouldn't be counted against you? A That is what I thought.

Q How comes it when you went to enroll in 1880 you didn't go on up to be enrolled, when somebody mentioned you has been in Kansas?

A Well, I told you one reason I didn't go: I didn't have any one to go with me, I had got bushwhacked once and I was afraid to go around much, I was bushwhacked coming back from Kansas and three got killed out of my crowd.

Q Were you still afraid of that in 1880? A Yes, sir, I was still afraid of that and I am still afraid of running about by myself.

By J. S. Davenport, Cherokee Attorney: Where were you living in 1880

A I didn't have any established home, I was working around living along with my people, with my brothers wife, Junie, I didn't have any regular home, I didn't stationary myself at all, because I was hard up and didn't have nothing.

Q Did you have any family? A I have got a family, but my family wasn't with me.

Q Where was your family in 1880? A They were here sometimes.

Q Wesn't they living in 1880 in Kansas? A They was here part of the time in 1880, and part of the time in Kansas.

Q What part of the time in 1880? A I can't tell you just what month they were here, they were there some and some here.

Q The some they were making the roll down here they were that some up in Kansas? A No, sir, they wasn't.

Q When you came back from Kansas just after the close of the war, what year was that you came back to the Territory? A I came about '66.

Q Didn't you come back first according to your own testimony in '65? A I came back here and went to Fort Gibson driving a train in '65 or '4.

Q And you went back to Kansas after that? A Yes, sir.

Q And the next time you came back was in '67? A No, I came here in '66, I came here in '66 sure.

Q You testified before the Kern-Clifton Commission, didn't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q Didn't you testify there that you came down to the Territory in '65 and made a crop, went back to Kansas, and then came back?

A No, sir.

Q (Reading) "I was bushwhacked on my way to Fort Gibson on Horse Creek, they killed three of our crowd, I came back the last time in 1867." Now did you testify to that or not before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I did not, it was a mistake some way or other, for it was in '66 when I came back.

Q For several years you lived in Kansas and the Territory and back and forth just anywhere? A I lived in Kansas not a year since '66.

Q But you have been living there? A I have worked there, I am living anywhere where a man stops.

Q Did your wife and children live up there for quite a while after 1866? A No, sir.

Q Did they ever live there at all? A Lived there; when she wanted to go back there, when she wanted to be confined, her mother lived there, and she would live with her.

Q Where did you first locate and make a home in the Cherokee Nation after you came back? A I didn't build any place, I just located on Pryor Creek right close to my sister, and I just kept an improvements up there, the claim.

Q What part of Pryor Creek? A I can't tell you; close where my sister lives, eight or ten miles north of Chulasa.

Q When was that? A I can't tell you, that has been 18 or 19 years ago.

Q That was the time you came back from Kansas? A No it wasn't.

Q Where did you live in the Cherokee Nation before you lived up there on Pryor Creek? A I lived some here in Vinita around north of Vinita and south of Vinita.

Q Who was living in Vinita at the time? A Lots of people, I don't know.

Q About what year was that? A I can't tell you just what year that was either.

Q Was that before or after the railroads were built to Vinita?

A It was after the railroad was built I lived here.

Q Did you come to Vinita and locate immediately after you came from Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Where did you locate before you came to Vinita? A I tell you I stayed a while with Mose Riley before that, they are relations of mine, I stayed with them.

Q Where did Mose Riley live? A He lived out west of Chelsea, northwest of a while.

Q That is where your sister lived? A No, I have got no sister, I have one sister living, none out there, no, sir.

Q Where did you live before you went to Mose Riley's, after you came back to the Cherokee Nation? A I tell you I never had any stationary home at all, I just lived here and there, where I could get a job, I never built.

Q Where did the other people live you stayed with? A I tell you I never stayed with none, I just went around with my kin people, I stayed a while with Riley and I stayed at my sister's and I stayed at Dave Martin's on Big Creek, and another cousin of mine called Nellie Wilson.

Q Who did you stay with when you were living in Vinita? A I stayed with my own people.

Q Who were your own people? A My family, they were living in Vinita then.

Q Did they have any name? A Yes, sir.

Q Why can't you tell the name? A There was my wife, and Bill my stepson.

Q Bill who? A Bill Martin they called him, and George Martin, Fred Martin, Fannette Martin.

Q They were all living here in Vinita at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q There was that town in Kansas that that postmaster called your attention to the treaty being made? A It was in a little town they called Mapleton.

Q Was there any railroad there at that time? A No, sir.

Q How far was it to a railroad from where you lived? A I can't tell you, I don't recollect whether there was any railroad at all.

Q About how far from the Cherokee line? A I can't tell you that.

Q Was it in sight of the line? A In sight, why not that I know of.

Q How long did it take you to reach the line of the Cherokee Nation when you started? A I don't know where the line was and don't yet.

Q Where do you live now? A I live near Chelsea.

Q You have lived here since '66 you say? A Yes, sir, from time I got, I was here living.

Q And you don't know where the line of the Cherokee Nation is between the Nation and Kansas? A No, I don't.

Q Have you ever been back to Kansas since '66? A Yes, sir.

Q How do you know when you got back to Kansas? A When I came to the town I know it was Kansas.

Commissioner: How many children have you altogether? A I have five I believe, as well as I can recollect.

Q What are their names? What is the name of the oldest one?

A My eldest one is named John.
 Q How old is John? A I don't know just exactly, I can't tell, he is something in thirty.
 Q What is the name of the next child? A George.
 Q How old is George? A George I think is thirty something too.
 Q The next child? A Fred.
 Q How old is Fred? A He is 24 or 25, I just can't remember their ages, I haven't got them down.
 Q What is the next child after Fred? A Albert.
 Q How old is Albert? A He is about 21 years old.
 Q What is the next child? A He is about 18.
 Q What is his name, Ernest? A Yes, sir.
 Q That is the child you are applying for? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was John born? A John was born in Kansas.
 Q Where was George born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Fred born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Albert born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Ernest born? A Out here near Chelsea.
 Q Are you keeping house in the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where is your house? A My house is out about three miles north of Chelsea.
 Q How long have you lived there? A 13 or 14 years, as well as I can recollect.
 Q Been living there in that one house? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you ever keep house before that? A No, not always.
 Q Have you any other children besides these five you have named here? A Yes, there is another child there, he is a stepchild.
 Q Have you any children of your own I mean, you and this wife?
 A Yes, sir, I had one.
 Q That one is dead? A Yes, sir.
 Q What was the name of that child? A She was named Eliza.
 Q How old would she be if she was living now? A I can't tell you, she was born before the war.
 Q She was older than John? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was she born? A She was born here in the Territory before the war.
 Q Before the war you think? A Well, I think just about the beginning of the war, or maybe before.
 Q Is she the child of this woman Sarah? A No, sir.
 Q Child of another woman? A Yes, sir, she is dead.
 Q That is the first wife you had? A Yes, sir.
 Q You say that you and your family have never kept house except in the house where you are living now? A No, never kept house, never here, I brought all my things here in '66, I never had nothing, and left them up on Spring Creek and never got them.
 Q Has your wife been with you all the time in your roving backwards and forwards? A No, she wasn't with me, sometimes I would send for her and, sometimes I would go myself, send her back to her mother.
 Q To Kansas? A Yes, sir, her mother lived there.
 Q Sometimes you would take her? A No, I never took her myself nary a time.
 Q Well, now you told me that you had been living in the Cherokee Nation off and on, and you have been in Kansas, and to the Cherokee Nation off and on? A I have been there yes, sometimes.
 Q Now all your information is of an extremely indefinite character, can't you tell me in plain, practical, common-sense way just where you and your wife and all these children have been spending your time since 1866? A Yes I can tell you.
 Q Well do so? A Well, I will tell you.
 Q Give me the names of the places and the times you have lived at these places, you have had too much of a family just to be a rolling stone all the time? A Well, they were not rolling all the time. Three of these biggest children has stayed with their mother,

Q.

Q. These granadillas, the highest part of the tree.

Q. I am talking about you too? A. Well maybe I was here working around and sometimes I would work up there in houses, I would work sometimes two months or three months and I would come down here.

Q. Have you had any settled abiding place at all? A. No, sir, not a year at a time.

Q. Have you not been stationed at the place for several years?

A. No, sir, not since 1880, or up till 1880, no, sir.

Q. Not been staying as much as one year at a place? A. Yes, I have stayed as much as a year.

Q. How many times have you stayed at one place as much as one year?

A. Only a time but once.

Q. That was that? A. I can't tell you the year at all, it has been some time ago.

Q. Was it before 1880? A. I think it was as well as I can remember.

Q. Just working from pillar to post? A. Just worked where I could get a job.

Q. And your wife not going around on these little trips with you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever vote up there in Kansas? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you anybody here who knows that you and your wife have been married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who is there here? A. To be seen.

TOBE BEAN, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breakinridge, testified as follows:

Q. Give me your name? A. To be Bean.

Q. How old are you? A. About 40 years old.

Q. What is your postoffice? A. Vinita.

Q. How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A. Been living here all my life.

Q. Do you know this applicant here, Lewis Martin? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known him? A. Been knowing him forty or fifty years I guess, we were boys together.

Q. Do you know his wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is her name? A. Sarah.

Q. Was this man ever married except to this woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times? A. Once is all I know of.

Q. Was that wife dead when he married this woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long have he and this woman Sarah been married?

A. Must be thirty some odd years I guess.

Q. Have they been living together ever since as husband and wife?

A. Yes, sir, to my knowing.

Q. Where did you first know his wife Sarah? A. Up in Kansas at Maple on.

Q. Where is she at that time? A. She is up in Panther Creek.

Q. How long has she been living out there? A. I don't know how long she has been living there.

Q. How far is that from Vinita? A. About twenty miles, out the other side of Chalkosnee.

Q. Has she been living there long? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is she keeping house out there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who lives there with her? A. Mr. Martin here and his family lives there.

Q. Any children living there with them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't know how long they have been living out there?

A. No, sir, I can't know anything.

Q. You think that is twenty miles or was that nearer some place?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have they been living there as much as five years? A. Possibly, longer than that I guess.

Q They have been living there as much as seven years? A Yes, sir, I reckon seven years or longer, been longer I guess, I don't know exactly when he moved there? I live out spot here and he lives west out there.

Q Have you ever been to that house? A Yes, sir, been to that house.

Q You know just where it is? A Yes, sir.

Q How often have you as a general thing seen this man Lewis Martin, say along for the last twenty years? A Seen him every six or eight months? A Yes, sir, sometimes about a year before I see him, we live a good piece apart so see him pretty often.

Q What do you know about his sojourn along from '06 down to this time, where has he been living? A Living at Vinita a while, and Pryor Creek, and I don't know where he did live.

Q I see who has got a family of children and a wife, generally every man has some kind of a living place where has he been making his home mostly since '06 or '07, since the war stopped? A Out on Pryor Creek I reckon, but he lives a good piece from me, I haven't been keeping the run of him. I see him once in a while though.

Q You have been seeing him every six or eight months or a year?

A Yes, sir, sometimes maybe a year.

Q And you don't know where he has been living during that time?

A No, sir.

Q Can you name any place that he has been making his home except out here on Panther Creek? A Lived here at Vinita a while.

Q How long did he live in Vinita? A I don't know exactly how long I know he was a shop or two.

Q Do you know where he has been, any other place except Panther Creek and Vinita? A I heard he was living on Pryor Creek, I never seen him when he lived down at there.

Q That is all you can say about where he has been living and all that? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: Where was he living when you first got acquainted with his wife Sarah? A In Kansas.

Q About how long has that been? A About thirty some odd years ago.

Q Do you know whether or not he moved from Kansas to this place out here north of Chelsea where he is living with his family now?

A No, sir, I don't think he did, for he lived at Vinita before he moved there.

Q Do you know whether or not his family ever lived at Vinita?

A Yes, sir.

Q Anywhere near this place out there near Rollin K. Vair's place out north from there? A I don't know, I know his place must be two or three miles northwest of Chelsea.

LEWIS MARTIN, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: The Commission has not yet decided whether a person can acquire rights as a Freedman by intermarriage, and your wife, if you have rights, may have rights as an intermarried Cherokee Freedman. So you had better include her in your application. You agree to that, do you? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and one child. The applicant is identified on the Wallace roll and on the East-Whitten roll. He is not identified on the Roll of 1880 or on the census roll of 1890. The testimony in regard to his residence after the war will need to be carefully considered. It is not contested that he was a Cherokee slave before the breaking out of the war, and he will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

His wife is not identified on any roll, but it is shown in a satisfactory manner that they were married some thirty four or more years ago. The applicant states that he was once previously married, but this former wife was dead when he married his present wife, and that this present wife was never married except to him. They were married in the State of Kansas. For the further consideration of her rights, she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

The child, Ernest Martin, said to be 18 years of age, and now living, is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the census roll of 1880. This child will now be listed with his father and mother as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

Bruce D. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q Who did you say came back with you? A Well I didn't say this time - do you want me to tell all that was along?

Q Yes sir all that was in that crowd of which you have stated at other times you were captain of? A Well there was Uncle Sam and Eli Vann and Glorie Chouteau; Art Bean, Walter Vann, Dave Vann, Dennis Vann, Young Gilbert Vann, old man Gilbert Vann, Susie Vann, Kate Vann, Lizzie Vann, aunt Lucy Vann, Patsy Vann, Bill Sanders, Ebbis Shaw, Jess Shaw, Jate Shaw, aunt Mary Musgrove, Janie Musgrove, Jack Bean, Wess Vann, Jess Vann, there was a colored fellow Creek fello along I can't think of his name, Martha Vann, Kate Vann, Boots Vann, Young Sam Vann, Mandy Vann, that is all I can remember just now, whole lot more and a lot of little children I don't remember.

Q You was 16 years old then? A Yes sir.

Q You testify that you were the captain of that crowd? A Yes sir.

Q And there were some of those men along who were 50 and 60 years old wasn't there? A Yes sir.

Q Who were the men that were killed in that fight? A Wess Vann, Phil Daniels and Jesse Vann, and then Tobe Bean was shot through the arm, a flesh wound.

Q About what part of Horse Creek was that fight? A I don't know.

Q How far from the Kansas line? A I don't know that either.

Q How far from where it empties into Grand river? A I can't tell you that.

Q About how far, 10 or 15 miles? A I don't know, I wasn't up at the mouth.

Q About how far from where Arden is? A I don't know where that is then.

Q Did you go right on after that fight? A Yes sir.

Q They had this case questioned up five years ago before the Kern's court? A Yes sir.

Q Had you then ever testify that you were captain of that crowd and had a fight on Horse Creek? A No sir, they never asked me about it.

Q You didn't testify about it? A No sir.

Chas. von Meier, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above case and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

File with Cherokee Treason, D-656

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Cherokee, I. S. June 19, 1901.

In the matter of the Application of Tobias Beam et al. for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearances:

Walter A. Smith, attorneys for applicants;

W. F. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Jesse Cochran, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A Jesse Cochran.

Q What is your age? A About 53.

Q Where were you born? A Born in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A No, sir.

Q Where did you live in '45 and '60? A Out here on Grand River, it was known as the Johnson Thompson place.

Q A quick house there? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Cochran, was your father living with you in '65? A Yes, sir.

Q When did your father die? A In the fall of '66, he was killed the night of October.

Q Where was he killed? A On the military road at what was known as the Bob Denton's place.

Q How far was that from the place you are living? A It is about three miles.

Q On what side of the Grand River were you living? A It would be on the west side, same side the military road was.

Q Do you know Bob Denton's Knight, who is a witness here in this case?

A No, sir, not that time.

Q You didn't know him then? A No, sir.

Q Do you know him now? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you take any steps after your father's death to apprehend, to catch the people who did the killing? A Yes, sir, I went and got the sheriff and his posse, we were trying to find the man that killed him, his name is Lewis Witherspoon.

Q Where did you go? A I went up right northwest on what is known as Cabin Creek, over near the Lee Schrimsher place, and couldn't see any track of a wagon, which I thought he had gone and left in a wagon, and then I came across northeast in the direction of Horse Creek and I found the place what was known as the old Knight place, it would have been about the first of November.

Q After your father was killed? A Yes, sir.

Q Was anyone living there at that time? A No, sir, there wasn't anyone there at all.

Q You took an examination of the house at that time? A Well, we just rode around there, there wasn't a soul in there, it was open and vacant. I had been there before.

Q You made an examination and wasn't anybody living there? A No,
sir.

Q Did you have occasion to pass by this same house after that?

A Yes, sir.

Q About how long after that? A It was along in about, I would say about the 15th of October or November.

Q Of that year? A The next year.

Q Was anyone living there at that time? A No, sir.

Q Do you have any other place lived in that house? A No, sir, I don't.

Q What kind of place was it? A On the military road, I know it was the old Knight place.

Q Was it a quick house? A It was a quick house.

Q When did you move away from the Thompson place on Grand River?
A In the spring of '57.

Q Up to that time, did you hear of any fight made upon any negroes on Horse Creek in the Cherokee Nation?

Mr. Mallette: I object to the question as not material in this case. It is pure hearsay.

Mr. Hastings: It is a circumstance that unquestionably ought to be admitted.

Commissioner: Now, I think that is a material question.

Q Did you know of any? A Yes, just heard of it.
Q Did you hear of it at that time? A In 1847, the fall that went on to Smith Creek to the place where the name of Mani was selling goods there, and they told me the soldiers had just passed.

Q Don't tell what they said, the others. A That is the only way
I got any information there had been a fight.

Q You hadn't heard of any fight before you went to the night place in '57. A No, sir.

Q Do you know this statement, that Mani A I don't know whether
I do or not. In the last few years I might have seen him a time or two; at that time I don't think I knew him.

Q How far were you living from Smith Creek and Smith River when your father was killed in October of 1852? A It must have been about two miles, just where the road crosses the river, might not have been that far.

Q You didn't know Robt. Mani then? A No, I knew the others that was living there.

Q You were acquainted with the other colored people who were living over there? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see Robt. Mani ever there in that year? A I don't remember whether I did or not.

Mr. Mallette: They had a good many fights around through this country about that time, didn't they? A No, sir, there wasn't any as I know of.

Q No fights at all? A At that time there wasn't nobody killed.

Q Well, there was when my father got killed a month before that.

Q Where did he get killed? A On the military road.

Q Could a fight have occurred and you not heard of it? A It might have been, but I never heard of any.

Q Do you claim to have heard of every fight that occurred in this country? A That was after the war, it was people you know.

Q Do you swear that you heard of every fight that occurred?

A Yes, I would remember it if I did hear it. I don't think I heard of any.

Q Where did you say you lived along about that time? A On Grand River.

Q How old were you then? A Well, I must have been nearly 20 years old.

Q What part of Grand River did you live? A In 56, as I said, where I was living at what was known as the John Thompson place, a brick house.

Q Near what place on Grand River was that? A I believe they call it the Ketchikan place now.

Q On which side of the river were you living? A I would call it on the east side of the river.

Q You couldn't be wrong? A No, sir, I'm sure.

Q Mr. Hastings has asked you to swear that the night place was place is also the place where the fight occurred. A Well, that is what I believe.

Q Now for the name of the place, what was the name of the place?

A I don't know the name of the place.

Q Now for the name of the place, what was the name of the place?

A I don't know the name of the place.

Q. No where that house stood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Those place was that? A. It was known as the Knight place, it was vacant though.

Q. How often had you been up in that country? A. Well, I can't tell you just how often I had.

Q. I just want to know how often you had been up in that country? A. I had been to that place three times that year.

Q. Do you remember every place, do you remember for 35 years afterwards every place that was vacant at that time? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. You can remember the every place that you passed by in 1866 that was vacant at that time? A. Yes, sir, there wasn't but one old place between there, north at the Ben Johnson place, that was the only place there was there.

Q. You just passed by those places in question? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Came right through that country? A. Yes, sir, came on the military road.

Q. How did you say was with you? A. My father when I first got acquainted with the place.

Q. Was with you the last time? A. Ben Johnson and old man Johnson.

Q. You rode by the place? A. Yes, sir, rode right along and stopped at the house there.

Q. Were you driving or riding? A. In a wagon.

Q. You stopped at the house and passed on, is that all you did? A. Yes, that was about all we did.

Q. How close to the house did you go? A. Well, it must have been in the yard, the house wasn't my yard house, the road ran right along by the house.

Q. That was 35 years ago or 36 years ago? A. I guess it was, it was in '66, in the fall, November.

Q. Now do you know it was in '66? A. I know it, I had a posse with me when I came by this place.

Q. There was back a good deal of talk about these people remembering '66; how do you remember it, you didn't have to get back? A. No, sir.

Q. There wasn't anything to make you remember '66? A. Only my father got killed on October 22, 1866.

Q. You say you started out to hunt the people that killed him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Ben Johnson was with you? A. No, that was the last time I was up there.

Q. The last time that Tom Thompson was with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year was it Tom Thompson was with you? A. In December, as I said, about the 10th or 15th.

Q. You remember now it was the 10th or 15th or December? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now do you want happen to remember it? A. Old man Johnson Thompson moved into the house we were living in, and they were on up in a wagon, and I went with them to Reboho to get some groceries.

Q. Now do you remember at this time it was the 10th or 15th of December? A. Because it was Christmas coming, we had to get back before Christmas.

Q. Might not it have been in November? A. No, sir, it wasn't in November.

Q. When did you have your attention called to this? No before this, never thought of this till after the freedom case has been sitting here.

Q. How long has it been called about for several years? A. It was in the news about it, I have noticed some of about the same way as the military road.

Q. You never heard of this till the African Court? A. When told me that.

Q. How long has it been called about this? A. The first time I ever heard of it was when the case came on.

Q You testified to the same facts before the district court; you testify to now? A Yes, sir, as near as I can remember.

Q What do you know about it? Do you think you gave the same testimony then you do now? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember about Al Lynch getting shot, this colored man, a witness of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, I know just about what time, I wasn't there to see.

Q What year was it? A It was in '90.

Q You were upstairs at that? A Yes, sir, I don't have the ability to go down on.

Q Well now you know it was in '90, what time was that Al Lynch do you know, what time about Al Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q You went and notified some people that that was the time, at that time, that he had been shot? A No, sir, I hadn't nothing to do with it.

Q When you go down to Dave Rowe's and told them some witnesses had shot Al Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q You didn't go? A No, sir.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, I had nothing to do with it.

Q But didn't you just hear the information that there is Rowe's that Al Lynch had been shot? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q You will swear that? A Yes, sir, I never heard any such news.

Q Didn't tell anybody at all? A Of course I might have said that it was rumored, everybody knew it.

Q Didn't you hear talking in town at that time about Al Lynch having been shot? A No, sir, I don't think I did.

Q You didn't mention it to them at all, you knew where Rowe lived, didn't you? A I did see Dave Rowe.

Q How close is it to you? A It is 20 or 30 miles.

Q Do you remember seeing Dave Rowe at that time? A Not positively, I was occasionally down to Cherokee, and it was on the road down there.

Q And you saw him? A Yes, sir, I saw him about that time.

Q Was a common thing that he got shot? A No, sir, it was a common thing that he got shot.

Mr. Hastings: That brings positions, if any, have you held?

A Well, I have held the position of Sheriff, I was one of the Associate Supreme Court Judges.

Q In 1890 in Washington? A Yes, sir.

A. P. HIGHT, being duly sworn by Commissioner Rodley, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A A. P. Hight.

Q What is your age? A 38.

Q Where do you live? A Now, I live in White.

Q How long have you lived there, a number of years? A 13 years.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation or blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q There was the civil war that you lived in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A In 1865.

Q What position did you hold? A I was a soldier.

Q Was there any road that you or your father at that time? A The old military road, we had to call it.

Q How far from there, Mr. Hight, at that time, after your return? A Yes, it was probably in the Cherokee Nation, I don't know, and it must have been in the latter part of the war, before we returned.

Q Did any of them get killed at your place? A Yes, there was I guess two. Noway was killed there. I heard there was three, I don't know.

Q Any others wounded? A There was one, I don't know, that is only from memory. I saw him when he was fired at, but I didn't see he was struck.

Q Did you see the shooting? A Yes, sir, the most of it, the first two or three shots I didn't see.

Q Several people were along? A Yes, looked to me like there might have been fifty in all, or more.

Q Did you ever learn, either at that time or afterwards, who composed that crowd? A Yes.

Q Mr. Mellette, hold on, did he see who they was?

Q Did you know any of them? A I saw the most of them, but I didn't know the names.

Q Did you ever talk to John Bess here afterwards? A I don't remember that I ever did about it. Yes, I might have made some little chance some time, I don't know whether there was ever anything said bearing on about it.

Q Did you ever learn who composed this crowd? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards?

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, it is an improper question.

Q Did you learn that? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards? A It was early in the spring after my arrest in the winter, two or three parties that came to my house.

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, no hearsay evidence.

Q Did they talk over the fight that had occurred there prior to that?

A Yes, sir, they said so they said in it.

Mr. Mellette: Hold on, I object.

Q Who was that? A The man that came to my house.

Q Yes? A A young man by the name of Lem Smith and a man named John Willie.

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, they are not parties to this case, because it would not be competent.

Q That was on Horse Creek? A That was two and a half miles south, we called it Horse Creek, that is right on the side of the Creek.

Q You saw the killing, did you, the shooting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know when that was? A Well, to the best of my recollection, it was in probably the first of October, or about there, in 1867, the best I can figure it was, as to saying positive, I can't do it.

Q But that is your best judgment? A That is a best judgment.

Q And you were afterwards arrested and accused of it? A Yes, sir, in the following December, the latter part of December.

Q Well, did you move back to this place when you first moved back after the war, was this shooting good place? A Yes, sir.

Q And that was on the military road, was it? A Yes, sir, on the military road.

Q About how far, Mr. Mellette, was this place from where the old Garrison farm was, or where it was, on Grand Island? A Well, it is in the neighborhood of Lawrence, a little more or a little less,
I don't know just what it is.

Q How far was it from Lawrence? A Not by the Thompson place.

Q How far was it from Lawrence? A Not by the Thompson place.

Q How far was it from Lawrence? A Well, I am not certain.

Q How far was it from Lawrence? A Well, I remember, that is all I can say about it.

shot up there in '86, and that he was the fellow shot in that fight in '86, and probably I believed that if he was shot in '86 he was a different man from the one shot in that fight.

Q The is your best judgment, it was told to you, the abolitionist?
A Yes, sir. I think that is the reason. I don't know, I only had a word or two at the time. I never knew since the trouble that he was one of them with him, and I know his name, but I didn't know him. I could have asked him.

Q Now, Mr. Knight, did you say that you were arrested for killing the man that was killed in the Horse Creek fight? A Yes, sir.

Q And the were they, the way you were arrested for killing? A The man I was accused of killing.

Q Yes, sir. The only killing that ever happened there that I know of was the killing the warrent, and you were charged with killing? A I don't know that at all, because the name is all.

Q You would not be arrested for killing a man that wasn't killed, there is somebody you were charged with killing? A I was charged with killing some negroes in the Horse Creek fight.

Q It didn't say the Horse Creek fight in the warrent? A It was the killing there at the place.

Q It didn't say that name in the warrent, it just said as and so is charged with killing, and killing who? A I don't know who they were. I don't remember the name of them.

Q Is it possible you could be arrested and accused of killing a man and don't know the man you were charged with killing? A I don't know about it, it seems I was arrested for killing somebody, I don't know.

Q How far did you live from Humbered Hill? A Within Humbered Hill.

Q What was up there by Blue Jacket? A I don't know, ten or twelve miles, neighborhood of that.

Q Were you not arrested for killing some colored men up there?
A No, sir.

Q Isn't that the case you were arrested for? A No, sir.
Q Isn't that a fact? A No, sir.

Q You remember them being killed up there? A No, never heard of it.

Q Now, Mr. Knight, it seems strange that you would be arrested for killing men and not know the names of the men you were charged with killing? A I didn't see anything strange about it.

Q I do. Did the officers read the warrent to you? A Well, sir, I can't even say that, I am not positive as to whether he read the warrent, he came in, it was cold weather, and had their overcoats on and buttoned up, and came to the door, and when I stepped out to wash my face for breakfast, and one with the name Holloway, he came to the door, and I saw soldiers all around the house, and he came and asked me my name.

Q How far is that from Chetopa, Kansas? A About four miles.

Q What direction from Russell Creek? A We lived on Russell Creek.

Q Well, where did you move to that fall? A Moved to the mouth of Horse Creek.

Q Where were you living in '87? A On Horse Creek, right at the mouth of Horse Creek on Grand River.

Q Do you know the applicant, Rebe Bean? A I have seen him, I don't know as I am acquainted with him.

Q Mr. Trott, any time after the war, did or did you not hear of the circumstance of some colored people being killed near the old Knight place on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hear of that? A It was in the fall of '87.

Q How far were you living from the Knight place at that time?

A About four miles.

Mr. Mellette: Now Mr. Trott, do you remember that you came back here in the spring of '88? A I think I do.

Q Now in the world do you know it? A I was in the army and was mustered out in '85, in the fall, and the next summer we moved down here, the next spring.

Q Where did you come from? A Kansas.

Q What did you do in Kansas after you were discharged before you came down here? A I didn't do any work particularly.

Q Where did you stay? A In Woodson County.

Q Who did you live with up there? A My father and mother.

Q What time did you start back here in '88? A It was in the spring.

Q In the spring of '88, how did you come? A In wagons.

Q Travel through the country? A Yes, sir.

Q Many people living in this country at that time? A I didn't see but very few after we got in the Territory.

Q Well, where did you first strike the Cherokee Nation? A Right up there on the line south of Chetopa.

Q Which way did you come; came by Vinita? A We came on the Neosho River.

Q Did you come by Vinita? A No, sir.

Q How else did you come? A Came right down the Neosho River all the time till we struck the Territory line there.

Q Then how did you come? A We went up by the Creek after we struck the line, and stopped.

Q You stopped just inside the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q U. there on Russell Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q In the spring of '88? A Yes, sir.

Q What month? A I don't know exactly as I can name the month.

Q How long did you stop up there? A We stayed all the summer of '88.

Q What did you do in the fall? A In the fall we moved to Horse Creek.

Q What time in the fall? A Tolerably late in the fall, I don't know the exact date of it.

Q You say you heard of a fight in the fall of '87? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you living at that time? A Living at the mouth of Horse Creek, living on Grand River.

Q How many fights did you ever hear of along about that time?

A That is the only one.

Q You never heard of anybody being killed up there except that?

A Not that year I don't think I did.

Q Now are you positive about that? A I think that is the only fight I heard of.

Q You just simply heard of it; that is all, is it? A Well, I saw the troops in there but a short time afterwards hunting the fellows that done it.

Q Where were the troops from? A Said to be from Van Buren.

Q Were they were troops come from Van Buren, did they? A That is what they said.

Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Federal troops? A Yes, sir.

Q Don't you know there were not any troops at Van Buren in '67?

A I don't know anything about it.

Q You say the troops all right, did you? A I did.

Q How many? A Seemed to me like about 20 or 25.

Q White or colored? A White men.

Q Who commanded them? A I don't know that.

Q Where did you see them? A I saw them at my house on Horse Creek.

Q They told you they were from Van Buren, Arkansas, the troops did? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first know about this fight, that it was in '67 that that fight occurred; when was that first called to your attention Mr. Trott; since this Freedman Court has been in operation?

A No, sir, I have heard of it all along.

Q I know, but have known a good many things that haven't been particularly called to your attention; when was it called to your attention after that fight occurred? A I have spoke about it a good many times, I don't know, I have heard it talked about ever since then.

Q How did it happen to come up, why did you talk about it? A I don't know, it was the general talk through the country after it was fought, after the fight.

Q That has been 36 years ago, or 38 years ago; what was there to keep it in your mind? A Well I know that I had been there on Horse Creek a year, or pretty near a year, before it happened, that is one thing that kept in in my mind, I was not there in the fall of '66 until very late in the fall, and it was the next fall.

Q What time do you say you went down on Horse Creek from Russell Creek. A Late in the fall of 1866.

Q What time? A I don't know the month, but it was way late in the fall.

Q Were you in the army? A I was.

Q In any fights? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Prairie Grove, Arkansas.

Q That was the only fight? A That is all.

Q You remember when that was, don't you? A I don't know as I remember the exact date, I know it was in the winter of 1863.

Q '63? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't mean that? A Yes, sir, '63 I meant to say.

Q The winter of '63; was it before Christmas or after Christmas?

A I guess it must have been after Christmas.

Q Was that in '62 or '63? A '63.

Q What month in '63? A I don't recollect the month.

Q Was that in the first part of '63 or the last part of '63?

A I can't tell you exactly.

Q You can't tell it in three or four or five or six or ten months when that fight took place? A It was in the winter of '63.

Q There is two pieces of winter now in the year 1863, the first part of '63 is in the winter and the last part of '63; was it the first part of '63 or the last part? A I think it is in the first part.

Q You are satisfied of that? A I am not satisfied of it positively.

Q You are not as well satisfied of that as you are the Horse Creek fight was in the fall of '67? A I don't know about that Horse Creek fight because I was living there.

Q You were in the Prairie Grove fight, and still you know more about the other one you were not in; isn't that true? A The other hadn't been quite so long.

Q There has been about three years difference.

T. J. MONROE, being sworn, deposes as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A T. J. Monroe.

Q How old are you? A 48.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You were born before the war? A Born in '22.

Q Where did you live before the war? A Lived on the line of the Osages and the western line of the Cherokee Nation, near the Osage lands.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q To what place did you return after the war? A A place known as the Bate place on the Grand River, east of Grand River, in Delaware district.

Q How far was that from Horse Creek? A It was ten or 12 miles.

Q Do you know whether the old Knight place was on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live from that? A It was about ten or 12 miles I think.

Q How far from the Johnson Thompson place on Grand River did you live? A The Johnson Thompson place?

Q Ketchum precinct? A It is about, I would think about 15 or 16 miles, 15 or 16.

Q When did you move to that place after the war, in what year?

A Sometime in February, 1866.

Q February of 1866? A Yes, sir.

Q Now after that did you hear of the circumstance of some negroes being in a fight in which some of them got killed, on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hear of that? A The next year, right sometime in the summer or fall, I don't recollect just what month.

Q What year? A Of '67, we lived then on the west side of the river on the Stand Waite farm.

Mr. Mellette: Where were you living at that time? A That I heard of this fight?

Q Yes? A On the Stand Waite place, on the west side of the Grand River.

Q How far were you living from Horse Creek? A Couldn't have been over eight or ten miles.

Q When did you move on the Stand Waite place? A Sometime during the winter of '66 or '67, it appears to me it was in January, in the year '67.

Q Was it before Christmas or after Christmas? A I think it was after Christmas.

Q That is the time you want it to stand? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you move from? A From the west side of the river, from the Boxer place.

Q How long did you live there? A From February up until we left I think in January, sometime in the winter time.

Q What year did you move to the Boxer place? A In '68.

Q What time in the year? A I think it was in February.

Q Where did you move from? A We came from the Choctaw Nation on Red River.

Q When did you come? A I stayed a while right on the line of Missouri.

Q When did you come from the Choctaw Nation? A We left the Choctaw Nation sometime in the latter part of October, I think.

Q What time? A '65.

Q You couldn't be mistaken? A No, sir.

Q Then there is such a thing as remembering dates, I suppose?

A I have something to remember by.

Q You didn't have to get back here by '66? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't anything to impress it on your mind? A If you will.

T. J. MONROE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A T. J. Monroe.

Q How old are you? A 48.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You were born before the war? A Born in '52.

Q Where did you live before the war? A Lived on the line of the Osage and the western line of the Cherokee Nation, near the Osage lands.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You couldn't be mistaken? A No, sir.

Q Then there is such a thing as remembering dates, I suppose?

A I have something to remember by.

Q You didn't have to get back here by '66? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't anything to impress it on your mind? A If you will let me explain, we lived right on the same place with Joel Bryant, on the same farm, he was a Major General, or something, in the Confederate army. He came home during the summer, I think in June, and took his family and started to old Mexico, and then we sold our crop in the field before we gathered it and started back to the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, how old were you at that time? A Well, I was born in '52, I was 13 I believe in '65.

Q About 13 years old? A About 13 in '65 I think, if I am not mistaken.

Q And still you remember all these events? A I remember it perfectly well, that part of it.

Q You remember you left there in the fall of 1865 and came up here and went on to the Boxer place in February, 1866? A I think it was in February, I am not positive, but I think it was.

Q How far is that from the Stand Waite place?

A Well, about six or seven miles I should think.

Q On the opposite side of the river? A Yes, sir, and down the river.

Q A good many fights along about that time, wasn't there? A I don't remember very many.

Q But you know you just heard of a fight? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first know about it, when did you first have your attention called to the time when that occurred, since that time?

A Since that time?

Q Yes; when did anybody ask you about when that occurred; since you have been subpoenaed in this case? A I don't remember anybody ever did ask me until I came here to-day.

Q Since you came here to-day Mr. Hastings and Mr. Bell asked you what you knew about it? A Yes.

Q And then you remember what you knew of that fight in '67?

A Yes, I knew it all the time.

Q Everything that has occurred you don't keep in your mind all the time, do you? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't any particular reason for you to remember that?

A I didn't see any particular reason.

Q And when you come here 36 years afterwards you are asked about it and you say it occurred in '67; that is a long time that, a long time? A Yes, sir.

Q You had forgotten about that half a dozen times? A Of course it would go out of my mind.

Q Go out of your mind and come back? A Yes, sir.

Q All you know about this fight is 36 years ago you heard of a fight between some darkies and white people? A Allow me to tell you; that fall, or late in the summer, a man brought a mare to our house, and asked me and my brother to take care of it, and right there and then he told us about this fight, did you hear of this fight up here and a lot of them people getting killed; I remember it well, guessing about who done the killing, they didn't call any names, but referred to them as the "red face" fellows.

Q You remember 36 years the man that brought the mare or colt to your house? A Perfectly well.

Q How many horses did you have anyhow? A I think about 15.

Q Can you remember every time a man has brought a horse to you since '65? A No sir; I didn't have any horses then.

Q Didn't have any horses at all? A No, sir, didn't have any horses at all.

Q You had farmed one year on the Boxer place? A Yes, sir.

Q What did you farm with? A A little yoke of stagg-Mr. Hastings? What position do you hold now, if any? A Senator in the Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION TO THE

NOTICE!

IN THE MATTER OF the application of John Martin
for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen:

Case No. D 656

To John Martin or Hellette A. Smith his attys.

You are hereby notified that the Cherokee Nation will present before the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes testimony on behalf of the Cherokee Nation tending to disprove your right to be enrolled as a Cherokee citizen at the office of the United States Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory Indian Territory, on Oct. 31 at 8 o'clock A. M. or from day to day thereafter until the same can be heard by said Commission during the usual business hours of said Commission on the respective days above named, for the taking of testimony both for and against applicants for enrollment as Cherokee citizens.

In testimony whereof, the undersigned representatives of the Cherokee Nation have hereunto set our hands this SEP 17 1901

L. B. Bell
M. M. Hastings
Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

how long it was that I saw him there.

Q Was your son married? A My son was married then.

Q Where was he living? A He was living with me when he got married, and then he moved up to Ottawa, and he wasn't there very long before his woman took sick and wrote for his mother to come and she went, and she didn't come back quite as I thought she ought to come back and I went after her, and I went up there and I went over to his house.

Q Went to his house? A Went to Mr. Martin's house.

Q Well, Martin living there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Did he have his family there? A Yes, sir.

Q You know what he was doing up there at Ottawa? A Well, he was a farmer there, renting.

Q Well, how how old is your son's oldest child? A Well now sir that is something I can't tell you.

Q Well about how old is it? A That is something I don't know the age of nobody, I can't guess at his age, he was born 2 years after I came to Kansas, my boy.

Q I am not talking about your boy, I am talking about his child?

A Well I can't tell nothing about his child's age at all.

Q His boy grown? A He isn't grown, but then he is a good size boy, I ain't seen him since he was just about so high (indicating) and came off here to the Nation.

Q You don't have no idea when the child was born; as much as 15 years old? A Well, he may be somewhere along 15 or 14, but I can't tell exactly, but he is a good sized boy, I reckon he is pretty near large as he now.

Q Now what is your best judgment as to the age of that child; have you got any judgment at all? A I have judgment, but I can't tell how old he was.

Q I am not asking you the date; what is your best judgment as to his age? A If I knew how old it was when I went up after my wife I could tell pretty near the child's age, but I can't.

Q Well, about how long do you think that man had been away from Mapleton, up to Ottawa, when you went up there? Had it been a few days or a few months, or how long? A Well, it has been more than a few days, because he had raised one or two crops up there, and maybe more for all I know, I don't know at all, you have got me to something I don't know, but I know he lived there, that is all I can tell you.

Q And you know he was living there when you went up there? A Yes, sir, because I went to his house.

Q And that was after he was living down at Mapleton? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see him back down to Mapleton after that? A No, sir, I don't recollect seeing him back there anymore at all, he might have come back on a visit, but that I don't know, but when I saw him again I saw him there.

Q When was that? A Well, it was the year that Mr. Wallace's roll was made.

Q Where did you see him? A I saw him out in the country here to a place where he farmed.

Q You know how long he had been here then? A I just know he had been here, made one crop I think.

Q Well, did he tell you that or not? A Well he took me right down and showed me his crop he made.

Q Did he say how long he had been here and where he came from?

A He said he had come from up there here.

Q Did he say when he had come from Ottawa or how long he had been from Ottawa here? A He didn't say how long he had been, but he had just made one crop when he came here.

Q How do you know he made one crop? A I don't know, he said so.

and showed me his crop.

Q How do you know he just made the one, is what I am trying to get at, and not made any more than one? A I don't know that, only he said his stepson made one crop while he was home where he lived, he said his stepson, he sent him down here to make a crop and then he came, he said his stepson made a crop here and then he came and made one, that is what he told me, that is all I know.

Q That was while the Wallace Court was here? A Yes, sir, first time I saw him I came down to the Wallace Court.

Q Have you any idea when Wallace made that roll, do you know anything about that year? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Don't have no idea about it at all? A No, sir, don't know a thing about it only he made that roll.

Q You know he made it? A Yes, sir, because I came and signed that roll.

Q Where were you living at the time? A I was living up there on Timber Hill, Bourbon County.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Near Mapleton? A Yes, sir: I knew where I was living all right.

Mr. Smith: Now Lewis, all you know about it is that you know that at one time Lewis Martin lived up there in Kansas? A Yes.

Q You don't know the year? A No, sir, I don't know the year at all.

Q When did you first go to Kansas? A '66.

Q Where did you go from? A Went from the Cherokee Nation: went from down here at Chouteau Station.

Q There wasn't any Chouteau Station then in '66? A No, sir, it has been out there since. I lived there, I was raised there.

Q Do you know where Lewis Martin was in the year 1866? A No, sir, I don't know the meaning of that '66 any more as a sucking baby, I don't know the meaning of '66: when that man told me that I came here in '62, that is how come I say I came here in '62: he said I came here in '62 because I came here a soldier.

Q Where were you living in 1862? A Well I give it, went up to Kansas, in that time, and lived up there close to Mapleton in '62 when this man said I came out in '62, I don't know when I came, he said it was '62 because he was down there.

Q Now do you know when Lewis Martin got married? A I know he got married up there but I can't tell when.

Q Do you know whether it was before the war or after the war or during the war? A He got married, might have been about the time the war came on or maybe after, I don't know now.

Q Well, do you know where Lewis Martin was when the war closed?

A Well, when the war closed, he must have been living right there close to Mapleton.

A Not what he must have been, but what you know about it, what you saw and know yourself, do you know where he was when the war closed?

A I didn't say I know that at all, but I know he was living there when I came, when I was living there he was living there too, it must have been while the war was going on that he lived there, but after that I know he lived there and went up to Ottawa you know.

Q Do you know where he was in the fall of '66? A No, sir, it isn't any more use for you to ask me about '66, not bit more than a baby, because I don't know.

Q Do you know where he was during the year after the war closed?

A I can't tell you that neither.

Q Don't know? A No, sir.

Q You know anything about as to whether he got into a fight or killing anyone down here in the Cherokee Nation shortly after the war?

A I never heard of him getting into any fight or killing.

Q You were not in it? A No, sir.

Q When did you come down here at the Wallace Court, where was

Lewis Martin living in the Cherokee Nation, near what place? A Why I don't think it was more than a mile, maybe, or maybe more than a mile right out back this way, from Vinita.

Q A mile from Vinita? A I don't think it was over a mile, it might have been and might not, but it wasn't very far.

Q Did you go out to his place? A Yes, sir, I went out to his place.

Q How did you go, ride or walk? A I think I went in his wagon I think, I don't know for certain how I went out but I went there all right, went right to his house.

Q You don't know how many different places Lewis Martin has lived in the Cherokee Nation, do you? A Well, I don't know of him living at but that one here and when when he left here he went out and bought a place, I understand, went out and bought a place.

Q You don't know anything about where he is living now? A No, sir.

F. D. MYRIK, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name, please? A F. D. Myrick.

Q How old are you? A I am 64 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You live in Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your business? A Farming, stock raising.

Mr. Hastings: Mr. Myrick, do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A Yes, if he is the man we located, I once knew a man by the name of Lewis Martin.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Harry.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him there about Mapleton on my place.

Q Were you intimately acquainted with him, know him well? A I ought to.

Q Just tell the circumstances, all you know about him? A Yes sir, I was intimately acquainted with him.

Q Did he work for you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now about what length of time did he work for you? A Well I think it was about a couple of years.

Q Through what period of years? A About '63 and '64.

Q What did he work for you at? A Blacksmithing.

Q He learned the blacksmith trade there? A Yes, sir, he learned that while he was quite young, he was the youngest of the family, and his oldest brother, Bill, was a blacksmith, and I was running a shop there and they were doing the work for me.

Q Do you know where Lewis was married? A Well, I wouldn't say that I do, he married there but it is kind of a dream, I am not positive; of course I was well acquainted with his wife but it has been so long and not paying my attention, I would not be positive that I know.

Q Do you know where he went from Mapleton? A To say I know, I don't, but the report was that he went to Ottawa, and he told me afterwards he lived at Ottawa; that is as near as I can explain it to you.

Q About how long afterwards did you see him? A Well, it must have been five or six years afterwards that I saw him.

Q Now do you say that that was five or six years -- A After he left Mapleton.

Q Now about when do you think he left there, about what years?

A Well I can't tell what year he did leave there.

Q Well, with reference to the close of the war? A Well, it must have been a couple of years after the close of the war that he went to Ottawa. As his father stayed there anyhow as long as two years after the close of the war before he went to Ottawa.

Q And then you saw him five or six years after that after he went to Ottawa? A Yes, sir.

Q And he told you he was living there at that time? A At Ottawa.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, sir, not as I know of.

Q You live at Mapleton? A Yes, sir.

Q How was you gone from Mapleton any time, say between '73 and '77? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you? A I was in the Rocky Mountains.

Q Do you remember Lewis' mother? A Lewis' mother, Celia.

Q That is what I want to know, to identify him? A Yes, sir, I was well acquainted with him for a number of years.

Q Where did you see him the five or six years after he left Mapleton that you speak of? A I saw him between my house and Mapleton and just met him on the road and merely addressed him and asked him some few questions. I don't know what, in regard to where he was; he was kind of a stranger when you know. He told me he was living at Ottawa.

Q Did he tell you what he was doing? A I don't know, I think that he was running a blacksmith shop.

Q You are not positive about that? A No, I wouldn't be positive.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, sir, I never saw him after that.

Q You say that during the last years of the war he worked for you in a shop? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing? A Working along the closing years of the war? A Why I was running a mill there and was making flour for the government. I sold flour to the government mostly, and I run a blacksmith shop in connection with my business there, and I had these fellows employed for the purpose of shoeing horses and doing all kind of blacksmithing, and lived right on the trail from Port Gibson to Lebanon.

Q And this Martin was Lewis Martin's brother and lived with him? A Yes, sir.

Q What was this Martin's wife named? A Nettie.

Q Mr. Smith, Mr. Martin, I believe you stated it was in '83 or '84 that this man was working for you? A Yes, along about that time.

Q Well, where was he in '85? A I wouldn't be positive where he was, to the best of my knowledge he was around Mapleton there or had gone to Ottawa, I couldn't be positive.

Q Well you don't know then where he was in '85? A No, I can't say where he was in '85.

Q Where was he in '88? A I don't know, sir.

Q Yet know what year it was that he went to Ottawa? A No, sir, I don't, to say know the year that he went to Ottawa, I don't.

Q About what year was it that you last saw Lewis Martin? A That I saw him last, last saw him?

Q Last saw him at all? A After I saw him last coming from Ottawa, oh it must have been five or six years afterwards.

Q Five or six years after the close of the war? A Yes, sir, must have been five or six years after the war.

Q You haven't seen him in that country since? A No, sir.

SMITH KING, duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A Smith King.

Q What is your age? A I am going on 41.

Q Where do you live? A Ottawa.

Q Where? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you been living at Ottawa, Kansas? A Went there in '87, 1907.

Q Did you know a person named by the name of Lewis Martin? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you know him? A In Oregon.

Q Then did you first become acquainted with him, first see him there? A In '87.

Q What time did you go to Ottawa in '87? A Went there in March.

Q How soon after you went there was it before you saw Lewis Martin? A April or May and, I am not certain which one; it was along in April or May.

Q A short time after you went there? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Bring, do you know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Sarah.

Q Do you know any of his children? A Well, yes.

Q You remember any of their names? A Yes, sir.

Q What was their names? A One was named John, and George.

Q What was Martin doing when you knew him in Ottawa? A Blacksmithing.

Q How long did you know him there? A I know him four or five years there, maybe longer. I don't know exactly the time that I did know him. I can't just swear to the time, but it was five or six years I was acquainted with him there.

Q Do you know where he went when he left there? A No, sir, I don't.

Q You say he was a blacksmith? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have a brother, or do you know? A No, he didn't have any brother there.

Q Did he have a father, or do you know that? A I don't know that, I wasn't acquainted with his father.

Q Were you acquainted with his mother? A No, sir, never seen her.

Q You know where he went from there? A No, I can't say where he went. I know where he said he was going.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, I haven't seen him since. I haven't seen him for quite a number of years.

Q Now during the four or five or six years that you saw him at Ottawa, was he there continuously during that time? A No, he was away some of the time.

Q Where was his family? A His family was out on a farm.

Q Did they live there during that time? A Yes, they lived out on the farm.

Q Well, did you see him at frequent intervals during that period of time? A Well yes, sometimes I would see him every three or four weeks, sometimes it would be longer, but then I often would see him. You know Martin was a man that didn't run around very much, anyhow.

Q You say he didn't run around? A No, sir.

Q What did you mean by saying he was away some? A There would be times that he would be gone, I don't know where he was gone.

Q For about how long at a time, how long would you miss him, any considerable time? A Sometimes I wouldn't see him for a month or so, he was out in the country, out on his farm.

Q Out of town? A Yes, out of town. I couldn't know where he was.

Q Mr. Smith, well, you don't know of your own knowledge? A No, sir.

Q Only you didn't see him? A No, I wouldn't know where he was only I didn't see him.

Q How far did he live in the country from Ottawa? A Part of the time it was two miles.

Q That was along from '87 up for four or five years after '87? A Yes, it was after '87.

Q From that date to this you have never seen him? A No, sir, I have never seen him.

Q Commissioner, you say you first saw this man in '87? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you live in '87? A I lived at Ohio City.

Q Where? A That was south of Ottawa.

Q State of Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You know where Martin was in '87? A No, I don't know where he was in '87.

Q That brings it to you, and that it was '87 that you saw him because I moved to Ottawa in '87.

Q I know that? A Yes, sir, and there is where I saw him.

Q You recollect dates do you? A Yes, I recollect dates, yes.
 Q What year is this? A It is 1900.
 Mr. Hastings: Is this the year 1900? A Yes, sir.
 Q Well, it is nineteen hundred, I don't know whether you call it even or not; you know I am no educated man.
 Commissioner: Where were you living in 1886? A Ottawa.
 Q You been living there ever since '87? A Yes, sir.
 Q Living there now? A When I am at home that is right where I live.
 Q Your family there? A My family is all dead; well I have no family of my own now.
 Mr. Hastings: Do you know what year the war commenced? A Yes, sir.
 Q What year? A 1861.
 Q What year did it close? A 1865.
 Q How how long after the war closed before you went to Ottawa?
 A Why I went to Ottawa in 1867.
 Q I want to know how long that was after the war closed? A After it closed, why two years.

D. J. HESSONG, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A D. J. Hessong.
 Q What is your age? A I am 51 years old.
 Q What is your postoffice? A Mapleton.
 Q Kansas? A Mapleton, Kansas, yes, sir.
 Q How long have you lived there, D. J. Hessong? A I have lived there since '57, have lived there about 44 years.
 Q Do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A I did.
 Q Where did you know him? A In Mapleton, Kansas.
 Q What occupation, if any, was he following? A He was running a blacksmith shop when I knew him.
 Q Do you know where he came from up to Mapleton? A I do not.
 Q You never heard him say? A Never heard him say.
 Q You don't know where he had lived before he came there? A I think he came from Ottawa, because I know he went back to there a time or two during the time that he was at Mapleton, and he said he was going on a visit.
 Q Do you know about what year he came there to Mapleton? A It must have been about '76, something like that, along there.
 Q About how long did he stay there? A Well, when he came back there I am pretty sure it was in '76 and in '77 I went west and when I came back I don't remember whether he was there then or not, but I know he was there a couple of years, if I remember right, two or three years, something like that, I don't remember whether he was there when I came back or not.
 Q When did you come back? A I came back that fall and winter, winter of '77.
 Q Did you know Martin's wife? A Yes, sir.
 Q What was her name? A I believe that they called her Sarah, or something like that; there was a woman stayed with him part of the time he was in Mapleton.
 Q Did you know his brothers? A Will.
 Q What is that? A I am trying to find out. A Yes, I think there was another Martin named Will Martin, said they were brothers.
 Q What was Will Martin's profession? A Blacksmithing.
 Q Did you know Lewis Martin's father and mother? A Don't believe I did, no.
 Q Did you ever know Lewis Martin before you knew him when he came there in '76? A No, sir.
 Q Well, was his family with him when you knew him there in '76?
 A Yes, sir, she lived right in town.
 Q He worked at a blacksmith shop? A Yes, sir, he and his brother.

run a shop there in town.

Q You haven't seen him since? A I have not.

Mr. Smith: Mr. Heesong, you don't know where he came from when he came to Mapleton that time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know where he had been living before he came there?

A No, sir.

JOHN CROSS, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A John Cross.

Q What is your age, Mr. Cross? A 63.

Q Where do you live? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Bourbon County, yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there? A I lived there since '62.

Q Did you ever know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin?

A Yes.

Q What was his occupation, what did he do? A He was a blacksmith.

Q When did you know him? A Well I know him in about, let's see, must have been '75 or '76, right along there sometime; of course I knew him before that but I wasn't acquainted with him, I knew of him.

Q You knew him before that? A Yes, but I wasn't acquainted with him at all.

Q When did you know him before that? A Well, when they first came, I don't know, probably it was along '62 or near that time there.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Well I don't know his name, don't recollect, he was a very old man, his father was.

Q You don't know this mother's name? A I did, but I don't remember it now; Celis; no, it wasn't Celis, I don't recollect it.

Q Well, did you know his brother? A William?

Q I am asking you. A Yes, I knew him better than I did Lewis.

Q Well, do you know how long you knew him after '62, or is your memory distinct about that? A No, you see he left there and he came back, I think it must have been '64 or '5 or '6, along sometime, and then he came back there and him and his brother run a blacksmith shop for probably a couple of years.

Q You know what became of him then? A No, I do not, in the spring of '77 I went to Colorado and I didn't get back till that fall, and he was gone.

Q Now when do you mean to say that he came back to Mapleton the last time? A Well, it must have been in '75 or '6.

Q Did he have a wife? A Yes.

Q Living with her? A Yes, sir.

Q You know whether he had any other family or not? A No, I do not.

Q Well, have you ever seen him since? A No, sir, I haven't seen him since.

Mr. Smith: So, Mr. Cross, as I understand you, you knew this man then about '62? A Yes, that is when they first came there, I think about that, but still I wasn't --

Q Do you know whether he married there at Mapleton? A No, I do not, I don't know anything about it.

Q Do you know whether he was a single man or a married man when you first became acquainted with him? A I think he was a single man when he came there.

Q Do you remember was he married in a couple of years after he came there or not? A He was married when he run a shop there, he was married and had a family.

Q That was when? A In '75 or '6.

Q But do you have any recollection as to whether he was married before the war closed? A No, I do not.

Q Well, now you missed him from there along about the time the war closed, did you? A Yes.

Q Now when did you first see him back there after the time that you missed him? A I don't recollect of seeing him till he came there and went to work in the blacksmith shop.

Q Now about what year was it that you missed him away from there?

A Well I don't recollect. I didn't pay no attention to it at all.

Q About the time the war closed? A Why I suppose, yes.

Mr. Hastings: Do you have any distinct recollection about the first time you missed him from there? A No, I do not.

Q You wasn't well acquainted with him then? A No, I wasn't well acquainted with him.

LEWIS VANN, recalled by applicant, testified as follows:

Mr. Smith: You were on the stand this morning in this case, were you Mr. Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Now then, did I understand you to say that you never heard of that fight that I asked you about this morning in 1866 in the Cherokee Nation, the Horse Creek fight? A No, sir, I don't know nothing about that.

Q Didn't you have a kinsman that was killed down there about that time, somebody that was kin to you? A Oh, I know that all right.

Q Who was that? A Wesley Vann.

Q Well, when was he killed? A He was killed the year after the war ceased, he went down there and got killed and that kept the balance of us from coming.

Q Were you along? A No, sir, I wasn't, but then I was going after he got there and wrote back, but then he got killed.

Q Wasn't Lewis Martin with him? A I don't know sir, that is something I don't know.

Q Who was he with, who did this man leave with, this kinsman? A He left with another brother in law of mine.

Q What was his name? A Charley Burgess.

Q Who else? A Charley Burgess and Wesley Vann, they was only ones kin to me.

Q Who else that wasn't kin to you? A Then there was some there by the name of Gilbert Vann and Gilbert Daniels.

Q Who else? A Well, there was a young man along by the name of - I can't think of his name now, he got killed too, one of my fellow servants' sons, lived on the place with me, he got killed.

Q Was George Vann along? A No, sir, he wasn't along.

Q He wasn't there at all? A No, sir.

Q Where were you when these people left Kansas to come down here?

Q When they left why I was up here in Kansas, up in Kansas, up to Mapleton, in Bourbon County.

Q Did you stay there all the time? A Yes, sir, I hadn't been five miles from that place since I landed there, I reckon more than five miles anyhow.

Q Did you stay there during the time that these people came down here that you speak of? A Yes, sir.

Q Now don't you know Lewis Martin came down here, moved back here? A Of course he came down here.

Q When? A Well now that is something I can't tell you when, but I know he come.

Q Did he come at that time you are talking about? A Oh no, he was up there but he didn't come when the others come, because I know he was up there.

Q Didn't he come down here with Wesley Vann, didn't they leave together to come down here? A I don't know whether he come with Wesley Vann or not, I don't know anything about that.

Q You don't? A No, sir, I don't think he ever was with them.

Q Why did you say this morning that you never heard of that fight at all? A That fight you are talking about, I didn't understand that fight, but now since I understand about the killing of my brother in law I know all about that.

Q You do? A Yes, sir, they killed him sure.

Q Did anybody that left up there come back, any of the colored people? A Now sir that is something I don't know either because I know all the balance that was with them, they went on after they got killed, they went on.

Q Did any of those that left Kansas at that time come back to Kansas? A I can't tell you not a thing about that, sir, no, sir, I can't.

Mr. Hastings: You were not in the fight? A No, sir, I was at home in Kansas and just heard about it.

Q All you know about it is just what you heard? A Yes, sir, about they killing him down there and him never coming back.

Q I believe you testified most positively you didn't know a thing about dates this morning, didn't you? A Well, I don't.

Q You didn't know a date this morning? A I don't know no dates about nothing about that but when anybody asks me about the name of anyone that I know of course I know them, but then to come to dates I don't know no more than a child.

Commissioner: Copies of this testimony will be filed with the testimony in Cherokee Freedman cases D-956, D-957, D-958, D-959, and D-960.

In the matter of the application of Tobias Beck for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of the applicant.

Appearances:

Mellette A. Smith, attorney for applicant.

W. F. Hastings, of council for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hastings: Let it go formally into the record what you desire to prove by these witnesses.

Mr. Mellette: I am going to offer some additional testimony.

Mr. Hastings: What for?

Mr. Mellette: To show the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, out here.

Mr. Hastings: Does not the representative of the Cherokee Nation an object to the taking of any testimony as to the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, because that question was gone brought out in the original examination of the applicant himself, and was thoroughly gone into, and is not now matter, and the testimony then introduced by the Cherokee Nation upon this point is not now matter so that rebuttal testimony can be allowed under any rules of procedure Commissioner? The objection will be noted.

MARY BROWN, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Mellette: What is your name? A. Mary Brown.

Q. How old are you, Mrs. Brown? A. I don't know my age exactly.

Q. Give an idea? A. About 60.

Q. Are you a Cherokee Indian by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. Where do you live? A. I live at what is known as the Bowling Ferry place on Grand River.

Q. How long have you lived on Grand River? A. About 17 years, down there.

Q. When did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war, if you left it? A. We came here about three weeks before Christmas, in '85.

Q. Where was your home at that time? A. About one mile and a half north of Prairie City, that is the name of the place now.

Q. Is that a point up here close to Fairland? A. Yes, used to be just a depot up above Fairland near the pond.

Q. Do you remember after you came home the circumstance of hearing of a body of colored people being attacked and some of them killed, on Horse Creek? A. I do.

Q. How did you first learn of that? A. There was some news came to my house to stay all night.

Q. Who were they? A. Kinch Vest and a band of men.

Q. Did you learn from them anything about the colored people being killed? A. Yes, sir, they told us they had killed some negroes.

Q. How many were in that party? A. I can't tell you positive.

Q. About how many, or can you give an idea? A. About six, to the best of my knowledge, I never took no particular notice how many.

Q. Did you hear anything further about it after they came to your house? A. Yes, sir, two or three days afterwards we heard some colored people got killed.

Q. Where was that? A. Somewhere on the Military road near Horse

Greek.

Q How far was that from your house? A About six miles.

Q How when was that, Mrs. Brown, that Kinch west and his crowd came to your house and you heard of this killing of the colored people? A Fall of '66, in the fall of the year.

Q How do you know it was in the fall of the year? A Because it was getting cold weather.

Q Why do you fix it as 1866? A Well, I came home as I saw in '68, about three weeks before Christmas, and I was in a delicate condition and the baby was born the 30th day of May, in 1866, and this was the fall following.

Mr. Hastings: Did you ever have any other children born? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Different times.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A Next one, well I am not able to answer that.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A In 1870.

Q That was the second one after this one? A Yes, sir.

Q When was the third one born? A I can't tell you that.

Q Did you have any more since then? A Yes, sir.

Q How many children you got? A 13 in all.

Q Now do you know what happens in September always after your children have been born? A No, sir.

Q Now why is it that you locate that the child was born six months before some event happened? A Because that was a peculiar time, we had all come home to our old home, and there were no neighbors and nobody there but now and then a neighbor.

Q When were you married? A I can't tell you that.

Q You heard of this question being up before the Courts here five years ago didn't you? A No, sir.

Q Never heard of it? A No, sir.

Q It wasn't a matter that was discussed throughout the length and breadth of the Cherokee Nation? A I heard talk of it, but as to the date I didn't know anything about it.

Q You didn't know anything about the date? A I didn't know it was about the date.

Q You didn't hear about this last spring when we were examining the matter? A No, sir, I didn't go about the Courts.

Q Where do you live now? A I live at the Bowling Green place.

Q What is your husband's name? A Jim Brown.

Q What was your maiden name? A Mary Miller.

Q When were you married? A I told you I didn't know the date, I don't know the date.

Q And you have got thirteen children? A I have had thirteen children.

Q Now when was your second child born? A The second one was born in '65.

Q When was the third one born? A The third one was born May 26.

Q Of what year? A In 1866.

Q When was the next one born? A I don't know that.

Q Now when was the fifth one born? A He was born in 1870.

Q When was the sixth one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the seventh one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the eighth one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the ninth one? A Well, I don't know that.

Q When was the tenth one? A I told you I didn't know.

Q Eleventh one? A I don't know that.

Q Twelfth one? A I don't know, I can't count them, all of them.

Q Don't know? A No, sir, I am no scholar.

Q Where was Bob Knight living at that time? A I can't tell you just exactly.

Q How far did you live from him? A I believe he lived on the old Military crossing on Horse Creek, I wouldn't say positive.

Q Well, how far did you live from there, from where that Military road crosses Horse Creek? A About 10 or 12 miles.

Q And that was the distance, was it? A About ten or twelve miles.

Q Had you ever seen Bob Knight up to that time? A No, sir.
Q You wasn't over there at that time, the Knight place? A I had passed the road.
Q You saw these folks there? A No, sir.
Q You didn't see them? A No, sir, I can't call it.
Q You never saw any of these darkies at that time? A No, sir, I never seen them.
Q Don't know who they were? A Don't know them.
Q Don't know who was shot at that time? A No, sir.
Q Don't know where it was hit? A Never was right at the place.
Q Was it over at this Knight place? A No, sir, not right at the Knight place.
Q How far was it from the Knight place? A I understand it was above the Knight place, I am not positive where the fight was.
Q Kinch West is dead, isn't he? A I suppose so.
Q You have heard it, haven't you? A Yes, sir, I have heard it.
Q Can you remember a single other name of that crowd besides Kinch West? A Yes, sir.
Q Let's have them? A John Wells.
Q Is he alive? A No, sir.
Q Well, another one? A Len Smith.
Q Is he alive? A No, sir.
Q Who else? A Well, I can't positively say any other one.
Q Yet there was others? A Yes, there was others, but I never got acquainted with them, these I got acquainted with them afterwards, they located in that neighborhood.

Mr. Mellette: I want the testimony taken attached to Lewis Martin, D-289, and Arthur Bean, I don't know the number of that.

Commissioner: This testimony will be filed in these cases and the others to which it is applicable.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Muskogee, I.T., March 3, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF APPLICANTS, in the matter of the application of Tobias Bean for the enrollment of himself, wife and child as Cherokee citizens.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Mellette, of Mellette & Smith, Vinita, I.T., attorneys for the applicants;

W. W. Hastings, of attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

C.D. MARKHAM, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A C. D. Markham.

Q Where do you live? A At Tahlequah, now.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life except during the war; I went south on Red River.

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66? A I was up here at Grand River, Locust Grove.

Q What were you doing? A Selling goods.

Q Who were you selling goods for? A Why I and my brother and an old man named Elliott from Kansas were interested in the store.

Q During that summer or fall did you learn anything about a fight up on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir, sometime to the best of my recollection about the last of September in 1866. That was when a young darkey came into the store and wanted to get something out of the store and said they had a fight up at Horse Creek, and there was a shot darky in the wagon, the wagon stopped one hundred and fifty yards from the store out in the road; I don't remember how many wagons there was.

Q Was there more than one? A Yes, sir, I think there was as many as three.

Q Where did he say the fight had occurred? A Up about Horse Creek somewhere.

Q After he told you about the fight up there did you hear anything more about it? A Very little, because soon after that I went to Texas, and was gone about six weeks.

Q Now that was in '66 you said? A Yes, sir, I know it was '66.

Q Now you say there was a man by the name of Elliott in the store where you were working? A Yes, sir.

Q What became of him? A Well while I was gone to Texas he was killed and robbed there two miles and a half from the store, on the Orphan Asylum road, and when I come back his son had taken the goods and gone back to Kansas; the store was broke up.

Q You went to Texas in '66? A Yes, sir, about the first of October, is my recollection, and I came back sometime in November.

Q And in the meantime this man Elliott had been killed? A Yes, sir.

Q After you came back from Texas did you hear anything further about the fight on Horse Creek? A Nothing, only just rumor.

Q That there had been a fight? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't know any of the parties engaged in it? A No, sir, I don't remember those.

Q You don't know either about Tobe Bean being in it? A No, sir.

Q You never saw Tobe Bean at the time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know what place on Horse Creek it was? A No, sir.

Q That is all you know about it? A Yes, sir, that's all.

Q You don't know whether that is the one that Tobe Bean was in or not do you? A No, sir.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q You know whether George Vann was in that fight or not? A No, sir, I don't remember the darky that come in and told me, it was a young darky that I knew at the time, but that was 7 or 8 old Joe Vann had of my age and I don't remember, it was some of the Vann darkies, but I don't remember what his name was.

Q The darky that come and told you about the fight and said they had a shot man in the wagon was some one of the "Vann family? A Yes, sir, but I don't remember the name.

Q When did you see George Vann after that? A I coul'n't swear that I ever saw George Vann until '67 or '68; maybe he might have been there, I don't know.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How far did you live from Spring Creek, this store? A The store was about 4 or 5 miles.

JOSHUA ROSS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A Joshua Ross.

Q How old are you? A 69.

Q You are a Cherokee by blood? A I am.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66, and the winter of '66?

A I was at Fort Gibson, and Tahlequah.

Q Were you at any time up about Locust Grove, a store up there?

A Yes, sir.

Q What place were you? A Well, I was there at a store there, had been kept there by a man by the name of Elliott, that was in the last of December or along towards the first of January, 1867.

Q You mean was it in December '66 or along there in '67? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing there? A I was clerk of a Commission making out a list of property claims against the Government of the United States.

Q Was that after or before this man Elliott was killed? A It was after he was killed.

Q Now do you know George Vann? A I do.

Q Did you see him along about that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A I saw him there at this time.

Q While you were taking these claims? A Yes, sir.

Q This colored man George Vann is the one I mean? A Yes, sir, that was the man.

MR. HASTINGS waives cross-examination.

S. S. STEPHENS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A S. S. Stephens.

Q What is your age? A I am about 64 years old, 63 or 4.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the year '66? A I was here in the Cherokee Nation. That is in the Cherokee Nation, near Fort Gibson.

Q Do you know about a fight that has occurred up on Horse Creek between some colored people that were coming back from Kansas and some other parties? A I heard of a fight up there, through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q George Vann alive? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q Is that him standing there? (Pointing to colored man.) A That's George Vann; I can tell you how I got information through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS: I am going to object to that because he was not there and he gets his information through George Vann and this George Vann's alive, present and available.

BY COMMISSION: Answer the question.

A I met George Vann in Saline District after this fight, and there was an order, kind of an ordinance, passed by our Council, that allowed the Cherokees to kill cattle wherever they would find them, in the country, and Sam Smith asked me to write him an order; I wrote an order for Sam Smith for George Vann to kill cattle.

Q What year was that? A That was '66; I wrote the order myself. I remember making the order for more, I was elected school superintendent.

Q Now wait a minute, did you present the order to George Vann or did you talk to George Vann about that time? A Yes, sir, when I wrote the order I gave it to Smith and Smith gave it to Vann.

Q What information did you get from George Vann about the fight on Horse Creek? A He said they had a fight up there, and there was certain of the number was killed.

Q What year was that? A That was in the fall of '66 as near as I can remember.

Q And you don't know the time? A Yes, sir.

Q You wrote the order for George Vann? A For Sam Smith, for George Vann to kill cattle and he was there, there was quite a number of colored people in that neighborhood around Dave Rowe at that time, and it was then they were killing cattle all over the country, that is now, wild cattle, and in point of fact they carried it a little further.

Q Did you ever hear from any other source except George Vann the fact of there having been a fight up there? A Art Bean told me, they had a fight up there, and Art Bean's brother I think his name is Mose.

Q Did you know Tobe? A Tobe, I mean, I know them well.

Q Did Art and Tobe talk to you about the fight? A Yes, sir, they told me frequently they were in the fight, and Gilbert Vann told me that he was in the party.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q When did they tell you that? A In '66, when they first come down in the Nation; I was school superintendent and locating schools in that neighborhood and made Gilbert Vann one of the directors and I was instructed to locate no schools only among those who were actually citizens.

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q Then Art and Tobe Bean were here in '66? A I don't know, but they told me they were in that fight.

Q Did you talk to them in '66? A Yes, sir, I have known Art Bean ever since I was a boy; he belonged to old Washington Adair, Art Bean did.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You were clerk for the representatives of the Cherokee Nation in 1896 before the Kern Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around with us a good deal of that time? A Yes, sir.

Q This case of the Horse Creek fight was at that time a burning question? A Yes, sir.

Q Also a great many witnesses were introduced on both sides? A Yes, sir.

Q There was a great deal of discussion about it? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever go on the stand and testify at that time? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever tell me, one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation at that time the facts you knew and now testify about? A No, sir.

Q Never told any one about it? A No, sir, you requested me at Claremore to see Tip Mayes' daughter, and I had a conversation with her and her conversation was what I told you I think.

Q You told me about it? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told me you knew it too? A You never asked me.

Q Well the daughter of Tip Mayes? A Rachel, the one that married Tuck Bryan, what they testified about it here, looking it up, you sent me over to see, - it was Sam's wife I think, she was there at Rachel's.

Q And I sent you over there? A Yes, sir.

Q And you came back and told me it wouldn't do? A I come back and told you they thought these people were here at home when they got back.

Q You never told me anything you knew about it? A You never asked me a single thing.

Q You never was on the stand; it was your business to help us get up testimony? A You had me to do certain duties, Hastings, and I did that.

Q This question was largely discussed at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, you never told me you knew those facts you testify about now?

A Never did I say a word to you about it.

Q How long were you with us? A Was with you during the whole time, that is from Vinita down.

Q Don't you know Sam Mayes' wife was in the Choctaw Nation when we was making that roll? A No I don't know she was in the Choctaw Nation at that time.

Q Didn't you know she was in the Choctaw Nation in '66? A I expect she was in '66.

Q Then she would not have been up here and known it? A Well like a great many of the rest of you, a great many of you were not here in '67 so far as that is concerned.

Q You saw Tohe Bean in '66? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Up here at Island Ford.

Q Living there? A I suppose living right there yet.

Q He was living there? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you positive about it? A No, I wouldn't say I am positive about it; he did live there; yes he did.

Q Have you ever been tried in any courts for anything? A No, sir.

Q Never was convicted? A No, sir. What did you ask that question for? A I am asking you right square across the counter now, you know.

BY COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed and made part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-212, D-215, D-290, D-207, D-289, D-656, D-657, D-658, D-911, D-940, D-641.

Q What was Bill Martin doing? A Blacksmith.

Q What is your occupation? A Farming. I did some work at the wagon business for that winter. That was my occupation for that winter, and no longer.

Q You did work at the wagon trade for that winter. A Yes sir.

Q The winter following September, 1867? A Yes sir. The winter and spring of 1867 and 1868.

Q It was the winter after you got to Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you continue to know this family, Martin and his wife? A I knew them until 1868. I think, I forget just now. He died there about that time, right south of me right on Roach's place.

Q Have any family? A Yes sir, had several children.

Q Know any of them? A Yes sir, but I have forgotten their names.

Q Did Bill Martin have a brother that you know of? A Yes sir, he had Lou Martin, who was a blacksmith and worked there with us at that time.

Q How long did Lou continue to live there? A Until 1876. They worked together until he went away. I seen him there, but never knew anything about him afterwards.

Q He lived around there until 1876? A Yes sir.

Q How long after you come there before you got acquainted with him in the fall of 1867?

A Both worked together in the shop. Worked all together. He had two more brothers there.

Q What were their names?

A One was Tobe and the other was Peyt, I think he was older than Bill or Lou either one. Peyt was the next one.

Q How long did you know Tobe? A Until about 1878.

Q He was a brother to Louis and Bill Martin? A Yes sir.

Q And a brother to Peyton Martin? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know Peyton Martin? A Yes sir, knew him well.

Q How long did you continue to know Peyton Martin up there?

A I knew him from 1867. They all kind of hung together, those brothers did. I knew him from 1867 to, I think it was 1869, that some fellow tried to arrest him on some kind of a charge, stealing a horse or a gun, I forget which.

Q Did he run away?

A Yes, but they caught him and brought him back, but did not appear against him, then he went away to the Cherokee Nation, and I heard that he was dead. I never knew anything about him after he left there.

Q That was in 1869? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know him continuously from 1867 to 1869.

A Yes sir, in 1867 and 1868. He worked for me in the harvest in 1868.

Q Did you know Peyt's wife? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know who he married?

A A girl by the name Hannah Sheals.

Q Do you know a brother of Oneatie Martin's, Jack Bean?

A Yes sir, I knew him too.

Q When did you first know him?

A It could not have been later than the middle of September, 1867.

Q How long did you know Jack Bean? A He left there in 1868.

Q Was he living there when you came there in 1867?

A Yes sir, he had made a crop up there that summer.

Q He had a family? A Yes sir, he said he had, I never seen his family to know them.

Q Did you know a colored man by the name of Tobe Bean?

A Yes sir. He was a brother to this Martin's wife, he said.

Q How long did you continue to know Tobe Bean up there?

A I knew him until 1868. He helped me harvest in 1868, I think.

I am pretty sure he did. My brother and he was together there.

Q You and Bill Martin, the husband of Oneatie, worked together in the shop in the fall of 1867? A Yes sir.

Q Louis worked with you? A Yes sir. Both blacksmiths and good workmen, I thought.

Q Is there any peculiar circumstances that makes you remember Jack Bean, any trade that you made with him?

A He never paid me for a pistol that I brought out of the war.

I sold him a pistol that I brought home. He said he wanted to kill a nigger with it, and he never paid me for it either.

Mr. Mellette: What is your name? A E. J. Clayton.

Q Did you know Tobe Bean, who is an applicant for enrollment here, in the Cherokee Nation?

A I don't know whether he is an applicant for enrollment or not.

Q How was Tobe Bean, was he a lame man? A I think so, for he had a sore foot.

Q You will swear that it was the Tobe Bean you know?

A Yes sir, the brother of Oneatie Martin.

Q When did you know him first?

A He was there around the shop all the winter of 1867, pretty much.

Q The winter of 1868 and 1867, you mean?

A No sir, I was not here, it was 1867.

Q The winter of 1868 and 1867? A It was the fall of 1867 and the spring of 1868.

Q Don't you know that Tobe Bean, that is an applicant here for enrollment is not a lame man? A I don't know whether he is or not.

Q When did Oneatie Martin leave Kansas to come to the Cherokee Nation? A In 1877 or 1878, I don't know which.

Q She didn't come to the Cherokee Nation in 1868?

A I never heard tell of her in 1868. I was not there in 1868. I knew her in 1867.

Q You said 1877? A I said it was in 1877 when she came to the Cherokee Nation, 1877 or 1878.

Q Was she there in 1877? A She was up there in 1877 or '78. I forget which it was.

Q Where was Oneatie Martin in 1867?

A Lived on Hogan's place, eight miles or more from Mableton there.

Q Did she come to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1868?

A I was not here in 1868.

Q When did you move to Kansas? A Moved in 1867.
 Q Was Neadie Martin in Kansas when you came there? A I think she was.
 Q Do you remember her? A Yes sir.
 Q How long ago has it been? A Since 1867?
 A Thirty-three or -fort years.
 Q When were you first asked to remember back that far as to these people?
 A Never asked to remember back to these people.
 Q When were you first talked to about being a witness in this case?
 A About two or three hours ago. You mean about this Neadie Martin case, two or three hours ago.
 Q When were you first asked anything about any of these colored people up there, when you first knew them? When were you first talked to about being a witness in any of these cases?
 A A week or two ago, I guess.
 Q You have not seen any of these people since they left Kansas, have you? A No sir.
 Q You don't know anything about them? A No sir.
 Q That is a long time to remember? A I guess it is.
 Q You keep in your mind clearly all the names of these different colored people, do you?
 A Yes, and a whole lot more of them that live there.
 Q Why do you remember their names so distinctly?
 A They worked for me. This Neadie Martin washed for my wife.
 Q You remember Tobe? He is a brother to Bill Martin?
 A I think he was the oldest one of them.
 Q What county was that in? A Bourbon County, Kansas.
 Q How far from the Cherokee line? A About 75 miles.
 Q You are positive, as positive as you are of anything in this case that Tobe Bean was in Kansas in 1867, are you?
 A I know that he was. That is, I know that there was a Tobe Bean there.
 Q Was he a lame man? A He was lame there that winter at some time. I don't know whether it was a permanent lameness, or anything about it.
 Q What time did you see him? A He was around the shop in the winter.
 Q When, of 1867? A Yes sir.
 Q That would throw him into the year 1868 too?
 A Yes sir, I think he left there in 1868 or 1869. That is, in the winter, probably, of 1868.
 Q Tobe Bean left there in 1868? A Yes sir, I think he did.
 Q The Tobe Bean that you are talking of? A Yes sir.
 Q He did not then, leave Kansas in the fall of 1866 or the fall of 1867? A I don't know what he done in 1866. I was not there in 1866.
 Q He didn't leave Kansas in the fall of 1867? A Not to my knowledge.
 Q Never went away? A I never missed him if he did. He was around the shop there.
 Q The Tobe Bean you are talking about did not leave Kansas until about 1869? A I think it must have been.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know whether these people came down to the Cherokee Nation afterwards, these people that you are talking about?
 A They said they was coming here.

This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases:

Q Was she duly recognized as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir, she was too old to ever get around to be recognized.
Q Give me the name of your child? A Ernest Martin.
Q How old is the child? A I think, as well as I can remember, it is about 12 years old.
Q Is your child living now? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the name of the mother of that child? A Sarah.
Q Your wife Sarah? A Yes, sir.
Q Is she dead? A No, sir.
Q She is living, is she? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you and she parted? A No, sir.
Q Why don't you not apply for her? A Well, because she is a non citizen, she isn't a citizen.
Q When did you marry Sarah? A I married her I think about '64.
Q Where did you marry her? A Married her in Kansas.

Q Have you and her lived together as husband and wife ever since 1864? A Yes, sir.

Q How old is your wife? A I think, as well as I can remember, she is about 54 years old.

Q What district were you living in in 1880, or were you living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q What district were you in? A I was in Cooweescoowee part of the time.

Q Are you on any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you ever drawn money? A Yes, sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The 1896 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

A I am not on that I know; I know the reason why I am not.

Q Did you draw Cherokee strip money? A Yes, sir.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined, and the applicants identified thereon as follows:

Ernest Martin on page 158, No. 3918, Cooweescoowee district.

Sarah Martin not on Kern-Clifton roll.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant Lewis Martin identified thereon, page 131, No. 2742, Cooweescoowee district.

Q Your wife Sarah, she is not on any roll at all? A No, sir, she is not a citizen.

Q Were you ever married except to her? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times were you married before you married her? A Only once.

Q Was your wife dead when you married Sarah? A Yes, sir.

Q Was Sarah ever married except to you? A Well, no, sir, she wasn't married before she married me.

Q Hadn't she ever lived with a man as husband and wife? A No, sir.

Q Well now, how comes it you are not on the roll of 1880; didn't you apply? A The reason I didn't apply a man used to live with me and another fellow I was acquainted with, he had went to enroll and they told him they wasn't enrolling any negroes that has been in Kansas, and I knew I had been there, and didn't go.

Q How comes it you are not on the 1896 roll? A I am not on the 1896 roll; I went towards the enrolling, I didn't go for that purpose, and I asked the question, what are you doing, and a man told me they were taking a roll of the Cherokees, and I didn't pay any more attention, I just walked off, I knew I wasn't any Cherokee.

Q You were up in Kansas during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q What time did you come from Kansas? A Come back in the fall of '66.

Q How did you happen to come back in '66? A Well, the postmaster was reading the paper, and he told me, and he asked me did I live in the Cherokee Nation before the war, and I told him yes, sir, and he said you people that belong in that Cherokee Nation down there have the same rights as they have, says if you will go back, and I told him at the time I didn't care nothing about it, I was a little afraid and he says don't be afraid, they have made a treaty and if you all go back you have the same rights as they have, and I pulled up and started.

Q You came back when you heard of that treaty? A Yes, sir.

Q You came back in order to keep your being in Kansas from counting against you? A I don't understand that.

Q Did you come back so as to be within the time fixed by the treaty? A Yes, sir, that is what I aimed to do.

Q Did you understand that if you came back within a certain time that your being in Kansas wouldn't count against you? A Yes, sir, he told me if I came back in '66, he says you will be a citizen of that country.

Q That is what you understood at the time? A That is the way I understood it.

Q Was that your object then in coming back in '66? A Yes, sir, that was my object.

Q So as to get your rights? A So as to get my rights.

Q So your being in Kansas wouldn't be counted against you? A That is what I thought.

Q How comes it when you went to enroll in 1880 you didn't go on up to be enrolled, when somebody mentioned you has been in Kansas?

A Well, I told you one reason I didn't go; I didn't have any one to go with me, I had got bushwhacked once and I was afraid to go around much, I was bushwhacked coming back from Kansas and three got killed out of my crowd.

Q Were you still afraid of that in 1880? A Yes, sir, I was still afraid of that and I am still afraid of running about by myself.

By J. S. Davenport, Cherokee Attorney: Where were you living in 1880

A I didn't have any established home, I was working around living along with my people, with my brothers wife, Junie, I didn't have any regular home, I didn't stationery myself at all, because I was hard up and didn't have nothing.

Q Did you have any family? A I have got a family, but my family wasn't v'ith me.

Q Where was your family in 1880? A They were here sometimes.

Q I ain't they living in 1880 in Kansas? A They was here part of the time in 1880, and part of the time in Kansas.

Q What part of the time in 1880? A I can't tell you just what month they were here, they were there some and some here.

Q The some they were making the roll down here they were that some up in Kansas? A No, sir, they wasn't.

Q When you came back from Kansas just after the close of the war, what year was that you came back to the Territory? A I came about '66.

Q Didn't you come back first according to your own testimony in '65? A I came back here and went to Fort Gibson driving a train in '65 or '4.

Q And you went back to Kansas after that? A Yes, sir.

Q And the next time you came back was in '67? A No, I came here in '66, I came here in '66 sure.

Q You testified before the Kern-Clifton Commission, didn't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q Didn't you testify there that you came down to the Territory in '65 and made a crop, went back to Kansas, and then came back?

A No, sir.

Q (Reading) "I was bushwhacked on my way to Fort Gibson on Horse Creek, they killed three of our crowd, I came back the last time in 1867." Now did you testify to that or not before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I did not, it was a mistake someway or other, for it was in '66 when I came back.

Q For several years you lived in Kansas and the Territory and back and forth just anywhere? A I lived in Kansas not a year since '66.

Q But you have been living there? A I have worked there, I am living anywhere where a man stops.

Q Did your wife and children live up there for quite a while after 1866? A No, sir.

Q Did they ever live there at all? A Lived there; when she wanted to go back there, when she wanted to be confined, her mother lived there, and she would live with her.

Q Where did you first locate and make a home in the Cherokee Nation after you came back? A I didn't build any place, I just located on Pryor Creek right close to my sister, and I just kept an improvements up there, the claim.

Q What part of Pryor Creek? A I can't tell you; close where my sister lives, eight or ten miles north of Chelsea.

Q When was that? A I can't tell you, that has been 18 or 19 years ago.

Q That was the time you came back from Kansas? A No it wasn't.

Q Where did you live in the Cherokee Nation before you lived up there on Poror Creek? A I lived some here in Vinita around north of Vinita and south of Vinita.

Q Who was living in Vinita at the time? A Lots of people, I don't know.

Q About what year was that? A I can't tell you just what year that was either.

Q Was that before or after the railroads were built to Vinita?

A It was after the railroad was built I lived here.

Q Did you come to Vinita and locate immediately after you came from Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Where did you locate before you came to Vinita? A I tell you I stayed a while with Mose Riley before that, they are relations of mine, I stayed with them.

Q Where did Mose Riley live? A He lived out west of Chelsea, northwest of a while.

Q That is where your sister lived? A No, I have got no sister, I have one sister living, none out there, no, sir.

Q Where did you live before you went to Mose Riley's, after you came back to the Cherokee Nation? A I tell you I never had any stationary home at all, I just lived here and there, where I could get a job, I never built.

Q Where did the other people live you stayed with? A I tell you I never stayed with none, I just went around with my kin people, I stayed a while with Riley and I stayed at my sister's and I stayed at Dave Martin's on Big Creek, and another cousin of mine called Nellie Wilson.

Q Who did you stay with when you were living in Vinita? A I stayed with my own people.

Q Who were your own people? A My family, they were living in Vinita then.

Q Did they have any name? A Yes, sir.

Q Why can't you tell the name? A There was my wife, and Bill my stepson.

Q Bill who? A Bill Martin they called him, and George Martin, Fred Martin, Jannette Martin.

Q They were all living here in Vinita at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was that town in Kansas that that postmaster called your attention to the treaty being made? A It was in a little town they called Mayleton.

Q Was there any railroad there at that time? A No, sir.

Q How far was it to a railroad from where you lived? A I can't tell you, I don't recollect whether there was any railroad at all.

Q About how far from the Cherokee line? A I can't tell you that.

Q Was it in sight of the line? A In sight; why not that I know of.

Q How long did it take you to reach the line of the Cherokee Nation when you started? A I don't know where the line was and don't yet.

Q Where do you live now? A I live near Chelsea.

Q You have lived here since '66 you say? A Yes, sir, from time I say I was here living.

Q And you don't know where the line of the Cherokee Nation is between the Nation and Kansas? A No, I don't.

Q Have you ever been back to Kansas since '66? A Yes, sir.

Q How do you know when you got back to Kansas? A When I came to the town I know it was Kansas.

Commissioner: How many children have you altogether? A I have five I believe, as well as I can recollect.

Q What are their names; what is the name of the oldest one?

A My oldest one is named John.
 Q How old is John? A I don't know just exactly, I can't tell, he is something in thirty.
 Q What is the name of the next child? A George.
 Q How old is George? A George I think is thirty something too.
 Q The next child? A Fred.
 Q How old is Fred? A He is 24 or 25, I just can't remember their age, I haven't got them down.
 Q What is the next child after Fred? A Albert.
 Q How old is Albert? A He is about 21 years old.
 Q What is the next child? A He is about 12.
 Q What is his name, Ernest? A Yes, sir.
 Q That is the child you are applying for? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was John born? A John was born in Kansas.
 Q Where was George born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Fred born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Albert born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Ernest born? A Out here near Chelsea.
 Q Are you keeping house in the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where is your house? A My house is out about three miles north of Chelsea.
 Q How long have you lived there? A 13 or 14 years, as well as I can recollect.
 Q Been living there in that one house? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you ever keep house before that? A No, not always.
 Q Have you any other children besides these five you have named here? A Yes, there is another child there, he is a stepchild.
 Q Have you any children of your own I mean, you and this wife? A Yes, sir, I had one.
 Q That one is dead? A Yes, sir.
 Q What was the name of that child? A She was named Eliza.
 Q How old would she be if she was living now? A I can't tell you, she was born before the war.
 Q She was older than John? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was she born? A She was born here in the Territory before the war.
 Q Before the war you think? A Well, I think just about the beginning of the war, or maybe before.
 Q Is she the child of this woman Sarah? A No, sir.
 Q Child of another woman? A Yes, sir, she is dead.
 Q That is the first wife you had? A Yes, sir.
 Q You say that you and your family have never kept house except in the house where you are living now? A No, never kept house, never have, I brought all my things here in '66, I never had nothing, and left them up on Spring Creek and never got them.
 Q Has your wife been with you all the time in your roving backwards and forwards? A No, she wasn't with me, sometimes I would send for her and sometimes I would go myself, send her back to her mothers.
 Q To Kansas? A Yes, sir, her mother lived there.
 Q Sometimes you would take her? A No, I never took her myself many a time.
 Q Well, now you told me that you had been living in the Cherokee Nation off and on, and you have been in Kansas, and to the Cherokee Nation off and on? A I have been there yes, sometimes.
 Q Now all your information is of an extremely indefinite character; can't you tell me in plain, practical, common-sense way just where you and your wife and all these children have been spending your time since 1885? A Yes I can tell you.
 Q Well do it? A Well, I will tell you.
 Q Give me the names of the places and the times you have lived at these places; you have had too much of a family just to be a rolling stone all the time? A Well, they were not rolling all the time. Three of these biggest children has stayed with their mother, their grandmother, the biggest part of the time.

Q I am talking about you too? A Well, maybe I was here working around and sometimes I would work up there in Kansas, I would work sometimes two months or three months and I would come down here.

Q Have you had any settled abiding place at all? A No, sir, not a year at a time.

Q Have you not been stationed at one place for several years? A No, sir, not since 1880, or up till 1880, or, sir.

Q Not been staying at what as one year or a place? A Yes, I have stayed as much as a year.

Q How many times have you stayed at one place as much as one year? A Nearly a time but not.

Q What was that? A I can't tell you the year at all, it has been some time ago.

Q Was it before 1880? A I think it was as well as I can remember.

Q Just working from pillar to post? A Just worked where I could get a job.

Q And your wife not going around on these little trips with you? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever vote up there in Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Have you anybody here who knows that you and your wife have been married? A Yes, sir.

Q Who is there here? A Yes, sir.

JOHN BRAN, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Krockinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give us your name? A John Bran.

Q How old are you? A About 38 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Been living here all my life.

Q Do you know this applicant here, Lewis Martin? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Been knowing him forty or fifty years I guess, we were boys together.

Q Do you know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What is her name? A Sarah.

Q Was this man ever married except to this woman? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times? A Once is all I know of.

Q Was that wife dead when he married this woman? A Yes, sir.

Q About how long have he and this woman Sarah been married? A Must be thirty some odd years I guess.

Q Have they been living together ever since as husband and wife? A Yes, sir, to my knowing.

Q Where did you first know his wife Sarah? A Up in Kansas at Mapleton.

Q Where is she at that time? A She is up at Farther Creek.

Q How long has she been living out there? A I don't know how long she has been living there.

Q How far is that from Vinita? A About twenty miles, out the other side of Chelsea.

Q Has she been living there long? A Yes, sir.

Q Is she keeping house out there? A Yes, sir.

Q Who lives there with her? A Mr. Martin here and his family lives there.

Q Any children living there with them? A Yes, sir.

Q How don't know how long they have been living out there? A No, sir, I don't know exactly.

Q You think that is twenty miles or more south better from Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q Have they been living there as much as five years? A Yes, sir, longer than that I guess.

Q They have been living there as much as seven years? A Yes, sir, I reckon seven years or longer, been longer I guess, I don't know exactly when he moved there? I live out east here and he lives west out there.

Q Have you ever been to that house? A Yes, sir, been to that house.

Q You know just where it is? A Yes, sir.

Q How often have you as a general thing seen this man Lewis Martin, say since for the last twenty years? seen him every six or eight months? A Yes, sir, sometimes about a year before I see him, we live a good piece apart to see him pretty often.

Q What do you know about his doings since from '06 down to this time, where has he been living? A Living at Vinita a while, and Pryor Creek, and I don't know where he did live.

Q A man who has got a family of children and a wife, generally every man has some kind of a living place, where has he been making his home mostly since '08 or '09, since the war closed? A Out on Pryor Creek I reckon, but he lives a good piece from me, I haven't been keeping the run of him; I see him once in a while though.

Q You have been seeing him every six or eight months or a year?

A Yes, sir, sometimes maybe a year.

Q And you don't know where he has been living during that time?

A No, sir.

Q Can you name any place that he has been making his home except out here on Panther Creek? A Lived here at Vinita a while.

Q How long did he live in Vinita? A I don't know exactly how long I know he was a crop or two.

Q Do you know where he has been, any other place except Panther Creek and Vinita? A I heard he was living on Pryor Creek, I never seen him when he lived down at there.

Q That is all you can say about where he has been living and all that? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: Where was he living when you first got acquainted with his wife Sarah? A In Kansas.

Q About how long has that been? A About thirty some odd years ago.

Q Do you know whether or not he moved from Kansas to this place out here north of Chelsea where he is living with his family now?

A No, sir, I don't think he did, for he lived at Vinita before he moved there.

Q Do you know whether or not his family ever lived at Vinita?

A Yes, sir.

Q Anywhere near this place out there near Hollis F. Adair's place out north from there? A I don't know, I know his place must be two or three miles northwest of Chelsea.

LEWIS MARTIN, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: The Commission has not yet decided whether a person can acquire rights as a Freedman by intermarriage, and your wife, if you have rights, may have rights as an intermarried Cherokee Freedman. So you had better include her in your application. You agree to that, do you? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and one child. The applicant is identified on the Wallace roll and on the Kern-Clifton roll. He is not identified on the roll of 1890 or on the census roll of 1896. The testimony in regard to his residence after the war will need to be carefully considered. It is not contended that he was a Cherokee slave before the breaking out of the war, and he will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

His wife is not identified on any roll, but it is shown in a satisfactory manner that they were married some thirty four or more years ago. The applicant states that he was once previously married, but this former wife was dead when he married his present wife, and that this present wife was never married except to him. They were married in the State of Kansas. For the further consideration of her rights, she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

The child, Ernest Martin, said to be 12 years of age, and now living, is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the census roll of 1896. This child will now be listed with his father and mother as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

Q Who did you go to Kansas with? A Went with my whole Gilbert and a whole lot of colored people, three or four hundred.

Q What point in Kansas were you when you started back here? A Franklin county, near Oasowotony.

Q Who did you say come back with you? A Well I didn't say this time - do you want me to tell all that was along?

Q Yes sir all that was in that crowd of which you have stated at other times you were captain of? A Well there was uncle Sam and Eli Vann and Gloria Chouteau; Art Bean, Walter Vann, Dave Vann, Dennis Vann, Young Gilbert Vann, old man Gilbert Vann, Susie Vann, Kate Vann, Lizzie Vann, aunt Lucy Vann, Patsy Vann, Bill Sanders, Ebbie Shaw, Jess Shaw, Jate Shaw, aunt Mary Musgrove, Jane Musgrove, Jack Bean, Vess Vann, Jess Vann, there was a colored fellow Creek fello along I can't think of his name, Martha Vann, Kate Vann, Boots Vann, Young Sam Vann, Mandy Vann, that is all I can remember just now, whole lot more and a lot of little children I don't remember.

Q You was 16 years old then? A Yes sir.

Q You testify that you were the captain of that crowd? A Yes sir.

Q And there were some of those men along who were 50 and 60 years old wasn't there? A Yes sir.

Q Who were the men that were killed in that fight? A Wess Vann, Phil Daniels and Jesse Vann, and then Tobe Bean was shot through the arm, a flesh wound.

Q About what part of Horse creek was that fight? A I don't know.

Q How far from the Kansas line? A I don't know that either.

Q How far from where it empties into Grand river? A I can't tell you that.

Q About how far, 10 or 15 miles? A I don't know, I wasn't up at the mouth.

Q About how far from where Afton is? A I don't know where that is then.

Q Did you go right on after that fight? A Yes sir.

Q They had this same question up five years ago before the Kern's court? A Yes sir.

Q Did you then ever testify that you were captain of that crowd and had a fight on Horse Creek? A No sir, they never asked me about it.

Q You didn't testify about it? A No sir.

Chas. von Weise, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

File with Cherokee Freedman, D- 657

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Chelsea, I.T., June 12, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Tobias Bean et al. for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearances:

Mellette & Smith, attorneys for applicants;
W. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

JESS COCHRAN, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A Jess Cochran.

Q What is your age? A About 58.

Q Where were you born? A Here in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A No, sir.

Q Where did you live in '65 and '66? A Out here on Grand River, it was known as the Johnson Thompson place.

Q A brick house there? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Cochran, was your father living with you in '65? A Yes, sir.

Q When did your father die? A In the fall of '66, he was killed the 22nd of October.

Q Where was he killed? A On the military road at what was known as the Bob Daniels place.

Q How far was that from the place you are living? A It is about three miles.

Q On what side of the Grand River were you living? A It would be on the west side, same side the military road was.

Q Do you know Bob Daniels Knight, who is a witness here in this case

A No, sir, not that time.

Q You didn't know him then? A No, sir.

Q Do you know him now? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you take any steps after your father's death to apprehend, to catch the people who did the killing? A Yes, sir, I went and got the sheriff and his posse, we were trying to find the man that killed him, his name is Lewis Vitteteau.

Q Where did you go? A I went up right northwest on what is known as Cabin Creek, over near the Lee Schrimsher place, and couldn't see any track of a wagon, which I thought he had gone and left in a wagon, and then I come across northeast in the direction of Horse Creek and I found the place what was known as the old Knight place, it would have been about the first of November.

Q After your father was killed? A Yes, sir.

Q Was anyone living there at that time? A No, sir, there wasn't anyone there at all.

Q You made an examination of the house at that time? A Well, we just rode around there, there wasn't a soul in there, it was open and vacant, I had been there before.

Q You made an examination and wasn't anybody living there? A No, sir.

Q Did you have occasion to pass by this same house after that?

A Yes, sir.

Q About how long after this? A It was along in about, I would say about the 10th or 15th of December.

Q Of that year? A The same year.

Q Was anybody living there at that time? A No, sir.

Q Do you know who afterwards lived in that house? A No, sir, I don't.

Q You know what place it was called, known as? A Oh yes, I know it was the old man Knight place.

Q On what creek? A It was near Horse Creek.

Q When did you move away from the Thompson place on Grand river?
A In the spring of '67.

Q Up to that time, did you hear of any fight made upon any negroes on Horse Creek in the Cherokee Nation?

Mr. Mellette: I object to the question as not material in this case. It is pure hearsay.

Mr. Hastings: It is a circumstance that unquestionably ought to be admitted.

Commissioner: I don't think that is a material question.

Q Did you know of any? A Only just heard of it.

Q Did you hear of it at that time? A In 1867, the fall that I went down to Cabin Creek to the store, a man by the name of Maul was selling goods there, and they told me the soldiers had just passed.

Q Don't tell what they said, the others. A That is the only way I got my information there had been a fight.

Q You hadn't heard of any fight before you went to the Knight place in '66? A No, sir.

Q Do you know this applicant, Tobe Bean? A I don't know whether I do or not; in the last few years I might have seen him a time or two; at that time I don't think I knew him.

Q How far were you living from Andy Frye and Millie Frye when your father was killed in October of 1866? A It must have been about two miles, just where the road crosses the river, might not have been that far.

Q You didn't know Tobe Bean then? No, I knew the others that was living there.

Q You were acquainted with the other colored people who were living over there? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see Tobe Bean over there in that year? A I don't remember whether I did or not.

Mr. Mellette: They had a good many fights around through this country along about that time, didn't they? A No, sir, there wasn't any as I know of.

Q No fights at all? A At that time there wasn't nobody killed?

A Well there was when my father got killed a month before that.

Q Where did he get killed? A On the military road.

Q Could a fight have occurred and you not heard of it? A It might have been, but I never heard of any.

Q Do you claim to have heard of every fight that occurred in this country? A That was after the war, it was people you knew.

Q Do you swear that you heard of every fight that occurred?

A Well, I would remember it if I did hear it, I don't think I heard of any.

Q Where did you say you lived along about that time? A On Grand River.

Q How old were you then? A Well, I must have been nearly 20 years old.

Q What part of Grand River did you live? A In '66, as I said where I was living on what was known as the Johnson Thompson place, a brick house.

Q Near what place on Grand River now? A I believe they call it the Ketchum place now.

Q On which side of the river were you living? A I would call it on the east side of the river.

Q You ought to know? A That is what it is.

Q Mr. Hastings has asked you something about the Knight place; what place is that he was talking to you about? A Well, that is right pretty much north from the Thompson place, right due north.

Q How far from where you lived? A From that place, the Thompson place, well it couldn't have been over 15 miles.

Q When you well acquainted up in that country? A I was, yes, sir.

Q Up where that house stood? A Yes, sir.

Q Whose place was that? A It was known as the Knight place, it was vacant though.

Q How often had you been up in that country? A Well, I can't tell you just how often I had.

Q I just want to know how often you had been up in that country? A I had been to that place three times that year.

Q Do you remember every place; do you remember for 35 years afterwards every place that was vacant at that time? A Yes, sir, I do.

Q You can remember now every place that you passed by in '66 that was vacant at that time? A Yes, sir, there wasn't but one old place between them, known as the Ben Landrum place, that was the only place there was there.

Q You just passed by these places in question? A Yes, sir.

Q Came right through that country? A Yes, sir, came on the military road.

Q Who did you say was with you? A My father when I first got acquainted with the place.

Q Who was with you the last time? A Tom Thompson and old man Johnson.

Q You rode by the place? A Yes, sir, rode right along and stopped at the spring there.

Q Were you driving or riding? A In a wagon.

Q You stopped at the spring and passed on; is that all you did? A Yes, that was about all we done.

Q How close to the house did you go? A Well, it must have been in the yard, but there wasn't any yard fence, the road ran right along by the house.

Q That was 35 years ago or 36 years ago? A I guess it was, it was in '66, in the fall, or winter.

Q How do you know it was in '66? A I know it, I have a posse with me when I came by this place.

Q There has been a good deal of talk about these people remembering '66; how do you remember it; you didn't have to get back? A No, no sir.

Q There wasn't anything to make you remember '66? A Only my father got killed on October 23, 1866.

Q You say you started out to hunt the people that killed him? A Yes, sir.

Q And Tom Johnson was with you? A No, that was the last time I was up there.

Q The last time that Tom Thompson was with you? A Yes, sir.

Q What year was it Tom Thompson was with you? A In December, as I said, about the 10th or 15th.

Q You remember now it was the 10th or 15th of December? A Yes, sir.

Q How do you ~~remember~~ happen to remember it? A Old man Johnson Thompson moved into the house we were living in, and they went on up in a wagon, and I went with them, to Neosho, to get some groceries.

Q How do you remember at this time it was the 10th or 15th of December? A Because it was Christmas coming, we had to get back before Christmas.

Q Might not it have been in November? A No, sir, it wasn't in November.

Q When did you have your attention called to this time before this; never thought of this till since this freedman court has been sitting here? A I don't know, it has been talked about for several years.

Q When was it talked about? A This matter came up about the same way at the Clifton court.

Q You never thought about it then till the Clifton court? A They told me I was subpoenaed on that.

Q The Clifton court is the first time you ever thought about this thing that occurred thirty years before that time, is it? A The first time I ever wore to it, I knew those facts though.

Q You testified to the same facts before the Clifton Court you testified to now? A Yes, sir, as near as I can remember.

Q What do you know about it? Do you think you gave the same testimony then you do now? A I do.

Q Do you remember about Al Lynch getting shot, this colored man, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, I know just about what time, I wasn't there to see.

Q What year was it? A It was in '86.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir, I let him have the whip to get drunk on.

Q Well now you know it was in '86 that Moss Reed shot Al Lynch do you, Moss Whitmire shot Al Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q You went and notified some people that that was the time, at that time, that he had been shot? A No, sir, I hadn't nothing to do with it.

Q Didn't you go down to Dave Rowe's and tell them Moss Whitmire had shot Al Lynch? A No, sir.

Q You didn't? A No, sir.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, I had nothing to do with it.

Q But didn't you just carry the information down there to Rowe's that Al Lynch had been shot? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q You will swear that? A Oh yes, I never carried any such news.

Q Didn't tell anybody at all? A Of course I might have said that, it was rumormongered, everybody knew it.

Q Didn't you hear falling in down at Rowe's, about Al Lynch having been shot? A No, sir, I don't think I did.

Q You hadn't mentioned it down there at all; you know where Rowe lived, didn't you? A Oh yes, I know where Rowe lived.

Q How close is it to now? A It is 20 or 25 miles.

Q Do you remember being down there in '86? A Not positively, I was occasionally down to Tahlequah, and it was on the road down there.

Q And you don't remember anything about that? A No, sir, it was a common thing that he got shot.

Mr. Hastings: What official positions, if any, have you held?

A Well, I have held the Solicitor and Sheriff, I was one of the Associate Supreme Court Judges.

Q Delegate to Washington? A Yes, sir.

R. D. KNIGHT, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A R. D. Knight.

Q What is your age? A 34.

Q Where do you live? A Now, I live in Vinita.

Q How long have you lived there, a number of years? A 25 years.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was the first place that you lived in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A On Hogue Creek.

Q What district is that in? A Delaware district.

Q Was there any hold that ran by your place at that time? A The old mill they used, we used to call it.

Q Were you arrested, Mr. Knight, at any time directly after your return? A Yes, it was probably in the latter part of December, yes, it must have been in the latter part of December following my return in the fall.

Q Where were you taken? A Jail prison.

Q What were you charged with? A Killing some negroes that was passing down the road there.

Q Well, had some negroes passed your place prior to that time? A Yes, prior to my arrest.

Q Did any of them get killed at your place? A Yes, there was I guess two. One was killed there. I heard there was three. I don't know.

Q Any others wounded? A There was one. I don't know, that is only from hearsay. I saw him when he was fired at, but I didn't see he was struck.

Q Did you see the shooting? A Yes, sir, the most of it, the first two or three shots I didn't see.

Q Several colored people along? A Yes, looked to me like there might have been fifty in all, or more.

Q Did you ever learn, either at that time or afterwards, who composed that crowd? A Yes.

Q Well, who?

Mr. Mellette: Hold on, did he see who they was?

Q Did you know any of them? A I saw the most of them, but I didn't know the names.

Q Did you ever talk to Tom Bean here afterwards? A I don't remember that I ever did about it; yes, I might have made some little remark some time. I don't know whether there was ever anything said between us about it.

Q Did you ever learn who composed the crowd? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards?

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, it is an improper question.

Q Did you learn that? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards? A It was early in the spring after my arrest in the winter. Two of these parties that came to my house —

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, no hearsay evidence.

Q Did they talk over the fight that had occurred there prior to that?

A Yes, sir, they told me they were in it.

Mr. Mellette: Hold on, I object.

Q Who was that? A Who was that came to my house?

Q Yes? A A young man by the name of Lee Smith and a man named John Willis.

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, they are not parties to this case, because it would not be competent.

Q That was on Horse Creek? A That was two and a half miles south, we called it Horse Creek, that is right on the side of the creek.

Q You saw the killings, did you, the shooting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know when that was? A Well, to the best of my recollection, it was in probably the first of October, or about there, in 1897, the best I can figure it out, as to saying positive, I can't do it.

Q But that is your best judgment? A That is my best judgment.

Q And you were afterwards arrested and accused of it? A Yes, sir, in the following December, the latter part of December.

Q Well, did you move back to this place when you first moved back after the war, when this shooting took place? A Yes, sir.

Q And that was on the military road, was it? A Yes, sir, on the military road.

Q About how far, Mr. Knight, was this place from where the old Johnson Thompson, or Ketchum place is, on Grand River? A Well, it is in the neighborhood of ten miles, a little more or a little less, I don't know just what we call it.

Q The military road runs right by it? A Not by the Thompson place.

Q By your place I mean? A Oh yes.

Q I will ask you whether or not this man Tom Bean has ever talked to you about being shot at your place? A Well, I am not certain, but what I think might have been said, I don't remember, but he said something about being in that fight, or something about being shot up there in '88, and that he was the fellow shot in that fight in '88, and probably I remarked that if he was shot in '88 he was a different man from the one shot in that fight.

Q That is your best judgment, it was Tebe Dean, the applicant?

A Yes, sir; I think that is the remark, I don't know, I only had a word or two at the time, I never knew since the trouble that he was one of them until that time, I know his name, but I didn't know him, I could have picked him out.

Mr. Hollette: Mr. Knight, did you say that you were arrested for killing the men that were killed in the Horse Creek fight? A Yes, sir.

Q Who were they, the men you were arrested for killing? A The men I was accused of killing.

Q Yeah? A The only killing that ever happened there that I know of.

Q The did the warrant say you were charged with killing? A I don't know that it specified the names at all.

Q You would not be arrested for killing a man that wasn't killed; there is somebody you were charged with killing? A I was charged with killing some negroes in the Horse Creek fight.

Q It didn't say the Horse Creek fight in the warrant? A It was the killing there at the place.

Q It didn't say that though in the warrant, it just said so and so is charged with feloniously and wilfully killing who? A I don't know who they were, I don't remember the names of them.

Q Is it possible you could be arrested and accused of killing a man and don't know the man you were charged with killing? A I don't know about it, it seems I was arrested for killing somebody, I don't know.

Q How far did you live from Timbered Hill? A Which Timbered Hill?

Q This one up here by Bluejacket? A I don't know, ten or twelve miles, neighborhood of that.

Q Were you not arrested for killing some colored men up there?

A No, sir.

Q Isn't that the case you were arrested for? A No, sir.

Q Isn't that a fact? A No, sir.

Q You remember them being killed up there? A No, never heard of it.

Q Now, Mr. Knight, it seems strange that you would be arrested for killing men and not know the names of the men you were charged with killing? A I didn't see anything strange about it.

Q I do, did the officers read the warrant to you? A Well sir, I don't even say that, I am not positive as to whether he read the warrant, he came in, it was cold weather, and had their overcoats on, and buttoned up, and came to the door, and when I stepped out to wash my face for breakfast, and one with the name Holloway, he came to the door, and I saw soldiers all around the house, and he came and asked me my name.

J. S. Trotter, being duly sworn by Commissioner Hoagles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A J. S. Trotter.

Q What is your age? A 44.

Q What is your occupation? A Farmer.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A I am.

Q By blood? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation, before the war?

A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go out during the war? A I did.

Q When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation after the war?

A In the spring of '88.

Q Where did you live after coming? A On Russell Creek.

Q How far is that from Chatopa, Kansas? A About four miles.

Q What direction from Russell Creek? A We lived on Russell Creek.

Q Well, where did you move to that fall? A Moved to the mouth of Horse Creek.

Q Where were you living in '87? A On Horse Creek, right at the mouth of Horse Creek on Grand River.

Q Do you know the applicant, John Smith? A I have seen him, I don't know if I am acquainted with him.

Q Mr. Frost, any time after the war, did or did you not hear of the circumstance of some colored people being killed near the old Knight place on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hear of that? A It was in the fall of '87.

Q How far were you living from the Knight place at that time? A About four miles.

Q Mr. Hollister, how Mr. Frost, do you remember that he came back here in the spring of '88? A I think I do.

Q How in the world do you know it? A I was in the army and was mustered out in '85, in the fall, and the next summer we moved down here, the next spring.

Q Where did you come from? A Kansas.

Q What did you do in Kansas after you were discharged before you came down here? A I didn't do any work particularly.

Q Where did you stay? A In Woodson county.

Q Who did you live with up there? A My father and mother.

Q What time did you start back here in '88? A It was in the spring.

Q In the spring of '88, how did you come? A In wagons.

Q Traveled through the country? A Yes, sir.

Q Many people living in this country at that time? A I didn't see but very few after we got in the territory.

Q Well, where did you first strike the Cherokee Nation? A Right up there on the line south of Chatopa.

Q Which way did you come, come by Vinita? A We came on the Neosho River.

Q Did you come by Vinita? A No, sir.

Q How else did you come? A Came right down the Neosho River all the time till we struck the Territory line there.

Q Then how did you come? A We went up by the creek after we struck the line, and stopped.

Q You stopped just inside the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Up there on Russell Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q In the spring of '88? A Yes, sir.

Q What month? A I don't know exactly as I can see the month.

Q How long did you stop up there? A We stayed all the summer of '88.

Q What did you do in the fall? A In the fall we moved to Horse Creek.

Q What time in the fall? A Probably late in the fall, I don't know the exact date of it.

Q You say you heard of a fight in the fall of '87? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you living at that time? A Living at the mouth of Horse Creek, living on Grand River.

Q How many fights did you ever hear of about that time? A That is the only one.

Q You never heard of anybody being killed up there except that? A Not that year I don't think I did.

Q Now are you positive about that? A I think that is the only fight I heard of.

Q You just didn't hear of it, that is all, is it? A Well, I saw the groups in there but a short time afterwards hunting the Indians down.

Q Where were the groups then? A They were on Grand River.

Q Did they come through there? A Yes, sir.

Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Federal troops? A Yes, sir.

Q Don't you know there were not any troops at Van Buren in '67?

A I don't know anything about it.

Q You say the troops all right, did you? A I did.

Q How many? A Seemed to me like about 20 or 25.

Q White or colored? A White men.

Q Who commanded them? A I don't know that.

Q Where did you see them? A I saw them at my house on Horse Creek.

Q They told you they were from Van Buren, Arkansas, the troops did? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first hear about this fight, that it was in '67 that that fight occurred? When was that first called to your attention Mr. Trott? Since this Freedmen Court has been in operation?

A No, sir, I have heard of it all along.

Q I know, but have known a good many things that haven't been particularly called to your attention. When was it called to your attention after that fight occurred? A I have spoke about it a good many times. I don't know, I have heard it talked about ever since then.

Q How did it happen to come up, why did you talk about it? A I don't know, it was the general talk through the country after it was fought, after the fight.

Q That has been 30 years ago, or 15 years ago; what was there to keep it in your mind? A Well I knew that I had been there on Horse Creek a year, or pretty near a year, before it happened, that is one thing that kept it in my mind, I was not there in the fall of '66 until very late in the fall, and it was the next fall.

Q What time do you say you went down on Horse Creek from Russell Creek? A Late in the fall of 1866.

Q What time? A I don't know the month, but it was way late in the fall.

Q Were you in the army? A I was.

Q In any fights? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Prairie Grove, Arkansas.

Q What was the only fight? A That is all.

Q You remember when that was, don't you? A I don't know as I remember the exact date, I know it was in the winter of 1863.

Q '63? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't mean that? A Yes, sir, '63 I meant to say.

Q The winter of '63; was it before Christmas or after Christmas?

A I guess it must have been after Christmas.

Q Was that in '63 or '64? A '63.

Q What month in '63? A I don't recollect the month.

Q Was that in the first part of '63 or the last part of '63?

A I can't tell you exactly.

Q You can't put it in three or four or five or six or ten months when that fight took place? A It was in the winter of '63.

Q There is two places of winter now in the year 1863, the first part of '63 is in the winter and the last part of '63; was it the first part of '63 or the last part? A I think it is in the first part.

Q You are satisfied of that? A I am not satisfied as it positively.

Q You are not as well satisfied of that as you are the Horse Creek fight was in the fall of '67? A I don't know about that Horse Creek fight because I was living down.

Q You were in the Prairie Grove fight, and still you know more about the other one you was not in, isn't that true? A The other one I been with the army.

Q There has been about three years difference.

G. W. CLARKE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A G. W. Clarke.

Q What is your age? A My coming birthday, I will be 59.

Q A citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A All my life.

Q You were in the army, were you? A I was in the northern army.

Q Where were you mustered out? A I was mustered out in Fort Gibson on the last of May, in 1865.

Q Where did you live the rest of the year of 1865? A I lived on the river.

Q Grand River? A Yes, Grand River, in the fall of '65 I came on the river the next day after I was mustered out, and I was married there eight days afterwards.

Q Where did you live in the year 1866, make a crop?

A I made a crop on what is known as the Ellis McDaniel place on the east side of the river, it is commonly known as the Adair place now.

Q Did you make a crop on the same place in '67? A No, sir, the treaty was made in July and reverted the place, I owned a confiscated place, it was sold as a southern place, and I had a place of my own in about nine miles; going around by the river made it about 15 miles.

Q Was the place you moved to farther up on Grand River than where you had been living in '66? A Yes, sir, go through and cross the river twice and it is about nine miles, and the other way is about 15 or 16 miles.

Q After the war, Mr. Clarke, did you hear of some colored people being in a fight and getting killed at Horse Creek; did you hear of the circumstances? A Yes, sir, I heard of the fight they said there was some colored people killed there, there was a young colored man passed my place and told about it, along in September, as well as I recollect; it was early in the fall.

Q Where were you living when you heard of that incident?

A I was living in the Six Mile Bottom in the fall of 1867.

Q You know Tobe Bean the applicant? A Yes, they are neighbors of mine, have been for a long time, Art Bean, very good man, too.

Mr. Smith: Judge Clarke, you don't know what fight that was you heard of in '67? A I only know they said some fellows run on some colored people and there was a fight up there, and I disremember some of them was killed in the fight.

Q You don't remember whether anybody was killed in the fight you heard about? A No, sir, it has been so long ago.

Q It was right hard to remember about a fight at that time?

A Yes, sir.

Q Have a good many? A Yes, sir, a plenty.

Q You don't know which fight that is you are telling about?

A That is what made me bring it to mind, some fellows run on some colored people up there, that was all.

Mr. Hastings: You were in the northern army? A Yes, sir, I was in the northern army.

Q Did you hear about what place on Horse Creek this fight occurred?

A I don't know as I did, it has been so long, heard it was up on Horse Creek, they were just passing going down the road in the way I understood it.

Commissioner: You don't know anything about that fight or your own knowledge at all? A No, sir, only just what I heard.

Q After you got through with your fighting it wouldn't amount to much as a fight anyhow? A No.

T. J. MONROE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A T. J. Monroe.

Q How old are you? A 46.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You were born before the war? A Born in '32.

Q Where did you live before the war? A Lived on the line of the Osage and the western line of the Cherokee Nation, near the Osage lands.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q To what place did you return after the war? A A place known as the Base place on the Grand River, east of Grand River, in Delaware district.

Q How far was that from Horse Creek? A It was ten or 12 miles.

Q Do you know whether the old Knight place was on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live from that? A It was about ten or 12 miles I think.

Q How far from the Johnson Thompson place on Grand River did you live? A The Johnson Thompson place?

Q Ketchum precinct? A It is about, I would think about 15 or 16 miles, 15 or 16.

Q When did you move to that place after the war, in what year?

A Sometime in February, 1868.

Q February of 1868? A Yes, sir.

Q Now after that did you hear of the circumstance of some negroes being in a fight in which some of them got killed, on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hear of that? A The next year, right sometime in the summer or fall, I don't recollect just what month.

Q What year? A Of '67, we lived then on the west side of the river on the Stand Waite farm.

Mr. Hollette: Where were you living at that time? A That I heard of this fight.

Q Yes? A On the Stand Waite place, on the west side of the Grand River.

Q How far were you living from Horse Creek? A Couldn't have been over eight or ten miles.

Q When did you move on the Stand Waite place? A Sometime during the winter of '66 or '67, it appears to me it was in January, in the year '67.

Q Was it before Christmas or after Christmas? A I think it was after Christmas.

Q That is the time you went to stand? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you move from? A From the west side of the river, from the Boser place.

Q How long did you live there? A From February up until we left I think in January, sometime in the winter time.

Q What year did you move to the Boser place? A In '66.

Q What time in the year? A I think it was in February.

Q Where did you move from? A We came from the Cherokee Nation on Red River.

Q When did you come? A I stayed a while right on the line of Missouri.

Q When did you come from the Cherokee Nation? A We left the Cherokee Nation sometime in the latter part of October, I think.

Q What time? A '66.

Q You couldn't be mistaken? A No, sir.

Q Then there is such a thing as remembering dates, I suppose?

A I have something to remember by.

Q You didn't have to get back here by '66? A No, sir.

Q There isn't anything to impress it on your mind? A If you will let me explain, we lived right on the same place with Joel Bryant, on the same farm. He was a Major General, or something, in the Confederate army. He came home during the summer, I think in June, and took his family and started to Old Mexico, and then we sold our crop in the field before we gathered it and started back to the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, how old were you at that time? A Well, I was born in '52, I am 15 I believe in '66.

Q About 15 years old? A About 15 in '66 I think, if I am not mistaken.

Q And still you remember all those events? A I remember it perfectly well, that part of it.

Q You remember you left there in the fall or 1866 and came up here and went on to the Bower place in February, 1867? A I think it was in February, I am not positive, but I think it was.

Q How far is that from the Stand White place?

A Well, about six or seven miles I should think.

Q On the opposite side of the river? A Yes, sir, and down the river.

Q A good many fights along about that time, wasn't there? A I don't remember very many.

Q But you know you just heard of a fight? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first know about it, when did you first have your attention called to the time when that occurred, since that time?

A Since that time?

Q Yes; when did anybody ask you about when that occurred, since you have been subpoenaed in this case? A I don't remember anybody ever did ask me until I came here to-day.

Q Since you came here to-day Mr. Hastings and Mr. Bell asked you what you knew about it? A Yes.

Q And then you remember what you knew of that fight in '67?

A Yes, I know it all the time.

Q Everything that has occurred you don't keep in your mind all the time, do you? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't any particular reason for you to remember that?

A I didn't see any particular reason.

Q And when you come here 36 years afterwards you are asked about it and you say it occurred in '67; that is a long time that, a long time? A Yes, sir.

Q You had forgotten about that half a dozen times? A Of course it would go out of my mind.

Q Go out of your mind and come back? A Yes, sir.

Q All you know about this fight is 36 years ago you heard of a fight between some darkies and white people? A Allow me to tell you; that fall, or late in the summer, a man brought a mare to our house, and asked me and my brother to take care of it, and right there and then he told us about this fight, did you hear of this fight up here and a lot of them people getting killed? I remember it well, guessing about who done the killing, that didn't call any names, but referred to them as the "red face" fellows.

Q You remember 36 years the man that brought the mare or colt to your house? A Perfectly well.

Q How many horses did you have around? A I think about 15.

Q Can you remember every time a man has brought a horse to you since '67? A No sir, I didn't have any horses then.

Q Didn't have any horses at all? A No, sir, didn't have any horses at all.

Q You had stayed one year on the Bower place? A Yes, sir.

Q What did you learn there? A A little yoke cutting.

Q How long that position do you hold now, if any? A Don't know.

In the matter of the application of Lewis Martin et al. for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Testimony introduced on behalf of the Cherokee Nation.

Appearances:

Mellette & Smith, attorneys for the applicant;
W. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

LEWIS VANN, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your full name? A Lewis Vann.

Q How old are you? A I can't tell my age at all.

Q Well, are you 60 or 65 or 70? A Well I can just guess at it, but then that would not be correct, but I think I am somewhere along about '65 or '75, I don't know.

Q What is your postoffice? A Harding, Kansas.

Q What is your occupation? A Well, when I am home I am a farmer.

Q Where did you live before the war, Mr. Vann? A I lived right on the Grand River close to Chouteau Station, raised there.

Q Did you know a colored man before the war, by the name of Lewis Martin? A Well, I heard of his name but I knew his parents all right, his father and mother, but then to say well acquainted with him, I never got well acquainted with him till he came up here to Kansas.

Q You don't mean here to visit? A No, sir, up in Kansas I am acquainted with him.

Mr. Hastings: Well, what was his father's name? A His name was Harry.

Q What was his mother's name? A Oelia.

Q Well that is the man I want to talk about; when did you know him in Kansas? A Well now there is something that I don't know right exactly, but I knowed him ever since I was here in Kansas, and I have been up in Kansas ever since '62, and I knowed him from then.

Q Who was he living with when you knew him then? A Why he was living with his father and mother I think, right then.

Q What was he doing? A Well now I can't tell you exactly what he was doing right then, but he learned the blacksmith trade then after that; I can't say right then, but he learned the trade of a blacksmith.

Q What place in Kansas was that? A It was just right above, about a mile from Mapleton I reckon, I don't suppose it would be any farther than a mile from Mapleton.

Q About what time did he leave Mapleton; I mean with reference to the war? A Now that is something I don't know.

Q Was it before or after the war closed? A I don't know when he left there at all; he bought a place there right close, not very far from Mapleton, and he raised one crop on it and he sold it out and went up to Ottawa.

Q Ottawa, Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he marry around Mapleton? A Yes, sir, he married right there not far from Mapleton, I knew the folks, the woman's father and mother, well the mother anyhow, I knew her well after he married her daughter.

Q Well, did you ever see him up at Ottawa after that? A I saw him there once after that.

Q Well about how long after that? A Now sir that I can't tell how long it was that I saw him there.

Q Was your son married? A My son was married then.

Q Where was he living? A He was living with me when he got married, and then he moves up to Ottawa, and he wasn't there very long before his woman took sick and wrote for his mother to come and she went and she didn't come back quick as I thought she ought to come back and I goes after her, and I went up there and I goes over to his house.

Q Goes to his house? A Goes to Mr. Martin's house.

Q Well, Martin living there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Did he have his family there? A Yes, sir.

Q You know what he was going up there at Ottawa? A Well, he was a farmer there, renting.

Q Well, now how old is your son's oldest child? A Well now sir that is something I can't tell you.

Q Well about how old is it? A That is something I don't know the age of nobody, I can kinder guess as his age, he was born 2 years after I come to Kansas, my boy.

Q I am not talking about your boy, I am talking about his child?

A Well I can't tell nothing about his child's age at all.

Q His boy grown? A He isn't grown, but then he is a good size boy, I aint seen him since he was just about so high (indicating) and came off here to the Nation.

Q You don't have no idea when the child was born; as much as 15 years old? A Well, he may be somewhere along 15 or 14, but I can't tell exactly, but he is a good sized boy, I reckon he is pretty near large as me now.

Q Now what is your best judgment as to the age of that child; have you got any judgment at all? A I have judgment, but I can't tell how old he was.

Q I am not asking you the date; that is your best judgment as to his age? A If I knew how old it was when I went up after my wife I could tell pretty near the child's age, but I can't.

Q Well, about how long do you think that man had been away from Mapleton, up to Ottawa, when you went up there; had it been a few days or a few months, or how long? A Well, it has been more than a few days, because he had raised one or two crops up there, and maybe more for all I know, I don't know at all, you have got me to something I don't know, but I know he lived there, that is all I can tell you.

Q And you know he was living there when you went up there? A Yes, sir, because I went to his house.

Q And that was after he was living down at Mapleton? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see him back down to Mapleton after that? A No, sir, I don't recollect seeing him back there anymore at all, he might have come back on a visit, but that I don't know, but when I saw him again I saw him here.

Q When was that? A Well, it was the year that Mr. Wallace's roll was made.

Q Where did you see him? A I saw him out in the country here to a place where he farmed.

Q You know how long he had been here then? A I just know he had been here, made one crop I think.

Q Well, did he tell you that or not? A Well he took me right down and showed me his crop he made.

Q Did he say how long he had been here and where he came from?

A He said he had come from up there here.

Q Did he say when he had come from Ottawa or how long he had been from Ottawa here? A He didn't say how long he had been, but he had just made one crop when he came here.

Q How do you know he made one crop? A I don't know; he said so and showed me his crop.

Q Now do you know he just made the one, is what I am trying to get at, and not made any more than one? A I don't know that, only he said his stepson made one crop while he was home where he lived, he said his stepson, he sent him down here to make a crop and then he came, he said his stepson made a crop here and then he came and made one, that is what he told me, that is all I know.

Q That was while the Wallace Court was here? A Yes, sir, first time I saw him I came down to the Wallace court.

Q Have you any idea when Wallace made that roll, do you know anything about that year? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Don't have no idea about it at all? A No, sir, don't know a thing about it only he made that roll.

Q You know he made it? A Yes, sir, because I came and signed that roll.

Q Where were you living at the time? A I was living up there on Timber Hill, Bourbon County.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Near Mapleton? A Yes, sir; I know where I was living all right.

Mr. Smith: Now Lewis, all you know about it is that you know that at one time Lewis Martin lived up there in Kansas? A Yes.

Q You don't know the year? A No, sir, I don't know the year at all.

Q When did you first go to Kansas? A '66.

Q Where did you go from? A Went from the Cherokee Nation; went from down here at Chouteau Station.

Q There wasn't any Chouteau Station then in '66? A No, sir, it has been put there since; I lived there, I was raised there.

Q Do you know where Lewis Martin was in the year 1866? A No, sir, I don't know the meaning of that '66 any more as a sucking baby, I don't know the meaning of '66; when that man told me that I came here in '68, that is how come I say I come here in '62, he said I come here in '62 because I came here a soldier.

Q Where were you living in 1862? A Well I give it, went up to Kansas, in that time, and lived up there close to Mapleton in '68 when this man said I came out in '62, I don't know when I came, he said it was '62 because he was down there.

Q Now do you know when Lewis Martin got married? A I know he got married up there but I can't tell when.

Q Do you know whether it was before the war or after the war or during the war? A He got married, might have been about the time the war came on or maybe after, I don't know now.

Q Well, do you know where Lewis Martin was when the war closed?

A Well, when the war closed, he must have been living right there close to Mapleton.

A Not what he must have been, but what you know about it, what you saw and know yourself; do you know where he was when the war closed?

A I didn't say I know that at all, but I know he was living there when I came, when I was living there he was living there too, it must have been while the war was going on that he lived there, but after that I know he lived there and went up to Ottawa you know.

Q Do you know where he was in the fall of '68? A No, sir, it isn't any more use for you to ask me about '66, not bit more than a baby, because I don't know.

Q Do you know where he was during the year after the war closed?

A I can't tell you that neither.

Q Don't know? A No, sir.

Q You know anything about as to whether he got into a fight or killing scrape down here in the Cherokee Nation shortly after the war?

A I never heard of him getting into any fight or killing.

Q You were not in it? A No, sir.

Q When did you come down here at the Wallace Court, where was

Lewis Martin living in the Cherokee Nation, near what place? A Why I don't think it was more than a mile, maybe, or maybe more than a mile right out east this way, from Vinita.

Q A mile from Vinita? A I don't think it was over a mile, it might have been and might not, but it wasn't very far.

Q Did you go out to his place? A Yes, sir, I went out to his place.

Q How did you go, ride or walk? A I think I went in his wagon I think, I don't know for certain how I went but I went there all right, went right to his house.

Q You don't know how many different places Lewis Martin has lived in the Cherokee Nation, do you? A Well, I don't know of him living at but that one here and then when he left here he went out and bought a place, I understand, went out and bought a place.

Q You don't know anything about where he is living now? A No, sir.

F. D. MYRICK, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name, please? A F. D. Myrick.

Q How old are you? A I am 54 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You live in Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your business? A Farming, stock raising.

Mr. Hastings: Mr. Myrick, do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A Yes, if he is the man we located, I once knew a man by the name of Lewis Martin.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Harry.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him there about Mapleton on my place.

Q Were you intimately acquainted with him, know him well? A I ought to.

Q Just tell the circumstances, all you know about him? A Yes, sir, I was intimately acquainted with him.

Q Did he work for you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now about what length of time did he work for you? A Well I think it was about a couple of years.

Q Through what period of years? A About '83 and '84.

Q What did he work for you at? A Blacksmithing.

Q He learned the blacksmith trade there? A Yes, sir, he learned that while he was quite young, he was the youngest of the family, and his oldest brother, Bill, was a blacksmith, and I was running a shop there and they were doing the work for me.

Q Do you know where Lewis was married? A Well, I wouldn't say that I do, he married there but it is kind of a dream, I am not positive; of course if you were acquainted with his wife but it has been so long and not paying any attention, I would not be positive that I know.

Q Do you know where he went from Mapleton? A To say I know, I don't, but the report was that he went to Ottawa, and he told me afterwards he lived at Ottawa, that is as near as I can explain it to you.

Q About how long afterwards did you see him? A Well, it must have been five or six years afterwards that I saw him.

Q How do you know that that was five or six years? A After he left Mapleton.

Q Now about when do you think he left there, about what years?

A Well I can't tell what year he did leave there.

Q Well, with reference to the close of the war? A Well, it must have been a couple of years after the close of the war that he went to Ottawa; he and his father stayed there anyhow as long as two years after the close of the war before he went to Ottawa.

Q And then you saw him five or six years after that after he went to Ottawa? A Yes, sir.

Q And he told you he was living there at that time? A At Ottawa.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, sir, not as I know of.

Q You live at Mapleton? A Yes, sir.

Q How was your home from Mapleton any time, say between '72 and '77? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you? A I was in the Rocky Mountains.

Q Do you remember Lewis' mother? A Lewis' mother, Gella.

Q That is what I want to know, to identify him? A Yes, sir, I was well acquainted with him for a number of years.

Q Where did you see him the first or six years after he left Mapleton that you speak of? A I saw him between my house and Mapleton and just met him on the road and merely addressed him and asked him some few questions. I didn't know what, in regard to where he was; he was kind of a stranger then you know; he told me he was living at Ottawa.

Q Did he tell you what he was doing? A I don't know, I think that he was running a blacksmith shop.

Q You are not positive about that? A No, I wouldn't be positive.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, sir, I never saw him after that.

Q You say that during the last years of the war he worked for you in a shop? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing, Mr. Syrick, during the closing years of the war? A Why I was running a mill there and was making shoes for the government. I sold shoes to the government mostly, and I run a blacksmith shop in connection with my business there, and I had these fellows employed for the purpose of shoeing horses and doing all kind of blacksmithing, we lived right on the trail from Fort Gibson to Leander.

Q And this mother was Lewis Martin's brother and lived with him? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his mother's wife named? A Mother.

Q Mr. Syrick, I believe you stated he was in '63 or '64 that this man was working for you? A Yes, along about that time.

Q Well, where was he in '63? A I wouldn't be positive where he was, to the best of my knowledge he was around Mapleton there or had gone to Ottawa, I wouldn't be positive.

Q Will you do it? And when was he in '63? A No, I can't say where he was in '63.

Q Where was he in '63? A I don't know, sir.

Q You know what year it was that he went to Ottawa? A No, sir, I don't, to say know the year that he went to Ottawa, I don't.

Q About what year was it that you last saw Lewis Martin? A That I saw him last, last saw him.

Q Last saw him at all? A After I saw him coming from Ottawa, or it must have been five or six years afterwards.

Q Five or six years after the close of the war? A Yes, sir, must have been five or six years after the war.

Q And haven't seen him in that country since? A No, sir.

Q Now during the four or five or six years that you saw him at Ottawa, was he there continuously during that time? A No, he was away some of the time.

Q Where was his family? A His family was out on a farm.

Q Did they live there during that time? A Yes, they lived out on the farm.

Q Well, did you see him at frequent intervals during that period of time? A Well yes, sometimes I would see him every three or four weeks, sometimes it would be longer, but then I often would see him. You know Martin was a man that didn't run around very much, anyhow.

Q You say he didn't run around? A No, sir.

Q That did you mean by saying he was away some? A There would be times that he would be gone, I don't know where he was gone.

Q For about how long at a time, how long would you miss him, any considerable time? A Sometimes I wouldn't see him for a month or so, he was out in the country, out on his farm.

Q Out of town? A Yes, out of town, I wouldn't know where he was.

Mr. Smith: Well, you don't know of your own knowledge? A No, sir.

Q Only you didn't see him? A No, I wouldn't know where he was only I didn't see him.

Q How far did he live in the country from Ottawa? A Part of the time it was ten miles.

Q That was along from '87 up for four or five years after '87?

A Yes, it was after '87.

Q From that date to this you have never seen him? A No, sir, I have never seen him.

Commissioner: Now did you first see this man in '87? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you live in '87? A I lived at Ohio City.

Q That was south of Ottawa.

A State of Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You know where Martin was in '87? A No, I don't know where he was in '87.

Q That would be to your mind that it was in '87 that you saw him?

Commissioner: Now, I believe it was in '87 that you saw him.

Q Yes, sir, and there is where I saw him.

Q You recollect dates do you? A Yes, I recollect dates, yes.

Q What year is this? A It is 1900.

Mr. Hastings: Is this the year 1900? A Yes, sir.

Q Even? A Well, it is nineteen hundred, I don't know whether you call it even or not; you know I am no educated man.

Commissioner: Where were you living in 1886? A Ottawa.

Q You been living there ever since '67? A Yes, sir.

Q Living there now? A When I am at home that is right where I live.

Q Your family there? A My family is all dead; well I have no family of my own now.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know what year the war commenced? A Yes, sir.

Q What year? A 1861.

Q What year did it close? A 1865.

Q How long after the war closed before you went to Ottawa?

A Why I went to Ottawa in 1867.

Q I want to know how long that was after the war closed? A After it closed, why two years.

D. J. HESSONG, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A D. J. Hessong.

Q What is your age? A I am 51 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Mapleton, Kansas, yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there, Mr. Hessong? A I have lived there since '57, have lived there about 44 years.

Q Do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A I did.

Q Where did you know him? A In Mapleton, Kansas.

Q What occupation, if any, was he following? A He was running a blacksmith shop when I knew him.

Q Do you know where he came from up to Mapleton? A I do not.

Q You never heard him say? A Never heard him say.

Q You don't know where he had lived before he came there? A I think he came from Ottawa, because I know he went back up there a time or two during the time that he was at Mapleton, and he said he was going on a visit.

Q Do you know about what year he came there to Mapleton? A It must have been about '76, something like that, along there.

Q About how long did he stay there? A Well, when he came back there I am pretty certain it was in '76 and in '77 I went west and when I came back I don't remember whether he was there then or not, but I know he was there a couple of years, if I remember right, two or three years, something like that, I don't remember whether he was there when I came back or not.

Q When did you come back? A I came back that fall and winter, winter of '77.

Q Did you know Martin's wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A I believe that they called her Sarah, or something like that; there was two women stayed with him part of the time he was in Mapleton.

Q Did you know his brother? A Will?

Q That is what I am trying to find out? A Yes, I think there was another Martin named Will Martin, said they were brothers.

Q What was Will Martin's profession? A Blacksmithing.

Q Did you meet Lewis Martin's father and mother? A Don't believe I did, no.

Q Did you ever know Lewis Martin before you knew him when he came there in '76? A No, sir.

Q Well, was his family with him when you knew him there in '76?

A Yes, sir, she lived right in town.

Q He worked in a blacksmith shop? A Yes, sir, him and his brother.

run a shop there in town.

Q You haven't seen him since? A I have not.

Mr. Smith: Mr. Hession, you don't know where he came from when he came to Mapleton that time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know where he had been living before he came there?

A No, sir.

JOHN GROSS, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A John Cross.

Q What is your age, Mr. Cross? A 63.

Q Where do you live? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Bourbon County, yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there? A I lived there since '62.

Q Did you ever know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin?

A Yes.

Q What was his occupation, what did he do? A He was a blacksmith.

Q When did you know him? A Well I know him in about, let's see, must have been '75 or '76, right along there sometime; of course I knew him before that but I wasn't acquainted with him, I knew of him.

Q You knew him before that? A Yes, but I wasn't acquainted with him at all.

Q When did you know him before that? A Well, when they first came, I don't know, probably it was along '62 or near that time there.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Well I don't know his name, don't recollect, he was a very old man, his father was.

Q You don't know his mother's name? A I did, but I don't remember it now; Gelia; no, it wasn't Gelia, I don't recollect it.

Q Well, did you know his brother? A William?

Q I am asking you? A Yes, I knew him better than I did Lewis.

Q Well, do you know how long you knew him after '62, or is your memory distinct about that? A No, you see he left there and he came back, I think it must have been '64 or '5 or '6, along sometime, and then he came back there and him and his brother run a blacksmith shop for probably a couple of years.

Q You know what became of him then? A No, I do not, in the spring of '77 I went to Colorado and I didn't get back till that fall, and he was gone.

Q Now when do you mean to say that he came back to Mapleton the last time? A Well, it must have been in '73 or '6.

Q Did he have a wife? A Yes.

Q Living with her? A Yes, sir.

Q You know whether he had any other family or not? A No, I do not.

Q Well, have you ever seen him since? A No, sir, I haven't seen him since.

Mr. Smith: So, Mr. Cross, as I understand you, you knew this man then about '62? A Why that is what they first came there, I think about that, but still I wasn't Q Do you know whether he married there at Mapleton? A No, I do not, I don't know a thing about it.

Q Do you know whether he was a single man or a married man when you first became acquainted with him? A I think he was a single man when he came there.

Q Do you remember was he married in a couple of years after he came there or not? A He was married when he run a shop there, he was married and had a family.

Q That was when? A In '75 or '6.

Q But do you have any recollection as to whether he was married before the war closed? A No, I do not.

Q Well, now you missed him from there along about the time the war closed, did you? A Yes.

Q Now when did you first see him back there after the time that you missed him? A I don't recollect of seeing him till he came there and went to work in the blacksmith shop.

Q Now about what year was it that you missed him away from there?

A Well I don't recollect, I didn't pay no attention to it at all.

Q About the time the war closed? A Why I suppose, yes.

Mr. Hastings: Do you have any distinct recollection about the first time you missed him from there? A No, I do not.

Q You wasn't well acquainted with him then? A No, I wasn't well acquainted with him.

LEWIS VANN, recalled by applicant, testified as follows:

Mr. Smith: You were on the stand this morning in this case, were you Mr. Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Now then, did I understand you to say that you never heard of that fight that I asked you about this morning in 1866 in the Cherokee Nation, the Horse Creek fight? A No, sir, I don't know nothing about that.

Q Didn't you have a kinsman that was killed down there about that time, somebody that was kin to you? A Oh, I know that all right.

Q Who was that? A Wesley Vann.

Q Well, when was he killed? A He was killed the year after the war closed, he went down there and got killed and that kept the balance of us from coming.

Q Were you along? A No, sir, I wasn't, but then I was going after he got there and wrote back, but then he got killed.

Q Wasn't Lewis Martin with him? A I don't know sir, that is something I don't know.

Q Who was he with, who did this man leave with, this kinsman? A He left with another brother in law or mine.

Q What was his name? A Charley Burgess.

Q Who else? A Charley Burgess and Wesley Vann, they was only ones kin to me.

Q Who else that wasn't kin to you? A Then there was some there by the name of Gilbert Vann and Gilbert Daniels.

Q Who else? A Well, there was a young man along by the name of - I can't think of his name now, he got killed too, one of my fellow servants' sons, lived on the place with me, he got killed.

Q Was George Vann along? A No, sir, he wasn't along.

Q He wasn't there at all? A No, sir.

Q Where were you when these people left Kansas to come down here?

Q When they left why I was up here in Kansas, up in Kansas, up to Mapleton, in Bourbon county.

Q Did you stay there all the time? A Yes, sir, I hadn't been five miles from that place since I landed there, I reckon more than five miles anyhow.

Q Did you stay there during the time that these people came down here that you speak of? A Yes, sir.

Q Now don't you know Lewis Martin came down here, moved back here?

A Of course he came down here.

Q When? A Well now that is something I can't tell you when, but I know he come.

Q Did he come at that time you are talking about? A Oh no, he was up there but he didn't come when the others came, because I know he was up there.

Q Didn't he come down here with Wesley Vann, didn't they leave together to come down here? A I don't know whether he came with Wesley Vann or not, I don't know anything about that.

Q You don't? A No, sir, I don't think he ever was with them.

Q Why did you say this morning that you never heard of that fight at all? A That fight you are talking about, I didn't understand that fight, but now since I understand about the killing of my brother in law I know all about that.

Q You do? A Yes, sir, they killed him sure.

Q Did anybody that left up there come back, any of the colored people? A Now sir that is something I don't know either because I know all the balance that was with them, they went on after they got killed, they went on.

Q Did any of those that left Kansas at that time come back to Kansas? A I can't tell you not a thing about that, sir, no, sir, I can't.

Mr. Hastings: You were not in the fight? A No, sir, I was at home in Kansas and just heard about it.

Q All you know about it is just what you heard? A Yes, sir, about they killing him down there and him never coming back.

Q I believe you testified most positively you didn't know a thing about dates this morning, didn't you? A Well, I don't,

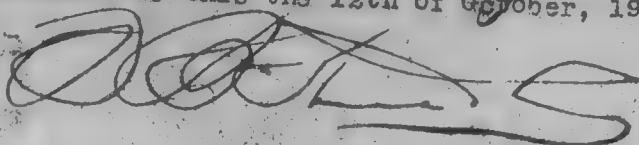

Q You didn't know a date this morning? A I don't know no dates about nothing about that, but when anybody asks me about the name of anyone that I know of course I know them, but then to come to dates I don't know no more than a child.

Commissioner: Copies of this testimony will be filed with the testimony in Cherokee Freedman cases D-956, D-957, D-658, D-911, and D-940.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Bruce G. Jones

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 12th of October, 1901.

Commissioner.

File with Cherokee Freedman B-557, Fred Martin.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Wimba, I.T., October 11, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Tobias Bean for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of the applicant.

Appearances:

Mellotte & Smith, attorneys for applicant;
W. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hastings: Let it go formally into the record what you desire to prove by these witnesses.

Mr. Mellotte: I am going to offer some additional testimony.

Mr. Hastings: That fort.

Mr. Mellotte: To show the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, out here.

Mr. Hastings: Comes now the representative of the Cherokee Nation as object to the making of any testimony as to the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, because that question was gone through out in the original examination of the applicant himself, and was thoroughly gone into, and is not now matter, and the testimony then introduced by the Cherokee Nation upon this point is not now matter so that rebuttal testimony can be allowed under any rules of procedure, Commissioner. The objection will be noted.

MARY BROWN, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Mellotte: What is your name? A. Mary Brown.

Q. How old are you, Mrs. Brown? A. I don't know my age exactly.

Q. Give an idea? A. About 30.

Q. Are you a Cherokee Indian by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. Where do you live? A. I live at what is known as the Bowling Perry Place on Grand River.

Q. How long have you lived on Grand River? A. About 17 years, down there.

Q. When did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war, if you left it? A. We came here about three weeks before Christmas, in '85.

Q. Where was your home at that time? A. About one mile and a half north of Prairie City, that is the name of the place now.

Q. Is that a point up here close to Fairland? A. Yes, used to be just a depot up above Fairland near the road.

Q. Do you remember after you came home the circumstance of hearing of a body of colored people being attacked and some of them killed on Horse Creek? A. I do.

Q. How did you first learn of that? A. There was some men came to my house to stay all night.

Q. Who were they? A. Kinck West and a band of men.

Q. Did you learn from them anything about the colored people being killed? A. Yes, sir, they told us they had killed some negroes.

Q. How many were in that party? A. I can't tell you positive.

Q. About how many, or can you give an idea? A. About six, to the best of my knowledge, I never took any particular notice how many.

Q. Did you hear anything further about it after they came to your house? A. Yes, sir, two or three days afterwards we heard some colored people got killed.

Q. Where was that? A. Somewhere on the military road near Horse

Greek.

Q How far was that from your house? A About six miles.

Q Now when was that, Mrs. Brown, that Kinch lost and his crowd came to your house and you heard of this killing of the colored people? A Fall of '88, in the fall of the year.

Q How do you know it was in the fall of the year? A Because it was getting cold weather.

Q Why do you fix it as 1888? A Well, I came home as I saw in '88, about three weeks before Christmas, and I was in a delicate condition and the baby was born the sixth day of May, in 1888, and this was the first following.

Mr. Hastings: Did you ever have any other children born? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Different times.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A Next one, well I am not able to answer that.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A In 1870.

Q That was the second one after this one? A Yes, sir.

Q When was the third one born? A I can't tell you that.

Q Did you have any more since then? A Yes, sir.

Q How many children you got? A 13 in all.

Q Now do you know what happens in September always after your children have been born? A No, sir.

Q Not why is it that you think that the child was born six months before some event happened? A Because that was a peculiar time, we had all come home to our old home, and there were no neighbors and nobody there but me and then a neighbor.

Q What were you married? A I can't tell you that.

Q You heard of this question being up before the courts five years ago didn't you? A No, sir.

Q Never heard of it? A No, sir.

Q It wasn't a matter that was discussed throughout the length and breadth of the Cherokee Nation? A I heard talk of it, but as to the date I didn't know anything about it.

Q You didn't know anything about the date? A I didn't know it was about the date.

Q You didn't hear about this last spring when we were examining the matter? A No, sir, I didn't go about the courts.

Q Where do you live now? A I live at the Newing Ferry place.

Q What is your husband's name? A Jim Brown.

Q What was your maiden name? A Mary Miller.

Q When were you married? A I told you I didn't know the date, I don't know the date.

Q And you have got thirteen children? A I have had thirteen children.

Q Now when was your second child born? A The second one was born in '88.

Q When was the third one born? A The third one was born May 26, of what year? A In 1888.

Q When was the next one born? A I don't know that.

Q Now when was the sixth one born? A He was born in 1870.

Q When was the seventh one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the eighth one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the ninth one? A Well, I don't know that.

Q Tenth one? A I told you I didn't know.

Q Eleventh one? A I don't know that.

Q Twelfth one? A I don't know, I can't count them, all of them.

Q Don't know? A No, sir, I am an abolition.

Q There was got to be thirteen children, was there? A Yes, sir, I told you just exactly.

Q How far did you live from there? A I believe I lived on the old military crossing on Newing Creek, I can't tell you that.

Q Well, how far did you live from there, was there that bridge over Newing Creek? A About 12 or 13 miles.

Q And that was the place where the child was born? A Yes, sir, that was the place.

Q Had you ever seen Bob Knight up to that time? A No, sir.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF APPLICANTS, in the matter of the application of Tobias Bean for the enrollment of himself, wife and child as Cherokee citizens.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Mellette, of Mellette & Smith, Vinita, I.T., attorneys
for the applicants;
W. W. Hastings, of attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

C.D. MARKHAM, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A C. D. Markham.

Q Where do you live? A At Tahlequah, now.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life except during the war; I went south on Red River.

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66? A I was up here at Grand River, Locust Grove.

Q What were you doing? A Selling goods.

Q Who were you selling goods for? A Why I and my brother and an old man named Elliott from Kansas were interested in the store.

Q During that summer or fall did you learn anything about a fight up on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir, sometime to the best of my recollection about the last of September in 1866. That was when a young darkey came into the store and wanted to get something out of the store and said they had a fight up at Horse Creek, and there was a shot darkey in the wagon, the wagon stopped one hundred and fifty yards from the store out in the road; I don't remember how many wagons there was.

Q Was there more than one? A Yes, sir, I think there was as many as three.

Q Where did he say the fight had occurred? A Up about Horse
Creek somewhere.

Q After he told you about the fight up there did you hear anything more about it? A Very little, because soon after that I went to Texas, and was gone about six weeks.

Q Now that was in '66 you said? A Yes, sir, I know it was '66.

Q Now you say there was a man by the name of Elliott in the store where you were working? A Yes, sir.

Q What became of him? A Well while I was gone to Texas he was killed and robbed there two miles and a half from the store, on the Orphan Asylum road, and when I come back his son had taken the goods and gone back to Kansas; the store was broke up.

Q You went to Texas in '66? A Yes, sir, about the first of October, is my recollection, and I came back sometime in November.

Q And in the meantime this man Elliott had been killed? A Yes, sir.

Q After you came back from Texas did you hear anything further about the fight on Horse Creek? A Nothing, only just rumor.

Q That there had been a fight? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't know any of the parties engaged in it? A No, sir, I don't remember those.

Q You don't know either about Toke Bean being in it? A No, sir.

Q You never saw Toke Bean at the time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know what place on Horse Creek it was? A No, sir.

Q That is all you know about it? A Yes, sir, that's all.

Q You don't know whether that is the one that Toke Bean was in or not do you? A No, sir.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q You know whether George Vann was in that fight or not? A No, sir, I don't remember the darky that come in and told me, it was a young darky that I knew at the time, but that was 7 or 8 old Joe Vann had of my age and I don't remember, it was some of the Vann darkies, but I don't remember what his name was.

Q The darky that come and told you about the fight and said they had a shot man in the wagon was some one of the Vann family? A Yes, sir, but I don't remember the name.

Q When did you see George Vann after that? A I coul'n't swear that I ever saw George Vann until '67 or '68; maybe he might have been there, I don't know.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How far did you live from Spring Creek, this store? A The store was about 4 or 5 miles.

JOSHUA ROSS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A Joshua Ross.

Q How old are you? A 69.

Q You are a Cherokee by blood? A I am.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66, and the winter of '66?

A I was at Fort Gibson, and Tahlequah.

Q Were you at any time up about Locust Grove, a store up there?

A Yes, sir.

Q What place were you? A Well, I was there at a store there, had been kept there by a man by the name of Elliott, that was in the last of December or along towards the first of January, 1867.

Q You mean was it in December '66 or along there in '67? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing there? A I was clerk of a Commission making out a list of property claims against the Government of the United States.

Q Was that after or before this man Elliott was killed? A It was after he was killed.

Q Now do you know George Vann? A I do.

Q Did you see him along about that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A I saw him there at this time.

Q While you were taking these claims? A Yes, sir.

Q This colored man George Vann is the one I mean? A Yes, sir, that was the man.

MR. HASTINGS waives cross-examination.

S.S. STEPHENS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A S. S. Stephens.

Q What is your age? A I am about 64 years old, 63 or 4.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the year '66? A I was here in the Cherokee Nation. That is in the Cherokee Nation, near Fort Gibson.

Q Do you know about a fight that has occurred up on Horse Creek between some colored people that were coming back from Kansas and some other parties? A I heard of a fight up there, through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q George Vann alive? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q Is that him standing there? (Pointing to colored man.) A That's George Vann; I can tell you how I got information through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS: I am going to object to that because he was not there and he gets his information through George Vann and this George Vann's alive, present and available.

BY COMMISSION: Answer the question.

A I met George Vann in Saline District after this fight, and there was an order, kind of an ordinance, passed by our Council, that allowed the Cherokees to kill cattle wherever they would find them, in the country, and Sam Smith asked me to write him an order; I wrote an order for Sam Smith for George Vann to kill cattle.

Q What year was that? A That was '66; I wrote the order myself. I remember making the order for more, I was elected school superintendent.

Q Now wait a minute, did you present the order to George Vann or did you talk to George Vann about that time? A Yes, sir, when I wrote the order I gave it to Smith and Smith gave it to Vann.

Q What information did you get from George Vann about the fight on Horse Creek? A He said they had a fight up there, and there was certain of the number was killed.

Q What year was that? A That was in the fall of '66 as near as I can remember.

Q And you don't know the time? A Yes, sir.

Q You wrote the order for George Vann? A For Sam Smith, for George Vann to kill cattle and he was there, there was quite a number of colored people in that neighborhood around Dave Rowe at that time, and it was then they were killing cattle all over the country, that is now, wild cattle, and in point of fact they carried it a little further.

Q Did you ever hear from any other source except George Vann the fact of there having been a fight up there? A Art Bean told me, they had a fight up there, and Art Bean's brother I think his name is Nose.

Q Did you know Tobe? A Tobe, I mean, I know them well.

Q Did Art and Tobe talk to you about the fight? A Yes, sir, they told me frequently they were in the fight, and Gilbert Vann told me that he was in the party.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q When did they tell you that? A In '66, when they first come down in the Nation; I was school superintendent and locating schools in that neighborhood and made Gilbert Vann one of the directors and I was instructed to locate no schools only among those who were actually citizens.

BY MR. MELLETTTE:

Q Then Art and Tobe Bean were here in '66? A I don't know, but they told me they were in that fight.

Q Did you talk to them in '66? A Yes, sir, I have known Art Bean ever since I was a boy; he belonged to old Washington Adair, Art Bean did.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You were clerk for the representatives of the Cherokee Nation in 1898 before the Kern Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around with us a good deal of that time? A Yes, sir.

Q This case of the Horse Creek fight was at that time a burning question? A Yes, sir.

Q Also a great many witnesses were introduced on both sides? A Yes, sir.

Q There was a great deal of discussion about it? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever go on the stand and testify at that time? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever tell me, one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation at that time the facts you know and how testify about? A No, sir.

Q Never told any one about it? A No, sir, you requested me at Claremore to see Tip Mayes' daughter, and I had a conversation with her and her conversation was what I told you I think.

Q You told me about it? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told me you knew it too? A You never asked me.

Q Well the daughter of Tip Mayes? A Rachel, the one that married Tuok Bryan, what they testified about it here, looking it up, you sent me over to see, - it was Sam's wife I think, she was there at Rachel's.

Q And I sent you over there? A Yes, sir.

Q And you came back and told me it wouldn't do? A I come back and told you they thought these people were here at home when they got back.

Q You never told me anything you knew about it? A You never asked me a single thing.

Q You never was on the stand; it was your business to help us get up testimony? A You had me to do certain duties, Hastings, and I did that.

Q This question was largely discussed at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, you never told me you knew those facts you testify about now?

A Never did I say a word to you about it.

Q How long were you with us? A Was with you during the whole time, that is from Vinita down.

Q Don't you know Sam Mayes' wife was in the Choctaw Nation when we was making that roll? A No I don't know she was in the Choctaw Nation at that time.

Q Didn't you know she was in the Choctaw Nation in '66? A I expect she was in '66.

Q Then she would not have been up here and known it? A Well like a great many of the rest of you, a great many of you were not here in '67 so far as that is concerned.

Q You saw Tohe Bean in '66? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Up here at Island Ford.

Q Living there? A I suppose living right there yet.

Q He was living there? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you positive about it? A No, I wouldn't say I am positive about it; he did live there; yes he did.

Q Have you ever been tried in any courts for anything? A No, sir.

Q Never was convicted? A No, sir. What did you ask that question for? A I am asking you right square across the counter now, you know.

BY COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed and made part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-212, D-215, D-290, D-207, D-289, D-656, D-657, D-658, D-911, D-940, D-641.

Supplemental testimony and proceedings in the matter of the application of NEATIE MARTIN for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

Mallette & Smith, attorneys for applicant.

W. W. Hastings, attorney for Cherokee Nation.

E. J. Clayton, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A E. J. Clayton.

Q What is your age? A I was 58 years old the 22d day of February last.

Q What is your post office? A Walkertown, Bourbon County, Kansas, at this time.

Q When did you come to the State of Kansas?

A I got here on the 7th day of September, 1867.

Q Did you know a colored man by the name of William Martin? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A He called her Oneada.

Q When did you become acquainted with the husband and wife?

A I suppose about the 12th, I think. I put a wagon tongue in in the shop on the 12th of September, as near as I can remember.

Q What was Bill Martin doing? A Blacksmith.

Q What is your occupation? A Farming. I did some work at the wagon business for that winter. That was my occupation for that winter, and no longer.

Q You did work at the wagon trade for that winter. A Yes sir.

Q The winter following September, 1867? A Yes sir. The winter and spring of 1867 and 1868.

Q It was the winter after you got the Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you continue to know this family, Martin and his wife? A I knew them until 1868, I think. I forget just now. He died there about that time, right south of me right on Roach's place.

Q Have any family? A Yes sir, had several children.

Q Know any of them? A Yes sir, but I have forgotten their names.

Q Did Bill Martin have a brother that you know of? A Yes sir, he had Lou Martin, who was a blacksmith and worked there with us at that time.

Q How long did you continue to live there? A Until 1876. They worked together until he went away. I seen him there, but never knew anything about him afterwards.

Q He lived around there until 1876? A Yes sir.

Q How long after you come there before you got acquainted with him in the fall of 1867?

A Both worked together in the shop. Worked all together. He had two more brothers there.

Q What were their names?

A One was Tobe and the other was Poyt. I think he was older than Bill or Lou either one. Poyt was the next one.

Q How long did you know Tobe? A Until about 1876.

Q He was a brother to Louie and Bill Martin? A Yes sir.

Q And a brother to Poyton Martin? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know Poyton Martin? A Yes sir, knew him well.

Q How long did you continue to know Poyton Martin up there?

A I knew him from 1867. They all kind of hung together, those brothers did. I knew him from 1867 to, I think it was 1869, that some fellow tried to arrest him on some kind of a charge, stealing a horse or a cow, I forget which.

Q Did he run away?

A Yes, but they caught him and brought him back, but did not appear against him, then he went away to the Cherokee Nation, and I heard that he was dead. I never knew anything about him after he left there.

Q That was in 1866? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know him continuously from 1867 to 1869?

A Yes sir, in 1867 and 1868. He worked for me in the harvest in 1868.

Q Did you know Ray's wife? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know who he married?

A A girl by the name Hannah Sheals.

Q Do you know a brother of Oneatie Martin's, Jack Bean?

A Yes sir, I know him too.

Q When did you first know him?

A It could not have been later than the middle of September, 1867.

Q How long did you know Jack Bean? A He left there in 1868.

Q Was he living there when you came there in 1867?

A Yes sir, he had made a crop up there that summer.

Q He had a family? A Yes sir, he said he had, I never seen his family to know them.

Q Did you know a colored man by the name of Tobe Bean?

A Yes sir. He was a brother to this Martin's wife, he said.

Q How long did you continue to have Tobe Bean up there?

A I knew him until 1868. He helped me harvest in 1868, I think. I am pretty sure he did. My brother and me was together there.

Q You and Bill Martin, the husband of Oneatie, worked together in the shop in the fall of 1867? A Yes sir.

Q How long worked with you? A Yes sir. Both blacksmiths and good workmen, I thought.

Q Is there any peculiar circumstances that makes you remember Jack Bean, any trade that you made with him?

A He never paid me for a pistol that I brought out of the war. I sold him a pistol that I brought home. He said he wanted to kill a nigger with it, and he never paid me for it either.

Mr. Mellette: What is your name? A E. J. Clayton.

Q Did you know Tobe Bean, who is an applicant for enrollment here, in the Cherokee Nation?

A I don't know whether he is an applicant for enrollment or not.

Q How was Tobe Bean, was he a lame man? A I think so, for he had a sore foot.

Q You will swear that it was the Tobe Bean you know?

A Yes sir, the brother of Oneatie Martin.

Q When did you know him first?

A He was there around the shop all the winter of 1867, pretty much.

Q The winter of 1868 and 1869, you mean?

A No sir, I was not here, it was 1867.

Q The winter of 1866 and 1867? A It was the fall of 1867 and the spring of 1868.

Q Don't you know that Tobe Bean, that is an applicant here for enrollment is not a lame man? A I don't know whether he is or not.

Q When did Oneatie Martin leave Kansas to come to the Cherokee Nation? A In 1877 or 1878. I don't know which.

Q She didn't come to the Cherokee Nation in 1866?

A I never heard tell of her in 1866. I was not there in 1866, I knew her in 1867.

Q You said 1877? A I said it was in 1877 when she came to the Cherokee Nation, 1877 or 1878.

Q Was she there in 1877? A She was up there in 1877 or '78. I forget which it was.

Q Where was Oneatie Martin in 1867?

A Lived on Reach's place, right south of Mapleton there.

Q Did she come to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1869?

A I was not here in 1869.

Q When did you move to Kansas? A Moved in 1867.
 Q Was Neadie Martin in Kansas when you came there? A I think she was.
 Q Do you remember her? A Yes sir.
 Q How long ago was it born? A Since 1867?
 A Thirty-three or -forty years.
 Q When were you first asked to remember back that far as to these people?
 A Never asked to remember back to these people.
 Q When were you first talked to about being a witness in this case?
 A About two or three hours ago. You mean about this Neadie Martin case, two or three hours ago.
 Q When were you first asked anything about any of these colored people up there, when you first knew them? When were you first talked to about being a witness in any of these cases?
 A A week or two ago, I guess.
 Q You have not seen any of these people since they left Kansas, have you? A No sir.
 Q You don't know anything about them? A No sir.
 Q That is a long time to remember? A I guess it is.
 Q You keep in your mind clearly all the names of these different colored people, do you?
 A Yes, and a whole lot more of them that live there.
 Q Why do you remember their names so distinctly?
 A They worked for me. This Neadie Martin washed for my wife.
 Q You remember Tobe? He is a brother to Bill Martin?
 A I think he was the oldest one of them.
 Q What county was that in? A Bourbon County, Kansas.
 Q How far from the Cherokee Line? A About 75 miles.
 Q You are positive, as positive as you are of anything in this case that Tobe Bean was in Kansas in 1867, are you?
 A I know that he was. That is, I know that there was a Tobe Bean there.
 Q Was he a lame man? A He was lame there that winter at some time. I don't know whether it was a permanent lameness, or anything about it.
 Q What time did you see him? A He was around the shop in the winter.
 Q When, of 1867? A Yes sir.
 Q That would throw him into the year 1868 too?
 A Yes sir, I think he left there in 1868 or 1869. That is, in the winter, probably, of 1868.
 Q Tobe Bean left there in 1868-9 A Yes sir, I think he did.
 Q The Tobe Bean that you are talking of? A Yes sir.
 Q He did not then, leave Kansas in the fall of 1866 or the fall of 1867? A I don't know what he did in 1866. I was not there in 1866.
 Q He didn't leave Kansas in the fall of 1867? A Not to my knowledge.
 Q Never went away? A I never missed him if he did. He was around the shop there.
 Q The Tobe Bean you are talking about did not leave Kansas until about 1869? A I think it must have been.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know whether these people came down to the Cherokee Nation afterwards, these people that you are talking about?
 A They said they was coming here.

This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases:

D-388, D-389, D-390, D-412, D-508, D-589, D-593, D-657, D-658, D-911, D-940, D-964, D-913, and in the case at bar.

I, Wm. Hutchinson, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, I correctly recorded the proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic notes thereof.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskegee, I. T., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Mellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 498, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Fred Martin, D 857;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree, because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof or any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to

of Moses Haimaire, trustee, Cherokee Nation, on in its Court of Claims to the Council of the Cherokee Nation is hereby denied.

W. Hastings

The Cherokee Nation certainly, previously, requested the allowance of this permission as to the granting of this request.
The reason that most of these applicants have had more than year in which to file their applications is that the Commission filed to make a decision on the case before the Commission. The Commission was given them all by agreement in March last. That the case should be closed so far as testimony was concerned. The Commission permission of the first of attorneys representing these applicants on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this was the day, May May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the Commission in all these cases is to make a decision on the case and no case and the case is to be closed. The Commission is to make a decision reopened unless there is a good reason for reopening the case.
either by the Cherokee Nation, the Commission, or the applicant.
on the other way an extension of time is necessary or denied.

The Commission

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee Freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the orders of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission has received notice of the hearing of said case in the proceedings before the Commission, the Commission is to make a decision under additional time to file said case. The Commission is to make a decision the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he has correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes.

in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings;

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

- Q Where did you live before '66? A Before '66 I lived here till the breaking out of the war I went to Kansas.
- Q You said you had been living in the Cherokee Nation more or less since 1866? A I was running around, I have been in the Cherokee Nation, I never lived anywhere particular, worked around, I worked in Kansas some of the time, my home has been here ever since '66.
- Q Where did you live before the war broke out between the North and South? A I lived on Grand River.
- Q Were you a slave in that time? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you a slave at the time the war broke out? A Yes, sir.
- Q Here in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q To whom did you belong? A Joe Martin.
- Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q Have you been duly recognized and admitted to the rolls as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir, I am not.
- Q Give me the name of your father? A My father's name was Harry Martin, was my owner's name.
- Q Is he dead? A Yes, sir.
- Q Has he been dead how long? A Well, I don't know, he died during of the war.
- Q Give me the name of your mother? A Gelia.
- Q Is she dead? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long since she died? A I don't know, about ten or twelve years as near as I can remember.
- Q Was she a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was she duly recognized as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir, she was too old to ever get around to be recognized.
- Q Give me the name of your child? A Ernest Martin.
- Q How old is the child? A I think, as well as I can remember, it is about 12 years old.
- Q Is your child living now? A Yes, sir.
- Q Give me the name of the mother of that child? A Sarah.
- Q Your wife Sarah? A Yes, sir.
- Q Is she dead? A No, sir.
- Q She is living, is she? A Yes, sir.
- Q Have you and she parted? A No, sir.
- Q Why don't you not apply for her? A Well, because she is a non citizen, she isn't a citizen.
- Q When did you marry Sarah? A I married her I think about '64.
- Q Where did you marry her? A Married her in Kansas.

Q Have you and her lived together as husband and wife ever since 1864. A Yes, sir.

Q How old is your wife? A I think, as well as I can remember, she is about 54 years old.

Q What district were you living in in 1880, or were you living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q What district were you in? A I was in Cooweescoowee part of the time.

Q Are you on any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you ever drawn money? A Yes, sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The 1898 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

A I am not on that I know; I know the reason why I am not.

Q Did you draw Cherokee strip money? A Yes, sir.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined, and the applicants identified thereon as follows:

Lewis Martin on page 158, No. 3916, Cooweescoowee district, as Louis Martin.

Ernest Martin on page 158, No. 3918, Cooweescoowee district.

Sarah Martin not on Kern-Clifton roll.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant Lewis Martin identified thereon, page 151, No. 2742, Cooweescoowee district.

Q Your wife Sarah, she is not on any roll at all? A No, sir, she is not a citizen.

Q Were you ever married except to her? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times were you married before you married her? A Only once.

Q Was your wife dead when you married Sarah? A Yes, sir.

Q Was Sarah ever married except to you? A Well, no, sir, she wasn't married before she married me.

Q Hadn't she ever lived with a man as husband and wife? A No, sir.

Q Well now, how comes it you are not on the roll of 1880; didn't you apply? A The reason I didn't apply a man used to live with me and another fellow I was acquainted with, he had went to enroll and they told him they wasn't enrolling any negroes that has been in Kansas, and I knew I had been there, and didn't go.

Q How comes it you are not on the 1898 roll? A I am not on the 1898 roll; I went towards the enrolling, I didn't go for that purpose, and I asked the question, what are you doing, and a man told me they were taking a roll of the Cherokees, and I didn't pay any more attention, I just walked off, I knew I wasn't any Cherokee.

Q You were up in Kansas during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q What time did you come from Kansas? A Come back in the fall of '66.

Q How did you happen to come back in '66? A Well, the postmaster was reading the paper, and he told me, and he asked me did I live in the Cherokee Nation before the war, and I told him yes, sir, and he said you people that belong in that Cherokee Nation down there have the same rights as they have, says if you will go back, and I told him at the time I didn't care nothing about it, I was a little afraid and he says don't be afraid, they have made a treaty and if you all go back you have the same rights as they have, and I pulled up and started.

Q You came back when you heard of that treaty? A Yes, sir.

Q You came back in order to keep your being in Kansas from counting against you? A I don't understand that.

Q Did you come back so as to be within the time fixed by the treaty? A Yes, sir, that is what I aimed to do.

Q Did you understand that if you came back within a certain time that your being in Kansas wouldn't count against you? A Yes, sir, he told me if I came back in '66, he says you will be a citizen of that country.

Q That is what you understood at the time? A That is the way I understood it.

Q Was that your object then in coming back in '63? A Yes, sir, that was my object.

Q So as to get your rights? A So as to get my rights.

Q So your being in Kansas wouldn't be counted against you? A That is what I thought.

Q Now comes it when you went to enroll in 1880 you didn't go on up to be enrolled, when somebody mentioned you had been in Kansas?

A Well, I told you the reason I didn't go: I didn't have any one to go with me, I had got bushwhacked once and I was afraid to go around much, I was bushwhacked coming back from Kansas and three got killed out of my crowd.

Q Were you still afraid of that in 1880? A Yes, sir, I was still afraid of that and I am still afraid of running about by myself.

By J. S. Davenport, Cherokee Attorney: Where were you living in 1880

A I didn't have any established home, I was working around living along with my people, with my brothers wife, Junie, I didn't have any regular home, I didn't stationary myself at all, because I was hard up and didn't have nothing.

Q Did you have any family? A I have got a family, but my family wasn't with me.

Q Where was your family in 1880? A They were here sometimes.

Q Wasn't they living in 1880 in Kansas? A They was here part of the time in 1880, and part of the time in Kansas.

Q What part of the time in 1880? A I can't tell you just what month they were here, they were there some and some here.

Q The some they were making the roll down here they were that some up in Kansas? A No, sir, they wasn't.

Q When you came back from Kansas just after the close of the war, what year was that you came back to the Territory? A I came about '66.

Q Didn't you come back first according to your own testimony in '63? A I came back here and went to Fort Gibson driving a train in '65 c. '64.

Q And you went back to Kansas after that? A Yes, sir.

Q And the next time you came back was in '67? A No, I came here in '66, I came here in '65 sure.

Q You testified before the Kern-Clifton Commission, didn't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q Didn't you testify there that you came down to the Territory in '65 and made a crop, went back to Kansas, and then came back?

A No, sir.

Q (Reading) "I was bushwhacked on my way to Fort Gibson on Horse Creek, they killed three of our crowd, I came back the last time in 1887." Now did you testify to that or not before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I did not, it was a mistake somehow or other, for it was in '66 when I came back.

Q For several years you lived in Kansas and the Territory and back and forth just anywhere? A I lived in Kansas not a year since '66.

Q But you have been living there? A I have worked there, I am living anywhere where a man stops.

Q Did your wife and children live up there for quite a while after 1866? A No, sir.

Q Did they ever live there at all? A Lived there; when she wanted to go back there, when she wanted to be confined, her mother lived there, and she would live with her.

Q Where did you first locate and make a home in the Cherokee Nation after you came back? A I didn't build any place, I just located on Pryor Creek right close to my sister, and I just kept on improvements up there, the claim.

Q What part of Pryor Creek? A I can't tell you; close where my sister lives, eight or ten miles north of Chalewa.

Q When was that? A I can't tell you, that has been 18 or 19 years ago.

Q That was the time you came back from Kansas? A No it wasn't.

Q Where did you live in the Cherokee Nation before you lived up there on Pryor Creek? A I lived some here in Vinita around north of Vinita and south of Vinita.

Q Who was living in Vinita at the time? A Lots of people, I don't know.

Q About what year was that? A I can't tell you just what year that was either.

Q Was that before or after the railroads were built to Vinita? A It was after the railroad was built I lived here.

Q Did you come to Vinita and locate immediately after you came from Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Where did you locate before you came to Vinita? A I tell you I stayed a while with Mose Riley before that, they are relations of mine, I stayed with them.

Q Where did Mose Riley live? A He lived out west of Chelsea, northwest of a while.

Q That is where your sister lived? A No, I have got no sister, I have one sister living, none but there, no, sir.

Q Where did you live before you went to Mose Riley's, after you came back to the Cherokee Nation? A I tell you I never had any stationary home at all, I just lived here and there, where I could get a job, I never built.

Q Where did the other people live you stayed with? A I tell you I never stayed with none, I just went around with my kin people, I stayed a while with Riley and I stayed at my sister's and I stayed at Dave Mar in's on Big Creek, and another cousin of mine called Nellie Wilson.

Q Who did you stay with when you were living in Vinita? A I stayed with my own people.

Q Who were your own people? A My family, they were living in Vinita then.

Q Did they have any name? A Yes, sir.

Q Why can't you tell the name? A There was my wife, and Bill my stepson.

Q Bill who? A Bill Martin they called him, and George Martin, Fred Martin, Jannette Martin.

Q They were all living here in Vinita at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was that town in Kansas that that postmaster called your attention to the treaty being made? A It was in a little town they called Mapleton.

Q Was there any railroad there at that time? A No, sir.

Q How far was it to a railroad from where you lived? A I can't tell you, I don't recollect whether there was any railroad at all.

Q About how far from the Cherokee line? A I can't tell you that.

Q Was it in sight of the line? A In sight; why not that I know of.

Q How long did it take you to reach the line of the Cherokee Nation when you started? A I don't know where the line was and don't yet.

Q Where do you live now? A I live near Chelsea.

Q You have lived here since '88 you say? A Yes, sir, from time I say I was here living.

Q And you don't know where the line of the Cherokee Nation is between the Nation and Kansas? A No, I don't.

Q Have you ever been back to Kansas since '88? A Yes, sir.

Q How do you know when you got back to Kansas? A When I came to the town I know it was Kansas.

Commissioner: How many children have you altogether? A I have five, I tell you, as well as I can recollect.

Q What are their names? What is the name of the oldest one?

A My oldest one is named John.
 Q How old is John? A I don't know just exactly, I can't tell, he is something in thirty.
 Q What is the name of the next child? A George.
 Q How old is George? A George I think is thirty something too.
 Q The next child? A Fred.
 Q How old is Fred? A He is 24 or 25, I just can't remember their ages, I haven't got them down.
 Q What is the next child after Fred? A Albert.
 Q How old is Albert? A He is about 21 years old.
 Q What is the next child? A He is about 18.
 Q What is his name, Ernest? A Yes, sir.
 Q That is the child you are applying for? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was John born? A John was born in Kansas.
 Q Where was George born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Fred born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Albert born? A In Kansas.
 Q Where was Ernest born? A Out here near Chelsea.
 Q Are you keeping house in the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where is your house? A My house is out about three miles north of Chelsea.
 Q How long have you lived there? A 13 or 14 years, as well as I can recollect.
 Q Been living there in that one house? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you ever keep house before that? A No, not always.
 Q Have you any other children besides these five you have named here? A Yes, there is another child there, he is a stepchild.
 Q Have you any children of your own I mean, you and this wife? A Yes, sir, I had one.
 Q That one is dead? A Yes, sir.
 Q What was the name of that child? A She was named Eliza.
 Q How old would she be if she was living now? A I can't tell you, she was born before the war.
 Q She was older than John? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was she born? A She was born here in the Territory before the war.
 Q Before the war you think? A Well, I think just about the beginning of the war, or maybe before.
 Q Is she the child of this woman Sarah? A No, sir.
 Q Child of another woman? A Yes, sir, she is dead.
 Q That is the first wife you had? A Yes, sir.
 Q You say that you and your family have never kept house except in the house where you are living now? A No, never kept house, never have, I brought all my things here in '55, I never had nothing, and left them up on Spring Creek and never got them.
 Q Has your wife been with you all the time in your roving backwards and forwards? A No, she wasn't with me, sometimes I would send for her and sometimes I would go myself, send her back to her mothers.
 Q To Kansas? A Yes, sir, her mother lived there.
 Q Sometimes you would take her? A No, I never took her myself nary a time.
 Q Well, now you told me that you had been living in the Cherokee Nation off and on, and you have been in Kansas, and to the Cherokee Nation off and on? A I have been there yes, sometimes.
 Q Now all your information is of an extremely indefinite character; can't you tell me in plain, practical, common-sense way just where you and your wife and all these children have been spending your time since 1865? A Yes I can tell you.
 Q Well do it? A Well, I will tell you.
 Q Give me the names of the places and the times you have lived at those places; you have had too much of a family just to be a rolling stone all the time? A Well, they were not rolling all the time. Three of these biggest children has stayed with their mother, their grandmother, the biggest part of the time.

Q I am talking about you too? A Well maybe I was here working around and sometimes I would work up there in Kansas, I would work sometimes two months or three months and I would come down here.

Q Have you had any settled abiding place at all? A No, sir, not a year at a time.

Q Have you not been stationed at one place for several years?

A No, sir, not since 1866, on up till 1880, no, sir.

Q Not been staying as much as one year at a place? A Yes, I have stayed as much as a year.

Q How many times have you stayed at one place as much as one year?

A Many a time but once.

Q When was that? A I can't tell you the year at all, it has been some time ago.

Q Was it before 1880? A I think it was as well as I can remember.

Q Just working from pillar to post? A Just worked where I could get a job.

Q And your wife not going around on these little trips with you?

A No, sir.

Q Did you ever vote up there in Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Have you anybody here who knows that you and your wife have been married? A Yes, sir.

Q Who is there here? A Toke Bean.

TOBE BEAN, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name? A Toke Bean.

Q How old are you? A About 62 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Been living here all my life.

Q Do you know this applicant here, Lewis Martin? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Been knowing him forty or fifty years I guess, we were boys together.

Q Do you know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What is her name? A Sarah.

Q Was this man ever married except to this woman? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times? A Once is all I know of.

Q Was that wife dead when he married this woman? A Yes, sir.

Q About how long have he and this woman Sarah been married?

A Must be thirty some odd years I guess.

Q Have they been living together ever since as husband and wife?

A Yes, sir, to my knowing.

Q Where did you first know his wife Sarah? A Up in Kansas at Mapleton.

Q Where is she at that time? A She is up on Panther Creek.

Q How long has she been living out there? A I don't know how long she has been living there.

Q How far is that from Vinita? A About twenty miles, out the other side of Chelsea.

Q Has she been living there long? A Yes, sir.

Q Is she keeping house out there? A Yes, sir.

Q Who lives there with her? A Mr. Martin here and his family lives there.

Q Any children living there with them? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know how long they have been living out there?

A No, sir, I don't know exactly.

Q You think that is twenty miles or some such matter from Vinita?

A Yes, sir.

Q Have they been living there as much as five years? A Yes, sir, longer than that I guess.

Q They have been living there as much as seven years? A Yes, sir, I reckon seven years or longer, been longer I guess, I don't know exactly when he moved there? I live out east here and he lives west out there.

Q Have you ever been to that house? A Yes, sir, been to that house.

Q You know just where it is? A Yes, sir.

Q How often have you as a general thing seen this man Lewis Martin, say along for the last twenty years? seen him every six or eight months? A Yes, sir, sometimes about a year before I see him, we live a good piece apart to see him pretty often.

Q What do you know about his doings along from '66 down to this time, where has he been living? A Living at Vinita a while, and Pryor Creek, and I don't know where he did live.

Q A man who has got a family of children and a wife, generally every man has some kind of a living place, where has he been making his home mostly since '66 or '68, since the war closed? A Out on Pryor Creek I reckon, but he lives a good piece from me, I haven't been keeping the run of him; I see him once in a while though.

Q You have been seeing him every six or eight months or a year?

A Yes, sir, sometimes maybe a year.

Q And you don't know where he has been living during that time?

A No, sir.

Q Can you name any place that he has been making his home except out here on Panther Creek? A Lived here at Vinita a while.

Q How long did he live in Vinita? A I don't know exactly how long I know he made a crop or two.

Q Do you know where he has been, any other place except Panther Creek and Vinita? A I heard he was living on Pryor Creek, I never seen him when he lived down at there.

Q That is all you can say about where he has been living and all that? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: Where was he living when you first got acquainted with his wife Sarah? A In Kansas.

Q About how long has that been? A About thirty some odd years ago.

Q Do you know whether or not he moved from Kansas to this place out here north of Chelsea where he is living with his family now?

A No, sir, I don't think he did, for he lived at Vinita before I moved there.

Q Do you know whether or not his family ever lived at Vinita?

A Yes, sir.

Q Anywhere near this place out there near Rollin K. Adair's place out north from there? A I don't know, I know his place must be two or three miles northwest of Chelsea.

LEWIS MARTIN, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: The Commission has not yet decided whether a person can acquire rights as a Freedman by intermarriage, and your life, if you have rights, may have rights as an intermarried Cherokee Freedman. So you had better include her in your application. You agree to that, do you? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and one child. The applicant is identified on the Wallace roll and on the Kern-Clifton roll. He is not identified on the roll of 1880 or on the census roll of 1896. The testimony in regard to his residence after the war will need to be carefully considered. It is not contested that he was a Cherokee slave before the breaking out of the war, and he will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

His wife is not identified on any roll, but it is shown in a satisfactory manner that they were married some thirty four or more years ago. The applicant states that he was once previously married, but this former wife was dead when he married his present wife, and that this present wife was never married except to him. They were married in the State of Kansas. For the further consideration of her rights, she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

The child, Ernest Martin, said to be 12 years of age, and now living, is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the census roll of 1880. This child will now be listed with his father and mother as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card.

File with Cherokee Freedmen, B-458

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Cherokee, I. T., Feb 22, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Tobias Bean et al. for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearance:

Mallett & Smith, attorneys for applicants;

W. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Jess COCHRAN, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q. What is your name? A. Jess Cochran.

Q. What is your age? A. About 53.

Q. Where were you born? A. Here in the Cherokee Nation.

Q. Cherokee by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live in '65 and '66? A. Out here on Grand River, it was known as the Johnson Thompson place.

Q. A brick house there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Cochran, was your father living with you in '65? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did your father die? A. In the fall of '66, he was killed the 2nd of October.

Q. Where was he killed? A. On the military road at what was known as the Bob Daniels place.

Q. How far was that from the place you are living? A. It is about three miles.

Q. On what side of the Grand River were you living? A. It would be on the west side, same side the military road was.

Q. Do you know Bob Daniels Knight, who is a witness here in this case

A. No, sir, not that time.

Q. You didn't know him then? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know him now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you take any steps after your father's death to apprehend, to catch the people who did the killing? A. Yes, sir, I went and got the sheriff and his posse, we were trying to find the men that killed him, his name is Lewis Vittetau.

Q. Where did you go? A. I went up right northwest on what is known as Cabin Creek, over near the Lee Schrimsher place, and couldn't see any track of a wagon, which I thought he had gone and left in a wagon, and then I came across northeast in the direction of Horse Creek and I found the place what was known as the old Knight place, it would have been about the first of November.

Q. After your father was killed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was anyone living there at that time? A. No, sir, there wasn't anyone there at all.

Q. You made an examination of the house at that time? A. Well, we just rode around there, there wasn't a soul in there, it was open and vacant, I had been there before.

Q. You made an examination and wasn't anybody living there? A. No,
sir.

Q. Did you have occasion to pass by this same house after that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long after this? A. It was along in about, I would say about the 10th or 15th of December.

Q. Of what year? A. The same year.

Q. Was anybody living there at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know who afterwards lived in that house? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You know what place it was called, known as? A. Oh yes, I know it was the old Knight place.

Q. What name? A. It was near Horse Creek.

Q Where did you move away from in the old place on Grand river?

A In the country of...

Q As to that time, did you hear of any... upon any negroes on horse...

Mr. Mallette: I object to the question as not material in this case. It is a hearsay.

Mr. Hastings: It is a circumstance that unquestionably ought to be admitted.

Objection: I don't think that is a material question.

Q Did you know of any? A Only just heard of it.

Q Did you hear of it at that time? A In 1867, the fall that I went down to Cabin Creek to the store, a man by the name of Maul was selling goods there, and they told me the soldiers had just passed.

Q Don't tell what they said, the others. A That is the only way
I got any information there had been a fight.

Q You haven't heard of any fight before you went to the Knight place in '66? A No, sir.

Q Do you know this applicant, Robt Bean? A I don't know whether
I do or not. In the last few years I might have seen him a time or two; at that time I don't think I knew him.

Q How far were you living from Andy Frye and Millie Frye when your father was killed in October of 1866? A It must have been about two miles, just where the road crosses the river, might not have been that far.

Q You didn't know Robt Bean then? A No, I knew the others that was living there.

Q You were acquainted with the other colored people who were living over there? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see Robt Bean over there in that year? A I don't remember whether I did or not.

Mr. Mallette: They had a good many fights around through this country along about that time, didn't they? A No, sir, there wasn't any as I know of.

Q No fights at all? A At that time there wasn't nobody killed.

A Well there was when my father got killed a month before that.

Q Where did he get killed? A On the military road.

Q Could a fight have occurred and you not heard of it? A It might have been, but I never heard of any.

Q Do you claim to have heard of every fight that occurred in this country? A That was after the war, it was people you knew.

Q Do you swear that you heard of every fight that occurred?

A Well, I would remember it if I did hear it. I don't think I heard of any.

Q Where did you say you lived along about that time? A On Grand River.

Q How old were you then? A Well, I must have been nearly 20 years old.

Q What part of Grand River did you live? A In '66, as I said where I was living on what was known as the Johnson Thompson place, a brick house.

Q Near what place on Grand River now? A I believe they call it the Hatchum place now.

Q On which side of the river were you living? A I would call it on the east side of the river.

Q You ought to know? A That is what it is.

Q Mr. Hastings has asked you something about the Knight place; what place is that he was talking to you about? A Well, that is right pret'y much north from the Thompson place, right due north.

Q How far from where you lived? A From that place, the Thompson place, well it couldn't have been over 10 miles.

Q Were you well acquainted in that country? A I was, yes, sir.

Q Up where that house stood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is it now? A It was known as the Knight place, it was vacant then.

Q How often did you go in that country? A Well, I can't tell you just how often I had.

Q I just want to know how often you had been up in that country?

A I had been to that place since then that year.

Q Do you remember every place, do you remember for 35 years afterwards every place that was vacant at that time? A Yes, sir, I do.

Q You can remember now every place that you passed by in '66 that was vacant at that time? A Yes, sir, there wasn't but one old place between them, known as the Ben Landrum place, that was the only place there was there.

Q You just passed by these places in question? A Yes, sir.

Q Came right through that country? A Yes, sir, came on the military road.

Q Who did you say was with you? A My father when I first got acquainted with the place.

Q Who was with you the last time? A Tom Thompson and old man Johnson.

Q You rode by this place? A Yes, sir, rode right along and stopped at the spring there.

Q Were you driving or riding? A In a wagon.

Q You stopped at the spring and passed on; is that all you did?

A Yes, that was about all we done.

Q How close to the house did you go? A Well, it must have been in the yard, but there wasn't any yard fence, the road ran right along by the house.

Q That was 35 years ago or 36 years ago? A I guess it was, it was in '66, in the fall, or winter.

Q How do you know it was in '66? A I know it, I had a posse with me when I came by this place.

Q There has been a good deal of talk about these people remembering '66; how do you remember it; you didn't have to get back? A No, no sir.

Q There wasn't anything to make you remember '66? A Only my father got killed on October 28, 1866.

Q You say you started out to hunt the people that killed him?

A Yes, sir.

Q And Tom Johnson was with you? A No, that was the last time I was up there.

Q The last time that Tom Thompson was with you? A Yes, sir.

Q What year was it Tom Thompson was with you? A In December, as I said, about the 10th or 15th.

Q You remember now it was the 10th or 15th of December? A Yes, sir.

Q How do you remember to remember it? A Old man Johnson Thompson moved into the house we were living in, and they went on up in a wagon, and I went with them, to Naasno, to get some groceries.

Q How do you remember at this time it was the 10th or 15th of December? A Because it was Christmas coming, we had to get back before Christmas.

Q Might not it have been in November? A No, sir, it wasn't in November.

Q When did you have your attention called to this time before this; never thought of this till since this freedom court has been sitting here? A I don't know, it has been talked about for several years.

Q When was it talked about? A This matter came up about the same way at the Clifton court.

Q You never thought about it then till the Clifton court? A They told me I was subpoenaed on that.

Q The Clifton court is the first time you ever thought about this thing that occurred thirty years before that time, is it? A The first time I ever swore to it, I knew those facts though.

Q You testified to the same facts before the Clinton Court you testified to now? A Yes, sir, as far as I can remember.

Q What do you know about it; do you think you gave the same testimony then you do now? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember about Al Lynch getting shot, this colored man, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, I know just about what time, I wasn't there to see.

Q What year was it? A It was in '86.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir, I let him have the whisk-ey to get drunk on.

Q Well now you know it was in '86 that Mose Baah shot Al Lynch do you, Mose Whitmire shot Al Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q You went and notified some people that that was the time, at that time, that he had been shot? A No, sir, I hadn't nothing to do with it.

Q Didn't you go down to Dave Rowe's and tell him Mose Whitmire had shot Al Lynch? A No, sir.

Q You didn't? A No, sir.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, I had nothing to do with it.

Q But didn't you just carry the information down there to Rowe's that Al Lynch had been shot? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q You will swear that? A Oh yes, I never carried any such news.

Q Didn't tell anybody at all? A Of course I might have said that, it was rumored, everybody knew it.

Q Hadn't you been telling it down at Rowe's, about Al Lynch having been shot? A No, sir, I don't think I did.

Q You hadn't mentioned it down there at all; you know where Rowe lived, didn't you? A Old man Dave Rowe?

Q How close is it to you? A It is 20 or 25 miles.

Q Do you remember being down there in '86? A Not positively, I was occasionally down to Tahlequah, and it was on the road down there.

Q And you don't remember anything about that? A No, sir, it was a common thing that he got shot.

Mr. Hastings: What official positions, if any, have you held?

A Well, I have held the Solicitor and Sheriff, I was one of the Associate Supreme Court judges.

Q Delegate to Washington? A Yes, sir.

R. D. KNIGHT, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A R. D. Knight.

Q What is your age? A 54.

Q Where do you live? A Now, I live in Vinita.

Q How long have you lived there, a number of years? A 35 years.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was the first place that you lived in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A On Hoffee Creek.

Q What district is that in? A Delaware district.

Q Was there any road that run by your place at that time? A The old military road, we used to call it.

Q Were you arrested, Mr. Knight, at any time directly after your return? A Yes, it was probably in the latter part of December, yes, it must have been in the latter part of December following my return in the fall.

Q Where were you taken? A Van Buren.

Q What have you charged with? A Killing some negroes that was passing down the road there.

Q Well, and some negroes passed your place prior to that time?

A Yes, prior to my arrest.

Q Did any of them get killed at your place? A Yes, there was I saw two, anyway was killed there, I heard there was three, I don't know.

Q Any others wounded? A There was one, I don't know, that is only from hearsay, I saw him when he was fired at, but I didn't see he was wounded.

Q Did you see the shooting? A Yes, sir, the most of it, the first two or three shots I didn't see.

Q Several colored people along? A Yes, looked to me like there might have been fifty in all, or more.

Q Did you ever learn, either at that time or afterwards, who composed that crowd? A Yes.

Q Well, who?

Mr. Mellette: Hold on, did he see who they was?

Q Did you know any of them? A I saw the most of them, but I didn't know the names.

Q Did you ever talk to Robt Bean here afterwards? A I don't remember that I ever did about it; yes, I might have made some little remark some time, I don't know whether there was ever anything said between us about it.

Q Did you ever learn who composed the crowd? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards?

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, it is an improper question.

Q Did you learn that? A Yes, sir.

Q How soon afterwards? A It was early in the spring after my arrest in the winter, two of these parties that came to my house —

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, no hearsay evidence.

Q Did they talk over the fight that had occurred there prior to that? A Yes, sir, they told me they were in it.

Mr. Mellette: Hold on, I object.

Q Who was that? A Who was that came to my house?

Q Yes? A A young man by the name of Lem Smith and a man named John Willis.

Mr. Mellette: I object to that, they are not parties to this case, because it would not be competent.

Q That was on Horse Creek? A That was two and a half miles south, we called it Horse Creek, that is right on the side of the creek.

Q You saw the killing, did you, the shooting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know when that was? A Well, to the best of my recollection, it was in probably the first of October, or about there, in 1867, the best I can figure it out; as to saying positive, I can't do it.

Q But that is your best judgment? A That is my best judgment.

Q And you were afterwards arrested and accused of it? A Yes, sir, in the following December, the latter part of December.

Q Well, did you move back to this place when you first moved back after the war, when this shooting took place? A Yes, sir.

Q And that was on the military road, was it? A Yes, sir, on the military road.

Q About how far, Mr. Knight, was this place from where the old Johnson Thompson, or Ketchum place is, on Grand River? A Well, it is in the neighborhood of ten miles; a little more or a little less, I don't know just what we do call it.

Q The military road run past by it? A Not by the Thompson place.

Q By your place I mean? A Oh yes.

Q I will ask you whether or not this Robt Bean has ever talked to you about being shot at that place? A Well, I am not certain but what something might have on, say, I think I remember, that he said something about being in that fight, or something about being

Q How far is that from Chetopa, Kansas? A About four miles.
 Q That direction from Russell Creek? A We lived on Russell Creek.
 Q Well, where did you move to that fall? A Moved to the mouth of Horse Creek.
 Q Where were you living in '87? A On Horse Creek, right at the mouth of Horse Creek on Grand River.
 Q Do you know the applicant, John Scott? A I have seen him, I don't know as I am acquainted with him.
 Q Mr. Trotter, any time after the war, did or did you not hear of the circumstance of some colored people being killed near the old Knight place on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir.
 Q When did you hear of that? A It was in the fall of '87.
 Q How far were you living from the Knight place at that time?
 A About four miles.
 Q Mr. Mollette, now Mr. Trotter, do you remember that you came back here in the spring of '86? A I think I do.
 Q How in the world do you know it? A I was in the army and was mustered out in '85, in the fall, and the next summer we moved down here, the next spring.
 Q Where did you come from? A Kansas.
 Q What did you do in Kansas after you were discharged before you came down here? A I didn't do any work particularly.
 Q Where did you stay? A In Woodson County.
 Q Who did you live with up there? A My father and mother.
 Q What time did you start back here in '86? A It was in the spring.
 Q In the spring of '86, how did you come? A In wagons.
 Q Travel through the country? A Yes, sir.
 Q Many people living in this country at that time? A I didn't see but very few after we got in the Territory.
 Q Well, where did you first strike the Cherokee Nation? A Right up there on the line south of Chetopa.
 Q Which way did you come? Come by Virginia? A We came on the Neosho River.
 Q Did you come by Virginia? A No, sir.
 Q How else did you come? A Came right down the Neosho River all the time till we struck the Territory line there.
 Q Then how did you come? A We went up by the creek after we struck the line and stopped.
 Q You stopped just inside the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
 Q Up there on Russell Creek? A Yes, sir.
 Q In the spring of '86? A Yes, sir.
 Q What month? A I don't know exactly as I can name the month.
 Q How long did you stop up there? A We stayed all the summer of '86.
 Q What did you do in the fall? A In the fall we moved to Horse Creek.
 Q What time in the fall? A Tolerably late in the fall, I don't know the exact date of it.
 Q You say you heard of a fight in the fall of '87? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where were you living at that time? A Living at the mouth of Horse Creek, living on Grand River.
 Q How many fights did you ever hear of along about that time?
 A That is the only one.
 Q You never heard of anybody being killed up there except that?
 A Not that year I don't think I did.
 Q Now are you positive about that? A I think that is the only fight I heard of.
 Q You had simply heard of it, that is all, is it? A Well, as the troops in there was a great deal of trouble, besides the some that were killed.
 Q What was the trouble about? A Well, there was some about the land taken over from the Indians, and some about the money.

Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Federal troops? A Yes, sir.

Q Don't you know there were not any troops at Van Buren in '67?

A I don't know anything about it.

Q You say the troops all right, did you? A I did.

Q How many? A Seemed to me like about 30 or 35.

Q White or colored? A White men.

Q Who commanded them? A I don't know that.

Q Where did you see them? A I saw them at my house on Horse Creek.

Q They told you they were from Van Buren, Arkansas, the troops did? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first know about this fight, that it was in '67 that that fight occurred? When was that first called to your attention Mr. Trott, since this Freedmen's Court has been in operation?

A No, sir, I have heard of it all along.

Q I know, but have known a good many things that haven't been particularly called to your attention; when was it called to your attention after that fight occurred? A I have spoke about it a good many times, I don't know, I have heard it talked about ever since then.

Q How did it happen to come up, why did you talk about it? A I don't know, it was the general talk through the country after it was fought, after the fight.

Q That has been 35 years ago, or 35 years ago; what was there to keep it in your mind? A Well I know that I had been there on Horse Creek a year, or pretty near a year, before it happened, that is one thing that kept in in my mind, I was not there in the fall of '66 until very late in the fall, and it was the next fall.

Q What time do you say you went down on Horse Creek from Russell Creek? A Late in the fall of 1866.

Q What time? A I don't know the month, but it was way late in the fall.

Q Were you in the army? A I was.

Q In any fights? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Prairie Grove, Arkansas.

Q That the only fight? A That is all.

Q You remember when that was, don't you? A I don't know as I remember the exact date, I know it was in the winter of 1863.

Q '63? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't mean that? A Yes, sir, '63 I meant to say.

Q The winter of '63, was it before Christmas or after Christmas?

A I guess it must have been after Christmas.

Q Was that in '62 or '63? A '63.

Q What month in '63? A I don't recollect the month.

Q Was that in the first part of '63 or the last part of '63?

A I can't tell you exactly.

Q You can't put it in three or four or five or six or ten months when that fight took place? A It was in the winter of '63.

Q There is two pieces of winter now in the year 1863, the first part of '63 is in the winter and the last part of '63, was it the first part of '63 or the last part? A I think it is in the first part.

Q You are satisfied of that? A I am not satisfied of it positively.

Q You are not as well satisfied of that as you are the Horse Creek fight was in the fall of '67? A I don't know about that Horse Creek fight because I was living there.

Q You were in the Prairie Grove fight, and still you know more about the date of the Horse Creek fight than that? A The other hand I have been there for a long time.

Q There has been some three years difference.

G. W. CLARKE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A. G. W. Clarke.

Q. What is your age? A. My coming birthday, I will be 38.

Q. A citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You lived in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A. All my life.

Q. You were in the army, were you? A. I was in the northern army.

Q. Where were you mustered out? A. I was mustered out in Fort Gibson on the last of May, in 1865.

Q. Where did you live the rest of the year of 1865? A. I lived on the river.

Q. Grand River? A. Yes, Grand River, in the fall of '65 I came on the river the next day after I was mustered out, and I was married there eight days afterwards.

Q. Where did you live in the year 1866, make a crop?

A. I made a crop on what is known as the Ellis McDaniel place on the west side of the river, it is commonly known as the Adair place now.

Q. Did you make a crop on the same place in '67? A. No, sir, the treaty was made in July and reverted the place, I owned a confiscated place, it was sold as a southern place, and I had a place of my own in about nine miles, going around by the river made it about 15 miles.

Q. Was the place you moved to farther up on Grand River than where you had been living in '66? A. Yes, sir, go through and cross the river twice and it is about nine miles, and the other way is about 15 or 16 miles.

Q. After the war, Mr. Clarke, did you hear of some colored people being in a fight and getting killed on Horse Creek? did you hear of the circumstances? A. Yes, sir, I heard of the fight they said there was some colored people killed there, there was a young colored man passed my place and told about it, along in September, as well as I recollect, it was early in the fall.

Q. Where were you living when you heard of that incident?

A. I was living in the Six Mile Bottom in the fall of 1867.

Q. You know Tobe Bean the applicant? A. Yes, they are neighbors of mine, have been for a long time, Art Bean, very good men, too.

Mr. Smith: Judge Clarke, you don't know what fight that was you heard of in '67? A. I only know they said some fellows run on some colored people and there was a fight up there, and I disremember some of them was killed in the fight.

Q. You don't remember whether anybody was killed in the fight you heard about? A. No, sir, it has been so long ago.

Q. It was right hard to remember about a fight at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have a good many? A. Yes, sir, a plenty.

Q. You don't know which fight that is you are talking about?

A. That is what made me bring it to mind, some fellows run on some colored people up there, that was all.

Mr. Hastings: You were in the northern army? A. Yes, sir, I was in the northern army.

Q. Did you hear about that place on Horse Creek this fight occurred?

A. I don't know as I did, it has been so long, heard it was up on Horse Creek, they were just passing going down the road is the way I understood it.

Commissioner: You don't know anything about that fight of your own knowledge at all? A. No, sir, only just what I heard.

Q. After you got through with your fighting at wouldn't amount to much as a fight either? A. No.

T. J. MONROE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A T. J. Monroe.

Q How old are you? A 48.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You were born before the war? A Born in 53.

Q Where did you live before the war? A Lived on the line of the Osage and the western line of the Cherokee Nation, near the Osage lands.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q To what place did you return after the war? A A place known as the Boxer place on the Grand River, east of Grand River, in Delaware district.

Q How far was that from Horse Creek? A It was ten or 12 miles.

Q Do you know whether the old Knight place was on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live from that? A It was about ten or 12 miles I think.

Q How far from the Johnson Thompson place on Grand River did you live? A The Johnson Thompson place?

Q Ketchum precinct? A It is about, I would think about 15 or 16 miles, 15 or 18.

Q When did you move to that place after the war, in what year?

A Sometime in February, 1866.

Q February of 1866? A Yes, sir.

Q Now after that did you hear of the circumstance of some negroes being in a fight in which some of them got killed, on Horse Creek?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hear of that? A The next year, right sometime in the summer or fall, I don't recollect just what month.

Q What year? A Of '67, we lived then on the west side of the river on the Stand Waite farm.

Mr. Mellotte: Where were you living at that time? A That I heard of this fight?

Q Yes? A On the Stand Waite place, on the west side of the Grand River.

Q How far were you living from Horse Creek? A Couldn't have been over eight or ten miles.

Q When did you move on the Stand Waite place? A Sometime during the winter of '66 or '67, it appears to me it was in January, in the year '67.

Q Was it before Christmas or after Christmas? A I think it was after Christmas.

Q That is the time you went it to stand? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you move from? A From the west side of the river, from the Boxer place.

Q How long did you live there? A From February up until we left I think in January, sometime in the winter time.

Q What year did you move to the Boxer place? A In '66.

Q What time in the year? A I think it was in February.

Q Where did you move from? A We came from the Cheater Nation on Red River.

Q When did you come? A I stayed a while right on the line of Missouri.

Q When did you come from the Cheater Nation? A We left the Cheater Nation sometime in the latter part of October, I think.

Q What time? A '68.

Q You couldn't be mistaken? A No, sir.

Q Then there is such a thing as remembering dates, I suppose?

A I have something to remember by.

Q You didn't have to get back home by '64? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't anything to impress it on your mind? A If you will let me explain, we lived right on the same place with Joel Bryant, on the same farm, he was a Major General, or something, in the Confederate army. He came home during the summer, I think in June, and took his family and started to old Mexico, and then we sold our crop in the field before we gathered it and started back to the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, how old were you at that time? A Well, I was born in '52, I was 13 I believe in '65.

Q About 13 years old? A About 13 in '65 I think, if I am not mistaken.

Q And still you remember all these events? A I remember it perfectly well, that part of it.

Q You remember you left there in the fall of 1865 and came up here and went on to the Boxer place in February, 1866? A I think it was in February, I am not positive, but I think it was.

Q How far is that from the Stand Waite place?

A Well, about six or seven miles I should think.

Q On the opposite side of the river? A Yes, sir, and down the river.

Q A good many fights along about that time, wasn't there? A I don't remember very many.

Q But you know you just heard of a fight? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you first know about it, when did you first have your attention called to the time when that occurred, since that time?

A Since that time?

Q Yes, when did anybody ask you about when that occurred; since you have been subpoenaed in this case? A I don't remember anybody ever did ask me until I came here to-day.

Q Since you came here to-day Mr. Hastings and Mr. Bell asked you what you knew about it? A Yes.

Q And then you remember what you knew of that fight in '67?

A Yes, I knew it all the time.

Q Everything that has occurred you don't keep in your mind all the time, do you? A No, sir.

Q There wasn't any particular reason for you to remember that?

A I didn't see any particular reason.

Q And when you come here 36 years afterwards you are asked about it and you say it occurred in '67; that is a long time that, a long time? A Yes, sir.

Q You had forgotten about that half a dozen times? A Of course it would go out of my mind.

Q Go out of your mind and come back? A Yes, sir.

Q All you know about this fight is 36 years ago you heard of a fight between some darkies and white people? A Allow me to tell you; that fall, or late in the summer, a man brought a mare to our house, and asked me and my brother to take care of it, and right there and then he told us about this fight, did you hear of this fight up here and a lot of them people getting killed; I remember it well, guessing about who done the killing, they didn't call any names, but referred to them by the "red face" fellows.

Q You remember 36 years the man that brought the mare or colt to your house? A Perfectly well.

Q How many horses did you have any? A I think about 15.

Q Can you remember every time a man has brought a horse to you since 1866? A No sir; I didn't have any horses then.

Q Didn't have any horses at all? A No, sir, didn't have any horses at all.

Q You had turned one year on the Boxer place? A Yes, sir.

Q What did you farm with? A A little pork or stags.

Mr. Hastings: What position do you hold now, if any? A Senator in the Cherokee Nation.

Q You are a senator from Kansas? A Yes, sir.
Q You have been senator before? A Yes, sir.
Q Been Sheriff of your district? A Sheriff one time and senator two terms.

Mr. Hastings, I desire to offer this testimony in the Arthur Bean case, D-212; Joseph Bean, D-213; Lucy Bean, D-220; Lewis Martin, D-222; and Fannie Hight, D-207.

Filed with Cherokee Freedman, D-658, Allie Martin.

Department of the Interior,
Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Winnia, I.T., October 3, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Lewis Martin et al. for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Testimony introduced on behalf of the Cherokee Nation.

Apparances:

Medley & Smith, attorneys for the applicant;
W. F. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

LEWIS MARTIN, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Brookmire, testified as follows:

Q Give me your full name? A Lewis Martin.

Q How old are you? A I can't tell my age at all.

Q Well, are you 60 or 65 or 70? A Well I don't guess at it, but then that would not be correct, but I think I am somewhere along about 60 or 70. I don't know.

Q What is your present place? A Harding, Kansas.

Q What is your occupation? A Well, when I am home I am a farmer.

Q Where did you live before the war, Mr. Martin? A I lived right on the Grand River close to Chouteau Station, raised there.

Q Did you know a colored man before the war, by the name of Lewis Martin? A Well, I heard of his name but I knew his parents all right, his father and mother, but then to say well acquainted with him, I never got well acquainted with him till he came up here to Kansas.

Q You don't mean here to Winnia? A No, sir, up in Kansas I am acquainted with him.

Mr. Hastings: Well, what was his father's name? A His name was Harry.

Q What was his mother's name? A Celina.

Q Well that is the man I want to talk about; when did you know him in Kansas? A Well now there is something that I don't know right exactly, but I knowed him ever since I was here in Kansas, and I have been up in Kansas ever since '62, and I knowed him from then.

Q Who was he living with when you knew him then? A Why he was living with his father and mother I think, right then.

Q That was he doing? A Well now I can't tell you exactly what he was doing right then, but he learned the blacksmith trade then after that; I can't say right then, but he learned the trade of a blacksmith.

Q What place in Kansas was that? A It was just right above, about a mile from Mapleton I reckon, I don't suppose it would be any farther than a mile from Mapleton.

Q About what time did he leave Mapleton? I mean with reference to the war? A You that is something I don't know.

Q Was it before or after the war closed? A I don't know when he left there at all; he bought a place there right close, not very far from Mapleton, and he raised one crop on it and he sold it out and went up to Ottawa.

Q Ottawa, Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he marry around Mapleton? A Yes, sir, he married right there not far from Mapleton, I knew the folks, the woman's father and mother, well the mother anyhow, I knew her well after he married her daughter.

Q Well, did you ever see him up at Ottawa after that? A I saw him there once after that.

Q Well about how long after that? A Now sir that I can't tell how long it was that I saw him there.

Q Was your son married? A He son was married then.

Q Where was he living? A He was living with me when he got married, and then he moved up to Ottawa, and he wasn't there very long before his money took sick and wrote for his mother to come and she went and she didn't come back quick as I thought she ought to come back and I went after her, and I went up there and I goes over to his house.

Q Goes to his house? A Goes to Mr. Martin's house.

Q Well, Martin living there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Did he have his family there? A Yes, sir.

Q You know what he was doing up there at Ottawa? A Well, he was a farmer there, renting.

Q Well, now how old is your son's oldest child? A Well now sir that is something I can't tell you.

Q Well about how old is it? A That is something I don't know the age of nobody, I can kinder guess at his age, he was born 2 years after I came to Kansas, my boy.

Q I am not talking about your boy, I am talking about his child?

A Well I can't tell nothing about his child's age at all.

Q His boy grown? A He isn't grown, but then he is a good size boy, I can't bear him since he was just about so high (indicating) and came off here to the station.

Q You don't have no idea when the child was born, as much as 18 years old? A Well, he may be somewhere along 18 or 14, but I can't tell exactly, but he is a good sized boy, I reckon he is pretty near large as me now.

Q Now what is your best judgment as to the age of that child; have you got any judgment at all? A I have judgment, but I can't tell how old he was.

Q I am not asking you the date, what is your best judgment as to his age? A If I knew how old it was when I went up after my wife I could tell pretty near the child's age, but I can't.

Q Well, about how long do you think that man had been away from Mapleton, up to Ottawa, when you went up there, had it been a few days or a few months, or how long? A Well, it had been more than a few days, because he had raised one or two crops up there, and maybe more for all I know, I don't know at all, you have got me to something I don't know, but I know he lived there, that is all I can tell you.

Q And you know he was living there when you went up there? A Yes, sir, because I went to his house.

Q And that was after he was living down at Mapleton? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever see him back down to Mapleton after that? A No, sir, I don't recollect seeing him back there anymore at all, he might have come back on a visit, but that I don't know, but when I saw him again I saw him here.

Q When was that? A Well, it was the year that Mr. Wallace's roll was made.

Q Where did you see him? A I saw him out in the country here to a place where he farmed.

Q You know how long he had been here then? A I just know he had been here, made one crop I think.

Q Well, did he tell you that or not? A Well he took me right down and showed me his crop he made.

Q Did he say how long he had been here and where he came from?

A He said he had come from up there here.

Q Did he say when he had come from Ottawa or how long he had been from Ottawa here? A He didn't say how long he had been, but he had just made one crop when he came here.

Q Now do you know he made one crop? A I don't know; he said so and showed me his crop.

Q Now do you know he just made the one, is what I am trying to get at, and not made any more than one? A I don't know that, only he said his stepson made one crop - till he was home where he lived, he said his stepson, he sent him down here to make a crop and then he came, he said his stepson made a crop here and then he came and made one, that is what he told me, that is all I know.

Q That was while the Wallace court was here? A Yes, sir, first time I saw him I came down to the Wallace court.

Q Have you any idea when Wallace made that roll, do you know anything about that court? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Don't have no idea about it at all? A No, sir, don't know a thing about it, only he made that roll.

Q You know he made it? A Yes, sir, because I came and signed that roll.

Q Where were you living at the time? A I was living up there on Timber Hill, Bourbon County.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Near Mapleton? A Yes, sir, I know where I was living all right.

Mr. Smith: Now, Lewis, all you know about it is that you know that at that time Lewis Martin lived up there in Kansas? A Yes.

Q You don't know the year? A No, sir, I don't know the year at all.

Q When did you first go to Kansas? A '55.

Q Where did you go from? A Went from the Cherokee Nation, went from down near at Shawnee Station.

Q There wasn't any Cherokee Station then in '55? A No, sir, it has been put there since, I lived there, I was raised there.

Q Do you know where Lewis Martin was in the year 1865? A No, sir, I don't know the meaning of that '65 any more as a sucking baby, I don't know the meaning of '66, when that man told me that I came here in '62, that is how come I say I come here in '62, he said I come here in '62 because I came here a soldier.

Q Where were you living in 1862? A Well I give it, went up to Kansas, in that time, and lived up there close to Mapleton in '62 when this man told I came out in '62, I don't know when I came, he said it was '62 because he was down there.

Q Now do you know when Lewis Martin got married? A I know he got married up there but I can't tell what.

Q Do you know whether it was before the war or after the war or during the war? A He got married, might have been about the time the war came on or maybe after, I don't know now.

Q Well, do you know where Lewis Martin was when the war closed?

A Well, when the war closed, he must have been living right there close to Mapleton.

Q Not what he must have been, but what you know about it, what you saw and know yourself, do you know where he was when the war closed?

A I didn't say I knew that at all, but I know he was living there when I came, when I was living there he was living there too, it must have been while the war was going on that he lived there, but after that I know he lived there and went up to Ottawa you know.

Q Do you know where he was in the fall of '65? A No, sir, it isn't any more use for you to ask me about '65, not bit more than a baby, because I don't know.

Q Do you know where he was during the year after the war closed?

A I can't tell you that neither.

Q Don't know? A No, sir.

Q You know anything about as to whether he got into a fight or killing or was down here at the Cherokee Nation shortly after the war?

A I never heard of him casting into any fight or killing.

Q You were not in 1865, no, sir.

Q Then did you ever come down to the Wallace court, where was

Lewis Martin living in the Cherokee Nation, near what place? A Why I don't think it was more than a mile, maybe, or maybe more than a mile right out over this way, from Vinita.

Q A mile from Vinita? A I don't think it was over a mile, it might have been and might not, but it wasn't very far.

Q Did you go out to his place? A Yes, sir, I went out to his place.

Q How did you go, ride or walk? A I think I went in his wagon I think, I don't know for certain how I went out but I went there all right, went right to his house.

Q For don't know how many different places Lewis Martin has lived in the Cherokee Nation, do you? A Well, I don't know of him living at but just one here, and then when he left here he went out and bought a place, I understand, went out and bought a place.

Q You don't know anything about where he is living now? A No, sir.

W. D. WYCK, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name, please? A W. D. Wyck.

Q How old are you? A I am 34 years old.

Q What is your residence? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You live in Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your business? A Farming, stock raising.

Mr. Hastings: Mr. Wyck, do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A Yes, if he is the man we located, I once knew a man by the name of Lewis Martin.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Harry.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him there about Mapleton on my place.

Q Were you intimately acquainted with him, know him well? A I ought to.

Q Just tell the circumstances, all you know about him? A Yes, sir, I was intimately acquainted with him.

Q Did he work for you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now about what length of time did he work for you? A Well I think it was about a couple of years.

Q Through what period of years? A About '83 and '84.

Q What did he work for you at? A Blacksmithing.

Q He learned the blacksmith trade there? A Yes, sir, he learned that while he was quite young, he was the youngest of the family, and his oldest brother, Bill, was a blacksmith, and I was running a shop there and they were doing the work for me.

Q Do you know where Lewis was married? A Well, I wouldn't say that I do, he married there but it is kind of a dread, I am not positive, of course I was well acquainted with him, but it has been so long and not paying any attention, I would not be positive that I know.

Q Do you know where he went from Mapleton? A To say I know, I don't, but the report was that he went to Ottawa, and he told me afterwards he lived at Ottawa, that is as near as I can explain it to you.

Q About how long afterwards did you see him? A Well, it must have been five or six years afterwards that I saw him.

Q Now do you mean that that was five or six years after he left Mapleton? A After he Q Now about when do you think he left there, about what years? A Well I am I tell what year he did leave there.

Q Well, with reference to the close of the war? A Well, it must have been a couple of years after the close of the war that he went to Ottawa. He and his father stayed there either as long as two years after the close of the war before he went to Ottawa.

Q. Now when you saw him five or six years after that after he went to Ottawa? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he told you he was living there at that time? A. At Ottawa.

Q. Did he tell you he was living there at that time? A. No, sir, not as I know of.

Q. Did he tell you he was living there at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he told you he was living there at that time, say between '75 and '77? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was that? A. I was in the Rocky Mountains.

Q. Did you remember his mother? A. Lewis' mother, Celia.

Q. Did you know her, to identify him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. These are you see him the five or six years after he left Mapleton that you speak of? A. I saw him between my house and Mapleton.

Q. And just before him on the road and merely addressed him and asked him some few questions. I don't know what, in regard to where he was, in the kind of a stranger when you know, he told me he was living at Ottawa.

Q. Did he tell you what he was doing? A. I don't know, I think that he was running a blacksmith shop.

Q. You are not positive about that? A. No, I wouldn't be positive.

Q. Did you ever see him after that? A. No, sir, I never saw him after that.

Q. You say that during the last year or two he worked for you in a shop? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were you doing, Mr. Myrick, along the closing years of the war? A. What I was running a mill there and was making them for the government, I sold them to the government locally, and I run a blacksmith shop in connection with my business there, and I had these fellows employed for the purpose of shoeing horses and doing all kind of blacksmithing, we lived right on the trail from Fort Gibson to Lebanon.

Q. And Will Martin was Lewis Martin's brother and lived with him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was Will Martin's wife named? A. Seattle.

Q. Now, Mr. Myrick, I believe you stated it was in '65 or '66 that this man was working for you? A. Yes, along about that time.

Q. Well, where was he in '65? A. I wouldn't be positive where he was, to the best of my knowledge he was around Mapleton there or had gone to Ottawa, I wouldn't be positive.

Q. Tell you you don't know then where he was in '65? A. No, I can't say where he was in '65.

Q. Where was he in '65? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. You know what year it was that he went to Ottawa? A. No, sir, I don't, to say what year it was that he went to Ottawa, I don't.

Q. About what year was it that you last saw Lewis Martin? A. That I saw him last, last year.

Q. How long has it been? A. After I saw him coming from Ottawa, as it must have been five or six years afterwards.

Q. Five or six years after the close of the war? A. Yes, sir, must have been five or six years after the war.

Q. You haven't seen him in that country since? A. No, sir.

Q. How long have you been living at Ottawa, Kansas? A. Well, there

Q When did you first become acquainted with him, first see him there? A In '67.

Q Did you go to Ottawa in '67? A Went there in March.

Q After you went there was it before you saw Lewis Martin? A Yes, May one, I got not certain which one, it was along in April or May.

Q A short time after you went there? A Yes, sir.

Q Was living, do you know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Sarah.

Q Do you know any of his children? A Well, yes.

Q You remember any of their names? A Yes, sir.

Q What was their names? A One was named John, and George.

Q What was Martin doing when you knew him in Ottawa? A Blacksmithing. Q How long did you know him there? A I knew him four or five years there, maybe longer, I don't know exactly the time that I did know him, I can't just swear to the time, but it was five or six years I was acquainted with him there.

Q Do you know where he went when he left there? A No, sir, I don't.

Q You say he was a blacksmith? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have a brother, or do you know? A No, he didn't have any brother there.

Q Did he have a father, or do you know that? A I don't know that, I wasn't acquainted with his father.

Q Were you acquainted with his mother? A No, sir, never seen her.

Q You know where he went from there? A No, I can't say where he went, I know where he said he was going.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A No, I haven't seen him since, I haven't seen him for quite a number of years.

Q Now during the four or five or six years that you saw him at Ottawa, was he there continuously during that time? A No, he was away some of the time.

Q Where was his family? A His family was out on a farm.

Q Did they live there during that time? A Yes, they lived out on the farm.

Q Well, did you see him at frequent intervals during that period or times? A Well yes, sometimes I would see him every three or four weeks, sometimes it would be longer, but then I often would see him, you know Martin was a man that didn't run around very much, anyhow.

Q You say he didn't run around? A No, sir.

Q What did you mean by saying he was away some? A There would be times that he would be gone, I don't know where he was gone.

Q For about how long at a time, how long would you miss him any considerable time? A Sometimes I wouldn't see him for a month or so, he was out in the country, out on his farm.

Q Out of town? A Very out of town, I wouldn't know where he was.

Q Well, you don't know of your own knowledge? A No, sir.

Q Only you didn't see him? A No, I wouldn't know where he was only I didn't see him.

Q How far did he live in the country from Ottawa? A Part of the time it was ten miles.

Q That was along there for up for four or five years after '67?

A Yes, it was after '67.

Q From that date to this you have never seen him? A No, sir, I have never seen him.

Q Commissioner, you say you first saw this man in '67? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you live in '67? A I lived at Ohio City.

Q Where? A What was south of Ottawa.

Q State of Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q You know where Martin was in '67? A No, I don't know where he was in '67.

Q That brings it to your mind that it was '67 that you saw him? A Yes, I moved to Ottawa in '67.

Q Was that that? A Yes, sir, and there is where I saw him.

Q You recollect dates do you? A Yes, I recollect dates, yes.

Q What year is this? A It is 1890.

Mr. Hastings: Is this the year 1890? A Yes, sir.

Q Even so, it is nineteen hundred, I don't know whether you call it even or not; you know I am no educated man.

Commissioner: Where were you living in 1886? A Ottawa.

Q You been living there ever since 187? A Yes, sir.

Q Living there now? A When I am at home that is right where I live.

Q Your family there? A My family is all dead; well I have no family of my own now.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know what year the war commenced? A Yes, sir.

Q What year? A 1861.

Q What year did it close? A 1865.

Q How how long after the war closed before you went to Ottawa?

A Why I went to Ottawa in 1867.

Q I want to know how long that was after the war closed? A After it closed, why two years.

D. J. HESSONG, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A D. J. Hesson.

Q What is your age? A I am 51 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Mapleton.

Q Kansas? A Mapleton, Kansas, yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there, Mr. Hesson? A I have lived there since '57, have lived there about 44 years.

Q Do you know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin? A I did.

Q Where did you know him? A In Mapleton, Kansas.

Q What occupation, if any, was he following? A He was running a blacksmith shop when I knew him.

Q Do you know where he came from up to Mapleton? A I do not.

Q You never heard him say? A Never heard him say.

Q You don't know where he had lived before he came there? A I think he came from Ottawa, because I know he went back to there a time or two during the time that he was at Mapleton, and he said he was going on a visit.

Q Do you know about what year he came there to Mapleton? A It must have been about '76, something like that, among there.

Q About how long did he stay there? A Well, when he came back there I am pretty sure it was in '76 and in '77 I went east and when I came back I don't remember whether he was there then or not, but I know he was there a couple of years, if I remember right, two or three years, something like that, I don't remember whether he was there when I came back or not.

Q When did you come back? A I came back that fall and winter, winter of '77.

Q Did you know Martin's wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A I believe that they called her Sarah, or something like that; there was two women stayed with him part of the time he was in Mapleton.

Q Did you know his brother? A Well?

Q That is what I am trying to find out? A Yes, I think there was another Martin named Will Martin, said they were brothers.

Q What was Will Martin's profession? A Blacksmithing.

Q Did you meet Lewis Martin's father and mother? A Don't believe I did, no.

Q Did you ever know Lewis Martin before you knew him when he came there in '76? A No, sir.

Q Well, was his family with him when you knew him there in '76?

A Yes, sir, she lived right in town.

Q He worked in a blacksmith shop? A Yes, sir, him and his brother.

run a shop there in town.

Q You haven't seen him since? A I have not.

Mr. Smith: Mr. Haskins, you don't know where he came from when he came to Mapleton that time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know where he had been living before he came there?

A No, sir.

JOHN GROSS, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needham, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A John Gross.

Q How old are you, Mr. Gross? A 62.

Q Where do you live? A Mapleton.

Q Where? A Garrettsville, Ohio, yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there? A I lived there since '88.

Q Did you ever know a colored man by the name of Lewis Martin?

A Yes.

Q What was his occupation, what did he do? A He was a blacksmith.

Q When did you know him? A Well I know him in about, let's see, must have been '75 or '76, right along there somewhere, of course I knew him before that but I wasn't acquainted with him, I knew of him.

Q You knew him before that? A Yes, but I wasn't acquainted with him at all.

Q When did you know him before that? A Well, when they first came, I don't know, probably it was along '62 or near that time there.

Q Did you know his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Well I don't know his name, don't recollect, he had a very old man, his father was.

Q You don't know his mother's name? A I did, but I can't remember it now, I think no, it wasn't Maria, I don't recollect it.

Q Well, did you know his brother? A William.

Q I am asking you? A Yes, I knew him better than I did Lewis.

Q Well, do you know how long you knew him after '62, or is your memory distinct about that? A No, you see he left there and he came back, I think it must have been '64 or '5 or '6, along sometime, and then he came back there and him and his brother run a blacksmith shop for probably a couple of years.

Q You know what became of him then? A No, I do not, in the spring of '77 I went to Colorado and I didn't get back till that fall, and he was gone.

Q Now when do you mean to say that he came back to Mapleton the last time? A Well, it must have been in '75 or '6.

Q Did he have a wife? A Yes.

Q Living with her? A Yes, sir.

Q You know whether he had any other family or not? A No, I do not.

A Well, have you ever seen him since? A No, sir, I haven't seen him since.

Mr. Smith: So, Mr. Gross, as I understand you, you knew this man then about '62? A Well that is what they first came there, I think about that, but still I wasn't.

Q Do you know whether he married there at Mapleton? A Not I do not, I don't know a thing about it.

Q Do you know whether he was a single man or a married man when you first became acquainted with him? A I think he was a single man when he came there.

Q Do you remember was he married in a couple of years after he came there or not? A He was married when he run a shop there, he was married and had a family.

Q That was when? A In '75 or '6.

Q But do you have any recollection as to whether he was married before the war closed? A No, I do not.

Q Well, now you missed him from there along about the time the war closed, did you? A Yes.

Q Now when did you first see him back there after the time that you missed him? A I don't recollect of seeing him till he came there and went to work in the blacksmith shop.

Q Now about what year was it that you missed him away from there?

A I don't recollect, I didn't pay no attention to it at all.

Q About the time the war closed? A Why I suppose, yes.

Mr. Hastings: Do you have any distinct recollection about the first time you missed him from there? A No, I do not.

Q You wasn't well-acquainted with him then? A No, I wasn't well acquainted with him.

Lewis Vann, recalled by applicant, testified as follows:

Q You were on the stand this morning in this case, were you, Mr. Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Now then, did I understand you to say that you never heard of that fight that I asked you about this morning in 1866 in the Cherokee Nation, the Horse Creek fight? A No, sir, I don't know nothing about that.

Q Didn't you have a kinsman that was killed down there about that time, somebody that was kin to you? A Oh, I know that all right.

Q Who was that? A Wesley Vann.

Q Well, when was he killed? A He was killed the year after the war closed, he went down there and got killed and that kept the balance of us from coming.

Q Were you alone? A No, sir, I wasn't, but then I was going after he got there and wrote back, but then he got killed.

Q Then I Lewis Martin with him? A I don't know sir, that is something I don't know.

Q Who was he with, who did this man leave with, this kinsman? A He left with another brother in law of mine.

Q What was his name? A Charley Burgess.

Q Who else? A Charley Burgess and Wesley Vann, they was only ones kin to me.

Q Who else that wasn't kin to you? A Then there was some there by the name of Gilbert Vann and Gilbert Daniels.

Q Who else? A Well, there was a young man along by the name of I can't think of his name now, he got killed too, one of my fellow servants' sons, lived on the place with me, he got killed.

Q Was George Vann along? A No, sir, he wasn't along.

Q He wasn't there at all? A No, sir.

Q Where were you when these people left Kansas to come down here?

Q When they left sir I was up here in Kansas, up in Kansas, up to Mapleton, in southern part.

Q Did you stay there all the time? A Yes, sir, I hadn't been five miles from that place since I landed there, I reckon more than five miles anyhow.

Q Did you stay there during the time that these people came down here that you speak of? A Yes, sir.

Q Now don't you know Lewis Martin came down here, moved back here? A Of course he came down here.

Q When? A Well now that is something I can't tell you then, but I know he came.

Q Did he come at that time you are talking about? A Oh no, he was up there but he didn't come when the others came, because I know he was up there.

Q Didn't he come down here with Wesley Vann, didn't they leave together to come down here? A I don't know whether he came with Wesley Vann or not, I don't know anything about that.

Q You saw of it? A No, sir, I don't think he ever was with them.

Q Now did you say this morning that you never heard of that fight that I asked you about, I didn't understand about the killing of my brother is that right? A Yes, sir, I understand about the killing of my brother is that right? A Yes, sir, I understand about the killing of my brother is that right? A Yes, sir, I understand about the killing of my brother is that right?

Q Yes, sir, I understand about the killing of my brother is that right? A Yes, sir, I understand about the killing of my brother is that right?

Q Did anybody that left up there come back, any of the colored people? A Now sir that is something I don't know either because I know all the balance that was with them, they went on after they got killed, they went on.

Q Did any of those that left Kansas at that time come back to Kansas? A I can't tell you not a thing about that, sir, no, sir, I can't.

Mr. Hastings: You were not in the fight? A No, sir, I was at home in Kansas and just heard about it.

Q All you know about it is just what you heard? A Yes, sir, about they killing him down there and him never coming back.

Q I believe you testified most positively you didn't know a thing about dates this morning, didn't you? A Well, I don't.

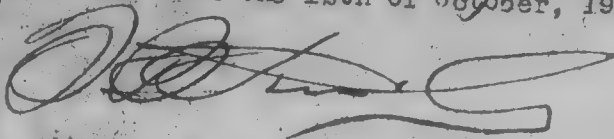

Q You didn't know a date this morning? A I don't know no dates about nothing about that but when anybody asks me about the name of anyone that I know of course I know them, but then to come to dates I don't know no more than a child.

Commissioner: Copies of this testimony will be filed with the testimony in Cherokee Freedman cases D-856, D-857, D-858, D-911, and D-940.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Bruce C. Jones

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 12th of October, 1901.

Commissioner.

File with Cherokee Freedman p. 555, Allie Martin.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Vinita, I.T., October 12, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Tobias Bean for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of the applicant.

Mellotte & Smith, attorneys for applicant;
T. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hastings: Let it go formally into the record what you desire to prove by these witnesses.

Mr. Mellotte: I am going to offer some additional testimony.

Mr. Hastings: What for?

Mr. Mellotte: To show the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, out here.

Mr. Hastings: Comes now the representatives of the Cherokee Nation an object to the taking of any testimony as to the date of what is known as the Horse Creek fight, because that question was gone brought out in the original examination of the applicant himself, and was thoroughly gone into, and is not new matter, and the testimony then introduced by the Cherokee Nation upon this point is not new matter so that rebuttal testimony can be allowed under any rules of procedure. Commissioner: The objection will be noted.

MARY BROWN, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Mellotte: What is your name? A. Mary Brown.

Q. How old are you, Mrs. Brown? A. I don't know my age exactly.

Q. Give an idea? A. About 60.

Q. Are you a Cherokee Indian by blood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. Where do you live? A. I live at what is known as the Rolling Ferry place on Grand River.

Q. How long have you lived on Grand River? A. About 17 years, down there.

Q. When did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war, if you left it? A. We came home about three weeks before Christmas, in '65.

Q. Where was your home at that time? A. About one mile and a half north of Prairie City, that is the name of the place now.

Q. Is that a point up here close to Fairland? A. Yes, used to be just a depot up above Fairland near the road.

Q. Do you remember after you came home the circumstance or hearing of a body of colored people being attacked and some of them killed on Horse Creek? A. I do.

Q. How did you first learn of that? A. There was some news came to my house to stay all night.

Q. The news they? A. Minnie West and a lot of men.

Q. Did you learn from them anything about the colored people being killed? A. Yes, sir, they told us they had killed some negroes.

Q. How many were in that party? A. I can't tell you positively.

Q. About how many, or can you give an idea? A. About six, to the best of my knowledge, I never took no particular notice how many.

Q. Did you hear anything further about it after they came to your house? A. Yes, sir, two or three days afterwards we heard some colored people got killed.

Q. Where was that? A. Somewhere on the military road near Horse

Qreek.

Q Now far was that from your house? A About six miles.

Q Now when was that, Was. Brown, that French Vast and his crowd came to your house and you heard of this killing of the colored people? A Fall of '86, in the fall of the year.

Q How do you know it was in the fall of the year? A Because it was getting cold weather.

Q Why do you fix it as 1866? A Well, I came home as I saw in '86, about three weeks before Christmas, and I was in a delicate condition and the baby was born the 26th day of May, in 1866, and this was the fall following.

Q Now, Hastings? Did you ever have any other children born? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Different times.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A Next year, well I am not able to answer that.

Q Well, when was the next one born? A In 1868.

Q That was the second one after this one? A Yes, sir.

Q Then was the third one born? A I can't tell you that.

Q Did you have any more since then? A Yes, sir.

Q How many children you got? A 13 in all.

Q Now do you know what happens in September always after your children have been born? A No, sir.

Q Now why is it that you locate that the child was born six months before some event happened? A Because that was a peculiar time, we had all come home to our old home, and there were no neighbors and nobody there but now and then a neighbor.

Q When were you married? A I can't tell you that.

Q You heard of this question being up before the courts here five years ago didn't you? A No, sir.

Q Never heard of it? A No, sir.

Q It wasn't a matter that was discussed throughout the length and breadth of the Cherokee Nation? A I heard talk of it, but as to the date I didn't know anything about it.

Q You didn't know anything about the date? A I didn't know it was about the date.

Q You didn't hear about this last spring when we were examining the matter? A No, sir, I didn't go about the courts.

Q Where do you live now? A I live at the Bowling Ferry place.

Q What is your husband's name? A Jim Brown.

Q What was your maiden name? A Mary Miller.

Q When were you married? A I told you I didn't know the date, I don't know the date.

Q And you have got thirteen children? A I have had thirteen children.

Q Now when was your second child born? A The second one was born in '65.

Q When was the third one born? A The third one was born May 26, or what year? A In 1866.

Q When was the next one born? A I don't know that.

Q Now when was the fifth one born? A He was born in 1870.

Q When was the sixth one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the seventh one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the eighth one born? A I don't know that.

Q When was the ninth one? A Well, I don't know that.

Q When was the tenth one? A I told you I didn't know.

Q Eleventh one? A I don't know that.

Q Twelfth one? A I don't know, I can't count them, all of them.

Q Don't know? A No, sir, I am no scholar.

Q Where was Bob Knight living at that time? A I can't tell you just exactly.

Q Now far did you live from him? A I believe he lived on the old Military crossing on Horse Creek, I wouldn't say positive.

Q Well, how far did you live from there, from where that Military road crosses Horse Creek? A About 10 or 12 miles.

Q And that was the distance, was it? A About ten or twelve miles.

Q Had you ever seen Roy Knight up to that time? A No, sir.
Q You wasn't over there at that time, the Knight place? A I had passed the road.
Q You saw these folks there? A No, sir.
Q You didn't see them? A No, sir, I can't call it.
Q You never saw any of these folks at that time? A No, sir, I never seen them.
Q Don't know who they were? A Don't know them.
Q Don't know who was shot at that time? A No, sir.

 Q You were never called upon to remember the date before? A No, sir.
 Q You were not arrested for it? A No, sir.
 Q Have any interest in it? A I wasn't interested any way at all.
 Q You were not taken to Fort Smith for it? A No, sir.

Commissioner: This testimony will be made part of the record in the case at bar, and in D-212, D-215, D-220, D-207, D-228, D-256, D-257, D-358, D-311, D-340, and D-341.

Bruce S. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF APPLICANTS, in the matter of the application of Tobias Bean for the enrollment of himself, wife and child as Cherokee citizens.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Mellette, of Mellette & Smith, Vinita, I.T., attorneys
for the applicants;

W. W. Hastings, of attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

C.D. MARKHAM, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q What is your name? A C. D. Markham.

Q Where do you live? A At Tahlequah, now.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life except during the war; I went south on Red River.

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66? A I was up here at Grand River, Locust Grove.

Q What were you doing? A Selling goods.

Q Who were you selling goods for? A Why I and my brother and an old man named Elliott from Kansas were interested in the store.

Q During that summer or fall did you learn anything about a fight up on Horse Creek? A Yes, sir, sometime to the best of my recollection about the last of September in 1866. That was when a young darkey came into the store and wanted to get something out of the store and said they had a fight up at Horse Creek, and there was a shot darkey in the wagon, the wagon stopped one hundred and fifty yards from the store out in the road; I don't remember how many wagons there was.

Q Was there more than one? A Yes, sir, I think there was as many as three.

Q Where did he say the fight had occurred? A Up about Horse
Creek somewhere.

Q After he told you about the fight up there did you hear anything more about it? A Very little, because soon after that I went to Texas, and was gone about six weeks.

Q Now that was in '66 you said? A Yes, sir, I know it was '66.

Q Now you say there was a man by the name of Elliott in the store where you were working? A Yes, sir.

Q What became of him? A Well while I was gone to Texas he was killed and robbed there two miles and a half from the store, on the Orphan Asylum road, and when I come back his son had taken the goods and gone back to Kansas; the store was broke up.

Q You went to Texas in '66? A Yes, sir, about the first of October, is my recollection, and I came back sometime in November.

Q And in the meantime this man Elliott had been killed? A Yes, sir.

Q After you came back from Texas did you hear anything further about the fight on Horse Creek? A Nothing, only just rumor.

Q That there had been a fight? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't know any of the parties engaged in it? A No, sir, I don't remember those.

Q You don't know either about Tobie Bean being in it? A No, sir.

Q You never saw Tobie Bean at the time? A No, sir.

Q You don't know what place on Horse Creek it was? A No, sir.

Q That is all you know about it? A Yes, sir, that's all.

Q You don't know whether that is the one that Tobie Bean was in or not do you? A No, sir.

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q You know whether George Vann was in that fight or not? A No, sir, I don't remember the darky that come in and told me, it was a young darky that I knew at the time, but that was 7 or 8 old Joe Vann had of my age and I don't remember, it was some of the Vann dorkies, but I don't remember what his name was.

Q The darky that come and told you about the fight and said they had a shot man in the wagon was some one of the Vann family? A Yes, sir, but I don't remember the name.

Q When did you see George Vann after that? A I couldn't swear that I ever saw George Vann until '67 or '68; maybe he might have been there, I don't know.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How far did you live from Spring Creek, this store? A The store was about 4 or 5 miles.

JOSHUA ROSS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q What is your name? A Joshua Ross.

Q How old are you? A 69.

Q You are a Cherokee by blood? A I am.

Q Where were you in the fall of '66, and the winter of '66?

A I was at Fort Gibson, and Tahlequah.

Q Were you at any time up about Locust Grove, a store up there?

A Yes, sir.

Q What place were you? A Well, I was there at a store there, had been kept there by a man by the name of Elliott, that was in the last of December or along towards the first of January, 1867.

Q You mean was it in December '66 or along there in '67? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing there? A I was clerk of a Commission making out a list of property claims against the Government of the United States.

Q Was that after or before this man Elliott was killed? A It was after he was killed.

Q Now do you know George Vann? A I do.

Q Did you see him along about that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A I saw him there at this time.

Q While you were taking these claims? A Yes, sir.

Q This colored man George Vann is the one I mean? A Yes, sir, that was the man.

MR. HASTINGS waives cross-examination.

S. S. STEPHENS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q What is your name? A S. S. Stephens.

Q What is your age? A I am about 64 years old, 63 or 4.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you in the year '66? A I was here in the Cherokee Nation. That is in the Cherokee Nation, near Fort Gibson.

Q Do you know about a fight that has occurred up on Horse Creek between some colored people that were coming back from Kansas and some other parties? A I heard of a fight up there, through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q George Vann alive? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q Is that him standing there? (Pointing to colored man.) A That's George Vann; I can tell you how I got information through George Vann.

BY MR. HASTINGS: I am going to object to that because he was not there and he gets his information through George Vann and this George Vann's alive, present and available.

BY COMMISSION: Answer the question.

A I met George Vann in Saline District after this fight, and there was an order, kind of an ordinance, passed by our Council, that allowed the Cherokees to kill cattle wherever they would find them, in the country, and Sam Smith asked me to write him an order; I wrote an order for Sam Smith for George Vann to kill cattle.

Q What year was that? A That was '66; I wrote the order myself. I remember making the order for more, I was elected school superintendent.

Q Now wait a minute, did you present the order to George Vann or did you talk to George Vann about that time? A Yes, sir, when I wrote the order I gave it to Smith and Smith gave it to Vann.

Q What information did you get from George Vann about the fight on Horse Creek? A He said they had a fight up there, and there was certain of the number was killed.

Q What year was that? A That was in the fall of '66 as near as I can remember.

Q And you don't know the time? A Yes, sir.

Q You wrote the order for George Vann? A For Sam Smith, for George Vann to kill cattle and he was there, there was quite a number of colored people in that neighborhood around Dave Rowe at that time, and it was then they were killing cattle all over the country, that is now, wild cattle, and in point of fact they carried it a little further.

Q Did you ever hear from any other source except George Vann the fact of there having been a fight up there? A Art Bean told me, they had a fight up there, and Art Bean's brother I think his name is Nose.

Q Did you know Tobe? A Tobe, I mean, I know them well.

Q Did Art and Tobe talk to you about the fight? A Yes, sir, they told me frequently they were in the fight, and Gilbert Vann told me that he was in the party.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q When did they tell you that? A In '66, when they first come down in the Nation; I was school superintendent and locating schools in that neighborhood and made Gilbert Vann one of the directors and I was instructed to locate no schools only among those who were actually citizens.

BY MR. MELLETTTE:

Q Then Art and Tobe Bean were here in '66? A I don't know, but they told me they were in that fight.

Q Did you talk to them in '66? A Yes, sir, I have known Art Bean ever since I was a boy; he belonged to old Washington Adair, Art Bean did.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You were clerk for the representatives of the Cherokee Nation in 1896 before the Kern Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around with us a good deal of that time? A Yes, sir.

Q This case of the Horse Creek fight was at that time a burning question? A Yes, sir.

Q Also a great many witnesses were introduced on both sides? A Yes, sir.

Q There was a great deal of discussion about it? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever go on the stand and testify at that time? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever tell me, one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation at that time the facts you knew and now testify about? A No, sir.

Q Never told any one about it? A No, sir, you requested me at Claremore to see Tip Mayes' daughter, and I had a conversation with her and her conversation was what I told you I think.

Q You told me about it? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told me you knew it too? A You never asked me.

Q Well the daughter of Tip Mayes? A Rachel, the one that married Tuck Bryan, what they testified about it here, looking it up, you sent me over to see,-- it was Sam's wife I think, she was there at Rachel's.

Q And I sent you over there? A Yes, sir.

Q And you came back and told me it wouldn't do? A I come back and told you they thought these people were here at home when they got back.

Q You never told me anything you knew about it? A You never asked me a single thing.

Q You never was on the stand; it was your business to help us get up testimony? A You had me to do certain duties, Hastings, and I did that.

Q This question was largely discussed at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, you never told me you knew those facts you testify about now?

A Never did I say a word to you about it.

Q How long were you with us? A Was with you during the whole time, that is from Vinita down.

Q Don't you know Sam Mayes' wife was in the Choctaw Nation when we was making that roll? A No I don't know she was in the Choctaw Nation at that time.

Q Didn't you know she was in the Choctaw Nation in '66? A I expect she was in '66.

Q Then she would not have been up here and known it? A Well like a great many of the rest of you, a great many of you were not here in '67 so far as that is concerned.

Q You saw Tohe Bean in '66? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Up here at Island Ford.

Q Living there? A I suppose living right there yet.

Q He was living there? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you positive about it? A No, I wouldn't say I am positive about it; he did live there; yes he did.

Q Have you ever been tried in any courts for anything? A No, sir.

Q Never was convicted? A No, sir. What did you ask that question for? A I am asking you right square across the counter now, you know.

BY COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed and made part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-212, D-215, D-290, D-207, D-289, D-656, D-657, D-658, D-911, D-940, D-641.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

Department of the Interior,
Bureau of Indian Affairs,
Washington, D. C., April 3, 1908.

Supplemental testimony and proceedings in the matter of the application of MARTIN MARTIN for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

Malcolm A. Smith, attorneys for applicant.

T. W. Hastings, attorney for Cherokee Nation.

R. F. Clayton, being first duly sworn, and being examined,
testified as follows:

Q. Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A. R. F. Clayton.

Q. What is your age? A. I was 26 years old the 23d day of February last.

Q. Where is your post office? A. Fairbairn, Bombon Boury, Kansas, at this time.

Q. When did you come to the State of Kansas?

A. I got here on the 7th day of September, 1887.

Q. Did you know a colored man by the name of William Martin? A. Yes
sir.

Q. Did you know his wife? A. Yes sir.

Q. What was her name? A. We called her Oneida.

Q. When did you become acquainted with the husband and wife?

A. I suppose about the 12th, I think. I put a wagon tongue in at the shop on the 12th of September, as near as I can remember.

Q. What was Bill Martin doing? A. Blacksmith.

Q. What is your occupation? A. Farming. I did some work at the wagon business for that winter. That was my occupation for that winter, and no longer.

Q. You did work at the wagon trade for that winter? A. Yes sir.

Q. The winter following September, 1887? A. Yes sir. The winter and spring of 1887 and 1888.

Q. It was the winter after you got the husband? A. Yes sir.

Q. How long did you continue to know this family, Martin and his wife? A. I knew them until 1893, I think. I forget just now. He died there about that time, right south of me right on Reach's place.

Q. Have any family? A. Yes sir, had several children.

Q. Know any of them? A. Yes sir, but I have forgotten their names.

Q. Did Bill Martin have a brother that you know of? A. Yes sir, he had Lou Martin, who was a blacksmith and worked there with us at that time.

Q. How long did Lou continue to live there? A. Until 1873. They worked together until he went away. I seen him there, but never knew anything about him afterwards.

Q. He lived around there until 1873? A. Yes sir.

Q. How long after you came there before you got acquainted with him in the fall of 1887?

A. Both worked together in the shop. Worked all together. He had two more brothers there.

Q. What were their names?

A. One was Toke and the other was Pete. I think he was older than Bill or Lou either one. Pete was the last one.

Q. How long did you know Toke? A. About 1873.

Q. He was a brother to Lou and Bill? A. Yes sir.

Q. And a brother to Pete? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you know Pete? A. Yes sir, I knew him well.

Q. How long did you know him?

A. I knew him from 1873 until he died. I knew him well. I knew him from 1873 until he died. I knew him well. I knew him from 1873 until he died. I knew him well. I knew him from 1873 until he died.

Q Did he run away?

A Yes. But they caught him and beat him back, but did not appear against him, then he went away to the Cherokee Nation, and I heard that he was dead. I never saw anything about him after he left there.

Q That was in 1867? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know him from 1867 to 1869?

A Yes sir, in 1867 and 1868. He worked for me in the harvest in 1868.

Q Did you know Fayette's wife? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know who he married?

A A girl by the name Sarah Martin.

Q Do you know a brother of Onedie Martin's, Jack Bean?

A Yes sir, I know him too.

Q When did you first know him?

A It could not have been later than the middle of September, 1867.

Q How long did you know Jack Bean? A He left there in 1868.

Q Was he living there when you came there in 1867?

A Yes sir, he had made a crop up there that summer.

Q He had a family? A Yes sir, he said he had, I never seen his family to know them.

Q Did you know a colored man by the name of Tobe Bean?

A Yes sir, he was a brother to this Martin's wife, he said.

Q How long did you continue to know Tobe Bean up there?

A I knew him until 1868. He helped me harvest in 1868, I think.

Q I am pretty sure he did. My brother and me was together there.

Q You and Bill Martin, the husband of Onedie, worked together in the shop in the fall of 1867? A Yes sir.

Q What work did you do with him? A Yes sir. Both blacksmiths and good workmen, I thought.

Q Is there any peculiar circumstances that makes you remember Jack Bean, any trade that you made with him?

A He never paid me for a pistol that I brought out of the war.

I sold him a pistol that I brought home. He said he wanted to kill a nigger with it, and he never paid me for it either.

Mr. Hellette: What is your name? A M. J. Clayton.

Q Did you know Tobe Bean, who is an applicant for enrollment here, in the Cherokee Nation?

A I don't know whether he is an applicant for enrollment or not.

Q How was Tobe Bean, was he a lawman? A I think so, for he had a sore foot.

Q Your oath sworn that it was the Tobe Bean you knew?

A Yes sir, the brother of Onedie Martin.

Q When did you know him first?

A He was there around the shop all the winter of 1867, pretty much.

Q The winter of 1866 and 1867, you meant?

A No sir, I was not here, it was 1867.

Q The winter of 1868 and 1867? A It was the fall of 1867 and the spring of 1868.

Q Don't you know that Tobe Bean, that is an applicant here for enrollment is not a law man? A I don't know whether he is or not.

Q When did Onedie Martin leave Kansas to come to the Cherokee Nation? A In 1877 or 1878, I don't know which.

Q She didn't come to the Cherokee Nation in 1866?

A I never heard tell of her in 1866. I was not there in 1866. I knew her in 1867.

Q You said 1877? A I said it was in 1877 when she came to the Cherokee Nation, 1877 or 1878.

Q Was she there in 1877? A She was up there in 1877 or '78. I forget which it was.

Q Where was Onedie Martin in 1867?

A Lived on Beach's place, right south of Mapleton there.

Q Did she come to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1868?

A I was not here in 1868.

Q How did you move to Kansas? A Moved in 1867.
 Q Was Noodle Martin in Kansas when you came there? A I think she was.
 Q Do you remember her? A Yes sir.
 Q How long ago has it been? A Since 1867.
 Q Thirty-three or -forty years.
 Q When were you first asked to remember back that far as to these people?
 A Never asked to remember back to these people.
 Q When were you first asked to about being a witness in this case?
 A About two or three hours ago. You mean about this Noodle Martin case, two or three hours ago.
 Q When were you first asked anything about any of these colored people up there, when you first knew them? When were you first asked to about being a witness in any of these cases?
 A A week or two ago, I guess.
 Q You have not seen any of these people since they left Kansas, have you? A No sir.
 Q You don't know anything about them? A No sir.
 Q That is a long time to remember? A I guess it is.
 Q You keep in your mind clearly all the names of these different colored people, do you?
 A Yes, and a whole lot more of them that live there.
 Q Why do you remember their names so distinctly?
 A They worked for me. This Noodle Martin washed for my wife.
 Q You remember Tobe? He is a brother to Bill Martin?
 A I think he was the oldest one of them.
 Q What county was that in? A Bourbon County, Kansas.
 Q How far from the Cherokee Line? A About 75 miles.
 Q You are positive, as positive as you are of anything in this case that Tobe Bean was in Kansas in 1867, are you?
 A I know that he was. That is, I know that there was a Tobe Bean there.
 Q Was he a lame man? A He was lame there that winter at so-o time. I don't know whether it was a permanent lameness, or anything about it.
 Q What time did you see him? A He was around the shop in the winter.
 Q When, of 1867? A Yes sir.
 Q That would throw him into the year 1868 too?
 A Yes sir, I think he left there in 1868 or 1869. That is, in the winter, probably, or 1868.
 Q Tobe Bean left there in 1868-9 A Yes sir, I think he did.
 Q The Tobe Bean that you are talking of? A Yes sir.
 Q He did not then, leave Kansas in the fall of 1866 or the fall of 1867? A I don't know what he done in 1866. I was not there in 1866.
 Q He didn't leave Kansas in the fall of 1867? A Not to my knowledge.
 Q Never went away? A I never missed him if he did. He was around the shop there.
 Q The Tobe Bean you are talking about did not leave Kansas until about 1869? A I think it must have been.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know whether these people came down to the Cherokee Nation afterwards, these people that you are talking about?
 A They said they was coming here.

This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases:

D-358, D-359, D-360, D-412, D-405, D-388, D-335, D-667, D-656, D-611, D-310, D-304, D-315, and in the case at bar, D-315.

I, Wm. Hutchinson, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, I personally recorded the proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic report.

in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings.

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of FERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Mellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 7209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 489, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

John Martin, D 480;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decrees, because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decrees of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decrees, because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decrees of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings;

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Cherokee, I.T., June 10, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Jennie Ballard for the enrollment of herself and four children as Cherokee Freedmen, being sworn and examined by Commissioner of Brokenbridge, she testified as follows:

- Q Give us your name? A Jennie Ballard.
Q How old are you? A I am sixty on 4th.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q In what district do you live? A I live in Tahlequah.
Q Do you want to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes sir.
Q Do you want to apply for anybody besides yourself? A Yes sir.
Q Have you any children you want to apply for? A Yes sir, I have four.
Q Are these all under 21 years of age? A These four are yes sir.
Q Are they all unmarried? A Yes sir.
Q Are they all living with you now? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee nation? A I was born in the Cherokee nation and lived in and out all my life.
Q Were you a slave in the Cherokee nation at the time the war broke out? A Yes sir.
Q To whom did you belong? A Albert's.
Q What Albert? A Old Johnny Albert.
Q Give me the name of your father? A I don't know my father.
Q Give me the name of your mother? A My mother was Martha Albert.
Q Is your mother alive? A No sir, she died when I was a small child.
Q She died during the war? A Yes sir.
Q Where did she die? A I don't hardly know. She didn't die in the Cherokee nation; her master taken her off south; she died down south somewhere.
Q Down in Texas? A Yes sir, in the Cherokee nation, I believe I have heard it another way.
Q Was she a slave of old John Albert? A Yes sir.
Q Was he a recognized and well known citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Where were you during the war? A I was with my mother until her death, and she was with her boss in Texas or down south somewhere; my grandmother always said it was down south, I don't remember much about it.
Q You were too little? A Yes sir, small child.
Q Are you on the roll of 1880? A Yes sir, with my grandmother.
Q What is the name of your grandmother? A Nancy Albert.
Q Is she dead? A Yes sir, she is dead.
Q How long has she been dead? A Oh I don't just remember; she has been dead a good while.
Q Fifteen years? A Yes sir, or about that, I don't remember just exactly when she died.
Q Who brought you up after your mother's death, who had charge of you in your childhood? A Mr. Jack Albert.
Q I mean after the war? A Well her boss that took her off brought her back and she brought me back with her; my mother died in Texas and I fell to my grandmother; she came back with her boss and they brought me back.
Q What John Albert her master? A Yes sir.
Q And you came back after General with them? A Yes sir.
Q How many times have you been married? A Only once.
Q To whom were you married? A John Ballard.
Q What John, Cherokee Freedman of a state? A He was a slave.
Q Is he dead or alive? A He is living.
Q Are you living with him? A No.
Q When did you marry him? A When he came back he was married.

Jennie Ballard et al 2

Q Where did you marry him? In Geringale District.
Q In the Cherokee Nation? Yes sir.
Q How long did you and he live together? About 14 years.
Q You say you have lived in the Cherokee Nation, in and out
Q Yes sir, all my life, about two miles and a half from the line.
Q Five miles is the furthest I have ever been from the line since I was born, to live only I was in the Nation, I have lived in the State, at Arkansas, and worked over there.
Q In what state? & There I near ever in the state, I lived in Washington, worked there a great deal.
Q What Washington? A. Washington County, Cincinnati.
Q Arkansas? A. Yes sir.
Q Where are you living at this time? In Tallahatchie.
Q How long have you been living there? About nine months, now since
I come back there last time.
Q Where did you come from? Tallahatchie nine months ago? Cincinnati, Ill., Arkansas.
Q When had you been to Tallahatchie before that to live, or any other place in the Nation? How long had you been living over there just across the Arkansas line? A Little over two years, I went back to Cincinnati after the payment.
Q How long after the payment did you go back to Cincinnati? I don't just remember.
Q What two or three months? A No sir, longer than that, nine or ten months.
Q Did you live there until you came to Tallahatchie at this time?
A Yes sir.
Q How long before the payment was it that you came to the Cherokee Nation? A I don't remember just how long it was.
Q Was it two or three months? A It was a year or such a matter.
Q Before the payment? A Yes sir.
Q Where did you come from? A Come from Cincinnati.
Q How long had you been living there at Cincinnati? A About eight or nine years, between times, I were out on a ranch in the Creek Nation, worked during the time.
Q How long had you been at Cincinnati before you came back here some thing like a year before the payment? A Oh I expect about eight or nine years, about eight years I guess, somewhere along there.
Q Before you went to Cincinnati at that time, which was about ten years before the payment, nine or ten years before the Strip payment, where had you lived? A In Geringale, right near the line, right where I was born and raised.
Q Was that the first time you had ever been to Cincinnati? A That was the first time I was born to Cincinnati, but I had always mostly worked across the line since I was a small child, just worked by the week, my grandfather wasn't able to take care of me.
Q How far did your own mother live from the Arkansas line? A The folks she lived with, the line passed, was right at the corner of the house, most I ever lived was a mile or two and two miles the other and then it was a mile to Westville, to the Depot to Cincinnati.
Q You say your husband was a state man? A Yes sir, he was born and raised in Arkansas, he didn't belong to the territory, he was born and raised right there in about two miles of where I was born.
Q Did he run over on the Arkansas side? A Yes sir, he belonged to Tom Ballard.
Q Before you married him, had you lived any of the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, I lived with my grandfather, only when I worked out, my home was on the Indian Territory, to the Cherokee Nation, between Mrs. Jack Allen's and old Mrs. Muller's place.
Q After you married your husband did you go over into Arkansas with him? A Yes sir, now the other way, after we got into Arkansas we went out to the Indian Territory, to the depot and the line.

Jennie Ballard et al 3

Q How long after you married was it before you and your husband went over to Arles as to live? A Oh I don't remember.

Q How long did you and he live together over there? A About fourteen years we lived together after we was married, but we didn't live over there all the time.

Q I am asking you how long you lived together over there? A Couple of years.

Q And then you parted? A Yes sir.

Q And he went down to St. Smith? A No sir, we aint been parted but while he was working at St. Smith we wasn't parted, when he was working at St. Smith I was taking care of the children.

Q You are on the 1880 roll? A Yes sir.

Q Under what name? A Jane Alberty, with my brother, Jeff Alberty, and my grandmother, Nisey.

1880 authenticated roll of citizens of the Cherokee nation examined and applicant identified thereon as follows:
page 403 #23 Jane Alberty, Hoingsnah Dist, adopted colored;

Q Your brother and grandmother are both dead? A Yes sir.

Q Did you draw Strip money? A Yes sir.

Kern-Clifton pay roll of citizens of the Cherokee nation examined and applicant not identified thereon.

Q Give me the names of these four children that you apply for?

A Malcolm Ballard.

Q How old is this child? A He is 20 years old.

Q Now the next child? A Jeff Ballard.

Q How old is Jeff? A 16.

Q Now the next child? A 17.

Q Give me the name? A Spivey Ballard.

Q How old is Spivey? A 16.

Q Now give me the next one to Spivey? A 15.

Q What is the name? A Anna Ballard.

Q Did you draw Strip money for these children? A No sir, I did at the Wallace payment, but I didn't get any money for them at this payment.

Q That's the Strip payment? A No sir.

Q Where was Malcolm born? A In Goingmale District.

Q Where was Jeff born? A In Goingmale.

Q Where was Spivey born? A He was born in Washington County, Arkansas.

Q Where was Anna born? A She was born in Washington County, Ark.

page 99 #2122 Malcolm Ballard, Goingmale District.

Q Was this child Spivey ever in the Cherokee Nation to live until nine months ago? A Yes sir.

Q Was just working out over there at his birth.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, James Davenport.

Q You came to Tahlequah about how long ago? A This last time I come over about nine months ago.

Q Did you bring your family with you? A Yes sir.

Q What part of the town of Tahlequah are you living in now? A I don't know whether you would call it east or-

Q Well you know who lives near by you don't you? A I live close by old Mrs. Green and several Cherokee families, I lived in Chief Swimmer's building.

Q When did you move in to Chief Swimmer's building, about how long ago? A 23 of February.

Q You came directly from Cincinnati, Arkansas over to Tahlequah didn't you? A Yes sir.

Q Your family is now in Tahlequah? A Yes sir.

Q You had been living for some years in Cincinnati, Arkansas, before coming to Tahlequah this last time? A Yes sir.

Q Were you living in Cincinnati, Arkansas when the Wallace roll was made? A Yes sir, I hadn't been there but a short time.

Q No, but you had your family there, and came over when the Wallace roll was made, you lived in Cincinnati Arkansas when the Kern Clifton roll was made? A Yes sir.

Q And that was the reason was given you for not putting you on the roll, because you had abjured your citizenship? A They didn't tell me, they told me if I would pay them a big amount of money they would put me on the roll.

Q Mr. Kern and Mr. Clifton didn't tell you that? A No, but the others did; I always lived here and I thought this was my home, I never knew anybody else.

Q You knew these people in Arkansas didn't you? A Yes sir, I ought to know them, I worked for them.

Q Who is there here that knows you have been married and have been about you ~~and have been living with your grandmother~~? A Ben Liberty.

DANIEL ALBERTY, being sworn and examined by Com'r Breakinridge testified as follows.

Q Give us your name? A Daniel Alberty.

Q How old are you? A I am about 52 years old I guess.

Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.

Q Do you live in Tahlequah District? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since I was born in there.

Q All your life? A Not altogether lived in the Cherokee Nation, in the Territory all my life.

Q How long have you been living continuously now in the Cherokee Nation? A You may say lived in the Cherokee Nation about 12 or 15 years.

Q Are you on the roll of 1880? A No sir, I don't think I is.

Q Do you now take applicant here? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known her? A I have been knowing her ever since she was born.

Q What was the name of her mother? A Martha Alberty.

Q Was she a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war broke out? A Yes sir, she was a slave under old man John Liberty.

Q Martha Alberty and her son dead a long time hasn't she? A She died the year of the surrender I think. We was all together I think about 20 year she died.

Q When her mother died, she took charge of this applicant and brought her up? A Her grandmother.

Q What was her name? A Nancy Alberty.

Q Well, the applicant has been married has she? A Yes sir.

Q What is the name of the man she married? A John Ballard I think.

Q About how long ago was it she married John Ballard? A I rec'd ly couldn't tell you how long it has been since she married John Ballard, simply because she married since she got grown, I suppose it has been about 16 or 18 years ago.

Jennie Ballard et al 5

Q It has been a good long time ago? A Yes sir.

A I don't want to living near her when she got married, ~~she~~ ~~when~~ we were separated in '65 the spring of '65, the spring of '66 and her grandmother brought her back home and old man Alberty, that's my old boss' daddy, he fetched her and her grandmother and all back to the old place and left me in the Choctaw Nation with my people, my owners.

Q Have you known much about this woman since she married, have you been seeing her much? A Well for the last ten or fifteen years I reckon ten or twelve years I have seen her off and on.

Examined by Mr. Davenport:

Q You haven't been living very close to her since that time for any length of time, within the last ten or fifteen years? A No sir.

Q You have been living at Tablequah and she has been living in Cincinnati, Arkansas? A No she has been at Tablequah most part of her time, about twelve years I have seen her around Tablequah, part of the time she was there and part of the time off.

Q How long at any one time have you seen her living in the town of Tablequah within the last ten or fifteen years, how long at any one time have you known her living in or near Tablequah within the last fifteen years? A I suppose she stayed there at a time three or four years I guess.

Q You have seen her there as much as three or four years? A I think I have.

Q As a matter of fact you don't know anything about it? A I think I do.

Q Don't you know she has not been living in Tablequah this last time but about three months, don't you know she lived over in Cincinnati over in Arkansas since Christmas? A No sir.

Q When did she move from over the river? A I don't know, but she has been staying here way before the payment, and from that she went back in there up about going make or Cincinnati one or the other and there's some of her boys up here more or less, I saw her around Tablequah there.

Q Great deal more or less than it was more wasn't it? A I don't know about that; but it was a common thing to see her.

Q You know she has not been living in Tablequah any length of time? A No, I can't say that.

Q Do you live in Tablequah? A Yes sir, right in the town.

Q Do you know Nelson Lowery? A Yes sir.

Q You know Frank Pack? A I do.

Q You know W. F. Hastings? A Yes sir.

Q How long have they been living in Tablequah? A Frank and Mr. Hastings have been living there 10 or 12 years.

Q You know exactly where they have been living, what house they have been living in? A Yes sir, living in their own houses.

Q Now what house has this woman been living in for the last three or four years? A She has been living in Thompson's house and a full-blood's house, and Sawyer's house and I don't know how many houses she has been living in.

Q In the last three years, I couldn't say positively she has been staying all this long time.

Q Can you say positively she has lived there six months at any one time? A Yes sir.

Q Can you say she has lived there as much as a year since the Wallace roll was made, at one time? A Yes sir.

Q When did you first go to Tablequah to live? A That was I reckon about 12 years ago.

Jennie Ballard et al d

Applicant, JENNIE BALLARD, re-called, and further examined.
By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Whose house are you living in now at Tahlequah? A Chief Swimmer's, a full-blood's house.

Q You have been living in that house since last February?

Yes sir.

Q What house did you live in before you lived in Chief Swimmer's house? A Jonie Shell's, by the ice factory, down on the Creek.

Q And you came to Tahlequah the last time since September? A Yes sir, the 23rd.

Q And you have been living there since last September? A Yes sir, this time.

Com'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and four children, minors; the applicant is identified on the roll of 1880 and on the Wallace roll, but not upon the Kern-Clifton extroll or the roll of 1896; it appears that she was born in the Cherokee Nation, and was taken out of the Nation south during the war; and her mother died about the time of the conclusion of the war; that she and her mother were slaves in the Cherokee Nation of a Cherokee citizen at the time of the breaking out of the war, and that after the death of her mother she was brought up by her grandmother, now deceased; up to her enrollment in 1880 she seems to have lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation from the time of her return after the Civil War; since that time she has lived to a considerable extent in the State of Arkansas; she testifies that at the time the Wallace roll was made upon which she is found, she was living in the State of Arkansas, and that at the time the Kern-Clifton roll was made, she was living in the State of Arkansas, although in one part of her testimony she claims to have come to the Cherokee Nation prior to the making of the Kern-Clifton roll, and to have stayed some nine or ten months thereafter. Her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner; her husband, from whom she is now separated, is a state man, being of the State of Arkansas, and no application is made for him. The question in the applicant's case is as to whether she has abjured her citizenship since her enrollment in 1880. It will be observed that the testimony in regard to her residence given by the only witness called in her case, is directly contradicted in every essential particular by her own testimony, and it appears that her case should be considered upon the strength of her own testimony, upon which the foregoing summary of points has been made. She will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to her at her post-office address.

As for her four children, the oldest of the four, Malinda Ballard, is identified on the Wallace roll, but not upon the Kern-Clifton roll or upon the roll of 1896; this child is living with his mother at this time, and will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card. The remaining three children named in the testimony are minors and are living at this time; they are not identified upon any roll; the applicant is desired to supply the Commission with a certificate of their birth, when they will be listed with her as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card, and the final decision in each of these applications will be made known is the applicant at her present address; this address is said to be now the town of Table Rock, where she claims to have lived for the past nine months.

M. D. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this June 15, 1901.

Commissioner.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Fort Gibson, I.T., September 4, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Jane Alberty for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Jane Alberty, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Jane Alberty.

Q What is your age? A 46 years.

Q What is your postoffice address? A Muskogee.

Q What district do you live in? A Going Snake when I live in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, when you live in the Cherokee Nation; you must live somewhere now? A I live in Muskogee now.

Q You apply to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

Q Who do you desire to enroll besides yourself? A Nobody but myself.

Q Have you ever been recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir, and drawn with them.

Q Is your name on any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A On the 1880 roll and on the Wallace roll.

Q Are you married? A No, sir, not now.

Q Have you ever been married? A Yes, sir.

Q What was your name before you were married? A Alberty.

Q Your name always been Alberty? A Yes, sir, gone back to Alberty again.

Q What was your father's name? A Beck.

Q What was your mother's name? A Niecey Alberty.

Q What Beck? A Uncle Jeff Beck's son.

Q Was he a citizen? A Yes, sir, he was an Indian.

Q Was your mother a slave? A Yes, sir, she was a citizen, an old settler. Jennie Ballard claims my enrollment; my name and my mother's name and my brother's name and my daughter's name is together on the 1880 roll, it ought to be, Niecey and Jane and Jeff, and the Cherokees call them by Burrington on the roll, and that is the name Jennie is trying to claim and it is 46 years old I am, it is on the roll that way, enrolled in Going Snake district, it is the only family there was there. She never was enrolled in 1880, she wasn't here in 1880, she never got back here in time only to get on the Wallace roll; she wasn't here in 1880.

Mr. Hastings: How old did you say you were? A I say it is on the roll 46 years of age.

Q I say how old are you? A I guess if they say my age I am 46.

Q That is what I am trying to find out; do you know how old you are? A Yes, I guess 46, said to be anyway, that is what I have always been told that.

Commissioner: There appears to be a name on the roll of 1880, of Jane Alberty, who applied to be enrolled as Jane or Jennie Ballard, she averring that she was married to one John Ballard; do you know this person? A She is a niece of mine.

Q How old is she? A I don't know, I don't know what her age is.

Q Your mother's name you say was Niecey; is Niecey living? A No, sir.

Q Have you any children? A One.

Q What is the child's name? A Maude.

Q You apply to have her enrolled? A No, sir, she is going to attend to her own business; she is married and with a family; she will have to enroll for herself; she will soon be 25 years of age.

Q Do you know one Jeff Alberty? A Yes, sir.

Q What relation is he to you? A He is a nephew of mine.

Q Who was the mother of Jennie Ballard? A Martha Alberty, my sister, the oldest one.

Q Is Martha Alberty living? A No, sir, she is dead.

Q Was her name on the roll of 1880, do you know? A No, sir, I guess not. I don't think she was enrolled, she died time of the war.
Dr. Hastings: By what name did Jane Ballard go before the war married? A Jennie Alberty I guess; her father was a Harrold.
Q Well, did she live with you? A No, sir, she didn't live with me.

Q Where did she live? A She stayed with my mother, her grandmother until she got big enough to work for herself, and then she hired out until she was married.

Q What was her grandmother's name? A Nancy Alberty.

Q That was your mother? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live with your mother? A After I was big enough to work and attend to business for myself I didn't live with her.
Commissioner: Jeff Alberty isn't your brother? A He is her brother, a nephew of mine.

Mr. Hastings: Did this Jennie ever come back with you?

A No, sir, she didn't come back with me.

Q After the war? A No, sir, I didn't come with my mother, I came with Mrs. Bettie Eaton.

Q You never lived with your mother after the war? A I lived with her a year or two years after the war; I always stayed at Mrs. Eaton's most of the time.

Q Were you living with your mother in 1880; you would be 36 or 7 years of age? A In 1880 I was living with her.

Q You were? A Yes, I guess I was; I would go away and stay a while and come home and stay a while. I would stay with Mrs. Eaton and go home and I stayed with Mrs. Harrold a while, I didn't stay at home all the time because my mother had two or three children of her own and had two grandchildren, and she put me out when I was small because she couldn't take care of all of them.

Commissioner: You know who enrolled you in 1880? A I think Tuck Alberty and George Reese, if I am not mistaken, I don't know who had me enrolled, I think the old folks had me enrolled.

Q What old folks; was your mother enrolled in 1880? A Yes, sir, she was living; I don't know whether it was her or Mrs. Eaton had us enrolled.

Q You never went by any other name but Alberty until you married?

A No, sir.

Q Never went by the name of Eaton? A No, sir, I didn't go by the name of Eaton.

Q Do you know Jane Eaton? A I think that is Zeb Eaton, she lives at Vian now.

Q Have you any witnesses know anything about you? A From my birth on up?

Q Who know whether you are the Jane Alberty that is on the roll of 1880? A I guess Mr. J. V. Alberty will know.

J. V. ALBERTY, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q Your name is J. V. Alberty? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your age? A I am 37 years old.

Q You are a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q What is your postoffice? A Westville.

Q Please relate now to the Commission what you may know as to Jane Alberty, the applicant there, and Jennie Alberty. A I will make a statement of the facts: In the spring of '86 my father came back here and made a crop and he brought her mother.

Q Whose mother? A Her mother.

Q The applicant's mother? A Yes, and then two children, that Jennie Ballard and Jeff, her grandchildren, he brought them back in the spring of '86, and she stayed back with my mother until we came here in November, '84.

Q The applicant here? A Yes, she came here when we did in November, '85.

Q She has been living here since that time? A Well, she has been here I reckon about Gibson, she lived up there until after '80 neighborhood to us.

Q Do you know Jennie, or Jane Ballard? A Well, she is the one I was telling you he went after in the spring of '88, but after she stayed here a few days why she went to Harrolds and stayed and has been out ever since.

Q Where is Harrolds? A He lived in the state.

Q What state? A State of Arkansas.

Q That is Jennie Ballard? A That is Jennie Ballard, went to Harrolds and stayed there until she married.

Q And has been living there ever since? A Yes, sir.

Q That is in the State of Arkansas? A Yes, sir, and this one lived right there up until about '85 or '86, her mother died there I reckon must have been in '84, and then she came back down here.

Q Well, there appears to be on the 1880 roll one Jane Alberty.

A Well, this is the person.

Q The applicant is that person? A Yes, sir.

Q What makes you think that this woman, the applicant, is the Jane Alberty on the roll of 1880, instead of the Jane Alberty who is now married to one Ballard? A Well, this one lived right there by me, in about a quarter of a mile of me when the census of 1880 was taken, and the other one lived at George Gibson's in the state.

Q In the state of Arkansas? A Yes, sir, I know them both well because my mother raised them.

Q Well, did you know Macey Alberty? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was she? A She was the mother of this one, and the grandmother of Jennie Ballard.

Q Do you know Jeff Alberty? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he? A He was a brother of this Jennie Ballard, and their mother died on Red River, they were just children when we brought them back in '86; Jeff is dead, and he was born about the time of the war, he was called after the great man, Jeff Davis.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined, and opposite the name of Macey, Jane and Jeff Alberty on said roll appears following note: "Adopted by treaty of 1866.

Afterwards removed out and is back in the Nation and claims that she lived here first when she went out of the Nation; Going Snake district, page 403.

Q There are two more of the same family down here somewhere, there is Bell West, and then he has got a sister that was married to Tom Walte, they were all brought back at the same time, we brought them back.

Q That a sister of this applicant? A Yes, sir, a sister and a brother, they call themselves though West; Millie is married a darkey by the name of Tom Walte, and they have been writing to me.

Q This applicant was never known by any other name than Alberty?

A No, sir.

Q She was never known by the name of West? A No, sir; these taken their name from their father.

Q Well, your opinion is that the Jennie Ballard who claims to be on the roll as Jane Alberty couldn't have been correct, she wasn't entitled, in your opinion, to be enrolled in 1880? A No, she was living out of the state, there was another that married in the state and she don't appear on any roll, she never made any application at all, of the same family, two went out in the state.

Mr. Hastings: You knew this woman lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously after her return up until 1880? A Well, I guess so, I have never seen her since she left there until this time.

Q I mean up to 1880? A Oh yes, she lived there, they had a little house and she worked backwards and forwards like people did for something to eat, she worked over in the state a month or so and back again, her mother lived right there and she lived with her; of course they had to work for something to eat.

Q How about Jennie Ballard? A She never stayed on this side at all.

Q How long after she returned after the war until she went over in the State? Jennie Ballard? A Well, it was only about two or three weeks after we returned here; now she returned in the spring. I mean ~~xxxxxx~~ after the fall. A Yes, after the fall.

Q Well, in the fall of '88 she went over in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q And she has lived there ever since? A Ever since, yes, sir.

Q She married over there? A Yes, she married this John Ballard over there and has been living there, first one place and another.

Q Well, you have known her ever since? A Known her, oh yes, I have known her ever since.

Q How far do you live from Cincinnati? A About four miles.

Q You live on this side? A Yes; what bothers us, we always called her Jean, and it is down there different.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the name of Jane Alberty found thereon, page 403, No. 23, Going Snake district.

The 1893 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the name of Jane Alberty not found thereon.

JANE ALBERTY, recalled, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: Did you enroll five years ago? A I was enrolled here five years ago.

Commissioner: Did you draw your strip money? A I guess I did, I was enrolled.

Q Did you draw your strip money? A No, sir.

Q Why? A This woman came between us and claimed the money and they said they wouldn't pay it to either one; they investigated and said they wouldn't pay it to either one until it was settled, and that gentleman said I would have to find someone who knew me from my birth, and I was going to write him back, and they said it was no use, they wouldn't pay it to either one; they said I would have to write to the Secretary of the Interior.

Q What did the Secretary of the Interior write to you? A He wrote me to present it to the Dawes Commissioners and when I presented the returns I would present the letter.

Q Wanted you to appear before the Dawes Commission? A Yes, sir, and I never did it.

Q Have you any other witnesses besides Mr. Alberty here? A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: Was Maude married in 1893? A Maude was married in 1893.

Commissioner: Did she get any strip money? A She has got two children.

Q Did she get her strip money? A No, sir, she didn't get any strip money.

Q Did she ever apply here to be enrolled here? A No, sir, she said she was going to apply to the Council to withdraw from the Cherokee Nation, she hasn't been before them and said she wasn't coming.

The Kern-clifton roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

Q Did you draw what is known as the Wallace money? A Yes, sir.

Q Is your name in the Wallace roll? A Yes, sir, I drew the Wallace money.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant identified thereon page 31, No. 583, Going Snake district.

Q You are living now in Nuckagoe in the Great Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you lived there? A 19 years, that is the longest I have lived out of the Cherokee Nation since I came back.

Q Are you married? A No, sir.

Q Have you any property in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, I haven't none this time, that is improved.

Q Why do you live in Muskogee instead of the Cherokee Nation? A I had to make a living, and I thought I had just as well work there; I work for Mr. Blackstone in Muskogee.

Commissioner: Jane Albany applies for the enrollment of herself. She avers that her name appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880, and on said roll is found the name of Jane Albany according to page and number of the roll as indicated in the testimony. Her name is also found and she is fully identified upon the Wallace roll, according to page and number of the roll as indicated in the testimony. She avers that she was a slave, and returned to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1888, and has lived in the Cherokee Nation until about ten years ago, ~~when she removed to Muskogee~~ and that she now resides in Muskogee in the Creek Nation. Upon an examination of the records of the Commission, it is found that one Jennie Ballard applied to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman, and claimed that her name before her marriage was Jennie Albany, and that she was the identical Jane Albany found upon the said roll under the same name and number on the roll as the applicant. There appears to be a question of identity as to whether the applicant, Jane Albany, or Jennie Ballard, nee Albany, is the person whose name appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880. From the testimony it would appear that the applicant is the identical person, and if so, the only question as to her enrollment would be the matter of residence. The evidence presented to-day would indicate that the Jennie Ballard, nee Albany, who applied for enrollment and has been listed on D card 559, is a non-resident, and has no rights to citizenship for herself or her four children. The testimony taken in the matter of the present application will be made part of the record in the case of the applicant, Jennie Ballard, and her four children, on D card 559, and will be filed therewith. The testimony taken in the matter of the application of Jennie Ballard on D card 559 will be made part of the record in the case at bar, and a copy thereof filed herewith. The said Jane Albany will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman upon a doubtful card, for the further consideration of the Commission. It appears that the only fact to be determined by the Commission is as to the identity of the applicant, which now appears to be fully established.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
FORT GIBSON, I.T., SEPTEMBER 16, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of JENNIE BALLARD as a Cherokee Freedman:

APPEARANCES:

Applicant present in person and by Agent, Louis T. Brown.

W. W. Hastings, present for Cherokee Nation.

MR. HASTINGS: Comes now the representative of the Cherokee Nation and protests against the taking of the testimony of the applicant, Jennie Ballard for the reason that she took the stand in her own case when her application was made and every point was gone into thoroughly in her case and no new points were brought out by the Cherokee Nation in the testimony introduced in the Jane Alberty case and made a part of the record in her case, and therefore it is not competent to introduce any rebuttal testimony except where new points have been brought out, and then rebuttal testimony must be confined to the new point brought out by the defendant.

Commissioner Needles: Objection overruled and testimony will be taken.

JENNIE BALLARD, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows: By Mr. Brown:

- Q State your name. A Jane Ballard.
Q What is your age? A I don't know my age.
Q What is your residence? A Tahlequah.
Q What was your name before you married? A Jane Alberty.
Q Your grandmother's name? A Niecey Alberty.
Q What was your brother's name? A Jeff Alberty.
Q Do you remember when the 1880 roll was made? A Yes, sir.
Q Where were you living at that time? A Near Jack Alberty's in a little cabin.
Q In what district? A Goingsnake.
Q Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Did the census takers come to your house or not? A Yes, sir.
Q Did they enroll you? A Yes, sir.
Q With whom? A My grandmother and my brother.
Q What did you say your brother's name was? A Jeff Alberty.
Q With whom did you live Mrs. Ballard, from the time you returned here until you married?

Mr. Hastings: Question objected to by representative of the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that the Agent for the applicant explained to the commission that it was not the residence but identification upon the 1880 roll was which he desired to introduce the applicant; and that the question of residence was thoroughly gone into when the applicant made her original application, and that this is certainly not rebuttal testimony against any new matter brought out by the Cherokee Nation.

Commissioner Needles: This matter of her residence has been all gone into; we have got her testimony on that.

- Q When you applied to be enrolled by Mr. Wallace who was your witness? A Jack Alberty, Elias Harlan, you will find it on record.
Q Do you know a woman who is now going by the name of Jane Alberty and she claims to be an aunt of yours? A Yes, sir, I do.
Q How long have you known her? A Ever since I could remember I have known my aunt.
Q I will ask you to state whether or not she has ever gone to the Alberty

Jane. A Not that I know of.

Q You have known her all her life? A Gene was always her name.

Mr. Hastings: Who took the census in 1880?

A Tuck Alberty and George Reese.

Q What time of the year was it they enrolled you?

A I don't remember I think it was in the spring, as well as I can remember.

Q Were you married then? A No, sir, I married shortly afterwards.

Q What time of the day did they come to your house?

A I think it was right about noon as well as I remember.

Q Is there any circumstance by which you remember the fact that they came to your house? A Yes, sir, I see my brother was working out and my grandmother notified him to come home and be enrolled; he was working about a mile and a half from home; she wanted to enroll him, he and I.

Q Did she notify you? A I was at home.

Q Where was your aunt Gene? A I don't know, sir, perhaps she might have been at home and perhaps she might have been gone.

Q You don't remember that? A It seems to me that she was there, I don't remember.

Q Where were you when they took the census in '83? A I don't know that; I guess I was in the Creek Nation.

Q Did you know who took them in '83? A No, sir I don't.

Q Who took the census in '86? A I don't know that either.

Q Who took them in '91? A I don't know, sir.

Q Who took them in '93? A I don't know that.

Q You don't know what time in the year, you are not positive what time of the year, these gentlemen took them in 1880? A No, sir, I think it was in the spring of the year though.

Q Do you remember any question they asked your grandmother?

A Yes, sir, they took our names and ages.

Q Jeff came back to the house did he? A Yes, sir, and was enrolled.

Q And you think Tuck Alberty was one of them? A Yes, sir.

Q What relation is Tuck Alberty to this man Jack Alberty?

A His nephew.

Q How far from Jack Alberty were you living at that time?

A Quarter of a mile.

Q And that is the same man that testified? A Yes, sir.

COM'R NEEDLES: You say your name is Jane Ballard? A Yes, sir.

Q You gave your name in when you enrolled as Jennie Ballard?

A That is my name.

Q Your name is Jane? A Jane; great many calls me Jennie and great many calls me Jane.

Q Did you ever call yourself Jennie? A Yes, sir, sometime I do; Mr. ~~Hastings~~ testified and had me enrolled on the Wallace roll after my grandmother died; just whatever he give my age that is my age. He never enrolled myself until '96. He testified for me after my grandmother's death.

Q Are you the same person that was enrolled as Jennie Ballard on the 10th day of June, 1901, at Chelsea? A Yes, sir.

J. O. Reason, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
FORT GIBSON, I.T., SEPTEMBER 16, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of Jane Alberty as a Cherokee Freedman:

APPEARANCES:

Applicant present by Louis T. Brown, Agent;
W. W. Hastings, attorney for Cherokee Nation:

J. W. ALBERTY, recalled for additional cross-examination, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. BROWN: State your name, Mr. Alberty? A J. W. Alberty.

Q Your age? A 67 years old.

Q What is your residence? A Goingsnake district, Westville, I.T., post office.

Q You are the same J. W. Alberty that testified in the Jane Alberty case the other day? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Alberty, in your testimony you testified that Jennie Ballard came back to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866 and left there a few weeks afterwards and has never lived in the Cherokee Nation since?

A No, she never has been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since.

Q Well, now, has she ever lived in the Cherokee Nation since?

A Well, no, not of my recollection.

Q When did you see her after she left Goingsnake district in 1866 the next time? A I saw her frequently, she just lived over across the line at Herald and Gibson's.

Q How long did she continue to live up in that neighborhood after 1866? A She lived up there until she married.

Q About how long is that? A I could not exactly state; she lived there ever since only for a short time she went to Okmulgee and stayed out there a while and she is still living there the last time I knew of her, she lived there.

Q How long has it been since you knew of her last?

A I haven't saw her for 12 months or over.

Q Then she has continued to live in the neighborhood of George Gibson and Herald from 1866? A No, sir, she went to Cincinnati and lived there a short space of while and went to Okmulgee.

Q Then you knew of her whereabouts from 1866 until about 12 months ago? A Well, Yes.

Q And you are positive of your statement she has not lived in the Cherokee Nation since that time? A Yes, sir.

Q You are just as positive about that as other matter you have testified to? A Yes, sir.

Q Did Jane Alberty ever have a brother by the name of Jeff?

A Yes, sir.

Q Jennie Ballard have a brother? A She was Jane Alberty, the other one was Gene Alberty; she was Jane Alberty and the other one was Gene, we called her Gene; she has no brother except that fellow that was in here the other day, Bill.

Q Then she didn't have a brother by the name of Jeff?

A No, sir.

Q Was Jane, or Gene Alberty, ever married? A No, sir.

Q Never was? A No.

Q Now, then, did Jane Alberty, or Gene Alberty as you call her, continue to live with a grandmother, Nancy Alberty? A No, didn't give it that way, she lived with her mother; Nancy Alberty was her mother.

Q They were living in the Cherokee Nation all the time?

A Well, no, they didn't live all the time; they had a little house, residence, close to Hape; they worked out some, sometimes in the State and sometimes in the Nation, the bigger part of the time in the Nation, they kept a little house there.

Q Now, then, when Jennie Ballard was working for George Gibson where was Niece Alberty? A She lived in a little house right there by me.

Q Mr. Alberty, do you remember the circumstances of the making of a roll of freedmen by Mr. J. W. Wallace? A Yes, sir.

Q I will ask you to state if you were not a witness at that time for Jennie Ballard? A I was not.

Q And if you didn't testify in that matter at her application before Mr. Wallace that Jennie Ballard was living within a mile or mile and a half of your residence in Goingsmake district?

A No, sir, I didn't; it was in a mile or mile and a half of my residence but she was in the State.

Q Don't you know as a matter of fact that Jennie Ballard lived with her grandmother, Niece Alberty, up to within a year or two before she was married? A No, sir.

Q They built a little house up there somewhere? A Yes, sir.

Q In what year was that? A I could not exactly tell, it was along about '67 or '70; it might have been up as near as '71 or 2 though; they asked my permission to build up there and I granted it.

Q Where was Jennie Ballard then? A She was at Mr. Gibson's.

Q Didn't she help build that house? A No, sir.

Q She didn't? A No, sir.

Q About what time did Jane Alberty leave Goingsmake district?

A Jane Alberty or Gene?

Q Yes, sir? A She must have left there in about '85 or 6.

Q From the time she left there in '86 did you see her any more until this other day? A I saw her since after that at Tahlequah.

Q You didn't know where she has lived from '85 up to the present date? A No, sir; her statement will show that.

Q Did the Jane Alberty for whom you testified the other day ever go by that name until she came here to be married?

A Well, she always went by Gene; we called her Gene, and she went by that ever since she was a child.

Q What name did Jennie Ballard ever go by? A Jennie.

Q Was she ever called Jane? A No, sir.

Q You are positive of that? A Yes, sir.

Q So you now state that you didn't testify for Jennie Ballard before Mr. Wallace? A No, sir, I did not.

Q Mr. Alberty, didn't the grandmother of Jennie Ballard here, who was named Niece Alberty, have a little house close to Mr. Gibson's?

A She stayed in a little house there close to Gibson's a while.

Q About how long? A I could not tell how long; she stayed there but all the while she had that little house by me.

Q Where was Jane Alberty then? A She was part of the time with my sister, Mrs. Eaton.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was she the other time? A She worked part of the time in the Nation and part of the time in Arkansas.

Q But she worked more of the time in Arkansas than she did in the Nation? A No, sir, I don't know.

Q Now, where is this George Gibson's house with reference to the line?

Mr. Hastings: About how far east of the line? A About 50 steps.

Mr. Brown: A Isn't it a fact that the line runs across the porch? A No, sir, it is just outside of the fence.

Q Then, you are satisfied that since the return of Jennie Ballard in 1866 up until 18 months ago, she has never lived in the Cherokee Nation? A She never made her home in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, has she or has she not lived in the Cherokee Nation since?

A Well, not of my knowledge.

Q Well, you stated positively the other day that she hadn't lived in the Nation? A Well, I don't know that she ever did; she never had a residence in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well, do you know that she didn't? A Well, if she did I never knew it.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskegee, I. T., November 17, 1903.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY AND PROCEEDINGS in the matter of the application for the enrollment of JENNIE BALLARD, ET AL., as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearances:

Myron White, Attorney for Applicants.
W. W. Hastings, Attorney for Cherokee Nation.

Witnesses placed under the rule.

JENNIE BALLARD: being first duly sworn, testified as follows on her own behalf:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A Jennie Ballard.

Q How old are you? A About forty-four, I guess, as well as I know.

Q What is your post office? A Tahlequah.

Q In what district do you live? A I really don't know, I live in Tahlequah.

Q You live in the Cherokee Nation, do you? A Yes sir.

MR. WHITE: How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation, Mrs.
Ballard? A I have lived there all my life.

Q You were born in the Cherokee Nation, were you? A Yes sir.

Q During that time, Mrs. Ballard, have you ever moved from the Cherokee Nation permanently, went away from there to make your home at another place? A No sir, I have worked away from there, backwards and forwards all my life.

Q Where have you worked, Mrs. Ballard? A In Cincinnati, and right on the line near Westville.

Q Have you ever worked in any other nation or country in the Indian Territory? A Yes sir, I lived here in this place a couple of years, then I worked in Okmulgee. When I was first married we lived at Okmulgee on a ranch some three or four years.

Q You may state whether or not at any time you ever moved all of your effects, all of your belongings, from the Indian Territory.

A No sir, never. I never have gone and took my household goods after I moved here.

Q Have you ever been away from the Indian Territory as long as a year? A Not without coming back.

Q What was your name before you were married? A Jane Alberty, sister of Jeff's.

Q Were you ever enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation under that name? A Yes sir, Tuck Alberty enrolled me as Jane Alberty, in the year 1880.

MR. HASTINGS: Where were you living when Tuck enrolled you?

A Between Jack Alberty's and Buffington's.

Q With whom were you living? A Niece Alberty, my grandmother.

Q How far were you living from John or Jack Alberty? A About a quarter of a mile from Jack Alberty.

Q Jack Alberty's name is John? A About a quarter of a mile, right out in a little glade.

Q Were you married at that time? A No sir, not at that time, but I married shortly afterwards.

Q How old is your oldest child? A Twenty-two.

Q What is his name? A Malcolm Ballard.

Q Is that the oldest child you ever gave birth to? A After I was married to Ballard. I never was married until I married John Ballard.

Q Did you have a child before that? A Yes sir.

Q What is its name? A Its name is William.

Q How old is William? A I guess he is about twenty-five or twenty-four, somewhere along there. I really don't know exactly.

Q William was alive in 1880, was he? A Yes sir, he was alive. He is alive now.

Q Did you have him enrolled with you in 1880? A I really don't know whether I did or not. I didn't give in the names, my grandmother did, I suppose she did.

Q Were you present when your name was given in? A Yes sir, I was.

Q You heard it given in? A Yes sir, I think Will was enrolled by George Riggs.

Q This Tuck Alberty is the same man that is now a senator? A Yes sir, I saw him yesterday before I started over here.

Q This child of yours, then, is not on the roll of 1880 at present, along with you? A No sir, I think not.

Q You had an aunt by the name of Jane Alberty? A No sir, I had an aunt by the name of Eugene Alberty. Never had one by the name of Jane. Only was one in the family and that's me, my name is Jane myself.

Q Your aunt never went by the name of Jane? A No sir, 'cause everybody knows that's not her name.

Q You know it is not her name? A Everybody did.

Q Everybody in Goingsnake District know that too? A Yes sir.

Q Tuck Alberty knows it is her name? A Yes sir.

Q Jack Alberty knows it was not her name? A Yes sir, he knew it wasn't her name.

Q You are positive, you know it wasn't her name? A Yes sir, because she is my mother's sister. She testified my brother was her brother; she testified she was married, and everybody knew she never had been married.

Q You have been married? A Yes sir.

Q What is your name now? A Ballard. My husband and me separated, and I have never got a divorce, but I still go by the name of Ballard. My name used to be Alberty.

Q They all know you by the name of Jane? A Yes sir.

Q Mrs. George Gibson was a white woman? A Yes sir, and her name was Jane, I nursed for her. My grandmother lived in the yard and done the work, and I nursed in the house, just like Mrs. Richardson is doing for you.

Q Gibson lived over in Arkansas? A Yes sir, about a half a mile right over the line, and the other Gibson lived about four miles from him.

Q You belonged to Gibson? A No sir, I belonged to old John Alberty. I was little and don't know anything about it. I was at Gibson's place, and my grandmother worked there.

Q That is the same John Alberty that testified in this case? A No sir, it was old Jack Alberty that testified in this case. He enrolled me, and then he come right down here and tried to take me off the roll.

Q You belonged to Mr. Gibson, a white man, did you? A No sir, never did belong to him. He never owned me. I only worked for him when I was small.

Q Is he alive? A Yes sir.

Q You never asked him to act as a witness for you? A Yes sir, I asked him to come. I said I would ask him to come. Didn't ask him to come now. My aunty worked for him as much as I ever did, and when they left I left too.

Q Her name wasn't Jane? A No sir.

Q How is it you come by the name of Jennie? A That's all the same, but Eugene and Jane isn't. Her name is Malzarine Eugene.

Q Where were you living when you married? A Between Jack Alberty's and Tucksy.

Q Who married you? A Old Uncle Isaac Buckhannon. He is dead now.

Q How long did you live up there after you married? A Seven weeks right then.

Q Who did you live with? A I lived with my grandmother; was living with her when I married, and afterwards.

Q In what year were you married? A In the spring of 1880.

Q About what month? A The third day of April, I think it was about that time, it was in the spring of the year.

Q Now after about seven weeks, you state, where did you move to? A Out to Okmulgee to Fred Severs' to cook, on a ranch. My husband was working out there when he come and married me. He stayed in Goingsnake seven weeks and afterwards went back.

Q You went to Okmulgee? A Yes sir, out on a ranch.

Q How long did you stay out there? A Some three or four years, I don't know exactly.

Q Then where did you go? A I come here.

Q To Muskogee? A Yes sir, right here to Muskogee.

Q How long did you stay at Muskogee that time? A I really don't know, sir, just exactly how long I lived here.

Q About how long; your best judgment? A I really don't know. At that time I never thought it was necessary to keep any record. I was young and didn't think about it, and of course I don't know.

Q As much as five years? A No sir, I didn't live here as much as five years.

Q As much as three years? A No sir. Well, I don't hardly know whether it was as much as three years or not.

Q In the neighborhood of three years? A Yes sir, my best judgment I really don't know.

Q Is that your best judgment? A Yes sir, my best judgment.

Q Where did you go from here? A Went back to Goingsnake to my grandmother there on the branch at Bob Williams', around the mountain over here.

Q Had you and your husband separated? A Yes sir; not exactly separated. I just went off and left him in the Creek Nation at work, went to grandmother's. She was sick.

Q How long did you stay up there with your grandmother when she was sick? A I stayed until she died, after her death.

Q Then did you come back here? A Yes sir.

Q How long were you over there attending your grandmother's sickness? A I spent from February, I believe, or was it before Christmas? I really don't know just exactly. It was in the winter time, and I stayed until the opening of spring.

Q Two or three months? A Yes sir, I suppose it was.

Q Where did you go then? A I come back over here.

Q How long did you stay here that time? A I really don't know sir.

Q How long have you been living at Tahlequah this last time? A I don't know sir.

Q Well, about how long? A I guess it is somewhere in the neighborhood of five years this time.

Q Where did you come from this time? A Cincinnati, Arkansas, five miles from Westville.

Q With whom were you living up there? A I was working for first one then another. I worked for several families up there.

Q Can you name some of them? A Bob Rowe, Bill Rowe, Oates, Spence.

Q Keep house? A Yes sir, sometimes I did. Just like I did at Tahlequah. Sometimes at home, and sometimes at Aunt 'Liza's hotel, and sometimes at Ballard's restaurant.

Q How long were you over there just before you came to Tahlequah, five years, you said? A I really don't know just exactly how long I was over there, but you remember I had been to Tahlequah before. I had went over there and back over here.

Q Had you been in Arkansas five years? A At one time, no sir.

Q All along together before you moved to Tahlequah? A Not at any one time. I had been going backwards and forwards to Cincinnati five years, but didn't stay that long any one time.

Q How long did you ever stay there at any one time? A I don't know.

Q Your best judgment? No response.

MR. WHITE: Tell as near as you can tell how long you stayed there.

BY COMMISSION: Answer the question. Do you know?

A Yes sir, at one time, been there five or six months.

MR. HASTINGS: When did you ever have a house first in the Cherokee Nation, keep house first? A When I kept house first myself?

Q Yes? A Oh, I have always had a house in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Did you have one there in 1840? A All my life. I had a house in 1840?

Q Yes? A I really don't know.

Q Did you have one there in 1850? A I don't know.

Q When did you first keep house yourself in the Cherokee Nation? A I always kept house with grandmother when I was at home.

Q You made your grandmother's place your home? A Yes sir.

Q After your grandmother died, and after you married, when did you keep house separate and apart from your grandmother first in the Cherokee Nation? A After I went back there from Muskogee here.

Q When was that? A I really don't know sir.

Q About how long ago, your best judgment? A The Commission will tell you, I can't tell you.

Q You can't answer it to a day or a month, but your best judgment as to when that was you first kept house in the Cherokee Nation separate and apart from your grandmother? A About nine or ten years ago, I guess.

Q Where did you keep house? A I never, really can't remember of keeping house by myself, just living alone by myself since. After grandmother's death I stayed at Mr. Duncan's, Mrs. Nancy Duncan's, and my aunt, after grandmother's death.

Q Where did she live? A Not far from Jack Alberty's place.

Q She is dead? A Yes sir, she is dead.

Q I thought you said you left there immediately after your grandmother's death? A I went back and kept house. That's a fact. I went back after her death. I come back here, and then went over there.

Q How long did you keep house with Mrs. Duncan? Didn't you then work for her? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever keep house over there anywhere separate and apart from working for other people? A No sir, I don't believe I ever did, in Goingsnake, after grandmother's death.

Q Did you ever, anywhere in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, in Tahlequah. I have been keeping house there for nine or ten years in Tahlequah.

Q That is the first place you kept house in the Cherokee Nation, is it? A Yes sir, keeping house separately without working for somebody, living in the house and working for people.

Q That is the first house you have ever occupied? A Yes sir, since grandmother's death. I went everywhere I wanted to, and when I got through working I went home to her.

BY COMMISSION: What was your father's name? A I don't know. My mother died when I was a little kid, and I never did see my father.
Q What is your mother's name? A Martha Alberty.
Q Were you born before the war? A Yes sir.
Q Were you a slave? A Yes sir.
Q Who was your master? A Old Johnnie Alberty.
Q When is the first time you ever left the Cherokee Nation?
A In the spring of 1880.
Q Where did you go then? A Went to the Creek Nation out on a ranch.
Q When is the first time you went to Arkansas? A The first time I went to Arkansas?
Q Yes.

BY MR. WHITE: The first time you were ever over there.
A That is when I was a little kid. My grandmother lived over there before I was grown and married. My grandmother had a little cabin at Mr. George Gibson's. She done the outside work and I nursed. After she left and built overin the Nation I lived with her.

BY COMMISSION: Where were you living when the 1880 roll was made?
A In between Jack Alberty's and Buffington's and Tuckey's.
Q In Goingsnake District? A Yes sir.
Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q When was the first time you ever went to Arkansas after 1880?
A About ten years ago, I don't know what year it was in; about ten years ago when I first began to work backwards and forwards in Arkansas.
Q About 1893, is that the first time you ever worked over there since 1880? A Yes sir.
Q Where did you go to? A Cincinnati, worked five miles beyond Westville.
Q How long did you stay in Cincinnati at that time? A Sometimes five months, sometimes six.
Q How long did you live there continuously at that time in Arkansas?
A I really don't know sir.
Q When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation from Arkansas the last time? A About five years ago.
Q Your former testimony before the Commission taken at Chelsea June 10, 1901, didn't you say that you came to Tahlequah nine months ago from Cincinnati, Arkansas? That would make it in about 1900?
A No sir, I didn't say it, but somebody else did state I come there nine months before. I said I had been there three years. I heard it was said I had been there only nine months, or nine weeks or something.
Q Is it or is it not a fact that you removed from Cincinnati, Arkansas, the last time in 1900? A I have been there going on five years, five years this month, I reckon it is, in Tahlequah, this last time. I have been living backwards and forwards now for about ten or twelve years.
Q Have you been living at Tahlequah continuously for the last five years? A Yes sir.
Q Never been in Arkansas during that time? A No sir.
Q How long did you live in Arkansas at any one time, all the time?
A I told you that I lived there sometimes five or six months without going out, and then I would come out, and go over to Tahlequah, go from Tahlequah to work and then come back again.
Q Did you ever live there for eight or nine years at a time?
A No sir, never did, never in my life.
Q When you went to Arkansas after 1880, did you leave any property in the Cherokee Nation?

A I left my household. When I left Okmulgee I left our household, expecting to come back and get it, and didn't get it. When I left here I left part of what I had, and never did get it.
Q Did you have property in the Cherokee Nation all the time when you were in Arkansas? A Had my household. Never had property anywhere, always lived with my grandmother or somebody else. I never had a home.

MR. WHITE: Property is bed clothing, or any personal effects. That is what he asked you.

MR. HASTINGS: What household effects did you have after you left over there, what became of that, over in Goingsnake in 1880? Didn't those household effects belong to your grandmother with whom you lived? A No sir, not altogether. Of course some belonged to me. I had my own bedding and my own bedsteads and such things like anyone else.

Q How many bedsteads did you have? A I had one or two.

Q Do you know which? A I know I had two.

Q What became of them? A I really don't know what became of them, I don't know.

Q You don't know what became of any of those household effects?

A I had seven wagon loads, and only took two back to Tablequah. I don't know where they are. I had enough to furnish two good houses, stoves and beds and everything else.

Q All kinds? A Yes sir.

Q You never thought enough of them to look after them, did you?

A Yes sir, I did, but it never did go me any good. It didn't amount to much for me to look after them.

Q You don't know what became of those you left in Goingsnake District? A Of course I don't know what became of them.

Q They just went with her estate? A No sir, I don't know anything about her estate either.

BY COMMISSION: Who did you say gave your name in to be enrolled in 1880? A Nicey Alberty, my grandmother.

Q Were you living with her at that time? A Yes sir.

Q Who else was in the family at that time, was there anybody else?

A Yes sir, she had a daughter of her own. I had a brother name Jeff. The daughter was Lugenia. Lugenia and Jeff.

Q Lugenia Alberty and Jeff Alberty, you and your grandmother, were all living together in 1880? A Yes sir.

Q Where were you living when the Wallace roll was made?

A When the Wallace roll was made?

Q Yes, in what district? A I was working at Mrs. Duncan's, as well as I remember.

Q Near what town? A It is about a mile from the old place, where my mother was born and raised in Goingsnake District.

Q What is Mrs. Duncan's name, her first name? A Nancy, as well as I remember. I really don't remember. I know one thing. I had come back from the Creek Nation, and Mr. Jack Alberty enrolled me for the Wallace roll. I had just had come home, the last trip I made out there.

Q How much money did you get in 1880? Were you married when the Wallace roll was made? A Yes sir, and had lived in the Creek Nation.

Q What was your husband's name at that time? A John Ballard.

Q Were you living with him? A Yes sir, but he and I wasn't together. We wasn't separated, but he was working for someone.

Q You stayed with Mrs. Duncan, you say? A I really don't exactly know where I was staying when the Wallace roll was made, but I know I had just come home from the Creek Nation, I was working for someone.

Q How much money did you get in 1880? A I only drew for myself and two children, I believe, three children.

Q What was their names? A Lena, William and Malcolm, I believe.

Q Alberty? A No sir.

Q What was their family name? A Lena Blade and William Blade and Malcolm Ballard. I think I drew for myself and three children.

Q How much for each one of the children? A I think fifteen dollars and something. It has been so long I have forgotten. I was young then and didn't pay any attention to these things, and didn't keep any memorandum.

Q Where did you draw that money? A At Braggs Station.

Q Who paid it to you? A I have forgotten the paymaster now, I don't know.

Q But you drew for yourself and those three children? A Yes sir.

Q Were their names on the 1880 roll? A No sir, their names wasn't on the 1880 roll.

Q Are you speaking then of the Wallace payment? A Yes sir, it is the Wallace payment? Wasn't that what you was speaking about?

Q I am asking about the 1880 payment? A Fifteen dollars, I believe. I didn't get the money on the 1880 roll because I was in the Creek Nation. Tuck Alberty drew this money for my grandmother, and I never got it.

Q You say Tuck Alberty got the money in 1880? A Yes sir, he drew for my grandmother and got my money. I never did see it, I wasn't here. I thought you was talking about the Wallace payment.

Q Weren't you here at all in 1880? A No sir, I married in the year 1880, and that spring I went out in the Creek Nation. I wasn't here. I was here in the winter of 1880, but I married, and that spring I went out on a ranch and worked, and when the payment come off for this enrollment I wasn't here. I was out in the Creek Nation on a ranch cooking for Fred Severs, near Okmulgee.

Q You married along about April of 1880? A Yes sir, somewhere along about the spring of the year, and seven weeks after I was married.

Q Did you stay until after Christmas of that year?

A Yes sir, I stayed longer than that.

Q How long did you stay? A I really don't know, quite a while.

TRIM BARKER, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows on behalf of applicants:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A Trim Barker.

Q What is your post office? A Summers.

Q In what district do you live? A We don't have any districts.

Q You live in Arkansas? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q Who was her father? A A man by the name of Harrell.

Q Was he a colored man? A Yes sir.

Q Was he a state raised man? A I don't know anything about that, he was grown up, I hardly knew him, but so I have been informed.

Q Did you know him before Jennie Ballard was born?

A Yes sir, I knew him before. I was small, but I knew him.

Q Was he a slave? A Yes sir.

Q Who did he belong to? A Harrell.

Q Was his owner a Cherokee? A No sir, his owner was a white man.

Q Where did you live when he was a slave? A Lived in Washington County, right on the line.

Q Was he living there when the war broke out? A Yes sir, he was living there when the war broke out.

Q Living in Washington County, Arkansas? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know Jennie Ballard at that time? A I have only known her since 1872.

Q Who was her mother? A A woman by the name of Martha Alberty, I think that is correct. That is the best of my knowledge. These things have been a long time back.

Q Where was Jennie Ballard living when you first got acquainted with her? A I suppose she was living in Rabbit Track with her grandmother.

Q Where is that? A That is over here in Peavine.

Q In what state? A In the Territory.

Q In what Nation? A Cherokee.

Q How long did she continue to live there? A I went to Kansas in 1874, and when I come back she was living at George Crittenden's in the Territory.

Q When did you come back from Kansas? A I come back in 1875.

Q She was living at George Crittenden's, in what district?

A It was in Goingsnake.

Q How long did she continue to live there in Goingsnake District?

A She lived there from that time until sometime in 1880, when she married, to the best of my knowledge, there at Jack Alberty's. They had cabins on each one of those places, I helped put up one of them.

Q She lived there until she married? A Yes sir.

Q Where did she go then? A Went to Okmulgee.

Q When did she come back to the Cherokee Nation? A It was some three or four years, as well as I recollect.

Q How long did she live in the Cherokee Nation at that time? when she came back from Okmulgee? A She lived there quite a while, I don't know how long. I am just unable to say. She worked in the state, backwards and forwards, and returned home.

Q Did she ever go to Arkansas? A She was ever there and worked there.

Q When did she go to Arkansas the first time after 1880?

A I am sort of of the opinion that ~~she~~ she didn't go to Arkansas until after she came back from the Creek Nation; that is the best of my knowledge about it. It has been quite a long while ago; it seems to me that's the way.

Q About how many years ago is that she went to Arkansas after she came from the Creek Nation? A It is somewhere in the 80s, I don't know just what year.

Q Along in the 80s? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay there at that time? A I don't remember that, but after she came back from the Creek Nation she stopped about Mr. Williams' over there, Bob Williams', and her husband worked for a man by the name of Moore out there north of Okmulgee, and he just stayed there quite a while, I don't know how long. Jennie here came back to her grandma's and stopped and stayed there I think until she died. Then she went to his mother's and she stayed there, I don't know how long. I moved then some six or eight miles away, south, I don't know, but the next I heard of her she was down here about Tahlequah.

Q Do you know when she came back to Tahlequah the last time from Arkansas? A I lived about ten miles. I don't know just exactly when she did come back, but it was after - I don't remember whether it was before the payment or not, sometime along in there.

Q Was that the Wallace payment? A I don't know whether it was the Wallace payment or what it was.

Q To the best of your recollection, how many years ago did she come back to the Cherokee Nation from Arkansas the last time? A How many years has it been? Well, I would be safe in saying fourteen, I reckon, sixteen, somewhere along there, since she came back from the Creek Nation.

Q When did she come back from Arkansas the last time? A I am unable to say just when that was. It has been quite a while.

Q How long has she been living at Tahlequah? A She has surely been there as much as ten years; that's the best of my knowledge.

Q For the last ten years? A If that is correct, I may be mistaken but I think that is about it.

Q Have you seen her there during this ten years? A I seen her there, yes sir, making up visits up about Westville, in that neighborhood there. I don't know that I had been to Tahlequah more than once since Jennie has been there.

Q How often have you been to Tahlequah during the last ten years? A One time.

Q When was that? A That is about the time the Wallace enrollment was made.

Q You have not been there since? A Just once since that.

Q When was you there since that? A It has been, I reckon, a couple of years ago.

Q About two years ago? A Yes sir, I think that is correct.

Q What time of the year? A In the fall.

Q Would it be in the fall of 1901? A Somewheres along there.

Q Did you see Jennie Ballard at that time? A Yes sir.

Q There in Tahlequah? A Yes sir, seen her since coming out, going to show, and that's the last time.

Q When did you see her before that? A About the time she went to Tahlequah, I suppose ten years ago. Saw her once in ten years, if I am right, about ten years being the proper time of her coming there.

Q You saw her once about ten years ago, and the next time in the fall of 1901? A Yes sir, about two years ago.

Q How do you know that she has been living in Tahlequah for the last ten years? A By her absence, asnear as I can establish it, by being away from her old neighborhood in and about Alberty's and in the state there where I live.

Q You couldn't say, then, of your own knowledge, that she has lived continuously there for the last ten years? A That is the best of my knowledge, as far as I can get it.

Q You don't know where she went to, between the time you saw her ten years ago, and the time you saw her two years ago?

A I only heard of her being about Tahlequah.

Q Do you know how long she stayed in Arkansas the last time she was over there? A No sir, I don't.

Q Do you know how long she lived there at any one time?

A No sir, I don't. I reckon the longest time she ever lived there was while she was in the infant state. She was over there nursing for Gibson directly after the war to my knowledge.

Q How long did she stay there then? A She couldn't have stayed over a year or a year and a half. She was with her grandmother there at that time.

Q Do you know of her having property in the Cherokee Nation?

A To the best of my knowledge, when she come from Muskogee, or from Okmulgee back, there was a portion of her things left at her grandmother's.

Q Where was that? A That was at Bob Williams' in Goingsnake District.

Q When did she leave property there? A When she was on her move back from the Creek Nation.

Q That was several years after 1860? A I suppose she did. I couldn't be right positive, but circumstances makes me believe she did. She went to her husband's mother, in the house, and I suppose left part of her things at Martha Williams' or John Harrell's, or whichever you might call it.

Q How do you know that she left some of her things there? A I suppose she did. I just heard she did, I don't positively know it, but I have a right to believe it, simply because her mother-in-law just had a little house -

Q You didn't see any of the things? A No sir, I didn't. I couldn't tell you that I did.

Q Did you ever see any property at any time since 1880 that she left in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been to her house, where her property should have been if she had any, at her grandmother's.

Q You don't know? A No sir, I just don't know, but I believe it.

Q Where was she living in the spring of 1880? A To the best of my knowledge she was at Crittenden's, either at Crittenden's or Alberty's now, I wouldn't be positive.

Q Which Alberty's? A Jack's.

Q You don't know whether she was living at Crittenden's or Jack Alberty's? A One of them two places.

Q Do you remember when the census takers came around in 1880?

A No, I can't tell you when they came around in 1880, but my understanding is that she was taken in the 1880 census.

MR. HASTINGS: You are not a citizen? A No sir, I no citizen. I was right on the line there.

BY COMMISSION: Where were you living in 1880? A I was living in Washington County, Arkansas.

Q Have you lived there ever since? A Ever since, not exactly at the same place where I was living at the time she lived there, but five miles away at present.

Q How long have you lived in Washington County, Arkansas?

A I have lived in there all of nine years. I am living - I am fifty-six years old next birthday.

Q You have lived there the last forty years, haven't you?

A Principally right in the neighborhood at that place.

Q Have you ever lived in the Cherokee Nation?

A I lived in the Cherokee Nation one year.

Q When was that? A That was in 1871.

Q Where did you live? A In Sequoyah.

Q Since 1871 you have never lived in the Cherokee Nation?

A No sir, never have.

Q How far did you live from Jennie Ballard in 1880?

A I lived, I suppose, three-quarters of a mile.

Q You were on one side of the line and she was on the other?

A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know Nicey Alberty? A Yes sir.

Q Was she a colored woman? A Yes sir.

Q Was she any relation to Jennie Ballard? A She was her grandmother.

Q Did Nicey Alberty have a husband at that time? A No sir.

Q What was her husband's name? A I don't know.

Q Who all was living in Nicey Alberty's family in 1880?

A There was her daughter.

Q What was her name? A Gene.

Q Gene Alberty? A Yes sir.

Q Who else? A Jennie.

Q Jennie what? A She was Alberty herself at that time.

Q Who else? A Rosa.

Q Rosa Alberty? A Yes sir.

Q Who else? A Jeff, her grandson, Jennie's brother.

Q They were all living together in 1880, were they? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know whether Jennie Alberty has an aunt? A Yes sir.

Q What is her name? A Gene was what I always heard her called.

Q Where was this aunt living in 1880?

A She was living with her mother.

Q What is her mother's name? A Nicey Alberty.

Q Was she living there in Coingsnake District too? A Yes sir.

Q Was she living in the same family then with Jennie Ballard?

A Yes sir.

Q How much older is this aunt than this woman?

A I suppose she must be six or eight or ten years older. That is my judgment about it.

Q Did this woman go by any other name besides Jennie Alberty?

A She goes by the name of Jennie Ballard now.

Q Did she ever go by any other name than Jennie?

A No sir, none that I ever heard of, Jennie Ballard, and she married of course.

Q Before she was married she was always called Jennie Alberty, was she? A Always.

MR. WHITE: You have known this woman since 1872? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember the time when she was working over in Arkansas?

A Oh yes.

Q Now during that time, did you consider that she lived in Arkansas.

Mr. Hastings: I object to that.

Q How long did she stay over there at any one time, to your knowledge? A She couldn't have stayed long, for her mother was mostly in the Territory at the time. Just to tell you the truth about it, tell you as near as I can about it, she was one season, the season of 1874, her grandmother came up to George Gibson's and lived some part of the time. I went to Kansas in '74 and come back in '75 and found them in the Territory in '75. They couldn't have stayed long. They just went over there to make their living, that's the fact of it.

MR. HASTINGS: You just knew her in '72? A Yes sir.

Q Where was her first child born? A It was born, the first child, on Jack Alberty's place.

Q When? A It must have been, to tell you as near as I can, it was in ~~the~~ the 80s.

Q 1882 or '83 A I wouldn't say just what, but somewhere in the 80s I know.

Q Are you positive about that? A Yes sir, I think I am.

Q Now uncle, do you know anything about time or dates?

A I do if I try to keep them, but on this occasion I didn't try to keep them.

Q Don't you know she had a child born long before 1880?

A It might have been.

Q That shows you don't know much about the year 1880, do you?

A I know that her second child was born in the 80s.

Q I am asking you about the first child? A

A It may be possible that it wasn't out of the 80s, it may be that.

Q Now, do you know? A I am not trying to affirm it hardly, because I don't know.

Q I am asking you now if you don't know?

A I say I tell you I don't know just when her child was born.

Q And yet you know so much about this woman?

A About her second child? A Her grandmother' and her aunts went away, and I visited the place -

Q How about her first child? Do you know where it was born?

A Yes sir, I do.

Q It was born at George Crittenden's? A Yes sir

Q You lived over in the state? A Yes sir.

Q You never had any right here? A No sir.

Q Never claimed any? A No, don't know anything about it.

Q You never had any occasion to enroll on the 1880 roll? A No sir.

Q Nor the Wallace roll? A No sir.

Q Nor the 1896 roll? A No sir, I don't know anything about the Indian affairs.

Q You don't know anything about the rest of those little Indian payments? A Never heard.

Q You don't know about them? A No.

Q You never testified in this case? A No sir.

Q You are a colored man? A Yes sir, nigger.

Q I want to know if you know of your own personal knowledge about her effects, or did you see some effects in her grandmother's house?

A Just simply because she was there. It was said she had some things there.

Q You don't know of your own knowledge?

A No sir, I couldn't be positive, but I have a right to believe.

Q This woman testifies herself that she lived in Arkansas, and come from there about five years ago down to Tahlequah, and yet you testify you never saw her around up there? A I told you I moved away some distance, where I wasn't likely to see her.

Q When did you move away? A I went away from there sometime in 1888, when I left the neighborhood.

Q How far did you move away from there? A About seven miles.

Q Since that time you don't know much about it?

A Just know she is backwards and forth down here to Tahlequah.

Q You never saw her here but once?

A Just saw her once, saw her coming away.

Q You don't know of your own personal knowledge where she lived?

Q No sir, just had a right to believe I know.

Q I am asking what you know? Did you ever see this woman keeping house in the Cherokee Nation separate and apart from her grandmother? Never have been to her house, outside of her grandmother's house, I told you.

Q Do you know when her grandmother died? A Yes sir.

Q When? A I think it was about, as well as I can recollect, it was in 1886.

Q When did her mother die? A I don't know, it was before the war.

JACK FUNKHOUSER, being first duly sworn, testified as follows on behalf of applicants:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A Jack Funkhouser.

Q How old are you? A I am fifty-two.

Q Where do you live? A I live in the state.

Q What state? A Arkansas.

Q What country? A Washington.

Q What is your post office? A Summers.

Q How long have you been living in that county?

A Well sir, I was born and raised there.

Q Never lived any place else?

A I have been to different places for maybe five or six months.

Q You never lived in the Cherokee Nation?

A I lived here in the Cherokee Nation during the time of the war.

Q Have you ever lived in the Cherokee Nation since the war?

A No sir, only just in and out.

Q Do you know Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known her? A When I got acquainted with Jennie Ballard it was in '66. She came in on the farm I was working on with her owners, which is John Alberty and Mose Alberty, and his son Jess.

Q Where did you see her at that time? A I seen her right there in three miles of Cincinnati, south of Cincinnati.

Q In Washington County, Arkansas?

A Yes sir, that was in '66.

Q What time of the year was that? A It was in the spring.

Q How long did she stay there at that time? A The parties that vrought her there, they stayed until fall. They made a crop on the same place I worked on. Then in the fall they moved over into the nation to their own homes. They caused them to rent there, the farm was all burnt out, they had no fence. They just got their crops in the state, and then moved back in the nation.

Q What nation? A Cherokee nation.

Q How old was Jennie Alberty at that time? A I wouldn't say how old she was, because she was a small girl, nothing but a small kid. As for her grandmother, I couldn't say what age she was, I don't know. Of course I could n't state her age unless I knew it.

Q You didn't know her at the beginning of the war, did you?

A No sir, I didn't know her at the beginning of the war. I knowed her mother, though.

Q Did you know Jennie Ballard in 1880? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know when she got married? A I couldn't.

Q Do you know whether she was ever married?

A Yes sir, I know she was married.

Q Do you know how long ago that has been? A I don't know whether it was in 1870 or 1880 she married, couldn't say.

Q Where was she living when she married?

A She was living there with her mother between Jack Alberty's and Buffington's.

Q You say she was living with her grandmother? A Yes sir.

Q Was anybody else living in the family? A Her brother.

Q What is his name? A Jeff.

Q Jeff Alberty? A Yes sir.

Q Who else was living in the family? A Her daughter. She had a daughter by the name of Rose.

Q That is Jennie Ballard's daughter?

A No sir, that is her grandmother's daughter.

Q Who else was living in the family besides those you named?

A She had a son, but then he wasn't living there with her at that time. I don't know where he was living at that time.

Q Did you ever hear this woman called anything except Jennie?

A I have heard her called Jane.

Q When was she called Jane? A They used to call her Jane when she lived out there where I was, where the Alberty's made a crop and held her there.

Q Which name was she generally known by, Jennie or Jane?

A I suppose we mostly called her Jennie, but her grandmother called her Jane.

Q Were you ever at her grandmother's house? A Yes sir.

Q When? A I helped to put up her little hut.

Q Were you ever there before 1880? A Yes sir, I was.

Q Did you see this woman there? A Yes sir.

Q Where was - do you know whether this woman had an aunt or not?

A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A Eugenia.

Q Was she ever called by any other name except Eugenia?

A If she was I don't know it.

Q Where did she live at the time this woman was living there with her grandmother in 1880? A If I make no mistake, she was living with a man by the name of Thompson.

Q This woman's aunt, then, wasn't living with Niecey Alberty in 1880?

A No sir, she wasn't at that time.

Q Did she live there at any time during 1880?

A If she did, I don't know anything about it.

Q Was this aunt married in 1880? A No sir.

Q You say she was living with a man?
A She was working for a man by the name of Thomasson.
Q What was his first name? A Tiff.
Q Is he dead now, or alive? A He is alive.
Q Where does he live? A He lives in the state.
Q What is his post office? A Cincinnati, I suppose.
Q Is he a white man? A Yes sir.
Q You think he lives in Cincinnati, Arkansas? A Yes sir.
Q When did Jennie Ballard first go to Arkansas after 1880?
A She was there in '66.
Q After 1880? A Jennie Ballard come here in the Creek Nation, right after she married she come into the Creek Nation. I don't know but what she stayed out here four or five years. I aint certain how long she stayed out here, but I know she stayed here in the Creek Nation, then she come back to her grandmother's.
Q When did she first go to Arkansas after 1880?
A I don't remember.
Q When was she in Arkansas the last time to work or live?
A The last time to live? She was there a while in 1880.
Q How long did she stay then?
A She never stayed there very long.
Q What time of the year was that? A In the fall.
Q After she was married? A That was a long time after she was married, five or six years, I guess; then she came right back into the Territory again.
Q You think she was married five or six years after 1880?
A I think she was married somewhere along in the 70s.
Q When did you see her in Arkansas the last time? A I don't know.
Q How long has that been ago, that you ever saw her in Arkansas?
A Yes sir, I saw her in Arkansas.
Q When did you see her the last time? A Last Spring.
Q How long had she been living there at that time?
A She didn't live there no time. She come up there one week and back the next week. I believe she came right back the same week.
Q When was the last time I seen her there?
A I couldn't tell you nothing about the last time she was there to live, because when she come over there why she never would stay there no time. She always held the Cherokee Nation her home and come right back over there.
Q Did she ever stay in Arkansas as much as a month?
A I guess she has stayed there - I don't know, I couldn't say how long she stayed at her grandmother's. You know she was at her grandmother's, her mother-in-law's, I mean.
Q At her mother-in-law's? A Yes sir.
Q What is her mother-in-law's name? A Ballard.
Q Mammie Ballard? A Maria Ballard.
Q How far did you live from there, from Maria Ballard?
A About three miles. I never said Mammie Ballard, Maria Ballard.
Q Do you know how long - what is the longest time she ever stayed in Arkansas at one time since 1880? A I don't remember, I wouldn't say. Of course I was sort of like a wild horse. I baffled around a good deal myself.
Q Have you been right there since 1880 all the time?
A I have made that my home, but still I was traveling around different places, but then that is my home.
Q You have not been there since 1880 then all the time, have you?
A No sir, I have been in and out once in a while.
Q Do you know where Mammie Ballard has been living for the last ten years? A Down here at Tahlequah, as far as I recollect.

A Right at Tahlequah for the last ten years, has she?

A I don't know just exactly where she has been there ten years or not, but I know she has been in the Territory. I couldn't keep up where she has been in the Territory.

Q Has she lived in Arkansas any time during the last ten years, since 1893? A No sir, she has been making her home here.

Q She has not lived in Arkansas at all since 1893?

A Not to my knowing.

Q Do you know where she has lived during the last ten years?

A I wouldn't begin to say where she has been living. She has been living in the Territory, but I couldn't say whether she has been living at one place or different places.

Q How often have you seen her during the last ten years?

A I don't know that either. I seen Jennie several times, a good many times. I used to peddle at Tahlequah, and I seen her a good many times at Tahlequah.

Q When did you see her there the last time?

A January, last January.

Q When did you see her before that? A I haven't seen her all the time before that. Of course that's the last time. I aint been to Tahlequah for a year, since I was there last January. Before the railroad come to Tahlequah I peddled there every fall. Jennie was living there in Tahlequah then.

Q You mean the Ozark & Cherokee Central Railroad? A Yes sir.

Q Before that was built you peddled every fall in Tahlequah?

A I peddled a good deal right in Tahlequah, from Tahlequah to Okmulgee, and to this place.

Q Did you see Jennie Ballard there every fall?

A I wouldn't say to see her every fall. I seen her off and on. Of course when I come to Jennie's house I would see her, and other times I have been to her house and wouldn't see her.

Q How did you know she was some place else in the Cherokee Nation?

A Just by asking the people. They said Jennie was gone.

Q I mean of your own knowledge. You didn't know of your own knowledge where she was? A Oh no, I didn't know. I know she always held the Cherokee country for her home. Of course I had no forethought of studying about where she is living in the Territory. I know she belonged to the Territory.

MR. HASTINGS: What year is this? A '93.

Q How old are you? A Fifty-two.

Q Have you ever been up before the courts?

A No sir, this is the first time I was ever before the court.

Q Ever arrested? A No sir.

Q You are a colored man, are you? A I am a nigger. I aint a colored man at all, just a natural nigger.

Q How long have you lived in the vicinity of Cincinnati?

A Lived there fifty-two years.

Q When was the last time you knew Jennie Ballard to live in that vicinity and work there? Has she worked around there in the last ten years? A I don't remember.

Q You don't recollect about that? A No sir.

Q Don't you know she ~~lived~~ left there about three years ago and come down to Tahlequah? A No sir.

Q She swears herself she left there five years ago. How about that? Are you prepared to dispute that?

A Just let me study a while.

Applicant: Five years.

Q The applicant has just interrupted and stated the time?

A No sir.

Q Didn't you hear her say just now, in the presence of the Commission - A Yes sir, I heard her say.

Q Before that you hadn't seen her for ten years? A Yes sir.

Q At work? A I haven't seen her at work.

Q You never saw her at work in your life?

A Yes sir, I have, many a time.

Q You think she married about 1870?

A Yes sir, somewhere along about there.

Q Is that your best idea about dates?

A Yes sir, I aint no reading man, and don't keep no record.

Q You have got no occasion to know about dates, do you? A No sir.

Q You don't know about how long ago 1880 was, do you?

A I reckon I do.

Q Did you have occasion to remember the year 1880? I ought to have.

Q Why? A I had a wife that I ought to know something about that, because she belonged to the Nation.

Q In 1880? A Yes sir.

Q You know that in 1880 she had been married ten years, from 1870?

A I didn't say I knowed it.

Q What do you know about it? A I said I know she was married.

Q About when was she married?

A I couldn't tell. I couldn't say what year, because I don't know.

Q Has she any children? A Yes sir, she has got children.

Q What is the oldest child's name? A Bill.

Q When was he born? A I don't know. I don't know when none of her children was born.

Q Where was he born? A He was born there by Alberty's, between Jack Alberty's, I think, and Buffington's.

Q Do you know where he was born? You say you thought he was born -

A I don't know that he was born there, but I heard it said he was born there, by the old lady that was there.

Q Was she married when William was born? A No sir, she wasn't.

Q Where was Malcolm born?

A Malcolm was born there in the nation, I guess.

Q Do you know? A No sir, I don't know it.

Q You don't know where he was born? A No sir.

Q You don't know where she was living? A I know where she was living when Bill was born.

Q I am talking about Malcolm. Do you know where she was living when Malcolm was born? A No sir.

Q What is the next child, if she has got one? Has she got another child besides Malcolm? A Yes sir, Kitty.

Q Where was Kitty born? A There in the Territory.

Q Where? A At Buffington's.

Q You swear that now of your own knowledge?

A No, I wouldn't swear it of my own knowledge, because it is hearsay. I wouldn't swear she was home, I wouldn't swear it.

Q Has she an other child except Will, Malcolm and Kitty? Has she another child? A Of course she has.

Q What are their names? A Spate.

Q Where was Spate born? A I don't know where he was born, whether he was on in the Creek Nation or where.

Q You haven't kept up with her residence very much, have you?

A No sir.

Q Has this woman ever kept house in Gingsnake District?

A I can't say that, I know she lived in the Territory.

Q Did she ever have a separate house, keep house up there away from her grandmother? A Not to my knowledge.

Q You never did know of her keeping house up there, her and her husband, separate and apart from her grandmother? Answer that yes or no. A No sir, I don't know.

Q What were you peddling every fall, whisky?
 A If I was peddling whisky?
 Q You said you was peddling?
 A Peddled flour
 Q When did you first see this woman keep house at Tahlequah, what year? A I couldn't say what year.
 Q To the best of your knowledge, what year? A I don't know whether it was 1893 or '94.
 Q You don't know what year it was, do you? No response.
 Q Have you ever been at her house?
 A Yes sir, I have been at her house.
 Q How many times? A I don't know.
 Q About how many? A I don't keep no record of it. I was at her house, though.

KY LITTLE, being first duly sworn, testified as follows on behalf of applicant:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A Ky Little.
 Q How old are you? A I don't know exactly how old. I am something over fifty, I guess.
 Q Were you born before the war? A Yes sir, I was twelve years old when the war come out.
 Q What is your post office? A Summers.
 Q In what county and state is that? A Washington.
 Q What state? A Arkansas.
 Q Washington County, Arkansas? A Yes sir.
 Q How long have you lived there? A Raised there.
 Q Lived there all your life? A Yes sir.
 Q Ever live in the Cherokee Nation?
 A No sir, lived right on the line of the Cherokee Nation.
 Q How far from the line?
 A It is said to be about four miles, hardly so far.
 Q Lived right there in the same place all your life, have you?
 A Yes sir, right there all my life. Was never out of there only one year, that was in the time of the war, the last year of the war.
 Q Where did you go then? A Went to Texas. Peace was made and I come back and been't here ever since.
 Q How long have you known Jennie Ballard?
 A I have been knowing Jennie Ballard ever since about the war.
 Q When did you first get acquainted with her?
 A When I first got acquainted with Jennie Ballard ut was at old Uncle George Gibson's place.
 Q When? A Well, I couldn't -
 Q Was it after the war? A Yes sir, after the war.
 Q How long after the war? A I suppose it might have been four or five or six years, though I couldn't tell you exactly how long after the war.
 Q Who was she living with at that time? A I got acquainted with her Q Yes, who was Jennie Ballard living with then? A When I first got acquainted with her her home was with her grandmother. Her grandmother was named Niece Alberty, and when I first saw her she was at old Uncle George Gibson's. Her grandmother lived right across the line there, and that was her home, over in the Territory. She made that her home, but she was working backwards and forwards into the state once in a while.
 Q Where did George Gibson live? A George Gibson lived right on the line. The line run right by his door, so said.
 Q What is Jennie Ballard's father's name? Who was her father?
 A I couldn't tell you who was her father.

Q Who was her mother? A I wasn't acquainted with her mother. Her mother died during the war.

Q During the war? A Sometime during the war, the last year of the war or sometime. I never did see her mother. I saw her grandmother and the rest of the folks.

Q Have you known of her continuously since that time, since ~~she~~ you first got acquainted with her, five or six years after the war?

A Yes sir.

Q Have you seen her often? A No sir, I never seen her. I seen her when she was over there, and she has been backwards and forwards in the Nation nearly all the time. She stayed a while at Cincinnati, and she is backwards and forwards in the Nation. Of course I couldn't see her all the time. When she was married, of course-

Q When was she married? A She was married in a '70, I think.

Q 1870? A Yes sir, I think.

Q Has she ever been married more than once?

A No sir, not as I know of.

Q Where was she living when she married?

A When she married she was living with her grandmother.

Q Who else was living in the family at that time?

A Gene was living with her, that's her aunt., and she had an other daughter, her grandmother did, named Rose, and a young fellow by the name of Jeff Alberty, all living there together.

Q What was Rose's family name? A Rose, she married.

Q What was her surname? Was it Rose Alberty?

A Yes sir, Rose Alberty.

Q What name did Jennie Ballard go by in 1880 before she was married? A She went by the name of Jennie Alberty.

Q She was always known by that name? A Yes sir.

Q Never known by any other name? A No sir, never was known by any other name.

Q How long did she stay there after she was married?

A I couldn't tell you exactly how long, but she didn't stay there very long after she was married.

Q Where did she go? A She went to Okmulgee to old Fred Sever's.

Q Did she come back during that same year? From Okmulgee?

A No sir I don't think she came back there the same year. When she come she didn't come there in the State then.

Q How many weeks before or after she was married before she left for Okmulgee? A I don't expect it was more than - might have been seven or eight weeks, I wouldn't be certain, it was about that.

Q This woman you call Gene what was her full name? A Eugene.

Q Was she the aunt of Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir she always went by the name of Eugene.

Q How much older was she than Jennie Ballard? A I couldn't tell you but she is right smart older than Jennie.

Q Was she four or five years older? A Yes, probably older than that. She was living there with the same family of Jennie Ballard?

A Yes sir, she was living there in the same family. She considered that her home. She hired out you know, but that is her originate home.

Q I am talking now about this Jennie Ballard's aunt? A That's what I am talking about, she made her home, but then she was hired out like people does, she was hired and she worked over there for a fellow by the name of Thomassen.

Q Where was this Eugene Alberty when this woman Jennie got married?

A Let me study on it, I couldn't be positive, but it pears like to me, whether she was over in the territory at Thomassen or not I wouldn't be positive. She may have been at Thomassen's but she was over in the nation.

Q Do you know where Eugene Alberty was living when Jennie Ballard was married? A Her home was with her mother.

Q I am asking where she was living when Jennie Ballard got married? A That is what I am trying to study for certain, but it seems like to me - I am just trying to locate her just where she was at.

Q I am asking if you know where Eugene Alberty was living when Jennie was married? A Yes sir, I know what you asked?

Q Do you know? A I can't - but then I believe she was living over here in the Territory.

Q Was Eugene Alberty living with her mother Nancy Alberty at the time this woman got married? A That was her home, that was where she lived when she got married, when she wasn't working out.

Q Did Eugene Alberty stay with her mother during the time this woman was in Okmulgee? A Yes sir, she was backwards and forwards with her mother.

Q Did Jennie Ballard ever live in Arkansas? A Yes sir, she lived in Arkansas.

Q When did she live there? After she got married when did she live there? A After she got married? After she got married she went to Okmulgee and moved back and come back and stayed in the Nation. The old man he didn't come on. He stayed quite a while, pretty near all the fall and she stopped over to her grand-mother's and stayed. Then they come on after he come and stayed in the State Nation a while and back in the Nation a while then. She didn't make that her home, I know here, she has been backwards and forwards to the nation.

Q How long did she stay over to Okmulgee? A I guess she must have stayed over there something over a year I guess.

Q Over a year? A Yes sir, I guess she did.

Q She didn't stay any longer than that? A I don't know whether she did or not.

Q After she come back from Okmulgee, how long did she stay in the Cherokee Nation? A I guess she stayed in the Cherokee Nation after she come back from Okmulgee, I guess she stayed there seven or eight months until late in the fall over here at her grandmother's.

Q She left there the same fall she came back from Okmulgee? A She come back from Okmulgee and stayed at her grand-mother's.

Q What nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q How long did she stay there? A I guess she must have stayed 7 or 8 months at her grand-mother's.

Q Where did she go? A She went then over there to the State.

Q What State? A Arkansas.

Q How long did she stay in Arkansas at that time? A I couldn't tell you exactly how long she did stay in Arkansas.

Q Five years? A No sir, I don't guess she stayed that long.

Q One year? A I guess longer than one year, I couldn't tell you.

Q Your best judgment how many years she stay in Arkansas at that time? A I couldn't tell you exactly, but it was between two and three years anyway, I will say that anyway.

Q Did she have any property in the Cherokee Nation when she went to Arkansas that time? A She had some few bed clothes over there at her grand-mother's.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge that she had any property? A I know of my own knowledge that she had clothes there for she stayed with my wife during the time my wife was sick and I know she brought some bed clothes over there and she taken them back with her, had them hauled back. Had that kind of property there.

Q When was that? A That was along then, when she had that property there, that was before she was married you must remember.

Q After she was married she do you know of her having property in the Cherokee Nation? A After she was married?

Q Yes. A Yes sir, she had property after she was married, she had property at Tahlequah.

Q When was that? A That was during about the time before payment that come off. Had property there then before it come off.

Q What payment is that? A That was - I couldn't tell you. That was that last payment that has been made you know.

Q What kind of property did she have? A She had bedding and some furnitue of some kind, some plunder, I couldn't tell exactly, but I know she had property of some descri ption of that kind, but just to tell you what furniture what it was I couldn't tell you that.

Q Where does she live now? A Down here at Tahlequah.

Q How long has she been living there continuously? A To my knowing she has been at Tahlequah seven or eight years.

Q All the time during the last seven or eight years? A I reckon, she comes over there in the State and visits or something and comes back.

Q She hasn't lived over in Arkansas during the last eight years then has she? A No sir, I don't think she did. I think if I aint mistaken for the last seven or eight years she has made her home - I know she has been as high as seven years ~~xx~~ if not longer, over here in and about Muskogee.

Q How do you know she has lived there the last seven years?

A I know she has not been in the State, been out of there and I supposed she was in the nation.

Q You are positive she has not lived in Arkansas for the last seven years? A At least I think that would be about right. Of course just to come back to the record and come up all about it I couldn't come down to the fact of it and say that for certain. Of course I know she has been anyway in Tahlequah quite a while, ever since the payment, before the payment. Before the payment come on she has been living there, and you know pretty much how long that has been. She has been living in the Nation ever since.

Q Has she ever lived in Araksas since she was ~~been~~ married?

A Yes sir ~~xxx~~ since she has been married.

Q When? A She went over to Okmulgee and come back and stopped in the nation awhile at her grandmother's., and stayed there awhile and then moved to the State.

Q How long has she lived in Arkansas altogether, since she was married? A I don't believe I could tell you exactly.

Q Has she lived in Arkansas during the last ten years?

A I don't know whether she's made that her home --

Q I am asking you whether she has lived there during the last ten ye years? A In Arkansas, made that her home?

Q No, I am asking you if she has lived there, do you know?

A I can tell you like this, ~~if she~~ after she moved off and come back to the State -- she went out to the Creek Nation and come back to the Cherokee Nation and stayed there quite awhile and then went back to the State and stayed there; then backwards and forth to her grandmother's; her home all during the time when she was working out for other people, they lived on the Creek on a little place between Mrs. Buffington's and Crittenden's on the Creek down there. I know she lived there, she has been living in the Nation pritty nigh all her life, except she may have been out maybe ten or 12 years out of the nation, maybe not so long. But she couldn't have lived in the State more than ten years at the outside.

Q Did she ever live in Arkansas for 8 or 9 years at one time?

A As I say, she couldn't have lived in the State more than 8 or 9 years at the outside, and she didn't live there that long. She didn't stay there 9 years.

Q Did she ever live there at one time, that is what I am speaking about now? A I don't think she ever lived there that long. She might have stayed there that long.

Q Did she ever stay there that long, 8 or 9 years at one time?

A Not altogether just to say stay there and not go anywhere else. She has been there probably that time.

Q When did she stay there that long? A She stayed there that long after she married.

Q How long after she married? A I couldn't go on and tell you about how long.

Q Was that after she came back from Okmulgee?

A Yes sir. She come back-- and I undersyand, I know so, she stayed there all the time.

Q Well, did she stay there? A She stayed there and didn't go anywhere else, only back over to her grandmother's of course, just like people would go to their folks.

Q During those 8 or 9 years didn't she stay there more than she stayed any place else? A More than she did any where else?

Q Yes? You said she probably stayed there 8 or 9 years at a time after she was married. Did she stay there more than she stayed any where else?? A No, she couldn't. She didn't stay there -- you mean did she stay there in the State more than any where else, in preference to anywhere else?

Q How often have you seen her during the last ten years?

A I have seen her several times.

Q How often have you seen her, see her every year?

A At Tahlequah, every year I wouldn't say. I see her when I come to Tahlequah.

Q How often did you go to Tahlequah? A Sometimes I would be there once a year. Sometimes I wouldn't see her for a year, but then I know she was in Tahlequah, and sometimes she would come up from Tahlequah.

Q How many years has it been since she stayed in Arkansas 8 or 9 years at one time? A In Arkansas?

Q Yes? A As I say I just couldn't go and tell you how long it has been.

Q You know it is since she married? A Yes sir.

BY APPLICANT: Did you say 8 or 9 years at one time?

A No, not at one time. I couldn't say that you stayed there all the time.

BY COMMISSION TO APPLICANT: If you want to ask him any questions you may ask him now.

BY APPLICANT: No, I don't want to ask him any questions, only you are trying to make him say I was out 8 or 9 years at one time.

MR. HASTINGS: What year is this, uncle? A Lets see, I couldn't tell you.

Q You are a colored man? A Yes sir, but I'm not educated or nothing.

Q You don't know anything about dates do you? A No sir, that 's just the fact about it.

Q You don't know a thing about the year this woman was married, do you? A The year she was married?

Q Yes? A No, just to come to the facts and tell about it.

Q You know that? A No sir.

Q You don't know, do you? A No sir, I couldn't be positive just about the date.

Q You couldn't tell within 5 years of the time she married?

A No sir, just to come down to the date, I couldn't do it.

Q You don't know when her grandmother died, do you? A No, I couldn't tell.

Q You couldn't tell within 5 years, could you?

A I could if I kept account of the years.

Q Lets see if you do?

A I don't know when she died.

Q You couldn't tell within 5 years? A No sir.

Q You couldn't tell within 5 years of the time this woman married, could you? A No sir.

Q You never saw this woman keeping house separate and apart from her grandmother? In the Cherokee Nation, did you?
 A Separate and apart?
 Q Away from her grandmother? A No sir.
 Q You did know of her keeping house in the states after she married? A Yes sir.
 Q She and her husband? A Yes sir, I knewed she lived with her grandmother before that.
 Q She never keep house separate and apart from her grandmother?
 A No sir.
 Q You did know of her keeping house over in Arkansas, didn't you? A Yes sir.
 Q You couldn't tell within 5 years? A No sir, just to come down to the facts, I couldn't unless I was posted and knew all about it. You can't find many that does know all about it.
 Q You don't know much about it, do you?
 A All I can tell you about it that I knewed her when she lived in the nation.
 Q When she lived with her grandmother? A And, no, she belonged to the Alberty's.
 Q You knew her when she lived with her grandmother? A Yes sir.
 Q You knew her when she worked for George Gibson? A Yes sir.
 Q In the states? A Yes sir.
 Q You knew her when she worked for the Harrell's, did you?
 A Yes sir. No, she never worked for Harrell's, she worked for Gibson's. Eugene worked for Harrell's.
 Q You think this woman married as early as 1870? A 1870?
 Q yes? A To come right down to the dates, of course I couldn't come right down to the dates, but of course I know when she married.
 Q Which comes first, 1860 or 1870, do you know? A '70, isn't it?
 Q 1870 comes first? A Yes sir.

Wm. Hutchinson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly reported the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.
MUSKOGEE, I. T., JUNE 8, 1906.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS had in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jeff Ballard as a Cherokee freedman.

ROBERT RATLIFF, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

Q What is your name? A Robert Ratliff.

Q How old are you? A 34.

Q What is your post office? A Wahlequah.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No sir.

Q Do you know Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q Is this her present home? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know her children? A Yes sir.

Q Did she have one that died? A Yes sir.

Q What was its name? A Jeff Ballard.

Q About how old was he when he died? A Well, I don't know just about how old he was.

Q About? A He looked to be between 18 and 20, he was quite a young man.

Q Do you know when he died? A Yes, he died,—he was buried on the 9th of September, died about the 8th as near as I can come at it. I officiated in the burying of him.

Q What year was that? A That was in 1902.

Q Where was he buried? A Wahlequah, one mile east.

Q Was he buried in the cemetery? A Yes sir, in a neighborhood cemetery out there.

Q By what name is the graveyard known? A Ross Graveyard I suppose.

Q Named after whom? A Uncle Ike Ross set that piece of ground off for a graveyard, and I guess that is what it goes by.

Q About a mile east of town? A Yes sir.

Q Are you any relation to Jeff Ballard? A No sir.

Q Are you sure as to the date of his death? A I think I am,
I keep a record I guess of everybody I bury. I have been following that business for the last 12 years, of everybody I have buried up until the present time.

Q Have you your record with you? A No sir, I haven't the record,
I have a little sketch but I haven't got the big book that I keep everybody's name in that I buried. Here is a record of it.

Q You have hear a book in which there are numerous items of different character among them upon one page a number of names with dates of death, what are they supposed to represent? A Nothing
I just keep sketches of them.

Q What do they represent? A Nothing, just put them down.

Q Well I know, do they represent the names of people who died?
A Yes sir, all the as people here you see the names of are people that died and I officiated in burying them.

Q When were these entries made in this book? A They have been in there ever since the parties died I guess. I just take them as they died. Whenever I have anything to do with the burying
I just put the names down.

Q Were all these names written down here at the time the parties died or soon thereafter? A Yes sir, right after the death of the people. I waited on them and helped bury and see after them myself.

- Q What is your occupation? A I am just a common laborer.
- Q You speak of officiating at their burial? A I just see after their burial.
- Q You mean just digging the grave? A Yes sir, and getting the coffins and soliciting---
- Q Who do you represent? A No one.
- Q Do you sell coffins yourself? A No sir, I just take interest in such cases like that.
- Q You state you solicit? A I do, I get up burying funds for people that die, poor people that die I take a petition and solicit funds for burying them.
- Q You say each of these items were written down there soon after the death of the parties? A Yes sir.
- Q I will ask you to examine the book and see if the name of Jeff Ballard, this applicant, appears in there? A Jeff Ballard died September 8, 1902, yes sir.
- Q There appears in the book following "Jack Ross, died August the 2, 1902" the entry "Jef Balard died Sep. the 8, 1902." Can you state positively when this entry as to the death of Jeff Ballard was made in there? A Yes sir, right immediately. I guess the same night he laid a corpse. I don't know exactly now but I know I put it in there.
- Q Is the Jeff Ballard whose name appears in there the identical person as this Jeff Ballard the son of Jennie Ballard? A He is the son of Jennie Ballard, and one that I buried.
- Q Who did the writing in that book? A Me, it is mine.
- Q If Jennie Ballard executed an affidavit as to the death of her child, Jeff Ballard, August 14, 1902, are you prepared to state that she is incorrect? A No sir, I aint. I just kept the sketch--I don't know nothing about her statement.
- Q She filed with the Commission an affidavit as to the death of her son on August 14, 1902, are you prepared to state that that is incorrect? A I don't know, I only keep my records, I don't know anything about her records. I only keep a record of people as I bury them.
- Q Are you just testifying from memory? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you remember the circumstance of writing that in that book?
- A No sir, I don't.
- Q Do you know whether it was made right soon after he died? A I don't know, it might have been. I put them in here but can't state the date.
- Q Have you any personal recollection as to the date of his death?
- A No more than this little record.
- Q That is all you are testifying from? A Yes sir. My record might be wrong but I don't believe it is.
- Q Did you buy the coffin in which he was buried? A No sir.
- Q Who did he buy it from? A I don't know anything about it. I helped dig the grave and carried him out in my own wagon.

W I T N E S S E X C U S E D .

JENNIE BALLARD, being first duly sworn, testified as follows,

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q What is your name? A Jennie Ballard.
- Q How old are you? A 44 years old.
- Q What is your past office? A Tahlequah.
- Q Are you a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you have a child named Jeff Ballard? A Yes sir.
- Q Is he dead? A Yes sir.
- Q When did he die? A 1902, September 8.

- Q Are you sure as to the date of his death? A Yes sir. I have no minutes of his death, it is only by experience. I nursed him 12 months during sickness and along in June, July and August was his worse sickness, that is where I got my minutes,--I nursed him those 12 months.
- Q You have no record of his death? A No sir, I kept none only just by experience. In June he began to get worse, July still worse and in August he began to get worse and in September he died of consumption. When the railroad and new bridge came along I stayed at home with him by myself, and at his death I was in bed when he was a corpse.
- Q Are you fixing the date of his death by what some one told you? A Only by experience and what my mind tells me of his nursing.
- Q Have you ever executed an affidavit as to the date of his death? A No sir, I haven't made any, this is my first.
- Q I will ask you to examine this paper I hand you and see whether that is your signature? A Yes sir, it looks like mine.
- Q The paper I handed you was an affidavit signed by you on April 11, 1905, as to the death of your child Jeff Ballard on August 14, 1902? A I told them that I had been told later that he died at that date. When I went to file my youngest boy they asked me if Jeff was my child and I said yes sir, and they asked me if I knew when he died and I told them I always thought he died September 8 but that I had been told he died August 14, but that wasn't they way I always had it.
- Q Then you have signed an affidavit as to his death? A I signed that, no other affidavit.
- Q You were wrong a moment ago when you stated that you never signed any affidavit as to his death? A Yes sir, I was that far, guess I was thinking you meant making an affidavit some other way beside papers in filing. I told them that I had it he died September 8 but I have heard since later----
- Q Let me talk awhile, do you think that you might be wrong as to the date of his death now? A No sir, I never have thought it, I told them then I didn't think it.
- Q Who told you he died September 8, 1902? A Uncle Dan Alberty told me he heard he died September 8.
- Q Who else? A Mr Hicks.
- Q What Hicks? A Mr. Ed Hicks.
- Q He the man that is in the hardware business at Tablequah? A Yes sir.
- Q When was it Dan Alberty told you he died in September, how long ago? A Uncle Dan was there during his death and he always said he died in September, but Uncle Dan told me that Mr. Hicks said he died in August.
- Q You stated a minute ago that Mr. Hicks told you he died in September? A No sir, I made a mistake if I did, Uncle Dan told me that Mr. Hicks said he died August 14, and Uncle Dan said he was surprised that he was satisfied he was died September 8. We were all so surprised----
- Q Now when was it Dan told you that, how long ago? A It was----
- Q Two or three weeks? A No sir, it was sometime last year, it was before I went in to file my boy, that is how some me to state that I thought my boy died September 8 but I had been told later he died August 14, that is what I told the Commissioners when they asked me.
- Q Did you ever try to file for Jeff? A No sir.
- Q Why? A There wasn't any one else filing and they never said anything to me about filing for him.

- Q Was it because you had made an affidavit as to his death before September 1, 1902? A No sir, that wasn't it at all.
- Q Was it because you didn't think he was entitled to anything? A I knew if it was according to his death being in September I thought he ought to be entitled, but really I never paid any attention about it. I have nobody to attend to my business and I never go until I am notified. I raised my children myself.
- Q You are only testifying now as to the date of his death from what people have told you, are you? A No sir, I have told you it is by experience.
- Q How old was Jeff when he died? A 18 year old.
- Q Was he past his 18th year? Was he in his 18th year? A Yes sir.
- Q You are sure of that are you? A Yes sir.
- Q You got a child named Spiva? A Yes sir, Jeff was 15 months older than Spiva.
- Q How old is Spiva now? A 21 years old in April.
- Q You have a daughter named Anna? A Yes sir.
- Q How old is she now? A I guess about 18. I really don't know.
- Q How old is Malcolm? A About 24 or 25, somewhere along there.
- Q You are sure Jeff was in his eighteenth year when he died? A Yes sir.
- Q You applied for the enrollment of yourself and family at Chelsea, I. T. on June 10, 1901, did you not? A Yes sir, I went to Chelsea.
- Q You gave the age of your son Jeff as 18 at that time, is that correct? A (No response).
- Q Was there about two years difference between Malcolm and Jeff? A Yes sir, I suppose so, Two of the boys, just 15 months between the two.
- Q That is Jeff and Spiva? A Yes sir.
- Q From whom did you buy the coffin to bury Jeff? A Mr. Atliiff and some of the folks I think they got the coffin from Mr. Hicks, I was in bed sick at his death.
- Q The coffin was purchased from Mr. Hicks at Tahlequah? A Yes sir, I suppose so.
- Q You paid for it, didn't you? A One of my boys and some of the folks in town paid for it. The oldest boy and the folks in town.
- Q Did you buy his burial clothes at Tahlequah? A Yes sir, they got his whole burial wherever they got one piece they all got.
- Q Well was it bought from Mr. Stapler? A Well I don't know sir, they bought it from the undertaker and paid for it. I didn't have a thing to do with that.
- Q Have you any other witnesses here today? A No sir, no one else here today.

On Behalf of the Commissioner to witness:

You are advised that the hearing in the matter of the date of the death of your child, Jeff Ballard, will be continued until June 28, 1906.

Geo. H. Lesley, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported the proceedings had in the above entitled cause, and that the above and foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS had in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jeff Ballard as a Cherokee freedman.

APPEARANCES:

For Applicant, No Appearance.

For Cherokee Nation, W. W. Hastings.

ED D. HICKS, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q What is your name? A Ed D. Hicks.

Q What is your age? A 40.

Q Post office? A Tahlequah.

Q In what business were you engaged during the months of August and September, 1902? A Well I was in the hardware and furniture business, and we carried undertaking also.

Q Working for the firm of J. W. Stapler & Son? A Yes sir.

Q At Tahlequah, Indian Territory? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know a colored woman in Tahlequah by the name of Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know her son Jeff Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know whether or not he is living or dead? A He is dead.

Q Did you keep a record of the coffins that you sold for deceased people? A Yes sir.

Q Have you that record with you? A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you to examine your record and state whether or not it shows that a coffin was sold for this same Jeff Ballard? A Yes sir, it shows that.

Q Well what does the record show? A The record shows that Jennie Ballard bought a coffin to bury Jeff Ballard, in on the 14th of August, 1902. The record also shows that he died of consumption on that day at 11:30 A. M.

Q Does the record show the date of his burial? A The record shows he was buried on the 15th, the day following.

Q You know that this Jeff Ballard was a son of Jennie Ballard? A Yes sir.

Q He had previously lived there in Tahlequah? A Yes sir.

Q Have you any other record? A Yes sir, this funeral record shows that coffin was settled by a note, they had no money, and our Bills Receivable book shows that identical note.

Q Have you that Bills Receivable book with you? A Yes sir.

Q And it shows that note? A Yes sir, on that day.

Q On the 14th day of August, 1902? A Yes sir, the note was signed by Will Wade and Spade Ballard. Spade Ballard was a brother of Jeff.

Q What does your record show, if anything, about the payment of that note? A It shows that that note was paid. The note was for $21.00, it was due August 25, 1902, and it was paid in two payments of $4.50 on the 16th and the balance on August 25, 1902. A 1902, yes sir.

Q Referring back to your record of deaths which you have in your possession what does the record show the date of the death of the person immediate and before the record of the death of Jeff Ballard? A Immediate and before it shows that Clifford Parris, a son

- year old child of Ed Parris, died on the 12th day of August, 1902.
- Q What does the record show of the death of the person immediately following the record of Jeff Ballard? A Immediately following that was James King, six months old child of Jim King, died on the 20th of August, 1902.
- Q This has been in your possession since that time correct? A Yes sir.
- Q You made that record yourself? A Yes sir.
- Q In person? A In person.
- Q You can swear positively it is correct? A Yes sir.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q Is Jennie Ballard a Cherokee freedman? A Said she is, I don't know, supposed to be, claims to be.
- Q About how old was this Jeff Ballard at the date of his death? A His age was given to me as 18 years old.
- Q I believe you stated you knew him? A Yes sir.
- Q Is that the correct age? A I think it was, yes sir.
- Q There are a great many entries in the book you exhibited, "Record of Funerals," were each of the entries made in this book at the time the coffins were purchased? A Yes sir. When a person came in to purchase a coffin I first got the date of the death and everything. It was merely kept for information. There is no special reason for it.

Q Do you know how long his mother has been dead? A. No sir.
Q Do you know when Billy Vann and she first commenced to live together or when they were married? A. I know when he brought her down from Kansas to our house and lived together as man and wife.
Q How long did they live together as man and wife? A. They lived together at our place I guess about 15 months, anyway if not 24 months.
Q Do you remember when this man here was born? A. Yes sir.
Q Where they living together as man and wife then? A. Yes sir.
Q Do you know when Billy Vann came to the Cherokee Nation first after the war? A. The old folks said it was in '66.
Q Where were you living then? A. In Saline district.
Q Do you know if Billy Vann was a slave or not before the war? A. No sir
I don't.

By Hastings.

- Q Who were you living with in Saline? A. Yes Mayfield and Fiecy Mayfield, my father and mother.
Q On whose place were you living? A. On our own.
Q Did you have a house built when Billy came? A. Yes sir my father came here first and fixed up a house and then come up and got us.
Q When did Billy Vann come down? A. He come with us.
Q What did you come, what time of the year? A. In the fall.
Q Do you know what month? A. No sir, I didn't know anything about months and years then.
Q How do you know that you were born in '48? A. I want to my masters and got my age; that was in about '79.
Q Did Billy Vann continue to reside at your father's place all the time after he come with you until he died? A. No sir he went back to Kansas.
Q How long did he stay there before he went back? A. He staid there a right smart little while; he went to Judge Clark's place and located a claim there before there was any farm there, it is the place that Judge Clark has to day.
Q You remember that these 35 years do you? A. Yes sir, I went with him.
Q What year was that? A. I don't remember.
Q How long had you been back when this happened? A. Quite a little while, we had made a crop.
Q Had he gone back to Kansas before that? A. He went back after that.
Q Who did he help make a crop there? A. My father.
Q Did you live on the Henry Scraper place? A. He sir lived 3 miles from that.
Q On what side of the river is the Henry Scraper place? A. On the west side of Grand river.
Q Did George Clark live there? A. No sir I didn't see him.
A. Yes

Joe Thompson? A. No sir.

Q Was Watt West there? A. No sir he was up on what they call Neutral ground.

Q You saw W. H. W. Foreman? A. Yes sir he was living there.

Q How long was Billy Vann gone back to Kansas that time? A. I don't know

Q As much as a year? A. Yes sir.

Q This man's father was known as Billy Bowlegs wasn't he? A. Yes sir.

BLUE THOMPSON, called and sworn as a witness testified as follows for the applicant:

By Smith-

Q What is your name? A. Blue Thompson.

Q How old are you? A. 51 years.

Q Do you know this applicant here? A. No sir I don't know this boy.

Q Did you know his father? A. Yes sir, I knew his father.

Q He was Billy Vann, sometimes called Billy Bowlegs? A. Yes sir.

Q Was he a slave? A. Not of Mr. Vann's as I knew of.

Q Was he a slave at all? A. Yes sir.

Q Who did? A. Used to belong to the Stovers.

Q What Stover? A. John Stover.

Q Did he belong to the Stovers at the time the Civil war commenced? A. ~~He~~ I don't know, we used to be bows together and then he got away from my knowing and I don't know what ~~happened~~ became of him then.

Q Where the Stovers Cherokee citizens? A. Yes sir, they was citizens.

Q The old man was a white man and the old lady was a 1/2 or a 3/4 bred?

Q Did you ever see Billy Vann or Billy Bowlegs in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. I was just thinking of that, I don't know if I did or not, I seed him somewhere after the war, I don't know where it was, I don't know if it was in the Territory or where it was— oh yes it was at some of these elections here, I don't know just when—yes I seed him.

Q How long after you last saw Billy Vann as a slave of the Stovers was it before the Civil war commenced? A. Well I knew Billy Vann ever since I could recollect anybody, but I don't know how many years before the war it was when I last seed him, I was only 11 years old myself I don't recollect how long we used to play as boys together.

Q What is your judgment as to how long it was before the war commenced that you saw him? A. I don't just know.

Q What is your recollection now as to how long that was before the war when you and he used to play as boys together as you call it? A. It must have been, to the best of my recollection 4 or 5 years before I was a little fellow myself and didn't know no years, it took a fellow some time to get up big enough to remember the years.

Q Where did you live then? A. The Jeanna Thompson place a mile east of where these Stovers was living, what is called Fort Wayne, on Battos Prairie.

Q There was about a mile between the two places? A. Yes sir, my old brother used to own it before the Stovers got it.

Q Where were you when the war broke out? A. On Battos Prairie.

By Hastings-

Q You have some recollection that he was gone from there when the war broke out? A. Yes sir, I kind of missed him.

Q Did you ever hear that he was sold to Jack Thompson at that time?

ED VANN G.

By Mr. Smith;

I object to that question because the answer would be hearsay evidence.

By Hastings of witness--

Q Do you know that he belonged to John Stever when the war came up? A Q I said I missed him.
Q The two places of Jim Allen Thompson and John Stever joined didn't they? A Yes sir.
Q And you lived there at the time? A Yes sir.
Q And you don't remember seeing the fellow when the war broke out? A.
No sir.
Q Did you ever hear at that time that he was sold to Jack Freeman? A.
No sir I never did.

By Smith.

Q The last you saw of him was in the Stever family? A. Yes sir, he and Rogers and Miss Alex and Will used to play as boys together—they said Mrs. Large had him, I don't know.
Q Who was Mrs. Large? A. Mr. Hastings's aunt.
Q Was she a Miss Stever? A. Yes sir she was before she married.

By Hastings--

Q Don't you know that Mrs. Large lived there and went to California before the war? A. I don't remember, it is too far back.
Q Was Large there before the war at all? A. I think I used to see him a little while before the war driving a yoke of oxen.
Q Didn't they go to California before the war? A. I don't know, I heard they had been to California, but I don't know when.

By the Commission of the applicant

Q Is Tom Mayfield any kin to you? A. He raised me.

By Com'r Needles:

Ed Vann

Ed Vann applies for himself; he cannot be identified on the roll of 1880 or the census roll of 1890, he is identified on the Kern Clifton ad Wallace rolls. Applicant avers that his mother was a white woman and his father a slave of a Cherokee citizen, but no direct proof is made as to the marriage of his mother and father; the said Ed Vann will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman on a general card and he will be notified of the final decision of the Commission by mail.

Chas. von Weise, being sworn states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

SUPPLEMENTAL: TESTIMONY ON PART OF CHEROKEE NATION. C.F.D-660, Ed Vann

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Vinita, I.T., October 12, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Ed Vann for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

Mr. Mellette, of Mellette & Smith, att'ys for applicant;
Mr. Davenport, of attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

LOUISA J. HASTINGS, being sworn and examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q What is your name? A Louisa J. Hastings.

Q What is your post-office address, Mrs. Hastings? A Mrs. Hastingsville, Arkansas.

Q You live on the Territory side? A Yes sir.

Q How old are you? A 61.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been born and raised there.

Q Your maiden name was Stover? A Yes sir.

Q Did your father own a slave some years before the war by the name of Billy? A Yes sir.

Q Have you ever seen the applicant here, who goes by the name of Ed Vann now; that's the boy applying here; have you ever seen him the applicant, Ed Vann? A No sir.

Q You know whether Billy went by your father's name? A He always went by the name of Bill Stover while he was with us.

Q Did your father or any of your family own Billy at the breaking out of the war? A No sir, my father sold him before the war.

Q To whom, if you know, did he sell him? A Sold him to Mr. Jake Freeman.

Q Where did Jake Freeman live? A In Mayesville.

Q Did Billy have any other name besides Billy? A No sir, not while he was lived with us.

Q Did you ever see Billy after the war? A I never saw him after the war, I am.

Q You don't know what became of him? A No sir.

Q Did you ever know a woman named Emeline Vann? A Well I don't know.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q Now, Mrs. Hastings, you say that the slave you are talking about never went by the name of Billy Vann? A No sir, while we owned him he went just by the name of Billy Stover.

Q What time did you own him? A I don't remember exactly how old he was, but we owned him in '60.

Q '60? A 50, I reckon it must have been about 2 years before the war, '57 maybe, we sold him.

Q How old were you at that time? A I was born in 1840.

Q About 17 years old? A About 17 years old I reckon.

Q Did you live at home? A Yes sir.

Q Lived at home all the time? A Yes sir, most all the time; I was away at school at Tahlequah some of the time, not very far.

Q Were you away at school in '57? A No sir, I was at home, that is the year my mother died, and I was at home.

Q Now you lived in the Cherokee Nation at that time? A Yes sir.

Q Did you think it was '57? A I wouldn't state for certain it was the year he was sold, but it was along about that time; I don't know exactly whether it was '57 or '58.

Q You can't remember as to that? A No sir, but it was along about that time.

Q You never have seen him since? A No sir, well I saw him there at Mayesville some while after we sold him; I don't think that Mr. Freeman kept him very long.

Ed Vann (sup) 2

Q You don't know this applicant at all, this boy, that has applied here for citizenship? A No sir, I don't know him at all.

Q You don't know whether he is a son of the slave you are talking about or not? A No sir.

Q Where was this slave at the beginning of the war? A This Billy?

Q Yes? A I don't know where he was.

Q You don't know whether he was in the Cherokee Nation or not?

A I don't think he was in the Nation, because I think Mr. Freeman sold him in the state.

Q That is just your supposition? A Yes sir, he never was in our neighborhood.

Q You don't know what other part of the Cherokee Nation he might have been? A No sir.

Q Mayesville is right on the Cherokee line? A Right on the line, yes sir.

Q Not over half a mile from the line? A Right there is the line.

Q Line runs right through Mayesville? A Yes sir.

Q Part of the town of Mayesville in the Cherokee Nation? A Well there was some of it there until it got burned out; there is a shop and one or two houses on this side, not business houses, only a shop; they have been though, but they was burned out.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Jake Freeman was a citizen of the United States? A Yes.

Q Did you ever know this party by the name of Billy Bowlegs? A

I don't know anything about that, no sir.

GUS BUFFINGTON, being sworn and examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q What is your name? A Gus Buffington.

Q How old are you, Gus? A About 75 or 6.

Q What is your post-office? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation, Gus? A I have been living in the Nation ever since I came from Georgia here with the Cherokees.

Q You came from over with the Cherokees from the old nation?

A Yes sir.

Q Where were you living before the war, what part of the Cherokee Nation, Gus? A I was living up near Benton County. Right at the line.

Q Near what place? A Mayesville.

Q Who was you living with? A Man by the name of Kaywood.

Q How far do you live from Mr. Stevers? A 5 or 6 miles.

Q Did you know a colored man over there, called Billy Stever, or did you know him by any other name, before the war I am speaking of now? A Billy Bowlegs, a boy.

Q Well now, did you ever know him before the war? A Yes sir.

Q Who did he belong to, if you know, Gus, when you first knew him?

A Stever.

Q What became of him before the war, if anything? A He sold him.

Q You know him to whom? A Man by the name of Jake Freeman.

Q Where was Freeman living? A Benton County, there at Mayesville.

Q Was Freeman a citizen of the Cherokee Nation or a United States citizen? A United States citizen at that time.

Q Did you ever see this Billy Bowlegs after the war? A Yes sir, I saw him just a while before he was killed down here on Grand river.

Q Was he married at that time, or did he have a family if you know?

A Yes sir.

Q What nationality was his wife, if you know, did you ever see her?

A She was a white woman.

Q What name was he going by when you saw him down here after the war? A Billy Vann.

Q You know what his wife's name was? A I don't recollect what his wife's name was now, I did know.

Q You don't know whether it was Emeline or not? A Emeline was her name I believe.

Q Have you ever seen this applicant, Ed Vann, or any of Billy Bowlegs' children? A He has got one, Ed, he is down here on the river.

Ed Vann (sup) 2

Q You don't know this applicant at all, this boy, that has applied here for citizenship? A No sir, I don't know him at all.

Q You don't know whether he is a son of the slave you are talking about or not? A No sir.

Q Where was this slave at the beginning of the war? A This Billy?

Q Yes? A I don't know where he was.

Q You don't know whether he was in the Cherokee Nation or not?

A I don't think he was in the Nation, because I think Mr. Freeman sold him in the state.

Q That is just your supposition? A Yes sir, he never was in our neighborhood.

Q You don't know what other part of the Cherokee Nation he might have been? A No sir.

Q Mayesville is right on the Cherokee line? A Right on the line, yes sir.

Q Not over half a mile from the line? A Right there is the line.

Q Line runs right through Mayesville? A Yes sir.

Q Part of the town of Mayesville in the Cherokee Nation? A Well there was some of it there until it got burned out; there is a shop and one or two houses on this side, not business houses, only a shop; they have been though, but they was burned out.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Jake Freeman was a citizen of the United States? A Yes.

Q Did you ever know this party by the name of Billy Bowlegs? A

I don't know anything about that, no sir.

GUS BUFFINGTON, being sworn and examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q What is your name? A Gus Buffington.

Q How old are you, Gus? A About 75 or 6.

Q What is your post-office? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation, Gus? A I have been living in the Nation ever since I came from Georgia here with the Cherokees.

Q You came from over with the Cherokees from the old nation? A Yes sir.

Q Where were you living before the war, what part of the Cherokee Nation, Gus? A I was living up near Benton County. Right at the line.

Q Near what place? A Mayesville.

Q Who was you living with? A Man by the name of Kaywood.

Q How far do you live from Mr. Stovers? A 5 or 6 miles.

Q Did you know a colored man over there, called Billy Stover, or did you know him by any other name, before the war I am speaking of now? A Billy Bowlegs, a boy.

Q Well now, did you ever know him before the war? A Yes sir.

Q Who did he belong to, if you know, Gus, when you first knew him? A Stover.

Q What became of him before the war, if anything? A He sold him.

Q You know him to whom? A Man by the name of Jake Freeman.

Q Where was Freeman living? A Benton County, there at Mayesville.

Q Was Freeman a citizen of the Cherokee Nation or a United States citizen? A United States citizen at that time.

Q Did you ever see this Billy Bowlegs after the war? A Yes sir, I saw him just a while before he was killed down here on Grand river.

Q Was he married at that time, or did he have a family if you know? A Yes sir.

Q What nationality was his wife, if you know, did you ever see her? A She was a white woman.

Q What name was he going by when you saw him down here after the war? A Billy Vann.

Q You know what his wife's name was? A I don't recollect what his wife's name was now, I did know.

Q You don't know whether it was Melina or not? A Melina was her name I believe.

Q Have you ever seen this applicant, Ed Vann, or any of Billy Bowlegs' children? A He has got one, Ed, he is down here on the river.

Ed Vann (sup) 3

Q You know what his name is, Ed I believe, I don't recollect. I believe it is Ed; I ought to know.

Q You said something about when he was killed; was Billy Bowlegs or Billy Vann killed? A Yes sir.

Q About when was that, if you know, Gus? A Well I could not tell you exactly when it was.

Q You know where he was when the war broke out, Billy I am speaking of? A When the war first broke out?

Q Yes? A He was at Mayeville.

Q Who did he belong to then? A Jake Freeman.

BY MR. MILLETTE:

Q Well Buffington, you say you lived six or seven miles from where Billy did before the war? A I expect it is just about that distance.

Q Were you a slave? A Yes sir.

Q Who owned you? A Buffington.

Q How do you know this man was sold? A Why Jake Freeman owned him.

Q How do you know he did? A Why he claimed him all the time, that I know.

Q When did Jake Freeman get him? A Got him quite a little while before the war, I couldn't tell you exactly when.

Q How long before the war? A I couldn't tell you.

Q One year? A I couldn't tell you.

Q How do you know Jake Freeman claimed him? A He claimed that he bought him.

Q Did you ever go and ask Jake Freeman about it? A No sir, I did not.

Q How do you know Jake Freeman claimed him? A Claimed him like all other people claim their slaves.

Q Well now, did you ever hear Jake Freeman say anything about it? A I don't know as I did.

Q You don't know think you did do you; then you don't know whether Jake Freeman claimed him or not, do you? A I heard that he bought him.

Q Was he you heard people talking about it, didn't you? Isn't that true? Say, Gus, isn't that true, you just heard it talked?

Q Well that might have been the case; I just heard them say he belonged to him; that's all I do know about it.

Q Heard who say it? A Several of them say he belonged to Jake Freeman.

Q But you don't know how long before the war you heard that? A No sir, I don't.

Q The year the war began was it? A No sir. He had been owning him quite a little bit; I could not tell you how long.

Q You said you didn't know whether it was a year or not? A Well I could not tell you whether it was a year or two years or three; I didn't keep no dates.

Q Well now, you saw this man down here on Grand river you say, how long ago? A I couldn't tell you that, how long it was.

Q Well give an idea now, give us an idea now, Gus, how long it has been since you saw this applicant's father, Billy Vann, down on Grand river in the Cherokee Nation? A Well sir, I don't know how to answer that question; I could not tell you how long it has been.

Q Why is it that you can remember then before the war and remember that before the war that man was sold by the Stovers and you can't remember how long it has been since you saw him after the war down here on Grand river, how do you account for that, Gus? A I just account for it just by knowing him, but then I couldn't tell you anything about that time I saw him down here on Grand river.

Q You can't tell anything about the time he was sold either can you? A No sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Gus, do you know to whom he belonged, excepting what you heard? A No sir, that.

Q That is all the way you know to whom any slave belonged except what you hear? A That's all; I wouldn't have knowed I belonged to

Ed Vann (sup) 4

Ruffington unless I heard it.

Q Well now, this man Billy, or Billy Bowlegs, was over in Arkansas working for Jake Freeman before the war? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MELLETTTE:

Q Did you see him over there? A Yes sir, I lived there; I was running a blacksmith shop; I worked in the Cherokee Nation and the States both; I was hired out there running a blacksmith shop.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, I reckon I am.

Q Well now, didn't you live in & outside of the Cherokee Nation right at the beginning of the war, you said you lived in Mayesville? A Well I did, I was hired there, running a blacksmith shop; my owners had me hired out.

Q You lived outside did you? A Well, at that time I was, I was hired there; my owners was all in the nation here.

Q Mayesville, the line runs right through the town of Mayesville don't it? A Yes sir.

Q Well now, ~~was~~ which side of the line did Freeman live on? A On the east side.

Q How far from the line? A I expect, down on the branch, it might have been pretty nigh a quarter of a mile.

Q Don't you think that Billy edged over in the nation every once in a while? A Of course he went over in the nation every once in a while.

Q Worked over there didn't he? A At that time he left Mrs Stover's people, not that I know.

Q Did he just leave them? A I told you Mr. Freeman bought him, that's what I heard; he had him all the time.

Q You don't know anything about it, do you? A No sir.

G. W. CLARK, being sworn and examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Clark.

Q Where do you live? A In the Territory.

Q How old are you? A I am 58 years old.

Q You lived in the Territory before the war did you, Judge? A All my life.

Q Did you ever know a colored fellow named Billy Vann or Billy Bowlegs? A Yes sir.

Q Did you see him before the war? A Yes sir, I knew him before the war.

Q Do you know, Did you, Judge, who he belonged to before the war broke out, or what time he was living? A He belonged to my uncle, John Stover.

Q I am speaking of about when the war broke out, did you know who he belonged to at the time the war came on? A My understanding was he was sold to Mr. Freeman, a merchant at Mayesville, before the war.

Q You saw him ~~after~~ the war? A Yes sir considerable while after the war.

Q What time? A About 69 or 70.

Q You know whether he was married? A Yes sir, he brought a white woman there to my neighborhood, and he had one child named Ed, and after he was killed his wife was there in the neighborhood there living there yet.

Q You know the applicant, Ed, then? A Yes sir.

Q You say the father of this applicant was killed? A Yes sir.

Q You know about what year that was? A He was killed about '69 or '70, directly after they come there; about a year or two before I moved over the river.

Q Do you know the given name of the mother of this applicant? A I don't believe I recollect.

BY MR. MELLETTTE:

Q Was the mother of this applicant named Emeline? A I aint positive, I believe she was.

1934

Ed Vann (sup) 5

Q No, I mean the wife of Billy Stover, the mother of Ed Vann, the applicant; did you know her? A Yes sir, I have seen her.

Q Did the Stovers own her? A No, she was a white woman.

Q So far as your actual knowledge extends, Judge, this Billy Vann belonged to the Stovers, did he? A Yes sir, he belonged to my uncle, my uncle's folks when he was a boy like; I have seen him when he was a boy; I was raised at my grandfather's, close by, about two miles.

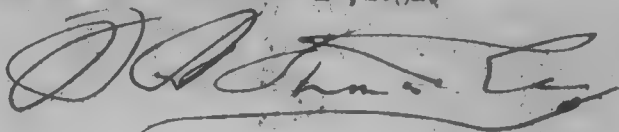

Q When did you last see him a slave of the Stovers? A Oh he got to be a chunk of a boy, I believe the last I saw him was at Mayesville until after he come back after the war; he changed hands and was owned by a man named Freeman there that kept goods in Mayesville.

Q You know nothing of any transfer or anything of that sort from the Stovers to Freeman? A Well, just hearsay and rumor through the country; I know he lived there.

Q When did he leave Stovers? A I don't recollect, it was early day, before the war.

M. B. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as a stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Mellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 492, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Ed. Vann, D 660;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings:

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Ed Vann for enrollment
as a Cherokee Freedman:

D E C I S I O N

The record in this case shows that on June 10, 1901, Ed Vann appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made personal application for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Vinita, Indian Territory, on October 12, 1901, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on May 31, 1902.

The evidence shows that the applicant, Ed Vann, has been born since the close of the rebellion; that he is the descendant of and claims right to enrollment through one William Vann.

The evidence further shows that the said William Vann was not the slave of a Cherokee citizen nor a free colored person residing in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the rebellion.

The name of the said applicant is not found on the 1880 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Ed Vann, as a Cherokee Freedman, should be denied under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q What is your post office? A Hayden

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been living in the Cherokee Nation ever since I was born, all my life except when I went out time of the war.

Q How old are you? A I must be 70 years old, seventy some odd.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know this applicant Malissa McIntosh? A Yes, sir, I know her.

Q How long have you known her? A I have known her ever since she was a little girl.

Q Who was her mother? A Lucy Ratliff.

Q Who was her father? A Alex Ratliff.

Q Was Malissa McIntosh herself born a slave? A Well, yes sir, she was born a slave, her mother was a slave, ex Alex Ratliff.

Malissa McIntosh - 4.

Q There was a Malissa McIntosh? A Alex Ratliff, said to be his daughter and slave.

Q Who was Alex Ratliff, a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q Citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he live before the war? A Down on the Illinois, near Tahlequah-somewhere, must have been Tahlequah.

Q Do you know where this girl Malissa and her mother were when the war commenced? A Her mother died, she died about the commencement of the war I guess, or a little before.

Q At what place? A Down where they lived, on the Illinois River.

Q At the Ratliff's? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether this girl was taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know when she returned to the Cherokee Nation first after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q When was that? A Why it was in December, '68, with me; with my wife and me, a little girl when she came back.

Q How long did she remain with you after she came with you in '68? A She remained with me several years, until she grew up and married; she went off a while, but she always made it her home.

Mr. Hastings: Now, how far did she live from you when the war came on? A Why she must have lived, I don't know exactly, 25 or 30 miles I guess.

Q You never saw her before the war came on? A Yes, sir, I know right where she was born, she wasn't born right there at all.

Q Where was she born? A She was born in going snake district, at her great-aunt's; her mother came up and stayed with her great-aunt until she was born, on Barron Forks.

Q Did you ever see her after that? A Yes, sir.

Q Before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where? A Down on the Illinois River.

Q Did you take her out of here during the war? A No, sir, but one of her aunt's did.

Q That your wife? A No, sir, my wife's aunt, and we got her after she went up to Kansas, my wife did.

Q And you came back here in December, 1868? A Well, that is the time I moved my family, I came back in November, and built my house.

Q Did Aaron come back with you? A Aaron came back with me the first time but he built up above me, me and Aaron came before that.

Q Did Lewis come with you? A Yes, sir.

Q When you moved your family he moved his? A Lewis had no family.

Q He came down with you? A Yes, sir.

Q Then you moved your family? A Yes, sir.

Q That was when Lewis came? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he come any time before that? A Yes Lewis came, Lewis came and made a place for his mother and father.

Q That was in November? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go back for your family? A In December.

Q Where? A To Kansas, Fort Scott.

Q Who else did you bring besides your own family at this time?

A I brought my wife's son, Ed Wright,

Q Anybody else? A Lila Ratliff, her great aunt.

Q How about how many years did she live with you? A This girl, I don't know exactly how many years, but she lived with me several years after she came here.

Q Your best judgment? A I don't know, I can't tell you.

Q Five years? A Over five years I expect, because she was nothing but a girl when she came.

Q She went to the Creek Nation and married there? A Yes, sir, she went to Muskogee and when she got engaged to be married, and she came back here and fixed up and was married.

Q And she then lived in the Creek Nation until a short time ago?

Malissa McIntosh - 5.

her affairs at all, she has been backwards and forwards all the time, I have some of her horses now, she has never took them away, always came and got one or two as she wanted them.

Mr. Smith: How long has she had property, horses, cattle, up there in the Cherokee Nation? A She has had them here ever since she was with me, we gave her some and she worked and bought some, before she went away.

Q Did she have this property there during the time she was away?

A Yes, sir, got some there yet.

Mr. Hastings: How many did she have when she left? A I believe she had ten head of cows and four head of horses.

Q Where did she get them? A We gave her some and she worked and bought some.

Q She just claimed some you folks had? A She bought some with her money, she was always at work.

Q And these are just the increase of them? A Yes, sir.

Harry Still, being duly sworn and examined before Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Smith: State your name? A Harry Still.

Q How old are you? A 54.

Q Where do you live? A Hayden.

Q Do you know this applicant, Malissa McIntosh? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known her? A Since '62.

Q Was she ever a slave? A I think so, yes, sir.

Q About when was she born? A I don't know exactly when she was born, I met her, the first time I saw her was in '62.

Q Who was she with? A She got in our crowd and went with us to Kansas; I have always heard she belonged to the Ratliffs.

Q Do you know when she came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes sir, she came back a little while before Christmas in '65 with Uncle Mose.

Q Mose who? A Whitmire, he raised her.

Q Where has she been living since that time? A Well, she has been living here in the Cherokee country a good deal of the time.

Q How long did she live with Mose Whitmire, how long did she live with him after she came back here in '65? A She lived with Mose till she got to be a grown girl, right around in that country there.

Q Did she ever marry? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did she marry? A McIntosh, Benny.

Q Then after she married, where did her husband live, if you know?

Q Lived down here on the Arkansas River.

Q In what Nation? A I guess down in the Creek country, I don't know.

Mr. Hastings: Do you know how long she lived over there? A No, sir.

Q You know how many children were born to her there? A I don't know as any children were born there, she has been going backwards and forwards all the while to old man Mose's and ever since I know her.

Q Were the children born up here at Mose Whitmire's? A I don't know whether they were or not.

Q Have you been told where they were born? A No, sir, I never asked anything about that.

Q You never heard anything about that? A No, sir.

Q How old are you now? A I am about 54 I think.

Q And you were 18 years old when the war closed? A No, sir, I was older than that, wasn't I, when the war closed; I can remember better than that I can now, when the war closed.

Q Well, who did you come back here with? A I came back here with my mother and my sister, and Filda Leay and Jim Leay.

Q What time of the year did you come back? A I came here three times, sir.

Q What time did you first come? A Yes.

Malissa McIntosh - 8.

Q Your mother with you then? A No, sir.

Q What time did this girl come? A This girl came down along in the winter of '88 when she came here, with Uncle Moses.

Q What time did your mother come with you? A She came in the spring of '88.

Q Your sister with you then? A Yes, sir, with me then.

Q Where were you living when this woman was brought down there?

A I was living on the forks of Lightning Creek, known as the old Rachel Glass place.

Q How far was that from Moss Whimire? A Five miles, or six, perhaps.

Q Do you remember when everybody came down there 35 years ago, willing to swear definitely about that? A Yes, sir, willing to swear definitely.

Q How long did she live there? A Lived from the time she was a girl clean up till she married Ben.

Q When did she marry Ben? A I don't know the exact date she married Ben.

Q Where is she living now? A She has got a place down here in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Where is it? A This side of Tulsa.

Q Have you ever at it? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A There last fall.

Q Was she living on it then? A She had some stock there.

Q Was she there in person? A I didn't see her on the place living, but I met her close to the place there, right there this side of -----

Malissa McIntosh, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: You married Ben McIntosh over in the Creek Nation?

A Yes, sir.

Q How long since you moved from the Creek Nation to the Cherokee Nation; how long since you moved back here? A I have lived back and forth all the time.

Q You couldn't have two houses; have you lived with your husband in the Creek Nation? A I lived there with him eight years I guess, when we separated, and I came - - -

Q Since you separated ~~in the Creek Nation~~ you have lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation? A Well, count up and see, he was parted from me three years before that.

Q You had been separated at that time? A That was about '81 then? A I guess.

Mr. Hastings: Who brought the suit for the divorce, you? A No, sir, I didn't.

Commissioner: This paper states you were divorced in 1884, and you say you separated from him about three years before that? A Read that and see that it says.

Q You state what you know. How long have you been separated?

A About ten years I guess.

Q You have lived in the Cherokee Nation about ten years then?

A No, sir, I haven't lived in the Cherokee Nation all the time, I stayed there part of the time.

Q I want to know how long you have lived in the Cherokee Nation since you were married, since you were separated? A I haven't lived very long.

Q Since you have separated then you have lived some of the time in the Creek Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q I want to know how long you have lived in the Cherokee Nation in that time? A I have been living about a year on the place.

Q Since that you have lived in the Creek Nation, have you? A Yes, sir, most of the time.

Q What was your owner's name? A Ratliff.

Q What was his first name? A Alexander Ratliff.

Malissa McIntosh - V.

Q He was a Cherokee citizen, was he? A Yes, sir, he was a Cherokee citizen.

Mr. Smith: During the time you lived in the Cherokee Nation, did you have any property of any kind in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, what I had was here.

Q What did you have? A Why I had some stock, some horses and some cattle.

Q Where were they? A Uncle Mose kept them.

Mr. Hastings: How did you acquire them? Where did you get them?

A Why they gave me a start.

Q That was the increase of them? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: You say that these two children are living with you in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q They were born in the Creek Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q They never drew Creek money? A No, sir.

Q You never enrolled them as Creek citizens? A No, sir, never enrolled them no place but here.

Q You never enrolled yourself as a Creek citizen? A No, sir, I never wanted to be a Creek citizen.

Mr. Hastings: I want to know how that divorce was got? A Well deserted me and the children, and he was gone three years, and the law there is you can get a divorce for three years separation.

Q Did you get it? A He had it made out and sent it to me.

Commissioner: Malissa McIntosh applies for the enrollment of herself and two children, Bertha and Bennie. She cannot be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880, or the census roll of 1896, but she is duly identified on the Kern-Clifton and Wallace rolls, and her two children as enumerated are identified upon the Kern-Clifton roll. She avers that she is married to one Ben McIntosh, a Creek citizen, and that she was formerly the slave of Alex Ratliff, a Cherokee citizen. She avers that she lived in the Creek Nation until about one year ago, and that during all the time of her marriage with McIntosh she had property in the Cherokee Nation. She avers that she is separated from her husband McIntosh. Now the said Malissa McIntosh and her two children, Bertha and Bennie, will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card, awaiting further consideration of the Commission. She will be notified by mail of the decision of the Commission in her case when arrived at. Because of the fact that the father of her children is a Creek citizen, and that she resided in the Creek Nation, a copy of the testimony now being taken will be transmitted to the General Offices of the Commission at Muskogee for their information as to Creek citizenship.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of EDWARD WRIGHT as a Cherokee Freedmen, introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation.

The Cherokee Nation by its representative makes satisfactory proof of service on E. B. Lawson, the attorney for the applicant in this case, that testimony would be introduced by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation coming to approve the right of said applicant, named Wright to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation at the office of the Commissioner in Hudson, Indian Territory, on the 1st day of March, 1892, and from that to day thereafter until the said applicant be heard by the commission during the usual business hours.

Cherokee Nation in suit by its next relative, L. B. Bell.

G. S. Rogers, being duly sworn, testifies as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation.

MR. BELL:

- Q Tell me your name? A G. S. Rogers.
Q Age? A 43 years old.
Q Place of residence? A Chickasaw.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you been here? A All my life, a little over 25 years.
Q Did you go out to the country during the war? A Yes, sir.
Q Then did you return? A Yes.
Q How did you come out? A Came to Fort Gibson.
Q And returned there did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Tell me what was your business? A After I came back
I set a few horses freighting for something over three years.
Q Where and between what places? A Sedalia and Pleasant Hill and Kansas City to Fort Gibson.
Q Were you ever acquainted with a freed man by the name of Moses Whitire? A Yes, I know him.
Q Where did you know him? A He dropped in being about 1874.
Q Do you know what particular business he belonged to?
A I don't remember whether he belonged to George Whitire or the Whitires.
Q If you did see him when did you first see Moses Whitire after the war, after he returned to the country?
A As well as I can remember it was in February, and I met him just on this side of the Neosho River, as they were going back to this country from Kansas. There was between 25 and 30 to 40 wagons and I met them right on this side of the Neosho River. Didn't see Moses Whitire and Aaron Whitire on the other side of the river nor in the country.
Q Did you have any conversation with them, Aaron and Moses Whitire at that time? A Yes, sir, and both Bill Ross asked me if I was thinking of going going to Fort Scott.
Q Did you ask them where they were going to? A They said they was going back.
Q Well this is at Fort Scott was loaded with people?
A Yes, mostly negroes and sawdust and goods in them.
Q Colony of Cherokee freedmen? A Yes, sir, coming back to the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well how that was, when you go at that? A It was right on this side of the Neosho River, between the old Hudson plantation and Neosho River.
Q Now get from the Neosho River? A I don't recall a mile.

Q How far on the north line of the Cherokee Nation?

A I think the river is the line, about half a mile.

Q And how far is that from the Kansas line? A The second is the line, way I understand it.

Q You had reference to where the military band crossed the Neosho river? A Yes, sir.

Q At Jack Hinson's ferry? A They called it Hudson Ferry at that time.

Q Hudson lived there? A Yes, sir, in about a half mile.

Q And this Moses Williams you met and talked with is the same one you knew in going Snake and belonged to the White River? A Yes, sir.

Q About how old a man was he when you met him? A He is an older man I think than I am.

Q And you are other with him you know? A I think Aaron Williams and Moses Williams and Big Major Wright is the old one I know.

Q And you talked with him about? A Oh, I guess I talked with him for 15, 20 minutes and while I was talking to him, they were passing going to Fort Scott.

Q Do you know where this man Williams lived near Moses Williams you met?

A No, I don't know where he lived.

MR. HASTINGS, Cherokee Representative.

Q Don't you know he lives on Salt Creek near Hayden? A No, I don't know for certain I heard he lived on Big Creek. I don't know where he lives. I have saw him ever since I have been here. I don't think I ever was at his house.

—00000000—

I hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had in this case on the above date, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic notes thereof.

Washkoga, T. T., May 30, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Edward Wright for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman.

APPEARANCES:

Sam J. Scooville, representing E. B. Lawson, for applicant,
E. W. Hastings, for Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSIONER: The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, makes satisfactory proof of service on the applicant's attorney that it would, on the 30th day of May, 1902, introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said Edward Wright to enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. The applicant this day appears by his attorney, E. B. Lawson, who is represented by Sam J. Scooville, Nowata, Indian Territory.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence a decision of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship as found on page 87 of a book taken from the records of the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation entitled, "Book of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship," as follows:

No. 86. Edward Wright
vs
Cherokee Nation.

Ex. 7th of June,
(Ans. or filed).

Judgment against claimant June 27, 1879.

The Cherokee Nation also offers in evidence from the same record as above page 87 of the same, the following:

No. 89. Major Wright
vs
Cherokee Nation.

(Ex. June 7th, claimant filed on the 26 of June,
1st July 1879, let Ans.
set for trial).

Judgment against claimant June 27th, 1879.

The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence the application made for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by Lewis Whitman on the 26th day of June, 1876, as found on pages 183 and 5 of Book 9, entitled, "Citizenship Record 1874," as follows:

"Before the Commission sitting at Tahlequah to try claims to Cherokee citizenship.

The undersigned claimant in the case of Lewis Whitman

vs
Cherokee Nation

respectfully presents the following statement of his claim according to the requirement of the Commission.

Claimant claims under classification five of claimants in the law creating this Commission, that is, was a colored person formerly a slave owned by a citizen and resident of the Nation of the beginning of the late war, freed by law and made a citizen of this Nation by provision of the treaty of 1866. For claimant was at the time and place above said owned by George Whitmire, a Cherokee citizen, left the country during the war and returned in the summer of 1866 to select and prepare a home for his family (they then being without one) and again the following year prosecuting the work as his circumstances and the condition of the country at that time prevented and leaving his family in the intervals of the war they would subsist without support and exposure and until a removal of this was practicable which removal of claimants finally was accomplished to the point of the Nation settled by claimants for theirs and his home in the spring of 1867.

Claimants rights have been called in question by competent authority, and he therefore presents them to the important examination of this commission as are authorized as to do by law.

This June 26, 1873.

Lewis Whitmire.

W. V. B. Boudinot, Atty.

The Cherokee Nation offers the following from the same book and continuing on the same page, the application of Moses Whitmire as follows:

"before the honorable commission sitting at Tahlequah to try rights to Cherokee citizenship.

In name of Moses Whitmire

vs

Cherokee Nation,

claiming Cherokee citizenship.

Claimant claims under the fifth specification of the classes of claimants to citizenship as found in the law creating this commission, to wit as a colored person formerly a slave owned by one George Whitmire, Cherokee citizen, resident of this Nation, at the beginning of the late war, and freed by law and made a citizen by provision of the treaty of 1866. Claimant respectfully refers to the statement by claimant Lewis Whitmire as embracing the facts which the present claimant would submit to the commission as the grounds of his claim.

Respectfully submitted,

"Case 60.

Aaron Whitmire

vs

Cherokee Nation.

Tahlequah,

July 3, 1873.

Mike Fieles a witness for claimant called and sworn.

I am I think I am about 47 years old. I live in Illinois District, S. W. Am a citizen of the Nation. I have been on the doubtful roll but had my rights proven before the Supreme Court.

Am a citizen under the treaty of 1866. I went north to the state of Kansas in 1862. I returned in August 1862 at 22nd, 1866. I left my family in Fort Scott when I came. I came down to get me a claim. I staid about three weeks that time, and then returned to Fort Scott. After I returned to Fort Scott, there were others who started down, the Whitmire men of that number. The claimant was one of them. They came down in Decr. 1866. They returned to Fort Scott before I left there. I left Kansas about the 1st and went in January, 1867 and got to the crossing of the Neosho River about the 1st of January. When I first came down there was about 15 in the party. They left their families in Kansas when they came down here. There was some of party come with the Whitmire mobiliated the Whitmire party and my party were Sam Webber, Mike Daniels, Sam Webber, Jr., Aaron Webber, Reubin Sanders, Nick Sanders.

The Whitmire proper were Aaron, Lewis, Hoss, Dennis and Nelson Whitmire and others that I do not recollect. The object of this party coming was for the purpose of erecting houses. When I moved with my family I stopped on Pryors Creek at Mrs. Alberty's and remained about two weeks. The reason we left that part of the country was because that part of the country was too sparsely settled and bare of subsistence. As I was coming down the first time we were overtaken by the Cherokee Delegation. They were some who come here were authorized by others to locate claims for them, one was by Hakey requesting Abe Fields to locate for him. The original request filed.

Cross Examined.

I can not remember the date I arrived here the first time from Kansas. The claim we made I got three sets of house logs, hauled them and piled them up, and some of the men put up houses, I did not put up a house. I started back to Kansas about the middle of September. When I first left the country it was in February, 1862. I was a slave before the war and was owned by Sam Taylor when the war broke out. He was living on Greengrass near Sugar Mountain on this side of Arks. River. When the Whitmire returned to Fort Scott I do not know when they left there to come to this country as I left them there when I left. It was reported when they returned to the Nation that the Whitmire party had built houses. But I do not know this myself as I was not along. I only heard they had. The war closed in 1865 I think. I did not know it myself but people told me who could read.

I do not know myself that it was the month of Aug. When I come here first, but I was told it was that time.

Re Direct.

It was the December following the time I first came down that the Whitmire came down first to select and improve claims.

Blusford Alberty, witness for claimant.

on the 2nd of September, 1866. I had occasion some time in the last of July, or the first of Nov, or probably it might have been as late as the middle of November, to go to the Virgilville. While out there I fell in with a party of seven or eight persons who were engaged with others near Sam Buchanan's. I did not go to the party. They were colored people. I knew part of them. Their names were Sam Webb, Cobbery, Aaron Whitmire, and a younger brother and Lewis Whitmire. There was a younger brother whom I was told was a hindoo. I do not recollect any of the others and can not identify them. The hindoo was Johnson and George Whitmire, Aaron, Lewis and his mother belonged to Aaron. In conversation with Sam Webb, he asked me if I knew anything about the treaty and if William H. H. had got home. I told him I had not seen the treaty but had heard rumors about it. He told me they had come to pick themselves up on the plains and that he was the leader of the company and the reason why Major Wright did not come was that he was an old man, but that he had sent him down to work for him and make him a claim. He then asked what changed their mind to get provisions over on the river; I told him there was none there, but that there was a lot of concerned flour at Gibson and if they could get there they would get some. He also represented that they had come down to make claims for others, who had remained in Kansas, to build their homes and so fourth. They also stated that they were satisfied to come, and that they had accordingly come to make claims for themselves and the others that they left behind in Kansas. As near as I can recollect it was some time in October or November that I saw these parties. I was not very cold weather at the time. I recollect as I carried out at night. Did not see any of these parties after this time, May, 1867. There was no provision to be had in this country at that time. Provisions were very scarce. It was my understanding that they had come to prepare for or for themselves in families. They told me at least. Major Wright belonged to Cornelius Wright before the war.

Brown, Kansas

I heard after this some of them had been to Kansas. At the time I met them I do not know whether their families were with them. I think I saw Dennis Whitmire with this party, but am not certain of seeing Dennis or Nelson. I know there was some of the Whitmire boys. They were owned by the Nation and remained here up to the breaking out of the war.

A. W. Alberty

Aaron Whitmire
re
Cherokee Nation.

I know Melissa Rabliff. She was twelve or thirteen years old at the close of the war. She was living with her son and still lives in my family. Jack Landrum was one of the boys above referred to, also Ransom Daniels. I learned from the Federal Agents Mike and Sam Webb that the Cherokee delegation advised to settle in a compact body on occupied lands. We crossed the Nation in early dawn at Nelson's Ferry in 1866. The chief ferryman who crossed us was Bill Martin. While on lightning track in 1866 I saw Mr. Alberty but had no conversation with him, but saw Webb and in my presence.

Cross Examined.

I am a claimant before this court for citizenship. I am half-brother of Aaron Whitmire, Louis, Dennis and Nelson are also my brothers. Mariah Whitmire is my mother. Major Wright is my stepfather. The names of the party that came with me to the Nation are as follows: Mike Sanders, Sam Weber, Peter Lange, Will Foreman, Buck Sanders, Benson Daniels, Sam Weber, John Louis Whitmire, Nelson Whitmire, Dennis Whitmire, Aaron Whitmire. Is all I can recollect now. Witness and my brother were authorized to make claims for others still back in Kansas. Dennis made a claim for Major Wright. I can't name any others. Witness was a part of family in 1865 when we came on from Kansas. My family was at Fort Scott. Witness, he right, and my wife and family composed my family. Louis had no family. Aaron and Nelson also Major, Sam, Nelson and Will were Aaron's children and his wife, Sara. They were left the wife and children in Fort Scott when we came on in 1865. Mike Sanders, Tim, Sanders were Nelson's family and back at Fort Scott. We went back last January 1868 to Kansas after coming to the Nation. Then witness returned in last to the Nation Aaron, Louis, Nelson, Benson, Daniels, Buck Sanders, Peter Lange and the families of those who had families all came as I did besides others not particularly remembered. This was the first time any of our families had been to the Nation, at least mine, Aaron's and Nelson's.

The first time Mariah Whitmire came in the Nation after the war closed was after our father returned in Illinois in 1867.

The first time Major Wright returned was on our first trip in 1867. Maria, Ratliff was married by one Alon Wright at Fort Scott. She first came in March 1867. Buck Sanders was along in 1866. He was a slave at the beginning of the war. I was present during the examination at Ft. Liberty as a witness to this case.

No Direct.

Mariah's family at the close of the war was a separate family. Harry Whitmire, her son, represented his father on the first trip in 1868. Witness is about 55 yrs old. Major Wright was an old man at the close of the war. Louis Whitmire had been back to the Nation before 1868.

Case 63.

Aaron Whitmire & family claiming citizenship.

Cherokee Nation.

Has come claimant by this before the commission sitting at Tanlequan to try certain claims for citizen ship in the Cherokee Nation and makes this his statement of his grounds for being able to do so.

Claimant is a colored person and claims an African and Indian blood of the fifth generation of the blood of African blood. He is referred by law to the commission to examine and decide rights of colored persons having been denied citizens.

Claimant belonged to one, William J. Cherokee nation at the commencement of the war of the rebellion and was then living in this Nation. After the beginning of said war claimant moved to or the vicinity of Fort Scott with his family at which location he resided until the summer of 1866 when he returned to this Nation and proceeded to select and improve a home on the Verdigris River for himself and family's permanent residence. While he was thus making preparations for the removal of his family by providing for their habitation and subsistence at the place mentioned they his family remained where they had been sojourning during the war.

Claimant was compelled by unfavorable circumstances and the attention he was obliged to bestow upon his family to remit his work upon his improvement on Verdigris River from the early fall of 1866 to the early winter of the same year, when he resumed labor upon his improvement, after which he removed his family as soon as practicable to wit in the spring of the year of 1867.

Claimant claims to have returned to this Nation in his own person and as representative of his family within the time provided for by treaty, in that having no residence to come to as other former citizens he did everything possible to constitute a return consistent with the duty he owed to his family by laboring as far as his means allowed to provide a home in this Nation.

vs.

August 1st, 1878.

Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Martin, witness for claimant, called and sworn.

I live on Big Creek, Coconawabos, A. T. an Indian of the Nation. From August up to Christmas 1866 I was at the ferry on the Neosho River on the old military road leading from Fort Scott, Kansas to Fort Gibson, A. T. Am acquainted with claimant and his brother, Lewis, never knew Aaron until I met him at the river. Lewis I knew prior to that time. While I was in charge of the ferry I recollect having met claimant and Lewis, Dennis and Nelson, Whitkire, Peter Heiga, Mike Sanders, Sam Pepper, and young Sam, Bill Rorran and others but I do not recollect anything about them. They were traveling. They stated they were coming from Fort Scott, Kans. they were traveling from the direction of Fort Scott. I crossed them from the Shawnee side of the River into the Cherokee Nation, they inquired the road to Big Creek. Nelson gave them the directions to the head of Big Creek. They stated the reason why they were coming was that the Cherokee Delegation had invited them to come back under the treaty. They mentioned Jim McDonald as the principal one who had invited them and they were then on their way to select themselves homes.

It was after the Delegation returned that I met claimant and the others spoken of it was pretty cold weather when I crossed them. It was as near as I can recollect about the last of October, 1866. I am positive it was before Christmas as I left them at that time or probably a few days before Christmas.

Cross examined.

I was not acquainted with the claimant nor any of the others named previous to the war.

I do not know the crowd before the war. I do not know whether they had lived in the Nation previous to the war. I do not recollect of seeing any of the families of the parties named at the time.

I crossed them over the river. I got word of this same party back over the river a short time after they had come in. Lewis, Wilson and Dennis Whitmore and little Sam. Father and I think they were there who crossed back but I can not blame them now. I learned the names of the parties from conversation with them, but did not become particularly acquainted with their names at that time. I think there was one man with the party. I think he was little Sam. Father though I would not be right positive that there was a woman along or not. I was positive there was no children as I never saw any. They had gained there long enough that there were any women and children I would have known it. The next time I saw claimant was in the fall of 1887 on Big Creek. I learned from them that they had got there in March 1887. I know this from having heard it generally talked amongst themselves.

Re Direct.

At the present time the distance between our two settlements is about 5 miles. I recognize the claimant and the other parties spoken of. I have been there frequently since that time. I got them over the river. When I saw them in the fall of 1887 and their families with them then. The means of subsistence at the time I crossed in the country at that time was short.

George Whitmore before the war lived in Going Snake Dist. This Dist. borders on the line of the State of Ark.

Claimant now resides near the western line of the Cherokee Nation. The settlement before the war was where George Whitmore now resides. I would say the distance from where George Whitmore resided prior to the war, and claimant's present residence is 20 or 100 miles. Witness states that he had a conversation with Sam. Father in which Father assigned as a reason for settling there he had to settle in a place or so quickly as it was convenient to do in an uncultivated part of the country.

This was thought best for the colored man as they could have their own schools as usual. There were more regulated in the summer.

The first conversation was in the fall of 1886. The second conversation was in the spring of 1887. I saw several of their families in May, 1887 on Big Creek & Hanging Creek in the Nation.

About the middle of May 1867 I first saw said party with their families at their new homes. Plaintiff and others of this colored party told witness that they returned in March 1867 to the Nation.

Re Direct

I learned from John Jones that most of this colored party returned to Kansas after their families and a few remained. I was at general convention of the colored people in 1866. It was witness' understanding that the purpose of said convention was to ratify the treaty of 1866. I think the object of the convention was to ratify amendments to the Constitution and the treaty and to ratify the treaty. The treaty was concluded the 8th of Aug. 1866 in my information. It might have been July 26, 1866.

Witness went south during the war. J. B. Jones was not at the time herein mentioned U. S. Agent but was a Delegate and was Agent afterwards.

Hunkogee, I. T., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Belliste & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 498, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Mariam Hayden, D 498

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree, because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariam Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariam Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Melissa McIntosh for the enrollment of herself and her two minor children, Bertha and Bonnie McIntosh, as Cherokee Freedmen.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on June 10, 1901, Melissa McIntosh appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of herself and her two minor children, Bertha and Bonnie McIntosh, as Cherokee Freedmen. The testimony taken at various times in the matter of the application of Edward Wright for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman, also, that taken at Muskogee, Indian Territory, July 31, 1900, in the matter of the application of Bertha McIntosh, et al. for enrollment as citizens of the Creek Nation is made a part of the record herein.

An examination of the records of the Commission shows that the names of the applicants, Bertha and Bonnie McIntosh (as Ben B. McIntosh), appear on the partial roll of Creek citizens by blood, approved by the Secretary of the Interior, on March 13, 1902, at numbers 2833 and 2834, respectively.

The evidence further shows that the applicant, Melissa McIntosh, nee Ratliff, was the slave of Alex Ratliff, a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that she was taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the rebellion and did not return thereto within the time specified, in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitwire, trustee, etc. vs. The Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of freedmen to said Nation. She is not identified on the 1890 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation.

Section twenty-eight of the act of Congress, approved July 1, 1906 (34 Stat., 716), provides as follows:

"No person whose name appears upon the roll made by the Dawes Commission as a citizen or freedman of any other tribe shall be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation."

-2-

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Martha McIntosh and Dennis McIntosh as Cherokee Freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of law above quoted; and that the application for the enrollment of Melissa McIntosh as a Cherokee Freedman should be denied, under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress, approved June 25, 1906 (34 Stat., 496), and it is so ordered.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q You are living at Canon City, Colorado? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you been there? A Two years now.
- Q What year is this? A It is 1905.

- Q Did you ever live out of the Territory before two years ago?
A No sir, only when I was in Kansas, a small girl.
Q You come down close to Chatopa and stopped in 1866? A Down this side of Chatopa in the Cherokee nation, down in the neighborhood of Coody's Bluff.
Q Did you come when Moses Whitmire brought his family? A Yes sir, they raised me.
Q That is when they brought the women and children down? A Yes sir, they raised me.
Q That was when they brought the women and children down? A Yes sir when he moved his family.
Q Had it become the spring of the year yet? A It was in the winter when we came.
Q Just before early spring? A It was along in the winter, snow on the ground, seems like it was along in the first part of the winter. It must have been about December.
Q You all settled there and you never went back after that? A No sir, I never went back, I have been raised right here in the Cherokee nation.
Q Your two children are out yonder in Colorado with you? A Yes sir, they are citizens of the Creek nation.
Q Not neither one of them applying? A No sir./

Mr. Hastings: The Cherokee nation here desires to call the attention of the Commissioner to the fact that it has been shown in numerous cases heretofore that the Whitmire family came to the Cherokee nation in the last days of April or the first days of March of 1867.

- Q How long did you live on Lightning Creek up there? A Until I was grown.
Q Then where did you go? A To Muskogee, first one place and then another, I didn't go out, I haven't been out of the nation until I went to Colorado two years ago now the last of this month.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER/

- Q Did you live in the Cherokee nation continuously from the time you returned to it after the war until about two years ago when you went to Colorado? A Yes sir, I come to Muskogee and worked a little while.
Q Never lived out of the Indian Territory? A No sir.
Q Have you any witnesses or any other evidence you desire to introduce as to your return to the Cherokee nation after the war?
A There is no one that I knew of but old Uhole Mose.
Q You came at the time his wife and children came? A His wife, he didn't have any children.
Q Did anybody else come along at the same time? A A few other families, I don't just remember who, seems like one or two of his brothers.
Q Do you desire your case closed and a decision rendered on the evidence introduced? A Well, of course if you can make it so to give me allotment it will be all right but if it is in with these techs cases I suppose it will have to go on with them, went it? I don't know.
Q You had attorneys yet? A Yes sir, a lot of them had them, I guess I was included too.

--3--

You haven't them any more? A No sir.

Q You have no other evidence you want to introduce? A No sir, there is none here that I know of.

THIS CASE IS CLOSED.

Gentlemen:

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Melissa McIntosh et al., as Cherokee freedmen, the Commission is in receipt of Departmental letter of September 1, 1904, in which it is stated that the Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in his letter of August 19, 1904, recommends that the Commission's decision rejecting said application be not approved as to Melissa McIntosh, and that she be enrolled as a Cherokee freedman.

In accordance with instructions contained in the Department's letter the applicant has this day been notified to appear before the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, Tuesday, November 15, 1904, at nine o'clock A. M., and introduce testimony touching the date of her return to the Cherokee Nation. The Cherokee Nation will be permitted to appear on that date and introduce such testimony as it may desire.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,

WASHINGTON,

February 14, 1897.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior,

Sir:

Referring to Departmental letter of July 19, 1896,
(I.T.B. 5003-1896, 5004-1896), wherein the Department resumed its decision favorable to the applicants in the Cherokee freedmen enrollment case of Mary Robbins, et al., except as to James Rogers, and remanded the case to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes for further hearing and re-adjudication, I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from the Acting Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated December 3, 1896, transmitting the record of the proceedings had in the matter of the consolidated application for the enrollment of Mary Robbins, et al., as Cherokee freedmen, including the decision of the Commissioner, dated December 3, 1896, denying the application for the enrollment of Mary Robbins, Lillie and Chasman Jones, Lillie Ransom, Nellie and Bertha Love, and Albert and James Rogers.

On receipt of Departmental letter of July 19, 1896, the applicants herein were notified on August 20, 1896, that further testimony would be taken at the office of the Commissioner on September 27, 1896. By stipulation of the attorneys, this date was further postponed to October 11, 1896, at which time further testimony was taken. The testimony of Dorcas Buffington, a witness in behalf of the applicants, was taken at Melvin, I.T., on October 10, 1896.

The evidence shows that the principal applicant herein, Mary Robbins, was a slave of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the Civil War, and that during the progress of the War she left the Cherokee Nation and went into the State of Kansas and resided for some time at or near Fort Scott. It is further shown that she did not return to the Cherokee Nation until after February 11, 1867. The books now tend to show that she did not return until about the year 1870, though the exact time is not conclusively shown.

The record further shows that all of the other applicants included in this case are descendants of Mary Robbins, and were born since 1866, and neither claim nor possess any rights in servitude or Cherokee freedom other than as descendants of Mary Robbins. Some of the applicants can be identified on any of the authenticated rolls of the Cherokee Nation in possession of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, except on the Kaw-Clifton roll.

Under the provisions of Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 24, 1866 (14 Stat., 494), the Office is of the opinion that the decision of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated December 8, 1904, denying the application for the enrollment of Mary Robbins, Nellie Jones, Herman Jones, Lillie Jones, Henson Love, Beulah Love, Bertha Love, Albert Rogers, and Fannie Rogers, is correct and it is respectfully recommended that it be affirmed.

Very respectfully,

C. F. Lavender,

Acting Commissioner.

THE CHIEF

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Sir:

In accordance with the recommendation of the Indian Office of February 14, 1907 (Land 13421-1344), copy whereof is enclosed, your decision of December 3, 1906, denying the application for the enrollment of Mary Robbins, Dollie Jones, Sherman Jones, Lillie Love, Annan Love, Evelyn Love, Bertie Love and Albert Rogers, and Janet Rogers, is hereby affirmed, and the Department, in pursuance thereof, has hereby cancelled the names of Mary Rogers, Dollie Rogers, Sherman Jones, Albert Rogers, Lillie Jones, Annan Love, Evelyn Love and Bertie Love, from the approved roll of November 14, 1904, at Cherokee fraction, opposite numbers 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2307, 2304, 2305, 2306, respectively.

You will take similar action upon the partial roll in your possession, and the Indian Office has this day been directed to take similar action.

The record in the case has been returned for the files of the Indian Office, together with copy hereof.

Respectfully,

I enclose, and
I enclose, with copy hereto to I.O.

Q Did you draw Cherokee a Strip money? A No sir.

Kane-Clifton pay roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation examined and applicants not identified thereon.
Wallace roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation examined and applicants not identified thereon.

Q How come that you are not on any roll at all? A I applied when Wallace had his court, and I supposed my father put me on, and the Clifton and Kane roll, reason I didn't get on there I was sick, and they had to bring me home just as the court opened, for I was taken sick.

Q Why were you not on the roll of 1880? A I don't know, some of the older folks will have to say, I thought I was on that roll.

Q That was about the time you were married? A I don't know why I wasn't on, I don't say, I have lived around, I just supposed I was on there, I asked my mistress if she thought I was on there, and she didn't know.

Q Did you know her your old Mistress, Mrs. Nancy Walker? A Yes sir.

Q Did you live with her after the war closed? A No sir.

Q Have you seen her since the war closed? A Yes sir, I have been down and seen her twice.

Q When was that? A I went down to see her about when she was then was paying off the Kernal money, I went down to see her then.

Q Was that the first time? A Yes sir, that's the first time I had been down.

Q And then you have seen her since that time? A Yes sir, I have seen her daughter, Miss Anna Drake, ever since I have lived here, I have worked for her off and on.

Q Where does she live? A About two or three miles in the neighborhood.

Q Where did you first work for her? A I don't know, I think it has been about 11 years ago.

Cynthia heard at al 4

Q Have you worked for her occasionally since then, have you?
A Yes sir.

Q Where were you taken during the war, do you know? A No sir, I don't, I don't know whether I was ever taken out when I was little or not, I remember being in Gibson though.

page 107 #2276 Edmund Campbell, Tahlequah District.

Q In looking over the testimony of your father, or the man who was supposed to be your father, Edmund Campbell, it seems that he lived at Tahlequah and was born way back in 1822? A Yes sir.

Q He says that he married his wife in 1851, that was way back before the war, and he belonged to Arch Campbell, and that he and his wife lived together until she died, he is some thing like two years ago; now you say your mother's name is Fannie Walker?

A Well my mother's name was Fannie Walker.

Q He has a wife named Sophie, that wasn't your mother, that Sophie?

A No sir; Fannie Walker was my mother.

Q What are the names of Sophie's children? A I only know two of her children, and that was Joe, and she had another girl named Hannah; I think she had Hannah by some body else, I don't know who is the father of Hannah.

Q You are not Sophie's child? A No sir.

Q You are a child of this woman Fannie? A Yes sir.

Q You have no recollection of Fannie ever living with this man as his wife? A No sir.

Q Do you remember your mother though? A Yes sir.

Q Have you any witness you want to introduce? A Yes sir, I have Mr. Riley and Luster Bowman.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, James Davidson:

Q Where did you go during the war, do you know? A I don't know, I don't remember going out during the war.

Q Where were you lived since the war closed other than in the Cherokee Nation? A I have lived here some.

Q I am speaking of outside of the Cherokee nation? A I worked at Oostopa some.

Q About how long at Oostopa? A I don't know, I worked at Oostopa there two or three months the first time, and I may have worked there a little longer the next time.

Q Is that the only place you have worked outside of the Cherokee Nation since the war? A No sir.

Q Where were you married? A In South McAlester, I married a man.

Q That is, a man who worked in the mines? A Yes sir.

Q Have you lived anywhere else other than South McAlester? A I just went home there.

Q When did you come back to the Cherokee nation after you were married at South McAlester? A I came right back and stayed a while and then I went to San Jolin, my husband worked there awhile.

- Q Were you a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war came on?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q To whom did you belong? A I belonged to Gustie Foreman in Illinois District.
- Q Did you know the applicant here? A No, I didn't really know her now, I knowed her when she was a child, I guess I know her mother what she said is her mother.
- Q Well, have you any way of telling whether this is the child of that woman that you did know? A Well she told me she was, I haven't seen her since '66, along in there and she said she was a child of Fanny Walker's.
- Q When did she tell you that? A She told me that the year before the Wallace Court, or before the Clifton Court, or something.
- Q Before the Clifton Court? A Yes, sir, it was before that I met her.
- Q You have no ~~any~~ recollection of her back in her early childhood?
- A I recollect her when Fanny had a girl child with her sister Charlotte.
- Q When did Fanny Walker belong to? A I don't know, she claimed to belong to Tim Walker.
- Q How long since you saw Fanny Walker? A Oh, I haven't seen her since along about '66 or '67, along in there.
- Q Did Tim Walker have a wife? A Yes, sir, I guess he did I am not acquainted with them before the war.
- Q Did you know the old lady Mrs. Betsey Walker? A I don't know her.
- Q You have heard of her? A Yes, sir.
- Q Is she connected in any way to Tim Walker? A There was two Walker families, Betsey Walker and Tim Walker; I was acquainted with Betsey Walker.
- Q Well, you knew Fanny Walker back in slavery days?
- A No, sir.
- Q I thought you said you knew Fanny Walker? A I knew her in '66.
- Q Where did you see her? A In Fort Gibson with her sister, Charlotte Walker.
- Q Are you sure it was in '66 you saw Fanny Walker? A Along in '66, '67 along in there sometime I seen them, I am well acquainted with Charlotte.
- Q Is Charlotte living now? A No, sir, she is dead.
- Q How long has she been dead? A I don't know how long she has been dead; it has been quite a while.
- Q Twenty years? A I reckon I don't know whether it has been that long or not.
- Q Well, you had never known Fanny Walker before that?
- A No, sir.
- Q Well, did you know her after that, any to speak of? A Yes, sir, I got acquainted with her there, and that is all I have ever seen her.
- Q And that is the only time you have ever seen her?
- A I saw her several times there.
- Q You saw her several times along about that year?
- A Yes, sir, that year.

Cynthia Heard, et al., Cont'd 2.

Q And then you lost the run of her? A Yes, sir, I knew Charlotte Walker.

Q Was that the first time you met Charlotte Walker? A I don't remember whether it was the same time or before.

Q Did you see much of Charlotte Walker after that?

A No, sir.

Q Now what is there to impress upon your mind that you met this Fanny Walker in 1866, whom you never saw before and whom you never saw after? A Well, I tell you what impressed me, I used to go there a good deal; she was a good friend of mine.

Q You remember her distinctly? A Yes, sir, I remember Charlotte Walker good.

Q I mean Fanny? A Fanny, Charlotte, told me this Fanny was her sister.

Q Well, how many children did Fanny have at that time? A I don't know.

Q How don't you know how many children? A No, sir, but I remember seeing, having a little girl there with her and this lady says she is the one that was there.

Q And that is all you know about it? A Yes, sir.

Q She had one little girl with her? A Yes, sir; all I seen, she may have had more, I never paid any attention to the children.

CYNTHIA HEARD, the applicant, recalled:

Q Did you have a sister named Charlotte? A No, sir.

Q Did you have an Aunt named Charlotte? A Yes, sir, I had an Aunt named Charlotte.

LUSTER FOREMAN, recalled: BY MR. J. B. DAVENPORT, Cherokee Representative:

Q Now, Luster, are you sure you saw a woman called Fanny Walker who had been a slave of Tim Walker any time after the war?

A Yes, I am sure that this Charlotte told me she was her sister.

Q You don't know whether you ever saw the woman, Fanny Walker, whom this woman claims to be her mother, there or not?

A That is the way she told me, give me the introducing and told me she was her sister.

Q Did you ever see or hear of any other Fanny Walker in that country? A No, sir.

Q And the Fanny Walker you saw there is the Fanny Walker whom claimed to be the slave of Fanny and Tim Walker? A That is what she said.

Q That is east of the Town of Pryor Creek isn't it? A Yes, sir, right across the river.

Q Are you acquainted with the applicant here? A Yes, sir, I have been.

Q How long have you known her? A I have known her about 28 years somewhere near that, along there somewhere.

Q What was her name at the time you know her? A Cynthia; she sometimes went by the name of Cynthia Walker and sometimes by the name of Cynthia Campbell.

Q Did you ever know a woman named Penny Walker?

A No, sir, I didn't know her.

Q You never know the Penny Walker that this woman claims as her mother? A No, sir, I never know her, I know her father.

Q Penny Walker's father? A No, sir, I know this woman's father, Ed Campbell.

Q Is he living now? A Yes, sir, I guess he is; I haven't saw him since the census taking down to Elk Gibean is the last time I saw him.

Q You mean here lately? A No, sir, before, when the census taking was here; I was there and saw him and talked with him.

Q Is that the Ed Campbell that lives near about Tahlequah? A About Park Hill.

Q You don't know anything then about this woman's mother?

A No, sir.

Q And you don't know anything about this woman further than 28 years ago? A No, sir, the first I got acquainted with her has been about since that time.

Q Have you known her pretty well since then? A Yes, sir, I have known her about ever since then.

Q Has she always lived as far as you know, ever since you met her here in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, she lived here, but she went out with me and a lot of them to Chatopa to work; that is, I went out there.

Q She went out at the same time? A Yes, sir, there was a lot of us youngsters went out to work.

Q Do you know when she came back?

A No, sir.

Q When did you go up there? A We went out after laid by corn and come back early in the winter.

Q Was she still there? A No, sir, I didn't see her there after I came here; she wasn't working at the same place I was.

Q Did you see her all the time you were up there? A No, sir, not all the time.

Q Up to about how long? A I don't know, sir, I must saw her a month or two, her and her sister was working all the time.

Q Her sister? A My sister.

Q Did you know of her working out any time after that?

Q I wasn't to where she worked at but then I understand she worked out; I didn't see her working out.

Q You have no knowledge of your own? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever hear of her going out a to leave and make her home?

A No, sir; the next time I saw her then was on Big Creek.

Q You never heard of her having moved out of the Nation and making her home on the outside? A No, sir, not that I remember of.

Q Have you any knowledge of her working out of the Nation except that one time that you speak of?

A I heard that she did but I never heard of her.

Q Don't know that yourself? A No, sir, we used to go out every fall a month or two but I never heard of her.

Q That was just to do some work? A Yes, sir.

Q You would work and come back? A Yes, sir. Come back late in the fall or early in the winter.

Q Well, do you know her now as Cynthia Hoard? A Yes, sir.

Q She is married? A Yes, sir.

Q And got a lot of children? A Yes, sir.

Q All called Hoard, these children? A Yes, sir.

Cynthia Heard, et al., Cont'd 4.

R. M. WALKER, being called as a witness on the part of the Cherokee Nation, sworn by Commissioner C. R. Brackinridge, testified as follows: BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Where do you live Mr. Walker? A Fort Gibson.

Q Where were you raised? A Well, we lived at Park Hill up to the beginning of the war; we went out during the war and came back and settled near Fort Gibson.

Q What was your father's name? A Tim Walker.

Q Your mother? A Betsey Walker.

Q At the breaking out of the war did your father own a slave by the name of Fanny Walker? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know where Fanny Walker went during the war?

A I understand she went to Kansas.

Q Have you ever seen Fanny Walker since the war?

A No, sir.

Q I wish you would state if your and your father tried to locate and find Fanny Walker in the Cherokee Nation after the war closed?

A Yes, sir; after we got back after the war, we found all of our other darkies we left with the exception of an old darky by the name of Coose that had died and a boy that had died that was taken south, and we have never seen Fanny; she has never returned to the Cherokee Nation.

Q When did you return Mr. Walker? A In February, 1866.

Q You and your father moved and located there at Fort Gibson?

A We sir, we lived the first year in Town and in the spring of '67 we moved in about two miles of town and have been living there ever since.

Q You have never seen Fanny in the Cherokee Nation after 1866?

A No, sir.

BY COM'R BRACKINRIDGE:

Q Did this woman Fanny have a sister named Charlotte?

A Yes, sir, we found her at Fort Gibson when we came there; she has two sons and one of them died in Texas and the other came back just after the war.

Q Have you been where this woman Charlotte was living?

A Yes, sir, she died about 12 or 15 years ago.

Q Well, when did you first see Charlotte after the war?

A After the war I came down with my father in 1865, I drove a team down from Fort Scott, and went and hunted them up.

Q Hunted Charlotte up? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you see her yourself? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you there by you? A Yes, sir, we went and hunted them up; she was a very favorite old darky.

Q Did you ask about Fanny? A Yes, sir.

Q She hadn't been there? A No, sir.

Q You got no news of her? A I think my father said a year or two after that; he used to freight from Fort Scott and I think he saw Fanny in Fort Scott.

Q But as to your own personal knowledge she has never been around Fort Gibson? A No, sir.

Q When you were looking there you didn't see Fanny; you could not hear of her? A No, sir, haven't seen her since the war.

Q Did you ever hear of Fanny having any children? A Well, Fanny had one girl when the war broke out.

Q Did you ever get the son of this girl? A No, sir; I saw this woman down to Gibson something like six months ago and was up to see my mother and claimed to be Fanny's daughter; Fanny had a daughter a month or six weeks old when the war broke out, by the name of Cynthia.

Cynthia Hoard, et al., Sent'd 5.

Q That was when the war broke out? A Yes, sir.

Q And this woman about three or four months ago put in an appearance and claimed to be that Cynthia? A Yes, sir, she was up to see my mother.

CYNTHIA HOARD, the applicant, recalled: BY COM'R BRIDGES:

Q Where is your first recollection? A My first recollection is in Fort Gibson.

Q When were you staying with? A I was staying with Uncle Mose Hardrick's sister.

Q Is Mose Hardrick living? A Yes, sir.

Q Why don't you bring him into your case? A He is out there, he knows that I was to his sister's house.

Q How long did Mose Hardrick's sister have charge of you? A Well I stayed down there with her I guess; now, I want to tell you just as near as I can; I don't know whether I stayed with her two years or three years; I was down there to help her, her husband got shot and I don't know how long it was.

Q You stayed there a while and then who had charge of you; I want to find out who brought you up? A I stayed there a while and I went from down there, went and stayed with my stepfather and mother.

Q Who are they? A Sophia Campbell and Ned.

Q And your father M. Campbell? A Yes, sir.

A I stayed with them a while and got tired and went and stayed with Uncle Mose Hardrick a while.

Q And then you went to stay with your uncle Mose Hardrick? A Yes sir.

Q Now, you call him Uncle? A Yes, sir, I call him uncle.

Q Why do you call him uncle; is he any kine? A No, sir, I just always called him uncle.

Q Was his wife any kin? A No, sir, he just knowed her when she was a slave and I used to visit his wife.

Q So Mose Hardrick and his wife just took care of you out of kindness? A No, sir.

Q Did your father ever come around you and look after you?

A Yes, sir, my father has come to me; I was down there about three years, go and stay with him six months.

Q Have you been with him off and on ever since the war closed?

A Yes, sir.

MOSE HARDRICK, being sworn and examined by Commissioner C. R. Brockbridge, testified as follows:

Q Your name is Mose Hardrick? A Yes, sir.

Q 71 years old? A Yes, sir.

Q Your post office? A Chelsea.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation?

A All my life until the war.

Q Were you a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war came on?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who was it you belonged to? A Louis Ross, an Indian.

Q Where did he live? A Down here in Galena, on Grand river, near the Arapaho.

Q The other side of Ross River creek? A Oh, yes, sir.

Q About ten miles? A I don't know, I ain't been in there.

Q Do you know this woman here, this applicant? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you first see her? A What do you mean since the war?

Q In her life? A When I first seen her she was in her mother's arms.

Q When was that? A That was before the war at Jim Walker's.

Q Did her mother belong to Jim Walker? A Yes, sir.

Gynthia Hoard, et al. Cont'd 5.

- Q Where did he live? A Lived down below, well right at Park Hill Q Was Tim Walker any kin to old lady Mrs. Betsey Walker that lives down there at Port Gibson? A No, sir, wasn't any kin, that was his wife.
Q That is the father then of this Captain Walker here?
A Yes, sir.
Q They were living up there about Park Hill before the war?
A Yes, sir.
Q Well, you saw this woman there before the war at Park Hill in her mother's house? A Yes, sir.
Q Well, when did you see her after that, A I seen her in '66 down at Port Gibson.
Q How did you happen to see her then? A I went down there to see my sister; I hadn't seen her after the war and I come down and laid my corn by and went to see her and she was there playing with the baby and I stayed there three or four days and I come on back and left her there.
Q When did you see her after that? A I just guess it was pretty near three years.
Q Where did you see her then? A Her and Tobe Martin and Mose
Riley and a lot of them was going up in the states to work.
Q How big was she then? A Oh, girl about that high (indicating)
I guess.
Q About 12 or 13 years old? A I don't know.
Q She was going up in the states to work? A She was going up with the people that was going to work.
Q Where did you see her after that? A I am not certain about the next time I saw her; I don't know whether it was at a gathering or where.
Q You first saw her at your sister's house in Port Gibson?
A Yes, sir.
Q Are you clear in your mind as to when that was? A It was in the summer of 1866.
Q Do you know the man she claims as her father? A Remond.
Q Campbell? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether this man ever claimed this woman as his child?
A No, sir.
Q Do you know whether this woman, Fanny Walker, ever lived with Remond Campbell? A No, sir, I don't.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q Now, you are not on the 1880 roll are you? A No.
Q What time did you get back to the Cherokees Nation?
A In the Spring of 1866.
Q You came back before the treaty was made? A No, I guess not.
Q Well did you or did you not come back before the treaty was made?
A That is a hard question for me to tell when the treaty was made.
Q Don't know when the treaty was made, don't know what year it was made? A No, sir, that is something out of my line of business.
Q Well, where did you make a crop in 1866? A I didn't make any crop.
Q Didn't you say that after you laid your crop by you went down there to see your sister? A Yes, sir, I made a garden spot.
Q Where did you make that garden spot? A On the Dr. Thompson place.
Q That is over on Grand River? A Yes, sir.
Q She was living on that Dr. Thompson place? A Tobe Martin and Mose Riley.
Q Where was Dr. Thompson living? A I don't know.
Q Did you ever make a crop in the spring of '66? A No, didn't have anything to make it with.
Q Did you ever see her down there when you got down to Port Gibson? A I said it a while, I saw this girl there in the yard with my sister.

Cynthia Heard, et al., Cont'd. 7.

- Q Did you see her mother there? A No, sir.
Q You are sure this is the girl? A I believe I am sure this is the child.
Q You saw her there and you saw her near? A Yes, sir.
Q And you don't know whether she has been living since that time? A No more than when I seen her she was here in the Nation and I have never seen her since.
Q You haven't seen her from that? A No, sir.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT--The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and six children. The applicant is not identified upon any roll. She claims to have been born in the Cherokee Nation and to have been the slave in the Cherokee Nation of a Cherokee citizen at the breaking out of the Civil war. If her testimony be correct she is the child of one Edmund Campbell, who is an Cherokee Freedman rejected card #60, but not the child of his lawful wife, and according to her testimony her mother threw her off and left her in the care of other people. There is evidence to indicate that she was in the case of a colored woman in Fort Gibson in 1866, and she is reasonably well identified as having lived consistently in the Cherokee Nation ever since. Of her alleged mother very little can be learned except that she was a slave in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the Civil War and the slave of a Cherokee citizen. She cannot be identified upon any roll, nor can the period or fact of her return to the Cherokee Nation be distinctly established. The applicant's change of name by reason of marriage is established in a satisfactory manner. The applicant will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card for the further consideration of her testimony and she is desired to have her father, now living at or near Tahlequah, to give evidence in her case. As for the six children there are not identified upon any roll. They are all said to be living at this time, and are minor and are unmarried, and they will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen upon a doubtful card with their mother to await the determination of their status. Their father is a state man and hence he claims that these children have inheritance through their mother. The applicant is desired to supply the Commission with certificates of the birth of these children and file with them with the Commission.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q State your name, age and place of residence? A My name is Mrs. D. N. Walker.

Q How old are you? A 76 years old.

Q What is your post-office address? A Fort Gibson.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have lived in it all my life; come from the Old Cherokee Nation in '37 I think.

Q Where were you living at the breaking out of the Civil War?

A I was living near Tahlequah at Park Hill.

Q You were the wife of Tim Walker? A Yes sir.

Q You were generally called Aunt Betsy Walker? A Yes sir.

Q Now at the breaking out of the war did you and your husband own slaves, one named Charlotte Walker and Fanny Walker? A Yes sir.

Q Did you leave the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes sir, we left in '62.

Q You went to Kansas, or what State? A We went to Missouri, we lived in Missouri.

Q Now when did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war, or during the war, if you returned at all? A We didn't return during the war; it was after, it was in '66 or '67, back in the year '67 if it wasn't '66; I don't exactly recollect.

Q Either in the fall of '66 or '67 then you came back? A Yes sir.

Q To what point in the Cherokee Nation did you come? A Fort Gibson.

Q Where have you lived since you returned? A We lived in Fort Gibson for over a year and then we made a farm out two and a half miles from here and moved out there.

Q You have lived in the neighborhood of Fort Gibson since your return? A Yes sir, never lived anywhere else.

Q Since your return have you known Charlotte, who was a slave of yours at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir, she was left on our place, when we left home.

Q When you came back where was Charlotte? A Right here at Fort Gibson.

Q After that time did she live near you and work for you? A Yes sir, she worked for us all the time after that, but she moved from Fort Gibson down in the bottom here.

Q Since your return in the latter part of '66 or early part of '67, have you ever seen Fanny? A No sir.

Q Did Fanny come back to Fort Gibson? A No sir, I never did hear of her coming back and I saw them all the time.

Q Did you or did you not live near where Charlotte was living after you returned in '66 or '67, and again that? A Yes sir, I reckon it was a quarter of a mile to where Charlotte lived.

Q Did Charlotte help you wash? A Yes sir.

Q During that time you lived in a quarter of a mile of them did Fanny live with Charlotte? A No sir.

Cynthia Hoard et al. Exh' 1 2

Q Did you ever hear from Fanny at all after the war? A Well they has got letters from her, she was up in Kansas.

MR. BROWN: Wait a minute now, I don't think that's hardly competent; they got letters, I don't know who she speaks of.

Witness: Why, her sister.

BY MR. BROWN: That's purdy hearsay.

BY MR. DAVENPORT: Well if she saw the letters it wouldn't be.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Did you ever see any of the letters Mrs. Walker? A No sir. And I heard from her in Missouri before I moved down here; one of my neighbor women saw her.

BY COM'R NEEDLES: That went do.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q You know that she was not living with Charlotte here in Fort Gibson in '66 or '67? A No sir, she was not.

BY MR. BLEDSOE:

Q Did you ever see a woman that claimed to be the daughter of Fanny? A Yes sir.

Q You know what name she goes by? A Cynthia Hoard; first time I saw her here was at the Freedmen enrollment four years ago, and then I saw her again this last enrollment.

Q You all owned a slave then by the name of Fanny? A Yes sir.

Q Did Fanny have a child when she left here, or do you recollect anything about that? A Yes sir.

Q What was that child, a boy or a girl? A It was a girl.

Q How old was the child the last time you recollect seeing her? A Last time I saw her she couldn't walk.

Q Did this woman Fanny Hoard resemble the child in any respect, as regards color I mean? A I couldn't tell, - a baby-

Q Was it very dark child or very light child? A It was dark.

Q She did have a little girl child then? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know anything about the name of that child? A Her name was Cynthia.

Q The child's name was Cynthia? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know whether Cynthia or Fanny her mother were in the Cherokee Nation in '66 or not? A No sir.

Q You don't know that of your own knowledge? A No sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Only that you know about it Mrs. Walker is that she was not living with her sister, Charlotte? A No sir, I never have seen her.

BY MR. BLEDSOE:

Q Fanny belonged to you all, she was a slave at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir.

Q She was never sold? A No sir.

JACK WALKER, being sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q State your name? A Jack Walker.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Walker? A I live at Fort Gibson.

Q How old are you? A I will soon be 54 years old.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Q What part of the Nation was you living at the breaking out of the war? A I was living up here near Tahlequah.

Q Did you go out during the war? A Yes sir.

Q When did you come back? A I come back in the latter part of '66.

Q When you came back to that point did you come? A Come to Fort Gibson.

Q Where have you been living since you returned in the latter part of '66 with reference to Fort Gibson? A I have been living right here and east of here 7 miles since we returned.

Q Since you returned how long did you live right out here near Fort Gibson? A I lived from '66 up to '78 out here with my father 2 miles from Fort Gibson.

Cynthia Hoard et al sup 13

Q Do you remember a slave that your father and mother owned before the war named Charlotte? A Yes sir.

Q You remember one named Fanny? A Yes sir.

Q You know whether or not either or both of these women went out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Fanny went out

Q Charlotte remained here? A Yes sir, she remained here all during the war.

Q When you returned in the fall of '66 to Fort Gibson where was Charlotte, if you know? A She was living right down in town here.

Q Where was Fanny? A I don't know.

Q Did you ever see Fanny after the close of the war in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir.

Q Did you ever hear of her being in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A No sir.

Q After the close of the war did Charlotte live near your father and mother? A Yes sir, not over a quarter of a mile.

Q Did she help your mother to work? A Yes sir.

Q Were you at Charlotte's house or back and forth from her house in '66 from '66 or '79? A Yes sir.

Q Did Fanny, her sister, live with her at that time? A Not that I ~~remember~~ ever heard of.

Q You were back and forth there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever see her there? A No sir.

Q Charlotte, had some children did she? A Yes sir.

Q And you have never since the close of the war seen Fanny in the Cherokee Nation, or ~~remember~~ heard of her being in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, I have heard of her being in Kansas, and Missouri.

BY MR. BLEDSOE:

Q Mr. Walker, you say that your folks owned a woman named Fanny? A Yes sir.

Q Did she have a child? A Yes sir.

Q What was that child, a male or a female? A It was a female.

Q How old was that child when you ~~next~~ last saw it here, about how old? A Well it was I think the child was born in '60 or '61, and we left here in '68.

Q Do you know what that child's name was? A No sir, I have ~~learned~~ since.

Q Of your own knowledge, you don't know? A No.

Q What was the color of that child, Mr. Walker, was it a dark child or mulatto child? A Why it was a sort of dark child I think as well as I remember.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge Mr. Walker whether that woman Fanny has been back in the Cherokee Nation, or this girl Cynthia since the war or not, you don't know anything of your own knowledge of her whereabouts? A Nothing only what I have heard.

Q Of your own knowledge you don't know where she has been since you left them here in '66? A No sir, not of my own knowledge.

BY MR. BROWN:

Q You don't mean to ~~swear~~ positively that Fanny was not at Charlotte's house in Fort Gibson ~~anywhere~~ in '66 do you? A If she ever was I don't know it, I never heard of it; I was at her house and Charlotte worked for my mother all the while right along and I never heard of her being there, I have heard of her through Charlotte during that time, heard of her whereabouts through Charlotte during that time.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q When you heard of her through Charlotte during that time did you hear of her as having lived with Charlotte or living some where else?

BY MR. BROWN: Question objected to.

MR. BLEDSOE: That's hearsay testimony.

BY JON'S NEEDLES: He wouldn't be allowed to state what anybody told him.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

RNO

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Cynthia Hoard et al., as Cherokee freedmen.

D E C I S I O N.

The record in this case shows that on June 10, 1901, Cynthia Hoard appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of herself and her minor children Robert, Zella, Armit, Clifton, Edmund and Tecumseh Hoard as Cherokee freedmen. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Chelsea, Indian Territory, on June 11, 1901, and at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, on September 26 and 27, 1901.

The evidence shows that Cynthia Hoard was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that during said rebellion she was taken to the State of Kansas, and that she did not return to the Cherokee Nation within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, etc., vs the Cherokee Nation et al., for the return of freedmen to said Nation.

The evidence further shows that the remaining applicants herein were born since 1866, and that they claim their right to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen through their said mother Cynthia Hoard. It further appears that the name of none of the applicants herein is found on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Cynthia Hoard, Robert Hoard, Zella Hoard, Armit Hoard, Clifton Hoard, Edmund Hoard and Tecumseh Hoard as Cherokee freedmen should be denied under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Interior:

In the matter of the application of the following named persons for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

Cynthia Hoard, et al.

MOTION FOR REVIEW OF DECISION.

Come now, by their attorneys, the above named persons who have been denied enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen solely because they or their ancestors were not physically in the Cherokee Nation on August 11, 1866, or within six months thereafter, regardless of attendant circumstances, and move the Honorable Secretary of the Interior to rescind said decision to readjudicate said cases and to enroll said persons as Cherokee Freedmen for the reason that the evidence shows that said persons or their ancestors were slaves of Cherokee citizens at the commencement of the War of the Rebellion, that during said war they were compelled by circumstances over which they had no control to go out of the Cherokee Nation, but returned within a reasonable time after promulgation of treaty of July 19, 1866, considering the attendant circumstances, as shown by the records of the Department of the Interior, the Department of War and the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

These records show that these persons were legally residents of the Cherokee Nation on August 11, 1866.

The records of the Commission show that it did not base its decisions in these cases upon proper grounds, but based them upon a supposed bar in Article 9 of the Cherokee Treaty of July 19, 1866, against the consideration of the reasons why a Cherokee Freedman was not in the Nation prior to February 11, 1867.

The records show that these persons were residents in good faith in the Cherokee Nation prior to June 28, 1898.

That applications were made for their enrollment prior to September 1, 1902.

Wherefore we respectfully request that this motion be allowed.

Attorneys for Applicants.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Cynthia Hoard and her children, Robert, Zella, Armit, Clinton, Edmond, Tecumseh, Russel and Justine Hoard as Cherokee Freedmen.

MOTION FOR REHEARING.

Comes now the applicant, Cynthia Hoard, and moves that the Honorable Secretary of the Interior grant her a new trial in this case and give her an opportunity to prove that she returned to the Cherokee Nation and established her residence therein prior to February 11, 1867.

She attached as a basis for this Motion affidavits of two of her witnesses and she has a great number of other witnesses by whom she can prove the same statement of facts, but owing to the fact that the time allowed by the Curtis Bill for filing Motions for re-opening cases of this kind expires on this date, she does not have the time to get a Notary Public to go to the Homes of these people and take their affidavits and asks leave to file additional affidavits within the next thirty days.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of CYNTHIA HOARD, ET AL., as freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Reply of the Cherokee Nation.

Comes now the representative of the Cherokee Nation and moves the Department to dismiss the motion for a rehearing filed herein, because the same has not been sworn to by A notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, and attached hereto is the testimony taken in the case of Mary Sanders, F. R. 38, which shows that J. C. Starr attempted to swear to this motion for a rehearing in Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, before Jessie Patten, a Notary Public within and for the Western District of the Indian Territory, and not a Notary Public within and for the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Not waiving the above motion, but relying and insisting upon the same, it is respectfully suggested that the motion for a rehearing should be denied upon other grounds. The record in this case shows that the principal applicant appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, on June 10, 1901, and made application to be enrolled as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation. She was born about the beginning of the war, her mother's name was Fannie, who belonged to Tim Walker and his wife, and claims that her mother returned to Fort Gibson within the time prescribed by the treaty. She introduced Luster Foreman in her behalf, who wandered in and around quite considerable and would not be positive as to where he saw Fannie Walker, the mother of Cynthia, but ^{thought} that he was introduced by Charlotte, a woman by that name, immediately after the War, at Fort Gibson. The next witness was Mose Riley, and he swears that he never knew Fannie Walker, the mother of Cynthia. Now it will be remembered from the testimony that it is claimed on behalf of applicant that she and her mother returned to Fort Gibson immediately after the war and lived with Fannie's sister, Charlotte, who also belonged to Tim Walker and his wife. The Cherokee Nation introduced R. M. Walker, the young master, Mrs. Tim Walker, her former owner, Emma Drake, her young mistress, and Jack Walker, her young master, also Tom Walker, a slave of the family. They lived at Fort Gibson in 1866 and 1867 and continuously within two miles of the town ever since, except Emma Drake, who now lives at Chelsea, and every single one of them swears positively that Fannie and Cynthia did not come back there. It will be remembered that Fort Gibson was a town of five or six hundred people, it having less than a thousand now, and they all testified that they saw Charlotte, but their old slave Fannie was not there. Relying on our own experience to such a case, we know that no old slave that has lived in such a small town any more than a member of our family could live in a small town without our knowing it. R. M. Walker when asked the question:

"Q. Have you seen Fannie Walker since the War? A No sir.

"Q. I wish you would state if you and your father tried to locate and find Fannie Walker in the Cherokee Nation after the war closed? A Yes, sir, after we got back after the war and found all of our other darkies we left with the exception of a old darkey by the name of Coose and a boy that had died that was taken south, and we have never seen Fannie. She has never returned to the Cherokee Nation.

"Q. When did you return, Mr. Walker? A In February of 1866.

"Q. You and your father moved and located there at Fort Gibson? A Yes sir, we lived the first year in town and in the spring of 1867 we moved in about two miles of town and have been living there ever since."

Later on he says that Fannie had a sister by the name of Charlotte; that Charlotte was living there, and the testimony also shows that Charlotte did washing for the family. The other members of the Walker family corroborate R. M. Walker. Upon the other hand, lets review again the testimony introduced in her behalf. Luster Foreman is a very unsatisfactory witness, as above observed. Moses Wiley, the next witness, did not see her mother, nor did he get acquainted with Cynthia for a number of years after the war. The last witness, Moses Hardwick, claims to have seen her in Fort Gibson in 1866, but he in answer to this question, "How did you happen to see her then?" said "I went down there to see my sister, I hadn't seen her after the war, and I come down and laid my corn by and went to see her, and she was there playing with the baby, and I stayed three or four days, and I come on back and left her there."

Now, by reference to the case of Moss Hardwick recently remanded upon a motion for a rehearing, being F. D. 314, he introduced a great number of witnesses attempting to show that he came in the fall of 1866, about Christmas, and some put him a little later in the fall--in the early winter of 1867. Moss in his testimony here says that he had laid his crop by and if that be true, he had been here one summer before he saw Fannie, and under no circumstances could he have seen Fannie until the fall of 1867, and certainly could not have seen her at Fort Gibson, because her former owners lived in the town as shown in the testimony hereinabove.

Upon this testimony the commission unanimously rejected the applicants on the 11th day of March, 1904, and this decision was affirmed by the secretary on January 14, 1905. It is sought now to reopen this case and while there is no reason whatever given in the motion to reopen, the attorneys for applicants generously promise that they will hunt around over the country within the next thirty days and see if they can get some people to sign some affidavits to send in. Now it will be seen from the record that these people applied more than five years ago to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes to be enrolled. No reason is shown in the motion to the Department why witnesses could not have been gotten. The postoffice of Cynthia Hoard is Chelms, which is not far distant, only a few miles, from where Ben Grinnett and Sam Webber live, whose affidavits are attached to the motion, at least in the same vicinity. But let's examine the affidavits of Ben Grinnett and Sam Webber attached. What information do they give the attorney for the Cherokee Nation? He only states that he saw this woman in the fall of the year of 1866. He does not state where; he does not state at whose house; he does not state in what part of the Cherokee Nation; in other words, it gives the Cherokee Nation no information whatever. But the record in a number of citizenship cases will disclose that this same Ben Grinnett has testified in a great many cases and upon cross-examination it is shown in practically all of them that he admits that he had been whipped for larceny after being convicted by the Cherokee authorities. Certainly it would seem that that was entirely sufficient to discredit him, but the records show that he had testified in a great number of cases, and all of them were denied by the Commission and they are either pending approval by the Department or have already been approved and among those which have been approved and in which this Ben Grinnett testified positively that the applicant returned within the time prescribed by the treaty and established a residence were F. D. 493, Mariah Johnson, et al., F. D. 764, Mary Hudson, F. D. 791, F. D. 802 Mariah Reynolds, F. D. 1014, Judy Chambers, F. R. 137 Nellie Love, et al. Certainly in the face of the record submitted in this case the department would not submit the Cherokee Nation to the expense of reopening this case upon the testimony of a man confessedly convicted of larceny and with every case in which he had previously testified being denied by the commission and most of them affirmed by the Department.

The next affidavit attached to the motion is signed by Sam Webber, and I would like for the department to compare this affidavit with that of Ben Grinnett. We are certainly justified in saying it is stereotyped; examine it, and the two are identical; they are verbatim, except the change of name of witness and age; the blanks were evidently made out elsewhere and sent to these parties to sign and acknowledge. Will the Department stand for this kind of practice? But lets examine the record of Sam Webber and it will be seen that he has testified in perhaps more cases before the Commission than any other standing witness, and our records show that in the cases he has testified the following have been denied by the commission and affirmed by the department, and a number of others have been denied by the Commission and are pending approval by the Department, and the testimony in each of them will show that Webber testified that the applicant or the person through whom the applicant claimed returned and established a residence in the Cherokee Nation in 1866. In hurriedly glancing over the cases at hand we find the following which were denied by the commission and denied by the Department: F. D. 435, 437, 466, 555, 562, 607, 609, 620, 625, 627, 443, 602, 799, 802, 824, 852, 853, 871, 872, 892, 955, 959, 1015, 425, 1028, 1093, 1099; in all 28 cases wherein he testified for applicants upon the principal points involved; all denied by the commission to the five civilized tribes and the Department, and in addition a number of other cases denied by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes and pending approval of the Department. Certainly the Department would not be justified in reopening and remanding the case upon the stereotyped affidavit signed by a witness so thoroughly discredited. We submit therefore that this motion in the first place should be dismissed for the reasons hereinabove set forth, in the second place we submit that it should be denied:

First, because no diligence whatever has been shown.

Second, the testimony desired to be introduced would be cumulative.

Third, there is no merit in the motion or in the case.

In Cherokee Allotment contest case of Bullette versus Welch, no. 712, the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes held:

"The rule is general that a new trial or a rehearing will not be granted on a mere showing that new evidence has been discovered. Newly discovered evidence, in order to be sufficient, must possess the following requisites:

- (a) It must be such as will probably change the result if a new trial is granted.
- (b) It must be discovered since the trial.
- (c) It must be such as could not have been discovered before the trial by the exercise of due diligence.
- (d) It must be material to the issues.
- (e) It must not be merely cumulative to the former evidence.
- (f) It must not be merely impeaching or contradicting the former evidence."

In this case is cited the case of Moore versus Jarney, Creek no. 49, wherein the Commissioner held:

"A motion for a rehearing based on newly discovered evidence it should be shown that such evidence could not be discovered by due diligence, and the facts showing such diligence should appear." Citing the following cases: 6 L. D. 9; 7 L. D. 136; 10 L. D. 483; 18 L. D. 31; 19 L. D. 543.

This decision is in line with all of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State of Arkansas, as to what should be embodied in a motion for a new trial, the leading case being that of Burris versus Wise, 2 Ark. 33, wherein the court held:

"The only remaining point to be determined is did the Circuit Court err in refusing a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence on the trial. The doctrine upon this subject is well settled both upon reason and authority and we will now fully state it. In order to entitle a party to a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence since the former trial the affidavit in the case must show prove:

1. The names of the witnesses whose testimony had been discovered and the facts expected to be established by them.
2. That the facts and circumstances as proved must show that the applicant has used due diligence in preparing his case for trial.

ATTORNEYS FOR APPLICANTS.

AFFIDAVIT.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, }
INDIAN TERRITORY } SS.
NORTHERN DISTRICT }

This day personally appeared before me, the undersigned, a Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, GEORGE WEST VANN, of lawful age, who being first duly sworn, on oath deposes and says:-

"My name is George West Vann. My age is 52 years and my Post Office is Hayden, Indian Territory. I was acquainted with Cynthia Hoard at the close of the Civil War and I know that she came to the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory in the fall of the year of 1866 and established her residence therein before February 11, 1867."

GEORGE WEST VANN.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6 day of July, A. D. 1906.

Wm. Madden, Jr.

NOTARY PUBLIC.

(SEAL)

My commission expires March 4, 1909.

3. That the facts and circumstances newly discovered have come to his knowledge since the determination of the trial and they must be such as if adduced on the trial were competent to prove the issue and would probably have changed the verdict, and,
4. That the evidence discovered is not cumulative of that previously relied on and that it will tend to prove material facts which were not put directly in issue on the former trial."

Supporting this decision we cite 2 Ark. 45, 2 Ark. 346, and in this case the court held:

"The doctrine in regard to granting new trials upon the ground of newly discovered testimony is fully explained and established in the case of Robbins versus Yuller, 2 Ark. 133. Indeed the authorities are so numerous and full upon the point, and the reasons and principles upon which they rest are so obvious and conclusive that it seems almost impossible to overlook the essential requisites that the law requires to entitle a party to a new trial. He must have been guilty of no neglect or laches in preparing his case for trial. It must have been out of his power to procure the newly discovered evidence upon the former trial by due diligence and exertion to obtain it; and he must show to the Court that the newly discovered evidence is material and important by the affidavit of the witness or some other legal means, so that the Court may judge of its materiality and sufficiency; and it must not be cumulative in its character and consequences. It is the duty of the parties to come prepared upon the principle points and new trials would be endless if every additional circumstance appearing upon the facts in litigation were the cause for a new trial."

This decision is supported by numerous other decisions, including 5 Ark. 256; 5 Ark. 405; 10 Ark. 556; 11 Ark. 671; 13 Ark. 360; 17 Ark. 403; 25 Ark. 89; 25 Ark. 334; 25 Ark. 380; 28 Ark. 121; 30 Ark. 724; 38 Ark. 314; 52 Ark. 120; 55 Ark. 312; 60 Ark. 481; 84 Southwestern 738.

For the reasons hereinabove assigned we submit that the motion is without merit and should be denied.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

XXXX

In view of the fact that the Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation took occasion to raise technical objections to our original Motion for a rehearing in the above entitled case on the question of one of the Attorneys for applicants signing as a witness to the mark where the party making the affidavit signs by mark and because the affidavit in support of said Motion was acknowledged in the Northern District of the Indian Territory before Miss Jennie Patton, a Notary Public for the Western District of the Indian Territory, we have subsequently filed an Amended Motion for rehearing in this case and have caused our affidavits to be re-written and sworn to by the Principal applicant.

While we had no objections to meeting the technical objections of the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation touching the validity of affidavits made before a Notary Public of the Western District of the Indian Territory and acting in the Northern District of the Indian Territory, yet, in order that we be not understood as conceding that said affidavits were void because the Notary Public who took them was without the District of her appointment, we respectfully submit that our contention is and always has been that the original affidavit in support of said Motion &c a new trial which was sworn to before Jennie Patton in Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory while being a Notary Public for the Western District, were, under the laws in force in the Indian Territory, valid. In support of our contention we respectfully submit that, even under the laws in force in the Indian Territory, the power and authority of a Notary Public to administer oaths is co-extensive with the State, that is, with the Indian Territory. In this case there is no question, nor is it controverted that Miss Jennie

-2-

Patten was a duly appointed Notary Public, having been appointed by the United States Court in the Western District of the Indian Territory and that she was at that time and always has been a resident of the Western District of the Indian Territory, the District of her appointment, since said appointment; that the affidavits in question in this case were taken by her without the Western District we admit. These points being conceded, the only question before us is as to whether or no said affidavits were void. The Office of Notaries Public is of great antiquity, deriving its origin from the early Roman Jurisprudence, and has for many centuries been recognized by most, if not all, of the Christian Nations. This Office is known to International Law, to the Common Law, being concerned more especially with the Law-Merchant branch, and to the Civil Law. A Notary Public is generally defined as "an officer whose functions it is to attest and certify, by his hand and official seal, various instruments in order to give them authenticity in other jurisdictions, and is usually an officer appointed by the executive or other appointing power under the laws of the State", Newy. Law Dictionary, Title: "Notary", page 514. In England this Office existed before the Conquest (1066) and under the Common Law was always recognized as a public office, and being such every presumption is indulged in by the Common Law in the absence of Statutes, of a broad jurisdiction. In most of the States Notaries Public are appointed by the Governor alone; in others by the Governor, by and with the advice of his Council; in others by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. In most all of the States of the United States the office of Notaries Public is recognized as a public office. See Bethune v. Warwick, 188 Fed. Rep. 45; Writton v. Nicolls, 104 U. S. 797. In Alabama this office is recognized as a public office. See Governor v. Jordan, 15 Ala., page 78; See Smith v. Reader, 74 Ga. 414; Toussaint Loan v. Co. v. Turrell, 19 Ind. Appeal, Ind. App. 400; Spegal v. Krag-Myndels Co., 21 Ind. Appeal, 308. This Office is also recognized as a public office in Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Nevada, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and many other States. See American and English Encyclopedia of Law, Second Edition, Vol. XI, page 586.

In the United States reference must be had to the Constitution and Statutory Provisions of the various States to determine by whom and in what manner the appointment of a Notary Public is made. By reference to Section 4764 of Mansfield's Digest of the Laws of Arkansas, Chapter 52, we find the following Provisions: "The Governor may appoint a convenient number of Notaries Public for each County, who shall be citizens of the County for which they are appointed and who shall file in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for the County a Bond to the State, for the faithful discharge of their duties, in the sum of $1000.00 with security to be approved by the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County, and who shall hold office for the term of four years". Section 4765 of Mans. Dig. of this same chapter provides that "Each Notary Public shall have power to administer oaths in all matters incident and belonging to the exercise of his Notarial Office". His power is further extended by Section 4766 of this same chapter wherein he is empowered in the language of the Statute "to take the proof or acknowledgment of all instruments of writing relating to commerce and navigation, receive and authenticate acknowledgments of deeds, letters of attorney, and other instruments of writing, make declarations and protests, and certify under his official seal the truth of all matters and things done by virtue of his office".

Other than the foregoing there is nothing in the statutes of Arkansas which tends to broaden or limit the powers of Notaries Public nor is there any provision in said Statutes which limits their authority to administer oaths to the county of their appointment. It will be noticed by reference to the above noted sections of the Statutes that the power of appointment of Notaries Public rests with the Governor of the State. Under the Act of Congress, entitled "An Act to provide a temporary Government for the Territory of Oklahoma and to enlarge the jurisdiction of the United States Courts in the Indian Territory, and for other purposes", approved May 2, 1906 (U. S. Stat. at Large, Vol. 34, Chap. 182, page 21), Section 21 of said Act provides that certain general laws of the State of Arkansas in force at the close of the ~~gax~~ General Assembly of that State in 1883 as published in 1884 in Mansfield's Digest of the Statutes of Arkansas shall be put in force in the Indian Territory. Among these Sections enumerated in the Chapter relating to Notaries Public and it is further provided in said Act that "Said Court in the Indian Territory shall appoint Notaries Public under this chapter". By reference to the Act of March 1, 1889, entitled "An Act establishing a United States Court in the Indian Territory", U. S. Stat. at Large, Vol. 25, Chapter 333, page 763. And by reference to all of the Acts of Congress relative to the United States Court in the Indian Territory, it will be seen that in contemplation of law there is none but one United States Court in the Indian Territory, and that the Acts passed subsequent to the Act of 1889 which established the original Court in the Indian Territory have only operated to enlarge the jurisdiction of that Court and to provide for additional Judges. By reference to the aforesaid Act of 1890 it will be seen that the United States Court in the Indian Territory exercises the same power in the appointments of Notaries Public as does the Governor of Arkansas.

The question then before us is as to whether or not a Notary Public appointed by the Governor of Arkansas or by the United States Court in the Indian Territory has authority to administer oaths only within the County or District for which he is appointed or whether his jurisdiction is co-extensive with the State. We have been unable to find any Decisions of the Supreme Court of Arkansas touching upon the questions in issue directly and are left largely to the comparison of similar Statutes in other States and the construction of their Courts upon them. In our statutes defining the power of Notaries Public to administer oaths and take depositions it will be seen that there is no limitation placed upon them confining them to act within their County, but simply the broad Provision, to-wit:- "Each Notary Public shall have power to administer oaths in all matters incident to or belonging to the exercise of his notarial office".

In a great number of States under a similar Provision and in many identically the same, it is held that the jurisdiction of a Notary Public to administer oaths is co-extensive with the State.

See: Guertin v. Moublean, 144 Ill. 32; Sullivan v. Hall, 86 Mich. 7; Davey v. Ruffall, 162, Pa., Br. 443, affirming 14 pa. Co. Ct. 273; Maxwell v. Hartman, 50 Wis. 600. See also Gen. Stat. Conn. (1888), §288; Horners Annot. Stat. Ind. (1896), § 5962; Pub. Gen. Laws Md. (1888), art. 68, §3; Stat. Minn. (1894) §2271; Rev. Codes N. Dak. (1895) §462; Hills Annot. Laws Oregon (1892), §2217; Civ. Stat. S. Car. (1893) §578; Stat. Vt. (1894), § 2963; Ball. Annot. Codes & Stat. Wash. (1897) §§246-248.

An examination of the reports of the States which held that a Notary's jurisdiction to administer oaths is confined to the County of their appointment will show that either one of two conditions existed, that is, that the Statutes of that State expressly limited their jurisdiction to the County of their appointment or that such States are those which were originally a part of the Louisiana Purchase and in which the Common Law of England is not presumed to exist in the absence of the Statutory Provisions expressly accepting it. In the case of Baryhet v. Alexander, 59 Mo. Appeal, 188 and also in the case of Silver v. Kansas City Railroad Co., 21 Mo. Appeal 5, in a somewhat similar statute defining the authority of a Notary Public to administer oaths, it was held that their jurisdiction was confined to the County of their appointment, but this was so held for the reason that Missouri was originally a part of the Louisiana Purchase and that the Common Law presumption that the Notary's jurisdiction is co-extensive with the state, in the absence of the statute limiting it to the County was not to be indulged in in that State. This same Decision was taken in Iowa for the same reason. In Illinois, under a statute similar to the one in force in Arkansas and which has been adopted in the Indian Territory, it is held that a Notary Public's jurisdiction to administer oaths is co-extensive with the State and that although a Notary Public must be appointed and have his residence in a particular County, yet he is competent to administer oaths and take affidavits and depositions any where in the State. It will be remembered that the State of Illinois was originally a part of the Louisiana Purchase as was also the State of Arkansas, but in Illinois by express Statutory Provisions the Common Law of England is to be in force on all questions in the absence of Statutes to the contrary. In this connection we would call attention to Chapter 20 of Mansfield's Digest Sections 566 and 567 in which it is provided "that the Common Law of England so far as the same is applicable and of a general nature, and all Statutes of the British Parliament in aid of or to supply the defects of the Common Law made prior to the Fourth Year of James the First (that are applicable to our own form of Government) of a general nature and not local to that Kingdom, and not inconsistent with the Constitution and the Laws of the United States or the Constitution and laws of this state shall be the rule of Decision in this State unless altered or repealed by the General Assembly of this State". This Section of the Laws of Arkansas was put in force in the Indian Territory by the Act of May 2, 1890 above mentioned referred to.

So far then as the power and authority of a Notary Public of administering oaths and taking depositions in the Indian Territory is defined by law there seems to be no question but that the status of it succinctly stated is this:- 'they have been given power to administer oaths in all matters incident to or belonging to the exercise of their notarial office without any restrictions being placed upon them confining their acts in this regard to the county of their appointment; that they derive their authority and jurisdiction from the Governor of the State, and in the Indian Territory from the United States Court, unrestricted as to jurisdiction; that the Common Law construction of the statute so broad in language is to be adopted in construing the Notary's jurisdiction in this State because although Arkansas, being originally a part of the Louisiana Purchase, has put in force in her State the Common Law of England in the absence of statutes upon a subject, as above cited, and this same section of Mansfield's Digest, Section 566, was adopted and put in force in the Indian Territory by the Act of May 2, 1890 (U. S. Stat. at Large, Vol. 26, page 181 of Chapter 182). It seems well settled by the weight of authority that in the other states whose decisions have been cited in which the Common Law construction of a Notary Public's jurisdiction is in force and whose statutes relative to the Notary's power to administer oaths are similar to those of Arkansas, that in every instance their jurisdiction is construed to be co-extensive with the State.

It is true that under the statutes in force in Arkansas, as it is in every State in the Union we might safely say, that a Notary Public must be a resident of the County of his appointment; that such residence is one of the necessary qualifications, but we also think that while he must be a resident of the County of his appointment, yet such requirement does not limit his jurisdiction to administer oaths in other Counties unless such jurisdiction is expressly limited to the County of his appointment by Statutory Provision. In Illinois it has been held that an affidavit taken by a Notary Public to be used in his own County need not even bear the official seal. See Schoefer v. Kiessel, 123 Ill., 430; Hyer v. Flint, 21 Ill., 30; Stout v. Klatery, 12 Ill., 163; but the same Court in construing the last named case went still farther and said that if an affidavit was to be used outside that County, his Official character must be shown either by his seal or in some other way. It was held in the case of Sullivan v. Hall, 86 Mich., 7, and in the same case of Perkins v. Collins, 3 N.J. Eq., 482, wherein the venue was State of N. J., 28., that where the official officer's authority to administer oaths is co-extensive with the state, it is not necessary for the affidavit to show at what place in the state it was taken.

In the broad language in force in this jurisdiction which creates the office of Notaries Public it seems to be plain that since he is appointed and receives his authority from the Governor of the State, or in the Indian Territory, from the United States Court, that under the accepted definitions, a Notary Public in the Indian Territory is a State Officer. In a popular sense a State Officer may be defined as one whose jurisdiction is co-extensive with the State: See State v. Hasker, 39 Fla. 477; State v. Dillon, 90 Mo., 229; State v. Higgins, 144 Mo., 419 in a more enlarged sense a State Officer is one who receives his authority under the laws of the State and performs some of the governmental functions of the State; see State v.

Bus, 135 Mo. 325; see also Garner v. St. Louis, 37 Mo., 554; People v. Court, Gen. Sess., 13 Hun., N. Y., 395; that a Notary Public is a State Officer see Kirksey v. Bates, 7 Port. (Ala.), 529; Matter of Notaries Public, see 8 Hawaii, 561.

Perhaps the clearest opinion in line with the question in issue in this Brief is the case of Michael Sullivan v. Edmund Hall, 13 LRA., 556. In this case was discussed by the Court, practically the same question under consideration. Under the laws in force in Michigan the appointment, qualifications, and the jurisdiction of a Notary Public was almost identically the same as those in force as above set forth in the State of Arkansas and which have been adopted by the Act of 1890 and put in force in the Indian Territory. Section 632, How. Stat. of Mich. provides that the certificate of the Notary Public from under his hand and seal shall be presumptive evidence of the facts contained in it, as right to that office comes from an appointment by the Governor of the State, and his compliance with the requirements of the Statutes in filing oath, bond, etc., (Act. No. 117, Public Acts, 1887). In this case an objection was raised to the validity of an affidavit because the Notary did not state in the Jurat the County in which he acts as such officer. The Court in passing upon this question says:- "A Notary Public is in no sense a County Officer. The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate may appoint one or more persons as Notary Public in each County, who shall hold their office, etc." Act. No. 117, Public Acts, 1887. While it is very proper that a Notary Public should sign himself as a Notary Public in and for the County from which he is appointed, yet his certificate would not be defective if the designation of the County is omitted. He may act in any part of the State and his official acts are not confined to the County where he resides. It is further shown that in the amendatory Act of 1889 (Act. 74, Public Acts, 1889) no person is eligible to the office of Notary Public unless the person is a resident of the County of which he or she desires to be appointed, but their official acts are not necessarily confined to that County. The Office would undoubtedly become vacant by the removal from that County but it does not follow that for this reason that the party is a County Officer. The appointment has always been regarded as a State matter rather than that of County. It is a State appointment and the omission of the venue would not be a fatal defect in the jurat. It cannot matter to the public to be affected by such certificate, from what particular County the Notary Public was appointed. In legal phraseology "VENUE" means the County where a case is to be tried and, originally, a venue was employed to indicate the County from which the jury was to come.

The necessity of stating a venue at all is reluctantly fixed by the authorities. See Bean v. Ayers, 67 Me. 457; Bridges v. Nantucket Bank, 8 Mass. 95.

In view of the status of the law in this jurisdiction which has given to Notaries Public, the power of swearing witnesses and taking depositions by a provision, general in its terms confining their acts to no particular County or District for which they are appointed; and in view of the fact that there is no statute which confines their acts in this regard to the County of their appointment, as there is almost invariable in the States which held that they can exercise this power only in the County for which they are appointed; and in view of the almost unanimous weight of authority, that a Notary Public is a State and a Public Officer, and at Common Law every presumption is indulged in in favor of the jurisdiction of a Public Officer with the Common Law in force in this jurisdiction as it is, giving to a Notary Public a jurisdiction co-extensive with the State unless limited by law to the County of his appointment, and in view of the decisions of the States heretofore cited in which the same provisions regarding the jurisdiction of Notaries Public are in force as in this jurisdiction, which with the aid of the Common Law presumption of a broad jurisdiction have invariably held that the jurisdiction of a Notary Public to swear witnesses is co-extensive with the State, we believe that we are correct in our contention that, while a Notary Public must be a resident of the County for which he is appointed, that nevertheless so long as he is a lawful officer of that County, this does not limit his jurisdiction to swear witnesses and take depositions in any County or District of the State of which he is an officer.

On the other hand, suppose that we were to admit for the sake of argument, that in this jurisdiction the power of a Notary Public to swear witnesses is confined to the District of their appointment, we respectfully submit that even though that were the law, nevertheless so long as the Notary Public was a bona fide officer of the District of his appointment and in possession of his muniments of office, his action of swearing a witness in another District would be the act of a De facto Officer, and valid as regards all persons and the Public, and the State would be the only party who could call them into question. In the case of Stokes v. Acklen, in the Chancery Court of Appeals of Tennessee, 46 S.W. Rep. 316, it was held that under the laws of the State that a female could not be a Notary Public, yet in this case in which a female had gotten into office and acknowledged a deed as a Notary Public it was held that she was a De facto Officer and that her acts were valid against all persons and the Public. The Court in its opinion said, "A Notary Public was an officer known to the Common Law, and, in the absence of legislation prescribing his duties and the manner of their performance, the Common Law could be looked to for the purpose of ascertaining them. Kirksey v. Bates 7 Port. (Ala.) 329, See, also Smith v. Meador, 74 Ga. 416. The office of Notary Public being a public office in its nature, and pertaining to Government, and the same sole in this case having been duly elected thereto by competent authority under the law, and commissioned to discharge its duties, and being openly in possession, with the accessories of the office, and in the performance of its functions, were her acts done in office void, because she was ineligible, under the law to hold the office. We hold that they were not. She was an officer de facto. The eligibility of the incumbent of an office, established by law, openly in possession of it color official, and discharging its functions, does not render her acts void as to the third persons and the public dealing with the office and accepting her acts as the acts of a rightful incumbent of the office. We need not attempt to give a comprehensive definition of what it takes to constitute an officer de facto, in the sense of the law. The books and cases are full of definitions. It is settled by a current of authority almost unbroken for over 500 years in England and this country, that ineligibility to hold an office does not prevent the ineligible incumbent, if in possession under color of right and authority, from being an officer de facto with respect to his official acts, in so far as third persons are concerned. See the leading case of State v. Carrell, 38 Conn., 449,; Smith v. Bondurant 58 Am. Rep. 438; 5 Am. and Eng. Enc. of law, pp. 96-109 and numerous cases there cited; Shalby v. Alcorn, 72 Am. St. Rep. 828, note, and cases cited; and by reference to this case will be found a great number of cases there cited on this same point.

In the case of Blackburn v. State, 3 Head. Tenn. 690, as was said in the case of Mayor of Nashville v. Thompson 12 Lea. Tenn. 344, that a person inducted into office according to the forms of law is an officer de facto, although incompetent by the provisions of the Constitution to hold the office, and his incompetency cannot be inquired into by the parties affected by his acts. "The ineligibility of the female Notary Public taking the acknowledgments in this case, caused by the absence of legislation conferring the power upon women to hold the office did not divest her act of the force and incidents attaching to the act of a de facto officer, the office being one in existence by virtue of law, and she having been given the apparent sanction of competent authority to discharge its duty."

Upon this we respectfully submit, that even though a Notary had no authority to act without the limits of his district, yet in this case, the Notary Public, being a duly commissioned officer under the laws in force in the Indian Territory, in the possession of the office, that at least her acts were those of a de facto officer, and the affidavits, being made by the affiants before her a Notary Public the same were valid as regards the persons who made them.

However, we believe that our first contention, that a Notary Public, under the laws of the Indian Territory as adapted from Arkansas, has jurisdiction to swear witnesses anywhere in the State, is correct.

That this view is correct, in the absence of the question having arisen in Arkansas, and their interpretation of the law relative to the question of the jurisdiction of a Notary Public to administer oaths in any county of the State, having been left to the legislative power of that State, we would call attention to the manner in which the Legislature of Arkansas, itself, has seen fit to interpret her laws upon this question, as shown by her Act of April 4, 1901, Sec. 5743 of Kirby's Digest of the Statutes of Arkansas, which is as follows, to-wit:-
"The power and authority of Notaries Public shall be co-extensive with the State, for the purpose of swearing witnesses and taking depositions".

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the Motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of CYNTHIA HOWARD, ET AL., as Freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

M O T I O N.

Comes now the applicants and move to strike from the records the testimony taken in the case of Mary Sanders, Cherokee Freedman R. 38, et al., which has been attached to 'The Reply of the Cherokee Nation' in this case, for the reason that the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation seeks to bring into this case the testimony from an entirely different case and make it a part of the record in this case.

That said record can have no bearing upon this case and the mere conclusion of the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation that the Motion for rehearing has not been sworn to is not supported by any reference to Law and is only the statement of the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation and his opinion upon points of this kind without showing any Law to support it is not any better than the opinion of any one else. It is attempted to inject the testimony from another case into this case for the purpose of creating a prejudice against the Attorneys for applicants and against applicants in these cases and is in direct violation of the rule laid down by the Honorable Secretary of the Interior in Departmental letter of May 21, 1906 (D.C. 20724; I.T.D. 9262-1903; 4589-1903; 5537-1905; 9556-1905) in the matter of the Cherokee Freedmen Enrollment of Catherine Mix wherein the Department held "It is observed that the testimony taken in certain other cases was appended to the record herein and made a part of the record same, contrary to the objection of counsel for the applicants. While this action of the Commission is not considered proper in view of such objection, the additional testimony has not been considered inasmuch as the testimony submitted by and on behalf of the principal applicant is of itself sufficient to warrant the continued which the Department has reached in the matter".

"Briefs submitted by counsel for the applicants and for the Nation have been considered. It is found that the Brief submitted on behalf of the applicants was supported by affidavits. In-as-much as new testimony can be properly introduced only for the purpose of securing a rehearing, these affidavits have not been considered in connection with said Motion, which was designed merely to secure a review of the Decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes".

It will be noticed that the so-called "Reply of the Cherokee Nation" has all of this testimony attached to it and the Attorney for the Nation evidently wants to have same considered by the Department. When this testimony in the Mary Sanders' case was taken, the Attorney for the Nation asked for a rule on us to see where we were on June 13th and on June 25th and whether or not Jessie Patten was a Notary Public for the Northern District of the Indian Territory. We appeared at Muskogee at the request of the Honorable Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes and consented to give our testimony in the Mary Sanders case and we stated that Jessie Patten was not a Notary Public for the Northern District of the Indian Territory but that she was a Notary Public for the Western District of the Indian Territory, and that as such Notary Public certain affidavits were sworn to before her in Vinita, Northern District of the Indian Territory. The Attorney for the Cherokee Nation, without looking up the Law, has jumped at the conclusion that said affidavits are void and we have filed our Brief in that case stating our position with reference to said affidavits, and on that same legal proposition we will file our Brief in this case.

This attempt on the part of the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation is in conflict with the ruling of the Department in Departmental letter dated June 20, 1906 (D.C. 28968; I.T.D. 6190-1903; 6700-1904) in the Cherokee Freedmen Enrollment case of Rayton Martin, et al., in which the Department held "A re-consideration of the record in this case shows that on the original hearing five witnesses were examined by the Attorneys for applicants and subjected to cross-examination by the Attorney for the Nation. Opposed to this showing there is attached to the record the testimony of E. J. Clayton as taken in the Neatie Martin case. It does not appear that this testimony is filed with the consent of the Attorneys for the applicants, and in the argument submitted by them they state that their consent was not given."

"Since the hearing certain affidavits have been filed in behalf of the applicants".

"It is not the policy of the Department to consider evidence in citizenship cases submitted in this form, as it is manifestly unfair to the Nation and against the rules of evidence. In this case it is apparent that the evidence of E. J. Clayton, taken on another case and without opportunity of cross-examination by applicants' Attorneys is subject to the same criticism as the affidavits submitted by the applicant".

"The Department cannot in justice be expected to adjudicate a case on such affidavits on behalf of the Nation. In regard to the cross-examination of witnesses and the injection of testimony from other cases into the case under consideration your attention is called to Departmental letter of December 7, 1905, in the application for the enrollment of Deches, deceased, as a citizen by blood of the Creek Nation, and also to Departmental letter of May 21, 1906 relative to the application of Catherine Mix for her enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. As the objections to this testimony were made in the argument submitted, the Nation should be permitted to introduce their evidence in the premises".

"The Departmental Decision of September 22, 1903, in this case is hereby rescinded, and the case is remanded for a further hearing. You are instructed to permit the applicants and the Attorney for the Nation to present such ~~HEARD~~ WITNESSES as they see fit on the matter of the rights of these applicants to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen".

It is clear therefore that the Attorney for the Nation has violated the plain rule laid down by the Department when he filed with this case all of the testimony taken on July 12, 1906 in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary Sanders, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen. This testimony has no place in this record and we objected at the time to testimony being taken in the Mary Sanders case with reference to that cases and we now earnestly object to this method of procedure on part of the Attorney for the Cherokee Nation because it is plainly proven on the just face of the so-called "Reply of the Cherokee Nation" that this method is resorted to to secure a prejudice against the Attorneys for the applicants and the cause of the applicants herein, and we therefore move that the same be stricken from the records in this case.

Respectfully/

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of Cynthia Hoard, et al., as Cherokee freedmen, F. D. 662.

Reply of the Cherokee Nation to Motion to Strike from the records filed by Attorneys for Applicants on August 2, 1906.

The record in this case shows that an alleged motion to reopen was signed by Starr & Patten as attorneys for applicants, that they attempted to swear to the same before Jessie Patten, signing herself as a Notary Public on the 25th day of June, 1906, that said motion did not state upon its face where the said J. C. Starr of the firm of Starr & Patten, was when he attempted to swear to the same, nor where the said Jessie Patten was when she attempted to swear the said J. C. Starr to said alleged motion to reopen, and this information being peculiarly within the knowledge of the said J. C. Starr and Guy Patten and their stenographer and Notary, Jessie Patten, on July 7, 1906, a motion for a rule on the attorneys for applicants was made before the commissioner to the five Civilized Tribes, service having been accepted by Guy Patten of the firm of Starr & Patten, asking them to appear before the Commissioner on the 12th day of July, 1906, and give information as to their whereabouts on the 13th day of June, 1906, and the 25th day of June, 1906, and as to whether or not Jessie Patten was a Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, upon either of those dates, or upon any date previous to June 25, 1906. Said motion for rule was in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the alleged motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of Mary Sanders, F. R. 38, and James Scott, et al F. D. 157, as Cherokee freedmen.

Motion for Rule on Attorneys for Applicants.

Comes now V. W. Hastings, attorney for the Cherokee Nation, and respectfully shows to the commissioner to the five civilized tribes that an alleged copy of a motion for a rehearing in the above entitled Cherokee freedmen cases was received by him on the 18th day of June, 1906; that said motion was signed by the firm of Starr & Patten as attorneys for applicants, said firm being composed of J. C. Starr and Guy Patten, both of Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory; that said motion was alleged to have been sworn to by J. C. Starr on the 13th day of June, 1906, before Jessie Patten, Notary Public, that the Jurat does not state where said J. C. Starr was when said oath was alleged to have been made. Attached to the alleged motion are copies of what purport to be affidavits made by Eliza Tucker and Chlora Foreman in support of said motion alleged to have been subscribed and sworn to before Jessie Patten, Notary Public on the 13th day of June, 1906. It is further represented to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes that your petitioner, W. W. Hastings, attorney for the Cherokee Nation, is reliably informed and believes, and so believing, charges that J. C. Starr was in the town of Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, on the 13th day of June, 1906, and that Jessie Patten, claiming to be a Notary Public, was also in Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, when she attempted to swear the said J. C. Starr to the alleged motion filed herein, and not in the Western District, Indian Territory, and that both Eliza Tucker and Chlora Foreman were at Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, on the same date, and not in the Western District, Indian Territory, when the said Jessie Patten attempted to swear each of said affiants to the affidavits attached to the motion and in support of the information, knowledge and belief which your petitioner has to the effect that all of said parties were at Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, and not in the Western District, Indian Territory, on the 13th day of June, 1906, there is hereto appended an affidavit made by the said Chlora Foreman in which it is recited that the affidavit hereinabove referred to was made at Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory.

Your petitioner further alleges that this same firm of attorneys served what purport to be copies of motions in numerous cases upon your petitioner on the 25th day of June, 1906, that all of said motions are alleged to have been sworn to before this same Jessie Patten on the 25th day of June, 1906, and mailed from Vinita, Indian Territory, by registered mail on the morning of that day. Your petitioner states upon knowledge, information and belief, and so believing, charges that Jessie Patten was not a Notary Public of the Northern District of the Indian Territory on June 25, 1906, or any date previous to that; that on June 25, 1906, she was at Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, as was J. C. Starr, and that her attempts to swear said J. C. Starr or any other witness to alleged motions for rehearing or affidavits, were null and void.

Your petitioner further alleges that the facts of the whereabouts of the said J. C. Starr and Guy Patten and the said Jessie Patten on the 13th day of June, 1906, and the 25th day of June, 1906, and as to whether or not the said Jessie Patten was a Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory upon either of those dates is peculiarly within their knowledge.

Wherefore, Petitioner asks the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes for a rule upon the said firm of Starr & Patten, composed of J. C. Starr and Guy Patten to appear before the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes on the 12th day of July, 1906, and disclose to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes where they and each of them were on the 13th day of June, 1906, and the 25th day of June, 1906, and if they were within the limits of the Northern District of the Indian Territory, whether or not the said Jessie Patten was a Notary Public upon those dates within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory.

W. W. Hastings,
Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
INDIAN TERRITORY,
WESTERN DISTRICT.) ss.

W. W. Hastings, being first duly sworn states that he is the attorney for the Cherokee Nation; that the facts set forth in the above motion are true as he verily believes; that he knows of his own personal knowledge that the firm of Starr & Patten, composed of J. C. Starr and Guy Patten, are residing and doing business at Vinita, Indian Territory, that he is informed and believes the other facts set forth in the above motion are true.

W. W. Hastings.
Subscribed and sworn to before me on this the 7th day of July, 1906.
My Com. Ex. 1-2-1910. Edward B. Miller, Notary Public.

By referring to the aforesaid motion it will be seen that the attorney for the Cherokee Nation alleged that he was reliably informed, and being so informed, charged that both on the 13th day of June, 1906, and on the 26th day of June, 1906, J. C. Starr and Guy Patten, composed the firm of Starr & Patten, and were in the Town of Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, and that Jessie Patten was also in said Town of Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, and not in the Western District, Indian Territory, and therefore not authorized to administer an oath in Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, and her attempt to administer the oath of J. C. Starr to the motions for rehearing were null and void, and the attorney for the Cherokee Nation further alleged that this knowledge being peculiarly within the information of the said Starr & Patten they were asked to appear upon that date and to give information as to their whereabouts and also as to the whereabouts of the said Jessie Patten and as to whether or not she was a Notary within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory. The records further show that all three did appear and were sworn and J. C. Starr testified that he was 36 years of age and a member of the firm of Starr & Patten, and upon being asked:

"Q. Are you willing to state as to your whereabouts on June 26, 1906, and whether or not it was Jessie Patten is a Notary Public within the Northern District of the Indian Territory?" he answered, "I am."
"Q. Where were you on that date? A I was in Vinita, Indian Territory."
"Q. Were the affidavits referred to in the motion of the attorney for the Cherokee Nation signed by you at Vinita? A Yes sir."
"Q. Is Jessie Patten a Notary Public for the Northern District of the Indian Territory? A She is not; she is a Notary Public for the Western District of the Indian Territory."
"Q. Were the affidavits signed by you in the Northern District of the Indian Territory? A Yes sir."

He afterwards testified upon direct examination that Jessie Patten was a stenographer in his office and had been working there then about two months which would date it back to about the 18th of May, 1906.

Guy Patten took the stand and testified in substance to the same that J. C. Starr testified to.

Jessie Patten was called to the stand and she testified and was cross-examined by Mr. Patten. The result of the inquiry established that both on June 13th and June 26th, 1906, as well as other dates all three parties named, Starr & Patten and Jessie Patten, a Notary, were in Vinita, Northern District, Indian Territory, and not in the Western District, where they attempted to have affidavits made before Jessie Patten as their Notary. These affidavits were taken at the instance and at the suggestion and by the direction of the said J. C. Starr & Guy Patten. Reference is made to the testimony which is attached to our reply brief in this case.

It is complained on behalf of the attorneys Starr & Patten in their motion to strike from the record the testimony attached to our reply brief that "it is attempted to inject the testimony from another case into this case for the purpose of creating a prejudice against the attorneys for applicants." We do not understand why such a charge would be made if no wrong had been committed, if they were entitled to be sworn at vinita, if Jessie Patten were a Notary Public within and for the Northern District, then how could a prejudice be created against the attorneys for applicants. No prejudice can be created against attorneys by calling attention to legitimate practices, and if the practices are illegitimate it is our duty as the attorney for the Cherokee Nation and its representative, regardless of consequences, to invite the attention of the Commissioner to the five Civilized Tribes and of the Department to it, and we being informed as we stated in our motion for a rule that the jurats met advising the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes where the affidavits were taken that it was our duty to have the matter investigated to see whether or not they were really taken within the jurisdiction of the Notary Public, namely, within the Western District of the Indian Territory, for which she was appointed. If these affidavits had really been taken within the Western District, certainly you would never have heard any protest from Starr & Patten now that prejudice was attempted to be created as against them, because none could have been created against them. They cite the decision of the Department in the case of Catherine Mix, wherein the Department held that testimony should not be thrown from another case into that case, and they also cite the case of Payton Martin, P. D. 304, in which the Department held that the testimony of E. J. Clayton should not be thrown from another case into that one. But lets examine the cases a little more critically and see why the Department so held. In the Payton Martin case the Department held:

"In this case it is apparent that the evidence of E. J. Clayton taken in another case and without opportunity of cross-examination by applicants' attorneys, is subject to the same criticism as the affidavits submitted by the applicants."

Note, will you, that the objection was that the attorneys for applicants were not given the opportunity to cross-examine E. J. Clayton and that was the objection urged by the department to throwing the testimony of E. J. Clayton from some other case over into the Payton Martin case. But lets examine the motion before us. Not only did the firm of Starr & Patten have the opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses, J. C. Starr & Guy Patten and Jessie Patten on July 12, 1906, but they were the identical witnesses themselves and they were present themselves and therefore the objection that they were without opportunity to cross-examine themselves and to cross-examine Jessie Patten cannot be urged in this case, and that is the only objection that the Department had either in the Catherine Mix case or the Payton Martin case to the introduction of the testimony was that the attorneys were without opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses who gave the evidence which was thrown into that case. In other words, so far as that case was concerned it was ex parte and so far as those lawyers representing Catherine Mix and Payton Martin were concerned it was ex parte. But in this case J. C. Starr and Guy Patten are estopped by their own oaths from saying that they did not speak the truth, each of them practically swore to the same thing, and they are corroborated by Jessie Patten, namely, to the effect that each of them was in Vinita, on June 13th and June 25, 1906, when they attempted to make the affidavits to the several motions filed upon those respective dates. Why would it have been necessary to have taken their testimony in each separate case? They were notified in the motion for a rule that their whereabouts on those respective dates was desired and that that was going to be inquired into, and furthermore that it was going to be inquired into as to where Jessie Patten was and as to whether or not she at any time previous to June 25, 1906, was ever a Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory. The attorneys complain that the attorney for the Cherokee Nation has jumped at the conclusion that these affidavits are void, that were attempted to be sworn to before a Notary public appointed for the Western District, but sworn to in the Northern District of the Indian Territory. Certainly we urge that they were void, and we have filed a brief in the Mary Sanders case, setting up that fact, but we think really that no brief was necessary to be filed, because the attorneys themselves practically admit that they were void by attempting to have them retaken in every single case; they admit that they are void by saying that we are attempting to create prejudice against them, because we could not create prejudice against them if their acts were legitimate; they admit that they were void because in their brief they cite an act of the Arkansas Legislature approved April 4, 1901, which extends the territorial jurisdiction of a Notary Public to the entire State, which shows that if the Notary had previous to that time had jurisdiction to administer an oath all over the State, although appointed for a single county, then there would have been no need of the Legislature of Arkansas passing the act approved April 4, 1901, and cited in counsel's brief. Not content however with our own conclusion we cited the case of Commonwealth versus Schwieters, decided by the Court of Appeals of Kentucky May 18, 1906, it being a case wherein the defendant was being tried for perjury, he having been sworn before a Notary Public who was outside the county for which he was appointed at the time he attempted to administer the oath, wherein the court held:

"If Clarence E. Walker was not a Notary public in the City of Louisville then the defendant was not sworn before a Notary public for the authority of a Notary public is confined to the limits designated in the commission of the governor on making the appointment. He has no authority to act outside of those limits and anything done by him outside of them is done as a private person and not as a Notary public.....If Walker was not then and there a Notary public he was not sworn before a Notary public, but before a private person.....The charge that the act was done before a Notary public must mean that the person before whom it was done was then and there a Notary public. An officer does not carry his official character with him beyond his bailiwick, but stands there only as a private person."

We submit, therefore, that the motion for a rule filed on July 7, 1906, citing the members of the firm of Starr & Patten on July 12, 1906, was sufficiently definite to apprise them that their whereabouts was going to be inquired into up to and including June 25, 1906, and that they being present and they themselves being witnesses, with the opportunity to examine and cross-examine themselves, and with the opportunity to cross-examine Jesse Patton, their own stenographer and notary, that they are estopped from complaining that this testimony was taken to their prejudice, because they were under oath, presumed to speak the truth, and the truth is not presumed to prejudice any one, and they having had opportunity to cross-examine themselves, and they being advised as to the intended scope of the examination, we submit that the motion to strike out in this case should be overruled, because the record shows that each of the alleged motions were attempted to be sworn to on June 25, 1906.

Respectfully submitted,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Cynthia Heard et al as Cherokee Freedmen.

F. D. 662.

The Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes on March 11, 1904 rejected the applicants and the acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs on July 25th 1904 (Land 18,421-1904) recommends that the action of the Commission be reversed and that the applicants be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, without reviewing the case or showing any reason therefor in his letter.

A Careful perusal of the letter does not indicate any reason why the action of the Commission should be reversed but upon the other hand it seems to us to clearly and conclusively prove that the principal applicant Cynthia Heard did not return to the Cherokee Nation in time to qualify under the treaty.

Cynthia Heard was a child of Fanny Walker who was a slave of Tim Walker and Betsy Walker at the commencement of the war and lived near Park Hill I. T. some twenty miles from Fort Gibson, Indian Territory. Cynthia Heard does not know her age but from her own testimony and that of others submitted in the case she must have been about two months old when the war commenced and therefore her testimony as to where she was in the year of 1866 should not be given any weight by the Commission.

The first witness she introduced in her own behalf was Luster Foreman and we ask a careful examination of his testimony. Now Luster was a celebrated Standing negro witness who has since gone to his reward. We have had occasion to notice him in our General Brief. But when Luster took the stand in behalf of these applicants he made a very unsatisfactory statement; he was not certain that he knew the applicant; he was not certain at first whether he saw her mother Fanny in 1865 or 1866 or perhaps in 1867 and it will then be noted that he never saw her any more until the Clifton Court which was known to have made the roll in 1896. After Thirty years had elapsed it will be noticed that he claims to have seen her mother at Fort Gibson.

The next witness was Moses Riley and he testifies to having seen her the first time about twenty-eight years prior thereto which would have made it in 1873.

Moses Hardrick another colored man was then called to the stand and after making some conflicting statements as to the time he came to the Cherokee Nation says in the fall after he made a crop that he went to Fort Gibson and saw the applicant. Now this witness himself is upon a doubtful card and has been denied by the Commission upon the ground that he himself did not return in time to qualify under the treaty, of 1866 and if that be true clearly he was not in a position to be a competent witness to testify of having seen the applicant in 1866.

During the course of the examination R. M. Walker her young master was called to the stand; he testified of the former ownership of Cynthia Heard and her mother Fanny and he testifies that they went out of the Cherokee Nation during the war to Kansas and he swears that he returned to the Cherokee Nation in February 1866 with his father and located at Fort Gibson. Now Fort Gibson is still a small town of five or six hundred people and was a much smaller village at that time and R. M. Walker says he saw Fanny's sister Charlotte Walker and that he never saw her or Cynthia Heard for years after the war. This is the testimony of a disinterested witness; one that could not possibly wish his old slave any harm; he was called to the stand at first by the applicant herself and later by the Cherokee Nation in order that the whole truth with reference to her return might be investigated.

Just here your attention is invited to a significant fact and that is the name of Cynthia Heard does not appear upon any roll made by the Cherokee Nation; nor does it appear upon the Wallace Roll made in 1887 made by the Government nor upon the Kern-Clifton Roll made in 1896. She even testifies that she never even applied to the Kern & Clifton Commission in 1896 although she had a husband and she had a number of children.

who would have drawn money with her had her statement been true that she was entitled to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman.

The Department, no doubt, is well aware that in 1896 the Kern & Clifton Commission began the making of a Freedman roll in April in that year and sat at various places throughout the Cherokee Nation, twice at Hayden, Indian Territory only a few miles North of Chelsea and once upon the hill about a mile and a half from Chelsea in sight of where the applicant lived and at various other places throughout the Cherokee Nation including Fort Gibson where the applicant at any of these times could have appeared in person with her witnesses or through her attorney with her witnesses and made application to be enrolled as a Freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation if she were so entitled: Is it not almost conclusive to the Department that if this applicant did not apply to Mr Wallace in 1889 to be enrolled and made no effort to be enrolled in 1896 that she knew that she was not entitled under the treaty of 1866 and is not this very fact strongly corroborative of the testimony introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation to show that these applicants are not entitled to Freedman citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

The Cherokee Nation introduced Mrs T. M. Walker or Betsy Walker the Cherokee Mistress of Fanny the mother of Cynthia Hoard and also her son Jack Walker who testified to having lived within two miles of Fort Gibson since 1866 and they were positively that neither Fanny nor Cynthia was ever seen in that vicinity after the war; they saw Charlotte the sister of Fanny; they made inquiry of Fanny and they heard of her living in Kansas at the time and certainly if Luster Foreman or Mose Hardrick, who were unacquainted with the applicant before the war had been able to find and see the applicant in Fort Gibson in the year of 1866 certainly her old mistress would have known it because anxious inquiry was made for all of the old slaves as well as for blood relatives.

Tom Walker a colored man was also introduced and he swears that he lived in and around Fort Gibson ever since during the war; he is a son of Charlotte Walker and therefore the first cousin of the Principal applicant in this case and he swears positively that he never saw Aunt Fanny until after the war. Certainly it can not be said that these witnesses were prejudiced against the applicant because he is a colored man, a first cousin to the applicant and a son of Charlotte but this notorious witness of applicants, Luster Foreman, who claims to have seen the applicant and her mother. But this witness swears that the first time he ever saw the applicant was in 1897. Mrs Emma Drake another daughter of Mrs Betsy Walker testifies to the same fact.

In the light of this testimony we do not see how that the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes could render any other decision than one denying the applicants.

It must be remembered that the applicants claim to have been in Fort Gibson in 1866, they are located there by their own witnesses and they are located at Charlotte Walkers, who is a mother of the witness Tom Walker and Tom Walker a first cousin to the applicant emphatically denies it. Mrs Betsy Walker denies that Cynthia Hoard or her mother was at Fort Gibson after the war; R. M. Walker and Jack Walker both sustain their mother Betsy Walker as does also Emma Drake. These witnesses on part of the Cherokee Nation are strongly corroborated by the fact that the applicants names appear upon no roll ever made by or on behalf of the Cherokee Nation; they never drew any money; they never applied in 1896 and we beg pardon for submitting that in our judgment the testimony conclusively shows that applicants are not entitled to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen and for these reasons we submit that the Commissions decision should be sustained.

Respectfully,

W. W. Hastings

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to enclose, herewith, a report from the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated March 15, 1904, transmitting the record of the application for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen of Cynthia Beard for herself, and for minor children, Robert, Ella, Armit, Clifton, Emma and Thomas Beard.

March 11, 1904, the Commission found that the applicants were not entitled to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen.

The record shows that the principal applicant was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the war of the rebellion; that she was taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war and that she returned prior to February 11, 1867. The Cherokee Nation has introduced some testimony of witnesses who swear that they did not see the principal applicant prior to February 11, 1867. The other applicants derive their title from their mother, Cynthia Beard.

In view of the record it is recommended that the action of the Commission be reversed and that all the applicants be enrolled as Cherokee freedmen.

Very respectfully,
A. C. Senter,
Acting Commissioner.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to Departmental letter of January 14, 1906 (I.T.D. 6022 and 12590-1904), affirming the decision of the Commission, rejecting the applicants in the Cherokee freedmen case of Cynthia Heard, et al., I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from Commissioner Hixby, dated February 13, 1907, enclosing motion for re-hearing of the Cherokee freedmen enrollment case of "Cynthia Heard and her children, Robert, Zella, Armit, Clinton, Edmund, Tecumseh, Russel, and Justine Heard", filed in his office on June 25, 1906, by Starr & Patten, attorneys, of Vinita, I.T.

The motion sets out no sufficient reason why a re-hearing should be had in this case. It asks the Department to "grant her a new trial in this case and give her an opportunity to prove that she returned to the Cherokee Nation and established a residence therein prior to February 11, 1867." There is an allegation that the testimony that she asks to introduce is newly discovered or that it could not have been secured in time for the original hearing. There is no showing that the motion was not made for the purpose of delay, and as she had nearly five years in which to complete her case, it is not thought the motion should be granted. The Office concurs in the recommendation of the Commissioner that it be denied.

The record in the case is enclosed herewith.

Very respectfully,

E. F. Larabee,

Acting Commissioner.

 Q What is the name of Katie's husband? A Joe Manley.
 Q Which one comes next to Ella? A That is all.

LOUIS D. DANIELS, Being sworn and examined by Commissioner C. B. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name? A Louis D. Daniels, age 56; postoffice, Clarksville.
 Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life, sir.
 Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.
 Q Do you know this applicant here? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you know him before the war? A No, sir, I got acquainted with him after the surrender.
 Q Where did you first meet him after the surrender? A In Fort Gibson, sir.
 Q When was that you met him in Fort Gibson? A That was in the summer of '88.
 Q That was the first time you met him was it? A For me to know him.
 Q What were the circumstances of your meeting, were you acquainted with him? A There were eight or ten of us going to go out and hunt some meat and kill some beaves, we was allowed to kill beaves by going to see the Chief and getting a permit, and we come up to Grand river and got an order from Chief Downing to kill some beaves and Bob was in the crowd with me.
 Q This man, Bob? A Yes, sir, there were several of us, there is six living now.
 Q Did he go with you to kill the beaves? A Yes, sir.
 Q And you remember of his being in that party? A Yes, sir, and every man remembers it that is living.
 Q Were there any other times that you have met him? A Yes, sir, I have met him since that, after he left Fort Gibson I don't know exactly what time I met him in '88 on Sam's Fork, I was going by there to buy some logs and I stayed all night with him in the Cherokee Nation, about 15 miles the other side of Tahlequah.
 Q Where was he living when you met him in Fort Gibson? A He was staying with his brother, I guess, I didn't ask him.
 Q Where was his brother living? A Right in Fort Gibson, Dude Webber.

By Mr. Newport:

Q Now, Louis, the first time you remember seeing Bob here in the Cherokee Nation from the time you went to get an order from Louis Downing to kill some beaves? A I may have seen him before that, but I didn't know it was Bob Webber.

ROBERT WEBBER, the applicant, recalled: By Com'r Breckinridge.
 Q These children you have named are five children are they all the children of your wife, Margaret? A Yes, sir.
 Q Were you ever married before you married Margaret? A Yes, sir.
 Q Back in old slavery times? A Yes, sir.
 Q Was your wife dead? A No, sir, but we are parted, she is right down here now.
 Q Your wife, Margaret, had she been married before? A Yes, sir.

 Q Were you a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war came on?
 A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you know this applicant here, Robert Webber, before the war?
 A No, sir.
 Q Did you meet him after the war? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where and when did you first meet him after the war?
 A Met him down here on Pryors Creek.
 Q What was he doing down there? A Hunting beeves, cattle.
 Q When was that? A In '86, in August.
 Q Who were with you? A Louis Daniels and Huse Rogers and Dude Webber and George Ross, that is all I saw. I didn't go down to the camp, I met them out on the prairie.
 Q Did you hunt with them? A No, sir, I had been hunting, I was going on home when I met him.
 Q Have you seen much of him from that time on? A Yes, sir, I have seen him off and on ever since that time.
 Q Has he always continued to live in the Cherokee Nation?
 A Yes, sir.
 By Mr. Davenport:
 Q You didn't leave the Nation did you, Frank, during the war?
 A I was out about eight months altogether.
 Q When did you return? A '86.
 Q What time of the year? A In March.
 Q Where were you living at the time the treaty was made?
 A I lived down here on Pryors Creek.
 Q What place? A Down there, this side of where the railroad crosses.
 Q Was there anyone living there at that time? A My ownrs lived there, my father and mother.
 Q Wasn't any improvements there on the farm? A None except what we put there.
 Q When did you put them there? A We moved up there in the fall of '86, we moved from the Rider place to Pryors Creek.

A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know this man, Robert Webber before the war broke out?
A Yes, sir.

Q To whom did he belong? A Akey Webber, same woman I belonged to..

Q She was a recognized Cherokee citizen was she? A Yes, sir; talked all Cherokee, could not talk an English.

Q Did this man go out with you when the war came up?

A No, sir, I found him with the Pin Indians. When they pulled up and went north I found him with them when they went there.

Q Where was that? A That was somewhere near on the line, Arkansas line, where I found him when I went to him.

Q When was that? A That was ~~somewhere~~ along sometime near the war commenced.

Q He was with the Pins? A Yes, sir, when I seen him.

Q What did you see of him after that? A He was taken prisoner and was taken off and I didn't see him any more. His wife come to Kansas and said they come and got him at their house one night and I never seen him any more.

Q His wife came to your house? A Come to the soldiers' quarters.

Q Who did she say took him? A The Bushwhackers.

Q And they took him north? A No, sir, taken him south what she said.

Q And you don't know what they did with him down there? A No sir.

Q When did you see him after the war? A I saw him here along after the war when I lived up here he come up to see us.

Q That was two or three years after you got back? A Yes, sir.

Q Why did you get back? A '68.

Q And that was '68 or '69? A Yes, sir, somewhere along there.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Sam, what became of Bob's wife after she came up to the soldiers' camp? A She stayed there and went to Pigeon.

Q Where were you camped at that time? A Over here about, I can't think of the name of the place, over here in Arkansas.

Q Now, what year was that? A That was along, the war run a little while.

Q Fighting was going on then? A Yes, sir.

ROBERT WEBBER, the applicant, recalled by Com'r Breckinridge:

Q What is this about your being with the Pin Indians? A I was a soldier.

Q Soldier in the army? A Yes, sir.

Q And you were captured were you? A Yes, sir.

Q And what did they do with you? A They took me to Texas.

Q You didn't go down to Texas with your Mistress, Akey Webber?

A No, sir, she was dead.

Q When did she die? A She died in '61.

Q Who did you belong to after your Mistress died? A I belonged to nobody, you see she died in '61 and I was still on the place.

Q You don't know who claimed you at that time? A No, sir.
 Q Who had charge of the place? A Her son, Robin Webber.
 Q Well, did you recognize his authority? A Oh, yes.
 Q Well then when they took you down to Texas what did you do?
 A I drove teams.
 Q For whom? A The Southern Government.
 Q Did you find this woman down there? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you find any of your people down there?
 A Found Charley Webber, son of Akey.
 Q Were you hired out to the Southern Government? A Yes, sir.
 Q Who did the hire? A Charley Webber I suppose.
 Q What did you have to do with Webber at that time?
 A They took me there and hauled and he was working for the Government.
 Q What did this young Webber have to do with it? A The war was nearly over and he said I could just stay there.
 Q Was he living in Ginter's neighborhood? A No, sir, he heard of me later and come over after me.

 Q And then from Benton County where did you go? A To the Cherokee Nation.
 Q Whereabouts? A On the Barren Fork.
 Q How far to the Mouth of Barren Fork? A It must be about ten or 12 miles above.
 Q Well how long after you got there to Barren Fork was it before you ever had an occasion to go down to Fort Gibson?
 A I don't know, sir, how long I stayed at Barren Fork before I went to Fort Gibson.
 Q What neighbors did you have down there? A Hugo Ginter and Wooten Looney.
 Q Is that the time you got with Louis Daniels? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you go on that cattle hunt with them? A Yes, sir.
 Q After that where did you go? A I went back to Barren Fork.
 Q How long did you live there? A About four years.
 By Mr. Bavenport:
 Q Bob, in giving your testimony a while ago how did it happen that you didn't say anything about being taken by the soldiers south?
 A You asked me how I got down there as I know of.
 Q Didn't I ask you if you didn't go down there with Galdine Ginter and family? A Yes, sir.
 Q Didn't you tell me on cross-examination that you had married this girl before you went south? A No, sir.
 Q And didn't you tell me that you lived that Ginter lived about 35 or 40 miles from where Webbers lived and that Ginters lived in Arkansas and that you lived in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
 Q How many children has your wife got? A Yes, sir.
 Q How old is your oldest child? A 31.
 Q What time did you go to Texas when the soldiers took you there?
 A I don't know.
 Q When did you and your wife marry? A Shortly after we got there.
 Q How about the war, was it over? A No, sir, the war was going on.
 By Hon. J. Breckinridge:
 Q Who was Galdine Ginter's wife? A She was a Ward.
 Q Was she a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.
 Q Was Ginter himself a Cherokee? A No, sir.
 Q Where is Nancy Ginter living now? A She is living here.
 Q Where? A In Benton County.
 Q Has she lived there ever since the war? A I guess so.
 Q You never heard of her coming back?
 A No, sir, I never heard of her since.

tution of slavery from his wife, and she was similarly separated from her first husband and that under these conditions they contracted marriage in the State of Texas while the war was going on. It is not considered that the strict meaning of the laws of marriage are applicable to people as the applicant and his wife at that time, and it is believed at present that the marriage contracted by him and his wife, Margaret, during the war and maintained continuously from that time until now is a valid marriage, and that these children should be considered the lawful children of the applicant and his wife and that they should enjoy, in the absence of any testimony to the contrary, all the rights that may be finally established for the applicant himself.

SUPPLEMENTAL INTERROGATORIES by Com'r Breckinridge. The APPLICANT recalled:

- Q Are these children all the children of your wife, Margaret?
A Yes, sir.
Q How many of them were born in Texas, any of them? A The oldest one was born in Texas before we left.
A Frank? A Yes, sir.
Q And then Frank is older than you think he is? A That is what I call him, what I think he is.
Q But he was born in Texas? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Frank come with you and your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q Come with you over to Barron Park? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, these other children were they all born in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have they always lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Dawmont: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation protest against the enrollment of his wife, Margaret, for the reason that Cherokee card #422 gives the testimony of Nancy Gunter in full, who was alleged to have been the owner of the wife of the applicant at the time the war broke out; which testimony shows the continued residence of Nancy Gunter in the State of Arkansas for years up to and including the date of the giving of the testimony which was on the 25th day of September, 1900.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I.T., OCTOBER 14th, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of ROBERT WEBBER, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, introduced in part of Cherokee Nation.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Smith of Counsel for applicants;
Mr. Davenport, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

ELIZA CHANDLER, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles,
testified as follows on part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A Eliza Chandler.

Q Where do you live, Mrs. Chandler? A In Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 54.

Q Where were you living at the breaking out of the war?

A Arkansas.

Q Did you leave the State of Arkansas during the war and your family? A Yes, sir.

Q Your father, what was his first name? A Calbine Guster.

Q Did your father and any slaves at the breaking out of the war?

A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether or not he owned a woman by the name of Margaret? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know who she afterwards married and lived with as his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Whom did she live with Mrs. Chandler? A Bob Webber, he goes by that name.

Q Do you know what became of Margaret during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did she go? A We carried her to Texas with us.

Q Well, after the close of the war what became of her? A We brought her back to Arkansas.

Q You got back to Arkansas in what year? A In '65.

Q How long did she live with you after you got back to Arkansas, that is, did she live there at all? A She only stayed a little while; they moved up on Butler's creek.

Q Butler's creek, Territory or Arkansas? A Arkansas, at Mr.
Tittles.

Q Do you know what Mr. Tittles' first name was? A Dan.

Q Did you know Bob Webber before the war? A No, sir, I first saw him in Texas.

Q And he came down there while you were in Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he come back with you and your family? A Yes, sir.

Q Was he with Margaret when they moved up on Butler's creek in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q About what year was that they moved up on Butler's creek at Dan
Tittles in Arkansas? A It was in the winter of '65.

Q Now, Margaret as I understand was owned by your father at the breaking out of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know of your own knowledge she owned Bob? A No, sir.

Q Was your father and your mother a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at that time, or any of your family? A No, sir.

Q They weren't citizens when they returned from the south, were they? A No, sir.

MR. SMITH: Mrs. Chandler, your mother was a Cherokee Indian was she not? A Yes, sir.

Q She was readmitted to citizenship here I understood you to say here in another case? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, do you remember what month you returned to Arkansas in 1865? A I think it was in November, I won't be positive.

Q Not sure? A No, sir.

Q Well, none of your family owned Robert Webber? A No, sir.

Q Did you know anything about him before the war? A No, sir, did not.

Q You say after the war he was married to a woman named Margaret?

A It was in time of the war that they came to our house in Texas.

Q Well, then when you took Robert Webber and Margaret to Arkansas they were still husband and wife there, were they? A Yes, sir, after we came back.

Q Now, you don't remember the month that they went up on this Butler creek, you are speaking about? A No, sir, they went that winter some time.

Q You mean the winter in the year you returned? A Yes, sir.

Q That was in '65? A Yes.

Q How far from that place where they went to from where you lived?

A About 25 miles.

Q How far did you live from the Cherokee Nation? A I guess it was about two miles and a half.

Q Lived right on the line? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know of your own knowledge where Robert Webber was during the year 1866? A Well, he made a crop up there on Butler's creek and then he moved back that summer down to Pa's, and then he come down here in the Nation, or said he was coming and left his family there at our place until in the fall and then he come back and moved them down in the Nation, I reckon. I have seen her here since I have been in the Nation.

Q Well, at the time you came back with these people from Texas the war was over? A Yes, sir.

Q They were free then? A Yes, sir.

Q They could go wherever they wanted to? A Yes, sir.

Q And they were only two miles and a half from where you lived to the Cherokee Nation line? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you can't state of your own knowledge either when Robert Webber or his wife first came into the Cherokee Nation after the war was over? A No, sir, I would not try to state.

JOHN T. GUNTER, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows in part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A John T. Gunter.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Gunter? A Live in Vinita, Indian Territory.

Q How old are you? A 46.

Q Where were you living at the time war broke out? A Living in Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Your father's name was Galdine Gunter? A Yes, sir.

Q Did your father own a slave, a woman, at that time by the name of Margaret? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether or not she was married before the breaking out of the war? A Yes, sir, she had a man named Adam.

Q What became of Margaret during the war, if you know, Mr. Gunter?

A My father took her to Texas.

Q How long did she stay there? A Until 1865 when he returned to Arkansas.

Q Did you have her and the fellow by the name of Bob Webber?

A Yes, sir.

Q Did he and Margaret live together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you first see Webber? A Hopkins County, Texas.

Q How long did he stay there? A He stayed there until '65, drove a team back for my father.

Q To what point did you come? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Were your family citizens of the Cherokee Nation at that time?
A No, sir.

Q Were they citizens of the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the war? A No, sir.

Q Well, after they came back to Benton County, Arkansas, what became of Margaret and Bob, if you know? A They left my father's house and went to Des Cailles near Sulphur Springs.

Q That place? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Do you know how long they stayed there? A They went there in the winter of '55 and stayed until the fall of '56, made a crop at Des Cailles; I don't know whether they made a crop or not.

Q Well, what became of them then? A Along in the fall Bob came back to my father's and he and Uncle Dan had fell out and he wanted to move back and my father had a little old smoke house and fixed that up for them and moved his family there, and stayed there that winter, he went away and was gone quite a while, I don't know where he was, here in the Territory somewhere he said he was going.

Q That was the winter of '56? A Yes, sir.

Q That took place after that? A In the spring of '57, he moved his family here.

Q Do you know who Bob belonged to before the breaking out of the war? A No, sir.

Q You don't know anything about him, about as to who he belonged? A Only what he told me, he said he belonged to the Webbers.

Q Margaret belonged to your father? A Yes, sir.

MR. SMITH: What Webber did he say he belonged to? A I don't know.

Q Was there an Akey webber? A I don't know of her.

Q You weren't acquainted with her? A No, sir.

Q You weren't in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A No, sir.

Q Didn't live here? A No, sir.

Q Now, you say, Mr. Gunter, Bob Webber, this applicant moved his family into the Territory in the spring of '57? A Yes, sir, in the spring of '57.

Q Well, now, can you state the month? A No, sir, but it was some time early in the spring.

Q You can't be positive as to the month? A No, sir.

Q Was it as early as first of the year, '57? A No, sir, grass was up, cattle was grazing on the grass, and the reason I can remember it, my father made Margaret a present of a cow and a calf, and sent me out to drive her up and got her out of the grass; it was a young calf, he took them with him.

Q Robert Webber had made preparations to made to the Cherokee Nation before that? A I think he went to George Beach's on Berry Farm before that.

Q That was in the winter of '55? A Yes, sir, at least he was gone quite a while.

Q That is where he said he was going? A That is where he said he was going.

Q Well, your father and your mother and children were all admitted to citizenship here after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q That was in what year? A 1860.

Q This woman, Margaret, that used to belong to your father was this man's wife? A Yes, sir, lived with her.

Q This man you speak of her having been with that was in slavery times? A Yes, sir.

Q What became of Adams? A He went to Kansas I was told.

Q Who did Adams belong to? A Belonged to my father.

Q Why didn't he go with your father? A He went away before we refugees.

Q Was he sold? A No, sir, in '62 when the army came down there was a number of our slaves went away and some of them returned and some of them didn't, there is one of them here in the Territory.

Q Was he sold? A No, sir, in '62 when the army came down there was a number of our slaves went away and some of them returned and some of them didn't, there is one of them here in the Territory.

Q Well, this man Adam that you speak of and Margaret, they were just simply living together under the fashion of slaves at that time?

A Yes, sir.

Q No marriage about it? A No, sir.

Q They were separated from each other by the exigencies of war?

A Yes, sir.

Q You never heard of Adam afterwards? A Yes, sir, I have heard of him.

Q You never seen him? A No, sir.

Q Do you know how Robert came down to Texas? A Yes, sir, I know how he came to Hopkins County, he came with Ben Tittles and Jim.

Q Do you know whether the Pin Indians ever got him or not? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever hear? A No, sir, I heard Ben Tittles bought him and took him to Texas, the Pin Indians didn't come that way.

Q Do you know whether he was ever captured from the Pin Indians by anybody? A Never heard of it.

Q All you know about Robert we hear is that he came to Texas?

A No, sir.

Q Mr. Gunter, your mother was a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q And you say she was brought up in the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir, she was born and raised in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Was she in the Cherokee Nation when she married? A Married just across the line.

Q Living in the Cherokee Nation when she married? A Yes, sir.

Q And when she married your father went across the line of Arkansas to live? A Yes, sir.

Q During the time of the war did she claim to be a Cherokee Indian?

A Yes, sir.

Q Draw money? A Drew money in '53 I believe it was.

Q What money was that? A Old settler money.

Q Did she exercise any other rights or did any of your family before the war? A No, sir.

Q You didn't live in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, never except her mother and brothers and sisters, none of our immediate family.

Q But in the year 1880 she was formally admitted by an Act of the Council? A Yes, sir, Court created by the Council.

Q Mr. Gunter, can you state whether there were many or few of these Acts of Admission? A Admitting people to citizenship?

Q Yes? A Yes, sir, there were a great many.

Q They were applied for in favor of persons living in the Nation and claiming to be citizens? A Yes, living out and wanted to return, that is, had been citizens at one time and moved out and forfeited their citizenship; they applied to the Council for readmission. My mother being residing in the Territory and going out she forfeited her citizenship.

Q That is she stated she had forfeited it, you don't know whether she forfeited or not? A That is her understanding.

MR. DAVENPORT: What brought up the question of their applying to the Council, Mr. Gunter, if you know? A It was the understanding of the laws and constitution of the Cherokee Nation.

Q If they expected to participate in the benefits of the Cherokee Nation, they must be readmitted? A Yes, sir.

Q Your father was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation?

A No, sir.

MR. NEEDLES: What was your father's property was your mother's?

A I don't know.

Com'r Needles: This testimony will be made part of the record at bar and made part of the record in D-4683, D-4684, D-4691, and D-4690.

Q How long did he stay there with you? A He come there in the fall of '68 and stayed until the fall of '68.

Q At that time where was your family residing? A In Benton County, Arkansas.

Q How long had they been residing in Arkansas? A About 15 years.

Q Were they or were they not recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation? A Not then, we was outside of the Cherokee Nation then.

Q Well after the close of the war you returned back to your old home place in Benton County, Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever move back to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q What year did you move back? A In 1874.

Q Were they recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, there some acting taken to the Cherokee Nation. A Yes, sir.

Q Was it your father had the Cherokee blood or mother? A Mother.

CON'R FREDERICK: She was re-admitted in 1872? A Yes, sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: Did your father marry again? A Yes, sir;

he married and went out and came back and married again.

Q Do you mean he was married twice according to the laws of the Cherokee Nation? A He married and went out and came back and married again.

MR. FREDERICK: Where did your father marry first? A In the
Cherokee Nation.

Q Married according to the Cherokee laws then? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, what year was that? A That was, that would be in '55 I guess it would be.

Q About 1855? A About 15 years ago, I would have to count it up; it was in '46.

Q He was in this Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, then, when he married he was a citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did he continue to live in the Cherokee Nation?

A He lived there when I was about five years old; let's see, married in '46, that would be, I think we left there in '52.

Q Where did you go? A First went to Texas and stayed there a while and came back to the Cherokee Nation and stayed until after the old Settler payment and went to Arkansas; we drew money in the old settler payment.

Q Your family all drew money in the old Settler's payment?

A Yes, sir.

Q In what year was that? A I think that was in '58, '1 or '2.

Q How long after that was it before you went into Arkansas?

A Right away after that.

Q How many years? A Oh, I guess probably inside of a year or such matter.

Q Where did you live in Arkansas? A Benton County.

Q How far from the line? A What line, Arkansas line or Missouri line.

Q The Cherokee Nation line? A It was about ten miles from Cherokee line up three miles from Missouri line.

Q What was your father's name? A Dan Fittle.

Q Who did your father get this man from? A Fellow by the name of John Grinnett.

Q When did he get him? A About '62.

Q Where did he get him from? A Down here about Haysville.

Q Who is Grinnett? A He is said to be the one of '62, who he bought him from.

Q Where did Grinnett live? A He lived down there in the Nation somewhere.

Q He was a Cherokee, Grinnett was? A I don't know whether he was or not.

Q Did you ever know Grinnetts? A No, sir.

Q Well, do you know what date it was that he bought this man?

A I think it was in '62 I think.

Q It was after the war had commenced? A Yes, sir.

Q It might have been in '60? A It was in '62. Somewhere along there as well as I remember about it.

Q You think it could not have been as late as 1864? A No, for we had him before he was bought, and we kept him there and went down on the Arkansas river and come back there and found Grinnett and bought him.

Q It was either in '60 or '5 your father bought him? A Yes, sir.

Q He had been captured and taken there? A Yes, sir, went down there and come back and he bought him.

Q Do you know who he had been captured from? A Only what he said; he said he belonged to as well as I remember, he belonged to Mrs.

Webber, and Mrs. Grinnett was daughter of Mr. Webber.

Q What was Webber's name? A I don't know.

Q Did you ever know Mr. Webber? A No, sir.

Q After Webber was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation when the war came up? A I don't know.

Q Now, you claim that your father owned this man in '62 or '61?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he own him? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Who lived near him when he owned him? A In the settlement near.

Q Yes. A The nearest fellow in the neighborhood was a man by the name of Baker, and James.

Q Are they living there now? A I guess they are all dead now.

Q Now, didn't you know that your father owned this man?

A Yes, sir.

Q And, I will mention, either at Haysville, Arkansas, and Eph Thompson that lived on Butler's creek where I lived, he is living there yet.

Q How long do you claim this man Robert Webber was with your father from the time you say your father bought him? A He must have been with him including the time we left, three or four years.

Q What time you say he left your father? A He left him in the fall of '86.

Q Well, it was a man named Grinnett that your father undertook to buy him from? A That is the man he bought him from.

Q After the man had been captured and taken out of the Indian Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And you don't know what right Grinnett had for selling if he had any? A No, sir, claimed he sold him.

COM'R NEEDLES: Ag I understand your father before that was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q And when did he come back to the Cherokee Nation?

A He come back in '87.

Q And was re-admitted? A Yes, sir.

Q And this darkey was not with him then? A No, sir.

MR. SMITH: Now, Mr. Tittle, you lived in Arkansas after you went out after the old settler payment; what property did your father have back in the Cherokee Nation? A He didn't have any when he lived there; he killed a man and they kept hunting him.

COM'R NEEDLES: He refuged over there? A Yes, sir, he stood his trial and come clear.

Q Where did he stand his trial? A Right on the line right close to High Cove at that time.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A In the State.

Q He killed a man in the State? A Killed an Indian in the State and tried him right at the place he killed him.

Q When he killed the Indian he was living in the Cherokee Nation?

A No, sir, he was living in the State; right within a quarter of where he killed him; but I had been born in the Nation.

MR. SMITH: What Court did they try him in in the State of Arkansas? A Arkansas Court.

Q What Court? A Courts from Bentonville come down there and tried him.

Q Tried him in Bentonville? A No, sir.

Q They had to have a Court there? A I don't know; they tried him at Cal Gunter's right on the edge of Lindsey's prairie.

Q It is the regular Circuit Court in Benton County, Arkansas, tried him? A I could not tell you; they come there and tried him.

Q What did they try him in? A Tried him in Cal Gunter's house.

Q You don't claim that it was a Court of the State of Arkansas?

A Yes, sir.

Q Come down to Cal Gunter's house? A Yes, sir.

Q They were very accommodating at that time?

A I can't tell you anything about that; that was where he was tried.

Q Well, now, during all that time he claimed to be a citizen of the Cherokee nation? A He was not at that time was tried because he was living in the State of Arkansas.

Q That didn't keep him from being a citizen because he was not living in the Cherokee Nation? A He was not a citizen at that time.

MR. DAVENPORT: This was a trial before a Justice of the Peace?

A I don't know; they had a trial and he come clear; I was a small boy, about five years old, there was about three hundred men with him and the Indians had gathered five or six hundred with them; and he was tried right there at the time.

COM'R NEEDLES: This will be made part of the record in the case at 427, and also B-628, B-663, B-661, B-680.

Q Well was it in '66? A Yes, sir.
Q How long was it from Christmas? A Why it was about the last part of Christmas just after Christmas; when I saw him at his father's.
Q Well, I don't understand you, what did you mean by saying it was February, '66, that is the first part of '66? A Yes, sir, that is the first part; I mean January, the last part of January, '66, it was after Christmas when I saw Jim of '66.
Q After Christmas? A Yes, sir, I mean about Christmas. It might have been the second week in Christmas.
Q Where did you see him first? A At his father's on Grand river..
Q Had you seen him before that? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you see him? A Saw him in the First Colored Regiment.
Q Where has Jim Landrum been living since the time you saw him at his father's on Grand river? A Sometimes on Lightning Creek, sometimes at his father's and sometimes on Grand river.
Q Well, now, let's see; I don't understand what you mean by the time you first saw him; I don't understand that; do you know the month it was? A No, I don't. It was about the last part of '66 when I saw Jim.
Q Well, about how far from Christmas, do you remember to state whether it was before Christmas or after Christmas?
A It was about that time, I remember I went over there and I saw Jim there and it was about the last part of '66.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q You saw him sometime after Christmas, '66? A Sometime.
Q You don't remember about how long after Christmas it was?
A No, sir, it was about the last part of '66.
Q You thought when you first stated that it was in February, '66?
A I am not positive.
Q Was it a bit February after the Christmas of '66 or not?
A I am not positive.
Q You know anyway it was after Christmas? A It was about the last part of '66.

Jim Landrum, et al.--8.

BY MR. SMITH:

- Q When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation? A I come back in '65 and I got back in the spring of '66, in the fall of '66.
- Q The third trip you made? A In the fall, among there, in October.
- Q About how long was it after you came back the third time until you saw Jim Landrum? A Sometime in December.
- Q About how many months? A I don't know exactly but it was the last part of '66 when I saw him.

COM'R BRACKINRIDGE: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and five children. It appears that the applicant was a slave of a Cherokee citizen and in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the Civil War. He is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1880 or upon that of 1896. In regard to his return to the Cherokee Nation after the Civil war, the testimony is conflicting. He states that he was a member of the First Kansas Colored Regiment, Company H; 79th U. S.; he defines it as the First Kansas, 79th U. S. Infantry, that he was mustered out with them at Leavenworth. It will be necessary to communicate with the war department to find out when and where that regiment was mustered out and if the applicant's name appears upon the Muster Roll to compare that data with the data now given. There seems to be no question that the applicant has lived in the Cherokee Nation consistently from the time he returned until to-day. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his post office address. It should be notes that his father and one or two of his brothers are on the roll of 1880, his mother died about the time of the close of the war and of course his father and brothers may have qualified under the treaty of 1866, without the applicant's having done so. He is now 53 years of age, or thinks he is of that age. As for his wife, Margaret, who is said to be now 51 years of age, it appears that she was in Kansas at the time the applicant first came to the Cherokee Nation and he returned to Kansas sometime after his first visit and there married her, and then brought her to the Nation. It seems that she was a slave of a citizen and in the Cherokee Nation at the time of the breaking out of the civil war and that her first return to the Cherokee Nation after the war was shortly after her marriage to the applicant. She is identified with him on the Kern-Clifton roll and she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, but as to her final qualification under the treaty of 1866, the evidence given in regard to her return will have to be carefully compared to that of the applicant himself, as he brought her back a year or more later than his first return. It seems that the applicant nor his wife was never previously married, and that they have lived together ever since their marriage, therefore their marriage seems to be lawful. In view of this fact there appears to be no bar to the enrollment of the five children applied for, provided the status of the applicant himself is satisfactorily established. These five children are identified on the roll of Kern-Clifton roll but not upon the roll of 1880. They are living and they will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card.

Jim Johnson, et al.,

J. A. Rosen, being first duly sworn, states that as witness regarding the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and presented it in this case, and that the recording is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

 Q Did you ever live in Neosho Falls? A 12 miles from there.
 Q At what place? A Iola.
 Q Did you get acquainted with a colored man named Jim Landrum there in Kansas? A Yes sir.
 Q Where was he living when you got acquainted with him? A Geneva, a little town close to Iola.
 Q After that where did he live? A Right in the country there all the time I knowed him.
 Q Have you ever seen him since he left there? A Yes sir.
 Q Where? A Here.
 Q Vinita? A Yes sir.
 Q Where is he living now? A North of here the other side of the mill.
 Q How long has he lived there? A Between five and six years.
 Q When did you see him in Kansas? A About '86.
 Q Did he have a family? A Yes sir.
 Q Do you know when he came there? A No sir.

(By Smith)

Q When did you first come to the Cherokee Nation? A I have been here off and on ever since the close of the war off and on.
 Q Mostly off or on? A On every six months or so I would come here.
 Q When did you first come? A I come right after the close of the war.
 Q How many places have you lived in Kansas? A I have lived in Lawrence and Topeka and Wichita and Iola.
 Q Any other places? A No sir not permanently. I have been in other places, I didn't live there though. I did stay a while in Coffeyville.

In the matter of the application of Jane Riley for enrollment
as a Cherokee Freedman:

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-600.

Applicants represented by Melette & Smith.
Cherokee Nation represented by J. S. Davenport.

C. W. LEARNED, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

- MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A C. W. Learned.
- Q Where do you live? A Neosho Falls.
- Q What is your age? A 46.
- Q How long have you lived at Neosho Falls, Kansas Mr. Learned?
- A Ever since '67.
- Q After you went to Neosho Falls, Kansas, did you get acquainted with a family of colored people by the name of Landrum? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long after you went to Neosho Falls did you learn to know them, Mr. Learned? A Why about '68.
- Q What were the names of the Landrums that you knew there, the older ones, Mr. Learned? A Jack and Jim.
- Q Did they have a family there?? A Yes sir.
- Q Where did they live with reference to where you lived, Mr. Learned? A Lived on my father's farm.
- Q On your father's place; do you remember the names of any of their family, of the children? A Why some of them I remember Ed Landrum that was the son of James, a girl named Alice, one named Frances, and one named Hattie, and one named Bell, and one named, boy, named John, and some more of them.
- Q How long did either Jim or Jack Landrum, or either of them, continue to live on your father's place there near Neosho Falls to your knowledge? A Well Jim Landrum lived there from '68 to the time he left there. Well he didn't live there all the time on the place, he left after he had lived there about eighteen years; he left and come down here, but Jack Landrum, he lived there in '68.
- Q Did Jack Landrum have a family? A Yes, sir.
- Q And Jim Landrum lived there until about when? A I think he come to town about '84 or '85, and then come down here.
- Q That makes you remember that Jack Landrum lived there until about '80? A Why a fellow named Hanks had come out from Illinois to our place, and we went out fishing, and we concluded we would rather go where the darkies were holding a meeting, and he got in trouble with them and into a fight with Jim, or that is he wanted to, and he made a disturbance, and so then he come back, and we went over to town, and he got in trouble there in town, and they arrested him and he had a trial.
- Q Well now do you remember who were the witnesses in that case?
- A Tom Daniels was one.
- Q Tell do you remember any one else, whether any one else was a witness or not. Did you ever know a Ben Landrum up there? A No, sir, I never knowed a Ben Landrum.

Q Do you know where either of the Landrum families moved to when they left your father's place or that neighborhood? A Why, yes, sir, Jim Landrum moved to town.

Q Well where did Jack Landrum go? A Jack he pulled out, I don't know where he went. I suppose he came back down here.

Q Now from the time you went to Neosho Falls—that was in what year? A We went to Neosho Falls?

Q Yes sir. A Came there in '57.

Q Well, now when did Jack and Jim Landrum move on your father's place with reference to the close of the war, whether it was before or after? A Well this was after the war, '68 was the first I recollect of then.

Q Well now then they lived on your father's farm until about then? A Yes, sir, on there in '68.

Q Jack or Jim moved away first? A Jack moved away first.

Q When do you think now he left the farm? A Well I don't know as I could just say when he left. but he didn't stay there very long after that.

Q And Jim stayed there several years? A Yes sir.

Q How many children had Jim when he came on your father's farm? A Didn't have any just married.

Q Did you know what his oldest child's name was? A Yes sir.

Q What is it? A Called her Alice.

Q What was the next one? A Ed.

Q Was Jim Landrum's family there when you say Ed was born? A Living on our place.

Q There near Neosho Falls? A Yes, sir, in two miles of the falls, on my father's farm.

Q Well, since the birth of Ed have you ever seen him any since that time? A Yes, sir, he stayed there x on the place till he grew up to be quite a chunk of a boy, and then he struck out and went to Wichita and that's the first place I know when he left.

Q How long since you seen Ed? A Oh, it's been quite awhile. He was back there once, but I didn't get to see him.

Q About how old would he be now Mr. Learned? A Well, he must be in the neighborhood of thirty years, I think, somewhere along there.

Q How many children did Jim Landrum, about how many do you think that was born while he was living on your father's place? A Eight or ten.

MR. MELLETT: When did you say your people first moved up there? A '57.

Q You remember that do you? A I remember when I first moved there, yes, sir.

Q You was a year old at that time, wasn't you? A '57.

Q Now you have said you remember when they moved there, and they moved there in '57; now you have said that your people moved there in '57, and that you remember it, didn't you? A Well, I don't know as I remember.

Q Well you swore it just now, that you remembered, and it's down there, and you're forty-six years old, and yet can remember when you was a year old, when you swear that you remember when your people moved there, don't you? A '57.

Q Huh? A '57. Well I knowed them in '59.

Q Well you swear you remember? A But I don't know as I remember.

Q Why didn't you swear just now that you remember when your people moved there, didn't you? A I don't know as I did.

Q Didn't you just swear—I ask you in the presence of all these witnesses—swear that you remembered when your people moved there in '57, now answer whether you said that or not? A I don't think I did.

Q You swear that x do you; read the record.
(Record read).

Q Now don't you think that's rather wild swearing?

Mr. DAVENPORT: I object to that question.

Mr. BELLETTE: Don't you think that's rather wild swearing?

COMMISSION: Answer the question, Mr. Learned.

A Swearing that I knew when I moved there in '57?

Mr. BELLETTE: Yes, sir, A No, I don't recollect when I moved there in '57.

Q What made you swear it then? A Don't know as I understood the question.

Q Well I asked the question straight out; how old were you in '68? A About 11.

Q About eleven years old, and you remember the dates this length of time and exactly when these people left there, and every thing of that sort, do you? A I remember because of the incident I told.

Q What incident? A The man getting in trouble and being arrested.

Q Can you remember the witnesses that appeared that length of time ago when you were only eleven years old? A Well Tom Daniels was a brother of Jim's, that's the reason I remember that.

Q You were eleven years old at that time wasn't you? A Yes, sir.

Q And you remember all about that? A Well, I don't remember all about it.

Q Were you at the trial? A No, sir.

Q How do you know who were the witnesses then? A Jim told me.

Q You're testifying to what people told you, are you? A I wasn't at the trial.

Q You don't know who were the witnesses, do you? A Jim said—

Q But I am not talking about what people said, but what you know about it? A I wasn't at the trial myself.

Q You don't know who were the witnesses? A Only what they said.

Q Do you remember when Jack Landrum left that country? A No, sir. I do not.

Q Didn't you say awhile ago that he left there in '68? A No, I said he might have been away in '68, but I knew him there, '68, he was on our place in '68. Jack Landrum was there in '68.

Q Don't you know that he is on the 1880 roll as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, I don't—

Mr. DAVENPORT: I object to that because that's not evidence of where he was.

Mr. BELLETTE: I would like to have the roll examined. I would like this testimony to show that John Landrum is on the 1880 roll, because—

Mr. DAVENPORT: That's no evidence where he was in '68.

COMMISSION: 1880 roll page 121, No. 1681, John Landrum, Cooweescoowee District, Adopted Colored.

Mr. BELLETTE: Now there isn't any possibility of your forgetting the date exactly, being as you was only 11 years old at that time, was there? A I might have if it hadn't been for that trial.

Q You wasn't at the trial? A Well, I might have been talking about it.

Q What makes that trial impress upon you the fact? A Why that made me think when we was out there at the meeting.

Q What meeting? A Dark meeting.
Q When was that meeting? A That must have been along in about May, I guess.
Q Well do you remember every body that you saw up there when you was 11 years old? A No, sir.
Q Huh? A Don't know, sir, as I remember, if they hadn't been living on our place.
Q Who lived on your place? A Jack Landrum and Jim.
Q Jack Landrum and Jim; where were they in '66? A Couldn't tell you.
Q Don't know where Jack Landrum or where Jim Landrum was in '66?
A No, sir.
Q '67 where were they? A I couldn't tell you.
Q Don't know whether they were there or not, do you? A No, sir,

MR. DAVENPORT: You know that after that they lived on your father's place? A Yes sir.
Q And you know that Jim Landrum's children were born while they were living on the place? A Yes sir.

COMMISSION: The following is offered in evidence by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation:
"State of Kansas)
Woodson County.)ss.

I, A. C. Woodruff, Clerk of the District Court within and for said county and state above named, do hereby certify that the case of the State of Kansas vs. Booth Hanks was continued from the October Term, 1868, to the April term 1869, of the District Court of Woodson County, Kansas. I further certify that Thomas Daniels and Ben Landrum were witnesses in said case as the same appears on record in my office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 25th day of April, 1902.
(Seal)

A. C. Woodruff, Clerk."

MR. MELLETTE: Did you ever see that certificate? A No, sir, I haven't seen it.

Q Did you ever look at the record to find out who were witnesses in that case? A I never looked at it myself.

Q Who did look at it? A A man by the name of Keys.

Q Mr. Keys who was up there helping the Cherokee Nation find out who were witnesses in that case you speak of and then told you, didn't he? A I told him where he could find it; to go to Center, the county-seat, and he could find the record.

COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-601, D-603, D-605, D-664, D-698, D-700, D-701, D-702, D-1112, and in D-600, the case at bar.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

COMMISSION TO THE EAST PARTIED 1905
DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

AS LIND CHAIRMAN

I, Margaret Grutsinger, being first duly sworn state that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I made the foregoing and that the same is a true and correct copy of the original transcript.

Margaret Grutsinger

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of May, 1902.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Mollata & Smith, Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17202 filed in the Mariak Hayden case F D 498, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariak Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Jim Lathrop, D 404;

By W. W. Hastings:

Come now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariak Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases, including the Mariak Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decrees already referred to in the case of Moses Whitwire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings;

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Appearances:

J. S. Davenport and L. B. Bell, Attorneys for Cherokee Nation.

JAMES LANDRUM, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A James Landrum.

Q How old are you? A I reckon I must be about between fifty-five and -six. I don't know my age exactly.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q In what district do you live? A Cooweescoowee.

Q Is Margaret Landrum your wife? A Yes sir.

Q When did you first get acquainted with your wife? A That has been about forty years ago, I guess.

Q Did you know her before the war? A No sir.

Q Do you know when she returned to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes sir.

Q Did she come back the same time you did? A No sir, not the same time I did.

Q When did you first see her after the war? A I first seen her the winter after the war.

Q What time in the winter? A Along about Christmas. Let's see. Yes, I seen her before the war, I am certain I did.

Q I am asking you after the war, when did you first see her after the war? A After the war I first seen her, the first winter after the war. I was a soldier, and when I got my discharge and come home to my people, then that's the time I seen her.

Q Was that before Christmas or after? A It was just right in Christmas.

Q Was that the first year after the war? A Yes sir, I think so, I know it was the first year after the war.

Q Where did you see her at that time? A Seen her in Lynn County, Ottumwa, Kansas.

Q You first saw her in Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q The first year after the war? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay there? A She stayed there until that spring.

Q Until the following spring? A Yes sir.

Q Had she been down, at the time you saw her, had she been down in the Cherokee Nation since the war? A I married her and brought her down the next spring.

Q That would be the second year after the war? A Let's see, I was discharged along in the winter, and that Christmas I got acquainted with her, got to going with her, and that spring following we was married.

Q Then when did you bring her down to the Cherokee Nation? A That spring.

Q Right after you were married? A Yes sir.

Q How did you come down here then? A Come down with a wagon and team.

Q Who came down with you besides your wife? A There was a whole team of us.

Q Name as many as you can? A There was Arch Landrum, Al Lynch, Simon Lynch, Arch's family, a white man named Louis Vittito, another white man named George Reckwell. Then there was a lot of them ahead of us just at the same time. There was Lewis Rowe's family.

Q Any more than a week apart? A No, it wasn't that long.

Q Who was in that crowd right ahead of you? Lewis Rowe, who else?

A Lewis, we was ahead of him, and right after we come there was another crowd. Reuben Downing and his crowd come.

Q Who else was with Reuben Downing? A I don't know, just his family, I think. Just him and his family.

Q Where did you and Margaret come to at that time? A Come on the river here.

Q What river? A Grand river.

Q In what district? Couldn't -

Q In what nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q Near whose place did you settle? A We settled on Johnson Thompson's place, Jess Cockrum was living there then.

Q Who else was living there besides Jess Cockrum? A His family.

Q Who else? A Uncle Arch Landrum.

Q Anybody else living around there? A Right around there in the neighborhood? There was no one then in that neighborhood but us at that time. Then we moved west on the road.

Q How where did you and Margaret live after you came here? A We lived right on the Bob Downing place, on the road.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you and Margaret lived in the Cherokee Nation since you ~~you~~ came back after the war? A We have lived in the Cherokee Nation off and on, I couldn't tell you. Then we moved back and forth up and down the river to her father's, and made anfield there.

Q Have you and your wife lived out of the Cherokee Nation since you came back? A No sir.

Q Have you ever lived in Kansas? A I worked in Kansas.

Q Was your wife there with you? A No sir.

Q Has your wife ever been out of the Cherokee Nation since you came back after the war? A She was out of the Cherokee Nation when I married her.

Q Since you married her and came back? A No sir.

Q Has she lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation since she came back after the war? A Yes sir.

Q You say you were out to work? How long would you stay at a time?

A I don't know how long I did work. I worked up there in Parsons when Parsons was growing up new, when they were making the town. I went back up there and worked in Parsons.

Q How long would you stay there at a time? A I would stay there sometimes two or three months, sometimes a month or so.

Q Did you keep your household property and furniture down here in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q You never took your wife up in Kansas with you? A No sir.

Q Have you and your wife always counted this your home since you came back after the war? A Yes sir, we was bred and born here.

Q How long have you and your wife lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation without going out to work? A All along, right along.

Q You said a while ago you went out to Parsons, Kansas? A I went out, but I didn't take her.

Q How long have you lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation?

A Pretty near all my life, except the time I was in the war.

Q I am talking about since the war? A I have lived in the Cherokee Nation all along, right along from Fort Gibson up and down this river.

Q All along for how long? Since what time? When was the last time you went to Kansas to work? A The last time I went to Kansas to work was when Parsons was just, I can't tell when it was, Parsons was just coming up.

Q Was that before 1880? A Yes sir, I reckon so. I can't read and write.

Q Do you remember when the census takers came around in 1880?

A No sir.

Q Do you remember when the wallace roll was made? A Yes sir.

Q Have you and your wife lived together continuously in the Cherokee Nation since the Wallace roll was made? A Yes sir.

Q Never been out? A No sir.

Q Were your children all born in the Cherokee Nation?

A Pretty much, yes sir.

Q Were they ever out, any of them? A Yes sir, I had one girl out.

Q What was she doing? A I couldn't tell what she was doing.

Q What is her name? A Frances.

Q She is not included in this application. You applied for your children Jessie, John, Jim, Jr., Barbara and Nelson. Were they all born in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Have they lived here all their lives? A Yes sir.

Q Are they still living? A Yes sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your oldest child's name? A Alice.

Q Your next one? A Ed.

Q Your next one? A Frances.

Q And the next one? A Lizzie.

Q Did you ever have a Hattie in your family? A Yes sir.

Q Ever have one called Belle? A Yes sir.

Q One you called John? A Yes sir.

Q When did you say you and your wife came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A We came back on the river.

Q What year? A It was right after the war.

Q Did you ever know a man by the name of Ben Landrum? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know a man by the name of Tom Daniels?

A Colored man?

Q Yes. A Yes sir.

Q Where was you living when you first knew them after the war?

A Me and him was soldiers together.

Q When you were discharged from the army, where did you and he first locate? A I don't know where he located.

Q Where did you go when you was discharged from the war?

A Ottumwa, Kansas.

Q How far is Ottumwa from Neosho Falls? A Couldn't tell you.

Q Did you ever live in the town of Neosho Falls, or within two miles of that town, Neosho Falls, Kansas? A No sir.

Q Did you ever know a man by the name of C. W. Leonard? A No sir.

Q Did you ever have a brother who went by the name of Jack Landrum, who lived near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Jack Landrum lives out on Lightning Creek.

Q Is he kin to you? A He is a brother.

Q You had a brother by the name of Jack Landrum? A John.

Q I want to read this to you, and ask you if it is true. This question was put to C. W. Leonard, of Neosho Falls, Kansas, and answered as follows: "On your father's place, do you remember the name of any of their family, of the children? A Why some of them I remember. Ed Landrum, that was the son of James, a girl named Alice, one named Frances, and one named Hattie, and one named Belle, and one, boy, named John." That is referring to a man who is an applicant by the name of James Landrum Sr., and this man states that he knew the given names? A I don't know that family. It is all false.

Q Did you ever live in Kansas within about two miles of Neosho Falls, on a man's farm by the name of Leonard? A No sir.

Q These names given here by Mr. Leonard correspond exactly to your children's names, don't they? A Yes sir, so far.

Q You moved on Mr. Learned's farm in 1868, didn't you?
 A I don't know, sir.
 Q When was you and your wife married? A I said we was married the next spring after the war. I don't know the dates or nothing of that kind, I can't read.
 Q I am simply asking you the facts, these facts you can remember. Now I will ask you another thing, if, when the 1880 roll was made, if you wasn't then living at Neosho Falls on old man Learned's place?
 A No sir.
 Q I will ask you if you didn't live --
 A At that time I think I was in Fort Gibson.
 Q I will ask you if you didn't move from Mr. Learned's farm in 1882 to the town of Neosho Falls there, and remain until 1884 and part of 1885? A No sir.
 Q Where did Tom Daniels live? A I couldn't tell you a thing about Tom Daniels. Tom Daniels went from one place to the other. I heard he had consumption.
 Q Where did Ben Landrum live, Charlie Landrum's father? A Ben Landrum lived out east of here.
 Q When you knew him after the war, where did he live? You mean old Ben Landrum, colored Ben Landrum. I don't know the colored Ben. I know the white Ben Landrum.
 Q Did you know in 1868 a man by the name of Hanks, coming from Illinois and going to Neosho Falls, Kansas, and he got into a difficulty, in which Tom ~~Landrum~~ Daniels and Ben Landrum were used as witnesses? A No sir, I don't know anything about it.
 Q Ed Landrum is your son? A Yes sir.
 Q He is the one that is living over to Wichita, Kansas?
 A I don't know where he is living.
 Q That's where he was living when he made application, wasn't it?
 A I don't know whether it was Wichita or Winfield.
 Q It is one of those towns? He came from there to Muskogee to make application? A I couldn't tell you.

ARCH LANDRUM, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY COMMISSION: What is your name? A Arch Landrum.
 Q How old are you? A I don't know my age? I guess I am close on to seventy.
 Q What is your post office? A Ketchum.
 Q In what district do you live? A Delaware.
 Q Do you know Jim Landrum, Sr.? A Yes sir, I know him.
 Q Who was his father? A George Landrum.
 Q Who was his mother? A Peggy Landrum.
 Q Was Jim Landrum, Sr., any relation to you? A No sir.
 Q Did he belong to the same man? A No sir.
 Q Did you know Jim Landrum before the war? A Yes sir.
 Q Who did he belong to Aaron Landrum.
 Q Was he a Cherokee? A Yes sir.
 Q Did Jim belong to Aaron Landrum before the commencement of the war?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Was Jim taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war?
 A He went out, I guess he was taken out.
 Q When did he return? A He come back a little before the boys that came back with me. The time wasn't up yet for us to come back, but we come back in that time.
 Q Did anybody else come back at that time with him? A All my folks come back.

Q Who were they, your folks? A My wife and children, I had five or six children, and Lewis Rowe's outfit was right ahead of us, and Al Lynch and Simon Lynch.

Q Who else? A A couple of white men, one named Vittitoe, and I forget the other ones names

Q When did you come back after the war, what year? A I don't know what year. I know we was all to get here in '66, and I come here before that time.

Q Did you bring Jim Landrum back before the treaty was made?

A Yes sir.

Q Where did you come to? A A place called Ketchum's now, stopped with Jess Cockrum.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you and Jim stay there? A I stayed there until along the last of March. I crossed the river then and went on to Bob Downing's place, and went and put in a crop of corn.

Q How long did Jim stay in the Cherokee Nation when he came with you? A He stayed a good while.

Q Did he stay as long as two or three years? A No, not that long.

Q As long as a year? A About six months, I think, the first time he come; he went back.

Q Back where? A To Kansas, and came right straight back. He had some of his family down here. His dad had come then.

Q Was he living here in the Cherokee Nation when the treaty was made?

A Yes sir.

Q How long did ~~you~~ live here after that? A How long after that? I couldn't say. He went back to Kansas and got another load, and that was in '66. I couldn't tell you exactly when. Me and him went down to Tahlequah to move my mother.

Q Was Jim and Margaret married before they came down here?

A Now I couldn't tell you much about that.

Q Did his wife, Margaret, come down with you? A No sir.

Q She didn't come down the first time, the time you brought Jim?

A Not the first time I come.

Q When did you first see Margaret Landrum? A It was the next time after he came here, her dad was living right close by me. She went right on the river there.

MR. BELL: When was that, he wants to know? A I couldn't tell you.

BY COMMISSION: How long was that after the close of the war when you first saw Margaret? A It was, - he went back in Kansas and come again.

Q Was that in '66, or '7, or '8, or when? A I think it was along about '67.

Q You don't think Margaret came down here until '67? A Somewhere along there, as near as I can recollect.

Q That is the first time you saw her in the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes sir.

Q What colored people did you find living here when you came down with Jim? A There wasn't any in here but Cherokees. There wasn't no colored people at all but what come with me.

Q You brought Jim with you the first time you came down after the war? A Yes sir.

Q Was that after the close of the war? A The war was closed, yes sir.

Q How long did Jim and Margaret Landrum live in the Cherokee Nation after the war, how many years, how long did they stay here?

A Jim and Margaret, I couldn't tell you, they were living right where I was. I don't know how long they did stay there. I lived at a different place.

Q Have you seen them often since the close of the war?

A Yes sir, I have seen them often, tolerably often.

Q Where have Jim and Margaret been living the last twenty years?

A I couldn't tell you that. I know they was here and drew their Strip money twenty years ago. I made a mistake; twenty years ago she was down at her dad's.

Q You have applied to the Commission for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman, haven't you? A Yes sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: Arch, where was Jim when the war closed?

A Neosho Falls, Kansas.

Q Now, was you there at that time? A At Neosho?

Q Yes. A I was living there.

Q How long did Jim stay there after the war closed? A After the war closed he came right off with me. We had to come here in such a time.

Q Just answer the question. Did Jack Landrum, or John Landrum, the brother of James, ever live at Neosho Falls, Kansas, Jack or John?

A This Jack out there.

Q Did he ever live at Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir, he lived up there.

Q What did they do in the way of work while they were up there, if you know, Arch? A Farmed a little.

Q Did you ever know a colored man by the name of Ben Landrum up there at Neosho Falls, that belonged to the Landrums? A Yes sir.

Q Ever know a colored man by the name of Tom Daniels up there at Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know what became of them? A Old man Ben, he died up here to Chetopa when we come down. He died up there.

Q Where did Tom die? A He died up there to Kansas.

Q Did you and Jim Landrum remain at Neosho Falls, Kansas, until Ben Landrum left there and came to Chetopa? A I came off and left Ben there.

Q Where? A At Neosho, then afterwards he came on down pretty soon, and stopped at Chetopa. He died there.

Q Have you any idea how long you had been away from Neosho Falls when Ben came up there to Chetopa? A He didn't stay in Kansas very long after that.

Q And Ben Landrum, and Tom Daniels, and yourself and Jim Landrum the applicant in this case, did live at Neosho Falls, Kansas?

A Yes sir, we lived to Neosho Falls, not in town, but in the neighborhood.

Q Was Jim Landrum married at the time you lived at Neosho Falls?

A Jim was in the army.

Q Was he married before he came down here, the time you say you came with him? A He climbed on there, I couldn't tell much about it.

Q He told you as you came down whether he had a wife or not, didn't he? A I don't know.

Q You know whether he had a wife or not when you started down here together? A We sure came together.

Q I say he had a wife or family? A He had one when he came back.

Q Did Jim say at the time he came down here that he had a wife?

A He didn't say.

Q After the time you came down here, back to the Cherokee Nation, did Jim come down here with a wife? How many years was it?

A After he went back?

A Yes. A He went back a time or two. He didn't come back once. He had a lot of plunder and went back several times.

Q Who is correct, he or you? He says he didn't get back at all, and you say he did, which is correct? A Didn't he tell you he went up?

Q He sir, he didn't. He says he has been living down here continually. He says he went back up to Parsons and worked a while.

A Then he helped me to move back, he went back up to Kansas, and when he came back we went to Tahlaquah to save my mother.

Q Has Jim Landrum any children? A Yes sir.
 Q Do you know the name of the oldest child? A No, I don't.
 Q Is it Alice? A Might be.
 Q You don't know? A They didn't stay around me, didn't pay much attention to it.
 Q Do you know whether or not he has one by the name of Ed?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Where was Ed born? A Couldn't tell you.
 Q How far have you been living from Jim Landrum since he moved his family down to the Cherokee Nation? A I live on the river, and he lives in town.
 Q How far was that from where you lived? A About five or six miles.
 Q How when he brought his wife down to the Cherokee Nation, did he have any children born at that time? A I think he did.
 Q How many? A Never counted them. She had a whole lot of children.
 Q When he brought his wife down here to the Cherokee Nation they had some children the nearly grown, didn't they, Arch?
 A I think they did.
 Q I will ask you if the Boy John Landrum wasn't quite a good-sized boy? A I think so.
 Q That is about the sixth child of the family? A I guess so, I don't know just how many children he has got.
 Q You remember one by the name of Alice? A Yes sir.
 Q One by the name of Frances? A Yes sir.
 Q You remember one by the name of Ed? A That's a boy.
 Q One by the name of Hattie, and one by the name of Belle?
 A No sir, I don't.
 Q One by the name of John? A I don't know all of Jim's children at all.
 Q You remember that he has one by the name of John? A I remember hearing him call that.
 Q Didn't Jim Landrum, for the first time since the close of the Civil War, move his family from Neosho Falls, Kansas, to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1884, or winter, of 1885? Answer me yes or no?
 A I don't know whether he did or not. Couldn't tell you either way.
 Q Had you ever seen his wife and children in the Cherokee Nation prior to 1884, that's before that time?

MR. BELL: That will be twenty years ago.

A Yes sir, I saw her at her dad's.

MR. DAVENPORT: After you left Neosho Falls, Kansas, and came down in '65, did you ever go back to Neosho Falls? A No, I didn't go back, never did, aint been back since.
 Q Where was Jim Landrum living when the 1880 roll was made?
 A Where Jim Landrum you mean?
 Q Where was he living? A I don't know where he was living, it must have been here in town.
 Q Where was he living when the 1881 payment was made? A Couldn't keep track of all that.
 Q As a matter of fact, you don't know anything about Jim Landrum or his family, until the last fifteen years? A No sir, I don't, only what I been telling you.
 Q You came here today to testify for him, didn't you? A That's what he wanted me for.
 Q Then you mean to say - he didn't tell you what the Commission wanted? A He never spoke to me about it.
 Q Is this the first time you have testified in this case?
 A Yes sir, the first time I ever testified in this case.

Q Did you ever know any one of the name of "Barnes" in Kaonhe Falls and around the river, and who lived in Kaonhe Falls?
 A Yes, I know him. I know him.
 Q You know him? Is he a white man or a colored man?
 A He is a white man.
 Q You remember that you saw him in the Kaonhe Falls?
 A Yes, I do.
 Q Where was he living at that time? A Living near the Kaonhe Falls, in the neighborhood of Kaonhe Falls, at that time.

COMMISSIONER OF THE LANDS
 JUL 10 1893

Q Now, did you ever see any one of the name of "Barnes" in the Kaonhe Falls, and who lived in Kaonhe Falls?
 A Yes, I know him. I know him.
 Q You know him? Is he a white man or a colored man?
 A He is a white man.
 Q You remember that you saw him in the Kaonhe Falls?
 A Yes, I do.
 Q Where was he living at that time? A Living near the Kaonhe Falls, in the neighborhood of Kaonhe Falls, at that time.

Wm. H. H. H. H.

Q Did you ever know a man by the name of Learned in Neosho Falls who owned a farm out on the river, and who lived in town himself?
A Right in town, I think I did.
Q You remember the circumstances of a fellow named Hanks getting into a row with the colored people and was arrested? A Yes sir.
Q You remember that Tom Dan iels and Ben Landrum were witnesses?
A Yes sir.
Q Where was Jim Landrum living at that time? A Living around there somewhere.
Q He was still living in the neighborhood of Neosho Falls at that time? A Yes sir.

Wm. Hutchinson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly reported the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

D E C I S I O N

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen were made to this Commission by Jim Landrum, Sr., for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Margaret Landrum, and his minor children, Jessie, John, Jim, Jr., Barbara and Nelson Landrum; by Frances Banks for herself and her minor children, Earl and McKinley Banks; subsequent to the date of the last mentioned application an affidavit was filed with the Commission showing the birth of another child, Martine Banks, on September 23, 1901, and the same is made a part of the record herein; by Belle Landrum for herself and her minor child, Velma Landrum; by Alice Lynch for herself and her minor child, Laura Lynch; by Lissie Allen for herself and her minor children, Emma Landrum, Viola Landrum and Frank Allen; and by Ed Landrum for himself. Copies of the testimony taken at various times in the matter of the applications of Jane Wiley, Cherokee Freedmen D 600, and Selia Kirkpatrick, et al., Cherokee Freedmen D 678, are made a part of the record herein.

The evidence shows that the said Jim Landrum, Sr., and Margaret Landrum were the slaves of Cherokee citizens at the commencement of the rebellion; that during said rebellion Margaret Landrum was taken to Kansas, and Jim Landrum also went out of the Cherokee Nation and joined the United States Army, but he returned to said Nation and was residing therein within the time specified, in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, etc., vs. The Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Freedmen to said Nation; that in the Spring of 1867 said Jim Landrum, Sr., went to Kansas, where he married said Margaret Landrum, and some time thereafter brought her to the Cherokee Nation. All the other applicants herein are the descendants of said Jim Landrum, Sr., born since 1866, and claim right to enrollment through him.

None of the names of the applicants herein are found on the 1866 authenticated Cherokee roll.

It does not appear that Jim Landrum has ever removed from the Cherokee Nation with his effects and become a citizen of another government. On the contrary it is shown that he has continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation since the making of the Wallace roll in 1890. It further appears that all the other adult applicants herein have kept their permanent residence in said Nation since birth, though Alice Lynch, Linnie Allen and M Landrum have been living without said Nation at various periods for temporary purposes. The residence of the minor applicants herein is considered to have been, since birth, with the respective parents through whom they claim.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Jim Landrum, Sr.; Jennie Landrum, John Landrum, Jim Landrum, Jr., Barbara Landrum, Nelson Landrum, Frances Banks, Earl Banks, Mortimer Banks, Hortense Banks, Belle Landrum, Volan Landrum, Alice Lynch, Laura Lynch, Linnie Allen, Emma Landrum, Viola Landrum, Frank Allen and M Landrum should be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21 of the Act of Congress, approved June 20, 1906 (34 Stats., 495); and that the application for the enrollment of Margaret Landrum as a Cherokee Freedman should be denied, under the provisions of said Section 21, and it is so ordered.

PROTEST AND MOTION TO REOPEN.

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and respectfully protests against the decision of the Commission rendered in this case on August 29th 1904 and respectfully moves the Commission to reopen these cases in order that newly discovered additional testimony might be introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation to refute the claims of the applicants.

In support of this motion the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation state that they are in possession of newly discovered testimony which, if introduced would conclusively show that none of the applicants in said cases returned to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty of 1866 and that among other witnesses they can prove:

First by Abbie Bearden of Neosho Falls, Kansas that said James Landrum through whom all of the applicants claim came to the State of Kansas during the war of the rebellion where he continued to reside, near Neosho Falls, Kansas continuously until about the year of 1869 where he lived with his family and where a number of his children were born and that he did not come back to the Cherokee Nation until after that time.

Second The Nation expects to prove by Thomas Shelton of Neosho Falls, Kansas that he knew the applicants; that they were residents of the State of Kansas from during the Civil War for a number of years thereafter or until about the year of 1869.

Third; The Nation Expects to prove by a daughter of Abbie Bearden and by a number of other witnesses whose names are not now recalled, that none of the applicants herein returned to the Cherokee Nation prior to February 11, 1867 but at that time resided in the State of Kansas where they continued to reside until about twenty years thereafter.

Fourth; That this motion is not made for the purposes of delay, but that the testimony is newly discovered and in order that justice be done.

In support of this motion it might be pointed out that the testimony of the applicant himself as to his return and residence subsequent to the war of the rebellion is very unsatisfactory and the testimony of the applicant in the case of Celia Kirkpatrick V. D. 673, who is a sister, shows that the principal applicant herein is unreliable, that he is unworthy of belief and it is so stated by Commissioner Breckinridge who heard the case in the field.

Attention is also invited to the fact that none of the applicants or other witnesses who testify in behalf of the applicants testify that with no degree of certainty as to the continuous residence of the applicants in the Cherokee Nation subsequent to the war and among the witnesses introduced in behalf of the applicants, John Landrum of Hayden I. T. and Harry Still of Hayden I. T. both known to the Commission to be disreputable witnesses and in the case of Harry Still the Commission has repeatedly found that he himself did not return to the Cherokee Nation and while the name of John Landrum appears upon the roll of 1866 proof can be obtained which will conclusively show to the Commission that the said John Landrum himself did not return to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty of 1866.

Attention is also invited to the testimony introduced in behalf of the Cherokee Nation being that of G. R. Griffith of Vinita I. T. who knew James Landrum at Neosho Falls, Kansas for ten or twelve years which directly contradicts the testimony of the said Jim Landrum and his witnesses and the testimony of George Gravens shows that he knew the applicant in the State of Kansas for a number of years. And in addition to the above witnesses your attention is invited to the testimony of G. W. Learned of Neosho Falls who knew James Landrum also Jack Landrum who is Jim Landrum's brother-in-law witness John in the State of Kansas for a number of years thereafter.

After a careful examination of said case and from an examination of the newly discovered testimony we are firmly convinced that these applicants are not entitled to be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation and therefore for the reasons herein above indicated move the Commission to reopen the case in order that this newly discovered testimony might be introduced showing that the said Jim Landrum did not return to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the Treaty of 1866.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.
MUSKOGEE, I. T., FEBRUARY 2, 1908.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS had in the matter of the application for the enrollment of JIM LANDRUM SR., ET AL., as Cherokee freedmen.

It appears from the records of the Commission that on January 13, 1908, the applicants, their attorneys, and the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation were duly notified by letter that they would be permitted to appear before the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 2, 1908, and introduce testimony touching the points mentioned in said letter.

APPEARANCES:

Applicant, Jim Landrum Sr., appears in person and by Attorneys, Blue & Bulger.
Cherokee Nation by its representatives, Bell, Hastings & Davenport.

Testimony introduced on behalf of the Cherokee Nation.

E. B. MOORE, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY THE COMMISSION:

Q What is your name? A E. B. Moore.

Mr. Blue: The applicant objects to the introduction of the testimony of this witness because the pretest and motion for re-opening does not contain his name or any statements to what he will testify.

Commission: Objection noted.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q What is your post office address? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.

Q What is your age? A My age is 37.

Q How long have you lived in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A I have lived near Neosho Falls, Kansas, every since the year, 1880.

Q During the time that you lived at Neosho Falls, Kansas, did you get acquainted with a colored man named James Landrum? A Yes sir.

Q About what year did you get acquainted with James Landrum? A I got acquainted with him almost immediately after the close of the war.

Q About what year Mr. Moore do you think it was? A I think I might have met him in 1865, but I knew him in 1866, fall of 1866.

Q Do you know whether or not he had a family at that time? A I think he hadn't at that time.

Q After you learned to know this colored man as James Landrum, which you state was in the fall of 1866, how long did you continue to know him after that time before he went away from the neighborhood where you were living? A At that time he was kind a stopping with his folks there.

- Q Do you remember their names? A Yes sir.
- Q What was it? A He had a brother-in-law, he is now dead, by the name of Tom Daniels, a brother-in-law married Landrum's sister.
- Q Do you know what her name was, the wife of Tom Daniels? A I have heard her name, it seems to me, I don't know whether it is Gelia, I would not be positive about it.
- Q Was he living with Tom Daniels at the time you learned to know him? A I only saw him mingling around with that family and another family that lived on our place, their names were Landrums also.
- Q Do you know the old man of the family that lived on that place at that time? A I don't remember any old man Landrum, I remember the old lady.
- Q What was the old lady's name? A I have forgotten just now, she had a couple of children, one was named July Landrum and another one named Sam I think, they called him Wart.
- Q Where were they living with reference to the town of Neosho Falls at that time? A They lived on my brother's place about a mile from Neosho Falls.
- Q On whose farm? A My brother's.
- Q Do you know whether or not after you got acquainted with James Landrum that he married and had a family? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you ever see his wife? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know what her name was? A I couldn't tell you her first name.
- Q Where did he live first to your knowledge after he married and had a wife? A After he married he lived for quite awhile down on Mr. Learned's farm.
- Q How far was that from Neosho Falls Mr. Moore? A That place was about two miles south and east.
- Q About how often would you see Jim Landrum after he married?
- A I don't know, I would see him like I would any other neighbor in the country, I might see him once a week and I might not perhaps see him for a month, but off and on.
- Q How long did he continue to live in the neighborhood of Neosho Falls, Kansas, after you knew of his marrying and having a family? A He lived there continuously after his marriage until about 6 or 7 years ago, probably 1898, somewhere along there.
- Q Did you know any of his children or whether or not he raised any children while he was living there? A I knew his children, and I knew his family, can't say I was personally acquainted with them, I knew them, I knew he had quite a family, have been to his house.
- Q Did you learn the children well enough to remember either of their names, or did you just know them? A I used to know one of his boys, I think about the second child perhaps, his name was Ed, if I haven't forgot it, I ain't so very good on names.
- Q You think that Jim Landrum moved away from there about 7 or 8 years ago? A I think so.
- Q Have you seen him since that time? A Not until yesterday.
- Q Where did you see him yesterday? A On the train as I come in.
- Q Between Neosho Falls, Kansas, and Muskogee, Indian Territory?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Did you recognize him as being the same James Landrum that lived at Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q While his family was living there, they kept house where they lived? A Yes sir, after they lived there some years they moved to the Falls and stayed and lived in Neosho Falls for a number of years, he must have lived there 10 or 12 years in a little shanty he called his own, I have been to his house.

Mr. Blue: I object to the last part of the answer as not responsive to the question.

Commission: Objection noted.

- Q For what purpose did you go to Jim Landrum's house if you had any purpose? A At that time I was running a butcher shop in the Falls and sometimes would go down to make a collection, I went there one night, in the evening like and was talking about his family, he was playing a violin, it looked like there were 8 or 10 there.

Mr. Blue: I object and ask that the latter part of that answer be stricken out.

Commission: Objection noted.

- A I made my business known, I turned away, I asked him if he was having a dance, and he said no that was his family, that was one time, I have been to his house several times while he lived in town.
- Q About how long do you think he lived in the town of Neosho Falls after he left the Leanned farm? A My judgment would be he lived there 10 or 12 years.
- Q What is the population of Neosho Falls? A It is considered 300.
- Q About how large was it when you first went there? A It was just founded when I first went there, that is when I first knew Neosho Falls, when I moved to Neosho Falls that would be different.
- Q That is what I want to know? A That was in 1880, the town was just about as large as it is now, it was incorporated at that time.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q Do you know my old friend Governor Finney? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you resided there as long as he has? A I don't know when Governor Finney came there as I know of, he has resided there almost as long as I have, that is in that neighborhood, I haven't resided in the city as long as he has.
- Q What place did you go to Kansas? A We first came on my brother's farm about a mile north of Neosho Falls, we rented and stepped there, my father took a claim afterwards.
- Q From what place did you come to Kansas? A We came from Indiana.
- Q You say you resided in Kansas since 1888? A Yes sir 1888 we came there.
- Q You speak in this testimony about another Landrum that you saw Jim visiting in the family, do you remember what the name of that Landrum was? A That was an old lady I know her name, I couldn't call it just then and I don't remember it yet, but as I understood it was perhaps an Aunt of Jim's, her name was Landrum she was the mother of July Landrum, she claimed to be grandmother of cousin of Jim's.
- Q How long had she lived there when you saw Jim about there? A She came there during the war I should judge it must have been in 1862 or 1863, when the Indians all came up and left this nation.
- Q What kind, Indians or freedmen? A Indians and negroes.
- Q You didn't know Jim you say until possibly in 1865, and you are certain you think you saw him in 1866? A Yes sir it was after the war.

- Q Do you know whether or not he had just come out of the services at that time? A As I understood it he and his brother were in the service.
- Q His brother-in-law Daniels? A Yes sir.
- Q You understood they had been in the United States services? A I understood so.
- Q You say you were at his house once in Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q Who was this man you say that he rented from? A He lived on Learned's place, that was three miles below me, I don't know whether he rented or worked by the month.
- Q Do you know Colonel Leonard of Lawrence? A No sir.
- Q With whom did you first talk about your knowledge of Jim Landrum in this matter of his application before the Commission? A I hadn't talked with anybody until I saw Mr. Keys, he came up there and asked in regard to him.
- Q Judge Keys? A Yes sir.
- Q When was that? A That was about three days ago I think.
- Q At whose expense are you here? A Why his I presume.
- Q Have you been paid to come here as a witness? A I haven't I suppose I will be.

Mr. Davenport: The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation object to that as being incompetent cross-examination. He has no right to question that way, he may ask has he been subpoenaed.

Commission: Objection noted.

- Q Have you been subpoenaed to come here? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you been paid or expect any remuneration? A I expect my witness fees.
- Q It has been a good while since 1865? A Yes sir.
- Q 40 years about now? A Yes sir.
- Q You say you saw Jim Landrum yesterday? A I saw him on the train.
- Q Did you speak with him? A He sir I didn't see him until I got up to go out, about three seats behind me.
- Q Where were you at that time? A I was on the train, just ready to get off here at Muskogee.
- Q That was yesterday's evening train? A Yes sir.
- Q Is this man (indicating by pointing to applicant)? A That is Jim Landrum.
- Q You don't know anything about whether he owned this house in the town in which he lived or not? A Don't know particularly, I understood that he claimed it.
- Q You don't know as to the title to it? A No sir, I don't know as to the title.
- Q You simply know that he lived in what you call a little shanty up there? A Yes sir, it wasn't much of a building.
- Q Can you tell me what year that was? That was, uh, he lived there several years, he must have lived 10 years before he came up there, I don't know as I can call the year at that especial--
- Q Do you know what year you ran a butcher shop there? A It was somewhere about 1890.
- Q That you ran a butcher shop there? A Yes sir, I didn't run a butcher shop very long.
- Q How long? A Perhaps 4 or 5 months.
- Q In what County is Neosho Falls? A In Woodson County.
- Q Have you ever resided in any other County than Woodson County Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q What other counties? A For the last 7 years I have been keeping hotels up in Montgomery, I have been to Galena, Coffin County, and I have been to Aurora, Greenwood County.

- Q did you keep hotel in all these places? A Well in Cherryvale and Mureka, but in Galena I ran a restaurant there.
- Q You said a moment ago Galena, Coffey County, you don't mean that do you? A No sir I don't mean that, Galena is in Cherokee County, I didn't live in Galena very long but I know when I come to think of it.
- Q You say at one time that Jim Landrum lived on your brother's place? A No sir I didn't say so.
- Q I didn't understand you? A Some of his folks lived on his place, this Charity lived on my brother's place and my father with his family lived on his place when he first come there.
- Q You say when you first knew Jim he wasn't married? A No sir.
- Q He didn't have any family or wife that you knew of at that time? A No sir he was just visiting his relatives.
- Q You said awhile ago he was mingling or visiting around there, how long did he continue to do that way? A I don't know anything much about him at that time.
- Q At that time he didn't have any permanent place of abode? A No sir.
- Q Did you know a man by the name of Asa Saferite? A Yes sir.
- Q Did he live in the same County with you in Kansas? A The first time I knew of Asa Saferite he lived at LeRoy, and owned a mill in Coffey County.
- Q Did he come over into Woodson? A Yes sir.
- Q When? A I couldn't tell you the dates, he lived there quite awhile on a farm about a mile and a half west of Neosho Falls.
- Q Isn't it a fact that the old lady Landrum lived on his place? A It might have been his place in this bend, it was down in the woods where my brother owned a farm. There was a little piece of land that didn't belong to my brother down there where the river makes a bend, we lived up here on the east edge, they might have been on that little strip of land.
- Q It belonged to Saferite? A It was in that bend, there is 15 or 20 acres of land that belongs to a place laying east of my brother's, and they might have been on that.
- Q Did you know Dr. John Jones? A Yes sir I used to and know him yet.
- Q Does he live there yet? A No sir.
- Q Where does he reside now? A He is in California somewhere.
- Q As a matter of fact wasn't this little shanty you speak of that Jim Landrum lived in the property of Dr. Jones? A Dr. Jones had a mortgage on a team of Jim's and he might have had a mortgage on the house.
- Q You don't know about that? A I told you before I don't know about the title.
- Q Do you know who the title was in? A I understood it was his.
- Q Who? A Landrum's.
- Q Do you understand that from your own personal knowledge? A I have always understood it as his, yes sir I understood it was Landrum's.
- Q Did you ever see the title to it? A No sir.
- Q What is the personal knowledge that you are speaking from? A From general information as a man would naturally gather.
- Q That is you saw it? A No sir I never examined the records.
- Q When did you reach here in Muskogee? A Last evening about nine o'clock I guess.

- Q You had a conference with the Cherokee Attorneys have you? A Why only with Mr. Keys.
- Q After you came here? A Well I met them and were introduced to them.
- Q You talked this matter over with them and other witnesses in the case? A I had some little conversation.
- Q And Mr. Larned and other witnesses talked this matter over? A I don't remember the gentlemen's names, Mr. Hastings and Mr. Davenport.
- Q Did you talk it over with the other witnesses? A Yes sir I think they were all in there.
- Q At the time you say you first saw Jim Landrum you were only a boy? A I didn't say I was only a boy, but I wasn't very old.
- Q Not over 17 or 18? A About 18.
- Q Were you married at that time? A No sir.
- Q Have you since married? A Yes sir.
- Q In what business are you now engaged? A I am not in any particular business, I own a place in Neosho Falls and a piece of land, I don't work it I rent it out, I am a farmer, if anything.
- Q What did you say this old lady Landrum's name was? A I understood it was Charity.
- Q You say she had a son named what? A I understood those were her children, one named July and one Sam.
- Q At that time about what size children were they? A I remember July most especially, he was very small, just a kid, and had to go by our place as I said before and he was very shy, I remember scolding him a goodmany times, and I have reason to remember him very distinctly.
- Q Do you know whether that family of Landrums were any kin to Jim?
- A All I know is that I understood they were related.
- Q You don't know sir? A Don't know, I haven't looked up the family record.
- Q How long did you remain in Woodson County after 1865? A That has been my home since I came to Kansas, outside of this business I have already stated when I was out keeping hotel, and when I left there to go to Cherryvale, that was the first place I went to, went there in 1893, I have been there.
- Q After 1893 you moved about from place to place? A I was at Galena and Eureka after that, and just a year ago this month, the 15th I left Eureka and have been living at home again.
- Q You mean that in Woodson County? A Yes sir, Neosho Falls, I have always been in touch, I always took the paper.
- Q From 1893 until a year ago, you didn't reside in Woodson? A I didn't reside there.
- Q Then you left in 1893 and lived at different places? A Now in the meantime during that spell I was back a year, I came back home in '91 I believe, that dry spell, lets see, about, I mean about 1901, and stayed a year during this period I said I was away. I was away about four years, went back and stayed one year, and went away again.
- Q You went away in 1893 came back and stayed a year and then was away in 1901, and came back last year? A Yes sir.
- BY MR. DAVENPORT:
- Q Do you mean you went away in 1893? A I went to Cherryvale in 1893.
- Q How many years has it been since you went away? A That was from '93 up to the present time, I don't mean 1893, I mean 1897, I got mixed up. I went away to Cherryvale in 1897, and I was away about three years and I was back then in 1901.

Q Then when you stated 1893 a moment ago you didn't mean it? A No sir, I meant 1897, I was away about six years all told.

BY MR. BLUE:

Q What hotel did you keep in Cherryvale? A I runed what was called the Logan house, near the Memphis Depot at that time.

Q What hotel did you run in Eureka? A What was called the Fourth Avenue, right north of the public square opposite the Court House.

Q Then you went from there to what place? A From there home, back to Neosho Falls.

Q Did you only run the two hotels? A I was at Galena awhile.

Q What restaurant did you run at Galena? A I runed the Silver Moon, I wasn't there very long, about four months I believe.

Q Do you say you were some place in Crawford County, or was it Galena you meant to say? A That was Galena, that is in Cherokee County.

BY THE COMMISSION:

Q You say you first got acquainted with the applicant here, Jim Landrum, in the fall of 1866? A Then is when I knew of him, I stated I believe I might have known him in the fall of 1866, but to make positive I knew him in the fall of 1866 and 1867.

Q How far was he stopping from where you were staying? A As I said I hardly know where he stopped, I knew he visited this family, I don't know whether he visited up and down the river or not, being single he had no regular home.

Q How often did you see him from the fall of 1866 up during the winter of 1867? A I couldn't tell you how often.

Q Could you give me an idea? A I don't know as I could, I would meet him off and on as I said, I knew of him there, the fact of his family connection.

Q When was he married? A I didn't state, I understood he was married about 1868.

Q He married in Kansas? A I think in Kansas, about Neosho Falls, he got a woman up the river there.

Q You didn't know his wife prior to her marriage to him? A No sir.

Q Have you known this applicant continuously here until he removed away some 7 or 8 years ago? A Yes sir.

Q You would see him off and on? A Yes sir just like you would see any neighbor in a settlement, probably might be a month, might see him once a week and probably a couple of months, I couldn't say exactly.

Q You never heard of his coming away or moving off? A No sir never did.

Q Did you know of his ever being considered a citizen up there?

A Yes sir he voted at Neosho Falls up there.

Q You would see his children about there would you? A Yes sir, I see his children and a good part of his family there in Neosho Falls.

Q Did you ever talk with him anything relative to his being absent from the State of Kansas, ever hear him say anything about that?

A Never did.

BY MR. BLUE:

Q Were you at his wedding? A No sir.

Q Then you don't know anything about when he married only by hearsay? A As I said I understood he married about 1868.

Q That is hearsay, you don't know? A I wasn't at his wedding, and I didn't know his wife.

- Q You don't know who he married? A Didn't know her no sir.
Q Did you see him after in Neosho Falls? A I presume I have.
Q I am not asking you for presumption? A I have seen him there.
Q At what location? A Divers location at different times.
Q You saw him deposit his ballot? A I don't know as I went right in the booth with him, I have seen him at the poles and vote.
Q You just said a recent age you have seen him at divers time, now as a matter of fact, you never saw him deposit his vote?
A No sir I would not say that as I saw him hand his vote.

Mr. Blue: I object to this mere hearsay testimony and ask to have it stricken out.

Commission: Objection noted.

- Q You say you didn't talk with him anything about being absent from Kansas? A I have not.
Q Did you speak with him yesterday at all? A No sir.
Q When did you last speak with him if you remember? A I couldn't tell you, it has been 7 or 8 years ago, I haven't seen him since he come to the Territory, he left about the time I left.
Q About the time you left? A Yes sir, I think, maybe a little afterwards.
Q You don't know about that Mr. Witness? A He left in 1892.
Q Do you know that personally? A That is I tell you I was away, I went away in 1897 and he went after I did.
Q Then you were not there when he left? A No sir I was there, he wasn't there when I came back.
Q That is about the information you have about it? A That is all the information I have got, as I have.

C. W. LEARNED, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q What is your name? A C. W. Learned.

Mr. Blue: I object to this witness for the reason that his name was not given as one of the witnesses which would testify in this case or any statement that he would testify to in the pretest and motion for re-opening.

- Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Your post office address? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
Q How long have you lived in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Ever since 1857.
Q During the time you lived at Neosho Falls, Kansas, did you ever get acquainted with a colored man by the name of James Landrum?
A Yes sir.
Q About what year did you first get acquainted with him? A 1848 is my first recollection.
Q Where was he living at that time if you remember? A Living down there on my farm between the lake and the river.
Q On whose place did you say? A On learned's.
Q Was he any relation of yours? A Yes sir, my father.
Q Did Jim Landrum at that time have a family or wife? A Not when he first came there, he was just married.
Q Do you remember his wife's name? A Margaret.

- Q How long did he continue to live on your father's farm near Neosho Falls, Kansas, after he and his wife came there? A 18 years I think.
- Q Did they have any children? A Not when they first came.
- Q Did they have any children born to them during the time they lived on your father's farm? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know about how many? A No not that I know of as how many.
- Q Name them as near as you can in rotation of their ages, the oldest ones first? A Her name is Alice, they called her Babe.
- Q Do you remember the next eldest? A There is one named Ed a boy, one named Frances, she was named after my mother.
- Q You say Frances was named for your mother? A Yes sir, one named Jessie after my sister, but I think she is dead, and then there was a boy called John and one named Lit, Sis they called her, two of them I see them out here in the hall.
- Q What was you said about seeing them in the hall? A Yes sir, I saw them in the hall awhile ago.
- Q They are present here today? A I saw three of them here awhile ago, Alice, Sis and Lit.
- Q Have you seen here today the James Landrum that you spoke of as having lived on your father's farm, that lived near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A He sits right here. (indicating the applicant, Jim Landrum).
- Q Can you state whether the children you have named as being the children of Jim Landrum and his wife Margaret, were born during the time they lived on your father's farm? A Yes sir I think they were.
- Q Do you know where James Landrum and his family moved to when they left your father's farm? A They moved to town, Neosho Falls, Kansas.
- Q About how far from Neosho Falls is your father's farm? A About two and a half miles.
- Q Do you know what year they left Neosho Falls, Kansas, that is Jim Landrum and his family? A I don't know just what year he left there when he came down here, about 7 or 8 years ago.
- Q Since you got acquainted with Jim Landrum and his wife in 1888 have you resided in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A All the time yes sir.
- Q What business during that time have you been engaged in, if any? A I was farming awhile and then I was buying cattle and then went into a clothing store four years ago.
- Q About how often during the time that Landrum and his family lived on your father's farm would you see them? A Quite often, see some of them pretty near every day.
- Q Did you see them after they moved to town? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know in what part of the town they lived after they moved to town? A Yes they lived in two different parts, in the north part awhile and then in the east part down at what is called Simon Grove.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q You say you live in Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q And have resided there how long? A Since 1887.
- Q Were you there when President Hayes visited Neosho Falls?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Were you there when Governor St. John introduced him? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know my old friend, Governor Finney? A I guess so have known him ever since I have been there, I think I heard you speak at Yates Center.

- Q You have testified to some matters here, were you present at the birth of any of these children? A No sir.
- Q About what year was it when you first knew Jim Landrum? A About 1868.
- Q You didn't know him prior to that time? A I couldn't say, no sir.
- Q Was he a married man when you first become acquainted with him? A Yes sir, he came to our house to work.
- Q You mean came to your father's house? A Yes sir, he worked for father and his wife for mother.
- Q Did he live in a cabin or a little shanty on the land there? A Yes sir.
- Q During the time that you knew him there you say there were several children that came but you were not present at the birth of any of them? A No sir, I went to school with some of them.
- Q Did you have mixed schools up there in your district? A Yes sir.
- Q What did you say Mrs. Landrum's name is? A We always called her Margaret.
- Q Do you know where Jim had lived prior to the time he came to your father's farm? A Yes sir.
- Q How old were you then? A About 12 years old.
- Q You were a mere boy? A Yes sir.
- Q It has been now nearly 40 years since you say you first saw him, about 37 years? A Yes sir.
- Q When did you say Jim left your father's place? A I said he was there about 18 years.
- Q On your father's place? A Yes sir.
- Q And then moved to town? A Yes sir.
- Q Were you living in town when he moved to town? A I ain't sure whether I was living in town or in the country then.
- Q You say you are merchandising now? A Yes sir, I have been for about four years.
- Q In Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q Prior to that time you have been a farmer? A Farming and buying cattle.
- Q Then your whole business life has been on a farm, buying stock, and in a store? A Yes sir I went in a store in 1902.
- Q Are you acquainted over at Yates Center? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you been acquainted over there? A Ever since there has been a Yates Center I guess.
- Q Yates Center didn't exist at the time you became acquainted with Jim Landrum? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Mr. Wayne over there? A Yes sir he is a druggist.
- Q When did you first talk about this matter of Jim Landrum's residence in your county in Kansas before coming down here? A When do you mean, this time.
- Q Have you been here before? A Yes sir.
- Q When were you in the Territory before? A I was down here in 1902.
- Q For what purpose were you here then? A For the same purpose I am here for now.
- Q To testify for the Cherokee Nation in these applications? A The same as I am now.
- Q Have you ever testified in this particular case before, in this Jim Landrum case? A Yes sir.
- Q How many cases have you testified to at different times on behalf of the Cherokee nation? A This is the second.
- Q What were the other case? A The same thing.

- Q Do you mean by that that this is the second time you have testified in this one case? A This Landrum case, yes.
- Q Have you ever testified in any other application in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir.
- Q When was your attention first called to the testimony that you would give in the Landrum application? A I don't know when it was when Mr. Keys was there but sometime in 1902.
- Q Did you in pursuance of your conversation with Judge Keys come here at that time and testify? A I think it was that time.
- Q Where was it, at Muskogee? A Here yes sir in Muskogee.
- Q Was your attention called to this evidence that you are now giving at the time you testify before in this case? A I came down to give testimony in the same case as I have before.
- Q Was the testimony you then gave the same in substance as you are now giving? A I think so, something like.
- Q Have you conversed with the Cherokee Attorneys since you came here this time? A No.
- Q Were you in any conversation with the Cherokee Attorneys and the other witnesses this morning in regard to this application?
- A I think they were talking some in here, Keys talked to me up there.
- Q Keys talked to you about the matter in Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you have more than one conversation with him about it? A I think we talked several times about it.
- Q Did you see him more than once up there? A I saw him twice, this time and the other time.
- Q Then you saw him in 1902 and recently did you? A Yes sir.
- Q Each of those times you talked the matter over with Judge Keys, did you? A Yes sir.
- Q What compensation do you expect to receive as a witness in this case? A I suppose that is left with them.
- Q Have you been subpoenaed here as a witness? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you expect any other compensation that you expect to receive for your mileage and your transportation for coming here? A Yes sir I suppose that is what it will be.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q You don't expect anything else than the usual witness fees and mileage? A No sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q Upon your cross-examination you stated about going to school with Jim Landrum's children, did they have mixed schools there at Neesho Falls at that time? A Yes sir but district school and city schools are all mixed.
- Q You were going to the District school at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you recall any especial instance that you positively know that you met Jim Landrum? A Yes sir, on account of a man named Booth winks, that got into trouble.
- Q Who was it that he got into trouble with? A He came down there and we went down to the lake fishing and I told him the colored people were having a meeting there across the lake and we went over there to see it, it was at Jack's house, his brother's.
- Q Who did he have trouble with? A He had trouble with Jim here, I don't know how it started but he invited Jim out, he wanted to shoot him.
- Q Do you know whether Jim was a witness in the case? A I do not.
- Q Have you examined the Court record to know whether that was in 1888? A Yes sir.

Mr. Klue: I object, the record is the best evidence.

Commission: Objection noted.

- Q Did you know him before that time? A I might have known him but I recollect that on account of that trouble.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q Were you present when this conversation took place between he and Booth Hanks? A Yes sir I was present there with them.
- Q You spoke of somebody getting into trouble about getting into the store, who was that? A That was Hanks.
- Q How was that with reference to the time you heard this conversation over there with reference to the colored people? A That was after this.
- Q Was Hanks a white or colored man? A A white man.
- Q What year did you say that was? A In 1868 I believe.
- Q Do you know what month in 1868? A I think it was the last of August or the middle of September.
- Q You don't know how long that was after the trouble you say you heard until Hanks was arrested for breaking into the store?
- A It wasn't very long, I don't know exactly.
- Q At whose place was it you said Booth Hanks tried to get into a difficulty with the negroes? A On my father's brother's place, at Jack Landrum's.
- Q Did Jack Landrum also live on your father's place? A It was my father's brother's place.
- Q Well it wasn't your father's place? A Not where Jack lived.
- Q How close was it to your father's place? A Joined the line.
- Q What was going on over there amongst the colored folks? A They were having a meeting.
- Q A religious meeting? A I think so.
- Q And this man Booth tried to disturb it? A Yes sir.
- Q You don't know what month that was do you? A It was either the last of August or first of September, along there somewhere.
- Q Do you know whether there was a minister there or not? A No I don't.
- Q Do you remember who was their pastor at that time? A They had several fellows would come up and preach and talk.
- Q They were having preaching over there at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q Was there a meeting house there? A No sir, it was out in the woods.
- Q Do you know anybody else that was there besides Jack and Jim Landrum? A I think there were others there but I can't call their names now.
- Q Can't call the names of any of them? A No sir.
- Q You don't pretend to say Mr. Learned that Booth Hanks was arrested for disturbing their worship? A No sir.
- Q Then you want to say he was arrested afterwards for breaking into a store? A Yes sir.
- Q No arrest followed that? A No sir.

J. A. LYNN, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q What is your name? A J. A. Lynn.
- Q What is your post office? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
- Q Your age? A 34 last September.

Mr. Blue: The attorney for the applicant objects to the testimony of the witness for the reason that his name was not given as a witness on the motion and protest for the re-opening of this application, nor was the testimony which he is about to give referred to in said notice and protest, and the applicant has had no notice of the presentation of this witness upon this application.

Mr. Davenport: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation desire to call the attention of the Commission to the wording of the protest in the third paragraph thereof: "The nation expects to prove by a daughter of Abbie Bearden and by a number of other witnesses whose names are not now recalled, that none of the applicants herein returned to the Cherokee Nation prior to February 11, 1867, but at that time resided in the State of Kansas where they continued to reside until about twenty years thereafter," and further to the fact that under the law in force in the Indian Territory, put in force by the United States Government upon the question of taking testimony, you are not required to give all the witnesses names or any of the witnesses' names that you desire to use to prove any fact which you set up in your motion.

Mr. Blue: The Attorney for the applicant objects further for the reason that the paragraph in said protest and notice is too indefinite to put the applicant upon proof in rebuttal of any testimony that may be offered or given by this witness, and that it does not comply with the rule of Courts upon an application for a new trial, which requires that the testimony which has been newly discovered shall be given and the name of the witness by which it shall be proven also set out so that the opposite party may prepare to meet the testimony of that particular witness with proper rebuttal.

Commission: Objection noted.

- Q How long have you lived in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas, Mr. Lynn? A Since 1864.
- Q Since 1864 I will ask you if you got acquainted with a colored man by the name of Jim Landrum? A Yes sir.
- Q About what year did you learn to know him by name? A That date, to say a date is hard for me to do, I couldn't say a date when I first knew him.
- Q Well about what year did you learn to know him as being Jim Landrum? A I couldn't say a certain date.
- Q How many years was it after the war or about how many years that you first learn to know him as Jim Landrum? A To say just when I got acquainted with him ----
- Q Where was he living when you first knew him? A He was living on Mr. Learned's farm.
- Q Do you know whether or not he was married at that time and had a family? A I am satisfied that he was married, living there at that time.
- Q After you got acquainted with him how long did he continue to live to your knowledge in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Until 7 or 8 years ago, I think he moved away.
- Q Did he continue to live on the Learned farm all this time? A No sir.
- Q About how many years after you got acquainted with him did he remain on the Learned farm? A I can't say just what year he moved away from there.
- Q Can you say he lived there one year or six months after you got acquainted with him? A He lived there several years.
- Q Do you know whether he had any children at the time he removed from the Learned farm? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A I remember the names of three.

- Q What were they? A Alice, commonly called Babe, Ed and Frances.
- Q Have you seen Jim Landrum since he moved away from Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q When did you see him first since that? A Last night.
- Q Have you seen him since last night? A Yes sir.
- Q Where? A Here in the room.
- Q Have you seen either one of the children that you have mentioned since you have come here as a witness? A Not as I could recognize since I have seen the children to know them, I was only better acquainted with Ed.
- Q After they left the Learned farm they moved into the town of Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know about how long they lived there in the town after they left the Learned farm? A They lived there several years, I couldn't say.
- Q While they were living on the Learned farm how near did you live to that farm? A In a part of the time I lived a little over a mile from it perhaps a mile and a half, a part of the time he was living on that part I was living on part of the Learned farm there were two Learneds, William and Homer. I lived on William's and he lived on Homer Learned's farm. He lived on the southwest bank of the lake and I lived on the north bank.
- Q How often would you see them during the time you lived on the Learned farm? A I don't know that is a hard question to tell how often I saw them.
- Q Did you see them once a year? A I taught school across the river from there some went near his house, sometime he would be at my house.
- Q Did he farm while he was living on that farm? A Yes sir he farmed some land.
- Q What did he do after he moved to town that you know? A I think he just worked around there, I don't recollect of him farming any after he moved to town.
- Q You think he moved away from Neosho Falls, Kansas, about what year or how long ago? A About 7 or 8 years ago, I knew when he moved away, but to say the date, I couldn't do that.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q What is your business? A Farmer.
- Q You spoke of having taught school? A Yes sir, I taught school eight months one summer.
- Q You came you say to Woodson County in 1864? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you resided there ever since? A Yes sir my home has been in that same school district ever since.
- Q That same school District, do you mean by that the School District in which you taught? A No sir.
- Q Have you ever testified before for the Cherokee Nation in any case here? A No sir.
- Q What remuneration do you expect for testifying here, if any? A Nothing more than my mileage and fees.
- Q Who has talked with you with reference to Jim Landrum up there? A Mr. Learned is the first one.
- Q You and Mr. Learned talked it over some did you? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you talked it over with Mr. Learned since you came here? A Yes sir as we came down.
- Q Did you talk it over in the presence of the Cherokee Attorneys since you came here? A Yes sir.
- Q You know Mr. Hastings, the gentleman there behind you? A Yes sir.

- Q You know Mr. Davenport? A I met him here.
- Q You know Judge Keys? A Yes sir.
- Q He came up to your county? A Yes sir.
- Q You know Judge Keys and Mr. Hastings? A Yes sir.
- Q Was this matter ever suggested to you, to what you would testify in this case by Judge Keys? A He asked me about the case of course.
- Q When was that, the first time? A Day before yesterday.
- Q Did you ever see him before that time? A Not to my knowledge.
- Q Then you talked the matter over with him up in Woodson County?
- A Yes sir.
- Q And you and Mr. Learned have conversed it over since that time?
- A Yes sir.
- Q You say you recognized Jim Landrum here this morning? A Yes sir.
- Q He is the same man you think you saw up in Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q You say you didn't know much about his children, do you remember the name of his eldest? A I think it was Babe as far as I know or Alice.
- Q You say you know Ed? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you know any of the rest of them? A Just as a person would know his neighbor's children, Ed, I have worked with him.
- Q Has it been sometime ago since you saw any of them? A Yes sir quite awhile, I think it has been 16 or 17 years since I saw him.
- Q How old were you in 1864? A I was 14 years old, I was born in 1850.
- Q Did you reside on one of the Learned farms? A The first winter after I was married and the next summer and part of the next winter.
- Q Then you knew Ed while you lived on that farm, I mean Jim? A Yes sir I knew him.
- Q After he moved to town you didn't know so much about him? A But I saw him frequently.
- Q And since he left Kansas the first time that you remember of seeing him was last night? A The first time I remember him after he moved from there.
- Q That is what I mean? A Yes sir.

BY THE COMMISSION:

- Q Can you give the Commission an idea as to how long it was after you went to Kansas until you got acquainted with Jim Landrum?
- A As I said I couldn't state the date or anything that way, there is nothing to call my mind to it that I can recollect. I can tell you some things that I recollect around there.
- Q Have you no idea as to how long it was? A The only way I could tell is when I was living on that place.
- Q When did you go on the Learned farm? A I went on the Learned place in November of 1876, I was acquainted with him long before that but I couldn't say how long.
- Q Several years? A Yes sir.
- Q When did you teach school in Kansas? A I began in the winter of 1872.
- Q Did you know him at that time? A Yes sir, knew him before that.
- Q Where were you living in 1872? A My home was on the , right there on Section 27.
- Q Did he live on the same section? A No sir he lived over in section 3 and 4 in Town. 24, I was in Town. 23.
- Q You knew him continuously then up until he left Kansas? A Yes sir.

B. B. MOORE, being recalled for further cross examination, testified as follows:

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q Mr. Moore have you ever testified in any other of these applications for enrollment in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir.
Q Is this your first testimony in any of them? A It is.
Q Have you ever been in the Territory before? A Yes sir, about five years ago.
Q Were in here before for the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, I was really afraid to come down here, I was afraid of the Indians, but I did venture in.
Q Are you able to recognize any of these people here (indicating)? A I think that is part of Landrum's family.
Q Which one? A I never knew their names, don't suppose I would if they had lived in Neesho Falls up to now.
Q Would you swear that they are his family? A I don't know whether it is or not.
Q You don't know anything about that, only whether it is or not? A I aint sure about these.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q You are ready to recognize Jim Landrum there? A Yes sir.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q Do you know this young man here (indicating)? A I don't know as I do.

CHEROKEE NATION REITS.

The following testimony was introduced on behalf of the applicants.

CHARLES LYNCH, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:
Witness being sworn by Wm. O. Beall, Notary Public.

BY THE COMMISSION:

- Q What is your name? A Charles Lynch.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Have you ever been convicted of anything? A Yes sir.
Q What? A Railroad robbery, Fort Smith, Arkansas.
Q Convicted in the United States Court there? A Yes sir.
Q When? A In 1887.
Q In 1887? A I think it was.
Q Were you convicted in Judge Parker's Court? A Yes sir.
Q Robbing a railroad? A Yes sir.
Q That is what you were convicted for? A Yes sir.

Mr. Hastings: Come now the representatives of the Cherokee Nation and respectfully objects to this witness being permitted to testify because under his own statement having been convicted of an infamous crime is disqualified under the law.

Commission: Objection noted.

Mr. Blue: The record is the best evidence of the offense with which this party was charged, if charged, and of his conviction if there was any.

Mr. Hastings: In answer to the above answer of Attorney for applicants the Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation desire to call attention to the fact that this witness admits himself by his own mind that he was convicted, and it is the only way to disqualify a witness upon the stand, because the other side is not served with a notice of what witnesses are going to be called to the stand and if they were the rule that the record would have to be gotten in each case, then no witness would ever be disqualified from testifying, because it would be impossible for Attorneys representing law suits to go around all over the United States the record of the conviction of every person in their pocket ready to be drawn out on that party ready to take the stand.

Commission: Objection noted.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q Were you pardoned? A No sir.
- Q Do you know the applicant, Jim Landrum? A I do.
- Q How long have you known him? A I have known him since '67.
- Q Where did you first see him, do you recollect? A On Grand River.
- Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q About where on Grand River, if you remember? A It was on the south side of Grand River in Saline District.
- Q Was he married at that time, if you remember? A I don't really know whether he was or not.
- Q Do you know his wife? A I do, yes sir.
- Q Are you acquainted with his family? A Yes sir.
- Q About how long have you been acquainted with his wife and children? A I couldn't give you the exact date that I got acquainted with them, a number of years, but I can't give you the exact date, several years ago.
- Q Do you know the names of any of his children? A Yes sir I know the names.
- Q You may give the names as far as you can call them? A The oldest one is Ed Landrum, Alice Landrum, Belle Landrum, and boy named Johnnie.
- Q Do you recall any other? A There are quite a number of little ones, I disremember all their names.
- Q Where has Jim Landrum and his family resided since you first became acquainted with him, if you know? A Part of the time when I first knew him on Grand River with his father, helped him make his place down there, he went away from there and was gone quite awhile, and where he went I don't know, but he returned and the next time I saw him his wife was with him, two or three of the children, and goes back again away from there, I don't know about 12 or 13 years have been 10 or 12 years his whole family moved into Vinita where I am living now and they have been there since, where he was back and forth he better know himself, I don't know.
- Q Has he and his family resided in Vinita in the Cherokee Nation for 12 years last past? A Something like that I would not be positive as to the dates.

- Q After he returned to Vinita as you stated, did he remain there continuously from that time until now? A Yes sir.
- Q How about his wife and children, were they there also during that time? A Yes sir.

- Q What was your father's name? A Simon Lynch.
- Q And you remember at the age of about 7 years of seeing him who come to your father's house 37 years ago do you? A I suppose so if it was that number of years, hawn't counted it to see how long it is.
- Q Jim Landrum has been living there in Vinita for a number of years?
- A Yes sir.
- Q And has been having this contest as to his citizenship? A That contest.
- Q Ever since he has been in Vinita his citizenship has been pending?
- A I don't know.
- Q You have lived there near him ever since he come there in 1897?
- A I don't know.
- Q He wasn't living in Vinita when the Kern-Clifton rail was being made in 1896? A I don't know.
- Q You were living there were you not? A Yes sir living there longer than that.
- Q Don't you know he wasn't living in Vinita in 1898 and 1899? A I don't know anything about that.
- Q Don't you know when the testimony in freedom cases was taken, Jim Landrum wasn't there? A I don't know.
- Q Can you tell me within three years of what time Jim Landrum moved from Neosho Falls, Kansas, to Vinita? A I don't know.
- Q Can you tell me a man other than Jim Landrum that you claim you saw in Grand River in 1897? A Yes sir.
- Q Well who was it whose family wasn't living there that you say?
- A That his family were not living there.
- Q Yes, a man you came to that country that didn't have his family, living in that neighborhood at that time? A He didn't come there he stopped there in a half mile of me is the way I remember him.

- Q Tell me another man who had no family that lived in that community who was helping his father making a farm in 1867? A I don't know.
- Q Who was Jim Landrum's father? A George Landrum.
- Q Was George Landrum living on Grand River in Saline District in 1867? A Yes sir.
- Q What part of the year of 1867 was George Landrum living in Saline District on Grand River? A In the fall of '67.
- Q It was in the fall of 1867 that you first saw Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation in Saline District as you claim? A Yes sir.
- Q How long had you been living there near where you saw him? A 12th day of March, 1866, is when my father moved there.
- Q Do you remember it? A I do.
- Q You had been to Kansas to land you? A No sir.
- Q Then you are positive that Jim Landrum wasn't there about his father's before the fall of 1867? A No sir.
- Q What do you mean by no sir, whether he was or wasn't? A I am not positive of his being there but he hadn't made no farm before that.
- Q Had you see him in the Cherokee Nation before the fall of 1867? A No sir.
- Q You say he went away from there and was gone how long? A I didn't say cause I don't know.
- Q Did you ever know of Jim Landrum and his wife and children and living and keeping house anywhere in the Cherokee Nation prior to 1896? A I couldn't say.
- Q Did you ever know of them moving from Kansas to the Cherokee Nation and living before 1897 the time they moved to Vinita? A No I never knowed them to move.
- Q Did you ever visit them at Neosho Falls, Kansas? A No sir never was in Neosho Falls in my life.
- Q When was the first time you ever saw Ed Landrum? A It was the first trip I saw him and his wife, he had Ed.
- Q When was that? A That was sometime after '67.
- Q It was sometime between 1867 and February 2, 1905? A Yes sir.
- Q Ed is not living in the Cherokee Nation now, is he Charley? A Not that I know of.
- Q Did he ever live here? A Only as I saw him with his mother, when they came over and stayed awhile.
- Q When was the last time you ever saw him in the Cherokee Nation? A It has been about a year I reckon.
- Q How long in 1902 when he came down here and made his application? A I saw him 9 or 10 months ago.
- Q Are you any relation to Jim Landrum? A No sir.
- Q When did you first impress your knowledge as when Jim Landrum came back to the Cherokee Nation with his wife? A The first time they asked me today.
- Q You didn't come down here as a witness in this case? A Yes sir I did.
- Q What did they know about what you were going to testify to? A I never saw his Attorney.
- Q Do you know anything about Jim Landrum and his family living at Neosho Falls, Kansas, for years? A I don't know anything about it, couldn't tell you.
- Q When did you first see Alice up there? A Long time ago.
- Q When did she first move to the Cherokee Nation to live? A I saw her when she was a minor with her father and mother.

- Q Who else lived near Grand River at the time you claimed you saw Jim Landrum? A Several neighbors lived there, Jordan Thompson.
- Q Tell me one that is not dead, if you know, can you tell me one that is living now that lived over there then? A Yes sir.
- Q Who is it? A Andy Frye.
- Q Can you tell me a freedman or whiteman that lived in that country at that time, who is now living? A I tell you who lived over there, that Benge boy.
- Q Did they have a name? A Ose and Cate.
- Q Where did you do your trading and get your mail at the time you saw Jim Landrum as you say? A Along them times there wasn't any mail.
- Q You mean there were no letters in 1867? A Not around us, no place to get any.
- Q Didn't you have no place where you went to town? A Had a country store out there named it Johnson Thompson's.
- Q Johnson Thompson was running a store out where that brick house is on Grand River at the time you saw Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation was it? A I don't know.
- Q Was Johnson Thompson a running that country store out there on Grand River in 1867 when you claimed you saw Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation? A That is the only place I knew of.
- Q You can answer that yes or no Charley? A I have answered to the best of my knowledge, I don't know positive as to whether he was running it at that date, it is more than I can answer.
- Q Was Johnson Thompson living on Grand River where he afterwards or sometime after the war at least had a store, at the time you saw Jim Landrum as you claim in 1867? A I told you I couldn't answer that directly, I don't know whether it was just that date or not.
- Q You have stated positively that you saw Jim Landrum on Grand River in 1867? A Yes sir.
- Q Now why can you not state some other fact with the same deftness as you state that fact? A He run the store for a number of years I couldn't tell you when it started or how long he was there.
- Q Would you not remember as much about a store being ran in the neighborhood as you would about having met a man who you had never known before? A Yes I would.
- Q Jim Landrum came to Vinita in what year Charley? A I couldn't tell you.
- Q Do you know where he came from when he moved his family to Vinita? A No sir, I don't.
- Q You hadn't seen him for years? A No sir several years.
- Q And to your knowledge he had never kept house in the Cherokee Nation until he moved his family to the Cherokee nation? A Only with his father.
- Q He wasn't keeping house with his father? A He stayed there off and on? A
- Q How much was he off and how much was he on? A I couldn't answer that question.
- Q Did he make a crop with his father in 1867? A No sir.
- Q Did your father make a crop in 1867? A Yes sir.
- Q What farm did he live on at that time? A Same one he lives on today.
- Q What was it known then? A He made it.
- Q Your farm came back in time to make a farm and plant a crop in 1867? A Yes sir.

BY THE COMMISSION:

- Q You say you were 44 years of age the second day of last January?
A That's.
- Q Then you were born in January, 1861? A That is correct.
- Q At the time then that you saw this applicant you were six years of age? A About, yes sir.
- Q And you remember very distinctly at 6 years of age of seeing this man Jim Landrum here in the Cherokee Nation? A I do.
- Q Had you ever been to school before that time? A No sir.
- Q Never had? A No sir.
- Q He lived about a half mile, stepped there from where you lived?
A Yes sir.
- Q And you a boy 6 years of age remember of seeing him? A I do.
- Q How long do you think he remained in that neighborhood after you saw him in the fall of 1867? A The best of my memory he remained there the best part of the winter.
- Q Then how many years elapsed before you saw him again? A Several years, I don't know.
- Q What do you mean by several, give us an idea, 10 years? A No it wasn't that long.
- Q 7 or 8? A Something less than that.
- Q 5 or 6? A I would not say positive.
- Q Was it as much as 5 years? A No it wasn't as much as 5 years.
- Q About three years? A Something like that.
- Q Then is when he came back with his wife? A Yes sir.
- Q How many children did he have? A He had three if I remember.
- Q How large was the oldest one? A Just small children, they wasn't very big.
- Q Was the oldest one 3 or 4 years old? A May have been I don't remember.
- Q They had three children? A Yes sir.
- Q They were not triplets, they were not all the same age? A No, no big and little and down to that Alice one.
- Q Then when do you think you saw him again? A I didn't say, I don't know.
- Q Did you see him any more after he came back with his wife and children until you saw him in Vinita? A Yes sir.
- Q When did you next see him? A I saw him down there
- Q Came down there some place to that neighborhood? A Yes sir.
- Q He never lived down in that neighborhood? A Not only for a time.
- Q He was there for a short while or some months? A Yes sir.
- Q You never knew of him living in the Cherokee Nation until he moved to Vinita, never knew him keeping house with his family?
A Not outside of where I stated.
- Q At Vinita? A Yes sir.

BY MR. BLUE:

- Q What is your name? A Clara Foreman.
- Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
- Q How long have you lived at Vinita? A I have lived at Vinita about 20 years.
- Q Do you know Jim Landrum the applicant in this proceeding? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A Known him all my life.
- Q What relation are you to him? A He is my brother.

- Q Where were you about 1866? A Port Gibson.
- Q How long have you resided at Port Gibson, or how long did you reside at Port Gibson? A I couldn't tell how long I did live there, it was my home before I went to Vinita, I don't know how many years I did live there.
- Q When did you go to Vinita? A It has been about 20 years ago.
- Q When did you first see Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A It must have been in 1867, when he come and stayed with me down to Port Gibson.
- Q Are you able to state about what time in the year 1867 you saw him at Port Gibson? A It was in the spring, I couldn't tell just what day and what month but I think it was along about July, him and my husband was making hay together.
- Q What was your husband's name? A Euster Freeman.
- Q Where were they making hay together? A Near Port Gibson out there for the Government I think as near as I can remember.
- Q How long did Jim Landrum remain there about Port Gibson at that time? A I don't know, I couldn't tell just exactly, I think he stayed 3 or 4 months down there.
- Q Do you know where he went to after that? A He left there, said he was going to Grand River.
- Q Do you know of your own knowledge whether he went over about Grand River? A I don't know only what he said, he left my house and said he was going back to father's on Grand River.
- Q Do you know where his father resided at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q About where was it? A It was at the Island Ford on Grand River.
- Q Now after he left down there to go back to Grand River as he stated, when did you next see him? A I never seen him no more until I moved to Vinita.
- Q Are you able to state when you moved to Vinita? A Yes sir.
- Q If you remember when you came to Vinita to live please state it to the Commission? A I don't know what year it was, I went to Vinita cause I didn't keep any account of it, but it has been about 20 years, when I went there and worked for Mrs. Bluejacket, when she kept hotel in the old rock house that got burned down.
- Q Have you been residing in Vinita ever since that? A Yes sir.
- Q How long after you went there was it, if you remember, until you next saw Jim Landrum? A The next time I saw him I think, I couldn't tell just exactly I saw him ever since once in a while, I don't know where I saw him next exactly, I couldn't tell you, he was in and out all the time.
- Q About how often have you seen Jim Landrum from the time you moved to Vinita as you stated, until now? A I have seen him every once in a while.
- Q Can you give it any more definite than that once in a while?
- A Sometimes I would not see him for a year at a time, and sometimes sooner than that, he was off working.
- Q When he came down to Port Gibson and was working in the hay as you stated, do you know whether or not he was married at that time? A Yes sir he was married.
- Q Was his wife along with him? A No sir.
- Q Do you know his wife? A Yes sir I know her now.
- Q Did you know her at that time? A No sir.

- Q Do you know his family Mrs. Peraman? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know all their children? A I know them now, I didn't know them until I moved up to Vinita.
- Q Are you able to give the names of all of them now? A There are so many I don't know whether I could or not.
- Q Do you know them all when you see them? A Yes sir, I know all the oldest ones names.
- Q During the time, from the date of your location at Vinita until now have you known his wife? A Yes sir.
- Q How often have you seen her since you went to Vinita until now? A Right now I see her most every day cause we live close together, but before that I wouldn't see her only every once in a while, about a year during the time she had her children schooling them in Kansas, and she would only come back along about in the fall in vacation, she would come back down on the river.
- Q How long, if you can recollect has Jim Landrum lived at Vinita? A He hasn't lived there but about 5 or 6 years since he lived at Vinita since the payment.
- Q What payment do you refer to? A The strip payment.
- Q Do you know how long ago that has been, if you don't you don't have to tell? A It has been about 6 or 7 years to my judgment, it has been about 6 or 7 years ago.
- Q Do you remember whether or not he resided at Vinita before that payment? A He didn't live there before but he had a home out on Grand River he had a farm out there close to my father's place.
- Q Were you ever out at your father's place on Grand River? A Yes sir.
- Q There more than once? A Yes sir.
- Q About how often did you go out to your father's place? A Not very often once in a while, about a year or two apart.
- Q Did your father have that place on Grand River when Jim came down to Fort Gibson to help put up hay? A Yes sir.
- Q Had you been there before that time? A No sir.
- Q Were you there soon after that time? A Yes sir very soon.
- Q Do you know whether or not that place is still maintained there? A Yes sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q You say that Jim's wife had the children up in Kansas at school? A Yes sir once I have been to Vinita she has.
- Q I will ask you if Alice wasn't born in Kansas? A Yes sir I guess she was, I couldn't swear to it cause I don't know.
- Q I will ask you if Ed Wasn't born in Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q If Frances wasn't born in Kansas? A I just tell you like I said.
- Q And if Hattie wasn't born in Kansas? A I don't know sir, I don't know where she was born.
- Q Were they living in the Cherokee Nation when Hattie was born? A I don't know whether they were or not.
- Q Was Johnnie born in Kansas? A I don't know.
- Q Has Jim Landrum ever lived from the time of the war up to this date with his children, Alice, Ed, Frances, Belle, Hattie, and Johnnie, at any place on Grand River? A Yes sir.
- Q At what place did he have all these children that I named living with him on Grand River? A At Uncle Jeff Lyons' his wife's father.

- Q When was it he was living there on Grand River with the children I have named in the question above, being Alice, Ed, Frances, Hattie, Belle, and Johnnie? A I don't know whether they were living there or not, they were out there, I couldn't say that they were living there.
- Q You have told me that he at one time lived out there with those children, now I want to know what year that was if he lived out there with those children? A I couldn't tell you what year it was, but it was after the Wallace payment.
- Q How long after the Wallace payment? A I don't know sir how long they lived out there.
- Q Did you ever visit them while they were keeping house with these children out there on Grand River? A No sir.
- Q Do you know of any one ever did visit them, Cherokee, colored or any one else while they were living on Grand River? A No sir.
- Q Do you not know it to be a fact that he never lived in the Cherokee Nation anywhere with these children until 1897? A I couldn't tell you about that, that is where they always stopped when in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Were you not living in Vinita in 1897 when Jim moved his family from Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir I was living there.
- Q Don't you know he moved direct to Vinita from Neosho Falls? A They were going to school up there.
- Q The elder children had gone to school quite a long time if they had gone to school all the time they stayed in Kansas did they not? A Yes sir I guess so.
- Q They were born and raised up there at Neosho Falls? A I couldn't tell you that.
- Q Do you know anything about where they were living? A No sir.
- Q Never heard from them where they were up there? A Yes sir I heard they were working there, but I couldn't tell you just where they were working.
- Q Never did visit them while they were up there? A No sir.
- Q They were not living in Vinita when you went to Vinita? A No sir.
- Q They were not living on Grand River when you went to Vinita? A No sir they were not there then, he was there but the family was up in Kansas.
- Q Do you know whether or not when the family has lived on Grand River since you moved to Vinita? A They haven't lived there at all.
- Q Did you ever visit the family when they lived on Grand River before you moved to Vinita? A No sir.
- Q Then of your own knowledge you don't know that they lived on Grand River? A No sir.
- Q That is hearsay? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HUBB:

- Q Were you present at the birth of any of the elder children? A No sir.
- Q Did you visit his people while they were in Kansas sending the children to school? A No sir I never did visit them at all, until they lived at Vinita.
- Q You don't know then of your own personal knowledge whether any of them were born in Kansas? A No sir, I don't.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q You do know one thing, and that is you never saw Jim in the Cherokee Nation until about July, 1867, when he came down to help Luster make that hay? A No sir I never know of him.
- Q He was your brother? A Yes sir.
- Q They stayed in Kansas from about 1867 up until 1897 sending their children to school, is that a fact? A I don't know sir.
- Q You spoke about them going up there to send them to school?
- A Yes sir.
- Q And the older children went to school about 30 years, is that a fact? A I couldn't tell you how long they went to school.
- Q They were up there raising them to wasn't they? A I guess they were.
- Q But when they went there there was a number of the children in existence were they? There were a number of the children born after they left the Cherokee Nation to go to Kansas to send them to school? A I don't understand what you are asking me.
- Q I mean, under your theory of it, they were up there in Kansas sending their children to school, when they went to Kansas to send them to school they didn't have any children to send did they when they went back there in 1867? A Yes sir I guess they had children.
- Q Did Jim Landrum have any children by his wife living in 1867, when you say he came down there and helped Luster put up hay?
- A Yes sir.
- Q What was its name? A Ed and Alice.
- Q He had two children then? A Yes sir.
- Q Which of the children were it they went back to Kansas to educate? A Ed and Alice.
- Q How big were they in 1867? A I don't know.
- Q Don't you know as a matter of fact that neither of them were born then in 1867, July of that year? A Yes sir Alice was I know.
- Q Alice was born prior to that time, don't you know that the records show that Jim and his wife were not married until 1867? A I don't know.
- Q In fact you are testifying to these facts that you haven't any knowledge at all? A Yes sir, I thought I did.
- Q You didn't see the children? A No sir I didn't see the children at all.
- Q The children were not born before the war? A No sir.
- Q They were not married before the war? A No sir.
- Q The war closed in 1865 didn't it or do you remember what year?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Were they married before the war closed, Jim and his wife? A Yes sir they were married just after the war closed.
- Q That would have been in 1865, don't you know they didn't have two children born and big enough to send to school in 1867, two years after that? A I didn't say they were sending them to school then.
- Q Didn't you tell me a moment ago that they went back there to send those children to school? A I said Jim said his wife was sending the children to school in Kansas.
- Q She wasn't down here? A No sir.
- Q She was in Kansas sending their children to school? A Yes sir that is what Jim said.
- Q And they had been married two years and had children big enough to go to school? A I didn't say the children were going to school in 1867, that Jim was down at Fort Gibson the first time I saw him in the Nation.
- Q And didn't you say they went back to Kansas to send his children to school? A Yes sir.

Q And you also said that Jim ~~wann~~ said his wife was up there educating his children? A Yes sir.

BY MR. BLUE:

Q Was Jim's wife with him when he came down there to put up hay?
A No sir.

Q When did you first see Jim's wife? A I never saw her until after I moved to Vinita, she brought the children down and went out to her father's.

Q How many children did she have then? A She had three with her, and that is the first time I ever saw them.

Q Do you know anything about their sending those children to school in Kansas yourself? A No sir.

Q All you know is what your brother Jim said? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know as a matter of fact when he was married? A No sir not exactly but he was married right after the war I believe, he was married a little before peace was declared.

Q Do you know where he was married? A No sir I don't know myself.

Q You were not at his wedding? A No sir.

Q You don't know anything about that except what you heard? A No sir he was married after I left up there.

Q Do you remember when you went to Fort Gibson? A I went to Fort Gibson before peace was declared.

Q You don't remember about when that was? A No sir I don't know what year it was.

Q How what do you mean when peace was declared? A When they said we could go home, the war was over.

Q Do you know when the fighting ceased in the Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember what year it was? A In 1865 I suppose.

Q 1865 when they ceased fighting down here? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know as a matter of fact about his marriage, only what you have been told? A Yes sir.

A F F I D A V I T.

On this day personally appeared before me, the undersigned Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, JESSE ROWE, who being by me duly sworn on oath says that:

My name is Jesse Rowe, my Post Office is Ketchum, I. T., and my age is forty-three years. I remember when I was a small boy of seeing Jim Landrum around in the neighborhood where I lived on Grand River, continuously up until long after the Shawnees came to the Cherokee Nation.
Jim Landrum owned a little farm when I first remember of his making a crop the next year after he moved off of the Daniels place and he has always owned that farm since some time about the year of 1870 or as long as I can remember back. Jim Landrum Sr. made trips to Kansas occasionally and was gone a short time and returned. In about 1871 he commenced making trips to Kansas to get work and made several trips up to Kansas but during the time that he was gone he maintained and kept up his improvements in the Cherokee nation. I am duly and lawfully enrolled in the Cherokee Nation and my enrollment has been approved by the Honorable Secretary of the Interior. My name appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880 and I have selected my allotment of land and received my allotment certificate therefor.

I have no interest whatever in this case and am not related to any of the applicants.

DECISION.

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen were made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Jim Landrum Sr., for himself and wife, Margaret Landrum, and their minor children, Jessie, John, Jim Jr., Barbara and Nelson Landrum; by Frances Banks for herself and minor children, Earl and McKinley Banks; thereafter, on October 30, 1901, there was filed with the Commission an affidavit showing the birth, on September 22, 1901, of Hortense Banks, daughter of the applicant, Frances Banks; by Belle Landrum for herself and minor child, Velma Landrum; by Alice Lynch for herself and minor child, Laura Lynch; by Lissie Allen for herself and minor children, Emma and Viola Landrum and Frank Allen; and by Ed Landrum for himself. Copies of the testimony taken at different times and places in the matter of the applications for the enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen of Jane Riley, case No. D 600, and Della Kirkpatrick, et al., case No. D 673, are filed herewith and made a part of the record herein.

THE RECORD FURTHER SHOWS: That on August 29, 1904, the Commission rendered its decision herein granting said applicants, except Margaret Landrum, who was denied, the right to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen; that thereafter, on September 14, 1904, the Cherokee Nation filed with the Commission a motion praying that this case be re-opened, and it be permitted to introduce newly discovered evidence tending to show that none of the applicants herein are entitled to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen; and that on December 19, 1904, said motion was granted by the Commission, and on February 2, May 4, and June 1, 1905, further testimony in the matter of said applications was taken at Muskogee, Indian Territory.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicants, Jim Landrum Sr., and Margaret Landrum, claim the right to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen by virtue of their compliance with the treaty stipulations of 1866, and that all the other applicants herein claim the same right as descendants of the said Jim Landrum Sr. and Margaret Landrum.

The following points are fully established by the evidence, no attempt having been made to disprove them:

- (1) That the applicants, Jim Landrum Sr., and Margaret Landrum, husband and wife, were the slaves of Cherokee citizens at the commencement of the rebellion, removed from the Cherokee Nation during said rebellion, and later returned to said Nation and established a residence therein.
- (2) That all the other applicants herein were born since the close of the rebellion, are lineal descendants (children and grandchildren), of the two applicants last above named, and, except as to Laura Lynch and Frank Allen, neither claim nor possess any rights to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen other than as such descendants.

It is contended in behalf of the applicant, Laura Lynch, that she is the daughter of one Ed Lynch, a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation. On his first appearance before the Commission, in 1901, the said Ed Lynch testified that he was the father of but one child, and that that child was dead. (See Cherokee No. 10884). In his testimony in this case, taken on May 4, 1905, at Muskogee, Indian Territory, he acknowledged Laura Lynch as his child, and asserts that he was married to the applicant, Alice Lynch, nee Landrum, mother of said Laura Lynch, on September 27, 1890. As to the date of their marriage he is corroborated by his wife, in a letter written to the Commission under date of April 30, 1905, a copy of said letter being made a part of the record herein. A birth affidavit filed with the Commission on June 12, 1901, and sworn to by the said Alice Lynch, shows the said Laura Lynch to have been born on January 28, 1890, eight months prior to the marriage of her mother to the said Ed Lynch. This, in connection with the testimony of George T. Borden, taken in this case on June 1, 1903, at Muskogee, Indian Territory, to the effect that the said Alice Lynch, nee Landrum, continuously lived in Kansas till a short time prior to Laura's birth, that she was gone three or four months from her home in Kansas, and returned with Laura, a baby, in her arms, and that one Taylor Newman, a non-citizen of the Cherokee Nation, was admitted by Alice to be the father of this child, satisfactorily shows that Laura Lynch is not the child of the said Ed Lynch, and obtains no right to Cherokee citizenship through her father.

The testimony of the applicant, Lizzie Allen, taken on June 11, 1901, at Chelsea, Indian Territory, indicates that Will Allen, the alleged father of the applicant, Frank Allen, is a Cherokee citizen. She further testified that her child, Frank Allen, was born three years prior to her marriage to Will Allen. Cherokee Freedman Enrollment card No. D 701, shows the said Will Allen to be a non-citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and an examination of the Cherokee Citizenship records fails to show that application has ever been made for the enrollment of the said Will Allen as a Cherokee citizen, nor can he be identified on any roll of the Cherokee Nation in the possession of this office.

In view of the foregoing it is considered that in order to properly adjudicate said applicants' rights to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, the primary question to be determined is:

Did Jim Landrum Sr. and Margaret Landrum, or either of them, return to the Cherokee Nation after the rebellion, within the time specified in the Whitmire decree for the return of Cherokee Freedmen to said Nation?

THE EVIDENCE FURTHER SHOWS: That after the close of the rebellion neither the said Jim Landrum Sr., nor the said Margaret Landrum, removed to and established a residence in the Cherokee Nation prior to the year 1885.

Excepting the Kern-Clifton roll, none of the applicants herein can be identified on any roll of the Cherokee Nation in the possession of this office.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS: It is considered that the evidence in this case shows that the applicants herein possess no rights to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That its decision in this case rendered by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, on August 29, 1904, be set aside and held for naught, and that, under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), Jim Landrum Sr., Margaret Landrum, Fessie Landrum, John Landrum, Jim Landrum Jr., Barbara Landrum, and Nelson Landrum, Frances Banks, Earl Banks, McKinley Banks and Hortense Banks, Belle Landrum, Velma Landrum, Alice Lynch, Laura Lynch, Lizzie Allen, Anna Landrum, Viola Landrum, Frank Allen and Ed Landrum, are not entitled to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, and their applications for enrollment as such are accordingly denied.

-4-

I have lived in the Cherokee Nation all of my life. I served through the War of the Rebellion in the Union Army as a volunteer and known as the Second Indian Regiment and we were stationed at Ft.

near Grand River, and after I was honorably discharged from the army at Ft. Gibson after the close of the war, I went at once in the late fall of 1865 to my old home in the edge of the timber not far from Lynch's Prairie in the Polk District of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

I am acquainted with the applicant Jim Laudrum Sr. and he lived the following winter and spring at the George Cochran place. I was member of seeing Jim Laudrum go in often in the spring of 1886 and later when he moved away from the Cochran place, I saw him quite often around the George Laudrum place."

I saw Jim Landrum on Grand River in the spring of 1866, he made a crop at the George Landrum place after he moved away from the same location and he stayed on Grand River throughout the summer of 1866 and in the fall of 1866 he moved away from that community into another neighborhood, and I did not see him very often after that but I saw him occasionally around George Landrums for several years after the fall of 1866 when he moved out of my neighborhood.

I know that Jim Landrum Sr. was living in the Cherokee Nation in the spring and fall of 1866 and for a number of years thereafter.

I have no interest whatever in this case.

AFFIDAVIT.

This day personally appeared before me, the undersigned Notary Public for the Northern District, Indian Territory, Jim Landrum, Sr. to me personally well known, who being by me duly sworn on his oath deposes and says: My name is Jim Landrum, Sr.; my age is 62 years, my Post Office is Vinita, I. T. I make this affidavit for the purpose of showing the Department of the Interior that I am a very poor man; that it takes all my income I can get from land and my daily wages as a laborer, to support my family; that I have been unable to raise the necessary money to pay the mileage as per diem of witnesses that I could take before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes at Muskogee Indian Territory. I introduced before said Commission all the testimony that I thought necessary at that time, to warrant my enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman and in fact so understand that the Commission on that testimony at one time signed a decision ordering my enrollment, but that the same was recinded on a motion of the Cherokee Nation and testimony of Learned, Lynn, Moore, which afterwards were taken. I have been entirely unable to procure the money necessary to pay the per diem and mileage ranges from $10. to $25 per witness and for this reason I have caused the testimony of my witnesses to be taken before a Notary Public and forward to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior. I have not sufficient property or collateral mortgage to the banks in order to get them to lend me the money that I require to pay said mileage and per diem of my witnesses, and I have therefore done the best that was possible for me to do in my poverty.

My name is Arthur Bean; my post office address is now Chaffee, Indian Territory and was formerly Vinita, I. T.; my age is 63 years; I have been a resident of the Cherokee Nation all my life and was never out of the Cherokee nation except during the War of the Rebellion, when I went out of the Cherokee Nation and served through the war in the Seventy-Ninth Regiment of the U. S. Army and was honorably discharged at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas in the fall of 1865. I came to Mapleton and Ft. Scott, Kans. where I spent the winter of 1865 and the spring and summer of 1866 and in the fall of 1866 I went to the Cherokee Nation with Tobias Bean, Captain Geo. Vann and some others and was in what is known as the famous Horse Creek Fight. This fight took place on Horse Creek in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory in the fall of 1866, I think it was in September or the early part of October, 1866. After this fight we located on Grand river and when I got located I saw Jim Landrum, Sr. around his father's place in the fall of 1866. Jim Landrum's father was named Geo. Landrum. He was at this time with his father Geo. Landrum on Grand river on Lynch's Prairie. I saw Jim Landrum quite often in the fall of 1866 on Grand river and for several years thereafter. I knew that he was living in the Cherokee nation around his father's place in the fall of 1866 and that he lived around in that neighborhood several years thereafter. I knew him before the Civil War also.

I have been placed on the final roll of the Cherokee Freedmen; have my allotment of land and have my allotment certificate therefor. I was formerly on the Cherokee doubtful card #212 and my case was consolidated with the case of Tobias Bean, et al., F. D--205. We were ordered enrolled by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes on March 31, 1904 and the Cherokee nation took an appeal to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior and on Aug. 7, 1904 the Honorable Secretary of the Interior affirmed the decision of the Dawes Commission and we were thereafter placed on the final roll of the Cherokee Freedmen.

I first saw Jim Landrum, Sr. at his father's house a few days after we landed on Grand river in the fall of 1866.

"I have lived in the Cherokee Nation all of my life and did not leave the Cherokee Nation during the Civil war. I lived at Beck's Mill in Goingmade District of the Cherokee Nation during the Civil war and right after the close of the war I moved to Tahlequah and lived around Tahlequah for awhile and then moved to Fort Gibson and lived with my Aunt Winnie Ratcliff in Fort Gibson until the fall of 1867 when Jim Landrum Sr and Arch Landrum came to Fort Gibson with their wagons and teams and moved Aunt Winnie Ratcliff up to Grand River near what is known as the Red Daniels place. I was around Fort Gibson frequently in the years of 1866 and 1867 and while I was down there I saw Jim Landrum frequently both in the year of 1866 and in the year of 1867 about Fort Gibson. Aunt Eliza Ratcliff was then living in Fort Gibson and she has a sister to Jim Landrum and he would come to visit her."

I remember seeing Jim Landrum often in the fall of 1866 and in the spring of 1867 when he would come down from Grand River to visit his sister Aunt Clara Foreman. I talked with Jim Landrum frequently then and he told me that he was living in the fall of 1866 and the winter of 1866 and in the Spring of 1867 upon Grand River with his father George Landrum. Jim Landrum's Mother was living in Fort Gibson in the fall of 1866, and in the year of 1867. Her name was Peggy Landrum. His father was named George Landrum and they had separated and George Landrum was then in 1866 living on Grand River with his wife, Caroline Landrum and Jim Landrum Sr had a sister and his mother living in Fort Gibson. I was well acquainted with Jim Landrum Sr prior to the war. He lived nearby and all used water out of the same well prior to the war.

I was living with Aunt Winnie Catlett at Fort Gibson in the fall of 1867 when Arch Landrum and Jim Landrum Sr came there and moved her up to Grand River and I went with my Aunt Winnie and we moved into the House where Jim Landrum Sr and Arch Landrum were living and we lived in that house with them until Jim Landrum Sr, with the help of James Moore and others built a log house for Jim Landrum and we then moved into the log house and Jim Landrum made his home with us in the log house. He owned a half interest in the loghouse and they put in a small farm there putting the land in cultivation. Jim Landrum Sr never gave up his interest in this log house that I ever heard of and this old log house still stands at the same place and is now being used for a chicken house.

After about the year of 1870 I remember that Jim Landrum was making trips to Kansas. I would miss him for a few months along but I remember seeing him nearly every year and in that part of the country. He never gave up his interest in the property he owned during his trips out of the country.

In the years immediately following the Civil War the country was a hard time to live in the Southern States. There were very hard times with great difficulty they were unable to get enough to eat. They still were hungry for meat and they were unable to get a horse to ride on to eat. So when I think of the hard times that were experienced in the South after the war I think of the hard times that were experienced in the South after the war.

In the fall of 1866 Jim Landrum Sr was living on the old Military Road

BEFORE THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

In the matter of the application of Jim Landrum, et al., for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen (Jim Landrum, and others, Freedman D-664.).

R E P L Y

In this Jim Landrum effort of the Cherokee attorneys we find a class altogether new in the freedman work. We find no name on the face of it, so want of a better term, I will call it an "EFFORT", and it seems to be an effort to cause J. C. Starr to again lose his position. So I will begin this "reply" by frankly admitting that I do not see the "point" at which the Cherokee attorneys were deiving when they wrote the "effort".

J. C. Starr.

J. C. Starr seems to have incurred the Cherokee attorneys ill-will in some manner or another, and here they have the bad grace to tell of their troubles, and to use the Cherokee nation's money to pay their expence, etc., while they do it.

If I read this "effort" understandingly, it appears that J. C. Starr is accused by the Cherokee attorneys of assisting J. J. Bulger in freedman cases.

It is quite true that J. C. Starr is thus employed, and James J. Bulger hereby pronounces him a valuable assistant. With his five years experience as "secretary, stenographer and typewriter" for the Cherokee attorneys, he brings to the assistance of J. J. Bulger a knowledge of the "condition of affairs" that no other man can bring him not even James B. Ravenport.

But why deny Jim Landrum enrollment simply because J. C. Starr is assisting J. J. Bulger in freedman cases? Who is James J. Bulger that Jim Landrum ought to be denied enrollment because he has, through James J. Bulger, secured the services of J. C. Starr?

Is not James J. Bulger admitted to practice before the Department and is not J. C. Starr a valuable assistant?

Why are the Cherokee attorneys so out-spoken in their opposition to J. C. Starr assisting James J. Bulger? Why is it of interest to them who assists James J. Bulger? Why? Yes, why?

A perusal of the Cherokee attorney reply in the Jesse Vann case will be sufficient answer to these questions.

The Cherokee attorneys there tell us that J. C. Starr is, or "was familiar with all the records" in the office of the said Cherokee attorneys prior to July 5, 1905, and is it for this reason that they object to him seeking employment elsewhere after being discharged by these Cherokee attorneys?

If the records show - the records in the Cherokee attorneys office- show that any person is entitled to enrollment as a Cherokee citizen, is it not the sworn duty of the Cherokee attorneys to see that he is so enrolled? For whom are the Cherokee attorneys working?

Is it not as much their duty to see to it that a freedman who is entitled to enrollment, is enrolled, as it is the duty of the Secretary of the Interior to see that the Commissioner of Pensions does not discriminate in the matter giving pensions to members of the different political parties?

Is it not a violation of their plain duty, and a gross injustice to Cherokee citizens, for the Cherokee attorneys to spend "$336" or "$190" or any other amount of the money of the same Cherokee citizens in an ^{effort} ~~effort~~ to prolong the life of the office of the same Cherokee attorneys, and nothing more?

What other interest can the Cherokee attorneys have in the matter of J. C. Starr assisting James J. Bulger. One of these Cherokee attorneys is a white man, a plaintiff in the Intermarried White Man's case now pending in the United States Supreme Court, and the other two have been identified in the famous L. B. Hall report to the Cherokee okee National Council, relative to the collection of a certain "strip" cattle tax, and in the McConnell report relative to the payment of certain money to Cherokee freedmen after the Kern-Clifton enrollment.

Yes, what other interest do the Cherokee attorneys have in the fact that J. C. Starr is now assisting James J. Bulger in the freedmen cases?

Why was J. C. Starr discharged by the same Cherokee attorneys, July 5, 1905?

Perhaps an answer to this last question might also be an answer to them all?

"On February 2, 1905" J. C. Starr was assisting the Cherokee attorneys as secretary, stenographer and typewriter, and if by reason of these facts, he became "familiar with all the records" in the office of the Cherokee attorneys, and is now in a position to know that Jim Landrum ought to have been enrolled by the Dawes Commission, is it not proper for him to so inform the Honorable Secretary of the Interior - we is a Cherokee citizen and has no "record".

This matter of rejecting a Cherokee freedman's application may be a serious one. To reject the application of a freedman applicant who is entitled to enrollment ought not to be the desire of the Cherokee attorneys, and IS NOT THE DESIRE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

"LAST FOUR".

I have heard something about the "eleventh hour"; something about it being better late than never, and now since the freedmen are in a position to receive the benefit of the experience of a man who was secretary, stenographer and typewriter of the Cherokee attorneys and in a "position to know that facts" the "EXACT FACTS" in the possession of the Cherokee nation when he goes out to get affidavits, the Cherokee attorneys above "think that it is high time to call a halt in these matters" for the "reason there should be (an end) somewhere along the line an ending to this controversy".

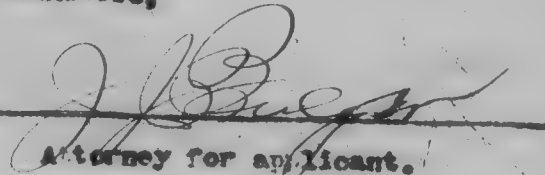

Is this the true reason?

Jim Landrum Page 4.

In conclusion I respectfully submit that from this Jim Landrum "effort" of the Cherokee attorneys in this case, together with the Jesse Vann "reply", and the Jackson Davis "reply", and the protest against the receipt of the affidavit of Wetsy McConnell in the Burrell Daniels case, it is clear that the Cherokee attorneys are exceedingly anxious of late to show that "it is high time to call the halt"

WHEREFORE, I respectfully suggest, for the benefit of the Cherokee attorneys that the employment of J. C. Starr by James J. Bulger is altogether a matter exclusively within the "jurisdiction" of said James J. Bulger and J. C. Starr.

Respectfully Submitted,

Attorney for applicant.

On this ^{6th} day of July, 1906, personally appeared before me
United States Commissioner the undersigned ~~Walter P. ...~~ Eliza Tucker to me well known who being duly sworn on her oath deposes and says :

" My name is Eliza Tucker, my age is fifty-nine years and my post office is Vinita, Indian Territory. I am a duly enrolled and recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation. My name appears upon the 1880 authenticated roll and I have selected my allotment of land in the Cherokee Nation and have received my certificate of allotment therefor."

" I have lived in the Cherokee Nation all of my life and did not leave the Cherokee Nation during the Civil War. Right after the close of the war I moved to Tahlequah and lived around Tahlequah for a while and then moved to Fort Gibson and lived with my mother, Winnie Bateliffe in Fort Gibson until the fall of 1867 when Jim Landrum Sr and Arch Landrum came to Fort Gibson with their wagons and teams and moved my mother, Winnie Bateliffe and I, up to Grand River near what is known as the Bob Daniels place. I was around Fort Gibson frequently in the years of 1866 and 1867 and while I was down there I saw Jim Landrum frequently both in the year of 1866 and 1867 about Fort Gibson. Aunt Olera Foreman was then living in Fort Gibson and she was a sister to Jim Landrum and he would come to visit her. I remember seeing Jim Landrum often in the fall of 1866 and in the spring of 1867 when he would come down from Grand river to visit his sister, Aunt Olera Foreman. I talked with Jim Landrum frequently then and he told me that he was living in the fall of 1866 and the winter of 1866 and in the spring of 1867 up on Grand river with his father George Landrum. Jim Landrum's mother was living in Fort Gibson in the fall of 1866, and in the year of 1867. Her name was Peggy Landrum. His father was named George Landrum and they had separated and George Landrum was then, in 1866, living on Grand River with his wife,

Caroline Landrum, and Jim Landrum Sr., had a sister and his mother living in Fort Gibson. I was well acquainted with Jim Landrum Sr prior to the war. We lived neighbors and all used water out of the same spring prior to the war. "

I was living with my mother, Winnie Ratcliffe at Fort Gibson in the fall of 1867 when Arch Landrum and Jim Landrum Sr came there and moved her up to Grand river and I went with my mother and we moved into the house where Jim Landrum Sr and Arch Landrum were living and we lived in that house with them until Jim Landrum Sr, with the help of Nelson Moore and others built a log house for Jim Landrum and we then moved into the log house and Jim Landrum made his home with us in the log house. He owned a half interest in the log house and they put in a small farm there putting the land in cultivation. Jim Landrum Sr never gave up his interest in this log house that I ever heard of and this old log house still stands at the same place and is now being used for a chicken house.

After about the year of 1870 I remember that Jim Landrum was making trips to Kansas; I would miss him for a few months along, but I remember seeing him every- every year back in that part of the country. He never gave up his interest in the property he owned during his trips out of the country."

In the years immediately following the civil war the Freedmen had a hard time to live in the Cherokee Nation; times were very hard and it was with great difficulty that we could get enough to eat; we would have to kill wild hogs for meat and did well to get corn bread and wild onion to eat. We were in destitute circumstances for the years following the war when we were trying to improve places to live on. In the fall of 1866 Jim Landrum Sr was living on the old military road near Grand river in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory."

This day personally appeared before me the undersigned Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory Allen Lynch to me personally well known who being by me duly sworn on his oath deposes and says:

"My name is Allen Lynch, my Post Office is Ketchum I. T. my age is fifty-five years and I am a Freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation duly and lawfully enrolled as such and my name appears upon the authenticated Cherokee roll of the year of 1880. I know Jim Landrum Sr who is listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on Freedmen Doubtful card No 664. I have known him all my life. We were raised near each other. When the Civil war broke out Jim Landrum Sr was living with his master up some where about Big Creek in the Cherokee Nation and the Soldiers took us North and we both enlisted in the Army and served through the war together and when peace was made we were discharged in October 1865 at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas and we then went to Neosho Falls Kansas and remained there a short time in the fall of 1865 and about the time cold weather set in in the late fall of 1865 Jim Landrum Louis Vittitoe and another white man by the name of George Rockwell left Neosho Falls Kansas for the Cherokee Nation. I also left right after they did and caught up with them and Arch Landrum up where is now now as Labette Creek is not far from where Chetopa now stands in Kansas. We came right on down to the Cherokee Nation together and parted at Grand river in the Cherokee Nation. At Grand River George Rockwell went across the river to sell tinware and I also went across the river and Vittitoe and Arch Landrum and Jim Landrum went to the Jesse Cochran place and Jim Landrum had with him a woman by the name of Eliza Hilderbrand and two children. He was keeping this woman at that time. Jim Landrum Sr with this woman and two children moved into a servant house in the Cochran yard and later moved into a tenant house on land owned by Jesse Cochran Sr. Jim Landrum worked for Jesse Cochran the rest of the year of 1865 and worked for him and lived in his tenant houses until about the first of May 1866 when Jim Landrum moved out across the river from that Neighborhood and Vittitoe moved into the house vacated by Jim Landrum. Vittitoe lived on the Cochran place until in October 1866 when he killed Jesse Cochran Sr. I left that part of the country in the spring of 1866 in May I think it was and I did not see Jim Landrum any more until three or four years later I saw him at George Landrums house, (His Father's) splitting rails. This was on Grand river, near Simon Lynch's lake and Jim Landrum was splitting rails. This was in about 1869. I have no interest in this case.

On this, the 23rd day of July, 1906, personally appeared before me, the undersigned Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, THOMAS H. MOORE, to me well known, who being by me duly sworn, on his oath deposes and says:-

"My name is Thomas H. Moore, my age is 55 years, and my post office is Ketchum, Indian Territory." "I am a duly enrolled and recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and have selected my allotment of land in the Cherokee Nation, and have received my certificates of allotment therefore.

"I was born and raised in the Cherokee Nation, and have lived here all of my life, with the exception of a short time during the war, while I was in Douglas County, Kansas. I have known Jim Landrum Sr. all of my life, and knew him before the war. We were boys together and were practically raised together and both of us belonged to the same family of Landrums, while we were slaves, Jim Landrum's master being a brother to my master, who were neighbors. "I returned from Kansas to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1865 and lived on the Jesse Cochran place for a short time and we then moved onto the Bob Daniels place on Grand River. The Pin Indians got so bad that we had to leave Grand River and go to Fort Gibson for protection. During the late fall of 1865 our family and Nelson Moore went to Fort Gibson and stayed there during that winter and came back upon Grand River in the Spring of 1866. When we got back in the spring of 1866 Jim Landrum Sr. was living on the Jesse Cochran place with Kliza Hilderbrand, who had two children. It was about the first of April, 1866 that I came back from Fort Gibson to the Jesse Cochran place and found Jim Landrum Sr. living there. When I got back from Fort Gibson I moved onto the same place I left, the Bob Daniels place on Grand River, and later on during the same year Jim Landrum moved onto this same Bob Daniels place, where I was then living and we were neighbors, our houses being in the same yard. This was in the summer of 1866. Jim Landrum continued to live in a log house on the Bob Daniels place for several months and the woman, Kliza that he was living with died in the log house that he had moved into, on the Bob Daniels place. I saw Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation through the summer and fall of 1866; he and I were neighbors; I had known him all my life, and during the year of 1866 our houses were in the same yard and we lived not more than 20 yards apart. In the latter part of the year of 1866, Jim Landrum Sr. left the Bob Daniels place and went over on Cabin Creek where Crap Lynch and Art Williams lived. The next year, & in 1867 Jim Landrum and Arch Landrum went to Fort Gibson and moved Aunt Winnie Ratoliff from Fort Gibson down on to Grand River. I was in Fort Gibson at the time Jim Landrum and Arch Landrum came after Winnie Ratoliff in 1867 and I remember it well, for right at the time we had a big dance at Fort Gibson, before Aunt Winnie left as a kind of a celebration of her leaving. At this time, while I was at Fort Gibson on this visit, I had left the Bob Daniels place and was living on the John Walling place on Grand River. Jim Landrum and Arch moved Aunt Winnie Ratoliff from Fort Gibson onto Grand River, right into my neighborhood. She moved into the house with her son, Arch Landrum, about three quarters of a mile from where I was living. Jim Landrum Sr. lived in the same house with Arch Landrum and Winnie Ratoliff until he, Jim Landrum, built a house for himself and Winnie Ratoliff to live in. This was quite a while after Kliza Hilderbrand had died. Jim Landrum and Arch Landrum built a log house together for Jim Landrum and Winnie Ratoliff to live in about a mile and a quarter from where I lived, the same fall that they brought Aunt Winnie Ratoliff up from Fort Gibson, the fall of 1867, and Jim Landrum Sr. owned a half interest in this house. After this house was built, Jim Landrum went down to where his father, George Landrum, lived about 8 miles down the river, from where I lived, and helped his father improve some land, and he, Jim Landrum Sr. got 10 acres for his part, which he then owned and cleared up and fenced, and put it in cultivation. Jim Landrum also dug a well then on this place that belonged to him; he quarried the rock to wall the well with and built a stone chimney. All these improvements are still on this place. Jim Landrum Sr. has never to this day given up these improvements on this place. I know that Jim Landrum Sr. made the improvements on this place 10 acres of land and has at all times ever since that time, about 1868, owned them, and has never relinquished them to any one, that I ever heard of, but I have always known that they belonged to him, all these years. After the death of Eliza Hilderbrand, Jim Landrum Sr. made his home with Winnie Ratoliff, in the Cherokee Nation. Several years after Jim Landrum Sr. made the improvements on this 10 acres of land, he made several trips to Kansas, I would miss him for a while, and then he would be back home. He went back and forth from here to Kansas several times after he made his improvements on his place here, but he would only be gone a short time and his home was always here, in the Cherokee Nation. He would go up to Kansas and visit and work for a while and then come back home. During these years following the war, times were very hard for the Freedmen in the Cherokee Nation, and it was very hard to get enough to eat here, and many of the Freedmen would go back up in Kansas and work for a while to get something to live on. I remember of my father doing the same thing. Lots of the Freedmen would go up there for a while every year, for several years and work, and that was the only way that many of them made enough to live on here and keep their families, while they were improving their places. I know that Jim Landrum Sr. was a resident of the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1866, and was here in the spring of 1867 and had been living in the Cherokee Nation for a long time then, and was here and has had his home here ever since; that about 1868 he made permanent improvements in the Cherokee Nation and has had them ever since.

I have no interest whatever in this case; I am a Cherokee Freedman, duly and lawfully enrolled as such, and have my allotment of land, but I do know that Jim Landrum Sr. returned to the Cherokee Nation before February of 1867 and established a residence here, and has been a continual resident here ever since."

Northern District SS.

On this 23rd day of July 1906 personally appeared before me the undersigned Notary Public within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory/ Simon Lynch of Lawful age who being by me duly sworn according to law on his oath deposes and says:

"My name is Simon Lynch, My Age is seventy-six years and my post office is Chaffee, Indian Territory. I am acquainted with the applicant Jim Landrum Sr and have known him all of his life. I knew him before the Civil War. I came to the Cherokee Nation from Kansas in the summer of 1865 and looked over the country and selected me a place on Grand river. In the Spring of 1866 I brought my family down to the Cherokee Nation from Kansas and settled on Cabin Creek and later moved on to Grand river moving down there in the fall of 1866. When I brought my family to the Cherokee Nation and moved onto Cabin Creek I found Jim Landrum already here. That was in the spring of 1866. Jim Landrum was then living in the Cherokee Nation. He had been living with a woman by the name of Eliza Hilderbrand. Jim Landrum Sr continued to lived in my settlement until about 1870 and after 1870 he spent a part of his time in Kansas and was backward and forwards just as he could get work to do in Kansas and he spent part of his time in Kansas from that on until about 1885 when he came back to his old home the old George Landrum place which he had helped his father to make and lived there for a long time something like about eight years and then he moved to Vinita, Cherokee nation Indian Territory where he has continued to live and still lives.

In 1866 Jim Landrum Sr and his father George Landrum improved a farm in the Cherokee Nation which they owned jointly and after the death of George Landrum the said Jim Landrum Sr moved onto that farm and lived for some time. Jim Landrum Sr also improved a small farm of his own in 1867 and lived on it and kept that all the time thereafter. I know that during his trips to Kansas he owned a home and improvements in the Cherokee Nation during all of the time he was absent from the Nation and I have seen Jim Landrum Sr in the Cherokee Nation as often as one time each year since the year of 1866. I know that he was in Kansas some between the years of 1870 and 1885 but he was up there to get work because he could not get work down here. In 1868 and 1869 he would make trips to Kansas to visit his people up there but would only be gone a week or so at a time. I know that he was the owner of an improvement in the Cherokee Nation when he was living here from 1866 until about 1870 and that after that while he was away on his trips to Kansas to get work that he owned a place, a farm in the Cherokee Nation during all the time he was absent from the Nation.

"My name is Charles Mayfield, my post office is Chaffee, Indian Territory, my age is fifty-four years. I am a Cherokee Freedman and I came to the Cherokee Nation to Grand river in said Nation in the fall of 1866 and have lived there continuously ever since."

"The first time I went to the George Landrum place after my return to the Cherokee Nation was about the first days of February 1867 I went down to the said George Landrum place and I saw Jim Landrum Sr then at work on his fathers place"

"Jim Landrum at that time was at work shopping out and clearing out a piece of land, I lived about ten miles away from this place and was not down there very often. The next time I saw Jim Landrum Sr was in the fall of 1867. He and Arch Landrum came by my house then and had with them Winnie Ratoliff and her family including Kliza Tucker. About a year later I saw him at Crap Lynch's. They were all on a hunting expedition and Jim Landrum was along in the crowd. Prior to 1870 and after I first saw Jim Landrum Sr in February 1867 I never missed him from this part of the country but would see him occasionally and hear of him along all the time. From about 1871 until about 1885 he was in and out of the country. During the time he was out he had a piece of land improve and cultivation and his father tending to renting the land and collecting his rents, for Jim Landrum Sr during the time he was away at work. Since 1885 Jim Landrum Sr has lived in this country practically all the time; he of course would go out to get work when he could not get work in the Cherokee Nation to do. I know that Jim Landrum has owned an improvement upon the Public domain of the Cherokee Nation continuously since I met him in 1867."

He owned a piece of land in 1867 which he cleared out himself and during the time he was out at work his father exercised control of this land for him.

Since 1885 when we finished up that threshing season, I have seen Jim Landrum frequently, at different places in the Cherokee Nation and he has worked in this neighborhood several times since, at different times. I know that Jim Landrum Sr. was in the Cherokee Nation in 1873, for I first met him at his brothers' house, John Landrum, in 1873, and from then until 1882, I saw him once in a while, every few months, at different places in the Cherokee Nation, sometimes about Vinita and sometimes at his brother's house, near Hayden, during these years he worked in the Hayden Neighborhood at several different times. Since 1883, I have been more intimately acquainted with him and I know that since then he has been in the Cherokee Nation most of the time, for he worked with me in 1884 and 1885 and I have seen him frequently ever since.

While we were living on the East side of Grand River about six miles from Lynch's prairie after the war when I was a small girl I remember that Jim Landrum was living on Grand River and farmed there at one time when I was a small girl and I remember Jim Landrum was living in the same yard where we lived and that is the reason I remember so well because I saw him every day and his children played with me all the time in the same yard. Jim Landrum Sr. was a great fiddler and he played the fiddle for us all the time in the evenings and we children would dance every night almost. I remember seeing Jim Landrum right along in that part of the country where he was living up until about the year of 1871 he went up to Kansas to work for a short time and returned and after he that he lived down on Grand river in the settlement of where Aunt Winnie Rateliff lived. I have seen him right along since I was a small girl up to the present. At intervals since 1871 he would go to Kansas and remain for a short time. Jim Landrum improved a little farm in the Cherokee Nation when I was a small girl and built a log house which he continued to own until a few years ago.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of JEM LANDRUM, ET AL., as Cherokee freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

James Landrum, Sr., et al.....Cherokee Freedmen D 664,
Frances Banks, et al.....Cherokee Freedmen D 698,
Belle Landrum, et al.....Cherokee Freedmen D 700,
Alice Lynch, et al.....Cherokee Freedmen D 701,
Lissie Allen, et al.....Cherokee Freedmen D 703,
Ed Landrum.....Cherokee Freedmen D 1112.

Reply of the Cherokee Nation.

There is already quite a voluminous record in this case. James Landrum first appeared before the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes at Chelsea, I. T., on June 10, 1901, and was then represented by counsel, attorneys Mallette & Smith, when he gave his own testimony and he has been represented by counsel at every appearance before the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes since that time. When he first appeared on June 10, 1901, he introduced in support of his application John Landrum and Harry Still. On September 24, 1903, he appeared before the commission to the five civilized tribes and was again examined at length and introduced Arch Landrum in his own behalf. Subsequent to that date, namely, on September 14, 1904, the Cherokee Nation filed with the commission a motion praying that the case be reopened and on December 19, 1904, said motion was granted and the applicants were notified that testimony would be introduced both on behalf of the Cherokee Nation and on behalf of the applicants on February 8, 1906, before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, when the applicants appeared in person and by ex-congressman R. W. Blue of the firm of Blue & Bulger, who represented the applicants, examined their witnesses and cross-examined at length the testimony introduced on behalf of the Cherokee Nation and after all the testimony was introduced in the case the same was by agreement closed. The Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes on September 8, 1906, rendered an opinion rejecting all of the applicants herein.

The attorneys for applicants file a motion asking for a rehearing in this case and attach numerous affidavits thereto, said motion for rehearing being upon the ground of newly discovered evidence.

It will be noted, as above observed, that the first testimony in this case was taken at Chelsea, I. T., on June 10, 1901, and that testimony was taken from time to time until 1905, or a period of four years.

We have frequently called the attention of the department to the fact that the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes publicly advertised that the commission would sit at various places throughout the Cherokee Nation at stated times for the purpose of taking testimony in these cases and this particular case shows that the applicants availed themselves of this opportunity: that on June 10, 1901, testimony was taken at Chelsea in this case, on September 24, 1903, testimony was taken at Vinita in this case, and that on different dates in 1905, testimony was taken at Muskogee in this case. It will thus be observed that ample opportunity and convenience were afforded both the applicants and the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of introducing the testimony and against applicants in these citizenship cases. Each one of the original jackets here will find notices to applicants of the times and places where testimony could be taken in these cases and the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes took the caution to register a large number of these notices so that the applicants could not plead that they were not received. After the adverse decision of the commissioner to the Five civilized tribes on September 8, 1908, in these cases, attorneys for applicants began to file affidavits alleging newly discovered testimony. We submit that the first question to be decided by the Department is if as the record shows in this case the commission to the five civilized tribes went from point to point throughout the Cherokee nation and afforded ample opportunity to these applicants at their respective homes or near them to introduce testimony, and we desire right now to call attention to the fact that the postoffice address of James Landrum was Vinita, and the commission sat a number of times at Vinita, Indian Territory, and if ample opportunity was offered this applicant to introduce his testimony, and if this case, as the record shows was reopened and remanded and all parties notified that additional testimony was going to be introduced on a day fixed by the commission, which was done in this case, and if as the record shows both parties were represented, the applicants in person and by counsel, and testimony was taken both for and against the applicants, the witnesses examined and cross-examined at length, and by agreement the case was closed and no motion filed to reopen until after an adverse decision was rendered, namely, on September 8, 1906, we submit that this case presents a lack of diligence that should be seriously considered and decided by the Department so that some rule may be laid down as to the reopening of citizenship cases. The applicant cannot plead ignorance; he was represented at every hearing by able counsel; at the first hearing by Mellette & Smith, as able lawyers as practice before the bar in Indian Territory; at the next hearing by ex-congressman R. W. Blue of the firm of Blue & Bulger, also known throughout the Indian Territory as able lawyers. In Cherokee Allotment Contest case No. 712, decided by the Commissioner to the five Civilized Tribes on June 6, 1906, the Commissioner held:

"The rule is general that a new trial or rehearing will not be granted on a mere showing that new evidence has been discovered. Newly discovered evidence in order to be sufficient must possess the following requisites:

- (a) It must be such as would probably change the result if a new trial is granted.
- (b) It must be discovered since the trial.
- (c) It must be such as could not have been discovered before the trial by the exercise of due diligence.
- (d) It must be material to the issues.
- (e) It must not be merely cumulative to the former evidence.
- (f) It must not be merely impeaching or contradicting the former evidence."

In support of the above decision there was cited the case of Moore versus Larney, Creek No. 49, wherein it was held:

"In motions for a rehearing resting on newly discovered evidence it should be shown that said evidence could not be discovered by due diligence, and the facts showing such diligence should appear." Citing 6 L. D. 9; 7 L. D. 136; 10 L. D. 483; 18 L. D. 31; 19 L. D. 543.

In this case there is absolutely no showing of any diligence whatever.

The leading case upon this question, passing upon the requisites of a motion for a new trial, by the Supreme Court of Arkansas, is that of Barris versus Wise, 2 Ark. 33, wherein the court held:

"The only remaining point to be determined is did the circuit court err in refusing a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence on the trial. The doctrine upon this subject is well settled both upon reason and authority and we will now fully state it. In order to entitle a party to a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence since the former trial the affidavit in the case must prove:

1. The names of the witnesses whose testimony has been discovered and the facts expected to be established by them.
2. That the facts and circumstances as proved must show that the applicant has used due diligence in preparing his case for trial.
3. That the facts and circumstances newly discovered have come to his knowledge since the determination of the trial, and they must be such as if adduced on the trial were competent to prove the issue and would probably have changed the verdict, and,
4. That the evidence discovered is not cumulative of that previously relied on and that it will tend to prove material facts which were not put directly in issue on the former trial."

In this case a motion to reopen on behalf of the Cherokee Nation was sustained and the case set down for a new trial and parties given notice and after notice, testimony was taken and a decision rendered on September 8, 1905, after the taking of the testimony on February 2, 1905. Again, the case was closed by consent, both the Cherokee Nation and the applicants were represented by counsel and the witnesses examined and cross-examined. As to the question of diligence, quoting from the above decision, the court said:

"The appellant's affidavit does not show that he used due diligence to procure their testimony or attendance; secondly, he is not entitled to the benefit of the evidence which he might have discovered before the trial, but which has come to his knowledge since, merely because he made an effort or exertion to procure it before that time."

Now the applicant gives his postoffice as Vinita and the affidavits of all of the witnesses show that they reside there at Vinita, or a few miles south of Vinita on Grand River. One witness is Simon Lynch; he signs by ex mark and has testified in a great many cases before and admits that he was convicted of larceny in the Cherokee courts. The next witness is Joe Davis, a barber, who gives his age as 41, and was therefore only 11 years of age in 1866. He claims to have lived on Spring Creek, some fifteen miles from Grand River, and it is proposed now to introduce this boy of 11 years of age as against the old residents who lived in that vicinity many of whom are still living. But let me ask the department here and now what excuse does this applicant give for not introducing Joe Davis heretofore in the case, particularly in view of the fact that the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes sat three or four times in the town of Vinita. In view of this can the applicant plead that he has used any diligence? Another witness signs her name as Eliza Pulson by ex mark;

she is now 45 years of age, and was therefore only five in 1866, but in view of the fact that she cannot now sign her name, she was certainly a very precocious youth. She lives at Vinita, and what excuse is given why she was not previously introduced as a witness in this case. Another witness is Ellis Warren who gives his age as 34, but he had only lived in the Cherokee Nation 34 years and he had only known Jim Landrum since 1873, and he signs by ex mark. Another witness is George Whitmire; he is 30 years of age, and he knew Jim Landrum about 16 years. Thomas H. Moore gives his age as 55. He was therefore 15 in 1866 and attempts to make an extended statement with reference to the whereabouts of Jim Landrum, Sr., in 1866, but no excuse whatever is offered why he was not introduced, and the same must be said of Arthur Bean, who once lived in Vinita, and his postoffice is now Chaffee; he signs by ex mark. George C. Davis makes an affidavit and he gives his postoffice as Vinita, so does Leander Bean; likewise, Eliza Tucker. So that it will be seen all of these witnesses live in or near Vinita, at least Vinita is their nearest railroad point, it is their trading point, it is the one point more convenient to them than any other, and as above observed the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes sat at Vinita a number of times to hear testimony in freedmen cases and did hear testimony in this case there, and yet these applicants, nor their attorneys after consultation with them never availed themselves of the opportunity to introduce any of these witnesses living in the town or near there in this case.

In 2 Ark., 346, Olmstead versus Hill, the court held:

"The doctrine in regard to granting new trials on the ground of newly discovered testimony is fully explained and established in the case of Robbins versus Fuller, 2 Ark. 133. Indeed the authorities are so numerous and full upon the point and the principles upon which they rest are so obvious and conclusive that it seems almost impossible to overlook the essential requisites that the law requires to entitle a party to a new trial. He must have been guilty of no neglect or laches in preparing his case for trial. It must have been out of his power to procure the newly discovered evidence upon the former trial by due diligence and exertion to obtain it; and he must show to the court that the newly discovered testimony is material and important by the affidavit of the witnesses or by some other legal means; so that the court may judge of its materiality and sufficiency; and it must not be cumulative in its character and consequences. It is the duty of the parties to come prepared upon the principal points and new trials would be endless if every additional circumstance bearing upon the facts in litigation were the cause for a new trial."

We submit to the Department that this is an exceptionally strong opinion, and applying it to the case before us can it be said that the applicants are not guilty of any neglect or laches in preparing their case for trial in view of the fact that the case was once reopened and after notice to both parties testimony was taken and by consent the case was closed and a decision rendered. Again, can it be said by the applicants that it was out of their power to procure the newly discovered evidence upon either of the former trials in view of the fact that all of the witnesses they now propose to introduce, whose evidence is newly discovered, live at Vinita or in the vicinity thereof, when the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes sat a number of times at Vinita and heard testimony in freedmen cases. Again, can the applicants show that the alleged newly discovered evidence is not cumulative of that previously introduced. Evidence has been introduced as to the ownership of the principal applicant, his return to the Cherokee nation and his residence therein, and these are the three principal points in issue in this case. As stated in the opinion "it is the duty of the parties to come prepared for upon the principal points and new trials would be endless if every additional circumstance bearing upon the facts in litigation were the cause for a new trial." In other words, if every time the applicants found a witness who would make an affidavit that he saw him 40 years ago in the Cherokee Nation, he would make a motion for a new trial and it would be granted by the Department, certainly "new trials would be endless."

In Pourland versus Mason, 5 Ark. 286, the Court after suggesting that due diligence was not shown, held:

"The newly discovered evidence being shown to be cumulative does not authorize a new trial, and so all the authorities laid down the doctrine and the point has been repeatedly so adjudged by this Court in a number of cases."

Testimony has been introduced in this case upon the question of ownership, return and residence since the Civil war, and therefore the alleged newly discovered evidence is only cumulative of that heretofore introduced.

In support of our contention as to the requisites which should be contained in a motion for a new trial we desire to call the attention of the department to the following decisions:

5 Ark. 406, 10 Ark. 558; 11 Ark. 671; 13 Ark. 360, wherein the Court held:

"Without going into the details of the evidence claimed to be newly discovered or its relevancy we may say in general terms that such applications are to be received with caution and this in proportion to the magnitude of the stake involved."

If such motions are to be received with caution, then we submit that an extra ordinary amount of caution should be observed if the case has once been reopened and has been twice set down for trial and closed.

In 17 Ark. 403, the Court held:

"Newly discovered evidence in order to afford the proper grounds for a new trial must possess the following qualifications:

1. It must have been newly discovered since the trial.
2. It must be such as reasonable diligence on the part of defendant could not have secured at the former trial.
3. It must be material in its object and not merely cumulative and corroborative or collateral.
4. It must be such as ought to produce on another trial an opposite result on the merits.
5. It must go to the merits and not rest merely on a technical defense."

In addition to the above we desire to cite the following cases decided by the Supreme Court of Arkansas, which fully sustain our contentions, some of which are exceptionally strong:

25 Ark. 89; 25 Ark. 334; 25 Ark. 360; 26 Ark. 121; 30 Ark. 724; 36 Ark. 514; 52 Ark. 120; 55 Ark. 312; 60 Ark. 481; 84 Southwestern 726, and it will be observed that it is not only necessary to state that diligence was used, but the applicant must, as decided in 28 Ark. 121, show what he has done in the way of attempting to procure newly discovered evidence so that the Court (the Commissioner or the Department in this case) may judge of the question of diligence. In other words, it is not sufficient for the applicant to say in his motion that he has used due diligence, but he must show what he has done and let the Department pass upon the question of diligence.

But we submit that there is absolutely no merit whatever in this case. Before going into the last testimony taken in this case we desire to call the attention of the Department to the opinion of Commissioner Breckinridge of the principal applicant, James Landrum, when he testified before him at Chelsea, I. T., on June 11, 1901, in the case of Celis Kirkpatrick, she being a sister of the said James Landrum, in which case Commissioner Breckinridge said:

"The testimony of the applicant and of the witness, James Landrum, down to this point will be filed in the case of the said James Landrum, as it indicates that his testimony is unreliable and should be taken into consideration in weighing any statement he has made in his own application. His application is Cherokee Freedmen D 664."

This showed what weight Commissioner Breckinridge thought should be given to this principal applicant's testimony as early as 1901.

But lets examine this applicant's testimony taken before a representative of the Commission on September 24, 1903, at Vinita, I. T. He was being inquired of about his wife, Margaret Landrum, and was asked the following questions and gave the following answers thereto, namely:

"Q. Has your wife ever been out of the Cherokee Nation since you came back after the war? A She was out of the Cherokee Nation when I married her."

"Q. Since you married her and came back? A No sir."

"Q. Has she lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation since she came back after the war? A Yes sir."

Particular attention is invited to this in order to show the unreliability of this witness.

After the motion had been made to reopen the case and after the same had been returned and the records recite that on January 13, 1905, the applicants, their attorneys and the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation were duly notified by letter that they would be permitted to appear before the commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 2, 1905, and introduce testimony touching the points mentioned in said letter, and it shows upon that date that applicant appeared by Jim Landrum, Sr., and by attorneys Blue & Bulgar, and the Cherokee Nation was represented by Bell, Hastings & Davenport and upon this date the Cherokee Nation introduced the following witnesses: R. B. Moore, C. W. Learned and J. A. Lynn. R. B. Moore gave his postoffice as Neosho Falls, Kansas, and his age as 57 years. He had lived at Neosho Falls since 1866; he knew Jim Landrum, and he thinks that he knew him in 1865, but certainly he was positive that he knew him from the fall of 1866. He knew him previous to his marriage, and he knew his relatives and he knew about the time that he married, and he knew where he lived and he swears positively that he continued to live in that vicinity for a great number of years, and he moved to the town of Neosho Falls and lived there some ten or twelve years, and he identifies the family in such a way that there could be no doubt whatever. O. W. Learned takes the stand and he gave his age as 49, and his postoffice address as Neosho Falls. He knew him since 1868, and his impression was that he was not married then, that he knew his wife's name, and he knows the different children's names and gives them, gives where they were born and he, like Mr. Moore, knew him there in the country and by the way he lived upon Learned's father's farm, and as above observed he knew them until some six or seven years ago; Learned knew them so intimately that he gives the nicknames of the children, and he knows the order of their births. J. A. Lynn corroborates the two other witnesses, and while he does not remember the exact year he first learned to know them, yet he knew them there for a great number of years and knew them intimately. There can be no question about this man and the other two being disinterested, nor can there be the slightest question that they knew them in and about Neosho Falls, Kansas. In view of this testimony are we not justified in saying there is no merit in this motion to reopen? Can it be said that men of as high reputation as the three above mentioned who knew Jim Landrum and his wife and family from the war up until about 1896 or 1897 are to be disregarded when they have no interest whatever in the determination of this case, who are not citizens of the Cherokee Nation, but men of high reputation.

But let us turn to their own testimony. Charles Lynch was introduced as one of their witnesses and although disqualified, yet he did not see Jim Landrum until 1867. He was asked:

"Q. Had you seen the Cherokee Nation before the fall of 1867? A. No sir."

"Q. You say you went away from there and was gone how long? A. I didn't say because I don't know."

"Q. Did you ever know of Jim Landrum and his wife and children living and keeping house anywhere in the Cherokee Nation prior to 1896? A. I couldn't say."

"Q. Did you ever know of them moving from Kansas to the Cherokee Nation and living before 1897, the time they moved to Vinita? A. No, I never knewed them to move."

This Charley Lynch is a son of Simon Lynch. The next witness was Orlora Foreman that they introduced; her postoffice is Vinita, and she is a sister of the applicant, and when asked the question:

"Q. When did you first see Jim Landrum in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A It must have been in 1867, when he came and stayed with me down at Fort Gibson."

And in answer to the next question she said it was in the Spring. And further on in her testimony she was asked; when she saw him again after he had left down there at Fort Gibson, namely in 1867, when did she see him again, and she says that she never saw him again until she moved to Vinita about twenty years ago.

Upon cross-examination she was asked:

"Q. I will ask you if Alice was not born in Kansas? A Yes, sir, I guess she was, I couldn't swear it because I don't know."

"Q. I will ask you if Ed wasn't born in Kansas? A Yes sir."

"Q. If Frances wasn't born in Kansas? A I just tell you like I said."

Further on in her testimony she was asked:

"Q. Were you not living in Vinita in 1897, when Jim Landrum moved his family from Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes, sir, I was living there."

Further on in her testimony to see if she knew when 1867 really was she was asked:

"Q. Did Jim Landrum have any children by his wife living in 1867 when you say he came down there and helped Luster put up hay? A Yes sir."

"Q. Which of the children were it they went back to Kansas to educate? A Ed and Alice."

Now, as a matter of fact the record shows in F. D. 801 and F. D. 1112 that Alice gave her age as 34 in 1901 and Ed as 33, and they were therefore born in 1867 or 1868 and 1866 or 1869, and could not have been born in the spring of 1867 as testified to by Chlera foreman and therefore we must conclude that Chlera did not see Jim as early as 1867, but it must have been as late as 1869, when he might have paid a visit to his sister at Fort Gibson. She cannot read and write and therefore knows nothing about dates. Again later on on redirect examination Mr. Blue asked Chlera

"Q. Was Jim's wife with him when he came down there to put up hay? A No sir."

"Q. When did you first see Jim's wife? A I never saw her until after I moved to Vinita, she brought the children down and went out to her father's."

"Q. How many children did she have then? A She had three with her and that is the first time I ever saw them."

Now it will be remembered that this Chlera is a sister of James Landrum; that she first lived at Fort Gibson about 80 miles directly south of Vinita and that she afterwards moved up to Vinita, and she tells of her first meeting Jim's wife, who was then the mother of three children when "she brought the children down and went out to her father's." Now her father lived out on Grand River and when she testifies to her bringing the children down she means of course down from Kansas. Again in answer to an inquiry about the matter by the commission Chlora testified as follows:

- "Q. Was your brother married when he was down with you at Fort Gibson helping put up hay? A Yes sir.
"Q. You understand from him that his wife was up in Kansas? A Yes sir."
"Q. Did you understand from him at that time that he had some children? A Yes sir, I believe he said he had two."
"Q. Did he name them? A Yes sir."
"Q. What did he say their names were? A Alice and Ed."

Now this is the first time this sister sees him and Ed in F. D. 1112 which is consolidated with this case, gave his age in 1901 as 33, which would have made him been born in 1868, therefore, Chlora never saw her brother until after that time, and as a matter of fact she never sees him again until a few years ago after she, the witness, had moved to Vinita and this applicant had moved down from Kansas.

Mr. Moore, Mr. Learned and Mr. Lynn all identify him and his family positively; they name the children; they identify the principal applicant and the larger children who were present before the commission as being there in the hall at the time they gave even the nicknames of the children and they swear positively that they knew them from 1866 until some six or seven years prior to the time they testified in 1905, or until 1897.

Certainly if there is ever a case that there was no merit whatever in it is this one, and we do not believe that the department will permit this case to be reopened upon the testimony of these irresponsible witnesses in view of the fact that ample opportunity has been afforded these parties; in view of the fact that they have been represented by counsel, in view of the fact that there is no merit in this case, and particularly in view of the expressed opinion of Commissioner Brookbridge of the unreliability of the principal applicant in this case which certainly accounts for the vast number of certainly very unreliable affidavits filed in this case. That these children were all born in Kansas there can be no question; that they lived on Learned's farm for a vast number of years there cannot be the slightest doubt; that they first permanently located in the Cherokee Nation in about the year 1897 is conclusively shown by the witnesses in this case.

We submit for the reasons hereinabove assigned that the motion to reopen should be denied.

Respectfully submitted,

8-15-02

Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Interior:

In the matter of the application of the following named persons for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

JIM LAMARCA, et al.

MOTION FOR REVIEW OF DECISION.

Come now, by their attorneys, the above named persons who have been denied enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen solely because they or their ancestors were not physically in the Cherokee Nation on August 11, 1866, or within six months thereafter, regardless of attendant circumstances, and move the Honorable Secretary of the Interior to rescind said decision to readjudicate said cases and to enroll said persons as Cherokee Freedmen for the reason that the evidence shows that said persons or their ancestors were slaves of Cherokee citizens at the commencement of the War of the Rebellion, that during said war they were compelled by circumstances over which they had no control to go out of the Cherokee Nation, but returned within a reasonable time after promulgation of treaty of July 19, 1866, considering the attendant circumstances, as shown by the records of the Department of the Interior, the Department of War and the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

These records show that these persons were legally residents of the Cherokee Nation on August 11, 1866.

The records of the Commission show that it did not base its decisions in these cases upon proper grounds, but based them upon a supposed bar in Article 9 of the Cherokee Treaty of July 19, 1866, against the consideration of the reasons why a Cherokee Freedman was not in the Nation prior to February 11, 1867.

The records show that these persons were residents in good faith in the Cherokee Nation prior to June 28, 1898.

That applications were made for their enrollment prior to September 1, 1902.

Wherefore we respectfully request that this motion be allowed.

Attorneys for Applicants.

Service of the above motion accepted and a copy of the same received by the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, at Vinita, I. T., this day of , 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jim Landrum, et al., for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen, consolidating the applications of,

Jim Landrum, et al.,.....Cherokee Freedmen D 664.
 Frances Banks, et al.,....Cherokee Freedmen D 698.
 Belle Landrum, et al.,....Cherokee Freedmen D 700.
 Alice Lynch, et al.,.....Cherokee Freedmen D 701.
 Lizzie Allen, et al.,....Cherokee Freedmen D 702.
 Ed Landrum,.....Cherokee Freedmen D 1112.

In the above styled cases the representatives of the Cherokee Nation have been served with a copy of an affidavit which purports to be the affidavit of Eliza Tucker; also, with a copy of an affidavit which purports to be from Arthur Bean, and an affidavit which purports to be from Jim Landrum, and also an affidavit which purports to be from Eliza Fulsom. The copy of the affidavit purported to be from Eliza Tucker purports to be sworn to before J. C. Starr, Notary Public, as well as does the affidavit of Arthur Bean. The affidavits of Eliza Fulsom and Jim Landrum, or the copies that have been served on the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, do not show to have been sworn to before any officer at all. For what purpose these affidavits were served upon the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation we do not know, but presume it was done for the purpose of trying to secure the Department to remand the case of Jim Landrum for further hearing.

It will be shown by these affidavits that they were prepared without any notice to the Cherokee Nation and that all of them are signed by mark and witnessed, or purported to be witnessed in some instances, and those that purport to be sworn to at all to be sworn to before J. C. Starr as Notary Public. We trust that we may be pardoned for referring to this matter at this time, as it is not a matter of record in this case, but it is a matter of record in all of the Cherokee freedmen proceedings that from the first day of April, 1901, up to the 5th day of July, 1905, J. C. Starr was the Secretary, Stenographer and Typewriter for the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation in making the freedmen roll and as such secretary had absolute control and was in possession of the records and proceedings of the attorneys' office for the Cherokee Nation and was familiar with all the records therein; that since July 5, 1905, he has not been with the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, but has been the greater part of his time since that time working, together with James J. Bulger, Esq., aiding and assisting him in the preparation of the freedmen cases many of which he has knowledge of by virtue of his employment in the Cherokee attorneys' office. This is referred to because of the fact that James J. Bulger, Esq., admits that Mr. Starr is now assisting in the freedmen cases and that Mr. Starr has repeatedly stated to different parties that he was now working for the freedmen since he was not working for the Cherokee Nation any more. The affidavits which have been served upon us show the venom attempted to be poured forth upon the Cherokee Nation by reason of the fact that J. C. Starr is not further employed by the Cherokee Nation. It brings forth an ignorant class of negroes by ex parte statements, all signed by mark, and if placed upon the witness stand for cross examination in all probability they would not swear to any of the statements contained in these affidavits. We contend that the manner of taking these affidavits in these cases which have been as thoroughly tried as the Jim Landrum case, is almost a fraud upon the government, as well as upon the Cherokee Nation.

On February 2, 1905, additional testimony was taken and many witnesses examined in these cases after which the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered a decision holding that the applicants did not qualify and return to the Cherokee Nation and take up their permanent residence within the time provided by the treaty of 1866. The record in this case is voluminous and has been gone over by the Commission with much care and consideration, and we say that the decision of the Commission is correct and that no proper construction can be placed upon it, nor can any conclusion be drawn from the testimony, other than the fact that Jim Landrum lived with his family at Neosho Falls, Kansas, for many years after the war. The testimony of Mr. Learned or Mr. Moore and others, show how long Jim Landrum and his family lived in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas, but this is not all.

A motion to reopen has been served upon the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation by the parties. If so the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation fail to find it, and these ex parte affidavits should not be received or considered unless presented in support of a motion properly and regularly served upon the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation. The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation contend that this case has been before the Department and back for further hearing and the Commission has twice examined the record and the testimony and after a due consideration find that the applicants are not entitled to enrollment and, therefore, recommended that they be not enrolled as Cherokee freedmen. With due deference to the action of the Honorable Commissioner of Indian Affairs and of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior the representatives of the Cherokee Nation contend that, while the Honorable Commission of Indian Affairs and the Honorable Secretary of the Interior are charged with the duty of reviewing and final action upon the applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen citizens, that in doing so they sit more in the capacity of review than of a court to pass upon the facts, and we urge that the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes who have been given the opportunity to see the witnesses on the witness stand, of judging of their demeanor and of their bias and prejudice in the case and of the environments which surround him, are more competent to judge of the witness' credibility and truthfulness than any one who might receive the record miles away and read it and attempt to examine it and pass upon the facts. It deprives the Commission of its power to have these cases repeatedly remanded for further action and after they have further examined the case and decided adversely again to allow the case to be reopened and remanded upon ex parte statements of the applicants. Again, we think that it is high time to call a halt in these matters and that when these freedmen claims are represented by representative lawyers and they put in what facts they think are necessary to secure enrollment and close the case, they should be compelled to stand by their action and not permitted to continue to file motions to reopen in order to be permitted to file additional affidavits or testimony. There should be a closing or an ending to all lawsuits or controversies without which the Department of the Interior will never be able to wind up the affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes.

The Commission has now been engaged since April 1, 1901, in making a roll of freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation, the entire number who made application to the Commission to be enrolled being 6649, about 3800 of which were 1880 roll freedmen whose enrollment was made by the Commission without any controversy, they being freedmen whose names were on the 1880 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation, or the descendants of those whose names were on that roll. Taking this as a basis we ask if the procedure attempted to be pursued by the attorneys in this case is permitted when shall the end come? Shall we continue another four years then at last day, the last hour and the last minute allow a motion to review to be presented, supported by the ex parte affidavits of parties who can not sign their names, but sign by mark, and sworn to before a Notary Public who is, if not attorney of record, is attorney in fact for the negroes and who has had the benefit of the entire information of the Cherokee Nation and who is in position to know the exact facts in the possession of the Cherokee Nation, when he goes out to get these affidavits.

We, therefore, submit that the affidavits as served upon us should be stricken from the records and returned to the attorneys for applicants, for the reason that no motion was regularly filed with the copies served on the Cherokee Nation and for the further reason that there should somewhere along the line be an ending of this controversy.

Respectfully submitted,

Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

BEFORE THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington.

To the Honorable,
The Secretary of the Interior.

In the matter of the application of Jim Landrum, Sr., et al., (Cherokee freedman D-364) for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen.

SUPPLEMENTAL EVIDENCE.

We herewith respectfully submit to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, in support of the applications of Jim Landrum Sr. and his family the affidavits of Judge Jess Cochran, a Cherokee Indian who was formerly an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee nation and, who, as his affidavit shows, has held many positions of trust under the Cherokee government; as well as that of Leander Bean, a duly enrolled Cherokee freedman, and George C. Davis, a Cherokee freedman whom the record shows and who swears, was in the same service with Jim Landrum in the 79th.

The reputation of Judge Cochran for truth, etc. in the Cherokee nation, is, we submit, such that neither the Honorable Commissioner nor the Cherokee attorneys will have the hardihood to say ought against it, while these two witnesses, Leander Bean and George C. Davis, are recognized as men of worth.

Judge Cochran swears that Jim Landrum, Sr. live in his father's, (Jess Cochran's) house with one Eliza Hilderbrand during the winter of 1865 and until grass time in the spring of 1866, or until Louis Vittitoe a white man who came to the nation with Jim Landrum in the fall of 1865, returned to the state of Kansas, and moved his family to the Cherokee nation and into the house occupied by Jim and Eliza during the winter of 1866 and until Vittitoe was ready to move in.

Judge Cochran further says that when Jim and Eliza moved out of this Cochran house, they moved into another neighborhood, across the river, and that on October 22, 1866, Vittitoe killed Jess Cochran, Sr., and he, affiant left the neighborhood and lost track of Jim and Eliza.

This was in 1866. Judge Cochran fixes the date by the fact that Vittitoe killed his father October 22, that year and was then living in the house vacated by Jim and Eliza.

This clearly shows that the Honorable Commissioner is mistaken when he holds that Jim Landrum did not return to the Cherokee nation until the year of 1886.

These numerous affidavits filed in support of this application show beyond a doubt that Jim Landrum, Sr. moved to the Cherokee nation in the fall of 1865 and became a resident thereof at that time, if it be held that he lost his Cherokee residence by being taken out of the limits of the Cherokee nation by the federal army and remaining out in the service of said army until a few weeks after his discharge in the fall of 1865, it is evident that he was a resident of the Nation during the winter of 1865 and the spring and summer of 1866, and if he moved from the Cochran place into another neighborhood with the woman, Eliza Hilderbrand, and her two children, it is evident that he was residing there on August 11, 1866, and on account of this fact, among others, was made a citizen of the Cherokee nation on that date, and his rights should now be determined precisely as the rights of a native Cherokee citizen who was residing in the Cherokee nation at that time.

If he did not subsequently move out of the limits of the Nation and become a citizen of some other government than that of the Cherokee

Or if he went out of the limits of the Cherokee nation and did not become a citizen of the United States by naturalization, and did not return to and in good faith settle in the Cherokee nation prior to June 28, 1898, (Curtis Act, Sec. 21), is is not entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee nation.

The burden of proof is undoubtedly upon the Cherokee nation to show that Jim Landrum did become a citizen of the United States by naturalization or did not return to the Cherokee nation and in good faith settle therein prior to June 28, 1898.

There is no more evidence in the record to show these things than is there to warrant the Honorable Commissioner is inserting in his opinion of September 8, 1905 in the Burrell Daniels case, that Daniels VOLUNTARILY accompanied Col. Joel Bryant from Texas to Mexico in the spring and summer of 1865.

The record together with the affidavits of the numerous Cherokee citizens herewith and heretofore filed in support of this application, show, beyond a doubt, that Jim Landrum, Sr. did return to the Cherokee nation in the fall of 1865, within a few weeks after he was discharged from the service in the United States army, and remained in the Cherokee nation for some year, and did not thereafter go out of the limits of that nation with his effects and become a citizen of any other government, and yet the Honorable Commissioner say that he did not return to the nation until 1885..

It is not contended that Margaret Landrum did return to the nation with Jim in 1865. At that time he was living with a woman, Eliza Hilderbrand.

We respectfully submit to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior that a Commissioner whose duty it is to ascertain who are the persons entitled under the law to be enrolled as Cherokee citizens, does not demonstrate the spirit of an impartial judge, when he, in the very teeth of the facts as shown by the record and the numerous affidavits filed in this case, holds that Jim Landrum did not remove to the Cherokee nation after the close of the Civil war and establish a residence therein prior to the year 1885; and holds that Burrell Daniels VOLUNTARILY accompanied Joel M. Bryant from Texas to Mexico, etc., when at that same the record shows that Jim Landrum was taken by the Union army out of the Nation in 1862, and joined the 79th and served therein until 1865, and then returned to the nation within a few weeks after his discharge and lived on the Jesse Cochran place in that Nation during the winter of 1865 and the spring of 1866 and then moved across the river into another neighborhood.

Yet, does not the department hold, and the record clearly show that Burrell Daniels and his family were abducted by banditti scouting from the Federal forces, and taken by them into Mexico and there held under the "peon" law, by them, to the Governor of Chihuahua..

These are but samples of the various decisions wherein is shown the disposition above mentioned.

One thing is clear, either the Honorable Commissioner not correct when he states in his opinion Jim Landrum did not remove to and establish a residence in the Cherokee nation before the year 1885, or Judge Jesse Cochran, Nelson Moore, Blue Thompson, Lendie Bean,, Columbus McNair and other are guilty of perjury in making the statements they make in their affidavit, under oath.

Respectfully Submitted,

Attorneys for Applicants.

SS.

Affidavit.

On this 20th day of Sept. 1905, personally appeared before me, the Notary Public duly commissioned and acting as such within and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, Jesse Cochran, to me well known as a person entitled to full faith and credit, and who, being first duly sworn, on his oath deposed and saith:

"My name is Jesse Cochran; my post office address is Chelsea, I. T.; I have resided in the Cherokee nation all my life, and am listed on the present roll of the News Commission as a full blood Cherokee, but my mother was a full blood Cherokee Indian and my father was a half breed.

I have held the office of associate justice of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee nation for three years; was sheriff of Cooweescoowee District of the Cherokee nation for four years, having been twice elected to the office, and was deputy sheriff for two ~~XXXXXX~~ years; held the office of District Attorney for two terms, four years in all; held the office of captain of the guard and assisted the Treasurer of the Cherokee nation in distributing the $6,640,000.00 in 1894, in what is known as the Strip payment.

Prior to the Civil war, at one time, I lived within five miles of where Jim Landrum Sr. (Cherokee freedman D-664) lived, and was quite well acquainted with him. About the time the Civil war broke out, Jim Landrum was living with his master on Big creek when the war broke out and I did not see him any more during the war, and the next time I saw him was during the fall of 1865 after cold weather. I was living with my father on Grand river, Jim Landrum and Lewis Vittitoe came to my father's house after cold weather in the fall of 1865. They said they had come from Kansas. Jim commenced to work for my father and worked for him continuously from the time he came there in the late fall of 1865, until after grass was up in the spring of 1866, when he left that part of the neighborhood. We became separated. During the time Jim Landrum, Sr. worked for my father, I was with him a great deal, and I know personally of my own knowledge that he never left the Cherokee nation during that period. I was with him practically all the time. He went with me to hunt wild hogs frequently. He lived in a servants house and was keeping a woman there by the name of Eliza Hilderbrand with two children, and when we would kill wild hogs, we would divide them with Jim Landrum Sr. Lewis Vittitoe who came from Kansas in the late fall of 1865 with Jim Landrum, went on down to Lynch's prairie and stayed around there several months and then went back to Kansas. In the spring of 1866, Vittitoe having previously gone back to Kansas, returned with his family and rented the house in which Jim Landrum lived. Jim had to move out and let Vittitoe move in.

This was in the spring of 1866, after grass was up, and Jim moved across the river, with Eliza Hilderbrand and these two children of hers, and this was into another neighborhood. In the fall of 1866, I went into another neighborhood myself. This man Vittitoe moved into the house that Jim Landrum vacated, worked for my father along in the fall of 1866, on October 22, 1866, killed my father. I have no interest in this case.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON.

November 20, 1905.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to enclose a report from the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated September 9, 1905, transmitting the record of the consolidated applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen by Jim Landrum Sr., for himself, his wife, Margaret Landrum, and their minor children, Jessie, John, Jim Jr., Barbara and Nelson Landrum; by Frances Banks for herself and minor children, Karl, McKinley and Hortense Banks; by Belle Landrum for herself and her minor child, Velma Landrum; by Alice Lynch for herself and her minor child, Laura Lynch; by Linnie Allen for herself and her minor children, Emma and Viola Landrum and Frank Allen; and by Ed Landrum for himself. September 9, 1905, the Commissioner decided adversely to all the applicants.

The record shows that on August 20, 1904, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered a decision admitting the applicants herein except Margaret Landrum, who was denied; that thereafter, on December 19, 1904 on motion of the Cherokee Nation, the case was reopened by the Commission.

The evidence shows that Jim Landrum Sr., and Margaret Landrum, his wife, were the slaves of Cherokee citizens at the beginning of the war of the rebellion; that they removed from the Cherokee Nation during the war, and that they, or either of them, did not return to the Cherokee Nation and establish a residence therein on or before February 11, 1867. It is further shown that all of the other applicants were born since the close of the war of the rebellion, are lineal descendants of Jim Sr., and Margaret Landrum, and except as to Laura Lynch and Frank Allen, neither claim nor possess any rights to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, other than as such descendants. It is further shown by the evidence that one Taylor Newman, a non-citizen, is the father of Laura Lynch and that one Will Allen, a non-citizen, is the father of Frank Allen.

Except the Kern-Clifton roll none of the applicants are identified on any roll of the Cherokee Nation.

There is also enclosed the protest of the applicants, together with affidavits and brief in their behalf which has been carefully considered.

In view of the record the approval of the Commissioner's decision adverse to all the applicants is recommended.

Very respectfully,

C.F. Larrabee,

Acting Commissioner.

Mr. J. J. Bulger,
Vinita, Indian Territory.

Sir:

The affidavits received with your letter of November 15, 1905, which you request be considered with the Cherokee freedmen case of Jim Landrum, Sr., et al., are returned herewith, as the case has not reached the Department, and as they are not filed as the basis of a motion for rehearing, but it is evidently intended that they should be received as evidence to be considered in connection with the testimony taken before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes or the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes.

The law does not contemplate proving citizenship in such cases before the Department in this manner, for it authorizes the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes "to require all citizens of such tribes, and persons who should be so enrolled, to appear before said Commission for enrollment, at such times and places as may be fixed by said Commission." See section 21 of the act of June 25, 1896 (30 Stat., 495).

There is no allegation that said Landrum did not have a fair opportunity to be heard before the Commission, nor is the claim of newly discovered evidence made.

The Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes having primary jurisdiction in Cherokee freedman cases, it would seem proper that the judgement of the Department should not be influenced to direct enrollment in this case by statements never before him or the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes. The Department would not probably object to a rehearing in this case upon any reasonable showing, when, in such case, the Commissioner could determine whether to excuse Landrum and his proposed witnesses, on the ground of poverty, from appearing before him.

Respectfully,

Thos. Ryan,

First Assistant Secretary.

Sir:

On November 20, 1905 (Land 80973), the Indian Office transmitted your report dated September 11, 1905, forwarding the record in the matter of the consolidated applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen by Jim Landrum, Sr., for himself, his wife, Margaret Landrum, and their minor children, Jessie, John, Jim, Jr., Barbara, and Nelson Landrum; by Frances Banks for herself and minor children, Earl, McKinley, and Hortense Banks; by Belle Landrum for herself and her minor child, Velma Landrum; by Alice Lynch for herself and her minor child, Laura Lynch; by Lizzie Allen for herself and her minor children, Emma and Viola Landrum and Frank Allen, and by Ed Landrum for himself, together with your decision of September 8, 1905, adverse to all of said applicants.

The Indian Office concurs in your decision. A copy of its letter is inclosed.

On September 26, 1905, the attorneys for the applicants filed a protest against your decision, requesting that it be rescinded and the applicants enrolled. This request is denied.

It appears from the evidence that Jim Landrum, Sr., and Margaret Landrum, his wife, were the slaves of Cherokee citizens at the beginning of the war of the rebellion, and that they removed from the Cherokee Nation during said war.

Jim Landrum, Sr., seems to be identical with one James Landrum, who was enrolled in Company H, First Kansas Colored Infantry, also known as Company H, Seventy-ninth United States Colored Infantry, at Fort Scott, Kans., on March 26, 1863, and mustered in as a private of said company and regiment on May 1, 1863, and that said James Landrum was mustered out with his company on October 1, 1865, at Pine Bluff, Ark., and discharged at Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

The evidence tends to show that said Jim Landrum returned to the Cherokee Nation on or before February 11, 1867, but does not clearly show whether he returned prior to his marriage or subsequent thereto. It does not appear, however, that Margaret Landrum returned to the nation prior to February 11, 1867.

The record further shows that after a very short period spent in the Cherokee Nation said Jim Landrum returned to Kansas and took up his residence near and within the town of Neosho Falls, Kans., where he remained until about the year 1897. There is no evidence to show that said Jim Landrum owned any property or left any effects within the Cherokee Nation, and if said Jim Landrum ever acquired citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under article 9 of the treaty of 1866, he must have expatriated himself under the laws of the Cherokee Nation. All of the other applicants were born since the war of the rebellion and are lineal descendants of Jim Landrum, Sr., and his wife, and except as to Louise Lynch and Frank Allen, neither claim nor possess any rights to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen other than as such descendants. It is further shown that the fathers of these applicants are noncitizens.

The Department considers that your decision in this case is correct. It is accordingly affirmed.

The papers are returned for the files of the Indian Office.

Respectfully,

Benjamin Beck - 2.

Flint district.

Q Did you go out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A I was with the soldiers, yes sir.

Q Were you a soldier yourself? A No, sir.

Q Where did you go with them? A Traveled around there in the Nation a while, where they would fight.

Q Did you ever go out of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where to? A Fort Scott, Kansas, is where they left me.

Q When did you come back to the Nation? A I came back after the war.

Q How soon after the war? A Well it was, the people said it was in '66.

Q You don't know what year it was? A No, I just know what the people told me.

Q Who did you come with? A I came the time Jack Landrum and George Landrum, I believe, and a lot of them.

Q Have you been living in the Cherokee Nation since that time?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you marry? A I married up here on the line.

Q Is Pearl your oldest child? A Yes, sir.

Q You're up on the line; you mean you married in Kansas?

A Kansas.

Q A Kansas woman? A Well, yes.

Q Where was your oldest child born? A Up there.

Q In Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was Josephine born? A She was born there.

Q And John? A No, sir, he was born here.

Q Then you were living in Kansas when these children were born?

A Well, I was in here and went back, I brought them in here after that.

Q You were living there when they were born? A Yes, I lived there a while.

Q Lived there when you married, about 22 or 23 years ago?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did you come back from Kansas back the last time with your family, and make your home in the Cherokee Nation? A I came back a couple of years I guess, after that.

Q After these children were born? A Yes, sir.

Q After the youngest child was born? A No, sir, the second.

Q After the two oldest? A Yes, sir, the youngest was born here; the middle one was born about 18 years ago.

Q And then you came back? A Yes, sir, about two years after that.

Q Two years after that, then you came to the Cherokee Nation about 18 years ago, is that right? A Yes, I guess it is.

Q Have you been living here ever since? A Yes, sir.

Q Got a farm in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, got town property.

Q What town do you live in? A Vinita.

Q You live in Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q Why didn't you appear before the commission when we were at Vinita? A My folks was sick, and then I couldn't get my witnesses.

Q Who are your witnesses? A Rachel Beck and Ben Grinnett.

Q Where did you first see Ben Grinnett? A Big Creek.

Mr. Hastings: How long after the war? A Why it was when I first came back.

Q Did you live on Big Creek? A I lived there a while; that was when I was single.

Q How long did you live there before you went back to Kansas?

A I didn't live there long, that was in my single days, I just traveled backwards and forth, different places in the Nation.

Q You never located here until you married? A I had a place up

Benjamin Beck - 5.

there a while but then I gave it up.

Q You never sold it to anybody? A I just gave it up to a man.

Q How long did you stay on that place? A Why I don't didn't stay on it, I just took it up like the old rule used to be, we took up a place and sold it if we wanted to.

Q You didn't sell that? A I did sell it, but then I didn't get nothing for it.

Q When did you sell it? A I don't know just exactly how long that has been.

Q Who did you live with up there? A Why I stopped with Moses Whitmire, little Mose, he claimed to be a relation on the colored side.

Q Is that the first time you ever saw Ben Grinnett? A Yes, sir, along there.

Q About how many years after the war was it when you saw him? A It wasn't long after the war.

Q About how many years? A I don't know, might have been along about a year I guess; it was reported around up there in Kansas we all had to come back and I followed them, I was nothing but a boy, a young man.

Q Who did you come along with? A I came in with George Landrum and then after they came and Jim Landrum.

Q You didn't come with them? A No, sir, not exactly right with them.

Q You came afterwards? A Yes, sir.

Q How long had they been here when you came? A They came in the spring and I came along in the fall, as near as I can recollect.

Q The fall afterwards? A Yes, sir.

Q And you stayed there a short time did you, and you went back to Kansas? A No, I stayed here a good while, first over up on Lightfoot Creek and on Grand River, with my people.

Q Where place did you go to first? A I came to Mose Whitmire, her husband was named Mose.

Q And they were living on Big Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q They have a house there? A They were just building.

Q Had they raised a crop there? A They had a little crop, they were cleared out in the timber.

Q They had some corn they had raised that year? A They were raising, yes, sir.

Q Who were your neighbors up there then? A There was several of them, the Whitmires.

Q Did Martin live there? A Yes, sir, I was down to Jim Martin's place too.

Q He was living there then? A That is one Jim.

Q Overlooked him? A Yes, sir, there was two or three of them Jim Martins.

Q And still Martin his brother? A Yes, sir.

Q They were living up there then? A Yes, sir.

Q What did you do up there? A I just knocked around and worked a little and traveled.

Q Where did you travel to, Kansas? A No, I never went then, I was in here off and on, and then I went to Fort Gibson, I was hunting up my people. For a long time they said my people was Cherokee. Well I met up with a good many Cherokees said my father was a full blood and they claimed my mother was a Cherokee woman, and I went to Fort Gibson.

Q You claim your mother was a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q You say how was owned you? A I was with the Beck family.

Q Which one? A Joe Beck.

Q You old enough to know who owned you? A Yes, sir, I was old enough, I thought I was one of the Beck boys until later the way I came back hunting up my people.

Q How long had you known your wife or there before you married her?

Benjamin Beck - 4.

A Not long, I just went up there and married her.

Q That was in Emporia, Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q And your two children were born there? A Yes, sir.

Q Then where did you move? A Down here.

Q Where to? A Big Creek.

Q What year did you move down here? A I can't tell the years.

Q Was that about the time the Wallace payment was made? A Before that.

Q How long before that? A Some five or ten years I guess; five or six years I guess.

Q Well, you didn't have any place to call your home before you were married? A Yes.

Q Where did you live? A I lived to myself, I rented.

Q Did you have a house of your own up there? A No, I never traded for any place or got any place there.

Q Where did you have a house to live in? A Why I rented a place, there was a house on it.

Q Whose place did you rent? A It was one place beyond the Wils Towers.

Q That was the first place you rented after you came back?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where was the place at? A There was a house adjoining it belonged to John Sanders.

Q He had a little farm in there when you came? A Yes, sir.

Q And you rented that the first year? A Yes, sir.

Q And you made a crop there? A Yes, sir.

Q How long had Wilson Towers been there when you came? A He had been there, they said he was there in '65.

Q How long was that before you came? A I don't know just exactly how long, he didn't have much broke out there.

Q About what size farm did he have when you came? A I suppose he had some fifteen or twenty acres broke out? A Yes, sir.

Q He had raised a crop at it the year before? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: You say your father was a full blood Cherokee?

A Yes, sir.

Q What was his name? A Well, his name was Brangould, George.

Q You don't claim through him? A No, sir; in the time I came back here hunting up my people, I came up with the Beck family and I thought they were my people.

Q You never found your people? A My father and mother was dead, my father and mother both died before I can recollect.

Mr. Hastings: The first time you saw Ben Grinnett was when you were living on the Wils Towers place? A Yes, sir.

Ben Grinnett, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Ben Grinnett.

Q How old are you? A I am about 35 I guess.

Q What is your next office? A Novato.

Q Are you a recognized Freedman of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know the applicant Benjamin Beck? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, how long have you known him? A I have been knowing him I guess about, oh it has been a long time, I guess it was in the spring of '66 that is the first time I ever saw him.

Q Where? A At Pryor Creek.

Q You saw him in the spring of '66 at Pryor Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q Was he a slave before the war as you know? A No, sir, I don't know anything about that, I always took him for an Indian.

Q And you saw him you think at Pryor Creek in the spring of '66?

A Yes, sir.

Q When did you come back? A I came back in the spring of '66.

Benjamin Beck - 5.

Q Did you come to Pryor Creek? A Yes, sir, there is where I was living when I came.

Q And you saw Ben there? A Why after that he came.

Q The same year? A Yes, sir, the same year.

Q Where has he been living since that time, do you know? A This man, he used to live up here on Big Creek there somewhere.

Q Do you know his family? A Yes, I have seen them, I am not acquainted with them much.

Q You know how many children he has got? A I think he has got three, but I just seen the little children, I never did stop at his house.

Q You know his wife, Bettie? A Yes, I have seen her.

Q Do you know whether she is a citizen or not? A No, sir, I can't tell you.

Q Do you know where he married her? A No, sir, I can't tell you that.

Q Do you know where these children of his were born? A No, sir, I don't know that.

Q But you are positive you saw him in '66 at Pryor Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q And you don't know who he belonged to? A No, I don't.

Q You don't know whether he was a slave or not? A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: On whose place did he live when you saw him? A When I saw him up there, I never asked him that, he was just traveling.

Q Do you know one year from another? A Yes, I know one year from another.

Q Do you know that that was '66? A Yes, I know it was '66, they told me it was it, I hadn't been here a great while when he came.

Q Did he come by himself? A No, there was another man with him.

Q What was his name? A I can't tell you, I never asked him.

Q How long did Ben stay on Pryor Creek? A Didn't stay there any time, went on to Gibson.

Q You saw him every year since then? A Yes, sir, seen him all the time and been seen him all the time.

Q You are positive about that? A Oh yes sir, I have been seeing him all along.

Q Every year? A Yes, sir.

Q Where has he been living? A He was living up there, and then he moved from there and went to Vinita.

Q Did you ever see him on the Wilson Towers place? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you see him there? A Well, that is mostly the same time, I can't tell you.

Q About the same time that you saw him? A Yes.

Q Working a farm up there was he? A Yes, I guess he was, I can't tell you, I was living there, when I lived up there on Big Creek he was there.

Q That was in '66? A Yes, sir.

Q Wilson Towers had a place there did he? A I can't tell you whose farm it was, I can't swear that, he was there.

Q Ben, what year was that is this? A No I can't tell you about the dates of the months, I told you I didn't know about that.

Q This was any kin to you? A No, sir, no kin at all.

Q How much has he given you to witness for him? A He hasn't paid me anything.

Q How much has he agreed to pay you? A Never talked about that, all I know, I knowed him at such a time, and been seeing him.

Q How do you know it was that year when you didn't know another date in the world? A He was here and I been seeing him all the time.

Q You have seen him from year to year since then? A Yes, sir, not every year, but I seen him along.

Q Do you know whether he was living here or not? A I can't tell you that.

Benjamin Bede - 6.

Q You have had a little trouble with the courts yourself?

A I can't tell you that.

Q Didn't you have a little trouble in Fablequah district over some turkeys or potatoes? A Not as I know of.

Q Didn't they convict you of stealing down there? A No, sir.

Q Didn't they whip you down there for stealing? A No, I don't know nothing about it.

Q Did you take them? A I can't tell you that, I am not wise guessing for what was done, especially what was done in power.

Q I will ask you whether or not you were not convicted in that court, or not? A I can't tell you.

Q Were not you whipped down there? A I am not saying that.

Q Were you or were you not? (No response)

Commissioner: You refuse to answer? A No, I will not answer.

Mr. Hastings: You lived in Fablequah district a while? A Yes, sir, I lived there a while.

Q You got in some trouble about some turkeys or potatoes? A I don't remember anything about that.

Q You remember '66 better than you do then? A Yes, sir, I was interested, that is the reason, I don't know the dates of the month.

Q What year did the Fallace Court sit? A I can't tell you that.

Q What year did the Kern-clifton Court sit? A Didn't I tell you I don't know anything about the dates of the month.

Q When did you draw this last spring money? A I haven't drawn any, I was left out the time of the payment.

Q Do you know the year the payment was made? A No, sir, I don't know that.

Q That time you claim you saw this man on Pryor Creek was the first time you ever saw him? A Yes, sir, the first time.

Q He was a stranger to you then? A Yes, sir, I never did see him before.

Q This other man along with him was a stranger, was he? A Yes, sir.

Q Why is it you remember Ben Beck and you don't remember the other fellow? A The reason I know him, when I came up here that was his name, I didn't know his name when I saw him there.

Q You don't know at that time who it was? A Yes, I know who it was.

Q How many years afterwards till you saw him on Big Creek? Was he living with his wife the next time you saw him? A Yes, he was living with his wife.

Q And how long after that was it till you saw him living with his wife? A They been living together all the time.

Q How long after you saw him on Pryor Creek that you next saw him up here living with his wife? How many years? A I can't tell you.

Q Was it two or three years? A I can't tell you that either.

Q Was it as much as ten years? A I can't tell you, I don't know what it is at all.

Q Was it as much as twenty years? A No, I can't tell you.

Q You don't have any idea about how many years it was, do you?

A No, I don't, if I say I might be mistaken.

Q Was it as much as 25 years after that? A No, sir, I can't tell you that either.

Q Well, then you decline to state whether you have seen him for a length of twenty-five years either right in there? A Well, if he's been a long time I have been seeing him; I never counts the years at all, and I don't know anything about even the dates of the month.

Q Your memory has got so bad you have forgotten about being whipped down in Fablequah district? A Yes, sir, forgotten that too.

Commissioner: Do you know Wilson Fowler? A Yes, sir.

Q He went out during the war, didn't he? A Yes, sir, I can't tell you that, they were all living there.

Q You don't know whether he came back before you did or not?

Benjamin Beck - 7.

A I came back before any of them.

Q You were one of the first fellows in, were you? A Yes, sir, that is the reason I know I was in time, there wasn't anybody living around when I came.

Q Was Wilson Towars came back after you did? A Well, he must have, I don't know anything about that; I didn't know as you would tackle me about what had passed away nearly forty years, and it wasn't fit.

Rachel Tanner, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified, through S. R. Walkingstick, a regularly sworn interpreter, as follows:

Q What is your name? A Rachel Tanner.

Q How old are you? A About 73.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q Are you a full blood Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know Ben Beck? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A I have known him from a small boy.

Q Was he a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did he belong to? A Eliza Daniels, a sister of mine, she was his owner.

Q Do you know whether Ben Beck went out of the Cherokee Nation during the war between the north and south? A Yes, sir, he went out for a while.

Q Do you know where he went to? A I think he must have went to Fort Scott, Kansas, somewhere up there.

Q Where did you see Ben Beck the first time after the war? A I met him on this side of Grand River, we just met up in the road, and he told me he was going to his mother's.

Q What year was that, do you recollect? A I can't say as to the year, it was in the summer time.

Q Do you know about when that was with reference to when the war closed, or when the treaty was made, know anything about when the treaty was made? A This was just directly after the close of the war, a short time.

Q You can't name what year it was, was it '65 or '6 or '7 or '8?

A No, sir, I can't say as to the year, but I remember it was in the summer time.

Q And very soon after the war closed? A Yes, sir, it was right away afterwards.

Q Have you known him much since that time? A Yes, sir, I have known him all the time.

Q Lived in the Cherokee Nation has he, most of the time? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know his children, his wife? A Yes, sir, I know them, there are only three.

Mr. Hastings: Where do you live now? A Why I am just living around with my grandchildren up here on Big Cabin.

Q Is Ben any kin to you? A No, sir.

Q Where were you living when you saw Ben? A I had come from Delaware District.

Q Who were you living with in Delaware? A I was living with a man named Sequayah, but after he died I moved away from there.

Q Was Sequayah in the army? A Yes, sir.

Q And he had come back from the army, had he? A Yes, sir.

Q How many years did Sequayah live after the close of the war?

A He only lived a year and a half after the close of the war, we didn't live together quite two years.

Q And that was after he had come back from the war? A Yes, sir.

Q This was then after Sequayah had died when you saw Ben?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did Sequayah die? A He died in Delaware.

Q And after that you moved out here? A I moved over to little

Benjamin Beck - 8.

Gabin then.

Q How long had you been over to Little Cabin? A I can't state as to the length of time I have been there.

Q When you saw Ben? A I hadn't moved there yet, I was going to my sisters.

Q What is your sister's name? A Susie Landrum.

Q Where was Susie Landrum living then? A She lived in Little Cabin.

Q That was after your husband died, was it? A Yes, sir, he had been dead some time.

Commissioner: Your husband was in the army was he? A Yes, sir.

Q And after he had been back about two years you saw Ben, is that it? A Yes, sir.

Q That the first time you saw him? A Yes, sir, that was the first time.

Benjamin Beck, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: How long had you been back when you saw this old lady? A I had been back I guess about two years before I went over there, I went over and met Arch Landrum, and we stayed all night with Cherokee on Grand River, and she was coming out here to her sister.

Q This man Wilson Towers is living? A Yes, sir.

Q And you came to his place? A Yes, sir.

Q He was there when you came? A Oh yes.

Q Had you come to his place before Grimsitt saw you? A Yes, sir, that was when I was single, I wasn't married then.

Q Did you go to Towers' place? A Yes, sir.

Q And after you came to Towers' place you went over to Pryor Creek and saw Grimsitt? A Yes, sir, on Big Creek.

Q About who was the first man you knew when you came back, Towers? A No, sir, it was Moss Whitmire and his family, it wasn't this man here, it was that they call the little man, that lived up here on the head of Big Creek now, his wife was said to be a cousin of mine.

Q The first people you saw in the Nation when you came back was little Moss Whitmire? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is he? A He is dead, his wife is living.

Q Is she here? A No, sir, she isn't here, I visited them and Jack Landrum.

Q You are married to Bettie, you say? A Yes, sir, I don't know whether she can be adopted or not.

Q Where were you married to her? A In Kansas, I brought her in here.

Q You have been living with her continuously? A Yes, sir.

Q She is living now? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you got any certificate of your marriage? A No, sir, I haven't got anything.

Q You got out a license in Kansas? A No, sir, I lost it.

Q You got out a license, did you? A No, sir, I was married by a preacher.

Q Could you ever get married in Kansas without getting a license?

A Yes, sir, I just got married by a preacher.

Q Any witnesses have you married? A Yes, sir.

Belle Kirkpatrick, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q Know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Benjamin Beck - 9.

Q Know whether they were ever married or not? A Yes, sir, they were married.

Q How do you know it? A I was there and saw them.

Q Where? A In Kansas.

Q Who were they married by? A Well I don't know the minister, I guess Ben knows him.

Q Have you known them ever since? A Yes, sir.

Q They been living together continuously as man and wife since that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Living together now? A Yes, sir.

Q Have they got any children? A Yes, sir.

Q How many? A Three.

Q Born since they were married? A Yes, sir.

Q How long had you known Ben before he married? A Been knowing him ever since he was a boy.

Q How long had you known him before he was married up there?

A I don't know, I knowed him all my life.

Q How long had you known him wife? A Well, I haven't been acquainted with her as long as I had with him, I knew her before she was married.

Q Where was he married? A Married in Kansas.

Q Where? A Emporia, Kansas.

Q Were you living in Emporia then? A I was in Neosho Falls, Kansas.

Q How far is that from Emporia? A I don't know.

Q Did you know Ben over to Neosho Falls? A No, sir, I knowed him before he left the Nation when he was back there, he used to belong to the Becks.

Q Where did you know him up in Kansas then? A I saw him, ran on him in Emporia, Kansas.

Q How long before he was married? A I don't remember, a year or so I guess.

Q Was that the first time you ever saw him in Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did he live up there in Kansas after he married? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did he live there or do you know that? A A year I guess, about a year.

Q Did he have any children up there? A He had Pearl I think.

Q What is his second child's name? A Josephine.

Q Was Josephine born up there? A I don't think she was; they had just one child I think.

Q You don't know about that then? A No sir, I don't know about Josephine.

Q When did you come down here? A I been down here right away after the war ceased, I don't know what year it was.

Q Are you an applicant to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman?

A Yes, sir.

Q Have you already applied? A No, sir.

Commissioner: Did you come back before Ben or afterwards? A Before I guess, back afterwards.

Q You come back after Ben? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you knew Ben when he was a child before the war?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who did he belong to? A Belonged to Jos Beck.

Commissioner: Benjamin Beck applying for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman, and his three children, Pearl, Josephine, and John. He also applies for his wife, Bettie, as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage. He cannot be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1866 or the census roll of 1886. He is duly identified upon the Korn-Gliff ten roll, as well as his three children. He makes satisfactory proof as to his marriage. He avers that he was a slave of one Beck, who was a Cherokee Indian, and that he married Bettie Carter twenty-two or three years ago in the State of Kansas, and that his two oldest children, Pearl and Josephine, were born in the State of Kansas, and that the latter, two years after the birth of Josephine, who is 18 years old, removed to the Cherokee Nation and has been living here continuously. Benjamin Beck and his three children will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card. His wife Bettie will be listed for enrollment upon a doubtful card as an intermarried citizen. The applicant will be duly notified by mail at his post office address of the decision of the Commission in his case.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

A We was mustered out, it was in '86, and then I came home and looked my people up and found them and then during that Christmas after I was discharged I come on down to the Nation, I didn't stay in Kansas very long.
Q You got married in Kansas? A No, sir, I didn't marry when I came down here.
Q You married in Kansas? A Yes, sir, I went back and married then.
Q What year was it you married in? A It was.
Q How long after you were mustered out? A The next spring.
Q You were married in 1866; married the next spring? A Yes, sir.
Q You didn't mean '86 you mean '66? A Yes, somewhere along there
I can't remember good.
Q You say you were a slave in '86? A Yes, sir.
Q Let us understand now just what you mean; you were mustered out in '66 at Leavenworth were you?
A I don't know whether it was '66; I was mustered out the same time
Allen Lynch was mustered out.
Q When were you mustered out? A First Kansas Colored.
Q What company were you in? A I was in Company H.
Q Well you were mustered out; what time of the year were you mustered out? A Along, it was getting late in the fall.
Q Well, how long after you were mustered out was it before you came South? A That same winter.
Q You came down you say to look up your people? A No, my people lived in Kansas, I come down here to locate a place.
Q Had you heard of the treaty when you came down? A Yes, that was the talk of the crowd I came with, all come together.
Q You heard of the treaty having been passed? A Yes, sir.
Q What time was it in the winter you came down?
A Just a little before Christmas.
Q A little before Christmas? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you go? A Come down here in the Nation.

- Q About how many months? A I don't know exactly but it was the last part of '66 when I saw him.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and five children. It appears that the applicant was a slave of a Cherokee citizen and in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the Civil War. He is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1880 or upon that of 1896. In regard to his return to the Cherokee Nation after the Civil war, the testimony is conflicting. He states that he was a member of the First Kansas Colored Regiment, Company H; 79th U. S.; he defines it as the First Kansas, 79th U. S. Infantry, that he was mustered out with them at Leavenworth. It will be necessary to communicate with the war department to find out when and where that regiment was mustered out and if the applicant's name appears upon the Muster Roll to compare that date with the date now given. There seems to be no question that the applicant has lived in the Cherokee Nation consistently from the time he returned until to-day. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his post office address. It should be noted that his father and one or two of his brothers are on the roll of 1880, his mother died about the time of the close of the war and of course his father and brothers may have qualified under the treaty of 1866, without the applicant's having done so. He is now 83 years of age, or thinks he is of that age. As for his wife, Margaret, who is said to be now 51 years of age, it appears that she was in Kansas at the time of the applicant first came to the Cherokee Nation and he returned to Kansas sometime after his first visit and there married her, and then brought her to the Nation. It seems that she was a slave of a citizen and in the Cherokee Nation at the time of the breaking out of the civil war and that her first return to the Cherokee Nation after the war was shortly after her marriage to the applicant. She is identified with him on the Kern-Clifton roll and she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, but as to her final qualification under the treaty of 1866, the evidence given in regard to her return will have to be carefully compared to that of the applicant himself, as he brought her back a year or more later than his first return. It seems that the applicant nor his wife was never previously married, and that they have lived together ever since their marriage, therefore their marriage seems to be lawful. In view of this fact there appears to be no bar to the enrollment of the five children applied for, provided the status of the applicant himself is satisfactorily established. These five children are identified on the Kern-Clifton roll but not upon the roll of 1896. They are living and they will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card.

- Q How long do you think Cassie Landrum has been dead? A She has been dead 12 or 13 years.
- Q Did she continue to live in the Cherokee Nation after the war?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Where has this 1/2 sister of yours lived since the war? A She has lived at Brown's Ferry and Iren's Ford and in Simon Lynch's settlement and in Arch Landrum's settlement.
- Q Has she ever lived outside of the Cherokee Nation since the war?
- A Most of the time.
- Q Do you mean to say she has lived in the Cherokee Nation most of the time since the war? A No sir.
- Q What do you mean to say then? A That she has lived right where my father first brought her most of the time since the war.
- Q Then you mean that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation most of the time since the war dont you? A Yes sir.
- Q You are positive that she has made her home here all the time since the war? A Yes sir.
- (By the Commission of the applicant)
- Q You didn't indicate that you had made your home here all the time since the war did you? A I worked out some.
- Q Where have you been out at work? A At Neesho Falls some times.
- Q Any other places? A Chetopa.
- Q Anywhere else? A No sir.
- Q How much work have you done at Neesho Falls? A Sometimes six months maybe seven, then I would make a trip back here.
- Q Did you take your family with you? A Yes sir I would take the baby there sometimes.

Q How about Ghetopa? A Yes sir the same way.
Q Have you spent as much as half your time in Kansas? A No sir, would come back and stay as much as 3 and 4 months at a time and then light out again, sometimes here and sometimes there.
Q When did your last husband die? A 3 years ago.
Q Where did you marry him? A Neesho Falls.
Q Where did you marry your first husband? A On the river where I live now.
(By Commissioner of witness, James Landrum)

Q What was the name of your sister's first husband? A Tom Daniels.
Q When did she marry him? A Long before the war.
Q How long has he been dead? A Been dead about 13 years.
Q Did she live with him until she died? A Yes sir.
Q What was the name of her second husband? A Jerry Kirkpatrick.
Q How long has he been dead? A About 4 years I think.
Q All of 4 years you think? A Yes sir, I think it is between 3 and 4 years.
Q Did she marry him after Tom Daniels died? A Yes sir.
Q Has she ever been married except these two times? A No sir.
Q Did she live with Kirkpatrick until he died? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know that your sister had been in the habit of going to Neesho Falls and Ghetopa and working there? A No sir.
Q You don't know anything about it? A No sir.
Q Her testimony shows that she spent half her time there and yet you say you have kept the run of her all the time and don't know anything about it? A (No response)

By Gen'r Breckinridge,-

The testimony of the applicant and of the witness James Landrum down to this point will be filed in the case of the said James Landrum, as it indicates that his testimony is unreliable and should be taken into consideration in weighing any statement he has made in his own application. His application is Cherokee Freedman D#664.

I, Chas. von Weise, upon my oath state that the above is a true and complete copy of that much of the original testimony as has been ordered filed in Cherokee Freedman Doubtful case #664.

In the matter of the application of Jane Riley for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-600.

Applicants represented by Mellette & Smith.
Cherokee Nation represented by J. S. Davenport.

C. W. LEARNED, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

- MR. DAVENPORT What is your name? A C. W. Learned.
Q Where do you live? A Neosho Falls.
Q What is your age? A 46.
Q How long have you lived at Neosho Falls, Kansas Mr. Learned?
A Ever since '87.
Q After you went to Neosho Falls, Kansas, did you get acquainted with Mr. & family of colored people by the name of Landrum? A Yes, sir.
Q How long after you went to Neosho Falls did you learn to know them, Mr. Learned? A Why about '88.
Q What were the names of the Landrums that you knew there, the older ones, Mr. Learned? A Jack and Jim.
Q Did they have a family there? A Yes sir.
Q Where did they live with reference to where you lived, Mr. Learned? A Lived on my father's farm.
Q On your father's place; do you remember the names of any of their family, of the children? A Why some of them I remember Ed Landrum that was the son of James, a girl named Alice, one named Frances, and one named Hattie, and one named Nell, and one named, boy, named John, and some more of them.
Q How long did either Jim or Jack Landrum, or either of them, continue to live in your father's place there near Neosho Falls to your knowledge? A Well Jim Landrum lived there from '88 to the time he left there. Well he didn't live there all the time on the place, he left after he had lived there about eighteen years; he left and came down here, but Jack Landrum, he lived there in '88.
Q Did Jack Landrum have a family? A Yes, sir.

Q And Jim Landrum lived there until about when? A I think he come to town about '84 or '85, and then come down here.

Q What makes you remember that Jack Landrum lived there until about '88? A Why a fellow named Hankins had come out from Illinois to our place, and we went fishing, and we concluded we would rather go where the darkies were holding a meeting, and he got in trouble with them and into a fight with Jim, or that is he wanted to, and he made a disturbance, and so then he come back, and we went over to town, and he got in trouble there in town, and they arrested him and he had a trial.

Q Well now do you remember who were the witnesses in that case?

A Tom Haniford was one.

Q Well do you remember any one else, whether any one else was a witness or not. Did you ever know a Ben Landrum up there? A No, sir, I never knowed a Ben Landrum.

Q Do you know where either of the Landrum families moved to when they left your father's place or that neighborhood? A Why, yes, sir, Jim Landrum moved to town.

Q Well where did Jack Landrum go? A Jack he pulled out, I don't know where he went. I suppose he come back down here.

Q Now from the time you went to Neosho Falls--that was in what year? A We went to Neosho Falls?

A Yes sir. I came there in '87.

Q Well, now when did Jack and Jim Landrum move on your father's place with reference to the close of the war, whether it was before or after? A Well this was after the war, '88 was the first I recollect of them.

Q Well now then they lived on your father's farm until about when?

A Yes, sir, on there in '88.

Q Jack or Jim moved away first? A Jack moved away first.

Q When do you think now he left the farm? A Well I don't know as I could just say when he left, but he didn't stay there very long after that.

Q And Jim stayed there several years? A Yes sir.

Q How many children had Jim when he came on your father's farm?

A Didn't have any just married.

Q Did you know what his oldest child's name was? A Yes sir.

Q What was it? A Called her Alice.

Q What was the next one? A Ed.

Q Was Jim Landrum's family there when you say Ed was born? A Living on our place.

Q There near Neosho Falls? A Yes, sir, in two miles of the falls, on my father's farm.

Q Well, since the birth of Ed have you ever seen him any since that time? A Yes, sir, he stayed there on the place till he grew up to be quite a chunk of a boy, and then he struck out and gambled went to Wichita, and that's the first place I knew when he left.

Q How long since you seen Ed? A Oh, it's been quite awhile. He was back there once, but I didn't get to see him.

Q About how old would he be now Mr. Learned? A Well, he must be in the neighborhood of thirty years, I think, somewhere along there.

Q How many children did Jim Landrum, about how many do you think that was born while he was living on your father's place? A Eight or ten.

MR. MILLER: When did you say your people first moved to there? A '87.

Q You remember that is you? A I remember when I first moved there, yes, sir.

Q You was a year old at that time, wasn't you? A '87.

Q Now you have said you remember when they moved there, and they moved there in '87, now you have said that your people moved there in '87, and that you remember it, didn't you? A Well, I don't know as I remember.

Q Well you swore it just now, that you remembered, and it's down there, and you're forty-six years old, and yet can remember when you was a year old, when you swear that you remember when your people moved there, don't you? A '57.
Q Well I knowed them in '50.
Q Well you swear you remember? A But I don't know as I remember.
Q Why didn't you swear just now that you remember when your people moved there, didn't you? A I don't know as I did.
Q Didn't you just swear--oh ask you in the presence of all these witnesses--swear that you remembered when your people moved there in '57, now answer whether you said that or not? A I don't think I did.

Q You swear that do you; read the record.
(Reader reads).

Q Now don't you think that's rather wild swearing?

MR. DAVENPORT: I object to that question.

MR. HARRIS: Don't you think that's rather wild swearing?

MR. DAVENPORT: Answer the question, Mr. Learned.

A Swearing that I knew when I moved there in '57?

MR. HARRIS: Yes, sir. A No, I don't recollect when I moved there in '57.

Q What made you swear it then? A Don't know as I understood the question.

Q Well I asked the question straight out; how old were you in 1907?

A About 11.

Q About eleven years old, and you remember the dates this length of time and exactly when those people left there, and every thing of that sort, is your? A I remember because of the incident I told.

Q What incident? A The man getting in trouble and being arrested.

Q Can you remember the witnesses that appeared that length of time ago when you were only eleven years old? A Well Tom Daniels was a brother of Jim's, that's the reason I remember that.

Q You were eleven years old at that time wasn't you? A Yes, sir.

Q And you remember all about that? A Well, I don't remember all about it.

Q Were you at the trial? A No, sir.

Q How do you know who were the witnesses then? A Jim told me.

Q You're testifying to what people told you, are you? A I wasn't at the trial.

Q You don't know who were the witnesses, do you? A Jim said--

Q But I am not talking about what people said, but what you know about it? A I wasn't at the trial myself.

Q You don't know who were the witnesses? A Only what they said.

Q Do you remember when Jack Landrum left that country? A No, sir, I do not.

Q Didn't you say awhile ago that he left there in '57? A No, I said he might have been away in '58, but I knew him there, '58, he was on our place in '58. Jack Landrum was there in '58.

Q Don't you know that he is on the 1880 roll as a freedman citizen of the Cherokee nation? A Well, I don't--

MR. DAVENPORT: I object to that because that's not evidence of where he was.

MR. HARRIS: I would like to have the roll examined, I would like this testimony to show that John Landrum is on the 1880 roll, because--

MR. DAVENPORT: That's no evidence where he was in '58.

MR. HARRIS: 1880 roll page 121, No. 1221, John Landrum, Coconino County, District, Admitted Colored.

MR. DAVENPORT: Now there isn't any possibility of your forgetting the date exactly, being as you was only 11 years old at that time, was there? A I might have if it hadn't been for that trial.

- Q You wasn't at the trial? A Well, I might have been talking about it.
- Q What makes that trial impress upon you the fact? A Why that made me think when we was out there at the meeting.
- Q What meeting? A Early meeting.
- Q When was that meeting? A That must have been along in about May, I guess.
- Q Well do you remember every body that you saw up there when you was 11 years old? A No, sir.
- Q But? A Don't know, sir, as I remember, if they hadn't been living on our place.
- Q Who lived on your place? A Jack Landrum and Jim.
- Q Jack Landrum and Jim; where were they in '66? A Couldn't tell you.
- Q Don't know where Jack Landrum or where Jim Landrum was in '66? A No, sir.
- Q '67 where were they? A I couldn't tell you.
- Q Don't know whether they were there or not, do you? A No, sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: You know that after that they lived on your father's place? A Yes sir.

Q And you know that Jim Landrum's children were born while they were living on the place? A Yes sir.

COMMISSION: The following is offered in evidence by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation:
[State of Kansas]
Woodson County, KS.

I, A. C. Woodruff, Clerk of the District Court within and for said county and state above named, do hereby certify that the case of the State of Kansas vs. Booth Lusk was continued from the October Term, 1902, to the April term 1903, of the District Court of Woodson County, Kansas. I further certify that Thomas Daniels and Ben Landrum were witnesses in said case as the same appears on record in my office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 25th day of April, 1903.
(Seal)

A. C. Woodruff, Clerk.

MR. HIGGINS: Did you ever see that certificate? A No, sir I haven't seen it.

Q Did you ever look at the record to find out who were witnesses in that case? A I never looked at it myself.

Q Who did look at it? A A man by the name of Keys.

Q Mr. Keys was up there helping the Cherokee Nation find out who were witnesses in that case you speak of and then told you, didn't he? A I told him where he could find it; to go to Center, the county-seat, and he could find the record.

COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: B-601, B-602, B-603, B-604, B-700, B-701, B-702, B-1112, and in B-600, the case at bar.

Q. Where? A. On Grand River.
Q. Now, KNOWN: You say that you saw him, Andy, in '68 on Grand River? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Well, about how long was you there with him in '68? A. Why he was there for two or three months at a time, then he would disappear, and don't know where he would go, and he would be back.
Q. What part of '68 did you see Ben Beck up on Grand River? A. It was in the fall, along in the year.
Q. How long did you see Ben Beck on Grand River? A. I saw him there about two or three months on Grand River.
Q. What part of Grand River was he living when you saw him? A. I was living.
Q. I am not talking about you living? A. Oh, Ben?
Q. Yes, sir. A. I don't know where Ben was living, he was there just backwards and forwards.
Q. Well, where did he go when he was backwards and forwards? A. Why he said.
Q. I am asking you what you know? A. Well he would disappear.
Q. What part of '68 did you get back? A. I came back in October, '68.
Q. How long had you been back when Ben showed up? A. Oh, yes, sir, about a month I guess, yes, sir, I guess about a month, '68.
Q. Ben was there till way along in the spring.
Q. Who did he live with? A. Why he just stayed around there among his kin-folks.
Q. Who was his kin-folks? A. Simon Leach and Mary, amongst them there, where I saw him principally at Simon's.
Q. Well, who did Ben come back to this country with? A. I don't know who he came back with at all.
Q. Who did you first see him with when you saw him? A. I saw him right there at Simon Leach's when I first saw him.
Q. Well, now which did you see first, Ben Beck or Jim Leach? A. Why
I saw Jim Leach, he was down here.
Q. And Jim Leach came before Ben did? A. I don't know whether Jim came before Ben or not, I saw Jim.
Q. You saw Jim before you saw Ben? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And that is all you are going to say, is when you saw them, you are not certain as to what they came back to the country? A. No, sir.
Q. Well, now which came first, Ben Beck or Jim Leach? A. Why I don't know which one came first.

Q How do you know where Jim Landrum, Jack Landrum and Ben Beck went to, if at all, during the war? A Why I know Jim and Jack went to Kansas.

Q Do you know what part of Kansas? A Why no, sir, I don't know exactly.

Q They went up about Neosho Falls didn't they? A Well I guess they did, somewhere.

Q You know Jim's family don't you? A Knewed his wife.

Q Did you ever know any of his children? A I knowed two of his children.

Q What were their names? A Well I don't hardly know their names, but I know them.

Q Well you are positive of the fact that you saw Jim Landrum back in the Cherokee Nation before you did Ben? A Yes, sir.

Q Did Jim have his family with him? A No, sir, I don't think he did.

Q Did he have any family at that time? A I don't know whether he had any family or not at that time.

Q Well did he continue to live there on the river after you saw him next? A No, sir, I didn't see him all the time.

Q Well did he have a home or try to live there? A I saw him there at his father's was all.

Q Who was his father? A George Landrum.

Q Well he was a grown man? A Yes, sir, he was a man.

Q He was a grown man before the war came up too? A Why he was about grown I guess.

Q Well don't you know he was about grown? A I guess he was.

Q Sixteen or seventeen or somewhere along there when the war closed?

A When the war closed, I reckon he was more when the war closed.

Q About 21 years old or upwards? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know whether he had a family or not at the close of the war? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever know his wife's name? A Margaret I believe was her name.

Q Did you ever know any of his children? A Yes, sir, I know two of his children.

Was one of them Alice? A I know Alice but I didn't know the other.

Q Did you ever know Ed? A No, sir, I never did.

Q Well how long after you saw Ben there did he take up his residence, if at all, near you? A Why at Ben didn't take any residence down on the river at all.

Q Well when did he take any in the Indian Territory in the Cherokee Nation? A That's out of my knowing.

Q You don't know whether he ever lived in the Cherokee Nation at all? A No, sir, I see he lived here, but then I don't know when he came back.

Q Now what other boy that was no relation to you do you remember seeing in the fall or '05 up there besides Ben? A Oh, I don't know.

Q Can you name a single one? A I couldn't name, no, sir.

Q How does it happen that you just remember Ben, because he is an applicant? A Because he lived right close to us.

Q Had you known him before the war? A I wasn't personally acquainted with him.

Q What do you know in reference to where he lived before the war?

A No, sir, but I know that he belonged to the Becks.

Q You don't know of your own knowledge do you? A I heard of it.

Q And you just now remember seeing him down there, and remember distinctly it was in '05? A I know it was in '05, and I were seeing Ben up until '05, and I know when he went out, he went out in '05.

Q You know that just as well as you know you seen him in '05? A Yes, sir, because he went out at that time.

Q Well where did Ben belong? A I don't know, sir, where he belonged.

Q Well when he went out on your wagon where did he go? A Went to Tella, Kansas.

Q Well when did you next see him after he went out on your wagon?
A Why I never saw him no more till Colonel Wallace court there.

Q Never saw him any more until Wallace court? A No, sir.

Q And he was married and had a family when you saw him next? A I guess he did; he didn't have his family when I saw him.

Q He came down from Kansas to court there on the Wallace roll? A
I don't know where he came from.

Q Did you have any talk with him? A No, sir, nothing in particular.

Q Didn't you ask him where he had been living since he had been out on your wagon that time? A No, sir.

Q Now that Wallace roll was made in what year? A I don't recollect.

Q Now do you remember distinctly that he rode out on your wagon in '88 and then can't remember what year the Wallace roll was made? A
I can tell just how I remember. I had a child born in '88, my wife went to Kansas, and she went about '88 and Ben went with her.

Q You had another one born about the time the Wallace roll was made didn't you? A No, I guess not. I guess I had one child before that or since that.

Q And your wife went to Kansas to visit her sister about the time the Wallace roll was made? A No, sir, she didn't.

Q She didn't make a visit and you can't tell what year the Wallace roll was made? A Oh, I can't just recollect just what year it was made.

Q Was it in '88 or '89 the Wallace roll was made? A I don't recollect, I tell you that I don't recollect.

Q Just remember those things that pertain to '88 is all? A I can remember very well what date that was that Ben went from here to Kansas.

Q You can remember the day or the month can't you? A No, I don't know the day or the month, but I can remember what month it was.

Q What month was it? A July.

Q '88? A Yes, sir, - '88, July, '88.

Q What year was the Kerna-Clifton roll made? A I don't recollect that either.

Q And you had the money paid out on the Kerna-Clifton roll? A I didn't keep that date.

Q What year did the Dawes Commission begin to make their freedom roll? A I have never kept that date.

Q What year is this? A 1892.

MR. BROWN: Do you mean 1890 or 1891? A 1892.

Q Now you are on the 1892 roll? A Yes, sir.

Q And the same year that you returned to the Cherokee Nation that you saw this applicant? A Yes, sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: I object to any such questions; it is his own witness. Do you know where Ben was married? A No, sir, I don't recollect where he was married.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-220.

APPEARANCES:

Lewis F. Brown for applicant.
V. V. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

JOSEPH STARR, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

- MR. BROWN: State your name? A My name is Joseph Starr.
Q What is your age, Mr. Starr? A About 45.
Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Just halfway.
Q Well do you know the applicant here, William Mayes? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know his mother? A Yes, sir, I knew his mother.
Q When did you see her for the first time in the Cherokee Nation after the close of the civil war? A Well the first time I saw her after the war it was in the winter of '64, she came and taken Christmas with us.
Q Where did she go from there? A Well after she left from there she went across the line at a little place called Evansville, hired out.
Q Who did she hire to? A Man named Mark Bean.
MR. HASTINGS: What was his mother's name? A She was named Flora Gott.
Q Mark Bean lived in Flint District? A He was living across the line, right at the foot of Boston Mountain.
Q And that was in '66 was it? A No, this was when she came there, she went to there in the spring of '67 and hired to Mark Bean.
Q Who brought you back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Charley Starr.
Q Did you know Ellis Burrington? A I do.
Q Was Ellis up there in Flint when you came back? A No, sir, he wasn't.
Q Did you know James Starr, commonly known as Hickory Starr? A I know Hickory Starr.
Q Where was Hickory Starr living when you got back? A He was living right there in Flint District.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation asks that all the testimony filed by the Cherokee Nation in the case of Joseph Starr, showing when the witness, Joseph Starr, returned to the Cherokee Nation, being the testimony of Ellis W. Burrington and James Starr, be filed with and made a part of the record in this case.

MR. BROWN: The applicant objects to the testimony taken by the Cherokee Nation in the Joseph Starr case being made a part of the record in this case for the reason that the witnesses who gave testimony have never been called as witnesses in this case, and the applicant therefore has had no opportunity to cross-examine them as to the matter about which they testified, and for the further reason that it is incompetent.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation contends that it is competent in this case because the applicant, Joseph Starr, himself was present when these witnesses testified, and he had the opportunity to cross-examine them, and if these witnesses testified that this person was the applicant in that case, didn't that make him in fact and wasn't in the Cherokee Nation at that time, it is certainly relevant to show that he was not here, and therefore could not know the things of which he now pretends to testify.

MR. SHAW: I move now the applicant and moves the Commission to strike from the records in this case the remarks of the representative of the Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION: The request of the Cherokee Nation will be complied with and the testimony filed and made a part of the record in this case.

Cherokee Freedmen D-665.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Benjamin Beek and his minor children, Pearl, Josephine and John Beek, as Cherokee Freedmen.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on June 10, 1901, Benjamin Beek appeared before the Commission at Cholsen, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Bettie Beek, and his minor children, Pearl, Josephine and John Beek, as Cherokee freedmen. The said Bettie Beek claims only as a citizen by intermarriage, and her rights are not passed upon in this decision. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Vinita, Indian Territory, on October 18, 1901, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on May 27, 1902. The testimony taken at various times and places in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jim Landrum, et al., as Cherokee freedmen, is made a part of the record herein.

The evidence in this case shows that the said Benjamin Beek was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that during said rebellion he left the Cherokee Nation, and the date of his return thereto is not clearly established. It appears from the testimony of the applicant, Benjamin Beek, that one Wilson Towers had established a residence in the Cherokee Nation and was living therein when the said Benjamin Beek first returned to the Cherokee Nation after the rebellion. The Commission has found in Cherokee Freedmen D-466 that the said Wilson Towers did not return to and establish a residence in the Cherokee Nation within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, et al., vs. the Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Cherokee freedmen to said Nation; therefore, the applicant, Benjamin Beek, did not return to and establish a residence in the Cherokee Nation within the time specified in the decree of said Court of Claims. The applicants, Pearl, Josephine and John Beek, are the children of said Benjamin Beek, have been born since 1866, and have no right to enrollment except such as they may derive through their father.

It does not appear that any of the applicants herein are identified on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee Roll.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the applications for the enrollment of Benjamin Beek, Pearl Beek, Josephine Beek and John Beek as Cherokee freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

Gentlemen:

There is herewith inclosed a copy of the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes dated July 23, 1904, rejecting the application of Benjamin Beck for the enrollment of himself and his three minor children, Pearl, Josephine and John Beck as Cherokee freedmen.

The decision, with the record of proceedings, has this day been transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior for his review and decision. The action of the Secretary will be made known to you as soon as the Commission is informed of same.

Gentlemen:

You are hereby advised that the Commission's decision dated July 21, 1904, rejecting the application for the enrollment of Benjamin Book and his three minor children, Josephine and John Book and Pearl Huff, as Cherokee freedmen, was reversed by the Secretary of the Interior on September 9, 1904, and the Commission ordered to enroll said applicants as Cherokee freedmen.

Respectfully,

Q You have no personal knowledge of his ever having married before he married Mattie Smith? A If he had I didn't know it.

Q Did you know Mattie Smith during her life time? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know her as this man's wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Are not you one of his witnesses on his marriage certificate?

A Not as I know of; I knew he married sometime after that at that time; I know he married, they stayed at my house and his wife was my wife's sister at that time.

Q Do you mean this wife Mattie, was a sister of your wife?

A Yes, sir.

Q Well, where did he and this woman Mattie marry? A Well now I will tell you gain, they married at my absence and I would like to be positive if I tell that, I don't know.

Q Where were you when they married? A I, as well as I remember, was traveling with a show.

Q You don't know where they were married do you? A Well I tell you I don't know, was not positive.

Q Do you know how long they lived together as husband and wife?

A Well, as well as I can remember it was somewhere in the neighborhood often or eleven years, as well as I can remember.

JOSH VANN, the Applicant, re-called:

Q You say you have a certificate of marriage to that last woman?

A Yes, sir, and I will produce it, but I haven't got it here.

Q What was the name of this woman, Mattie, before you married her? A Mattie Smith.

Q How old was she when she died? A I guess she was about 29 or 30 years old, I don't know exactly.

Q Was she ever married before she married you? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times? A Once as far as I know; I don't know only what she told me.

Q Was that husband dead when she married you? A Yes, sir.

Q How long has your mother lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All her life, only what time she was out as I understand.

Q All her life except a while during the war and little after?

A Yes, sir.

- Q Are you the only child of his? A Yes, sir.
- Q Your mother has other children? A Yes, sir.
- Q Has she children by the name of Pee? A Yes, sir.
- Q How many children has she of that marriage? A Had four, there is two living.
- Q How does it happen that you are not on the roll of 1880? A I could not tell you.
- Q Where were you at that time? A On Grand river.
- Q How does it happen that your mother is not on the roll of 1880?
- A I could not tell you that, they just didn't put us on.
- Q Do you remember of having applied for enrollment in 1860?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q And what did they say to you? A They didn't say anything, only just taken our names, taken all the names.
- Q Did they refuse you at that time? A No, taken our names, I don't know what he done with them.
- Q That is all you know about it? A Yes, sir.
- Q How does it happen that you are not on the roll of 1896?
- A I was not here.
- Q Where were you? A I was up in Kansas.
- Q What were you doing up there? A I was working part of the time.
- By W. W. Hastings, Cherokee Representative:
- Q What was your stepfather's name? A Charley Pee, one of them was named Charley Pee.
- Q Where was he and your married? A They was married in Kansas.
- Q During or after the war? A It was right away after the war.
- Q After peace was declared? A Sometime about that time.
- Q You remember that? A I remember a little about it, not a great deal.
- Q You remember when your mother was married? A Well, yes, sir, I remember something about it.
- Q About how old were you when the war closed? A I guess that I was about eight or at ten years old, I don't know my age exactly.
- Q What was the oldest child's name that your mother had by your stepfather, Charley Pee? A Lettie.
- Q Was Lettie older than Jesse? A No, sir.
- Q Was Lettie younger than Martha? A No, sir.
- Q Then Jesse and Martha are not children of your mother by Charley Pee? A No, sir.
- Q Is Lettie living? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where does she live now? A Vinita.
- Q Is she married? A Been married.
- Q How old is she? A I would think she is about 32.
- Q Where was Lettie born? A She was born in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Where? A Up close to the line of Kansas.
- Q Do you remember going back with your mother after the war?
- A I remember a little about it.
- Q How did you return to the Cherokee Nation? A In a wagon.
- Q A horse wagon? A Yes, sir, we had a mule team.
- Q Did you have more than one team? A Yes, sir, we didn't have but one wagon though.

Q Did you have two teams to the one wagon? A No, sir, didn't have two teams to the one wagon, but had more than one team.

Q Did you bring them along with you? A Yes, sir.

Q Did any others besides your own family come back with your stepfather and mother, any other colored people I mean? A Why there was another family come down when he first come down there before he come and got us, when mother and us come he come and got us, there was not anybody come with us then at that time.

Q He come down here then first, before you and your mother?

A Come a little while before we did, he come in the spring.

Q And he came back after you and you all came in the summer following? A Yes, sir.

Q Now to what point in the Nation did you return? A Down here on Russell Creek.

Q How far from Chatopa, Kansas? A About three miles, maybe a little more.

Q You located there that summer? A Yes, sir, we stopped there that summer.

Q Built a house? A Built a little shanty in the fall like.

Q How long did you remain there at that place? A We stayed there that winter.

Q The winter of '66 and the first part of '67? A Yes, sir, we stayed there until the next spring.

Q What did you do during that summer and winter? A I didn't do anything.

Q What did your stepfather do? A He went backwards and forwards back up towards Kansas, somewhere, wasn't doing anything.

Q Did you have any neighbors up there? A Not as I know of.

Q You never saw any at all? A No, sir.

Q Did you raise any crop? A No.

Q Where did you get anything to eat? A I told you he went backwards and forwards up in Kansas and bought it I guess, might have sold it, I don't know.

Q Did he ever go up to Chatopa? A Wasn't any Chatopa.

Q About how far from where Chatopa now is, I think you answered it a while ago? A About three miles.

Q On which side of the M.K. & T. railroad, east or west? A It is east of the M.K. & T. Railroad.

Q About how far? A About two miles and a half or three miles.

Q Do you know who owns a farm up where that is now? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Well what did you do, leave there? A Why we went the next spring back across there in the States.

Q In Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What part of Kansas? A We went over there where Chatopa is now and from there acrossed the river, crossed the river on the other side, what is called Neutral land, or something of that kind.

Q About how far from Chatopa? A About two miles and a half.

Q North? A Northeast.

Q Well, how long did you stay there? A Stayed that summer and until fall like and then we come back to Russell Creek.

Q In the fall of '67 you returned then to where you had been previous to that? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live there? A We lived there that winter a part of the winter and we went back over across the line.

Q That was sometime in the winter of '67? A I think it was.

Q And how long did you live up in Kansas that time? A Oh, we stayed there all the next year.

Q All the year of '68, and then when did you return to the Cherokee Nation? A We stayed there until the fall or winter of '68 I think, I ain't sure now, and then we come back to the Nation and moved down on Verdigris.

Q That was in '69? A I think so.

Q Well, now, to what point on the Verdigris did you come then?

A Right where the Creek line crosses the Verdigris river.

Q Well, how long did you remain there? A Moved on Grand river.

Q And that must have been about the year '70 or '71? A Somewhere along there.

Q Now, what point on Grand river did you go? A Went over there close to Bryant's salt lake.

Q In Saline District? A No, sir.

Q On the west side of the grand river? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you stay there? A About a year.

Q And then where did you go? A Up on Grand river in Delaware District.

Q And that was '72 or '73 was it? A '73 I believe.

Q Well when did you go back to Kansas after that? A I went every once in a while.

Q Well when was the first time you went? A I went back to Kansas and herded cattle for a man in '72.

Q On what place? A Right at the head of Russell Creek.

Q How long did you stay up there? A I stayed up there that once summer and winter.

Q You were married up there the first time? A No, sir.

Q Where were you married the first time? A On Grand river.

Q When was that? A In '75 I believe, somewhere along there.

Q Who married you? A Colored preacher.

Q What was his name? A Named Fred Martin.

Q Did your mother ever go back to Kansas after she moved down on Verdigris river as you stated about '69? A No, she didn't go back from Verdigris.

Q I mean did she ever go back to Kansas after that time? A Oh, yes, she has been xi back to Kansas.

Q When did she go back after that? A She went back in, it was '69 or '70, I don't remember.

Q Where did she go? A Chetopa.

Q How long did she remain up there at Chetopa at that time?

Q Not a great while, I don't think.

Q About the best of your judgment? A Well, she has been back there several times, she would go there and work, but I don't remember just how long she did stay.

Q As much as a year or two? A No sir, she didn't stay that long.

Q When did you and she finally settle down and locate in the Cherokee Nation and where? A I told you we moved up here on Grand river about '72.

Q Make a place up there? A Bought a little place up there.

Q You were married once in Kansas were you not? A Married twice in Kansas.

Q The second and third times? A Yes, sir.

Q When were you married in Kansas? A '97.

Q That was not the second time was it? A I married in '85.

Q Where were you married in Kansas? A In Marion County, Kansas

Q Where is that, how far from Kansas City? A About 175 or 200 miles by rail.

Q Did you marry a State raised woman? A Yes, sir.

Q What were you doing up there? A I went up there to work.

Q How long had you known your second wife before you married her?

A About four months.

Q Where did your wife die, second wife? A Died in Vinita.

Q How long had she been in Vinita when she died? A About a month.

Q When did she die? A Died in '91.

Q Now you married your third wife in Kansas? A Yes, sir.

Q What place? A Newton, Kansas.

Q How far is that from Marion? A About 25 or 30 miles west of Marion.

Q Your second wife was State-raised? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known her before you married her? A About a year.

Q Is she alive? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you come back from Kansas this last time? A Come back in July.

Q This last July? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know where you got provisions to eat there when your step-father went back to Kansas after the war? A That is the only place we could get them.

Q You had no neighbors around you to get anything to eat off? A No neighbors there.

Q No neighbors to work for? A No, sir.

Q What did you build your house out of, logs? A Logs, poles.

Q Covered it with poles? A Yes, sir.

Q One log house was it? A Yes, sir, one log roomed shanty.

Q Was there a road anywhere near you, big traveled road; how far were you from the old Military road? A The Military road run there towards Baxter; Baxter would be the nearest place.

Q And this old road that runs through this country up there.

A That would be pretty near east as high as I would know about it, I never traveled that old Military road only from along the line coming from Baxter Springs.

Q Have you any children of your last wife? A No, sir.

By Commissioner Brackinridge:

Q How many children you say your mother has by her husband, Peo?

A Four.

Q Where are your children now? A They are there going to school, I sent them up there last December.

Q Are you farming up there in Kansas? A No, sir.

Q What are you doing in the Territory; what business are you doing? A I work, me my own place, when I am here.

Q And when you don't do that what business are you engaged in?

A Working.

Q When you are not here where do you go? A To Kansas some time.

Q What kind of business do you follow up there? A Doing public work.

Q Is that the kind of business you do up there? A Opening stone quarries.

Q Have you ever been called upon to vote up there? A No, sir.

Q Have you ever voted for Congressman, President, or Governor?

A No, sir.

Q Never voted for any office at all? A No, sir.

Q Where is your mother at this time; on her place on the Territory?

A She is in Vinita sick.

Q What part of her time has she spent in Kansas, since the war closed? A Why she aint spent a great deal of it, I can't tell you how much.

Q Anything like half of her time? A No, sir, not one-fourth of it.

Q Have you spent as much as half of your time in Kansas since you first married there in 1883? A No, sir; after I married I moved my wife back, I went up there in the spring of '83 and staid until March and come back, that is in March, '84, and come back and remained here until '95.

Q Remained here all the time? A Yes, sir.

Q Didn't you get out of the Cherokee Nation at all? A Well I went up there to visit her mother once; stayed a month; about '95 I had reason for going.

Q Well, where have you lived since '95? A I have stepped there part of the time with my wife and the other time when I had a chance I come back down here, slipped around in here, I got into a little trouble.

Q Little difficulty? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you get out of that difficulty? A Aint never got out of it.

Q You were scouting from 1885 on were you? A Yes, sir.

Q Haven't you been in the Cherokee Nation all the time after the last July? A Up until February when I went out.

A Now from 1885 to the last July, were you up in Kansas all the time except when you would slip in? A Yes, sir, only when I would slip in.

Q Is there any other testimony you want to introduce? A Yes sir.

J. O. Rosson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Signed, J. O. Rosson.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 29th day of May, 1901.

Signed, C. R. Breckinridge,

Q What is your postoffice? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life time pretty much.

Q What part of your life have you been out of the Cherokee Nation? A I don't know what time; along in '62 or 3, I guess about then I was out.

Q You were never out except during the war? A No, sir, I was out then.

Q Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Josh Vann? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been personally acquainted with him? A I have known him pretty much all of his life time.

Q Well, did you know him during the war? A No sir, I knowed him before the war; I didn't see him during the war.

Q You knew him before the war? A Yes sir.

Q Was he a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war broke out? A Yes sir.

Q When did you first meet him after the war was over? A After the war was over I met him up on Russell Creek is the first time I met him after the war.

Q In what year was that? A That was in '65.

Q Don't Breckinridge, to applicant: Do you want to ask this man any questions in your own behalf?

Applicant: No, sir, not now.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, W. W. Hastings:

Q Art, what you a dispirited citizen? A Yes sir.

Q Your name is not on the roll of 1860? A No sir.

Q Where was the applicant, Josh Vann, living, - how was he living, was he living in a house when you first saw him after the war?

A Yes sir, kind of an old log house.

Q About how far from the Kansas line? A I don't know just how far that is, I think it is near about three miles if I mistake now.

Q Were you ever tried before the courts for anything? A Not in my life, I never was before no court but the Clifton court, that's about all the court I ever was tried in.

Q Who was with Josh Vann when you first saw him? A Aunt Muley, his mother, and two more children I knew.

Q What were their names? A Jess and Martha.

Q Was her husband with her? A Yes sir.

Q What was his name? A Named Jess.

Q Charley? A Yes sir.

Q About what time of the year was it you saw them? A Along about December I guess.

Q December of '66? A Yes sir, I guess along about, close on to Christmas.

Q You were coming down this way? A No sir, I was up in that country.

Q Just ~~when~~ went up to see them? A No sir, not particular to see them, I was up looking at that country, me and several of the boys.

Q Who was with you? A Me and Art Ryner and Sean, Joe Sean.

Q What were you doing up there? A Just looking at the country.

Q How far was that from where you lived? A Forty miles I guess, maybe further.

Q Did they have anything to eat up there? A I guess they did, they couldn't have stayed without something to eat.

Q Did you eat with them? A Yes sir, such as they had, and that wasn't very much in time times.

Q Had they made any crop up there? A No sir.

Q You don't know how long they had been there? A No sir.

Q Did they tell you how long they had been there? A No, sir, they didn't tell me anything about that.

Q You didn't ask anything about their past whereabouts? A No sir.

Q Didn't you go on up to Chatopa and trade then? A No sir.

Q Why didn't you; you were there near? A There wasn't any Chatopa in there.

Q You remember that from five years ago don't you Art? A What's that.

Q That there was no Chatopa in '66 there? A I never did say that.

Q After you were excused while ago you went out down there to that white tent yonder? A Yes sir.

Q You took Cap? A Not particular; he went there; I went there with him.

Q After consulting, you called Al Lynch, didn't you? A Yes sir.

Q And you all went around there to consult? A Yes sir.

Q What did you talk about? A Oh, that was our business.

Q Did you talk about this case? A No sir, that was our business around there, Mr. Hastings.

Q Did you talk about this case? A Not particular.

Q What did you say about it? A I don't have to tell my secrets you know.

Q You did talk, after you were dismissed and put under the rule, you got all three of you together and talked about this case? A Yes sir, we talked about it; you sent us off, and we have got the privilege to do as we please out there, you know, Mr. Hastings.

Q Did you all three agree that you had seen them in '66? A No, we made no agreements about that.

Q Did each of these witnesses there of his say you had seen these parties in '66? A We talked about the case, but we didn't say anything about no '66; I told them I knew Josh in his childhood and I knowed all of his folks.

Q And the rest of the boys knew the same thing? A One didn't know a thing about it, he belonged too—

Q Did he know him in '66? A That's what he said, I suppose.

Q He told you that out yonder a while ago? A He told that in here I guess.

Q Well he told you that out yonder? A Well I told you awhile ago I didn't have to tell my secrets; you are a secret order man ain't you?

Q Well, how long did Josh and his mother and step-father live on Russell Creek? A I couldn't tell you.

Q When did you next see them? A Down on the river, about '68.

Q About how many years after you saw them up there? A I don't know how many; not very many years.

Q Do you think it was the next year? A They went down below, I heard they went below, I don't know anything about that.

- Q When did Josh tell you that? A He never told me at all.
- Q Did he tell you that to-day? A He never told me that at all. I heard they went down about the old salt lick below.
- Q But you think it was about '68 when they came down to the river near you? A I guess it was about then.
- Q Aint you positive? A No.
- Q Why is it you are positive when you first saw them and you are not positive when you second saw them, and they lived right by you didn't they? A Well, I think it was '68.
- Q You think it was about 2 years afterwards? A Yes sir.
- Q To your best judgment? A Yes sir.
- Q They were neighbors to you in '68? A Yes sir.
- Q Has Josh been living there ever since? A Yes sir.
- Q You swear that? A Yes sir.
- Q Has he ever been married? A Yes sir.
- Q What was his first wife's name? A I don't know sir.
- Q Was she a state raised or a Cherokee? A I don't know; I know he had a woman there as his wife, I didn't make no inquiry about that.
- Q Was he married a second time? A Yes sir, I suppose he was that's what I hear.
- Q Where was he married? A I don't know where he was married the last time.
- Q Where do you live now? A I live on Grand river.
- Q Does Josh live down there by you? A He lived above me a ways.
- Q About how far? A I guess about eight miles, above where I live.
- Q You see him frequently? A Yes sir.
- Q What does he do down there? A I don't know sir, I guess he tried to farm like the rest of us.
- Q Did he make a crop this year? A I don't know sir, I haven't been up there.
- Q Did he make one there last year? A I couldn't tell you, I don't think he did.
- Q Did he make one there the year before? A I couldn't tell you that either, Josh was out awhile.
- Q When did he go out? A Oh it has been I guess a year or two ago.
- Q Now give us your best judgment as to when he went out, if he did go? A I am giving it to you, best I know.
- Q You think it was about two years ago? A Yes sir, he got into some trouble, that's about as near as I can get at it.
- Q About two years ago? A Yes sir.
- Q To your best judgment how long was he gone? A I don't know just how long he was gone; it slipped my remembrance how long Josh was out.
- Q When did he come back? A I think it was along sometime about July, if I make no mistake.
- Q That he came back? A Yes sir.
- Q Been here ever since? A Yes sir.
- Q You swear that? A Yes sir, I have saw him frequently ever since.
- Q Is he married now? A Yes sir, I suppose he is, I heard he was.
- Q Where is his wife? A I don't know sir.
- Q You haven't seen her? A No sir, I just hear he was married.
- Q You don't know where he was married? A No sir.
- Q You didn't hear he was married in '68 up in Newton, Kansas? A No sir, I made no inquiry.
- Q I didn't know he had been up in Kansas six years out of here? A No sir.
- Q Did all of these people that you mention go up in Kansas at that time, in '68? A No and George Eaton and amongst us.
- Q Did these people have any horses at that time? A They had a little pony team.
- Q That's all you saw? A Yes sir.
- Q No more? A No sir, I couldn't say no more.

Q. Al Lynch wasn't with you when you went up there at that time?

A. No sir.

Q. Cap Hicks wasn't with you? A. No sir.

Com'r Breckinridge, to applicant: Any questions now that you want to ask in your own behalf? Applicant: No sir.

ALLEN LYNCH, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q. Give me your full name? A. Allen Lynch

Q. How old are you? A. I am 61 years old.

Q. What is your postoffice? A. Vinita.

Q. How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A. Well, about all my life.

Q. Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Josh Vann? A. Yes sir.

Q. How long have you known him? A. I have known him ever since a little boy.

Q. Did you know him before the war broke out? A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you known him ever since? A. Yes sir.

Com'r to applicant: Any questions you want to ask Allen Lynch in your own behalf? Applicant: No sir.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, W. W. Hastings:
Hastings: I don't care to ask him any questions.

Com'r Breckinridge, to applicant: Any particular point you want your witness to testify on?

Applicant: Yes sir, I would like to know, - what I have introduced the witness for was to prove when I returned back to this country.

Com'r: You want to interrogate him yourself? A. No sir.

Com'r Examined witness:

Q. Where was Josh Vann during the war? A. In Kansas.

Q. Did you see him up there? A. No sir, I never see him in Kansas; I saw him when they went there.

Q. When they were going there you saw them? A. Yes sir.

Q. Where did you first see him after the war closed? A. Saw him up here on Russell Creek.

Q. How far was that from the Kansas line? A. Well, judge I don't know exactly where the Kansas line was then, but it is about six or seven miles south of Chetopa now.

Q. When was it you saw him there? A. I saw him there along in August or September, in '88; I couldn't tell you just exactly the time.

Q. Were you living up there yourself at that time? A. No sir.

Q. What was the occasion of your being there? A. I went up there to drive some cattle for a man, some steers that a white man came and traded to Bill Foreman, traded some tin-ware, and he got me to drive the cattle.

Q. Was anybody along with you? A. Oh yes, me and this man and two white men.

Q. That was the party? A. Yes sir.

Q. How did you happen to meet this man Josh Vann? A. We went up there and I went to the house, and there I found him. I stopped there as I was coming on home.

Q. What do you know about him since that time? A. I know he has been around here in the country.

Q. Where did you next see him after that time? A. I don't know next time I saw him whether I saw him on Grand river or whether I saw him at Chetopa after Chetopa was made. I don't know exactly.

Q. What can you say as a definite character about having seen him since that first meeting that he told you? What do you think of where he has lived? A He lived with me three or four years and lived right there in the neighborhood.

Q When was that? A I can't tell you just exactly the time, but him and his family, it was, he had that Mattie, they lived there on my place.

Q That accounts for four years; can you mention any other period that you have personal knowledge of him in? A He has been here ever since that on until he got into this trouble, and I don't know where he went.

Q Was he living with you? A No sir, he was right around in the neighborhood until he had that trouble.

Q Where was he staying in the neighborhood? A Right there in the neighborhood where his mother is living now.

Q Was he staying on a place of his own? A On his mother's place.

Q Has he ever had a place of his own, or always lived with his mother? A I think he has always lived with his mother only when he lived with me and with Tobe Lynch awhile.

Q You don't know how far back he lived with you? A It must have been 13 or 14 years; it has been about two years since he left my place I guess.

Q And since that he has lived at his mother's place? A Yes sir.

Q All the time? A No, he has been gone two or three years.

Q Well but down to this absence that took place of late years?

A Yes sir; he may have lived in town a year; I don't know; his wife died here in town.

Q How far is his mother's place from where you live? A About three miles.

Q How did he make his home continuously at his mother's place from the time he left your place until he went on that stay some years ago? A No sir, I think he lived with Tobe Lynch 2 years.

Q So he lived with his mother with that exception did he? A Yes sir. To the best of my knowledge about it.

Q How many times has he been married? A I think he has been married three times; I know, three times.

Q Did you ever see his first wife? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever see his present wife? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you see her? A I hauled her out there here about two months ago, out there to his mother's, it must have been in three months, maybe, or two months, somewhere along there; it has been two or three or four months ago.

Q Where is she now, do you know? A No sir.

Examined by Charles K. Representative, W. W. Hastings:

Q All, how far did you live from Josh when the war come up?

A Well, it must have been 16 miles, maybe further than that.

Q About how old was he when the war come up? A I don't think Josh was over 6 or 7 years old.

Q You remember seeing him when you stopped up on Russell Creek with his mother? A Yes sir.

Q You were driving some cattle at that time? A I drove a yoke of cattle up there.

Q Just one yoke? A Yes sir.

Q For whom? A The man was named Davis, and he got the cattle from Bill Foreman.

Q Where did you drive the cattle to? A I went up as far as Labette and then I returned back; I went up with them men and I come back alone.

Q Did you see anything of these people as you went up? A I don't remember; no, I don't know whether I stayed all night there then going or whether it was coming; but I stayed all night with them.

Q How long had they been there? A Well, I don't know, Mr. Hastings, how long they had been there.

Q You know from your conversation, you talked over all times didn't they tell you anything about their past history? Of where their where-about? A Well, we talked over about how come them there. I don't know whether I asked them how long they had been there or not.

Q Had a log house did they? A Had a little log cabin.

Q How long did it appear to have been built? A Not very long; had little clapboards on it, new.

Q Had they made a little patch of ground there that year? A No sir, none at all.

Q Have any neighbors around near them? A No sir, not that I know of: my nearest neighbors where I lived was down on Cabin Creek; them is the only folks I saw up there on down here.

Q From your folks up to Kansas that was the only house you passed?

A Yes sir, that was the only house.

Q Was it on the big road? A There wasn't any road up there.

Q Just through the prairie? A Yes sir, prairie.

Q How did you happen to discover this place? A Well, we crossed the creek two or three hundred yards, as far as I can recollect from where they had this house: after I saw them up there I was down here about a month after that and there come men from Garnett Kansas down here and they was hunting a couple of pair of mules and they said Charley Pee and Charley Blackwell stole them mules and had run off down here somewhere, and they come in there I suppose to hide from the officers; that's all a pretense, I never asked them about it.

Q How long after you saw them there until you saw them down here near your place, on Grand river? A I couldn't tell you, it must have been along in '87 or '88, something along there when they moved down in the bottom there, I couldn't tell you exactly.

Q That was on Grand river? A Yes sir.

Q And near where they live now? A Yes sir, I think it must be two miles, or three, from where they first stopped, there are about three miles above now.

Q That was within a year, and at the most, within two years, you think, after you saw them up there? A I don't know whether it was that early or not.

Q Well, about how long after you saw them up there until you saw them on Grand river? A Why I just couldn't tell you when they moved up there.

Q How many children did Mrs. Pee have at that time? A Had three.

Q She had no children by her last husband, Charley? A If she did I don't remember it; not then, no sir.

Q What three children did she have? A She had Jess and Jess and Martha.

Q After you were excused awhile ago you and Cap and Art had a conference about this case didn't you? A No, we never said anything about this case.

Q Never talked about it at all? A No sir, I never talked to anybody.

Q Didn't Art and Cap go behind that little white tent yonder and after talking the matter over call you around there? A They called me around there, but they was asking me about something else.

Q They wasn't talking about this case? A Not about this case; they never asked me about it, something else.

Q You never said anything about the case? A Not that I remember, we were talking about Joe B an's case.

Q Well you would have remembered it, it was only a few minutes ago, if anything was said you would have known it now? A Yes sir.

Q Didn't Cap and Art say when they saw this family up there?

A No, Art didn't say anything about when he saw them; Cap told me in town when he saw them.

Q When did he tell you? A He told me he saw them in October or September, '87, when he was herding cattle.

Q You never saw the Frett house up there when you herded?

A He never had no house up there.

Q You never saw Albert Morris' coal mine there? A He never had no could mine there then.

Q It wasn't there in '66? A It was there but it hadn't been developed.

Q You know where Josh married the last time? A He married in Kansas I think; that's what his wife told me.

Q She lived up there yet? A She is up there now.

Q She has lived there all the time hasn't she, since she married?

A Only when she come and stayed across the river as I told you.

Q How long did she stay there? A I don't know; it must have been 3 months, maybe longer.

Q You know where Charley Pee and his family got anything to eat up there on Russell Creek? A They may have got it like the balance of us; we stole it when we got it.

Q Was there anybody to steal from? A Yes sir, we had lots of cattle and hogs and rabbits and onions.

Q What did you eat when you were up there? A I eat some beef and I eat some corn bread, and was glad to get that.

Q They didn't tell you what they were doing for a living? A No sir.

APPLICANT, JOSH VANN, re-called, and further examined;
By Commissioner Breckinridge:

Q Josh Vann, when you were scouting for several years from the Cherokee Nation, now what was the trouble with you? A Why I got into a little scrape down here at town, there was a fellow got killed, and they accused me of it.

Q Accused you of killing him? A Yes sir.

Q Is that the only matter you have ever been accused of? A That's the only one I have scouted from.

Q Have you ever been up before the courts for any offence or charges? A Yes sir.

Q What? A Tried for whiskey and assault and attempt.

Q You have been in prison? A Sent to prison you mean and convicted?

Q Yes? A No sir, I never was convicted or nothing; I have been indicted in Delaware District court.

Q Many times? A Once only.

Q Have you any more testimony you want to introduce? A Yes sir, after you get nearer to where it is I do.

Q But this is all at the present time? A Yes sir.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, W. W. Hastings:

Q Except for this sickness is your mother fairly strong?

A No sir.

Q Does she do her own work? A No sir.

Q Has she been confined to her bed or room? A No, she is not really confined to her bed, but she had - I don't know whether it is bright disease or what it is; if she gets a little bit warm she can't get her breath.

Com'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and four children, and for his mother, who he states is old and infirm and unable to apply for herself;

The applicant is identified on the Wallace and Kame-Olinton rolls, but not upon the roll of 1866 or upon that of 1896; his father, who is deceased, is not identified upon the roll of 1866, and his mother, who is living, is identified on the Kame-Olinton roll, but upon none other;

The applicant claims to have come to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the Treaty of 1866, and he has introduced considerably testimony upon that point; it appears from the testimony of one or more of the applicant's witnesses that since they were put under oath they have conferred together about this case, and attention should be directed to that point; it further appears that for the past five years the applicant has been, until at least July last, a fugitive from justice, and has been living in the State of Kansas, according to his own testimony, constantly, except when he would come into the Cherokee Nation secretly; it does not appear that he had been engaged in business in the Cherokee Nation except upon his mother's farm; he has been married three times, and his present wife, whom he married in Kansas, is living there at this time, with the children, who he states are there attending school; his second wife he married in the State of Kansas, but he states that she lived almost exclusively in the Cherokee Nation, and died in the Cherokee Nation; he married that wife in the year 1885, and she died in the year 1891; under these conditions, and referring to the testimony generally, the applicant will now be listed as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his postoffice address.

As for his present wife, it appears that she was married once before, but her former husband was dead when she contracted the present marriage to the applicant, and the applicant was married twice before, but his two former wives were dead when he contracted his present marriage; there is some personal testimony establishing the marriage in addition to that of the applicant, but his wife is a state woman, he married her in the State of Kansas, and in the year 1897; so that under the conditions stated it is apparent that she is not entitled to enrollment at this time, and the application for her enrollment is rejected.

As for the four children named in the testimony, they are all four said to be living at this time; they are miners, and are identified on the Kerns-Clifton roll; it seems that these children were all born in the Cherokee Nation; they are all children of the applicant's second wife, Mattie Smith, of the legality of whose marriage to the applicant there does not at this time appear any question; these children will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card; their mother, apparently lawfully married to their father, possessed no rights of her own, she being a state woman.

As for the applicant's mother, she is identified on the Kerns-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1880 or 1896, and not satisfactorily identified upon the Wallace roll; so far as the evidence adduced goes, her right to enrollment appears to depend upon the period of her return from the State of Kansas, and of course her not being upon the roll of 1880 or upon that of 1896 indicated that she was not admitted to enrollment for some material reason; the testimony is to the effect that she returned to the Cherokee Nation at the time her son did; it is not disputed that she was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the time the war broke out, and a slave of a Cherokee citizen; she will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to her at her postoffice address, and as regards the other applications, namely, those for the applicant and his children, the final decision will be made known to him at his postoffice address.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the case of Josh Vann, Cherokee Freedman, D-418.

Mellette & Smith, attorneys for applicant-
James Davenport attorney for the Cherokee Nation

HARRY STILL called and sworn by Commissioner T. B. Needles as a witness for the applicant, testified as follows:

By Mr. Mellette-

Q What is your name? A Harry Still.

Q What is your age? A 54.

Q Where do you live? A Hayden.

Q In what Nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q Do you know the applicant here? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know his mother? Known as Susan Pee? A Yes sir I do.

Q Did you know her husband Charley Pee? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know when his mother Susan Pee, or Vann, returned to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes sir.

Q When? A When I got acquainted with Charles -- when I found Charles it was about the first part -- the first time I ever saw him was in the fall a little before Christmas of '66, on Russell creek.

Q In what Nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q You say that was in the fall of '66? A Yes sir a little before Christmas, in the last part of '68.

Q Where was Susan Pee? A She was there too.

Q And she is the mother of this applicant? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember if this applicant was a child then or not? A Yes sir a boy.

Q Was he along there at that time? A Yes sir, she had three children at that time.

Q And this was one of them? A Yes, sir, Jess, Josh and Martha was her three children then.

Q Now since that time have you know this applicant in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, I am the man that moved them away from there.

Q Moved who? A This man here and his mother and brothers and sisters.

Q Moved them from where? A On Russell creek.

Q From where you first saw them? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you move them to? A Timber Hill, the one near the Creek line.

Q Is there two Timber Hills in the Cherokee Nation? A There is 3 or 4 of them.

Q How long was it after the war that you moved them to Timber Hill?

A In '69 I think it was.

By Davenport:

Q When did you first think of the fact that you saw them in '66?

A I have been thinking of it all the time.

Q You didn't testify in her case in at Vinita? A No sir they never asked me to.

Q They applied there? A Yes sir.

Q You were there all the time? A No sir only one day.

Q You didn't see Susan Pee there did you? A Yes sir.

Q Was Josh there? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't talk about what you knew in their case until you came here? A Yes I did.

Q They applied there and then came here and asked you to testify for them? A I ~~asked~~ didn't know that Josh had applied there.

Q You have been here all the time with the commission haven't you?
A Most of the time.

- Q You didn't know where this Pee family went to during the war?
A No sir.
- Q Did you know anything about them when they was living at Mapleton after the war? A No sir.
- Q Do you know anything about them living at Chetopa after the war?
A No sir.
- Q You just happened to see them up on Russell Creek did you? A No sir I didn't just happen to see them, I went up there to bury Aunt Nancy that died at Timber Hill and found them.
- Q You also found the Robinson family there then? A Yes sir.
- Q You found almost every colored family in that part of the Cherokee Nation when you went to bury your aunt Nancy didn't you? A No sir, but I had as good a chance to meet up with some of them there as Jess Cochran had to meet up with the people he testified about.
- Q And you are patterning after Jess Cochran are you? A No sir I am not, I am telling you what I saw and what I know and nothing else, that I saw and what I know.
- Q Nancy Pee is not on the 1880 roll is she? A No sir, and I know the reason why, she has been here all the time and applied to be enrolled and they wouldn't let her.
- Q You were present when she applied were you? A Yes sir.
- Q You remember the time that she applied and that they wouldn't let her go on? A They wouldn't let her prove it at all, they wouldn't let her have the chance, they wouldn't let anybody have the chance.
- Q Who was taking the proof at that time? A Chambers and Dr. Miller.
- Q And you know that Buckle Pee tried to apply and they wouldn't let her? A Yes sir and about 400 others.
- Q They let you did't they? A No sir not at first, they tried to make me come back home too, but I aint the kind to let them run me off and I just up and told them they must try me and they did.
- Q You made the court try you did you? A Yes sir, I told Daniels that I lived 100 miles from here and that I wasn't going home, that he had to let me have a chance to prove whether I had a right or not, that I wanted to know what they was going to do in my case.
- Q And you are the only one the let prove his rights are you?
A Yes sir the only one at that time.
- Q When was that? A Just after the war.
- Q What year? A I showed you my certificate.
- Q That was in 1870; was you the only negro that they admitted in 1870 or '71? A Only one at that time.
- Q What time of the year was that? A Sometime in the summer.
- Q Was it in July? A Yes sir I think it was.
- Q Dont you know that the Webbers was admitted in July of '70 or '71?
A No sir they got scared and come back.
- Q Didn't Sam Webber apply the firsttime that he went there to apply?
A No sir I don't think he did.

APPLICANT, JOHN VANN, called and sworn, and examined by Mr. Mellette:

- Q Were you ever indicted by the Cherokee courts? A —
Mr. Davenport: "I object to this question because if he was the record thereof is the best evidence and should be introduced if it can be found."

By Com'r Needles: "Let it go in for what it is worth."

By Mellette of applicant—

- Q Were you? A Yes sir.
- Q For what? A Assault and battery.
- Q On who? A Bart Lynch.
- Q Did you have a brother that they called John Davis? A Yes sir.
- Q Where was he born? A On Grand river in Delaware district.
- Q Since the war? A Yes sir.

FILED
AUG 28 1981

Aug 26 1981

Q Was he the son of your mother Susan? A Yes sir.
Q Was this man Bert Lynch whom you were charged with assaulting a Cherokee citizen? A --

Objected to by Mr. Davenport.

By Gen'l Needles- Let it go for what it is worth.

By Mellette-

Q Was he? A I understood so.

Q Did you know Hyra Halfmoon? A Yes sir.

Q Were you ever indicted for an assault on him? A Yes sir.

Q Where were you taken? A To Fort Smith.

Q To the United States Court? A Yes sir.

Q What became of that case? A -- Objected to by Mr. Davenport because the record is the best evidence and should be obtained if possible.

(No ruling by commission)

By Mellette of applicant-

Q What became of it? A The jury turned me loose on the ground that they had no jurisdiction.

By Davenport of applicant;

Q You say the jury turned you loose on jurisdiction? A Yes sir, and the verdict read "We the jury find that the court has no jurisdiction because both the parties are Cherokee citizens."

By Mr. Davenport: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation object to the introduction of the indictment, verdict and judgment or any part of the record of the trial of Josh Vann or Pee at Fort Smith Arkansas at the United States court at that place, for the reason that no action of that court in disposing of that case would not tend to establish the rights of this applicant as to Cherokee citizenship, and the Cherokee Nation would not be bound thereby, and it would therefore be incompetent and immaterial.

Q Do you know John Martin? A No, sir.

Commissioner: Mary Cordelia Lane applies for the enrollment of herself and five children, to-wit, Myrtle Martin, Jessie Martin, Susan Martin, Ora Martin, Millie Lane, and Inez Lee Downing. She cannot be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880 or the census roll of 1896. She and her four oldest children are duly identified upon the Kern-Clifton Roll. Her two youngest children do not appear upon any roll, and it will be necessary for her to make satisfactory proof as to their births. She avers that she is the sister of Josh Vann, who was enrolled on B card 415, and that she was first married to one Toke Martin, and after the death of Toke Martin, she married one Reuben Lane, from whom she is now separated, and her child, Millie, is the child of said Reuben Lane. Since her separation from said Lane she avers that she has had one child named Inez Lee Downing, 18 months of age. She is separated from her husband Lane, but makes no proof of divorce, but it is not necessary. Reference is made to the testimony taken in the case of her brother, Josh Vann, B card 415, and copies of said testimony will be filed with the testimony on being taken, and made part of the record. She will be notified by mail of the decision of the Commission as to her enrollment when said decision is arrived at.

Mary G. Lane - 3.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

GEORGE WALKER, being sworn and examined testified as follows:
BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q What is your name? A George Walker.
Q Where do you live, Mr. Walker? A I live on Cabin Creek.
Q What is your post-office? A Kennison, I. T.
Q How old are you? A About 71.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life pretty near it.
Q How long have you lived up in between here and Chetopa, Kansas, up in that neighborhood where you now live? A I moved to where I now live in the fall of '86.
Q You had been living before you moved to where you now live up right close to Chetopa; you know the Creek up there they call Russell Creek? A Yes sir.
Q How how far is it from Chetopa, Kansas, down in the Territory? A It is about three miles, or a little over maybe.
Q Were you around there during the year of '66 and '67? A Often and on.
Q You lived near Chetopa did you during the year '66 until you moved over to where you live now? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any houses along that Russell Creek built along there in '66 that you remember of? A Trott built one there in '66.
Q Old man Trott? A Yes sir.
Q That's the father of W. L. Trott and Ose Trott? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any colored families built along there on that Creek during that year? A Not that I know of.
Q Well did you see any there? A No sir.
Q Did you ever know a colored family named Pee or Vann, Sukey Pee and her family? A No sir.
Q Did you ever know Josh Vann? A No sir.
Q When did you ever see them in that country, if at all? A I don't know that I know them.
BY MR. MELLETT:
Q How long is Russell Creek, Mr. Walker? A Well it is about, as near as I could tell it is about 5 or 6 miles.
Q Five or six miles long? A Yes sir.
Q Where does it enter the Indian Territory, is it here in the Indian Territory? A It is all together.
Q How? A It is not in the State at all.
Q What? A There is none of it in the State.
Q It is all in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q What does it empty into? A It empties into the Neosho.
Q Whereabouts? A Well about something near two miles from where Trott lived.
Q Were you ever at its mouth? A Yes sir.
Q When? A Trott's house you mean?
Q No, were you ever at the mouth of Russell Creek? A Oh yes, often.
Q When? A I used to fish there.
Q How when did you move into that country? A On Cabin Creek?
Q Yes? A Well in '66 I moved there.

Josh Vann et al (exh 1) 2

Q The fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q How far is that from Russell Creek? A Well it is about, something near 8 or 10 miles, right about anyway.

Q Do you pretend to have located everybody that lived in around that country 8 or 10 miles from you? A There was nobody living there.

Q How do you know? A I have been around that Creek often.

Q You swear that nobody lived in that country in '66? A Trott lived there.

Q Anybody else? A Then there was another house, it was built afterwards up the Creek, a little cabin, Oliver Morris built it.

Q I don't care whether there was farms or not, but do you know whether or not there were anybody camped around in that country? A No I don't.

Q You don't know whether they were there or not do you? A No.

Q Now you located up there where you live in the fall of '66? Yes sir.

Q That is, I couldn't tell you exactly what time; it was in the fall, toward winter.

Q Do you swear that those people were not living on Russell Creek during that winter? A No, I swear I never saw them.

Q But you don't know whether they were there or not? A No sir.

BY MR. DAYENFORD:

Q As I understood you while ago you said you were living near Chatopa on Russell Creek when you moved to Cabin Creek? A Yes, I was living right joining Chatopa.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have lived in the Cherokee Nation, well since the spring of '66 since the war, I lived here before the war too.

Q During the year '66, where were you? A During the year '66 I was on Russell creek in the Cherokee Nation.

Q How far from where Chatopa now is? A Three miles.

Q What were you doing there that year? A Living there improving me place.

Q You were living with your father that year were you not? A Yes sir.

Q Who owns that place now, the one you improved that year? A I don't know.

Q How long did you stay there on that place? A Came there in the spring of 1866 and moved away in the fall of '66.

Q When you went there were there any houses along on Russell creek? A No sir.

Q When you left there were there any houses other than the one you and your father built? A No sir.

Q How long is Russell creek, how far is it from there it comes into the Territory to where it empties into the river? A I don't know exactly.

Q Where the head of Russell creek is, but I think it is about six or eight miles from the head to the mouth.

Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I do not.

Q Do you know Shockey Pea, his mother, or a woman that goes by that name? A No sir.

Q Was there any colored people living there on that creek, along Russell creek in the Cherokee Nation when you lived there in '66? A No sir there was no one there except our family of that colored or white.

Q You were the only family, colored, white or Indians that lived on that creek then? A Yes sir. (By the Commission)

Q You moved on Russell creek in the spring of '66 and lived there until the fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know if any colored people stopped there in the fall of '66 and staid there until the winter of '66 and '7? A No sir I can't tell you what happened after I left there.

J. C. TROTT, being first duly sworn by the Commission testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation-

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A J. C. Trott.

Q Where do you live? A Here in Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 62.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '66.

Q Where did you live in the Cherokee Nation in '66? A On Russell creek.

Q What other family lived there on Russell creek in '66 except your family? A I don't know of anyone.

Q Were you in and down that creek any? A Yes sir.

Q What other houses were there then? A None.

Q When did you leave that section of the creek? A In the fall of '66.

Q Were there any colored people there in the fall of '66? A No sir.

Q Did you make any improvements there? A Built a house.

Q What became of it? A Sold it, in the fall and moved away.

Q Who did you sell it to? A I thought it was Denney, but some say Glenn is his name.

Q Have you been there since? A No sir.

Q Do you know of anyone else living on that place up there since you sold it out and left? A I know of this Danner or Glona.

Q Any one else? A No sir, I haven't been acquainted around there since I left.

Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I know him when I see him.

Q Did you know his mother? A No sir.

Q Did you ever see Josh Vann living up there? A No sir.

(By Mellette.)

You left Russell creek in the fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know what colored people were there after you left? A No sir.

Q You don't know who was there in the fall and winter of '66 and '67?

A No sir.

LOUISA STINGER being first duly sworn by the Court she testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A Louisa Stinger.

Q How old are you? A I will be 22 on the 22nd of next May, will be 58 years old.

Q What is your post office? A Edin, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Born and raised here.

Q What was your maiden name? A Morris.

Q Did you ever live on and about Russell creek, near Cherokee? A Yes sir.

Q Did your parents live up there? A No sir.

Q What year did you move into that neighborhood? A Well, I can't hardly tell the year, somewhere about '67.

Q What place did you move to when you moved there? A The old Glenn place we bought it from him.

Q Who originally made the place? A They claimed Mr. Frost made it.

Q How old were you when you moved there? A I was about 17 or 18 years old, I was married and had one child.

Q When you moved to the Glenn place there on Russell creek what other families lived there? A A man named Tom Fields lived there close to the creek is all.

Q Was there any colored family there? A No sir.

Q Do you know Shockey Post or Josh Vann nor aunt? A I see her, not personally acquainted with her.

Q Did you see her on Russell creek then? A No sir.

Q Did you ever know her to live there? A Yes sir a couple of years after I moved in there.

Q About what year do you think she moved in there? A Well, I can't tell you the year.

Q She moved in there some time after you moved there? A Yes sir.

Q Did she build a house there? A I don't think so.

Q About how far were they living from you? A Half a mile northwest of where I live.

(By Mellette)

Q Mrs. Stinger, you don't mean to say that there was nobody else living there when you went there on that creek in '67? A Yes there were some families living there then but she was not there.

Q Did you go up and down that creek to see who was living on it? A I lived there and know.

Q And you can say positively that there were no colored people camped there around that creek anywhere? A To the best of my knowledge there wasn't any there.

Q You said a while ago that you could not tell the year exactly when you moved there, now you don't know if you moved there or not do you? A I don't know just what year, I can't tell the year and can't keep track of the years.

Q Now are you 22, 23, 24, 25, or 26? A I am 22 years old.

Q Now that you know and can tell you all about it.

Q You dont know if these people were camped somewhere on that creek or not do you? A Well I know I used to go up and down the creek hunting for wild unions and if they had been there I would have seen them.

Q Russell creek is six miles long isn't it? A No longer than that I guess.

Q How long do you think it is? A Over six miles I think.

Q How long do you think it is? A Seven miles I guess to the head.

Q Did you hunt wild unions from the head to the mouth? A No sir.

Q Then these people might have been there and you not see them? A There are others that never saw them there.

Q Is that the reason you say they were not there? A As far as I am concerned they were not there, I never saw them.

Q And you swear they were not there? A Not to my knowing.

Q You think colored people could not have been camped there and you not know it? A Yes they might have been in a hollow log or something like that and we not know it.

Q How far out from the creek did you go hunting unions? A On the bank of the creek.

Q Suppose that they were camped half a mile from the creek, could you have seen them? A I might have.

Q All that country is called Russell creek for a mile or so away from the creek isn't it? A No sir, I dont think it is.

Q If you say a man lived on Russell creek, how far does he have to live from the creek? A Right on the banks of the creek.

Q Then if a man lived half a mile from the creek is is not living on Russell creek according to your idea? A No sir.

Q You say these people came there after you did? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you see them? A Half a mile from where I lived.

Q Where were they living? A In a shanty there.

Q How long after you came there did you see them? A Two years after I came there.

Q What year was that? A (No response)

Q How do you know it was two years? A To the best of my knowledge it was two years.

Q That is an opinion of yours? A I was living there two years before they came; I dont know the dates of the years and I can't answer that question, if I could I would.

Q You dont read or write and dont know the dates? A No sir, but I know one year from another.

(By Davenport)

Q You knew it was some time after you came there that they came there? A Yes sir.

WILLIAM H. NOBLE, being first duly sworn by the Commission, testified as follows for the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A William H. Noble.

Q What is your age? A 51.

Q What is your nat office? A Edna, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '66.

Q Where were you living in '66, in what part of the Cherokee Nation? A I came on Neesho river between the mouth of Fly and Cherry creeks in what was called Short creek, on the north side.

Q How far is that from where Chetopa is now? A Two and a half miles.

Q Do you know a creek called Russell creek there? A Yes sir.

Q Were you on that creek any in '68? A Yes sir.

Q What houses were there on that creek then and who were living in them? A In '68?

Q Yes sir. A Mr. Frett was there, he built the first house on the creek in the spring of '66.

Q Where there any other houses built there that year? A Yes sir.

Q You on that creek that year? A Yes sir.

Q Any other houses built there on Russell creek that year? A No sir.

Q What was any other houses built there, shanties or anything? A There was a shanty belonging to Oliver Noble, that was the next shanty built

Q Was he any relation of Mrs. Stinger, who just testified? A Brother I think.

Q Was that after the Trott house was built? A Yes sir.

Q Was you on this creek in the winter of '68 and '71? A Yes sir.

Q Were there any colored people there then? A No sir.

Q Do you know Shockey Peet? A No sir.

Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I don't know him, I have heard of him.

Q How long did you live in that neighborhood? A Backwards and forwards on that or ak from that time on until in the spring of '68, after '68 I went back on the creek every once and a while.

Q Was you back there at that Trott place on Russell creek in '87 or '88? A Yes sir.

Q Did you see any colored people there or any houses that were built there then? A No sir.

Q When did you see any other shanties built there besides the Trott and Morris houses? Well it might have been in the summer of '68, but not before; I was back there every month or so then.

Q You married a sister of Mrs. Stinger's? A Yes sir.

Q Where was she living? A With Mrs. Denney.

Q Where? A On Russell creek.

Q In what house? A The Trott house.

By Hellette:

Q How long has it been since 1866? A How long?

Q Yes sir. A Well it has been a good many years; it has been 30 odd years I guess, I am not positive.

Q How long has it been since 1866? A Way up in 40 odd years.

Q Forty how many years? A I can't tell exactly, unless I count it up.

Q Take your pencil and figure out how much it is? A I can't figure how much it is, not much on figures anyway and then I haven't my glasses with me to see the figures after I make them.

Q Well let's have it now, how much is it? A Six—this is '91—let's see, 44 years wouldn't it, I can't count it out right in my head.

Q You were passing up and down that creek from the mouth to the head every month or two? A From '67 I was was, pretty near every month up and down there.

Q Do you suppose that there might not have been a colored family stuck in behind some hill that you might not have seen the one, or that you might not recollect having seen now at this time? A Not at that time, families were scarce then.

Q Do you swear that they couldn't have been there? A No they couldn't.

Q And you will swear that the family of Shockey Peet was not there in the winter of '66? A Yes sir I do.

Q You are on your oath now, and do you swear that it has been 40 odd years since you were up there on Russell creek? A (No response).

Q It has been forty odd years, according to what you say, and do you swear that at no place on Russell creek in the winter of '66 was Shockey Peet there? A No sir she was not.

Q Where were you living 35 years ago? A I believe I was living in Kansas then.

By Davenport:

Q You came from Kansas to the Territory? A Yes sir.

Q What section of the Territory did you come to from Kansas? A On Cabin creek.

(Witness William H. Noble here desires to make a correction in his testimony.)

(By the Commission.)

Q What is it you desire to say in regard to your former testimony? A I said 40 odd years, I was wrong, I got it in my mind wrong and spoke it wrong, it is 35 in place of 40. I came from Kansas to the Territory in '55 and I mean that it is 35 years from that time till now.

(By the Commission.)

(By Smith)

Q How long do you say it was, now? A 35 years.

Q How do you know? A It was '56 and now it is '91 that is 35 years, I said 40 odd years in place of 35.

Q Didn't you say 40 years? A I don't believe I did, I might have.

Q Who did you get to figure it out for you? A I didn't get no one, I had it figured out before I left the stand but did not know that I could correct it, and when I went down stairs Mr. Davenport told me that I could and so I am doing it.

Q Where were you when the war closed? A I was in Louisville Kentucky.

Q What month were you there? A I took my discharge there.

Q What month did you get it? A I can't tell you, I have it at home.

Q You don't know when you got your discharge? A I can't tell it just that way.

Q When did the war close? A Closed in—I can't speak that, you throwed me again there.

Q You don't know? A No sir.

Q You don't know anything about '66 do you? A That was the year I came from Kansas to the Territory.

Q You can't give any other date except '66 can you? A Yes sir I can give no other dates.

Q How long had the war been over when you came down here from Kansas? A Two years.

Q Then you came here two years after the war? A Yes sir, when I was discharged.

Q Well you wasn't discharged until after the war closed was you? A No sir.

Q You know that it was two or three years after you received your discharge that you came here? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't get to the Territory then until in '67? A Got here in '66; I left Iowa in March '66.

Q Did you come to Chetopa before you came here? A Yes sir.

Q What was there? A Old Dr. Lyle lived there, and called it Chetopa.

Q Was there any stores there? A It is still there yet, yes sir.

Q I asked if there were any stores there at that time? A Log shanty.

Q Store? A No sir.

Q Did you ever get into any trouble there at Chetopa before you came here with a man named Gage? A I don't think I did, I don't recollect the man, or the name.

Q Have you ever been arrested for anything? A Yes sir.

What? A Cattle stealing.

Where? A Here in the Territory.

When? A About 4 or 5 years ago.

Q Anything else? A I believe that was all, taken to Fort Smith before Judge Parker for it and the Grand Jury didn't find a bill against me.

Q Were you ever arrested before that? A I don't think I was.

Q You would be apt to remember it if you had been wouldn't you? A If I was I don't know it.

This will also be filed and made a part of the record in Cherokee Freedman criminal cases B-418, B-565, B-780, B-785, B-94 and B-103.

J. S. Davenport, attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

G. W. ARMSTRONG, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A G. W. Armstrong.
Q Where do you live, Mr. Armstrong? A Bourbon County, Kansas.
Q Did you know a colored man up there by the name of Charlie Pea?
A Yes, sir.
Q When did you get acquainted with him? A Somewhere about '52.
Q Well how long did he live in that country after you got acquainted with him? A Well he lived there six or seven years.
Q Was he a married man, Mr. Armstrong, when he was living there?
A He was part of the time.
Q Well was he married when you got acquainted with him? A No, sir, he wasn't grown.
Q Well did he marry after you got acquainted with him? A Yes,
sir.
Q Did you know his wife? A Yes, sir.
Q What was her name? A Susie, if I don't forget it very bad.
he married a girl by the name of, well her name was Susan I reckon, but they always called her Susie Ross.
Q Well now was he living with her when he left that country? A
No, sir, he wasn't.
Q What become of her? A She died.
Q When did she die, about what year? A About '56 or '57.
Q She died while he was living there in that country? A Yes, sir.
Q How far did he live from you, Mr. Armstrong? A Well, my farm and the one he lived on cornered, he lived right southwest of my just cornered my place.
Q Well, do you know whether or not he married after this wife died?
A I couldn't say as to that; he left there, all of the Peas left there.
Q What other members of the Pea family were there that you knew?
A Well, there was his uncle Ben Pea, and his mother, Millie Pea, and he had a sister, Ann Pea, and a brother, Sam Pea, and Charlie Pea, that amounted to the whole family.
Q And his wife died either in '56 or '57, this Susan Pea? A Yes, sir, as near as I can get at it, it's been a long time, and I would not swear positively to these things.

Mr. Smith waives cross-examination.

sas, '51, December, '51.

Q After you went to Hapleton did you get acquainted with a colored man by the name of Charlie Peas? A I did.

Q About how long had he been there before you got acquainted with him? A Well now I don't remember how long he had been there; about '68 I remember of becoming acquainted with him and the family that he lived with.

Q Well what family did he live with? A He lived with old man Peas, he was a blacksmith.

Q That is the old man or Charlie? A No, the old man.

Q Well, was he married at that time? A No, sir, he wasn't, he was married afterwards.

Q Do you know what his wife's name was that he finally married? A Her name was, well now, her given name was Susie, they called her Sukie Peas, that was what they called her, but her name was Susan, and my understanding is that it was Ross, but I don't know that it was Susie Ross; I know him though.

Q Did that wife live until he left that country? A No, sir, she died there in '67.

Q Do you know whether or not he had married again before he left there? A No, sir, hadn't remarried.

Q You haven't seen him since he left there? A I have never seen him since he left there, but I wouldn't marry there.

Q Well, from the time he married Susie Ross up until the time of her death did he live in your neighborhood? A Yes, sir.

Q He lived right there with Peas's family, and his wife died in '67? A Yes, sir.

MR. SMITH: All you know was a man named Charlie Peas? A I know the whole family of Peas, the old man, and well, there was Ben and the old lady that lived there was his sister, now let's see they called her I can't call to mind that old lady's name, but Charlie lived in the family, he wasn't old Ben's son, but all I know was there was a Charlie, a young man, in the family.

MARGARET PERKINS, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A Margaret Perkins.

Q You live at Hapleton, Kansas, do you, Mrs. Perkins? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you think he went on the school land? A Well, he went on the school land - well that school land was purchased in October, '68, and then he put up buildings, and he went onto it, and I don't think he was on there more than a year.
Q How long was it after it was bought in '68 before he went on it?
A I think, I don't remember the exact days, but he built on it and put up some cabins, double log cabins.
Q Was it the same year that it was bought? A Yes, sir, the same year, in '67 - no, in '68. Well, it was that next winter that he built on it, he went, but you see he bought it in October, '66.
Q It was that following winter that he went onto it? A Yes, sir.
Q And nobody went on it but Jackson? A Well I never of anyone living on there now, that school land but Jackson, that is any of the colored people. I never knew the Paes lived on it. Charles lived right in the neighborhood, he lived there.
MR. HASTINGS: How far? A Well within a half a mile of that school land.
Q Do you know whether it was on the school land or not that he lived? A Well I don't, but I don't think that he lived on it, but I ain't sure but they was on that now. I can't be positive about that, my woman knows whether they was, but he lived right in that neighborhood now, you know for he first he was positive, for them buildings was all gone after that, after they left those cabins they were torn down.
Q Well she would know more about that than you would, wouldn't she?
A Yes, sir.
Q When were you married to her? A We was married in '88, '89.
Q A number of years after that? A Yes, sir.
Q You wasn't living with her at that time? A We all lived in the same neighborhood, had known one another.

Chelsoa, I.T., June 11, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Ellis Warren for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, he testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Ellis Warren.
Q How old are you? A I am 49.
Q What is your post-office address? A Hayden.
Q What district do you live in? A Coowasee.
Q You apply to be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman?
A Adopted.
Q What is your wife's name? A Matilda.
Q You apply for anybody besides yourself? A No sir not at present.
Q How old is your wife? A I do not know sir.
Q About how old? A I guess she is about 60.
Q Older than you then? A Yes sir, she is older than I am.
Q When were you married to her? A I really couldn't tell you.
Q Have you got a certificate of marriage? A Yes sir, I think I have. (Produces papers.)
Q Is your wife's name on the roll of 1880? A I do not know sir, whether it is or not. It should be there, but I couldn't tell you whether it is or not.
Q Comment. The applicant presents a marriage license issued by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation on the 30th day of June, 1888, authorizing one Ellis Warren, a citizen of the United States, to marry Matilda Johnson, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and the certificate of marriage, certifying that the marriage ceremony was performed on the 3rd day of July, 1888; said marriage license and certificate being regular as provided by the laws of the Cherokee Nation.
Q Were you ever married to her before? A No sir.
Q Have you been with Matilda Johnson continuously since you married her? A Yes sir, all but until last -- Q Living together now? A Well, I am working a farm, but we don't live together.
Q Are you divorced? A Yes sir.
Q Have you married since your divorce? A No sir.
Q When were you divorced? A This last spring.
Q Have you any certificate of divorce? A Yes sir, but not with me.
Q Where were you divorced? A At Vinita.
Q In what court? A United States court.
Q Who applied for the divorce? A I did, by her orders.
Q You abandoned her then? A No sir, she abandoned me, she got up and left home and told me you can go and get your divorce, I am not going to live with you any more.
Q Left the place where you had been living? A She did, but she has come back now.
Q You left the place? A No, I am farming the land.
Q You both live on the same place? A Yes sir, but not in the same house.
Q What was the cause of the divorce? A She got mad at the children.
Q Have you got the children? A No sir.
Q How many children have you? A I have got three children, but they are not her children, they are by a wife that's dead.
Q Have you any children by her? A No sir.
Q Did you live with her up from '88 until a year ago? A Yes sir.
Q Was she married before she married you? A She was a widow, she married a Johnson.
Q What was her name before she married John Johnson? A Her father was named Leedy.

Ellis Warren 2

Q What was his full name? A He was a sister of Frank Ross and Ben Loody.

Q What was her name, Matilda Loody? A I don't know sir, it was Matilda.

1890 authenticated roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation examined and applicant's wife not found thereon.

Q What was her father's name? A Billy Loody.

Q What was her mother's name? A Yella Loody.

Q What proof have you got of your wife's citizenship? A I haven't got any, she has always been claimed as a citizen.

Q Has she applied to be enrolled? A Yes sir, she had done so here and on rolls.

Ex. Examined by Cherokee Rep. W. H. Hastings:

Q How long had you been separated from her when you got a divorce?

A We had been separated about a year I guess.

Q You brought the suit did you, or did she bring it? A I brought it.

Q In the court at Sanita? A Yes sir.

Q What grounds did you set up against her? A I didn't set up any, only told them her father was for us to have a divorce; they asked me did I mistreat her, I told them I did not.

Q Did you have any witnesses? A None at all, only from her hands, she wrote a card to them and told them she was perfectly willing for me to have it.

Q Who was your lawyer? A Stanfield.

By Court:

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you, I come here in a early day; I have been here before this country was settled up any at all.

By Mr. Hastings:

Q Were you ever married before you married Matilda? A Yes sir.

Q What was your first wife's name? A Mandy.

Q Where is she now? A She is dead.

Q She died before you married this woman? A Oh yes sir.

Q You ever have any other woman for your wife? A No sir.

Mr. Hastings: Comes now the representation of the Cherokee Nation and offers in testimony the decision of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, found on pages 86 and 87, Minutes of Special Court of Commissioners, Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, 1871, with reference to the rights of intermarried colored persons, which is as follows:

"Tuesday morning, June 30th, 1871, Court convened. - Present same as yesterday - the making out of report continued until the Court announced the following decision regarding certain colored men, who have married colored women of the Nation:

To wit:-

The Court of Commissioners after mature reflection feel authorized to decide against all cases to give it, wherein colored or black men are claiming citizenship from marrying Black female citizens under the law "Regulating Intermarriage with white men", as they are construed a correct interpretation of said law will not authorize a Clerk of the Court to issue a license to a black man to marry a black woman.

as it only alludes to, and was intended for White men and Cherokee Women.

The Court believe it is further sustained in the opinion, the colored citizens are such by adoption, and as such do not confer rights upon others, without further legislation upon the subject of citizenship. Therefore decide,

The following named persons are not entitled to the right of Citizenship as by law.

George Washington, Coe was born was Dist.
Henry Johnson, who is quah
Leo Cooper
Henry Bird
William Madden
Solomon Foster, Illinois Dist.
William Hudson, Illinois Dist.
Raymond Youngblood Sequoyah Dist.

By Com'r Needles: Ellis Warren applied for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman citizen by intermarriage, and makes satisfactory proof of the issuance of a marriage license to him to marry Matilda Johnson; said marriage license has been issued by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation; also a certificate of marriage certifying that the ceremony was performed on the third day of July, 1898; he avers that he was divorced from said wife; it will be necessary for him to file with this Commission a certified copy of said divorce; his wife Matilda Warren, through whom he claims citizenship, has been duly listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman citizen on card 557, and reference is made to the testimony taken in said case, it will not be necessary to file a copy of said testimony, reference is merely made to same; he makes satisfactory proof of residence, consequently, Ellis Warren will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage, in a doubtful case.

M.D. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes in regard.

Q What is your post-office address? A Ketchum.
Q What district do you live in? A Delaware.
Q You desire to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes sir.
Q Who do you desire to enroll besides yourself? A Just me, and I have got four brothers.
Q Are they all older than you? A They are all younger than me.
Q Are they all of age? A Yes sir.
Q They must enroll themselves, are you married? A Yes sir.
Q Do you apply for your wife? A No sir, she has been enrolled.
Q Have you ever been recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a Cherokee Freedman? A Not only to a certain extent.
Q Is your name on the roll of 1890? A No sir.
Q On any of the rolls? A Not that I know of.
Q Ever draw any money? A No sir.
Q Did you ever apply to the Cherokee authorities to be enrolled? A Yes sir, my uncle have.
Q You were refused were you? A Yes sir.
Q Were you a slave? A No sir, I wasn't, my father was.
Q What was your father's name? A Alex Downing.
Q Is he living? A No sir, he is dead.
Q What was your mother's name? A Rebe.
Q Is she living? A No sir, they are both dead.
Q Was your father a slave? A Yes sir.
Q To whom did he belong? A I heard my uncle say he belonged to Eliza Wright.
Q How long has your father been dead? A About 12 years.
Q How long has your mother been dead? A About the same.
Q Was she a slave? A No sir, she was a slave.

Examined by attorney, A. S. McRea:

- Q Where is the first recollection you have of yourself, where were you? A I was living over here on Grand River, with my grand-father.
Q Where is that, in the Cherokee nation? A Yes sir.
Q Have you continuously lived in the Cherokee nation ever since you have had any recollection of yourself? A Yes sir.
Q Are you acquainted with Rebedee Downing, who is on the authenticated roll? A Yes, he is my uncle.
Q Is he any relation at to you? A He is my uncle.
Q Did he have the care and custody of bringing you up, and your other brothers and sisters? A Yes sir, he raised us from the time of my father's death up until I became grown and married.
Q Why is it that some of yours or your brother's names are upon the authenticated roll as you know? A I can't tell hardly why it is that they don't appear, he has always had some one make applications for us for enrollment.
Q What relation was your father to Rebedee Downing, and Elias Downing? A They were brothers.
Q Did they belong to the same owner, so far as you ever heard? A (No reply)

ELIAS DOWNING, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles testified as follows:

Alexander Downing 2

- Q What is your name? A Tillas Downing.
Q What is your age? A 58.
Q What is your post-office address? A Okla. Mo.
Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Freedman?
A Yes sir.
Q Is your name on the roll of 1880? A No sir.

By Attorney A. E. Morris:

- Q Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Alexander Downing?
A Yes sir.
Q Is he any relation to you? A Yes sir, I am his uncle.
Q Then his father Alexander Downing was a brother of yours? A Yes sir, own brother.
Q Did you and he belonged to the same owner? A Yes sir.
Q Did he go out of the nation during the war? A Yes sir.
Q Where did he go to? A He went to Texas.
Q Did he ever return? A Yes sir, he returned.
Q Did you go out yourself? A Yes sir.
Q Who returned first, he or yourself? A I returned first.
Q What time did you return? A I returned here in '66.
Q Was he a man when he was taken out during the war, your brother?
A Yes sir, he was about 15 years old when he was taken out.
Q Did I understand you to say that he returned at the same time as yourself? A No sir.
Q What prevented his returning at the same time as yourself? A He was a slave down there, and he was working for his owners when I left there.
Q When did you first see him in the Territory after the war? A It has been right about thirty years, I don't know just what year when I first saw him.
Q Did he have a family? A Yes sir, he had a family.
Q Did he live continuously in the Cherokee Nation after his return from Texas? A Yes sir, up till he died.
Q He lived and died in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q What relation was he to Zebulon Downing, who appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880? A Own brothers.
Q Can you state why it is that the name of your brother, Alexander Downing, does not appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A Not exactly I can't; it seems that through the Wallace count there was some kind of mistake made with my brother in giving in the evidence, some kind of mistake, I don't know just what.

By Gen'l Needles:

- Q You state in your testimony that you and Alexander Downing were slaves and belonged to the same man? A Yes sir.
Q Who was that? A We first belonged to Eliza Wright.
Q Was she a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Well, who next? A She was a widow woman, and then we belonged to her daughter, married a man named Sam Couch, that's who carried us out of here.
Q Carried you into Texas? A Yes sir.
Q That was a slave state? A Yes sir.
Q Before the war? A After the war commenced, about '63 or '4.
Q He went to Texas himself? A Yes sir.
Q Took you with him? A Yes sir.
Q Hired out out down there? A No sir, I worked for him all the time while I was down there.
Q Wasn't your brother, Alexander sold? A No sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Alexander Downing 3

Q Was that Sam Gough a resident of the State of Texas when the war broke out? A He was living here in the Territory when the war broke out.

Q Sam Gough is a brother of what they call Pete Gough, who is living here in town now? A Yes sir.

Q You know the reason why you are not on the roll of 1860 don't you? A Yes sir.

Q And that is because Sam Gough didn't bring you back until 1861? A It is because they wouldn't put me on.

Q Didn't Sam Gough bring you back to me? A No sir.

Q Who did you come with? A Come by myself, with a drove of cattle.

Q Who did Alexander come with? A I disremember.

Q He came after you didn't he? A Yes sir.

Q What relation is his father, Alexander Downing, to your husband Zebedee Downing? A Full brothers.

Q Did the census enumerators ever come to your house during the time you had the custody of these children? A No sir, their father was living at that time.

Q Came to their father's house? A Yes sir.

Q You know why it is that none of their names appears upon the rolls of the Cherokee nation? A I could not tell you, I don't know.

Q But you do know that the census enumerators went to their house? A Yes sir.

Q About what time was that? A It was in 1880.

By Com'r H. Adles:

Q What relation did you say you are to Alexander Downing here? A I was his aunt by marriage.

Q Was Alexander Downing Sr. this applicant's father, a slave? A Yes sir.

Q Who did he belong to? A He belonged to the Wrights, I suppose. I ain't acquainted with his owners, but that's who he belonged to.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., taken out of the Cherokee nation during the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where to? A Texas.

Q Were you taken out? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know when Alexander Downing, Sr., the father of the applicant, returned from Texas? A No sir.

M. W. Hastings
Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

Q When did you learn to know Abada? A After the war, he stayed here; I know Elias down there at the same time I know Aleck.

Q Well, did you ever see him any more after you left Texas in 1866?

A Yes, sir, I saw him in Texas after I moved from there, but I never have seen him here.

Q Never have seen him in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.

Q How long did you remain here before going back to Texas after you arrived in 1868? A Went back in the spring of '69.

Q Saw him there then? A Saw him there then.

Q Are you acquainted with his family? A No, I can't say that I am; I knew his wife at that time.

Q He had no children had he? A If he had I don't remember, the only way I remember Aleck in '69 is he broke horses for me and helped me about the cattle.

Q Do you know where Alexander Senior, I believe he is Senior, where was he in 1866? A I can't tell you; first I seen of him was after I moved to Pryor Creek and after I did saw Aleck and Elias.

Q You don't know where Alexander, Sr., was in 1866? A The old man, I don't know where he was; I never seen the old man as I know of after '68 after I moved back here.

Q Now, did I understand that you never saw the father of these children here in the Cherokee Nation in your life? A Not until after I come back; never seen him there or them either; if I saw Aleck I don't remember after I come back.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

ORDER

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Alexander Downing, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of

Alexander Downing, Cherokee Freedmen D-668,
Thomas Downing, Cherokee Freedmen D-669,
John Downing, Cherokee Freedmen D-670,
Andrew Downing, Cherokee Freedmen D-671,
Solomon Downing, Cherokee Freedmen D-672.

DECISION.

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen were made to this Commission by Alexander Downing for himself; by Thomas Downing for himself; by John Downing for himself; by Andrew Downing for himself, and by Solomon Downing for himself.

The evidence in this case shows that the applicants were born since 1864 and are the children of and claim their right to enrollment through their father, Alexander Downing; that Alexander Downing was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that during said rebellion he left the Cherokee Nation and did not return thereto and establish a residence therein within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, etc., vs.
the Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Cherokee freedmen to said Nation.

It further appears that the names of none of the applicants appear on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee Roll.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the applications for the enrollment of Alexander Downing, Thomas Downing, John Downing, Andrew Downing and Solomon Downing as Cherokee freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 26, 1896, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Alexander Downing as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee nation.

--:--

D E C I S I O N.

It appears from the records of the Commission that on March 8, 1904, the Commission rendered its decision in the consolidated case of Alexander Downing, et al., Cherokee Freedmen D 668, wherein the application for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman, of Alexander Downing, was denied. Thereafter the Department, in its letter of August 19, 1904 (I.T.D. 6546-1904) affirmed the decision of the Commission denying the application of said Alexander Downing for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman. The Department further stated that inasmuch as the record shows that Alexander Downing had married a freedman Cherokee citizen, his rights as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, by intermarriage, should be determined by this Commission.

It does not appear from the records in the possession of the Commission, that Alexander Downing is identified upon the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll, nor does it appear that he has ever been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by a duly constituted court or committee of the Cherokee Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by a decree of the United States Court in the Indian Territory, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stat., 381).

-2-

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that, following the ruling of the Department in the case of Lemuel Welcome (I.T.D. 8848-1904 and 11776-1904), Alexander Downing is not entitled to be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and that his application for enrollment as such should be denied, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Interior:

In the matter of the application of the following named persons for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

Alexander Downing, -----	Cherokee freedman D-668.
Thomas Downing, -----	Cherokee freedman D-669.
John Downing, -----	Cherokee freedman D-670.
Warren Downing, -----	Cherokee freedman D-671.
Solomon Downing, -----	Cherokee freedman D-672.

MOTION FOR REVIEW OF DECISION.

Come now the above named persons who have been denied enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, by their attorneys, Blue & Bulger and McGowan & Serven, and move the Honorable Secretary of the Interior to open their respective cases above named; to review the decisions of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes denying said applications; to reverse said decisions, and to enroll each of the said applicants as a Cherokee Freedman, for the following reasons:

The decision of said commission in the matter of each application was and is contrary to law.

The evidence adduced by said applicants in support of their applications show:

1. That each of said applicants was a slave of a Cherokee citizen at the time of the commencement of the war of the rebellion and was liberated by voluntary act of his Cherokee owner or by law, or is the descendant of such slave.
2. That each of said applicants, if born, was a resident in good faith in the Cherokee Nation prior to June 28, 1898.
3. That said applications were made prior to September 1, 1902.
4. That at the date of said application, the said applicants had not abjured or forfeited their Cherokee citizenship by moving out of the Cherokee Nation with their effects to some other state or nation and by becoming a citizen thereof.

SENT IN NATION August 11, 1905.

WHEREFORE, Said applicants, by their attorneys, respectfully request that they be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen.

Gentlemen:

There is herewith inclosed a copy of the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated April 20, 1906, rejecting the application for the enrollment of Alexander Downing as a Cherokee citizen by intermarriage.

The decision, together with the record of proceedings had in the case, has this day been transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior for his review and decision. The action of the Secretary will be made known to you as soon as the Commission is informed of the same.

Respectfully,

Encl. 5-20

Chairman.

The Commissioner,

The Secretary of the Interior,

Sir:

I have the honor to enclose a report from the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated April 24, 1906, transmitting the record of the application for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation by Alexander Downing.

April 24, 1906, the Commission decided adversely to the applicant.

The record shows that the Department by letter of August 18, 1904 (I.T.D. 6546-1904) affirmed the decision of the Commission rejecting the application of Alexander Downing for enrollment as a Cherokee Freeman and thereby stated that his rights as a citizen by intermarriage should be determined by the Commission.

It does not appear that the applicant is identified upon the 1890 authenticated Cherokee Roll nor that he has ever been enrolled or admitted to citizenship by any tribal authority of the Cherokee Nation or by any United States tribunal.

In view of the request and approval of the Commission's decision adverse to the applicant is recommended.

Very respectfully,

C. F. Larrabee,

Acting Commissioner.

Alexander Deming

Q What is your post-office address? A Chelsea.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Freedman?

A Yes sir.

Q Is your name on the roll of 1860? A Yes sir.

By Attorney A. J. Jones:

Q Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Alexander Deming?

A Yes sir.

Q Is he any relation to you? A Yes sir, I am his uncle.

Q Then his father, Alexander Deming, was a brother of yours? A Yes sir, own brother.

Q Did you and he belong to the same company? A Yes sir.

Q Did he go out of the nation during the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where did he go to? A To Texas.

Q Did he ever return? A Yes sir, he returned.

Q Did you go out yourself? A Yes sir.

Q Why returned first, or later yourself? A I returned first.

Q What time did you return? A I returned here in '60.

Q Then he went when he was taken out during the war, your brother?

A Yes sir, he was about 23 years old when he was taken out.

Q Did I understand you to say that he returned at the same time as yourself? A Yes sir.

Q That prevented his returning at the same time as yourself? A He was slave down there, and he was working for his own use when I left there.

Q When did you first see him in the Territory after the war? A It has been about thirty years, I don't know just what year when I first saw him.

Q Did he have a family? A Yes sir, he had a family.

Q Did he live continuously in the Cherokee Nation after his return from Texas? A Yes sir, up till he died.

Q So he died and died in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q What relation was he to Zerodes Deming, who appears upon the such colored roll of 1860? A Own brother.

Q Can you state why it is that the name of your brother, Alexander, Deming, does not appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A For exactly I don't know, it seems that through the will of God there was some kind of mistake made with my brother in giving in the evidence, some kind of mistake, I don't know just what.

By Deming Handless:

Q Now state in your testimony that you and Alexander Deming were slaves and belonged to the same man? A Yes sir.

Q So was that a wife first, he belonged to Eliza Wright?

Q Was she a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.

Q Well, who next? A She was a widow woman, and then we belonged to her daughter, Harriet, a man named Sam Houch, that's who carried us out of here.

Q Carried you into Texas? A Yes sir.

Q That was a slave stated? A Yes sir.

Q Before the war? A After the war commenced, about '62 or '3.

Q So went to Texas himself? A Yes sir.

Q Took you with him? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay there? A I worked for him all the time while I was down there.

Q Then your brother, Alexander, sold? A Yes sir.

By Mr. Davonport:

Q Was that Sam Houch a resident of the State of Texas when the war broke out? A He was living here in the Territory when the war broke out.

Q Sam Houch is a brother of what they call Pate Houch, who is living here in town now? A Yes sir.

Q You know the reason why you are not on the roll of 1860 don't you? A Yes sir.

Q But that is because Sam Houch didn't bring you back until '68?

A It is because they wouldn't put me on.

Q Didn't Sam Houch bring you back here? A No sir.

Q You did not go with a company of men with a drove of cattle.

Q Who did Alexander go with?

Alexander Downing

Q Are you still a resident of Texas?

A Yes sir.

Q About what time was that? A It was in 1880.

Q By Mr. Needles?

Q What relation is it to you are to Alexander Downing?

A I was his son by marriage.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., the applicant's father, a slave?

A Yes sir.

Q Did he belong to a tribe? A He belonged to the Cherokee, I suppose, I am acquainted with his name, but I don't know he belonged to.

Q The Alexander Downing, Sr., taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes sir.

Q Are they all of age? A Yes sir.

Q They must enroll themselves, are you married? A Yes sir.

Q Do you apply for your wife? A No sir, she has been enrolled.

Q Have you ever been recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a Cherokee Indian? A Not only to a certain extent.

Q In what manner in the fall of 1899? A Yes sir.

Q On any of the rolls? A Not that I know of.

Q Even in your name? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever apply to the Cherokee authorities to be enrolled?

A Yes sir, my uncle told me.

Q You were refused were you? A Yes sir.

Q How long a while? A Yes sir, I wasn't, my father was.

Q What was your father's name? A Alex Downing.

Q Is he living? A No sir, he is dead.

Q What was your mother's name? A Alice.

Q Is she living? A No sir, they are both dead.

Q Was your father a slave? A Yes sir.

Q To whom did he belong? A I heard my uncle say he belonged to Abraham Wright.

Q How long has your father been dead? A About 19 years.

Q How long has your mother been dead? A About the same.

Q Was she a slave? A Yes sir, she was a slave.

Examined by Attorney, A. J. Cook:

Q Where is the first recollection you have of yourself, where were you? A I was living over here on my old river, with my father.

Q What is that, in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Have you continually lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since you have had any recollection of yourself? A Yes sir.

Q Are you acquainted with Zebulon Downing, who is on the enrollment roll of 1899? A Yes sir.

Q Is he any relation to you? A He is my uncle.

Q Did he have the custody and control of bringing you up, and your other brothers and sisters? A Yes sir, he raised us from the time of my father's death up until I became grown and married.

Q Why is it that none of your brothers or sisters are upon the enrollment roll? A Yes sir, I can't tell hardly why it is that they haven't appeared, but I always heard one make applications for us for enrollment.

Q What relation was your father to Zebulon Downing, and John Downing?

A They were brothers.

Q Did they belong to the same family as far as you ever heard? A

Yes sir.

ELIAS DOWNING, being sworn and examined by Counsel for record

testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Elias Downing.

Q What is your age? A 48.

Alexander Downing

Q. That is your post-office address? A. Chicago.

Q. And you are a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, is that right?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Is your name on the roll of 1832? A. Yes.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. I am acquainted with the applicant here, Alexander Downing.

A. Yes sir.

Q. Is he any relation to you? A. Yes sir, I am his nephew.

Q. Then his father, Alexander Downing, was a brother of your father? A. Yes.

Q. And you and he both grew up in the same country? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did he get out of the Nation during the war? A. Yes sir.

Q. There is no one to tell me what he did.

A. Did he ever return? A. Yes sir, he returned.

Q. Did you go out to see him? A. Yes sir.

Q. When did you first see him? A. I returned home.

Q. What time did you return? A. I returned home in 1832.

Q. Was he a man when you saw him? A. Yes, he was a man when I saw him.

A. Yes sir, he was about 20 years old when he was taken out.

Q. Did I understand you to say that he followed of the Nation time at yourself? A. Yes sir.

Q. But prevented his returning at the same time as yourself? A. He was a slave down there, and he was working for his master when I left there.

Q. When did you know him in the territory after the war? A. It has been right about thirty years. I don't know just what year when I first saw him.

Q. Did he have a family? A. Yes sir, he had a family.

Q. Did he live continuously in the Cherokee Nation after his return from Texas? A. Yes sir, up till he died.

Q. He lived in the Nation, is that right? A. Yes sir.

Q. That roll was made by the Cherokee Nation, is that right? A. Yes sir.

Q. Can you show me the roll of 1832? A. Yes, I can.

Q. Now, does the name appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, it does. I don't know just what year they were taken through the roll, but I know that he was in the evidence, and that he was with my brother in giving in the evidence, and that he was with me.

Q. You state in your testimony that you and Alexander Downing were slaves and belonged to the same man? A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you mean that? A. Yes, I mean that.

Q. Was he a Cherokee? A. Yes sir.

Q. Well, the name of the man who was with him, and that he belonged to him, is that right? A. Yes sir.

Q. Carried you into Texas? A. Yes sir.

Q. That was a slave? A. Yes sir.

Q. Before the war? A. After the war commenced, about 1832.

Q. So went to Texas himself? A. Yes sir.

Q. Took you with him? A. Yes sir.

Q. Fired out of your hands? A. Yes, I fired him all the time while I was down there.

Q. Wasn't your brother, Alexander, sold? A. Yes sir.

Q. By Mr. Davenport.

Q. That man, San Couch, a resident of the State of Texas when the war broke out? A. He was in the territory when the war broke out.

Q. San Couch is a brother of your father, is that right? A. Yes sir.

Q. You know the name of the man who was on the roll of 1832? A. Yes sir.

Q. But that is because San Couch didn't bring you back until 1832?

A. It was because they wouldn't put me in.

Q. Didn't San Couch bring you back home? A. Yes sir.

Q. He did not come with you? A. Yes, he came with a drove of cattle.

Q. The old man, is that right? A. Yes sir.

Alexander Downing Jr

Q. Where did you go to school? A. To the State Normal School at Austin.

Q. And you were graduated from there? A. Yes sir.

Q. What time of the year did you graduate? A. It was about the middle of the year, in the fall.

Q. You don't know whether Sam Welch brought the father back or not? A. No, Sam Welch didn't bring him back, as I know of.

Q. Did you see him after or before Sam Welch brought him back? A. I don't know, as I don't know where he was before.

Q. Where were you living when Sam Welch brought the father back? A. I was living at home.

Q. Where was this applicant's father and the applicant living when Sam Welch brought him back? A. They were living in the State of Texas.

Q. They were living in Texas? A. Yes sir.

Q. This applicant was born in Texas, was he not? A. Yes sir, I think he was born there.

Q. Attorney A. B. Baker.

Q. Your brother was a minor when he was in Texas, was he not? A. Yes sir.

Q. And he was out sometime during '88 and '89? A. Yes sir.

Q. He married in Texas? A. Yes sir.

Q. And this applicant was born in Texas, was he not? A. Yes sir, I think he was born there.

Q. Attorney A. B. Baker.

Q. Now did you know this child when Alexander Downing came back from Texas to the State Normal School? A. I don't know just how old he was.

Q. Alexander bring this child with him? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did he bring his wife with him? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did this applicant's wife come along? A. Yes sir.

Q. I mean the applicant's father's wife? A. Yes sir.

Q. All right, he had married down there? A. Yes sir, he had married there.

Q. Now, nothing being sworn and testified to by the witness, submitted as follows:

Q. What is your name? A. Jennie Downing.

Q. What is your age? A. 42.

Q. Attorney A. B. Baker.

Q. Are you acquainted with the late Sam Welch, Alexander Downing, Jr? A. Yes sir.

Q. How long have you known him? A. Oh, since a little bit of a long time.

Q. Where did you meet him? A. I met him at the State Normal School, Austin.

Q. Do you know where he returned after the State of Texas, after the war? A. Yes sir, I do not know just exactly when he returned.

Q. Did you have the care and bringing up of these children since? A. Yes sir.

Q. Are they the children of Alexander Downing and his wife? A. Yes sir.

Q. Are there any other children? A. Yes, but no other children, as far as I know.

Q. What appears upon the authenticated roll of 1907? A. Yes, it appears there.

Q. What relation is his father, Alexander Downing, to you? A. He is my father.

Q. Did you have any children ever since you were married? A. Yes, I have one child.

Q. What is his name? A. Alexander Downing, Jr.

Q. How long has he been with you? A. Since he was born.

Alexander Downing 4

of the Cherokee Nation? A I could not tell you, I can't know.

Q But you do know that the persons enumerated went to that agency?

A Yes sir.

Q About what time was that? A It was in 1880.

Q Now, recollect?

Q What relation did you say you are to Alexander Downing?

A I was his aunt by marriage.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., the applicant's father?

A Yes sir.

Q Was he believed to? A He belonged to the whites, I suppose, I don't know, with his name, but that's who he belonged to.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where was he taken?

A He was taken out of Texas.

Q On any of the rolls? A Not that I know of.
Q Have you ever done any money? A No sir.
Q Did you ever apply to the Cherokee authorities to be enrolled?
A Yes sir, my uncle never.
Q You were refused were you? A Yes sir.
Q You was a slave? A No sir, I wasn't, my father was.
Q What was your father's name? A Alex Downing.
Q Is he living? A No sir, he is dead.
Q What was your mother's name? A Fannie.
Q Is she living? A No sir, they are both dead.
Q Was your father a slave? A Yes sir.
Q To whom did he belong? A I heard my uncle say he belonged to Eliza Wright.
Q How long has your father been dead? A About 15 years.
Q How long has your mother been dead? A About the same.
Q Was she a slave? A Yes sir, she was a slave.
Examined by Attorney, A. S. Olan:
Q There is the first recollection you have of yourself, where were you? A I was living over here in the river, with my father.
Q Where is that, in the Cherokee? A Yes sir.
Q Have you continuously lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since you have had any recollection of yourself? A Yes sir.
Q Are you acquainted with Zebulon Downing, he is on the authoritative roll of 1880? A Yes sir.
Q Is he any relation to you? A He is my uncle.
Q Did he have the care and custody of bringing you up, and your other brothers and sisters? A Yes sir, he raised us from the time of my father's death up until I became grown and married.
Q Why is it that none of your brothers or sisters are upon the authoritative roll of 1880? A I can't tell hardly why it is that they can't appear, but I always had a good and make applications for us for enrollment.
Q What relation was your father to Zebulon Downing, and Alex Downing? A They were brothers.
Q Did they come to the same way as, so far as you ever heard? A
No reply.
ELIAS DOWNING, being sworn and examined by Commissioner of the Interior
testified as follows:
Q What is your name? A Elias Downing.
Q What is your occupation?

Alexander Downing?

Q. What is your post-office address? A. Chelsea.

Q. Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Freedman?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Is your name on the roll of 1880? A. Yes sir.

Q. A. Yes sir.

Q. Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Alexander Downing?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Is he any relation to you? A. Yes sir, I am his uncle.

Q. Then, is father Alexander Downing was a brother of yours? A. Yes sir, my brother.

Q. Did you and he belonged to the same company? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did he go out of the nation during the war? A. Yes sir.

Q. Did he ever return? A. Yes sir, he returned.

Q. Did he go out of the nation? A. Yes sir.

Q. Was he married first, before or after? A. I returned first.

Q. What time did you return? A. I returned home in 1865.

Q. Was he a soldier? A. He was a soldier during the war, your brother.

Q. Yes sir, he was about 10 years old when he was taken out.

Q. Did I understand you to say that he remained at the home time as yourself? A. Yes sir.

Q. That prevented his returning at the same time as yourself? A. He was a slave down there, and he was working for his father when I left there.

Q. When did you first see him in the Territory after the war? A. It has been right about thirty years, I don't know just what year when I first saw him.

Q. Did he have a family? A. Yes sir, he had a family.

Q. Did he live continuously in the Cherokee Nation after his return from Texas? A. Yes sir, up till he died.

Q. He lived and died in the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.

Q. What relation was he to Rebecca Downing, who appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880? A. Her brother.

Q. Can you state why it is that the name of your brother, Alexander Downing, does not appear anywhere of the roll of the Cherokee Nation? A. I don't know, I don't know that through the will of God there was some kind of mistake with my brother in giving in the evidence, some kind of mistake, I don't know just what.

Q. Can't you recall?

Q. You state in your testimony that you and Alexander Downing were slaves and belonged to the same owner? A. Yes sir.

Q. He was that? A. Yes sir, he belonged to Elias Wright.

Q. Was he a Cherokee citizen? A. Yes sir.

Q Are you acquainted with Zebulon Downing, who is on the authenticated roll of 1880? A Yes sir.
Q Is he any relation to you? A He is my uncle.
Q Did he have the care and custody of bringing you up, and your other brothers and sisters? A Yes sir, he raised me from the time of my father's death up until I became grown and married.
Q Why is it that none of your or your brothers names are upon the authenticated roll do you know? A I can't tell, hardly why it is that they don't appear, he has always been a name one make applications for us for enrollment.
Q What relation was your father to Zebulon Downing, and Elias Downing? A They were brothers.
Q Did they belong to the same family, as far as you ever heard? A (No reply.)
ELIAS DOWNING, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Neches testified as follows:
Q What is your name? A Elias Downing.
Q What is your age? A 35.

Alexander Downing?

Q What is your post-office address? A Chelsea.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Freedman?

A Yes sir.

Q Is your name on the roll of 1890? A Yes sir.

Q Attorney A. J. Davenport?

Q Are you acquainted with the applicant here, Alexander Downing?

A Yes sir.

Q Is there any relation to you? A Yes sir, I am his uncle.

Q Then his father Alexander Downing was a brother of yours? A Yes sir, own brother.

Q Did you and he belonged to the same owners? A Yes sir.

Q Did he go out of the nation during the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where did he go to? A He went to Texas.

Q Did he ever return? A Yes sir, he returned.

Q Did you go out yourself? A Yes sir.

Q Who returned first, he or yourself? A I returned first.

Q What time did you return? A I returned here in '66.

Q Was he a man when he was taken out during the war, your brother?

A Yes sir, he was about 15 years old when he was taken out.

Q Did I understand you to say that he returned at the same time as yourself? A No sir.

Q What prevented his returning at the same time as yourself? A He was slave down there, and he was working for his owners when I left there.

Q When did you first see him in the Territory after the war? A It has been right about thirty years, I don't know just what year when I first saw him.

Q Did he have a family? A Yes sir, he had a family.

Q Did he live continuously in the Cherokee Nation after his return from Texas? A Yes sir, up till he died.

Q He lived and died in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q What relation was he to Zebedee Downing, who appears upon the authenticated roll of 1890? A Own brother.

Q Can you state why it is that the name of your brother, Alexander, Downing, does not appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A Not exactly, I can't; it seems that through the Fall of court there was some kind of mistake made with my brother in giving in the evidence, some kind of mistake, I don't know just what.

Q Can't recollect.

Q You state in your testimony that you and Alexander Downing were slaves and belonged to the same man? A Yes sir.

Q Who was that? A We first belonged to Eliza Wright.

Q Was she a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.

Q Well, who next? A She was a widow woman, and then we belonged to her daughter, Maria, a man named Sam Couch, that's who carried us out of here.

Q Carried you into Texas? A Yes sir.

Q That was a slave state? A Yes sir.

Q Before the war? A After the war commenced, about '62 or '3.

Q He went to Texas himself? A Yes sir.

Q Took you with him? A Yes sir.

Q Hired out with him? A No sir, I worked for him all the time while I was down there.

Q Wasn't your brother, Alexander, sold? A No sir.

Q By Mr. Davenport.

Q Was that Mr. Sam Couch a resident of the State of Texas when the war broke out? A He was living here in the Territory when the war broke out.

Q Sam Couch is a brother of what they call Pats Couch, who is living here in both now? A Yes sir.

Q You know the reason why you are not on the roll of 1890 don't you? A Yes sir.

Q And that it is because Sam Couch didn't bring you back until '68?

A It is because they wouldn't put me on.

Q Didn't Sam Couch bring you back here? A No sir.

Q Who did you come with? A Only by myself, with a drove of cattle.

Q Who did Alexander come with? A I don't remember.

Alexander Downing 3

A. Yes sir, their father.

Q. They were down there because? A. Yes sir.

Q. The father of the children of their name appear upon the roll of the Cherokee Nation & I could not tell you, I don't know.

Alexander Downing &

Q But you do know that the census enumerators went to their houses?
A Yes sir.

Q About what time was that? A It was in 1880.

By C. M. Needles:

Q What relation is it you say you are to Alexander Downing &?

A I was his aunt by marriage.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., the applicant's father, a slave?

A Yes sir.

Q Who did he belong to? A He belonged to the Whites, I suppose.

I am acquainted with his owners, but that's who he belonged to.

Q Was Alexander Downing, Sr., taken out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes sir.

 Q That is this daughter Eva that you speak of is it? A. Yes sir.
 Q She has another child with Frank, also, younger than Hada? A. Yes sir.
 Q Has Eva applied for her family yet? A. No sir.
 Q Has her husband applied? A. No sir.

By Hastings of the witness Jas. Landrum-

Q When was the last time you was in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A. When w was the last time?—about 15 years ago.
 Q Was your sister Della there at that time? A. I don't remember seeing her.
 Q Where was she at that time? A. I guess she was here on the river at that time.
 Q Do you know? A. I think she was on Dave Landrum's place then.
 Q Are you positive? A. Yes sir I am pretty positive.
 Q Are you positive that you didn't see her at Neosho falls Kansas then? A. Yes sir.
 Q How long did you remain at Neosho Falls that time? A. Just a little while.
 Q A month? A. Longer than that.
 Q Two months? A. About that.
 Q Have you been back then? A. Yes sir.
 Q You only went there once since the war? A. Yes sir I was there twice.
 Q When was the other time? A. When I was there before, when I went back for my family.
 Q Was that the first time after the war? A. Yes sir.
 Q And you never saw your sister the applicant at Neosho Falls since the war? A. Yes sir, I have.
 Q When was that? A. That was just as I was discharged from the army.
 Q Did you ever see her back there after she had come down here to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. No sir.
 Q Did you ever see her in Kansas after she had come down here after the war? A. Yes sir I saw her there when I came back.
 Q I mean after she had come down here? A. No sir.
 Q Where have you been living? A. Down here on the river.
 Q In what settlement? A. Island Ford settlement.
 Q How far has your sister been living from you? A. 7, 8 or 10 miles, sometimes 12 miles; I didn't live there all the time, I lived at Fort Gibson some times, staid there a long time.
 Q Did she live with her husband directly after the war? A. Yes sir with Tom Daniels.

By Hastings of the applicant-

- Q Where did you live with Tom Daniels first after the war? A. Lived right there with his father and my father.
- Q Live with both of them at the same time? A. No sir lived first with one and then with the other.
- Q How long did you stay down there until you went back to Kansas? A. Quite a while.
- Q How long after you came there did you next go back? A. About 3 years.
- Q Did you go back with your husband? A. No sir he went first.
- Q To what place in Kansas did you go that time? A. Neosho Falls.
- Q That was about 3 years after the war? A. Yes sir.
- Q What did you do up there? A. Worked some times.
- Q What did he do? A. He worked in a mill.
- Q Who ran the mill? A. I don't know, did know, don't remember it now.
- Q How long did you stay up there that time, how many years to the best of your judgment? A. 3 or 4 months, at a time.
- Q How long did your husband stay? A. Off and on all the time.
- Q He died there? A. Yes sir.
- Q What year did Tom Daniels die in Kansas? A. I don't know.
- Q Is Ethel his child? A. Yes sir.
- Q He died before she was born? A. Yes sir a little while before she was born.
- Q He died at Neosho Falls? A. Yes sir.
- Q You kept house up there didn't you? A. No sir, I worked for a family there.
- Q You didn't keep house there for your husband and children? A. No sir, I boarded with that family, and my husband boarded with some folks there.
- Q Well you traveled together didn't you? A. Yes we staid together in a room.
- Q Ethel was born in Kansas? A. No sir.
- Q Eva was born in Kansas? A. No sir.
- Q Where was she born? A. At my father's.
- Q Your husband was in Kansas then though? A. He was here part of the time.
- Q Your husband never worked in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. He worked here some.
- Q He never made a crop here did he? A. No sir but he helped my father make a crop and he helped his father make a crop.
- Q You and he never kept house separate and apart from your parents or his folks in the Cherokee Nation did you? A. No sir.
- Q You and your second husband were married in Neosho Falls? A. Yes sir.
- Q Where did he die? A. Down here at Vinita.
- Q What year? A. I don't know, he has been dead 2 or 3 years.
- Q You never had a child by him did you? A. No sir, got them all by Tom Daniels.
- Q When did you and your second husband come to the Cherokee Nation? A. I married him and brought him down here, got acquainted with him up there before my first husband died.
- Q How long was it after your first husband died before you married this second husband? A. About 3 years.
- Q Then you and your second husband had been married about 3 or 4 years before he died? A. Yes sir, I guess so.
- Q Your first husband died in Kansas and when you had met your second husband up there long before and after some five years after the death of your first husband you married your second husband, you met him and married him in the same place that your first husband died at, in Kansas? A. Yes sir.
- Q How far was this mother, the husband, live from you all this while?

A I was living on the river at my aunt's family.
 Q Did he know that you and your husband were living in Neosho Falls?
 A I don't know.
 Q You saw him there about 15 years ago? A. I guess I saw him there then.
 Q How long did he stay there with you? A. Not long.
 Q A month? A. Maybe a month or two months.
 Q That was before your first husband's death? A. Afterwards I guess.
 Q About how many years ago? A. I don't know exactly.
 Q What is your best judgment as to the time that you saw your brother, the witness here, in Neosho Falls Kansas? A I don't know, about 15 years or 11 years.
 Q Was your brother married up there, when you saw him there at Neosho Falls had he a wife with him? A. If he had a wife with him I didn't see her.
 Q Didn't he have some children born there? A. No sir.
 Q But you saw him there? A. Yes sir.
 Q Where did you bury your second husband? A. There at Neosho Falls; took him up there, that was his request when he died and I did it.

By Hastings of the witness:-

Q How do you reconcile your statement with that of your sister-in-law testified positively that you never saw her in Kansas after the war?
 A Didn't I saw I saw her 15 years ago up there?
 (His former statement read over to him here)

By Commission of applicant:-

Q Where were you during the time between the death of your first husband and your marriage to your second husband-- where did you stay when you were a widow? A. On the river here.
 Q Where you there all the time? A. Off and on.
 Q Off and on? A. Yes sir.
 Q When you were not on the river, were you up in Kansas? A. He sir at my Mother's, at Hodge and at Fort Wilson.
 Q But you were at Neosho Falls when you married the second time? A. Yes sir.

By Ben'r Brockinridge:-

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and one child; it appears that the applicant was a slave in the Cherokee Nation and of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the civil war; that she was carried to the state of Kansas and she claims to have returned within the time required within the treaty of 1866. She is identified on the Kern Clifton roll, but is not identified on the 1880 or 1886 rolls; she is 44 years of age; her deceased husband, to whom she was married at the beginning of the war, is not identified on the roll of 1880, but she states that she returned prior to the return of her husband, with her father and Simon Lynch, the former deceased and the latter now living, but not now introduced in this case. Both the deceased father and Simon Lynch are identified on the roll of 1880. It seems highly probable that the applicant qualified under the treaty of 1866, but it seems also highly probable that her children from the same time, is not in her name at Kansas.

Falls, Kansas; her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner, and the applicant will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at her post office address. Of her children, she applies for Ethel Daniels, she is identified on the Kern Clifton roll, is living at this time, it is not identified on the roll of 1898; the rights of this child should be the same as those established for its mother, and the child ~~will~~ will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman on a doubtful card with its mother and the said mother will be informed of the final decision of the Commission in regard to her case also. The names of certain other children who are of age, are identified in the course of the testimony, as their claim will come under the same claim as their mother. ~~Her testimony is reliable and~~
~~Her testimony is reliable and~~
It should be noted that the general impression made in this case by the testimony given is that it is given with considerable reservation and lack of frankness and particularly as this true of the applicant's half brother James Landrum, whose testimony has been ordered to be filed in his own case. His whole conduct and nature of replies to questions asked, indicated a perfect unreliability.

SUPPLEMENTAL

By Hastings of applicant-

- Q Your daughter Eva Finley is married? A. Yes sir.
Q What is her husband's name? A. E. C. Finley.
Q How old is her eldest child? A. One and a half years old.
Q She has two children? A. Yes sir.
Q Where was she married? A. Here in Vinita.
Q Since the death of your last husband? A. Yes sir.

Q What is your post office? A. Hayden.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A. Born and raised here.
Q Were you out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A. Yes sir.
Q What time did you get back here? A. In the fall of '66
Q Are you on the roll of 1886? A. Yes sir.
Q Do you know this applicant here, Tyre H. Finley? A I am not really acquainted with him.
Q Do you know his wife? A. Yes sir.
Q Is she a niece of yours? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know that he and she are married? A. Yes sir.
Q Give me her maiden name? A. Eva Daniels.
Q Is she a daughter of your sister Gellia Kirkpatrick? A. Yes sir.
Q And of her first husband; Tom Daniels? A Yes sir.
Q When did this man here marry your niece? A. Just before the war.
Q What war? A. The war that freed us
Q You dont mean that this young man here married your niece before the Civil war do you? A. Oh no sir, I thought you meant when did my sister marry Tom Daniels.
Q How long has this man sitting here been married to your niece Eva? A I never foundit out that they was married until about 3 or 4 years ago.
Q Have you known them ever since as husband and wife? A. Yes sir.
Q Where was your niece born? A. I suppose she was born in Kansas, I dont know exactly.
Q When was she born? A. I dont know exactly.
Q When did you first see your niece Eva? A. I seen her at Vinita.
Q How old was she then? A. I cannot tell just how old she was, right smart sized girl.
Q What do you know of her from that time up until now? Since you saw her the first time in Vinita? A I cannot tell you, living in the states I guess, I cannot tell you to tell the truth.
Q You must tell the truth, you are under oath? A I am telling it.
Q Has she been married in the Cherokee Nation since she married this man? A. Yes sir.
Q But before that you dont know? A. No sir.
Q Are you a full sister of her mother Gellia? A. No sir.
Q Has your sister Gellia ever lived near you in the Cherokee Nation? A Before the war.
Q I mean since the war? A No sir.
Q Where do you live? A. On Lightning creek.
Q Have you kept any run of your sister Gellia since the war? A. I seen her off and on
Q Where has she made her home lately? A In Vinita.
Q How long has she lived in Vinita? A. I dont know.
Q Where did she live before that? A. In Kansas.
Q Neesho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.
Q Did she and Tom Daniels go to Neesho Falls together? A. Yes sir.
Q Did they come down here together again? A. I left them there.
Q When was that? A. A while after the war, after peace.
Q When was it you saw her in Vinita, was that after Tom Daniels had died? A. Yes sir
Q Was that after she had married Jerry Kirkpatrick? A I cannot tell anything about that, I can't talk of her last marriage.

COMMERCIAL

Q After Tom Daniels died, she came to Vinita did she? A Yes sir.
Q Had she made any home before that in Kansas? A I don't know if she had made a home there at that time because I was down here and left them there, and I don't know what they did there, I was down here.

Q I am talking of between the time when you left her there after the war, when you saw her in Kansas, and when you next saw her in Vinita after Tom Daniels had died? A She was up there in Kansas until Tom died.

Q How do you know that? A To the best of my knowledge, I left them there both together.

Q What do you know of them staying there after you left them, there until he died? A I don't know anything about it for certain, not all the time I don't.

Q Did you ever hear from your sister? A Yes sir I got letters from her.

Q What was Tom doing there? A Working there in a mill.

Q Did your sister ever come down here before Tom died? A Yes sir.

Q On a visit? A Yes sir.

Q Short visits? A Yes sir.

Q She has several children? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know where these children were born? A No sir I don't know.

Q How far have you lived from where your mother lived since the war—your mother was Cassia, wasn't it? A No sir my mother was Peggy.

Q Then you are only a half sister of Gelia? A Yes sir that is what I told you before that I was not a full sister of hers.

Q Did she have her children there at Vinita? A She had two.

(By W. F. Hastings)

Q Where did you last see you half sister Gelia Daniels when you left Kansas immediately after the war? A I saw her there on the river.

Q How long before you left there? A Quite a while, not a great while either.

Q Did you see her in the summer before you left in the fall of '06? A No sir, in the winter as near as I can remember.

Q As far as you know, she and her husband Tom Daniels continued to live in Kansas at Neosho Falls until after his death? A Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

Q Do you know anything about her coming back after a while to the Cherokee Nation with your father and her father George Landrum? A That is when they first came, when I need her first was in '06 at George Landrum on the river.

Q At your father's place in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q She seems to have come down for a while at least with your father and very soon after that Tom Daniels went back to Kansas and then she followed him? A I don't know if Tom came down more or not, but I understood from what my father told me that Gelia had come down here with him and with Simon Lynch.

Q She went back and joined her husband Tom Daniels then? A I guess so, I don't know as Tom came at all, he might have.

By Gov'r Breckinridge:

This testimony will be filed in the application made for Eva L. Finley by her husband, and also a copy of this testimony will be filed in the case of Gelia Kirkpatrick on Cherokee Freedman Doubtful papers, and a note will be made in that case calling attention to this additional evidence.

Appearances:

James B. Davenport for the Cherokee Nation
Mellette & Smith for the applicants

C. R. Griffith being first duly sworn by Com'r T. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A C. R. Griffith.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q What is your age? A 29.

Q How long have you been living in Vinita? A I have been living here since the payment, before the payment, I forget just what year that was.

Q Did you ever live in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q What year did you move to Neosho Falls Kansas? A I left there in '87

Q When did you go there? A I went there in '76.

Q While you were living at Neosho Falls Kansas did you know a colored family by the name of Daniels? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know the man of that family? A Yes sir Tom.

Q Did you know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A Gelia I think.

Q Do you know whether or not Tom Daniels is dead? A Yes sir he is dead.

Q Do you know if Gelia married after his death? A Yes sir I have heard she married, but I don't know anything about it.

Q Where was Tom and Gelia Daniels living when you went to Neosho Falls Kansas? A They were living about three quarters of a mile north of town across the Neosho river.

Q Did they afterwards live nearer town? A No sir.

Q You was a boy then? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know if Gelia had any of her family, or her own family around there? A No sir I don't know any except the Daniel's family.

Q You haven't seen the applicant to-day? A No sir not since I left Neosho Falls.

(By Mellette)

Q Will Doctor, when do you remember of having first seen Gelia Daniels? A Well it was shortly after we had moved to the town, I went over there to get a cow my father had bought of them.

Q Did you pay any particular attention to them after that? A I saw some of the children most ever day, they went to school there every day.

Q Did you know Gelia personally? A Yes sir I saw her quite frequently

Q Do you pretend to say that you saw them all the time from the time you got acquainted with them until you left? A No not all the time, shortly before I left there I think--I left late that fall and that summer I worked in the country and didn't see them then at all.

Q Was Gelia here in this country any time that you were at Neosho Falls? A They kept house there all the time.

Q You don't know if she was here or not? A No sir I don't.

Q You left there in what year? A '87 or '88 I don't remember which.

Q You don't know where she was before you went there? A No sir.

Q Do you know if this is the woman, the one you are talking about, is the same woman who has made application here? A Yes sir.

Q How do you know? A I know her daughter that is here in town and it is her mother.

Q Do you know that this is the one? A I haven't see this woman, but Finley the barber's wife is her daughter, she used to be her daughter and I guess she is yet.

Q You don't know where she was in '88? A No sir, that was before my time.

(By Davenport)

Q You knew Eva Finley there at Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
Q She went to school there? A Yes sir.

ANDERSON LYNCH being first duly sworn by Com'r T. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the applicant:

(By Mallette)

Q What is your name? A Anderson Lynch.
Q Where do you live? A Out here on Grand river.
Q Are you a Freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know this applicant here, Gelia Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir.
Q Did you know her before the war? A Yes sir.
Q Where did she live before the war?

BY MR. DAVENPORT: The Cherokee Nation objects to this testimony because it has never been questioned as to where she lived before the war.

(By Mallette of witness)

Q Do you know when she came back here after the war? A Yes, sir.
Q What year? A In '66.
Q Where did she come to? A Come to Simon Lynch's across Grand River with Jim Landrum.
Q Have you known her ever since she came back here in '66? A Yes sir.
I don't know where she has been all the time, I saw her two or three times at Simon's.
Q Do you know where she has lived since that time? A No sir not exactly, I know she lived in Vinita a while.
Q When was she living here in Vinita? A Two or three years ago, I never paid much attention.
Q Do you know Tom Daniels, her first husband? A Yes sir.
Q Where were they married? A I disremember exactly where.
Q Did they live together in the Cherokee Nation, Tom Daniels and Gelia?
A I don't believe they did, I knew they both went out from here together.
Q Were they married at that time? A I disremember if they was or not,
I knew when I came to them in Kansas they were married.
Q Was Tom Daniels a freedman? A Yes sir he was Simon Lynch's son.
Q Was he a citizen of this country? A No was before he went out.
Q He is dead now? A Yes sir.
Q Daniels was a recognized citizen of this country was he? A Yes sir belonged to Bob Daniels.

(By Davenport)

Q Did Gelia come back when Jess Cochran was killed? Yes sir.
Q You and little Jess don't agree as to the time of the killing of his father do you? A It was in '66.
Q Haven't you heard Jess Cochran, little Jess, testify as to the year when his father got killed? A I don't know as I have.
Q At what point in Kansas did you see Gelia and Tom Daniels? A At Neosho Falls.
Q Tom Daniels never did live in this country since the war? A I never saw him.
Q Do you know Eva Finley, the daughter of Gelia? A No sir.
Q Didn't know her children? A No sir.
Q Daniels and she married before the war closed? A They might have.
Q Didn't you say you saw them in Kansas? A Yes sir.
Q He died up there some years after the war? A Yes sir it was a while after the war.
Q It was after '66 that he died? A No sir I think it was before--as it was after that.
Q You heard Dr. Griffith testify that he saw this woman in Kansas at Neosho Falls in '70? A He might have seen them, I can't tell about that.
Q Where did they live in Kansas with reference to Neosho Falls? A
On the other side of the river at Bear Hill.
Q If Dr. Griffith testified that they were living there it is correct is it? A Might be so, I don't know.

This will be filed in the original application C. F. D. 673 and also in C. F. D. 675.

Applicants represented by Mellette & Smith and Lewis T. Brown, Vinita, I. T.
Cherokee Nation represented by J. S. Davenport.

C. W. Learned, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. DAVENPORT: What's your name? A C. W. Learned.
Q Where do you live, Mr. Learned? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
Q How old are you? A 46.
Q How long have you been living at Neosho Falls? A Since '57.
Q Did you know a colored family there by the name of Daniels since the war? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know what the man's name was? A Tom Daniels.
Q Did you ever know his wife's name? A Yes, sir.
Q What was her name? A Selie.
Q Where did they live when you got acquainted with them, Mr. Learned? A They lived about half a mile from the mill there on the Neosho River, used to work in the mill.
Q When did they move away from there, if at all, Mr. Learned, about when? A Daniels?
Q Yes, sir. A I don't think Daniels ever moved away from there; he died there; she came down here.
Q Well, when did she move away with reference to Daniels' death, if you know? A No, if she did I don't know it.
Q Do you know whether she is living now or not? A I don't know whether she is living now; I don't know whether she is or not; she isn't living up there.
Q When was the last time that you knew of Tom Daniels and his family living near or in Neosho Falls, about what year is that I want to know? A I don't recollect what year he died.
Q Well was it before or after the row that you have spoken of?
A That was after that.
Q Was Selie living there at the time this row occurred? A Yes, sir.
Q How do you remember whether they had any children? A Yes, sir, they had some children.

Q Were they big enough for you to remember their names? A Yes, sir, I remember some of them.

Q What were their names? A One was named Fred and there was a boy, and they had Eva Daniels, a girl, and they had one or two more boys, but I don't recollect their names.

MR. MILLER: When did you first know these people you are talking about, that is, Daniels? A Why it was along about '68, along about that.

Q How old were you in '68? A 11 years old.

Q You can remember the date back that long can you? A Only as they were when these people was there.

Q You remember back thirty-five or forty years exactly when people were there together, do you? A I remember, yes, sir, these people at least came to Jim's place there and visited him.

Q When were you first talked to about being a witness in this case? A It must have been a month ago.

Q A month ago your attention was called to the time when you saw these people, and you remembered back that length of time when you was 11 years old; where were these people in '68? A Daniels?

Q Yes, sir. A Couldn't tell.

Q Where were they in '67? A I don't know.

Q Where were they in '69? A They were there.

Q What time in '68? A Why they were there in the spring or summer along about--

Q Well was it May or June? A I don't know which it was, May or June, somewhere along there.

Q You were 11 years old at that time and remember that it was May or June? A Somewhere along there.

Q You remember that that was sometime in May or June, do you? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you pay much attention to the months when you was 11 years old? A No, I remember we used to fish.

Q Might have been in Summer then? A No, sir, -- yes, it might have been.

Q Might have been in August, mightn't it? A Don't fish in August.

Q Swear you didn't fish in August, will you? A I don't know, whether I would or not.

Q How old were you at that time? A 11 years old.

Q How long ago has that been? A You can count it up.

Q I'm not counting; I asked you?

COMMISSIONER: Can you answer the question, how long ago? A 34 years.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory, June 27th, 1902.

In the matter of the application of W. H. Twine for the enrollment of George Daniels as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

W. H. Twine representing Lewis T. Brown of Vinita,
Cherokee nation represented by W. W. Hastings.

There is offered in evidence a power of attorney signed by George Daniels, authorizing Lewis T. Brown, his true and lawful attorney, to make application to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for his enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

W. H. Twine, being duly sworn, testified as follows:

Examination by the Commission.

- Q. What is your name? A. W. H. Twine.
Q. Your post office address? A. Muskogee.
Q. You are appearing before the Commission in behalf of Lewis T. Brown, who desires to enroll one George Daniels as a Cherokee Freedman? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you know anything about the citizenship of George Daniels? A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. Do you know how old he is? A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. Do you know where George Daniels is at the present time? A. In the hospital at Wichita, Kansas.
Q. Do you know in what district this George Daniels lived when he was in the Cherokee nation? A. No, sir; only—I am not familiar with the districts but he lived in the town of Vinita.

Examination by Mr. Hastings.

- Q. Doesn't your letter that you have there state anything about the fellows age so we could identified him on the rolls?
A. The letter states he is identified on the Kerwin-Clifton's roll.
Q. But does it state how old he is? A. Gives his mother's name as Celia Kirkpatrick. She has already been listed for enrollment on a doubtful card.

Examination by the Commission.

- Q. Have you any idea how old Daniels is? A. No, I haven't. I don't know the man at all. I never saw him. If I did I didn't know him. My information is that his mother is already listed for enrollment on a doubtful card.
Q. Do you know what her name is? A. Celia Kirkpatrick.

The applicant is identified on the Kerwin-Clifton Cherokee Freedman roll, page 153, #3799, as George Daniels, Cooweescoowee district.

- Q. You don't know where this man lived prior to his being confined at Wichita? A. No, sir. At Vinita.
Q. You never met him at all? A. No, sir; I never met him personally.
Q. And don't know anything about his ancestors? A. No, sir.

The applicant in this case will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, awaiting the further consideration of the Commission, and it is directed that copies of all the testimony had in the matter of the application of his mother, Celia Kirkpatrick, who has been listed for enrollment on Cherokee Freedman card D673, be filed with and made a part of the record in this case.

Q Did you come back with your father? A Yes sir.
Q What was his name? A George Landrum.
Q Was your mother along? A Yes sir, she went on to Muskogee. They didn't live together.
Q Was anybody else along besides you and your father at the time you returned? A There was a whole lot of us.
Q Give the names of the others? A One was Simon Lynch, Art Williams, Anderson Lynch and his mother, and all of them. There was a whole lot of them come.
Q Can you name any of the others? A Arch Landrum, he was along, and his family.
Q Can you think of any of the others? A There was a whole lot along, but I disremember.

MR. BELL: Who did you say, Simon Lynch? A Yes sir.
Q And Art Williams? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: Where did you all come to at that time?
A Grand River.
Q In what district? A I don't know the district, but it was close to Island Ford.
Q Who did ~~think~~ you find living there then? A There wasn't many families, but I remember old man Springfreg.
Q Was he a Cherokee? A Yes sir. Rider.
Q Who else? A Old Aunt Celia Wright and Sallie ~~Wright~~ and
Q Was she living there then? A Yes sir.
Q Can you name any colored people living there then?
A I don't know.
Q Can you name any of them? A She was colored?
Q Sallie Rider? A Yes sir, and Bledsoe.
Q What was his name? A I don't know his first name.

MR. BELL: He was a Cherokee, wasn't he? A Yes sir, but he went with the coloreds.

BY COMMISSION: What time of the year was it when you all came back?

A I think it was in the spring or fall.

Q Was it warm weather? A It wasn't very warm.

Q Was it after the 4th of July? A I don't know. Might have been in the fall or spring. I disremember, it has been so long.

Q You came to Grand River, you say, near Island Ford? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay there then? A Quite a while, I wouldn't be positive, I don't know.

Q Did you stay there a year? A I don't know as it was a full year, I was in and out.

Q Did you stay there during the next winter? A Yes sir, I was.

Q Where did you go then? A Went up north.

Q Where? A Stopped a while in Chetopa and worked there a while.

Q Went up to Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q What place? A Neosho Falls.

Q How long did you stay in Neosho Falls at that time? A It might have been three weeks I think. I wouldn't be certain, three or four weeks.

Q Where did you go then? A Come back down to here to father's.

Q Didn't stay more than three or four weeks? A Might have been a little longer.

Q When did you go back again after that? A After I come back down? I was just in and out, maybe three or four weeks apart. Of course, I had to work. There wasn't nothing doing down here, times was hard.

Q When you all came down here to the Cherokee Nation the first time after the war, did your father build a house down here? A There was a loghouse.

Q Did he cultivate any land? A A little place, yes sir.

Q Did you live there with your father? A Yes sir, I made my home there when I was here.

Q Did your father stay down here in the Cherokee Nation, after he came down, right after the war? A Yes sir.

Q How long did he stay? A He stayed off and on all the time, made his home.

Q Didn't he go back to Kansas to stay? A Not to my knowing.

Q Did Thomas Daniels come back with you the time you returned after the war, and George Landrum? A Yes sir.

Q And Simon Lynch? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been living continuously in the Cherokee Nation? A Oh, a long time, couldn't say just how long.

Q Do you remember when the census takers came around in 1880?

A No, I don't for certain. Of course I can't recollect like I might if I was younger.

Q Is Eva L. Finley your daughter? A Yes sir.

Q Who is her father? A Tom Daniels.

Q When were you and Tom Daniels married after the war?

A No, it was before the war.

Q When did your husband, Tom Daniels, die? A He has been dead quite a while, couldn't say just how long, but it has been quite a little bit.

Q About 1889? A It might have been. Of course you know I don't know.

Q Where did he die? A Neosho Falls.

Q Is that in Missouri? A No sir, it is in Kansas.

Q How long had you been living there before he died? A Not very long then, just in and out.

Q As much as a year? A No sir.

Q How long did you stay there after he died? A As soon as I could get things fixed up and the doctor's bill paid, and the funeral expenses, maybe two weeks or three, I don't know just for certain.

Q Where did you go to? A Come back down here.
 Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q Have you been living here continuously ever since? A Yes sir.
 Q Your daughter, Eva L. Finley, has she been living with you ever since her father died? A Yes sir, when she was at home she always lived with me. Of course, she ran around, in and out, until after she married, then she settled down.
 Q She was out more than she was in, wasn't she, before she was married? A Oh, I couldn't say, she was in and out.
 Q What was she doing when she was traveling around, working?
 A Yes sir, she would work out.
 Q Has she been living here continuously, since she was married, in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q When was she married? A I don't know, about five years, I guess. I wouldn't say. It has been quite a little bit.
 Q Has she been married since the time they took the census in 1896?
 A I couldn't tell you. It is down in the book though, I guess, when they were married.
 Q Was she married before the Kern-Clifton roll was made.
 A I guess it was before, I am not certain.

MR. BELL: How old is this daughter of yours, Eva L. Finley?

A I leave that to them, I can't -
 Q Where was she born? A In Kansas.
 Q Did you bring her down here when you come, or did you send her?
 Did you bring her down here when you come, or leave her up there?
 A I brought her along with me.
 Q When you first moved down? A Yes sir.

 Q Who lived near you there? A Old man Springfrog.
 Q Was Simon Lynch up there? A Yes sir.
 Q Jordan Thompson? A Yes sir.
 Q Oldman Sandy Bean? A Didn't know him.
 Q Didn't know him at all? A No sir.
 Q Did you know anything about old Adam and old Charlotte? A No sir.
 Q Where did Simon live, right there? A I don't know for certain, but I think it was up the lake there a little ways.
 Q Do you know where the old Lynch place is? A Yes sir.
 Q Who lived there? A I was ~~thinking~~ trying to think of the names, but I can't think of the names. There was someone there, I worked for a old man Clark.
 Q Recollect anything about old man Scraper? A Yes sir.
 Q Where was he living? A I don't know where he was living, but I saw him.
 Q Where did you start from when you started down to the Cherokee Nation the first time you ever come? A I started from Neosho Falls.
 Q Did you get acquainted with anybody in Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
 Q Ever know a man by the name of C. W. Leonard? A ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~
 (No answer)
 Q Do you know anything of Eph Bearden? A Yes sir, I knew him.
 Q Did you know a young man by the name of Griffith, he is a dentist now and lives in this town? You got acquainted with him?
 A I used to know all of them when they was children.
 Q Were they there when you lived there? A I don't know.
 Q How long did you live at Neosho Falls? A Not very long, just in and out.
 Q How long did you live in Neosho Falls before you started wen here to the Cherokee Nation with your father? A I was there during the war.
 Q Two or three years? A Yes sir, I reckon.
 Q Didn't you take this girl up there and send her to school?
 A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay there while sending her to school?
A I took her there and I came back.
Q You didn't stay there with her at all? A No sir.
Q She is mistaken if she said you stayed there? A I don't know, she might have been.
Q You ought to know something about it? Didn't you stay up there just years before you come down here? A Yes sir.
Q Several years? A I was there when the war was going on.
Q Your husband was named Tom Daniels, that you lived with there? A Yes sir.
Q Didn't you live with him? A Yes sir, he was my husband.
Q Didn't he live and die there? A He died there, didn't live there. He went back there for his health. He had consumption.
Q How long did he stay there when he went back there and died? A He stayed about a week, or the other three weeks, I don't know just how long.
Q Didn't you own some property there? A No sir.
Q Didn't Tom own a house there, or nothing? A He bargained for a house, but never got paid for it.
Q He bought property, didn't he? A No sir.
Q He made a trade for a house, and went in it, didn't he? A No sir.
Q Never did live in the house? A Yes sir, lived in it, but never got paid for it.
Q He bought the house and moved in it, and never got it paid for? A No sir.
Q He just bargained for it? A Yes sir, never paid for it.
Q Did he get possession of it? A No sir.
Q Moved in it? A Yes sir.
Q Wasn't that possession? A Yes sir.
Q How long did he live in that house? A I don't know.
Q Didn't he die there? A Yes sir, he died there. As I said a while ago, he died there.
Q Right in that house? A Yes sir.
Q How long after he died was it they put you out of the house, if they put you out, and started you down here? A About three weeks, or two.
Q When was that? A I don't know. It was away back I know.
Q As much as fifteen years ago? A I don't know.
Q Wasn't it about 1879 or 1889? A I don't know.
Q You never got a thing out of that house? A Never got a thing out of it.
Q They just took it away from you? A How could we?
Q You just answer the questions. A I am.
Q I asked you if you never got nothing from the house, just took it away? A It went back, of course.
Q Answer the question? A No.

Q Who was her mother? A Cassie.

Q Are they both dead? A Yes sir.

Q Is she any relation to you? A No sir.

Q When did you first see Celia Kirkpatrick after the war?

A That I first saw Celia after I came down. I saw her at her father's, down here on the river.

Q The same year you came down? A The same year.

Q What time of the year did you come down? A I came down a little before '66, just before the time was up. I think when I saw her it was that coming fall.

Q Did you come down before the treaty was passed? A Yes sir.

Q Was it the same year the treaty was passed, or the year before?

A When I come?

Q Yes? A I come down before the treaty was passed, it was pretty near time for the treaty when I got down.

MR. BELL: Did you come down before the treaty was made? A Yes sir, I came before it was made.

BY COMMISSION: You say you saw Celia Kirkpatrick the same year you came down? A That same fall.

Q Where did you see her? A Down on Grand River, at her father's.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Who was with her when you saw her? A She was there with her father.

Q Was she staying with him? A Her man was with her then, Tom.

Q That was her husband, Tom Thomas Daniels? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay there at her father's? A I couldn't tell you exactly how long she did stay, she was there backwards and forwards a long time.

Q Did you just see her that one time? A No sir, I saw her.

Q When did you see her the next time? A I couldn't tell you.

Afterwards I saw her again. I knowed she was living there.

Q When did you see her again, in the same year? A I think so.

Q Where was she then? A She was down here on the river with her folks.

Q Did she stay as much as a year there on Grand River with in the Cherokee Nation at that time? A The first time she come down.

Q Yes. A I don't know whether she stayed a year before she went back. She was back there before the year was out.

Q When did she come back? A I couldn't just tell you exactly when she did come back, but I know she went off and come again.

Q She went back to Kansaw? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay up there again? A Not very long, before we heard of her eing back again.

Q Did she stay as long as a year in Kansas? A No, not that time.

Q De you know for what purpose she went up there? A No sir, I don't.

Q Were you living there near her fathes's at that time?

A I lived about five miles, I think.

Q Who else was living around near her fathes's, near George Landrum's? A Simon Lynch, and there was a whole lot of them.

Q Name some of them? A Simon and this here McNair, he was living there at the old Uncle Adam place on the bank of the river.

Q That was Columbus McNair? A Yes sir.

Q Who else was living there at that time? A I couldn't tell you, there was several of them living there, Crap Lynch, Art Lynch, Art Williams, they called him.

Q Crap Lynch also went by the name of Anderson Lynch, didn't he?

A yes sir. Art Williams is dead.

Q Was Celia Kirkpatrick married to Thomas Daniels at that time, at the time they returned to Kansas after the war? A Yes sir.

Q How long has Celia Kirkpatrick lived in the Cherokee Nation since the war? A How long has she lived there?

Q Yes. A I couldn't tell you that exactly how long.

Q You couldn't tell how long? A No sir.

Q Was she living in the Cherokee Nation between July, '66, and January 1, 1867? A Yes sir, I think she was living there at her dad's then. Her man, he went back to Kansas, he hadbad health, and went back to Kansas to school his children, and he died.

Q Her father went back to Kansas? A No, her man.

Q Her husband? When did he go back to Kansas, how long after the dose of the war? A I know it was a good while, couldn't tell you how lo ng he did stay. He had bad health.

Q Did he stay for several years? A I think he did, he died there.

Q Did Celia go with him? A Not when he stunk. did.

Q Did she go bak afterwards? A Yes sir.

Q Did she live with him up there? A She went back when he was sick, you know, and stayed until he died.

Q Did Thomas Daniels, and his wife, Celia Kirkpatrick, move their household furniture and their property with them when they went back to Kansas? A I don't know sir, I don't guess they did. I don't know, I don't guessthey did. She didn't go when he did. He went there on account of his health.

Q Since the death of Thomas Daniels, has Celia been living here ever since in the Cherokee Nation? A I couldn't tell that. I don't know where she was then.

Q Do you know Eva L. Finley, that is Celia Kirkpatrick's daughter?

A The oldest one.

Q Her name is Eva? A I know the oldest one.

Q What is her name? A She is dead, the oldest one.

Q This one is living? A I know this one that is here now, she has got one here now.

Q What is her name? A I don't know.

Q Is she married? A Yes sir, she is marrie A.

Q What is her husband's name? A I don't know his name.

Q Is his name Finley? A I guess so, he is a preacher here. I see him all the time, but never knew their names. I have been knowing him for about two or three years right here.

Q You don't know about this girl Eva, how long she has been living in the Cherokee Nation? A The one that's here now?

Q Yes. A No sir, I don't know how long she has been living here.

Q Do you think that Celia Kirkpatrick stayed as long as six months in the Cherokee Nation, there on Grand River, when she came back after the war? A I think she stayed that long, yes sir.

Q Did she stay up until Christmas of that year? A The year after she came here?

Q Yes. A I think she did. I think she stayed until Christmas.

Q Was that the same year that the treaty passed? A Yes sir, that's the same year.

Q You think she stayed here in the Cherokee Nation up until Christmas? A That's my recollection, I think she did.

Q Have you been seeing much of her lately the last ten or twenty years, have you seen her often? A Yes sir, I have seen her off and on, different places.

Q How long has she lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously without going out? A Where she is now?

Q Yes. A I knew her when she was on the river, I could see her pretty frequently until she came here to town.

Q How long has she been living here continuously, right straight along? A Since the treaty was made?

Q No. For how many years has she lived here continuously in the Cherokee Nation, one year, ten years, twenty years, forty years?

A I couldn't tell you how long, couldn't tell you how many years she has been living here.

Q Do you know how long she has lived here since her husband died?

A I have been seeing her off and on all the time since her husband died.

Q Do you know whether she has lived here all the time since her husband died? A She has lived at different places, I couldn't keep track of her all the time.

Q You don't know where she has been living all the time since her husband died? A I don't know where she lived.

MR. BELL: Where was George Landrum living when you seen this girl first at his house? A Living at the head of that lake down there.

Q Up there about where Simon is? A Yes sir, right across there.

Q When did George Landrum move there? A He came after I did.

Q Just tell me when he came? A I couldn't tell you.

Q Didn't he come about two years after I did? A I don't think it was two years, might have been a year.

Q It was a year or two after you come is when he come and moved right up there? A Yes, moved right there at that lake. It might have been a year, couldn't have been two.

Q You come down here along in the spring of '66, didn't you?

A Along in the spring.

Q About two or three months before you heard of the treaty?

A Yes sir.

Q Where did you hear of the treaty? A In Kansas.

Q Then you come down here and went back, did you? A Never did go back. Haven't been to Kansas since I left there.

Q You haven't? A Not at that part.

Q After Tom Daniels come down here, you say he brought his wife to George's, and they stayed there a while? A Yes sir.

Q That was only six or seven miles from you? A That's all.

Q How long did Tom stay here before he went back to Kansas? A Tom was down there around his dad a little bit.

Q Six or twelve months? A Might have stayed that long. I just don't know. I heard of him sometimes, and saw him sometimes.

Q He brought his wife with him when he come, did he? A Yes sir.

Q How long had he been here before you saw him, or did you see him pretty quick after he come? A I saw him pretty soon after he come.

Q When he went back, how long was it before his wife followed him? A I think she went when she heard he took so bad sick. He took very bad sick when he went back, and didn't live long.

Q When she went up there to see him he had died? A I think he died while she was there.

Q Wasn't it fifteen or sixteen years before you ever saw her back here again? A After she went up there and Tom Daniels died, I think she came back to her dad's.

Q About what time? A I can't tell you what time.

Q In two or three months? A Must have been, I think so, after Tom died.

Q Did she ever marry again? A Yes, after Tom died?

Q Did she ever marry again? A Yes sir.

Q Where did she marry after Tom died? A I don't know.

Q How long after he died? A It was a good long while.

Q Two or three years, was it? A Yes sir.

Q All that time was she living here at her Dad's? A Not all that time. I don't know where she was, might have been down at Fort Gibson at her mother's. Her mother lived at Fort Gibson.

Q You say she returned in two or three months after Tom died? A Yes sir.

Q How long did she stay here before she went back to Kansas? A I couldn't just answer that question, for I couldn't just tell. I couldn't keep that close track of them.

Q Let me ask you, you don't know much about her after her and Tom went back? A I know this much. I say she came back, but I don't know where she went, but I heard she was at Gibson. I didn't see her at Gibson.

Q She married two or three years afterwards? What is her husband's name? A I don't know that, I just seen him here in town.

Q If she said she was married in three or four months after her husband died up there in Kansas, she was mistaken. You or her one was mistaken? A I don't know where she married at.

Q How long was it before she left here, after she came back the second time, how long did she stay here? You were saying she went up there, and Tom died, and she came back here again and stayed here two or three years, then what became of her? Didn't she drop out of your memory and stay for ten or twelve years? A Until I saw her here. Never saw her any more.

Q Not until the Wallace court? A Yes sir, I saw her then.

Q That's the first time you ever saw her after that until the Wallace court, from the time she went back after Tom's death?

Q She might have been in the Nation here, but I couldn't tell.

Q I said you hadn't seen her? A No sir.

Q You didn't even know her children, did you? A No sir.

Q You don't know the name now, do you? A Which, her children's name?

Q Yes. A No, I don't pay that much attention to people, to find out their names.

Q How do you recollect so good about thirty-five years ago?

Q I tell just what I knew and what I saw. That's all I propose to know and tell. I know she was down here, I seen her. I didn't pay any attention to her children's names or nothing, didn't live with them.

Q You don't know her husband's name? A No sir.

Q How long did he live here? A I don't know, until he died, I guess.

Q Is he dead or alive? A He is dead.

Q There is at least ten years of this woman's life you didn't see her until after Tom Daniels' death? A Might have been. I seen her the time of the Wallace court.

Q That is the first time you had seen her for eight or ten years she had been gone? A I don't know where she was gone.

Q Of course you don't know where she was gone. I am trying to get at your personal knowledge of this thing.

BY COMMISSION: You say you came back in the spring of '66, the same year the treaty was passed? A Yes sir.

Q Was it as much as a year when you first came down when you first saw Gelia Kirkpatrick after the war? A As much as a year?

Q Yes. A I don't know if it was a year or not, because I couldn't keep no account. She come with him when he come.

Q Was that as much as a year after he first came, when you saw George Landrum and this applicant, Gelia Kirkpatrick? A It might be.

Q Might have been a year? A Yes.

Q Was it a year? What is your best judgment? Was it as long as a year? A It might have been a year, but it wasn't two years, I am positive of that.

Q Was it that same year that you came down, or the next winter or spring following? A It was along in the winter time. It must have been that winter that I came down.

Q Was it after Christmas when they came down? A About Christmas I think. It has been so long I ain't got no good recollection. I know it wasn't two years. I am satisfied it was about a year, I guess.

Q You think it was about a year after you came, the next spring after you came? A Yes sir.

-: D E C I S I O N :-

The record in this case shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen were made to this Commission by Celia Kirkpatrick for herself and her minor child, Ethel Daniels; by Tyre H. Finley for his wife, Eva L. Finley, and their minor children, Haydee and Frank Finley; and by W. H. Twine for George Daniels.

The evidence herein shows that Celia Kirkpatrick was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the rebellion; that she went to Kansas during the rebellion but returned to said Nation within the time specified, in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 5, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitfire, trustee, etc., vs. The Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Freedmen to the Cherokee Nation.

It further appears that all the other applicants herein were born since 1866 and are the descendants of said Celia Kirkpatrick and claim their rights to enrollment through her.

The evidence further shows that the applicant Celia Kirkpatrick and her adult children, Eva L. Finley and George Daniels, resided in the Cherokee Nation in good faith for a number of years prior to June 20, 1896, and have always claimed said Nation as their permanent home. It does not appear that either of them has ever removed with his or her effects from said Nation and become a citizen of another government. The residence of said minor applicants is considered to have been with their respective parents above mentioned.

It is, therefore, the opinion of the Commission, following the decision of the Department in the case of Joseph D. Thompson et al., (I. R. D. 2800-1898), that Della H. Thompson, Ethel A. Daniels, Mrs. L. Finley, Charles Finley, Frank Finley and George Daniels should be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21 of the Act of Congress, approved June 20, 1906 (34 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the Matter of the application for the enrollment of Celia Kirkpatrick, and others, as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the cases of Celia Kirkpatrick et al Cherokee Freedmen	D 673.

Eva L. Finley et al Cherokee Freedmen	D 675.

APPEAL.

The Cherokee Nation respectfully dissents from the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered in this case on July 23, 1904 and prays an appeal to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior.

ARGUMENT.

The record in these consolidated cases shows that Celia Kirkpatrick is the Principal applicant through whom the other applicants embraced herein claim their right to be enrolled as Freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence shows that Celia Kirkpatrick was the slave of a Cherokee Citizen at the commencement of the war of the rebellion; that she went to the State of Kansas during said war and the Commission in its decision finds that she returned to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty of 1866 as specified in the decree of the Court of Claims of February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire et al, trustee et al Vs the Cherokee Nation et al, for the return of Freedmen to the Cherokee Nation.

There are but two propositions in this case:

First: Did the applicant Celia Kirkpatrick return in time to qualify under the treaty of 1866?

Second: If she did qualify under the treaty has she abjured her citizenship by her residence in the state of Kansas since 1866?

Gelia Kirkpatrick testifying in her own behalf claims that she came to the Cherokee Nation with her father ^{George Landrum} ~~Sam Jenkins~~, and guesses that it was in 1866 when her father came; that her mother went on to Muskogee and that her father and mother did not live together and that there was quite a number of others came at the time she came down with her father; among the number who came with them she says were Simon Lynch, Art Williams, Anderson Lynch and his mother, Arch Landrum and that she came to Island Ford on Grand river and remembers that old man Springfrog, Aunt Gelia Wright, Sallie Rider and Hledsee were living in that vicinity at that time. That she thinks it was in the Spring or fall when she came but she does not know how long she stayed and says:

"Q Did you stay there a year?

"A-- I don't know as it was a full year, I was in and out

"Q Did you stay there during the next winter?

"A--Yes sir I was.

"Q Where did you go then? Went up North.

"Q Went up to Kansas? A Yes sir."

And then her testimony shows a long residence in Kansas where she ~~was~~ and her husband lived ~~husband~~ where her husband died and it appears that after the death of her husband Tom Daniels about the year 1880 and she remained around Neosho Falls Kansas for a short time after the death of her husband. Her testimony shows that she has lived a great portion of her time in the State of Kansas; that she remained in the Cherokee Nation a short time on her first trip; that she came down with her father but remained only a short time. She does not know whether she came in the spring or fall and in fact her testimony is indefinite as to when she did actually come.

Arch Landrum, a noted disreputable standing witness who testified for any freedmen, who might desire him testified among other things that the first time he saw Gelia Kirkpatrick after the war was at her father's place in the Cherokee Nation when she came down with her husband and remained a short time and the husband went away and that the applicant soon went away also and remained for years and Landrum did not see her any more until the Wallace Court. In the latter part of the testimony of this disreputable negro he says that Gelia Kirkpatrick came to the Cherokee Nation about a year after he came or in the next Spring after he came himself and he claims that he came about the time the treaty passed or in the summer or fall of 1866; there is a conflict in the testimony of Gelia Kirkpatrick and Arch Landrum. She says she came along when Arch came and that Arch was in the crowd with her whereas Arch says she came about a year after he came.

John Landrum another disreputable colored man takes the stand and testifies to some things and finally concludes that he saw the principal applicant on Grand river once and that he thinks she followed her husband Tom Daniels back to Kansas and he does not know whether Tom ever came to the Cherokee nation.

James Landrum another disreputable colored man takes the stand in behalf of the principal applicant and tries to make it appear that he knows she returned to the Cherokee nation yet when pinned down to what he really knows he shows that he knows almost absolutely nothing about the case and that his testimony is so unreliable as to be entirely unworthy of belief. The testimony of Gelia Kirkpatrick herself shows that she has spent a great portion of her time in Kansas, Witness claims to have kept up with her and yet he knows nothing about this. The attention of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior is especially invited to the statement by Commissioner Breckinridge concerning this witness made in the field at the time the witness testified when he was sitting directly in front of Major Breckinridge and while the Commissioner could see his actions on the stand, his manner of testifying and could see from the witness' action and manner of testifying that he was wholly unreliable. The Commissioner says:

"the testimony of the applicant and of the witness James Landrum down to this point will be filed in the case of James Landrum, as it indicates that his testimony is unreliable and should be taken into consideration in weighing any statement he has made in his own application. His application is Cherokee Freedman B # 864."

We heartily concur in the statement made by Commissioner Breckinridge in the field and we believe that this testimony shows that this negro is so wholly unreliable that the Department will not give his testimony any weight in this case.

Perhaps no witness ever came before the Commission with a record for reckless and false swearing that would rival that of Anderson Lynch, one of the most notorious disreputable colored witnesses who followed the Commission from place to place testifying in hundreds of cases making his testimony for gain and to suit the occasion. In fact his testimony was peddled out to suit the needs of the applicant on occasion required.

This disreputable witness knows it was necessary to see the applicant in the Cherokee Nation within six months after the promulgation of the treaty of 1866 and of course he fixes it that he saw Gelia Kirkpatrick a few times after the war down that she came down from Kansas with Jim Yandrum and landed at Simon Lynch's across grand river. This witness Anderson Lynch is known through out much of the Freedmen testimony as Guy Lynch and the Department will remember that Gelia Kirkpatrick claims to have returned to the Cherokee Nation with a crowd and in this crowd among others she names Anderson Lynch and Arch Yandrum as being along with them. It is strange to note that Arch says nothing about Gelia being along in the crowd with his party as he came to the Cherokee nation; Arch Yandrum does not hear Gelia out in this particular either.

This is the case as made out by the applicant; the burden of proof is on Gelia Kirkpatrick to establish her right to be enrolled as a Freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation and she should establish that right by the testimony of reputable witnesses and if she was entitled to be enrolled we believe she could find reputable people who would give testimony for her.

The Cherokee Nation contends that she has wholly failed to make out her case; that her testimony is conflicting; that her witnesses are disreputable and entirely unworthy of belief. We contend that she has wholly failed to prove that she returned to the Cherokee Nation in time to qualify under the terms of the Treaty of 1866.

As to the second proposition we believe that if Gelia Kirkpatrick ever acquired any rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation that she forfeited or abjured that right by continuing to reside with her husband in the state of Kansas until his death. The testimony shows that she had no effects in the Cherokee Nation; that she left none and that when she came to the Cherokee Nation with her father and her husband, which she claims was in 1866 but which we believe was in 1868 that she merely spent a short time visiting her father and then returned to Kansas with her husband where he died many years thereafter.

Reference is made to the Cherokee Enrollment cases of Ray Strickland and of Julia A. Moore et al and to the opinion of the Attorney General therein.

The Commission in its judgment says:
 "It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission, following the decision of the Department in the case of Joseph B Yeargain et al (I T D 2000- 1000) that Gelia Kirkpatrick etc should be enrolled as Cherokee Freedmen " etc.

It will be remembered that in the yeargain case the Yeargain boys were on all of the Cherokee Rolls, were born in the Cherokee nation and lived therein until about 1896 when they went over the state line to Southwest City Missouri to engage in the mercantile business with in a stones throw of the line of the Cherokee Nation; that they left valuable property in the Cherokee Nation, maintained their homes and large farms in the Cherokee Nation and also kept their in valuable personal property; they never abandoned the Cherokee Nation and had a mercantile establishment at Grove in the Cherokee nation at the same time.

In the case at bar the principal applicant made a flying trip to the Cherokee nation some time after the war and spent some time in the nation but her husband lived in the State of Kansas until his death and she lived with him. She had no property in the Cherokee Nation to retain her citizenship if any she ever had. We submit that the case at bar presents the opposite of the Yeargain case. The Husband of the principal applicant was a citizen and resident of the State of Kansas and his residence fixed here; she never acquired citizenship in the Nation and we take it that if she had acquired citizenship therein she abjured it by non residence.

The Nation shows by the testimony of Dr. C. R. Griffith a reputable citizen of Vinita, Indian territory that the applicant Gelia Kirkpatrick resided in Kansas during a period of time from 1876 until 1887 or 1890 or as long as witness was at Neosho Falls, Kansas.

IN CONCLUSION, we desire to call the attention of the Department to the untrustworthiness of the witnesses who testified for applicant:

Arch Landrum has been convicted and sent to the Penitentiary and his testimony would not be received in any court and he was a standing witness and no one in the community in which he lives would believe him; he has testified in a large number of freedom cases.

Anderson Lynch (Grap) is a witness that knows no date whatever but 1890, was always ready to testify, followed the Commission from place to place to pursue his calling, to wit, to peddle out his testimony as the applicants required it. This is the same man that Willmore Hicks swore (In F. D. 506) that Aaron Martin gave a mule to him and Anderson Lynch to testify for him. In the Jackson Fields case (Freedman D 771) this witness is completely repudiated. Anderson Lynch saw the principal applicant in that case riding through the country alone, 12 years of age in 1866 whereas a number of reputable men from Kansas, leave Jackson Fields in Kansas for years after the war. In the John May case (F. D. 536) he is impeached by E. C. Harford and R. E. Jennes and is contradicted flatly. In the case of Ab Buffington (F. D. 374) he claims to have gone to Mound City, Kansas, for applicants father William Buffington and Stephen Henry, whereas Mrs Josephine Huniston, of Kansas, clearly contradicts him as she does also in the Jesse Vann case (F. D. 234.) on page 23 26 of our general Brief we show where this disreputable witness has testified in 35 freed men doubtful cases.

John Landrum, better known throughout the Freedmen testimony as Jack Landrum is shown on page 35 of the Freedmen general Brief on part of the Cherokee nation to have been a star witness for applicants in nine tech nd ed freedmen doubtful cases. In the case of Alfred Bell this notorious witness is flatly contradicted (F. D. 343). He claims to have seen the applicant on Lightning Creek in 1866 and his owner L. B. Bell swears he left Alfred Bell in Texas in the Spring ^{of 1867, especial,} ~~of 1867~~ attention is called to the fact that this witness is impeached in F. D. 444 where G. W. Learned swears Jim Landrum lived at yeecho Falls, Kansas for eighteen years after the war and that the witness Jack Landrum, otherwise known as John Landrum, was there in Kansas until 1868 and was not in the Cherokee nation himself although he in some way got on the 1866 rail. He is contradicted in the Hayden case (F. D. 498) because yariah Hayden when she applied to the Chambers court stated she came back in 1867 and even this is contradicted and she did not come back for a number of years after that.

We submit that the Commission's decision should be reversed and if it is to be affirmed we believe testimony can be had to show the truth in this case to wit: That George Landrum, although he got himself on the 1866 rail did not come to the Cherokee Nation until the Spring of 1868 and that Gelia Kirkpatrick came for the first time after the war in the Spring of 1868, and we will produce this testimony if the Department will give us another opportunity as the testimony has recently been discovered and could not be had at the former hearing.

Respectfully,

Atty Gen Nation

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,

In the matter of the consolidated cases of Celia Kirkpatrick et al
F. D. 673; for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen.

Motion to Reopen and Remand.

Comes now the representatives of the Cherokee Nation and moves the Department to remand the consolidated cases of Celia Kirkpatrick et al in order that newly discovered additional testimony might be taken. The Cherokee Nation expects to prove, 1st by Abbie Bearden and her daughter of Neosho Falls, Kansas that they were intimately acquainted with the applicants that the said Celia Kirkpatrick was in Kansas and that they knew her intimately since during the war of the rebellion and that she lived in the State of Kansas near Neosho, Falls where she continued to live until about the year of 1889 where she owned a home and other property and kept house.

2nd That Tom Shelton of Neosho Falls, Kansas will swear that he knew the said Celia Kirkpatrick from since during the war, that she resided continuously near Neosho Falls, Kansas from during the war of the rebellion until about the year of 1889 and that she did not return to the Cherokee Nation in 1866 or 1867 as she and her witnesses stated.

3rd The Cherokee Nation expects to prove by a number of other witnesses substantially the same, that the applicant did not return to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty but upon the other hand resided continuously for more than Twenty years in the state of Kansas after the war and still owns property there and has owned property there since the war and that some of her children still remain in the State of Kansas and are therefore not entitled to be enrolled as Freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

4th That all of said testimony is newly discovered, having been found out by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation since said case was submitted, too late to introduce the same prior to the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

5th That this motion is not made for the purposes of delay but in order that all of the facts with reference to the applicants return to the Cherokee Nation subsequent to the war may be ascertained and in order that justice may be done.

In support of the above motion attention is invited to the protest filed on part of the Cherokee Nation calling attention to the unsatisfactory condition of this case and to the disreputableness of the witnesses introduced on part of the applicants and especial attention is invited to the field judgment of Major Breckinridge calling attention to the unreliability of James Landrum principal witness for the applicant.

Respectfully Submitted,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.
MUSKOGEE, I. T., NOVEMBER 16, 1905.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS had in the matter of the application for the enrollment of CELIA KIRKPATRICK for herself and child, Ethel Daniels, Eva L. Finley for herself and children, Haydee and Frank Finley, and George Daniels for himself.

APPEARANCES:

Per Applicants, J. J. Bulger.

Per Cherokee Nation, W. W. Hastings, and J. S. Davenport.

~~XX~~

The records of this office show that on October 12, 1905, on motion of the Cherokee Nation, this case was reopened and remanded for further hearing by the Department. The records also show that on November 4, 1905, the principal applicants were duly notified by registered letter of the Department's action, and that these cases would be taken up for hearing on Thursday, November 16, 1905, and that the attorneys for the Cherokee nation would be permitted to appear and introduce testimony as they desired on that date, at which time the following proceedings were had.

C. W. LEARNED, being first duly sworn, testified as follows, on behalf of the Cherokee Nation:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q What is your name? A C. W. Learned.

Q What is your post office? A Neesho Falls, Kansas.

Q What is your age? A I will be,--I was born in '57, will make it about 49.

Q Were you born in 1857? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you resided at Neesho Falls, Kansas? A Ever since that.

Q Were you born there? A No sir, I was born in Iowa, I was a baby.

Q You came there when you were a baby? A Yes sir.

Q You have lived there then continuously since that time? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know a colored family there, the head of which was Tom Daniels.

? A Yes sir.

Q How early did you know Tom Daniels? A I don't know how much earlier than 1868 but I knew him along about 1868.

Q Was he living there at the time? A Yes sir.

Q Did he have a family, a wife? A Yes sir.

Q Where did he live when you first knew him in 1868? A Right close to the corporation, outside of the corporation.

Q Do you know whether or not his wife was any relation to Jim Landrum? A Sister I believe.

Q How long did he continue to live with his wife just outside of the corporation of Neesho Falls, Kansas? A They must have lived there 18 or 20 years I suppose when he was working at the mill, afterwards he got sick and quit.

Q At whose mill was he working? A It used to be Clark & Co. Mill then they sold it and changed hands around.

- Q About how much a place was Neosho Falls when the war closed?
A It was pretty small, I don't know what the population was then.
Q Your best judgment now, how much? A Three or four hundred.
Q About how large a place is it now? A Between 800 and a 1000.
Q Did you know Tom Daniels and his family, he and his wife? A Yes sir.
Q Did they have some children? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know any of their names? A A few of them. I know Eva Daniels and George Daniels and Fred Daniels and Frank.
Q What became of Frank? A I don't know, they all lived there.
Q What became of George? A I think he is the one that went to Wichita.
Q Do you know whether they had any children buried there? A Yes sir, I don't know how many, quite a lot though.
Q Did Tom Daniels die up there? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know about when? A I don't recollect just when he died, directly after he moved over in town, he didn't live there very long, he was sick when he moved to town.
Q Did you make any examination or cause to see when he bought property in Neosho Falls? A Somewhere along in 1888.
Q Where did he move from when he moved there in 1888? A From over in the country outside of the city limits.
Q Just outside of the city limits? A Might have been 40 or 80 rods over the line.
Q Had he lived there continuously since you first knew him? A Yes sir.
Q Did his wife and family move with him from out there into town?
A Yes sir.
Q What became of his wife and family after Tom Daniels died? A She lived there, worked around and washed awhile for people, and then she afterwards married a man named Kirkpatrick.
Q Did you know Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know about how long after Tom's death she married Kirkpatrick? A No sir, I don't recollect just how long it was.
Q Did you know her first name? A Yes sir.
Q What was that? A Celie.
Q Is she living, she and Kirkpatrick living up there yet? A No sir.
Q About when did they leave Neosho Falls? A They moved down here in the Territory when they left the Falls, must have been 10 or 12 years ago.
Q How did she live up there continuously with Tom Daniels from the time you first knew him until his death? A Yes sir.
Q Did she live there continuously afterwards until she married Kirkpatrick and until 10 or 12 years ago? A Yes sir, when she married Kirkpatrick they moved from there down here with him.
Q Did you ever know of her leaving that country and moving down here or away from there until after her marriage to Kirkpatrick?
A No sir.
Q You say Tom Daniels, her first husband, worked around a mill up there? A Yes sir.
Q Is it a mill you all went to and traded? A Yes sir.
Q Did you see him frequently? A Yes sir.
Q About how often would Tom Daniels come under your observation?
A Sometime two or three times a week and sometimes would not see him for a week or two.
Q But you saw him frequently? A Yes sir.

Mr. Hastings: Before cross examination in order that this might be inquired into, I desire to introduce a certificate of the Probate Court of Woodson County, State of Kansas, dated the 1st day of February, 1905, and signed by J. A. Gregory, Probate Judge and witnessed by the Clerk to the effect that on the 16th day of May, A. D., 1866, Tom Daniels and Sela, his wife, appeared before George L. Wait, County Clerk, and acknowledged themselves husband and wife according to the laws of Kansas in regard to colored persons.

On Behalf of the Commissioner: This certificate appearing to be in due form will be filed.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Did you know of the arrest and trial of Booth Hanks, charged with breaking into a store of Goss, Clark and McConnell? A Yes sir.
- Q Is there any way you connect Tom Daniels with that transaction or that trial? A Yes sir, on account of him being a witness.
- Q Did you know him at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q Had you known him prior to that time? A I might have known him but I couldn't just recollect how long before that.
- Q You fix a date from that time but you may have known him before but you are not positive to the date? A I fix the date from that because I know the circumstances, I might have known him before that but I am not positive.

Mr. Hastings: I desire now to offer a certificate from the Clerk of the District Court, County of Woodson, State of Kansas, to the effect that Booth Hanks was charged with breaking into a store of Goss, Clark and McConnell on or about the 18th of September, 1868, and that one Tom Daniels was a witness in said case.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q Was the Tom Daniels mentioned in this certificate as being a witness in the proceedings had before the Court with reference to Booth Hanks being charged with an attempt to break into a store the identical person about whom you have been giving testimony?
- A That is the Tom Daniels, yes sir.

On Behalf of the Commissioner: This certificate will be filed.

Mr. Hastings: I desire now to offer a transcript of the papers of the Justice Court, signed by W. P. Simms, and James M. Spencer attorney for defendant, in the case of State of Kansas vs. Booth Hanks, dated October 16, 1868, continuing said case until next April term of Court.

On behalf of the Commissioner: This document will be filed.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Now as you were asked a moment or two ago, this Tom Daniels referred to in the first certificate filed and having been a witness in the case of the State of Kansas vs. Booth Hanks is the same Tom Daniels about whom you have been testifying? A Yes sir.
- Q Was he living there at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q You don't know how long he had lived there prior to that time? A No sir, I couldn't say.
- Q Did he own property in the State of Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q Did he own property right on the outside of the town where he first lived? A Yes sir.

Q You state that he afterwards moved into town? A Yes sir.
Q Did he acquire property there? A Bought a house and lot there.
Q And he died there did he? A Yes sir.
Q After Tom Daniels died where did his wife Gelia continue to live?
A She lived there in that house.
Q In the same house? A Yes sir.
Q Until after she married Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir.
Q I believe you stated they lived there some 10 or 12 years ago and came down to this country? A Yes sir, that is what they said, they left there any how.

BY MR. BULGER:

Q You say that you first met and knew Tom Daniels in 1868? A Yes
sir.
Q You were then about 11 years old? A 11 years old.
Q Did you know anything of him prior to that date of your own personal knowledge? A I might have seen him a few times.
Q Do you know that you saw him in 1866? A No sir, I couldn't say for sure.
Q Did you see him in 1867? A I couldn't say.
Q Did you see Gelia his wife in 1866? A I couldn't say.
Q In 1867? A I did in 1868.
Q You saw Gelia in 1868? A Yes sir.
Q What time of the year in 1868 was it you saw her? A Well I don't know as I can recollect what time before this trial. The reason
I recollect this trial this man was staying at our house.
Q And you saw Gelia at that time? A No sir, she wasn't at the trial but I saw her there around the place.
Q About the time of the trial? A Yes sir.
Q When was that trial? A In 1868.
Q September 18, 1868, it was charged? A Yes sir.
Q Then the trial was October 20, continued then? A Yes, that was at the preliminary.
Q You don't remember having seen Gelia Kirkpatrick very long prior to that time? A No sir, I might have seen her but I don't recollect.
Q Did you see her in the winter of 1868? A I couldn't say whether it was in the winter or not.
Q Did you see her in the spring of 1869? A I couldn't tell you anything back of that.
Q That is subsequent? A Yes sir, I saw her right along after that.
Q Did you ever miss her from that neighborhood any length of time?
A She might have been a way a week or so, something like that but they never moved, I never knew them to move.
Q I don't mean Tom, did Gelia always live there continuously? A Yes sir, always lived there.
Q Did she stay there herself? A I don't know, she might have been away a week or so, if she wasn't there her family was there, she might have been a way and back.
Q You don't know but what she personally might have been away? A
She might have been away but not long because we would have known something about it, she visited Jim Landrum's folks who lived on our place.
Q When was that? A From 1868 until they moved down here.
Q Do you know whether or not Gelia Kirkpatrick came down to the Cherokee Nation after 1868 any time prior to the time she moved down here with old man Kirkpatrick? A I don't know.
Q Do you know where George Daniels was born? A I think he was born when they lived outside of the city limits.
Q Do you know where he was born? A Yes sir, I know where the place was, I suppose he was born there, I wasn't there when he was born.

- Q Do you know where Eva was born? A I think there was one born after they moved to town, that was the youngest one I think. I don't know whether that is the one named Haydee or not.
- Q Do you know where Ethel was born? A I think she was probably born after they moved to town.
- Q Was Tom Daniels living when Ethel was born? A I don't know but it was right close to there, she was born after they moved to town.
- Q Do you know that she wasn't born in the Cherokee Nation? A I don't think she was.
- Q Do you know it? A No sir, I couldn't swear to it, because I wasn't there, I don't think there was any of Tom Daniels' children born down here, if they did it was before they come up there.
- Q You say Tom Daniels was sick? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know what was the matter with him? A Some thought it was the consumption, I don't know whether it was or not, he worked there a long time and they thought he inhaled the dust from the mill, but I think they thought he died with the consumption.
- Q Do you know whether or not he had consumption that was supposed to have been contracted in the army? A No sir, I don't. He lost a good many children up there and a good many people thought they died with the consumption.
- Q Did Tom Daniels send his children to school in Neesho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q When he lived out in the country sent them to the Falls? A I think when they did go to school they went from there into town because it was quite a ways and bad roads up to the District school.
- Q What did Tom do around Neesho Falls all this time? A Worked in the mill until he got sick.
- Q How long was he sick before he died? A I don't know just how long he was sick.
- Q Was he in such a financial condition that he could get along without any assistance? A No sir, people helped him some.
- Q Did his wife remain with him all the time he was sick? A Yes sir, she lived with him, the old miller he worked for a long time, they helped him a good deal because he had been such a faithful man to him there.
- Q Did his wife leave there after Tom died before she married Kirkpatrick? A You mean leave town.
- Q Yes, leave Neesho Falls? A I don't think she did, I think Kirkpatrick married her and they went over on his place a little while, I don't know, but he married her there in town.
- Q How long did she and Kirkpatrick live together after they were married until they moved to the Territory? A I don't know how long. I think they brought him back there and buried him.
- Q Do you know who brought him back? A No sir.
- Q Then in substance you don't know a thing about these Daniels prior to about September, 1868? A Yes sir, that is about as far back, I might have seen them occasionally a little before that.
- Q Then after that you do know that Tom Daniels lived around Neesho Falls until his death? A Yes sir.
- Q And he kept his children with him there? A Yes sir.
- Q You don't know that his wife remained there all the time? A I know she lived there but she never moved away, she might have been away on a visit but never moved away.
- Q You don't know that his wife stayed there all the time? A Not unless she went away on a visit, never moved anything away from the house, she might have been off on a visit for all I knew, but they made that there home all the time.
- Q That is Tom made it his home? A Her and Tom both until the time she married Kirkpatrick and come down here.
- Q Did she remain at home all the time? A I couldn't say as I tell you.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q You never missed her from there? A No sir.
Q How it is evident that she married Kirkpatrick about 1896?
A They continuously lived there until she married Kirkpatrick and moved down here.
Q Now you state you are positive you knew them from 1868 but you might have known them before but you fix that date from this trial? A Yes sir.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q About how old is George Daniels? A I don't know just how old he is.
Q Do you know whether he came to the Cherokee Nation with Celia?
A When she came down with Kirkpatrick?
Q Yes? A I don't think he did.
Q Do you know whether he stayed up there after that? A No sir, they lived up there, I never saw any of the boys around after she married Kirkpatrick.
Q Do you know whether Eva came down with her? A I couldn't say, she used to work around up there.

WITNESS EXCUSED.

E. B. MOORE, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q What is your name? A E. B. Moore.
Q What is your post office? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
Q How old are you? A I am about 57.
Q How long has Neosho Falls, Kansas, been your post office? A About '56 or '56, I think we came there in '58.
Q You have lived there since 1858? A Yes sir.
Q Did you know a colored man there with a family named Tom Daniels?
A Yes sir.
Q About when did you first learn to know him? A Well about the first time I learned to know him was, I think about 1867. There was a dance one night and Tom was playing a violin.
Q Where did he live at that time? A Just at that time I really couldn't say, but shortly after that he lived just north of my place, I lived right in the northeast corner of the city limits and owned land adjoining the town.
Q Your property that you lived on the city was the property just adjoining the property he lived on? A No sir, just adjoining the city limits.
Q Then he lived in the northeast corner of the forty that joined the city limits? A Yes sir.
Q How far from that forty did you live? A Just over the line on the south side.
Q On the next forty? A In the city limits.
Q Yes, but that would be the next forty in the city limits? A Yes sir.
Q When did you say you knew of him living out there? A Well he lived there on that ten acres ever since about 1870, that I know of, I first knew him, I don't know just where he did live.
Q But you knew him from 1867 on? A I didn't know just where he lived at that time but somewhere around the town.
Q Did you know he had a wife? A Yes sir.
Q Did you know her name? A Celia.
Q Was she related, or do you know to Jim Landrum? A She was a sister.
Q Did you know Jim Landrum also? A Yes sir.
Q How long did you continue to know Tom Daniels and his wife? A I knew them all the time up until Tom died.

- Q Where did Tom die? A There in the Falls, in the city.
- Q About how long had he been living there, how long had it been since he had moved from outside the city limits over into the town before he died? A I think he lived over there, I don't know just how long, some three or four or five years.
- Q You are not right positive about it? A No sir, I am not, right at that period, it was after that I was down at Cherryvale.
- Q You went to Cherryvale? A I didn't go there until 1897.
- Q Did Tom Daniels die there in Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q What became of his wife Celia after his death? A She still lived there.
- Q Did she afterwards marry? A Yes sir, she afterwards married a colored man named Kirkpatrick, he owned a piece of land just north of this land Tom owned.
- Q About how long did they live there before they left that country after she married Kirkpatrick? A I think they left there somewhere in about 1897 or 1898.
- Q Did you know Tom Daniels and his wife continuously from 1867 or 1868 until after Tom's death and then her until after her marriage to Kirkpatrick and until they moved and left for down here? A I did.
- Q What did Tom Daniels do? A He worked in a mill there all the time, I knew him until he became sick, became consumptive, quit work when he got unable.
- Q Did you have occasion to see him frequently? A Most every day, I lived right on the corner where he would go back and forth from home to the mill, come in contact with him most every day.
- Q Saw his wife frequently? A Quite frequently, didn't live over forty rods from us.
- Q Did they have some children? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know where they lived and died up there? A Some died there / some went away, scattered around and left home, some went quite young.
- Q Do you know whether Tom took part in the elections or not? A He voted, I don't know whether he took any very active part.
- Q Did he own that tract of land up there on which he lived? A So I understand. I think there was nearly always a mortgage on it.
- Q Do you know whether he acquired any property in town when he moved in there? A Yes sir, he bought a lot in town, some cheap property.
- Q Who continued to occupy that after his death? A She did until she married, his wife.
- Q Until she married Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir, and he owned a forty acres northwest of where Tom used to live in the country and they moved out on his forty there.

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q You say you first remember Tom Daniels in the year 1867? A Yes sir, about then.
- Q Along in the winter time? A Yes sir.
- Q At a dance, playing the violin? A Yes sir.
- Q Was his wife Celia with him? A No sir, I don't know that she was.
- Q Did you know her then? A Not just then, no sir.
- Q How long after? A It might have been a year or two, about 1868 something like that, I knew more of them then that was the first time.
- Q You were just a young fellow these times? A Yes sir, just a young fellow, at a dance that night just looking on.
- Q Did you know the Celia Kirkpatrick to be in Neosho Falls the winter there or during the year 1868? A I never knew of her leaving there, I knew they lived right there and I am quite positive they never left unless it was on a visit.

- Q There is no question about Tom leaving there, but do you know of Celia personally to have gone away from there? A I don't know that she ever did.
- Q But do you know personally? A If she did she didn't go for a long time.
- Q Did you have occasion to see her? A Not more than any other family, she might have been gone a week or ten days.
- Q Month or two and you didn't have anything to do with them? A No sir, only knew them as a colored family there.
- Q You were acquainted with Tom Daniels? A Quite well acquainted with him.
- Q But knew nothing of Celia more than that she was Tom's wife?
- A Yes sir.
- Q But you don't know that Celia didn't come down, for instance to the Cherokee Nation to keep up her rights here? A I don't think she did come.
- Q You don't know that she didn't come? A No sir.
- Q Do you know where she was in 1866? A No sir.
- Q Do you know where she was in 1867? A In 1867 as I said when I first learned about Tom Daniels, I didn't know anything about his family.
- Q Do you know where Celia was in 1868? A As I said in 1868 and '69 I saw them right on from there.
- Q You see from this evidence Tom was married in 1866? A He was married before but they passed a law up there that all colored people that come from the Territory that didn't have license, they made them go and marry over.
- Q In order to free themselves from that adultery act up there?
- A Yes sir, they were living together before that.
- Q Do you know what year that Tom Daniels became ill enough to quit work? A Well that was somewhere near about 1890.
- Q About 1890? A Yes sir, 1890.
- Q He worked up until 1890? A He was probably off a year or so, I don't know just how long he quit, probably a year or so.
- Q Do you know in what year he died? A I think he died in 1890.
- Q Did you know those children of Tom's? A Yes sir, I knew some of them.
- Q Do you know when George was born? A No sir, I don't.
- Q Do you know where? A Part of them were born right over at the Falls, and I judge all of them, I don't know whether they had any children when I became acquainted with them.
- Q Do you know where the last child was born, Ethel? A I think on that ten acres on the northeast of me.
- Q Was she born after or before Tom died? A Before Tom died.
- Q Do you know whether or not all of the children were born in the State of Kansas? A I don't know whether they had any children before they came there or not, I don't hardly think they did, they might have possibly had one.
- Q Do you know whether the children were born after they came to Kansas after you got acquainted? A If they were not born before they came they were evidently born after they came there.
- Q Do you know whether they were born in the State of Kansas? A I told you I don't know, they might have had a child before they came there.
- Q Do you know whether or not all of the children after they reached Kansas, after you got acquainted with them in 1868, were born in Kansas? A I think they were all born in Kansas after that.
- Q You just think that? A I am quite positive.
- Q Because Tom's residence was there? A They lived there and I knew of the family.

- Q Did you miss this woman Celia from Kansas in 1860 or any time during the time? A No sir, I didn't.
- Q You had no occasion to remember it? A No sir.
- Q Did you miss her from Kansas in 1870? A Never did miss her from Kansas as far as that is concerned.
- Q Have you ever had occasion to miss her? A No sir, not as I know of.
- Q You just knew her as the wife of a darkey that lived there in town? A Yes sir, knew they lived there and had their family there and living there continuously. I worked with Tom Daniels at the mill in 1870 and lived there from that on.
- Q Where did Celia go after Tom died? A When she married Kirkpatrick he took her out on his place.
- Q Did she come back to the Cherokee Nation or leave that neighborhood after Tom died before she married Kirkpatrick? A No sir, she didn't, not that I know of.
- Q Do you know that she didn't? A I am quite sure she didn't, but of course she might have went visiting but I don't know as to that. They always had a home there, she lived there until she married Kirkpatrick.
- Q How long did she live there after she married Kirkpatrick before she came down here? A There until about 1895 or 1896.

W I T N E S S E X O U S E D.

J. A. LYNN, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q What is your name? A J. A. Lynn.
- Q What is your post office? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
- Q What is your age? A 55.
- Q How long has Neosho Falls, Kansas, been your post office? A We have lived there 41 years last September.
- Q You lived there then and now during the war? A Yes sir, same there during the war.
- Q In 1864? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you know a colored man with a family by the name of Tom Daniels? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you know Booth banks? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you remember any circumstance of his getting into some trouble and being charged with breaking into a store of Cass, Clark & McConnell? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you remember whether you knew Tom Daniels at that time? A I did, I knew him at that time and probably before.
- Q You fixed it from that time? A Yes sir.
- Q You say you knew him before that time but don't remember how long? A No sir.
- Q Do you remember whether this Tom Daniels was a witness in that trial? A No was.
- Q Did you know his wife? A Not personally acquainted with his wife.
- Q You knew he had a wife? A I knew he had a family.
- Q Do you know where they lived when you first knew him? A Yes sir.
- Q Where? A About three quarters of a mile northeast of Neosho Falls just outside of the city limits? A Yes sir, on the north across adjoining.
- Q You say he had a family at that time? A Yes sir.

- Q Did he own some land there? A I suppose he owned that land, he lived on it for several years.
- Q He had a family you say? A Yes sir.
- Q Have some children? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did he continue to live there? A He lived there as long as his health was good, then he moved to town after his health broke down, perhaps 20 years anyway.
- Q Did he move from there in to Neosho Falls, in the town? A Yes sir.
- Q What did he do while living outside the city limits? A He worked around the mill.
- Q Did you have occasion to see him frequently? A Yes sir, it was where we had out grinding done.
- Q About how large a place was Neosho Falls when you went there at the close of the war? A Perhaps two or three hundred.
- Q You knew about everybody there? A Yes sir.
- Q You say you know he had a family? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know whether or not his wife was in any way related to Jim Landrum? A My understanding was she was a sister.
- Q Did you have occasion to see her? A Yes sir, but I wasn't personally acquainted with her until after Daniels' death and she married Kirkpatrick.
- Q But you did afterwards become acquainted with her? A Yes sir.
- Q Where did Tom Daniels die? A In Neosho Falls.
- Q And you say she afterwards married a man named Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir, that land adjoining Kirkpatrick was mine.
- Q Then they bought some land adjoining you? A Yes sir.
- Q Did they move out there? A Yes sir.
- Q Where did they move from? A Her property in Neosho Falls on Kirkpatrick's farm.
- Q Did they move from property where Tom Daniels had been living prior to his death? A Yes sir.
- Q From that same house? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did they live out on this land that you speak of near you then before they left that country? A Well I don't know, there is nothing I can remember it by, they left out there about 4 or 5 years, maybe 3 or 4 years, I don't know just how long.
- Q About how long ago did they leave that country? A They left there 7 or 8 years ago.
- Q You mean then to testify that you are positive of knowing Tom Daniels as early as this Booth weeks trial in 1868 and perhaps before, and you know he had a family? A Yes sir.
- Q And you knew he lived there continuously until his death? A On the farm and in town, yes sir. Of course I was perhaps as much as three months at a time a way going to school. Three months was perhaps the longest I was ever out of the neighborhood.
- Q And when you went back you found Tom Daniels there every time? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you ever have any occasion to miss Tom Daniels and his family away from there? A No sir.
- Q As far as you know he lived there all the time? A Yes sir.
- Q What became of the property that Kirkpatrick bought out next to you? A He sold it to a Mr. Brenner.
- Q Is Kirkpatrick alive or dead, do you know? A He is dead as I understand, they brought him back to Neosho Falls.
- Q You understand they brought him back for burial? A Yes sir.
- Q You were not at the burial? A No sir.

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q The first time you knew of Kirkpatrick having known Tom Daniels was about September 18, 1868, was it? A I can date that by the circumstances that happened at that time but I was acquainted with Tom before that.

- Q Did you know his wife Gelia at that time? A Wasn't personally acquainted with her.
- Q Do you know where she was? A I suppose she was at home.
- Q Do you know? A Of course I don't know, his wife might have been away from home quite a little while.
- Q When did you become personally acquainted with Gelia? A After she married Kirkpatrick.
- Q That was what year? A It was somewhere in the 90's, I think, I couldn't state positively.
- Q Do you know anything about her location during the year 1866?
- A Not personally with her, Tom was the only one of his family I knew.
- Q Did you know Tom in 1866? A I presume I did, because I was there in 1864, he was at the mill in 1868.
- Q Did you know Gelia in 1867? A Not that I know of, I wasn't personally acquainted with her.
- Q You don't know a thing about her only that Tom had a wife and you supposed his wife was living there and you became personally acquainted with her after she married Kirkpatrick in 1890's sometime? A Yes sir.
- Q You don't know where Gelia was all this time? A No sir, not a thing about her.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q What you mean to say you knew he had a wife and family but didn't know her name? A I knew her name.
- Q But you were not personally acquainted with her? A I was personally acquainted with some of the Children and Tom.

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q What was Tom's physical condition in 1868? A He seemed to be healthy, and worked around about the mill.
- Q Did he have any indications of consumption? A I didn't know anything about it until he was taken down.
- Q Do you remember anything about what kind of consumption? A No sir, I don't know.
- Q Do you remember what was the cause of that consumption? A No sir, I don't.
- Q Do you know where Gelia went after Tom's death before she married Kirkpatrick? A She lived in Neosho Falls, as far as I know.
- Q You don't know where she was personally? A No sir.
- Q You knew all these children? A I knew some of them.
- Q Were they sent to school there at Neosho Falls? A I don't know, I wasn't in that school district.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q Did Gelia Kirkpatrick bring her children down to the Cherokee Nation when she came? A There was some she didn't, they were buried up there.
- Q Do you know the names of her children alive when she came down here? A Ethel was the baby, and I don't know about the others, there was one the boys left, some of them were dead, one died after she married Kirkpatrick.
- Q Did she have a child named George? A Well I think she did, I was better acquainted with Fred and Frank and Dunward.
- Q Do you know her oldest daughter? A Not positive, I think her name was Cynthia but I would not be positive.
- Q Do you know whether she had a daughter named Eva? A Yes sir.
- Q What became of Eva when Gelia left Kansas? A She wasn't living right in the neighborhood, she was living away from there, I don't know where.

WITNESSES EXCUSED.

--12--

GEORGE H. LYNN, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q What is your name? A George H. Lynn.
- Q What is your age? A 50.
- Q What is your post office? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
- Q How long has that been your post office or how long have you lived in that vicinity? A Ever since September, 1864.
- Q Did you learn to know a colored man up there by the name of Tom Daniels? A Yes sir.
- Q About how early do you think you learned to know him? A I judge it was in the 60's but I couldn't say just exactly when.
- Q How long after the war? A Probably a couple or three years.
- Q Did she have a family? A Yes sir.
- Q Where was he living? A He was living north of Neosho Falls.
- Q About how far from the city? A About a quarter of a mile.
- Q How long did he continue to live there with his family? A I would judge he lived there for, --I don't know exactly, about 15 or 20 years.
- Q What finally became of Tom Daniels? A He died in Neosho Falls.
- Q Had they moved from the country into town? A Yes sir, moved from the place his health failed him.
- Q Before his health failed him what had he been doing principally? A Working around the grist mill there.
- Q Did he and his wife have some children? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you have occasion to see him and the members of his family frequently? A Yes sir, I would see where he lived and see he had a family.
- Q You never visited his house, just knew he had a family? A Yes sir and knew where he lived.
- Q Do you know whether he moved his family into town? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know whether he owned a house there? A Not any more than I just understand he had bought that place where he lived.
- Q Where did his wife continue to live after he died? A I couldn't say, that is right immediately after his death, but I didn't know of her leaving, or living anywhere else except where he died.
- Q Did she marry anybody? A Yes sir, she married Kirkpatrick.
- Q Then what became of her? A They moved about a half mile east on Kirkpatrick's place.
- Q Then her husband Kirkpatrick owned a farm? A Yes sir.
- Q About when did he leave up there? A In the neighborhood of 7 or 8 years ago.
- Q Now say from a year or two after the war when you first learned to know Tom Daniels did you ever miss him from there up until his death? A No sir.
- Q Did you ever miss his family away from there up until after his wife married Kirkpatrick? A No sir, I never missed his family.
- Q You had occasion to see him as you did other people? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you ever know of Tom, his wife and family moving from there down to the Cherokee Nation prior to his wife's marriage to Kirkpatrick? A No sir.
- Q You say they had some children? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know any of their names? A I don't remember their names. I heard of a boy they called Dunward and knew of a girl or two after she married Kirkpatrick. She would come to our house and help my wife clean house.
- Q Did you know Mrs. Kirkpatrick's first name? A No sir, I don't remember her given name.
- Q Do you know whether she was related to Jim Landrum? A Always understood she was a sister of Jim Landrum.
- Q But this woman that you knew as Kirkpatrick's wife was the same woman that had formerly been the wife of Tom Daniels? A Yes sir.

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q When did you say you first became acquainted with Tom Daniels?
- A I couldn't say exactly but I would judge from circumstances that happened that it was in the latter part of the '60's.
- Q Did you become acquainted with his wife at that time? A Not personally, no sir.
- Q Did you become acquainted with any members of his family at that time? A No sir.
- Q Were you ever at his home place there in Neosho Falls? A Not in the house, no sir.
- Q Did you ever see his wife Gelia, prior, well in the '60's, did you ever see her there? A I probably had seen her but I don't have any remembrance of seeing her.
- Q You don't know anything about Gelia at all? A Not as Gelia I don't.
- Q But the wife of Tom Daniels? A I saw her there.
- Q That is in the '60's? A No sir, not that I know of in the '60's.
- Q Do you know where she was in 1866? A No sir.
- Q In the year 1867? A No sir, I couldn't say the positive date.
- Q In 1866? A Well from what I can understand I didn't know her personally, I knew Tom and that he had a family.
- Q Do you know that Gelia Daniels at that time lived and remained physically in this Tom Daniels' home continuously? A No sir, I wasn't at the house but could see he lived there, I knew he had a family.
- Q Do you know about Tom Daniels physical condition? A I know he made a good trusted hand, went by that name.
- Q Did you understand that he was afflicted with consumption? A Yes sir, simply because I heard of his having so many children that died with consumption, then I knew him when he had the consumption.
- Q Did you ever talk with him about that disease? A I couldn't say that I did, I went to see him while he was lying sick, I knew he had the consumption.
- Q In what year did he die? A I couldn't tell exactly what year but I would judge about 15 or 16 years ago.
- Q Do you know where the youngest child of Tom Daniels was born?
- A No sir, I don't.
- Q Did you know Gelia Kirkpatrick during her widowhood, from the time of Tom's death until she married Kirkpatrick? A I have no personal remembrance of it at all, probably I knew of it then but I can't call it to mind.
- Q Do you remember what year she married Kirkpatrick? A I couldn't say exactly.
- Q Do you know how long she lived with Kirkpatrick then before she moved to the Territory? A No sir, I don't know how long but I judge three or four years.
- Q Then about all you know about Gelia Kirkpatrick is that you understood she was Tom Daniels wife until about the time of Tom's death, and then you became personally acquainted with her, and knew she married Kirkpatrick? A I never knew her as Gelia, I knew Kirkpatrick married Tom Daniels' widow and I saw her at our house afterwards.
- Q And all during the '60's and '70's you know nothing about this woman personally? A No sir, nothing about her personally.
- Q Nor in the first of the '80's you didn't know her personally, anything about her location only you understood that Tom Daniels had married Jim Landrum's sister? A Yes sir, I always understood they were brother-in-law, that Tom Daniels married Jim Landrum's sister.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You knew Tom had a family? A Yes sir.

Q But you didn't get personally acquainted with his wife? A No sir.

BY MR. BULGER:

Q But you don't know that Tom's wife was away from his home a part of the time do you? A I never heard of her leaving.

Q You don't know that she wasn't away do you? A No sir, I wasn't there at Daniels' place until I went to see him just before he died.

Q She could have been away from there two or three months at a time and you knew nothing about it? A Yes sir, I suppose she could, but I think I would have heard of it.

WITNESS EXCUSED.

Mr. Bulger: First I want to move for a continuance of this case until two weeks from today to give Gelia Kirkpatrick an opportunity to introduce whatever testimony she desires in support of her claim. Second, I desire to introduce the certificate of Dr. Louis Bagby. I also desire to introduce an affidavit of Nellie Landrum, a Cherokee Indian, who swears on the 15th day of November, that she is physically unable to make the trip on the 15th. Then I desire to introduce these interrogatories to be propounded to Nellie Landrum in the form of a deposition. Now besides the physical condition of the principal applicant, Gelia Kirkpatrick, and the witness, Nellie Landrum, on behalf of the principal applicant, Gelia Kirkpatrick, I wish to state that the letter of the Secretary of the Interior of the 12th of October, 1905, states that as the Cherokee Attorneys have ascertained that the principal applicant's witnesses are disreputable and entirely unworthy of belief, they will again be given an opportunity to introduce evidence to impeach such witnesses. Inasmuch as the entire evidence in this case here today was not a long time as designated by the Secretary of the Interior, and inasmuch as the principal applicant is physically unable to be here and one of her witnesses unable to be here, I desire to ask that this case be continued until two weeks from today to give the principal applicant an opportunity to introduce her witnesses. It will be noticed that on the 12th day of October, 1905, the Secretary of the Interior remanded this case and it was not until November 4, 1905, that the Bureau Commission or the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes notified the applicants of the matters, and for all these reasons I desire a continuance as asked.

Mr. Hastings: The Cherokee Nation objects to the motion for continuance first upon the ground that the alleged certificate of the doctor as to the illness of Gelia Kirkpatrick, the principal applicant is not sworn to, and is therefore not admissible in evidence under the rules of practice in this Territory. Second, it is not alleged in the affidavit of Nellie Landrum of the facts about which testimony is desired, and therefore it is not shown the same is relevant and material, and third, the Cherokee Nation objects to taking depositions in this case because it has not been the rules of practice of the Commission, and fourth, we object for a continuance in this case for the reason that as the record hereinabove shows that this case was reopened and remanded upon motion of the Attorneys for the Cherokee Nation with affidavits attached of G. W. Learned, H. B. Moore and J. S. Lynn, all three of whom were brought from Seelye Falls, Kansas, and in addition, George H. Lynn, and it is unfair to the Cherokee Nation to have this case continued when these witnesses could not be used in rebuttal of any testimony attempted to be introduced on behalf of the applicants. Fifth, it is not shown that Gelia Kirkpatrick could have gotten any other evidence if she desired to introduce on her behalf, and neither is it shown that Nellie Lawdum is the only person who could be secured as a witness to testify in her behalf, and inasmuch as it is a question of her return and continuous residence in the Cherokee Nation in 1866 and subsequent thereto, in the event that this applicant claims to have returned or did return and establish a residence, she certainly could have been able to secure other witnesses other than Nellie Lawdum to appear before the Commission and testify to that fact. The record shows that Gelia Kirkpatrick lives in the town of Vinita, 48 miles north of Muskogee on the M. K. & T. railroad, and the record further shows that she was notified on the 4th of November, 1906, or 12 days before this case was set down for trial, and therefore had plenty of time to consult with her attorneys who resided in the same town and make preparation for her trial upon this date. Especially in view of the fact that she was notified that witnesses who lived outside of the Indian Territory and in the State of Kansas would be present to testify in her case.

Mr. Bulger: In reply to this statement of the representative of the Cherokee Nation, the representative of the applicants begs to submit that this applicant, Gelia Kirkpatrick, did not receive official notice of the fact that her case was set for retrial today until almost a month after the fact was known to the Cherokee Attorneys, and that she is a very poor woman and wasn't financially able to employ or secure a number of witnesses to bring down here from Kansas, Vinita or elsewhere to rebut and all sort of evidence that the Cherokee representatives might produce, and inasmuch as the motion for the remanding of this case filed by the Cherokee Attorneys, which is supported by the affidavits of the witnesses, some of whom testified here today, did not state the same facts that the Secretary of the Interior granted the representatives of the Cherokee Nation permission to prove or disprove, and inasmuch as this whole matter has been of a nature entirely unexpected to this applicant, she asks that this case be continued until two weeks from today, and that on that date she be permitted to introduce then evidence she may desire in support of her application.

On Behalf of the Commissioner: The documents offered on behalf of the applicants, not appearing to be in due form, will not be filed. As the case was reopened on motion of the Cherokee Nation, it being alleged that the applicant was physically unable to appear in person on this day, the case will be continued on motion of the Attorney for applicant, but as it is probable two weeks from today will fall on Thanksgiving, this case will be continued until December 7, 1906, at nine o'clock A. M.

George H. Lessley, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported the proceedings had in the above entitled cause, and that the above and foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of November, 1906.

- Q Back and forth from Kansas to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Which did you consider your home, Kansas or the Cherokee Nation?

Mr. Davengert: I object to that, her husband and she lived where her home was and not that she considered, ~~Shoon Landrum~~.

A Grand River, Cherokee Nation.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q You left the Cherokee Nation during the war, you and Tom, your husband, and went to Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q In what place in Kansas did you go? A Neosho Falls.
- Q How long did you stay there, you and Tom, and then back to the Cherokee Nation? A As long as I remember, we were in Kansas, and then back to the Cherokee Nation.
- Q What was the matter with Tom?

- Q How old is your son George? A I couldn't say, his name is on the book here I guess, I don't remember.
- Q About how old is he? A I couldn't say, I won't try.
- Q Well when was he born, what year? A That is too hard for me.
- Q How old is Eva Finley, was George born before the war? A No sir.
- Q Was Eva born before the war? A No sir, I don't remember.
- Q How long after the war was it until George was born? A You will have to ask somebody that knows, I can't remember.
- Q You remember when you lived at Neosho Falls, Kansas, do you not?
- A I remember when I was there.
- Q Do you remember when you lived in a little house on the east side of the river and just across from the main public road there where a man ran a mill? A No sir.
- Q Did you ever live on the east side of the river there about from the real town of Neosho Falls, Kansas, was and near where there was a mill? A No sir, we lived in town.
- Q Wasn't it on the opposite side of the river there from the main part of the town at one time you lived? In order that you may specifically answer yes or no, I will ask you if you didn't live in the town of Neosho Falls, Kansas, and just across the big road from where there was a mill on the bank of the river? A Yes sir, we stopped there awhile.
- Q You stopped there quite awhile didn't you? A No sir, I was in the house.
- Q While living there I will ask you if you ever knew a family named Fenders, who lived just across the road and up the road from the mill? A No sir.
- Q Have you seen that old gentleman out there today? A No sir.
- Q I will ask you if while living in Neosho Falls, Kansas, if you got acquainted with Charlie Learned? A I knew old man Learned.
- Q You knew his boys didn't you? A No sir.
- Q Didn't you know Charlie? A I knew of his father.

- Q Don't you remember Mr. Fender's who lived there and ran the engine at the mill there? A No sir, I don't remember him.
- Q Your husband Tom Paul's was at Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.
- Q There is that gentleman I was speaking about, did you ever see that old man finishing Mr. Fender's? A Yes sir, I have seen that man once or twice.
- Q Was George born before your husband died? A Yes sir.
- Q Wasn't you and your husband living at Neosho Falls, Kansas, the time he died? A Yes sir.
- Q And were not you looking after him, the people that were and then he died? A Yes sir, I was looking after him, but I don't know what he died of.

- Q Be you want to be understood that you and ~~brother~~ George Daniels didn't live in a house and wasn't living there cooking, eating and sleeping in a house at Neosho Falls, Kansas, prior to his death for many years? A No sir.
- Q Where were you when Tom Daniels died? A I was there at Neosho Falls.
- Q I made a mistake in my question awhile ago, I want to ask you now if it isn't a fact that your husband was died in Neosho Falls, Kansas, and yourself wasn't living, cooking, and sleeping and eating in a house in or near Neosho Falls, Kansas, and had been for several years prior to your husband's death? A No sir, just like I told you what I went in and out.
- Q I am not asking anything about living in and out, I want to know about living there? A No sir.
- Q Did you ever get acquainted with a man named Moore at Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q Didn't you live near where he lived at the time of your husband's death? A No sir.
- Q Where was your husband when he died? A Over the river town.
- Q Was he at a hotel or boarding house? A No sir, at a little house there, rented.
- Q Who was living with him? A Nobody.
- Q There by himself? A No sir, with an old man named Kirkpatrick.
- Q The man you afterwards married? A Yes sir.
- Q Where were you? A I was there part of the time and part of the time here at father's.
- Q Wasn't he making his home in that house and living there up to the time of his death? A No sir.
- Q Didn't live there? A He was there during the sickness.
- Q Wasn't he there before his sickness? A Yes sir.

- Q Did Tom Daniels ever keep house in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Yes, at his father's.
- Q Was it his house or his father's house? A Place his father give him.
- Q Where did his father live? A Over there across the river.
- Q Where were you and Kirkpatrick married? A Up in Kansas.
- Q At what place? A Neosho Falls.
- Q When? A I don't know when it was, I don't know what year.
- Q How many years ago? A I don't remember.
- Q Was it after Eva was born? A I had all of Tom's children.
- Q As I understand you you say Eva was born on Grand River? A Yes sir.
- Q Which one of the children was born at Neosho Falls when that doctor attended you? A It was one that is dead.
- Q Was that an older or younger child than Eva? A It was an older one.
- Q Where was George born? A On Grand River.
- Q What year? A I told you I didn't know.
- Q Don't you know what years it was your children were born? A I know when they were born but not what year.
- Q Don't you know that George Daniels who is the son of Tom Daniels who you are the mother of was born on the river at Neosho Falls, Kansas? A No sir.

Q Do you say now that he was not born there? A No sir.
 Q Where was George Daniels, your son, born? A On Grand River.
 Q At what place? A At Simon Lynch's place and Halls.
 Q Was George born before you and your husband Tom Daniels were married after the war closed? A He was born after Tom came home.
 Q I said was he born after your marriage ceremony that was gone through after the close of the war under the laws of the State of Kansas? A I don't know a thing about it.
 Q I believe you said there was no marriage ceremony? A As I remember no.
 Q You would have remembered it if you had been married wouldn't you?
 A I was married when I went out of the Nation.
 Q I said if you were married in Kansas you would remember it?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Well were you married or were not? A I don't remember it.
 Q Do you state that you were not married in Kansas? A Not as I remember.
 Q Didn't you tell me awhile ago positively that you were not married in Kansas to Tom Daniels? A Yes sir.
 Q Was that the truth? A I think that is the truth.
 Q What year did Tom Daniels die? A I don't remember that.
 Q Do you know what year this is? A No sir.
 Q What year did you move to Vinita? A I don't know what year it was.
 Q Where did you move from when you went to Vinita? A From Grand River.
 Q Where -- Is Kirkpatrick dead? A Yes sir.
 Q Where did he die? A He died at Vinita.
 Q What year? A I don't know what year it was.
 Q Was he buried at Vinita? A No sir.
 Q Where was he buried? A Buried in Kansas.
 Q At what place? A Neosho Falls.
 Q Same place where he and you married? A Yes sir.
 Q Didn't he die at Neosho Falls? A No sir.
 Q Who treated him in his last sickness? A Dr. Chickadee.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

Q Your son George is shown upon the Kern-Clifton roll to be about 34 years of age now, do you think that is about right? A I reckon that is about right.
 Q Were you and Tom Daniels ever married more than once? A Not as I remember, I remember being married here before we went out of here.
 Q That was before the war? A Yes sir.
 Q Did you return to the Cherokee Nation at the same time your brother Jim Landrum did? A Yes sir, I think he was along in the crowd.

BY MR. BULOHNT:

Q This marriage certificate they have been talking about, do you remember anything about after the war about the officers in Kansas requiring all colored people to get or go through a sort of ceremony under the laws of the State of Kansas.

Mr. Davenport: I object to that as leading and trying to corrupt her.

A No sir.
 Q You say you don't remember anything about it? A No sir.
 Q Did Tom Daniels ever come back to the Cherokee Nation after he went up there that time? A Yes sir, he came there twice.
 Q How many times did you come? A I don't know.

ANNA THOMAS, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q What is your name? A Anna Thomas.
Q What is your post office? A Muskogee.
Q Where do you live? A Cherokee nation, down on Dirty.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Are you married? A Yes sir.
Q What was your name before you were married? A Landrum.
Q Who is your father? A George Landrum.
Q Who is your mother? A Peggie Landrum.
Q How old are you now? A I guess I am about 33.
Q Were you the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the war of the rebellion? A Yes sir.
Q Did you remain in the Cherokee nation during the rebellion? A No sir, not during the war, they carried us to Kansas.
Q Did you return to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q When did you return? A We came back when they said for us to come back.
Q With whom did you come? A With my sister Gelia.
Q Who else? A My sister Gelia, my grandmother, there was a whole lot of us come, I couldn't exactly tell all that did come when she come.
Q What year was that? A I don't know what year I guess it was in '66.

Mr.avenport: I object to her guessing at it.

- A Well it was along in that time when all the freedmen had to come back to the Cherokee Nation.
Q Are you enrolled as a Cherokee freedman? A Yes sir.
Q What rolls are you on? A I am on all the rolls made in the Cherokee nation, the '60 roll, the $10.00 enrollment when they enrolled for the $10.00 they enrolled me then, I am on all the enrollment that they ever made in the Cherokee Nation, my name is there.
Q And you say Gelia this present applicant came back when you did? A Yes sir.
Q Do you remember how long she stayed here when she came back? A No sir, I don't remember just exactly how long she stayed.
Q Was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Who was her husband? A Tom Daniels.
Q Did he return to the Cherokee Nation with her? A Yes sir.
Q Was Tom Daniels the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the war? A Yes sir, I suppose he was.

Mr. Aavenport: I object to her supposing, if you don't know say so.

- A It is just like I recalled when we were taken from here to Kansas.
Q How long did Tom remain in the Cherokee Nation when he came back that time? A No sir, I don't remember just how long he stayed.
Q Do you know where he lived? A Up on Grand River.
Q With whom? A At his father's, Simon Lynch.
Q Did they live any place else besides with his father? A Not as I know of.
Q Did Gelia live with her? A Yes sir.
Q You were only a small girl then were you? A Yes sir, I was about 12 years old.
Q Do you remember how long Gelia lived with her at that time? A No sir, I don't remember just how long she lived at that time.
Q Did you ever see Gelia in the Cherokee Nation after that time? A No.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q How do you live there? A On Dirty.
 Q How long have you been there? A About 24 years.
 Q Have you ever lived on Grand River since the war? A Yes sir.
 Q What place? A On Lynch's Prairie, my father lived on Lynch's Prairie.
 Q When was it your father lived there? A That has been about over 30 years ago.
 Q How do you think it has been any longer than 30 years ago? A Well it has been 30 years ago since I was there.
 Q Did you go direct from Kansas to Lynch's Prairie? A Yes sir.
 Q And that was about 30 years ago? A Yes sir.
 Q Did you know Tom Daniels when he was living at Hoeshe Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.
 Q When was it? A Time of the war.
 Q Were you ever back up there at his house? A No sir.
 Q You know he continued to live there and died there? A Yes sir.
 Q You never saw him after you left there? A Yes sir, they were down here, backwards and forwards.
 Q Did you ever see Tom Daniels keeping house in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A No sir, cause I was living down here.
 Q Don't you know that he did remain there. Do you know where he was living at the time of his death? A I don't know sir.
 Q Do you know where he and Celia were married after the war? A No sir, they were not married after the war.
 Q How you are giving your opinion about that? A No sir, just what I know about it.
 Q If I should give you a Court record of where they were married after the war would you believe it? A I wasn't at the wedding.
 Q Do you know where Celia and Kirkpatrick were married? A No sir, I don't.
 Q Do you know where Celia's children were born? A I know where George was born.
 Q Were you present? A Not right at the time but I seen him as a baby, right after that time.
 Q Then you don't know? A It must have been.

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q About this baby George being born, was George born before or at the time you and Celia came down to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, along about that time, Celia must have been in very poor health. People in them olden times didn't let their children know it.
 Q Where were you when George was born? A At my father's.

WITNESSES EXCUSED.

CARRIE MORGAN, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. BULGER:

- Q What is your name? A Carrie Morgan.
 Q Where do you live? A Five miles the other side of Groves.
 Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
 Q About how old are you? A I am 49 years old.
 Q Did you remain in the Cherokee nation during the rebellion? A No sir, we were out of the Cherokee nation, went north.
 Q When did you return to the Cherokee nation? A The year peace was made.
 Q Where did you return to? A Rubber Hill.
 Q Did you remain there? A Remained there until that fall then my brother moved down to the Lynch Mill.

- Q Who was your brother? A Willie Rhythe.
- Q Were you married then? A The next fall after we went there I was married to a man by the name of Blivins.
- Q How long did you remain at that place? A Nearly three years.
- Q While you were there did you become acquainted with a woman named Selia Daniels? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you know her husband? A Not to say knew him, I have seen him several times, he was kind of a sickly man, seen him passing around there about the store and the mill. But this woman I haven't seen her to the best of my knowledge it has been about 40 years until this morning, I picked her out of the bunch.
- Q Did you see her after the war? A Yes sir, I didn't know her before the war.
- Q Where did you know her after the war? A Down her at this old mill on Spavinsaw, they come there trading with my brother, these darkies several of them. My brother died there and after he died we went to Cowskin Prairie.
- Q When did you move down there to that mill? A The same fall peace was made.
- Q Did you find this Selia Daniels down there after you got there? A She was there a while after we got there.
- Q The same fall? A The next spring.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q Was she down there, do you remember seeing her before George Street commenced running the saw mill there? A He was there when we come there.
- Q And he was running the mill wasn't he? A Yes sir.
- Q And you didn't see Selia Kirkpatrick, the woman you identify until after George Street began running that mill there on Spavinsaw?
- A No sir.
- Q When were you summoned in or notified to come as a witness in this case? A I believe it was last Friday.
- Q Who summoned you? A Mr. J. C. Starr.
- Q The same J. C. Starr who was at one time with the Attorneys for the Cherokee nation making the freedman roll? A Yes sir.
- Q He advised you in this matter as an Attorney in this case? A No sir, he never talked with me about it.
- Q Didn't talk to you anything about it? A Just asked me if I knew these darkies and I told him yes I knew them.
- Q And he came with you today to this town? A Yes sir, but I never had any talk with him about it.
- Q He didn't know when he subpoenaed you and brought you down here did he?
- Q This the same George Street you speak of that is living at Big Cabin? A I don't know where he is living now.

WITNESSES EXCUSED.

- Q Where was she born? A On Grand River.

- Q When was she born? A It was before the Wallace payment.
Q Where was Tom Daniels then? A He was dead then.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q When is the first time that you ever knew of Gelia being keeping house in the Cherokee Nation after the war, living in a house separate and apart from any other family? A I don't know anything about that, I lived at Fort Gibson.
Q Were you living at Vinita at the time when Gelia did keep house, when did she and Kirkpatrick come to Vinita, after you and I both moved up there? A That was in '86 wasn't it.
Q That is the first time that Gelia Kirkpatrick or Daniels had ever kept house in the Cherokee Nation in a house she presided over herself after the war wasn't it? A No sir, she had a place on the river she said.
Q I want to know what you actually know about it of your own knowledge, did you ever know of her from the time the war closed up to the time she came to Vinita in 1896 living in a house and keeping house to herself? A No sir.
Q As far as her living on the river you don't know? A No sir.
Q She and Kirkpatrick were married in Kansas? A Yes sir.
Q And Tom Daniels died in Kansas? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go to Kansas during the war? A Yes sir, but I came home first year after peace was declared.
Q When Gelia came to visit you at Fort Gibson what time of the year was it? A In the fall.
Q What time of the fall, early fall? A Early fall along about September.
Q You don't know where she came from, nothing only that she came from the river? A No sir.
Q You don't know what year that was? A It was in '86.
Q Gelia says she didn't come back from Kansas in 1866 until late in the fall just before Christmas, so it must have been in 1867 she came down to visit you? A I don't know exactly, all those folks coming home there and they said it was '66.
Q Some got back in 1866 and some in '67? A I don't know just exactly----- Q And Gelia and Kirkpatrick got back to Vinita in 1896? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know where Tom Daniels lived there in Neosho Falls? A No sir.
Q And you left before Tom came back from the war? A Yes sir.
Q You don't know anything about them keeping house over there by the mill when Gelia and Tom were remarried after the war? A No sir.
Q You never saw him keeping house in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Not particular.
Q Where did you ever see Tom in the Cherokee Nation? A Vinita and Grand River.
Q Did you live at Vinita during the Wallace enrollment? A Yes sir.
Q Vinita was quite a small place and you knew all the colored people, and Tom just run down there from Kansas and went back to Kansas? A Yes sir.
Q And he told you at the time he was living at Neosho Falls, Kansas? A No sir, told me he had a place on the river and was working at the mill in Neosho Falls.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:

- Q In what year did you return to the Cherokee Nation? A I don't know, in '88 I guess.
Q Do you know how long it was after you returned that Gelia returned? A No sir only just as I say she came down on a visit.
Q You were a girl then 10 or 12 years old? A Yes sir.

WITNESSES SUBSCRIBED.

G. W. FENDER, being first duly sworn, testified as follows on behalf of the Cherokee Nation:

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q What is your name? A G. W. Fender.
- Q What is your post office? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
- Q How long has your post office been Neosho Falls, Kansas? A I have lived there since the 21st of August, 1867.
- Q Were you in the war of the rebellion? A Yes sir.
- Q How long were you absent during that time? A I enlisted the 7th of August, 1863 and was mustered out along in June, 1865.
- Q You were in the Union Army were you? A Yes sir.
- Q How you came home after the war about what time of the year? A Between Christmas and New Years.
- Q In 1865? A Christmas 1865 and New Years 1866.
- Q Did you have a family at that time? A No sir.
- Q Did you take up your residence in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A I went home where my father and mother lived.
- Q Was that in the town of Neosho Falls? A Two and a half miles south of the city.
- Q Did you marry after that time? A Yes sir.
- Q I will ask you, if you, after you returned from the war, got acquainted with a colored man named Sam Daniels? A Yes sir.
- Q About how long was it after you returned from the war? A It was either the last of March or first of April.
- Q What year? A 1866.
- Q Where was he living? A In a little log cabin in what is now the City Park.
- Q Neosho River? A Yes sir, the city wasn't incorporated but it would have been just outside the incorporation.

- Q What was he doing there at that time? A Just jehing around, I went to work at the mill and he went to work there as an odd hand.
- Q How far did you live from where he lived? A Anywhere from 75 to 100 yards.
- Q You went to work there about what time in the year of 1866?
- A The last of March or first of April.
- Q Did you know Tom's family, or know whether he had a family? A I seen them there every day.
- Q Did you ever hear of Tom's wife's name? A Yes sir.
- Q What was it? A It seems to me it was Delia.
- Q How long after you got acquainted with him did Tom continue to live at Neesho Falls? A He died there.
- Q Do you know how many years that was? A I have nothing to trust a date on but it seems to me he died sometime between 1886 and 1889 or 1888 right along there.
- Q Not positive as to that? A No sir.
- Q Can you tell about how long he lived in this house with his family near the mill you have spoken of? A I think he lived there until 1870, I have reasons to believe that was the date.
- Q Do you know anything about his children? A I just seen one or two little children around the house, of course I wasn't acquainted with them.
- Q I understand it was about 75 miz or 100 yards from the mill?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Did you ever know a colored man named Kirkpatrick in and around Neesho Falls? A Knew him but not very well, had a few talks with him.
- Q Do you know whether or not he afterwards married any of Tom Daniels family? A That was the report, I didn't see them married.
- Q Which one did he marry? A Tom Daniels' widow.
- Q You still live at Neesho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.

BY MR. EULGER:

- Q How old are you? A I am past 60.
- Q When or with whom did you first talk with recently about this case? A I don't know, it seems to me I overheard parties who were talking when they had another case and they spoke of this case in connection with it, that has been sometime ago, and then here not long ago I heard some folks talking that was down here as witnesses and I overheard them talking among themselves about it.
- Q Do you mean to say that Tom Daniels lived in Neesho Falls continuously from March, 1866, until he died? A No sir, he was living outside of the town.
- Q I mean right close to the town? A Yes.
- Q He never lived there in the town? A It is now inside the incorporation.
- Q Did he ever leave that place that you know of? A Not up until 1870.
- Q Do you know that he did leave it? A If he left I don't know it.
- Q You don't know then, if he came to the Cherokee Nation you don't know it? A He couldn't very well come and we not know it, being with him daily, because when he wasn't working at the mill he was around there, don't think there was a day I hadn't seen him, when they wanted an extra hand he jumped in it.
- Q How did you happen to come down here as a witness? A I was subpoenaed sir.
- Q Who subpoenaed you? A This gentleman here (indicating Mr. Koyal).
- Q When were you subpoenaed? A I don't know, the first of the week, I think it was day before yesterday, he it was Monday.

- Q How did Mr. Keys come to subpoena you, had he talked to you about this case? A No sir, you will have to ask him, I don't know somebody else must have told him that I knew somebody that knew I knew something about it. I didn't know anything about it until the hotel man phoned up to my home and said there was a man there wanted to see me and I went down there and he subpoenaed me.
- Q Talked to you about this case? A Yes sir.
- Q How much are you to get to come down here in this case? A I suppose I will get the common fee so much a day for my attendance, I haven't asked them.
- Q They haven't told you how many days you will get? A I told them myself that I had to travel at night they ought to allow me about four days, but they didn't agree to do it.
- Q Do you know that Tom Daniels didn't leave Teeshe Falls and come to the Cherokee Nation in the fall of 1866? A No sir, I don't hardly think he did because the fall I was working there by him.
- Q I say do you know he did? A I won't say positively if he did, I didn't miss him or ever hear of it.
- Q Do you know where his wife was in 1866? A In that little cabin there right close to the mill.
- Q When did you first remember about this witness named Della? A I heard it quite often.
- Q Do you know where Della was in the fall of 1866? A She must have surely lived there in that cabin. Don't know hardly a day but what I seen them. Never was in the cabin only just a short time before he died. I could see them passing around every day, hardly a day but that I saw him and his family.
- Q How is it that you remember that you first became acquainted with Tom Daniels in March, 1866? A That was the day I went to work at the mill and he was there.
- Q That was in March, 1866? A It was probably in April, directly after I went to work at the mill.
- Q But you don't mean to say that you know that Tom and Della didn't come to the Cherokee Nation in 1866? A He was working right along there at the mill and if he was absent I don't know.
- Q Will you say that you know it? A I won't say that I knew it but I am positive he wasn't.
- Q You know he worked at the mill in 1866? A Not as a steady hand.
- Q And you know he worked there for a long time that summer off and on? A Yes sir.
- Q Then you knew that after awhile he began to work there, work there steady and got sick and couldn't work longer? A Yes sir.
- Q And you don't mean to say that Tom Daniels worked at that mill continuously during the fall of 1866? A No sir, not all the time he wasn't a steady hand, only when they wanted an extra hand.
- Q What was the condition of Tom's health? A Tom had good health then.
- Q You knew nothing about him having bad health? A He worked regular around the water mill first in the water and then out, I worked right with him.
- Q Although you said he was working extra? A This was afterwards, but that fall he was working there then when somebody was gone or sick, and afterwards he got in as an extra hand.
- Q What is it that impresses it upon your mind that Tom Daniels worked there continuously in the fall of 1866? A I didn't say that he worked continuously.
- Q What impresses it upon your mind? A I was working there.
- Q What were you doing? A I was running the engine and he worked in the mill.
- Q There were other darkies working in that mill? A Not at that time, I think there had been one but when Tom came the other one dropped out, that is my recollection about it.

- Q But you don't think anything about Tom's case, you know that?
A I know he worked there right along whenever they needed a new hand. I don't think they ever wanted a hand and wat after him but what they got him.
Q You mean to say that you never talked with anybody about this case before you came here to testify? A I didn't know this case was in court until just a few days ago.
Q The other fellows told you about the case? A Yes sir, coming to a strange town I wanted to get some place to stay over night and I talked with them about it.
Q Did they tell you about what you are testifying now? A No sir.
Q Is there any one else up there besides you that knew it? A Yes sir, I know of one or two others. I could give them their names.
Q They are not dead then, those witnesses? A No sir, I think there is a man living at Springfield, Missouri, that would swear the same as I do because he was working there at the same time.
Q You see Mr. Fender the only question in this case is, did this Gelia Kirkpatrick come down from there in the fall of 1906, and you don't mean to say that you know she did or didn't? A I am almost sure she didn't although I would not swear it positively.
- ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONER:
Q Do you know George Daniels, a son of Tom Daniels? A I have seen him.
Q Do you know where he was born? A He must have been born when they lived in that little cabin there.
Q At Moosho Falls? A Yes sir.
Q Have you ever seen him up there, George Daniels? A I have seen him up there at an early date.
Q Did he go to school up there? A I think he did.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Celia Kirkpatrick et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

Celia Kirkpatrick, et al.,	Cherokee Freedmen 1436 (D 673)
Eva L. Finley, et al.,	Cherokee Freedmen 1437 (D 675)
George Daniels,	Cherokee Freedmen 1438 (D 1123)

DECISION.

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen were made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes by Celia Kirkpatrick for herself and minor child, Ethel Daniels,; by Tyre H. Finley for his wife, Eva L. Finley, and their minor children, Haydee and Frank Finley, and by W. H. Twine for George Daniels.

The record further shows that on July 23, 1904, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein granting said applicants the right to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen, which decision was, on January 19, 1905, duly approved by the Department (I.T.D. 7744 & 7514-1904), that thereafter, on October 12, 1905, a motion for rehearing having been filed by the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, the Department rescinded its said decision of January 19, 1905, and remanded said case for further hearing and readjudication (I.T.D. 2160-1905). Further proceedings in the matter of said applications were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on November 16, and December 7, 1905.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant Celia Kirkpatrick, claims the right to enrollment as a Cherokee freedman by virtue of her compliance with the provisions of Article IX of the treaty of 1866, and that all the other applicants herein claim such right as her descendants.

The evidence further shows that Celia Kirkpatrick was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the war of the rebellion, that prior to the commencement of said war she was married, in the Cherokee Nation, to one Tom Daniels, who was also the slave of a Cherokee citizen; that during the progress of the rebellion she went with her husband to Neesho Falls,

Kansas, where they remained until the close of said rebellion; that shortly after the close of the rebellion they returned to the Cherokee Nation, where they resided for a short time with their parents; and in 1867 or '68 returned to Neosho Falls, Kansas, where they continued to reside until the death of the said Tom Daniels in 1889; that after the death of the said Tom Daniels in 1889, the said Celia Daniels married, in the state of Kansas, one Jerry Kirkpatrick; and the evidence fails to show that the said Celia Kirkpatrick ever had a permanent residence in the Cherokee Nation subsequent to the close of the rebellion and prior to about the year 1896.

The evidence further shows that all the other applicants herein are lineal descendants (children and grandchildren), of the said Celia Kirkpatrick, were born since the close of the rebellion, and neither claim nor possess any rights to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen other than as such descendants. Excepting the Kern-Clifton roll, the applicants Celia Kirkpatrick, Ethel Daniels, Eva L. Finley, and George Daniels, can not be identified on any roll of the Cherokee Nation in the possession of this office. The minor applicants, Hayde and Frank Finley, are too young to appear on any roll of the Cherokee Nation, but are duly identified as children of Eva L. Finley by birth affidavits filed herewith and made a part of the record herein.

In view of the foregoing it is considered that, following the ruling of the Department in the cases of Henry C. Hayden et al. (I.T.D. 6964-1902), Mariah Johnson et al. (I.T.D. 68769-1903), and Thomas Mayfield (P.T.D. 6968-1904), the temporary presence of the said Celia Kirkpatrick in the Cherokee Nation immediately after the close of the war of the rebellion was not sufficient to satisfy the provisions of Article IX of the Treaty of 1866 relative to the return of freedmen to the Cherokee Nation, and it is further considered that the said applicant Celia Kirkpatrick, granting that she did comply with the provisions of Article IX of said treaty of 1866, has, by her continued residence in the state of Kansas, as above indicated, forfeited, under Section 2, Article I, of the Cherokee Constitution, whatever rights she may have acquired to Cherokee Freedman citizenship.

Said Section 2, Article I, of the Cherokee Constitution in part, provides:

"Whenever any citizen shall remove with his effects out of the limits of this Nation, and becomes a citizen of any other government, all his rights and privileges as a citizen of this Nation shall cease;....."

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSION: It is considered that the evidence in this case shows that the applicants herein possess no rights to enrollment as Cherokee freedmen.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED That, under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1896 (50 Stat., 495), Celia Kirkpatrick, Ethel Daniels, Eva L. Finley, Haydee Finley, Frank Finley and George Daniels, are not entitled to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, and their applications for enrollment as such are accordingly denied.

February 18, 1906

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to enclose a report from the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes dated January 15, 1906, transmitting the record of the consolidated application for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen by Celia Kirkpatrick for herself and her minor child, Ethel Daniels; by Tyre H. Finley for his wife, Eva L. Finley, and their minor children, Maydee, and Frank Finley; and by W. H. Twine for George Daniels.

January 15, 1906, the Commissioner decided adversely to all the applicants.

The record shows that on July 23, 1904, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered a decision favorable to the applicants which decision was on January 16, 1905, approved by the department (ITS 7744-7514-04); that thereafter on October 12, 1905, (I.T.D. 2160-05), the Department rescinded its action, and remanded the case for further hearing and readjudication.

The record further shows that Celia Kirkpatrick was the slave of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the war of the rebellion; that prior to that time she was married in the Cherokee Nation to one Tom Daniels, also a slave of a Cherokee citizen; that during the war she went with her husband to Kansas where they remained until the close of the war; that shortly thereafter they returned to the Cherokee Nation and resided for a short time with their parents; that in 1867 or 1868 they returned to Kansas, where they continued to reside until the death of Tom Daniels in 1887; that after the death of Tom Daniels, Celia Daniels married in the State of Kansas one Jerry Kirkpatrick and the evidence fails to show that Celia Kirkpatrick ever had a permanent residence in the Cherokee Nation subsequent to the close of the war and prior to about the year 1896.

All the other applicants are lineal descendants of Celia Kirkpatrick, were born since the close of the war, and neither claim nor possess any rights to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen other than as such descendants. Except the Kern-Clifton roll none of the applicants is identified on any Cherokee roll.

In view of the record the approval of the Commissioner's decision adverse to all the applicants is recommended.

Very respectfully,

Sir:

Referring to Departmental letter of February 20, 1906, (I.T.B.2634-1906), affirming the decision of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, rejecting the application of Gelia Kirkpatrick et al., for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen, I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated November 10, 1906, enclosing a motion for a rehearing filed by Starr & Patten, of Vinita, Indian Territory, attorneys for applicants, in the office of the Commissioner on June 25, 1906. There is also enclosed copy of the letter of Starr & Patten, dated November 5, 1906, saying that they have made an investigation of the case and are unable to get any testimony that would in any manner change the condition of the case, and requesting that the motion filed by them be dismissed. The office therefore concurs in the Commissioner's recommendation that the motion filed be denied.

The record in the case is transmitted herewith.

Q Tell her husband's first name? A Arthur.

Q What is Slaughter's first name? A Charlie.

Q Have they any children, either one of them? A Slaughter has a step-child.

Q But your daughter I speak of? A Yes, one.

Q What is that child's name? A Smith. Married a second time; her first husband was Smith, second husband was Slaughter, that's the one she lives with now.

Q What is the christian name of the child? A Sadie.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, Davenport:

Q Now Robinson, you were living at what point in the Cherokee Nation when the war broke out? A I was living on the place they call Beatty's Prairie, near the neutral land in the strip, I think it is in Delaware District.

Q Were you living near where you were living at that time? A Old man name McGee was the only one.

Q Was that Jeff? A I don't know.

Q Was Joe Ward living there? A I don't know anything about that.

Q There was Jim Yeager's family? A I don't know.

Q How old were you when the war broke out? A Between seven and eight years old.

Q How old is your eldest child now? A 26.

Q You went out of the Nation during the war and to what point did you go? A Fort Scott.

Q How long did you stay at Ft. Scott? A During the war.

Q That's where you got acquainted with William T. Foreman? A

William Henry Robinson et al 3

First of my recollection; of course I had seen him before, but I didn't get acquainted with him.

Q You came back to the Cherokee Nation when? A In '66, May.

Q You came back before or after the Treaty was made? A After.

Q Did you come back in May? A May.

Q When you came back to what point in the Cherokee Nation did you come? A Big Cabin Creek, not very far from Lee Schrimmer's old place.

Q Who was living on the Lee Schrimmer place at that time, if any one? A Mr. Foreman, I believe.

Q Where was Newt Schrimmer when you came back? A My recollection is he lived over east somewhere, I don't know where.

Q Where was Reuben Sanders, and Solon James? A I don't know, A thing about Solon James, but I remember Reuben Sanders and then, they lived on Big Creek. I don't know whether they came there after, or I think it was just about the time I moved in here.

Q William Foreman, did he live in Cooweescoowee or Delaware District at that time? A He lived in Cooweescoowee.

Q He is the same William Foreman that you and your brothers and sisters gave the twenty-five dollars to to swear for you in the Kern-Clifton enrollment ~~didn't~~ isn't he? A Same is n.

By Mr. Smith:

Q What did you give him $125 dollars to swear for you for? A That's his price, he charged that, and more than that he was to follow the court in case or rebuttal he was to see that we wasn't injured, and he had to travel backwards and forwards between on the railroad and pay his expenses, consequently we just volunteered to give him that amount.

Q Who is William Foreman? A A Cherokee Man.

Q Was he acquainted with the facts in your case? A Yes sir.

Q Did you hire him to swear to anything that wasn't the facts? A No sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q You just simply hired him to represent, be your brains? A No sir.

Q Was that Mr. Blythe living there near you before the war? A No sir.

By Com'r Needles:

Q This man Foreman, he was also acting kind of attorney was he? A Might determine it that way, children you know, our parents deceased.

Q Was anybody else included in that $125 dollar fee besides your family? A No sir.

By Mr. Smith:

Q Was Foreman an older man than you? A Yes sir indeed.

Q You say he was acquainted with the facts in your case? A Yes sir.

Q Did he demand that much from you? A He thought it ought to be worth just about that much.

Q He knew the facts in your case, were there any witnesses who did know the facts? A There was two others we had that was acquainted with them.

Q That matter of paying Foreman wasn't before this Commission? A No sir.

Q That was at another time, when the Clifton roll was made? A Yes sir.

LEWIS WHITE JR, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified:

By Mr. Smith:

- Q State your name? A Lewis Whitnire.
Q Where do you live? A On Lightning Creek.
Q What is your post-office? A Hayden.
Q What is your age? A 62 years old.
Q You know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I don't know exactly, I guess it has been about 38 or 9 years.
Q Did you know him before the war? A No sir, I knew him in time of the war.
Q Where was he in time of the war? A He was at Ft. Scott.
Q When did you first see him in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A First place I saw him was out here about a mile and a half south-west of Timbered Hill.
Q How far from Chelsea is Timbered Hill? A I don't know how far it is from here, the place I saw him is about eight miles north-west of Vinita.
Q When did you see him first? A It was the winter of '66, I don't know exactly what time; it was winter, I don't know whether it was December or January.
Q You remember how long it was from Christmas? A No sir, I don't remember how long it was until Christmas.

By MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q You remember whether it was before or after Christmas? A I don't remember whether it was before or after Christmas.
Q You came back to the Territory in the summer of '66? A Yes sir.
Q I came back here in the summer of '66.
Q And it was some time in the following winter you saw him? A Yes sir.
Q You don't know what time? A No sir.
Q Nor what month of the year? A No sir, I don't.

By MR. SMITH:

- Q Under what circumstances did you see him? A He was living with his father and mother in a old Government tent; camped right down in the bottom on the bank of Big Cabin Creek; I was horse hunting at that time.

HARRY STILL, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows

By MR. SMITH:

- Q State your name? A Harry Still.
Q Where do you live? A Hayden.
Q You know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Since '42.
Q Where was he in '62? A First time I saw him was on the neutral land when we started to Kansas, we all went out together.
Q What do you call the neutral land, what is it now? A It is now known as southwestern Kansas.
Q Who was he with when you saw him first? A His mother and father, and his brothers and sisters.
Q What was his father's name? A Old man Robinson I always called him.
Q You remember his mother's given name? A No sir, I don't remember her given name.
Q When did you first see him in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A In the winter of '66, over here on Cabin Creek, first time, not far from the Newt Schriener place.
Q About what time was that? A It was along in the winter of '66 when I saw him there.
Q How many trips did you make back to the Cherokee nation? A Three.
Q When did you come back here the third time? A In the fall of '66.
Q About what month? A Sometime in October I think.

Q About how long after that was it before you saw this man William H. Robinson? A Maybe I am mistaken, I went back after Aunt Nancy when she died up there at Timbered Hill and I found William and his folks up there then; it was getting kinder late in the year; near the old Schrimsher place.

Q And when was it you think? A Sometime in the winter or fall of '66, I'm on the last part of '66.

Q Was it before or after Christmas? A Before.

Q Before Christmas of '66? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know where he has been living since that? A Yes sir.

Q Where? A Next time I saw him he was clearing a place after that about three miles from there, and then along in the summer of '66 me and him and his brothers worked together up here on Snow Creek, I have been knowing him ever since; we worked there awhile, and he went back over here where he started a place over here on Cabin Creek, and I have been knowing him around in the Nation, I don't know how many places he did live, I have seen him up here where he is living now.

Q How long has he been living where he is living now? A I don't know exactly, I have knowed him out on Caney awhile, living out there, and right around in the Nation here all the while, we worked together in '67.

BY COM'R NEEDLES:

Q When you talked about the neutral land, that was a claim considered part of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q This is the first time you have ever testified for Robinson? A Yes sir.

Q You was around with the Kern-Clifton commission in 1896? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Robinson there? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he applied? A Yes sir.

Q They didn't use you then, they used W.T. Foreman? A Yes sir, he had other witnesses.

Q You knew the same facts then you know now? A Yes sir.

Q And never did tell them? A Nobody never did ask me to tell them.

Q How did it happen you was on Big Creek in the latter part of '66, and saw this fellow? A Went back to get my aunt.

Q Was there a road from Big Creek down towards Neesho River at that time? A No sir.

Q How did you happen to straggle on him? A It was right on my road, right across the prairie.

Q You never lived in that neighborhood towards Big Creek where Sam Webber lived? A No sir, I lived on middle prong of Lightning Creek.

Q How far from Hayden post-office? A Three or four miles.

Q And you were going up to Newt Schrimsher's place to get your aunt? A Yes sir.

Q Was Robinson grown then? A He looked as big as ~~much~~ he is now, he was a good big fellow; when we went to Kansas together he was nearly grown.

Q Just at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir, he was a young man, the other boys wasn't as large as he was.

Q You didn't know anything of them when the war broke out? A When we started to Kansas we got with the command taking refugee negroes out here, first time I saw William was up in the Neutral land, and we went together from there to Ft. Scott.

Q There was a whole lot of other colored people along? A Yes sir.

Q You remember him because he was nearly grown? A I remember him and his family because they was people I never forget.

Q What makes you think it was before Christmas in '66 that you saw them up there on Big Creek? A Because I am satisfied it was.

William Henry Robinson et al 6

Q You have nothing on which to base your satisfaction? A I know I went after aunt Nancy and she was dead, and the result was I found them.

Q You know that was in the winter of '66? A Yes sir.

Q You know what time the applicant came back to the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, I know I went with him, and that's what time I saw him over there.

APPLICANT, WILLIAM HENRY FOREMAN, re-called and further examined, BY COM'R NEEDLES:

Q Where were you born? A In the Cherokee Nation.

Q Your father and mother free? A Yes sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Your parents, were they alive then? A Not that I know of.

Q You didn't reside in Arkansas in '61? A No sir, did I didn't know it.

WILMORE RICKS, being sworn by COM'R Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. SMITH:

Q State your name? A Wilmore Rick.

Q Where do you live? A In Vinita now.

Q How old are you? A 33.

Q You know William H. Robinson, this applicant? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Ever since the winter of '67.

Q You didn't know him before the war? A No sir.

Q Did you know his father before the war? A No sir.

Q Nor his mother? A No sir.

Q You don't know exactly where they lived before the war? A No, I don't know.

BY COM'R NEEDLES:

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know whether this applicant was a slave before the war or not? A No sir.

Q First time you saw him was in January, '67? A Yes sir.

Q Where? A On Cabin Creek.

Q Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q How long had that was he doing then Cap, when you saw him?

A They were camped on the Creek there when I saw them.

Q You don't know where they had been during the war? A No sir.

Q Had they just come from Kansas or some other place, or just seemed to be camping there? A I think they seemed to have been there somewhere.

Q About a year? A No, not that long.

Q What made you think it was January, '67? A I can tell you, Bill Foreman, I had been hired to Bill Foreman, he moved to Big Creek and from Big Creek back to Cabin Creek; I had been working for him about three months I guess, right along, and I went home about the first of December, he owed me twenty-five dollars, he told me to come back right away after Christmas and he would pay me, and I come back after Christmas about the first of January, he didn't have my money, and I stayed there about four or five days waiting for him.

Q Where was Bill Foreman living then? A On the John Foreman place.

Q How far from the Lee Schrimsher place? A About two or three miles; while I was waiting there for Foreman and hunting around.

I run across this family, hunted on the Creek there and around through the country, nothing to do but hunt around.

Q How far were they from the Lee Schrimsher or Foreman place when you run adross them? A About a mile and a half.

William Henry Robinson et al 7

Q Did you work for Bill Foreman around the Foreman place in '66? A Yes sir.

Q Did you see them there during that year of '66? A No sir.

Q Were you following cattle around over the creeks? A Well I was driving cattle for Foreman, and driving teams.

Q You had been on the creeks around where you saw them in '67? A Not much, Foreman never liked me but left Big Creek until about December and he come to Cabin Creek, and about the first of December I went home, and about the first of January I come to get my money.

Q Were you with Foreman from May to December, '66? A He never lived there up until then.

Q Were you around the Schrimsher place from May up to '66? A I passed there in so.

Q How far did you work from the Schrimsher place during '66? A About three or four miles down the creek.

Q Did you see this applicant or his family about the Schrimsher place at any time during the year of '66? A No.

Q How often did you say you passed the Schrimsher place? A I passed there twice. We came there as we moved over and when we come back we come back that way.

Applicant, WILLIAM HENRY ROBINSON, re-called and further examined, BY COM'R NEEDLES:

Q You present a marriage certificate certifying that you married your wife, Millie, did you ever have a license? A No sir, there is the first license I got.

Q Never had any license? A No sir, that's the first time we was married, we married only according to customs.

Q Was you ever married but once? A Yes sir, I was married twice, but to the same woman.

Q What did you marry her twice for? A She came in as a claimant, they failed to respect such some year ago, and consequently we was advised to marry according to Cherokee laws.

Q When you marry according to Cherokee Law don't you have to procure a license? A That's all the license they claimed it was necessary for us to have.

BY MR. SMITH:

Q Where did you marry your wife first? A In the Cherokee nation.

Q How many years ago has that been? A 25 years ago.

Q Have you been living together as man and wife ever since that? A Yes sir.

Q Was were you married by? A Brother named Nathan Duffin, a preacher.

Q Is he living or dead? A Dead.

Q Is there anyone here who saw you married? A I guess so, Thomas Mayfield was present.

THOMAS MAYFIELD, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. SMITH:

Q State your name? A Thomas Mayfield.

Q Where do you live? A On Grand River.

Q In what nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q Do you know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir, I know him.

Q You know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present when they were married? A Yes sir.

Q Who married them? A Nathan Duffin.

William Henry Robinson et al 8

Q About how long ago has that been as well as you can remember?
A Right near fifteen or twenty years ago.

Q Might have been near that? A Might have been.

Q You don't know how long it has been? A No sir, I don't know exactly.

Q Was Duffin a preacher? A Yes sir.

Q Where were they married? A Married in my church house there on Grand river, Island Ford.

Davenport, Cherokee Rep'v's, waives examination.

Applicant, WILLIAM HENRY ROBINSON, re-called, and further examined; by COM'R NEEDLES;

Q When were you married the first time? A Married last day of August, '72 I believe.

Q You know the reason your name is not on the roll of 1880?
A No sir.

Q Did you ever apply to have it put down? A I applied and I supposed they put it on, but it failed to show up.

Q You applied did you? A Yes sir.

Mr. Smith offers a marriage license, and hands it to Mr. Davenport, for examination.

Mr. Davenport, Cherokee Representative of the Cherokee Nation object to the introduction of the certificate of marriage offered, or the reason that at the time it was executed there was no law in force in the Cherokee Nation authorizing the issuing of marriage certificates according to Cherokee law by which any one carrying a recognized citizen could acquire property rights in the Cherokee Nation, the law having been repealed on December 16th, 1895, and for the further reason that there was no law authorizing a clerk to issue a certificate of marriage according to the laws of the Cherokee Nation to any parties other than recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and if the clerk violated his duty it would give no force to the applicant in establishing his right as to having been a free colored person at the breaking out of the war and residing in the Cherokee Nation, having returned in accordance with the Treaty.

Applicant examined by Com'r Needles;

Q You apply for your wife as intermarried citizen? A Yes sir.

By MR. SMITH:

Q Did your wife apply for her enrollment? A Her mother has a claim on file here, so I can understand.

Com'r Needles; William H. Robinson applied for the enrollment of himself and wife and seven children, to-wit: James A., Jennetta, Charles E., Ollie, Amanda E., John S., and William D. Robinson; he avers that he is a free colored person, never a slave, and was a resident of the Cherokee Nation before the adoption of the treaty of 1866; he went out of the Cherokee Nation during the war between the North and the South and returned in the year 1866; he avers that he was married to one Willie Hill, a non-citizen; he however avers that his wife is an applicant or has a claim for citizenship; he presents no proof whatever as to the citizenship of his wife, and her name cannot be found upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation nor in the possession of the Commissioner, he is a verbal proof of his marriage to his wife, Millie, more particularly shown in the testimony, he is also filed certificate signed by Joe M. Lahay, Clerk of Coconino District, certifying that he was married in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on the 10th day of March, 1897, to one Millie Robinson, nee Hill, a citizen of the United States, and a certificate being recorded on page 139, Book 7 of marriage record of Coconino District; upon examination of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation his name cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1890, but he is duly identified upon the Kem-Clifton and the Wallace rolls, and his children are duly identified upon said roll, with the exception of the youngest child, William H., three years of age, which makes it necessary for him to file satisfactory proof of marriage of said child; consequently, said William H. Robinson and his children as enumerated herein, will be duly listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card, and his wife, Millie, will be duly listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen by intermarriage or by her inherent rights, as the testimony may develop; he will be duly notified by mail of the action of the Commission on his application when arrived at.

Applicant recalled, supplemental examination:

MR. SMITH:

Q Did you ever have any case law case tried in the Cherokee court? A No sir.

BY COMMISSIONER:

Q Ever vote in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

MR. DAVENPORT:

Q Who did you vote for? A I don't know how many.

Q Joe Lahay? A No, I don't know as I voted for Joe Lahay to get him to sign anything for me.

Q Who did you vote for? A I voted for the treaty, and I voted for Mr. Buffington and I voted for you when you was running.

Q Are you sure of that now? A I know it.

BY COMMISSIONER:

Q Was Davenport's majority over one? A I don't know that.

Q If it wasn't over one we could throw him out, because yours was illegal, eh? A (No reply.)

H. D. CHASE, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this June 20, 1901.

Commissioner.

To be filed with S. J. & 874, Wm. E. Robinson.

Before the Superior Court,
County of Cherokee, State of Georgia,
June 10, 1901.

Supplemental testimony.
Cherokee Freedmen D-200

Walter A. West and J. P. Blodgett, for applicants;
W. E. Robinson, for Cherokee Nation.

The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation take notice of the proper service of notice of the introduction of testimony in the above case on this date.

Walter A. West, being first duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q. Hastings, what is your name? A. Walter A. West.

Q. What is your age? A. 40 years.

Q. Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A. 30 years.

Q. Were you out of the Nation during the war? A. Yes, sir, I was out during the war three or four years.

Q. When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. I came back in the spring of '66.

Q. Where did you live in the spring of '66? A. I lived up on Weashe River after I went up above.

Q. How long did you live there? A. I lived on Weashe, this side of Weashe River, about two or three months, and then I moved down below.

Q. Do you know Thomas Mayfield, the applicant here present?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know him before the war? A. No, sir.

Q. How long have you known him? A. I got acquainted with him, I saw him in '68 the first time I saw him.

Q. What place was he at? A. Well, he was on the military road right below where I was living.

Q. From what point does that road run? A. From Fort Ross Gibson, at that time.

Q. How long was it open? A. Fort Scott, Kansas, and Kansas City and Fort Smith.

Q. Well, state the circumstances of seeing him on the military road? A. Well, I was at the military road and he was met by some and some of these fellows that he knew, I got acquainted with him, then I saw him.

Q. Did he have his family? A. He had a family with him, I proposed to go with him.

Q. Others along with him? A. Yes, Mr. Jack Davis, Mr. Bean, and Jack Bean.

Q. How long did he stay? A. And you, Mr. Mayfield?

A. About 30 days, sir.

Q. What had you been doing the two years immediately before that, 1867 and '68? A. Right on the military road.

Thomas Mayfield - 13.

Q How far did Mr. Mayfield live from you after you saw him in '69?
A About five miles.

Q Did he stay there? A Yes, sir, he had a place across the river and lived on the same side.

Q Did you ever see him there? A Yes, sir, you first saw him? A I just saw him there.

Q Did you know about seeing him there?
A No, sir, I didn't know about seeing him there.

Q Did you know that direction, and he camped there?
A Yes, sir, I knew that direction, and he camped there.

Q Did he live with him? A Yes, sir, he lived with him.

Q Did he live with you in the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, he lived with me in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Is there anything that you are positive about fixing the date in 1868? A No, sir, I had been trading with a government wagon, that is the way that was driving the wagons, selling some hay, the day he came there, and I got my pay for that two or three days afterwards, on the 20th I believe, February, 1868.

Q You mean 1868? A 1868.
Q Did you preserve any letter or document which shows that date when you received the pay for the hay? A Yes, sir, I have a paper that shows the date exactly, but I didn't preserve it at that time.
I filed it away with all the papers I have, and I didn't think of it in this other case heretofore.

Q And you have that with you? A Yes, sir.
Q And that date does it show? A It shows I received my money on the 20th, that is my check.

Q On that month? A February, 1868.

Q You were pretty well acquainted in the neighborhood in 1868?

A Yes, sir.

Q Had you been the two years previous? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know any of the colored people who were in the crowd with Thomas Mayfield? A I did Jack Bean, I knew him.

Q Had you known him before the war? A Yes, sir, I knew him before the war.

Q Did you have any talk with him at the time? A Yes, sir, his wife had a servant of my wife's father, and they learned that we were there on the day and they came there and visited us, in how some way to know what I was of these circumstances.

Mr. Smith: Mr. Post, you hadn't been acquainted with Thomas Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.

Q The time you speak of is the first time you ever saw him?

A Yes, sir, the first time I saw him.

Q You don't know how long he had been in the Cherokee Nation when you saw him? A No, sir.

Q You don't know whether he had his family with him at that time or not? A No, sir, he had a family but I don't know whether they were his or not.

Q When did you see him? A I saw him in the Cherokee Nation about the year 1868, I left and lived February 1st, 1868.

Q Where did you go to? A I went on up to Fort Scott, right direct through the country, so where my father lived on this side of Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long did you stay there? A Well about the first or middle of the year.

Q What year? A 1868.

Q How were you paid for it? A I came down to the river, in the Cherokee Nation, and there met me my father and went to trading and trading with the Indians along the river.

Thomas Mayfield - 2

Q How long did you continue in that business? I continued off and on the years.

A How long was that? I was there till fall.

Q And where was that? I was there till fall.

A I was there till fall.

Q How long was that? I was there till fall.

A I was there till fall.

Q How long was that? I was there till fall.

A I was there till fall.

Thomas Mayfield, - 2 4.

Q You can go back 25 years and connect Thomas Mayfield with that particular transaction, how do you do that? A Simply I had that transaction at that time.

Q Were there not other transactions? A Yes, sir, but not so great as that one.

Q It couldn't have been any other transaction you had with the Government when you saw Thomas Mayfield? A It might have been some other, but I don't know, that is all there is about that part of it.

Q Are you going to say that it was this particular transaction?

A Yes, sir.

Q Have you got that letter? A Yes, sir, it is just a receipt (hands Mr. Smith paper.)

Q (Reading paper) Mr. West, all that you claim about the paper about which you have spoken is that it carries that date by which you fix the time? A Yes, sir, it carries it, near about it.

Q Did you give that paper? Were you a witness before the Kurn-cliffen Commission? A Yes, sir, I was.

Q Did you have that paper there? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hunt that paper up? A I hunted it up during the court time.

Q Were you subpoenaed as a witness during that court? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hunt that paper up, before or after you were subpoenaed?

A I hunted it up after I was subpoenaed, I didn't have occasion to hunt it up before.

Q You testified, I believe you stated, before the Kurn-cliffen Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. West, you don't know where this man was in '88 do you?

A Not till that date, not before that date.

Q I say you don't know then where he was in '88 or at any time prior to '88? A Only that day of '88 when he was at my house.

Q He passed your house in '88 did he? A In '88 I meant, that is the first time. In '88 I don't know where he was, or any time before '88.

W. B. Thompson, being duly sworn by Commissioner Hendon, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A W. B. Thompson.

Q What is your age? A 45.

Q What is your post office? A Vinton.

Q Do you know the applicant, Thomas Mayfield, the colored man there?

A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, I know him since steady and well you.

Q Did you know him before the war? A No, sir.

Q You have only known him since the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A Went to Texas.

Q What did you return to the country after the war?

A I came to Fort Gibson in May, 1865, and Robin Creek, January, 1866.

Q Well, where did you first locate in this country, up near Vinton? A Right where I live now, but I didn't own the place then, I only rented it at that time.

Q You have lived there since then? A No, sir, I moved away from there and never came back.

Q You have lived in a house somewhere else since? A Yes, I have.

Q How far away is that house from you, the applicant? A Where he lives now, just about three or six miles I reckon.

Thomas Mayfield - 3.

Q When did you first see Mr. Mayfield after the war? A Well, it must have been, I think, in the fall of 1918, about 1918 I reckon it was. I saw him in the neighborhood, to the best of my recollection,
Q Was he in the neighborhood when he first returned?
A Yes, sir.
Q How long after the war did you see him?
A About five years after the war.
Q Where did you see him?
A In the neighborhood of colored people in the best of my knowledge.
Q How long after the war did you see him in 1918?
A He lived in the neighborhood in 1918. A Yes, sir, he lived right in the same neighborhood. A Yes, sir, five or six miles from where he first returned.
Q You didn't know Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.
Q What time did you see him, Mr. Thompson, when you came back to the neighborhood after the war? A I said I came to Port Gibson in December, 1918, and I came to Cabin Creek in January, 1919.
Q In January, 1919? A Yes, sir.
Q You didn't know Thomas Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.
Q You don't know where he was in 1918? A No, sir.
Q You don't know whether he was in that neighborhood that you went to when you first got there or not? A If he was there I never heard of him, he might have been, so far as I know, but if he was I know
I never heard of him.
Q He might have been there though? A He might have been, but I know none of the families in the neighborhood.
Q You don't state he wasn't in that neighborhood when you went there?
A No, sir.
Q How long after the war did you see him? A I never saw him.
Q You were well acquainted through the neighborhood? A Yes, sir, I lived there before the war.
Q You were acquainted with it before the war? A Yes, sir.
Q Was it thickly settled or thinly settled? A It was sparsely settled.
Q You knew people from a distance? A Yes, sir.
Q How long after the war did you see him? A No, sir, it wasn't my business.
Q And a year or two before you saw him?
A I don't believe he would have been in the neighborhood. I don't believe that long.
Q You don't know, but you don't know he couldn't have been.
A Of course it wasn't my business to run around and hunt them up.
Q But you didn't see him? A Mayfield was there when you came there or not? A I don't really say he wasn't there, but if he was I didn't see him.

Thomas Mayfield # 8.

Q November, '86.
Q Where did you go for a while to Texas?
Q Come back with your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you go to Texas? A We located at our old place, about ten miles from where we lived.
Q Did you live there for a while? A No.
Q Did you know him after the war? A Yes, I knew him after the war.
Q Do you know when I first saw him after the war? A No.
Q When was the first time you ever saw him after the war? A The first time I ever saw him was about '89.
Q How far did he come from Texas? A About ten miles and a half; well I wasn't living there in '89, that is where I live now.
Q How far were you from where he located there in '89? A I don't know really. I was very old then I guess down about ten miles.
Q How far were you from where he located in '89? Were you at your old place then? A Yes, in November, '86, about ten miles.
Q You were at the same place in November, '86 and in November, '89 also? A Yes, I made that my home although I did not stay there all the time. I was about from one place to another.
Q Mr. Wright, you were married at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q I young man living with your father, and made that your headquarters? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you spend most of the time? A I was here and there and in Texas and came and forth and at the time a great deal.
Q There part of the time and some part of the time and now and there? A Yes, sir.
Q Then that place you speak of was about ten miles from where Mayfield went to live, was it? A Yes, that is where my father lived.
Q At that time you didn't have a home, stayed with your father? A I didn't have any certain place only at father's.
Q About what age were you then? A About 18 or 19.
Q When was it you first saw Thomas Mayfield? A The first time I remember seeing him I think was about '89, he was running a ferry.
Q And you are not quite certain about its being '89? A Well, yes I am pretty certain it was '89 the first time I saw him, I know him if I saw him before I didn't know him.
Q Right that was about '89? A Well, I don't know and it was, I think it was '89.
Q But you are not positive about it? A No, I was not positive, it has been so long ago.
Q Tell you didn't go back to your father's place at all until in November, 1899? A That is as early as I came there.
Q How long did you then stay at your father's place after you came back before you went away elsewhere? A We were there all winter.
Q Then did you go back to Texas? A No, the next summer I was there and Pryor Creek, and most of the spring and summer.
Q But your father's place was ten miles at least from where Mayfield lived when you became acquainted with him? A Yes, sir.
Q How long was it then before you had a place of your own, and went to living there, right? A In '92 I moved there in about two miles and a half.
Q You have been living about two and a half miles or less ever since '92? A Yes, that is, until he moved away, he moved away from the place he was living on that summer or about your age.
Q You saw him then until the time you became acquainted with him? A Yes, sir, after I got acquainted with him I saw him often.

Thomas Mayfield - 7.

Q You of course don't pretend to say he hadn't been living up at a place ten miles away from your place when you became acquainted with him? A No, I don't know how long he was living here at all, only when I first saw him.

Lucien B. Bell, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needlen, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Lucien B. Bell.

Q What is your age? A 43, about.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q Do you know the applicant Thomas Mayfield? A Yes, sir.

Q He is present here is he? A Yes, sir, that is him right behind Smith.

Q Are you citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You go out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q What time did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A Well, I came back in the neighborhood of where I settled, right in a mile or there I located, in the latter part of 1867; I came into the Cherokee Nation along in May, 1867, stopped ten miles below there, or twelve, and made a little crop; I located right on Cabin Creek near the military road where it crosses it, on the south side.

Q How far was this from where Mayfield afterwards located, the applicant, Mayfield? A Well, I guess it was three, two or three miles, something like that, three and a half.

Q How long do you live at that place? A Well, if you count me living here now, I have been living here thirty odd years.

Q You own the place now? A I have sold some part of the claim off, but I have got my farm on the same claim.

Q You are familiar with that country? A Yes, I am pretty well acquainted with it, more so than that latterly, latterly I have been away from there a good deal.

Q You lived on that farm then at that time? A Yes, sir, I lived right on the same spot from 1867 to 1881; and then I moved about three quarters of a mile to another part of it.

Q When was the first time you ever saw Thomas Mayfield? A Well, I saw Tom Mayfield about two years after I returned, was the first time I saw him, about 1869.

Q Were you familiar with the place where he located, this section of the country and all? A Yes, I saw him on the other side of the Grand River where it crosses the mouth of Cabin Creek; he lived there; I don't know whether he was living on his own place or not, probably it was the Will Hick's place where I saw him first; that is all in the same neighborhood.

Q He was living there when you first saw him? A Oh, yes he was living there; he wasn't dead.

Q He hadn't just come there had he? A I can't say as to that, I knew about when he first came, about when I first saw him; I know when the people around there said he came.

Q I am asking you about your own personal knowledge? A I told you that is the first place I saw him; I don't recollect whether he said to me he had just come or whether he had been there, I don't recollect that we talked about that. I had known him some years before that.

Q He was already known to you then? A Well that is enough.

Q Are you the chief counsel of the Cherokee Nation? A These fellows-

Q That is your son? A Yes, sir, he is.

Q What is your son's name? A He is, I think, Anderson County.

Q How long have you been a resident of Anderson County, Kansas? A I have been there for about 10 years. I came here in '85.

Q Did you live there for 10 years after the war? A Yes, sir, that is correct.

Q Did you live there for 10 years after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know a colored man by the name of Thomas Mayfield? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know him? A Yes, sir.

Q What was his wife's name? A Her name was Mrs. Mayfield, the name to which I am referring.

Q When did you first learn to know them? A Well, just right away after the war. I don't know whether it was '65 or '67, well '66 or '67 and '8 they lived on our place. I think they had a lease for three years and I believe they took that lease in '65.

Q Well, do you know where they were in '65 and '67 and '8? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they? A They were there on my father's place.

Q Well, when did they leave there? A They left there in the winter of fall of '88 in my recollection.

Q Do you know whether they made a crop there in the year of '88? A Yes, sir, I believe they did.

Q Plowed right with them? A Yes, sir, right in the same field.

Q In the same field? A Yes, sir.

Q Did they claim to be Christian ministers? A Well, I believe they did.

Q Do you know where they said they were going when they left there? A They said they were going to the station.

Q Now, did you move to the same field with them? A Same field with him, they had a lease on my father's place, and he bought their crop that fall after they left it.

Q That fall? A Well, yes, I moved in '88 in the season I moved this, and that was all that was left for me to do. My father was probate judge, and he left everything to me. The reason I recollect all these things, and I don't know about farming, never had any business in my life, and I don't go over to him and the way I should do the work, and that I should have done and so on.

Arthur D. Green, who is the only person who relates that an attempt was made to kill him, states that he was killed in the above case, and that the person who killed him was the same person who killed the other person.

In the matter of the application of Thomas Mayfield for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-200.

APPEARANCES:

Mellette & Smith for applicant.
W. W. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence a decision of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation taken from a book labeled "Pocket of Doubtful Cases for Cherokee Citizenship Tried in 1871," from Saline District, the following:

"No. 60. Thomas Mayfield.

Decided against defendant June 8, 1871."

MR. SMITH: Counsel for applicant objects to the introduction of the matter offered for the reason that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and because the matter offered is not proven to be a judgment rendered against anybody, and because it is insufficient to prove any issue in this case, and because it does not tend to prove any issue in this case, and because the same is not competent to be offered before this Commission in evidence in the form sought to offer it, and because the Thomas Mayfield mentioned therein is in no way shown to be identical with the applicant in the above entitled application.

W. W. Hastings, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

My name is W. W. Hastings; I am one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation. This book was given me as coming from the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation, where the records of the Supreme Court, as well as citizenship courts, are kept, and this book is part of the records of the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation, and at the present time in my keeping as one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation.

Arthur S. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Cherokee Nation by W. F. Hastings.

J. M. JOHNSON, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. HASTINGS: What is your name? A J. M. Johnson.
Q What is your postoffice? A Garnett, Kansas.
Q What is your age? A 50 years old.
Q What is your business? A My business is real-estate, loan and abstracting.
Q I believe you have already testified that you have lived at Garnett since '59? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know a colored man up there by the name of Tom Mayfield?
A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know his wife? A Yes, sir.
Q What was her name? A Niece.
Q Did they have any children? A One son that I remember.
Q What was his name? A Charley.
Q When did you learn to know Thomas Mayfield? A In '68.
Q In '68? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did he live then, I mean how far did he live from you, in the town or country? A He lived about two miles and a half from Garnett.
Q From Garnett? A Yes, sir.
Q What direction from town? A Southeast.
Q How long did he continue to live there, when did he leave there?
A He left there in '68 or after '68, he was there on the 25th day of December, 1868.
Q Do you remember it? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you ever work with him? A No, sir, I was out at his place different times.
Q You was at his place different times? A Yes, sir.
Q On whose place did he live, if you remember? He first lived on C. Gibson's place, an uncle of mine.
Q An uncle of yours? A Yes, sir, in '68.
Q Well it was after '68? A Yes, sir, when he lived on my uncle's place was July, '68.
Q Where did he live after that? A Well he moved about half a mile southeast onto J. T. Campbell's farm.
Q Did he make a crop there in '68? A Yes, sir.
Q And sometime after this crop was made before he came to the territory? A Yes, sir.
MR. SMITH: Then was it you saw he left there? A He left there in '68, after '68.
Q Well how long after '68? A I wouldn't know you just what time he left in '68, he was there on the 25th day of December, '68.

Q December of '68? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was he on the 25th day of August, '68? A He was there on Judge Campbell's farm.

Q How do you know? A Know there was where he lived until he left Kansas, left Anderson County.

Q Well the question was where was he on the 25th day of August, '68? A Well now, I couldn't say where he was.

Q Where was he you say the last time you saw him? A He was there on Judge Campbell's place.

Q When did he go on Judge Campbell's place? A I think he moved on Judge Campbell's place in '67.

Q What time in '67? A Spring of '67.

Q Where did he go from, where was he living before? A He moved from Gibson's farm, right adjoining Campbell's.

Q How long had he been there? A I don't know, only the year '66, he farmed Gibson's place in '66, part of it.

Q What time of the year was it in '66 when you first saw him? A I think sometime in June.

Q Sometime in June? A Yes, sir, that was my first recollection.

Q Well that's been how long ago? A Which, '66?

Q Yes, sir. A Be about 24 years, wouldn't it?

Q From now? A Yes, sir, this is 1902, and '66 would be about twenty - let's see, 20, '66, would be worse than that, be about 32 years ago.

MR. HASTINGS: How many years did you say now it was, after you have figured it up? A '70 would be 30, and four would be 34, and two would be 36 this year.

MR. SMITH: Well now after that lapse of time what is it that makes you remember that it was in June '66 that you first saw this man? A This uncle of mine died in '66, July of '66, that's what fixed it, he was living there on the place when he was taken sick.

Q Who was? A Mayfield, living on my uncle's farm.

Q Have you ever seen him since he went away from there? A No, sir.

Q Well you don't know whether that is the same man that is the applicant in this application or not? A No, sir, I would say that he was.

Q Well, Mr. Johnson, when did you first have your attention called to the time that Thomas Mayfield left Kansas? A Last week when I was talking with parties about these other colored people I mentioned him.

Q Well now when was he first mentioned to you? A Which, about Thomas Mayfield? We were talking about the colored people, and that is the way it come up, I spoke of Mayfield myself, and they were talking to the old ones that lived there.

Q Where? A At Garnett.

Q Why did you do that? A They were asking me what colored families I knew.

Q Well did they ask you about Thomas Mayfield? A No, sir, I told them about Mayfield, they were asking me and the other parties and trying to fix the names, and I spoke of Mayfield myself, named him among the others.

Q Well he didn't go away from there at the same time according to your idea of it that McNair went away, did he? A No, sir, McNair was among the first that left.

Q Which ones? A I think Sandy Bean left at the same time.
 Q Who else? A I don't know but the other Beans, some of them Beans, I think I probably all of them.
 Q Well, what were their names, who were they? A There was Tobo, and Joe, there was five of them all together.
 Q What was this man McNair's name? A Riley.
 Q Riley McNair? A Yes, sir.
 Q Well now, Mr. Johnson, when was the matter first mentioned to you could you remember of your independent recollection the date when Mayfield left there? A Yes, sir.
 Q Just remembered that? A Remembered that from the circumstances which occurred, just related.
 Q Well you had to look up the record about McNair? A Yes, sir, but I didn't about my uncle's death, and things of that kind, circumstances that occurred along about that time, know the time that they lived at Gibson's, and they left there, and the length of time they lived on there.
 Q You remembered Mayfield better than you did McNair? A Yes, sir.
 Q When was it you say your uncle died? A July, '66.
 Q '66? A Yes, sir.
 Q And you say Mayfield didn't leave until '68? A '69, sometime in the first of '69.
 Q Let's see, '66, that was some time after your uncle died?
 A About a year and a half.
 Q Well he died in '66? A Yes, sir.
 Q The next year would have been '67? A Yes, sir.
 Q Next '68? A Yes, sir.
 Q Been two and a half, wouldn't it? A Yes, sir, two and a half years.
 Q Well there was nothing about that fact or month that you have stated that would have made you remember this ran two years and a half after your uncle died, was there? A No, sir that occurrence, that would be about all, being bound back to my uncle's death there, and knowing my father and my uncle, the fact that they lived on Campbell's farm.
 Q Well how long did they live on Campbell's farm? A About two years and a half, two years.
 Q Well he lived on Campbell's farm then all the time from the time of your uncle's death or until they left? A Yes, sir.
 Q Well now 36 years afterwards you remember whether it was one year and a half, two years and a half, or three years and a half?
 A Could from the facts that I told you about.
 Q Well you stated a minute ago that it was a year and a half? A Two years and a half after fishing.
 Q You had to figure it out? A No, I hadn't made no account of it, no.
 Q Well now after a lapse of 36 years do you think that you can be positive that they ran living there two and a half years after you got acquainted with him there? A Yes, sir, by the events and circumstances that occurred, yes, sir.
 Q Well now what event occurred? A Well circumstances that we were thrown together, and being back and forth from visiting.
 Q What was the circumstance? A Hunting and fishing.
 Q Well that long afterwards as you remember whether you had hunted and fished with a man a year or two? A Well, about seasons, '68 and a dry year with us, and then compelled to go to the creek for water, we could tell that people were living there, would remember it.

Q That's in the early part of '88? A That he left there, yes, sir.
 Q Well, was also left there in the early part of '89? A None that I know of.
 Q Anybody leave there in the early part of '90? A There was several parties left there in '90.
 Q '79? A I think there were some of them left in '79.
 Q '78? A I couldn't say about that.
 Q Well, you remember better the further back it goes? A Being associated with them I would know better, is I had been associated with them after that probably it would have been impressed on my mind, I might remember it just as well later as back further.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY.

F.-D.#674.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
NOWATA, I.T., JUNE 27th, 1901.

Supplemental testimony in the matter of the enrollment of William H. Robinson as a Cherokee Freedman; introduced on the part of applicant:

WILLIAM FOREMAN, being duly sworn by Commissioner T. B. Needles, testified as follows:

APPEARANCES:

Messrs. Mellette & Smith, for Applicant.

Messrs. Hastings and Davenport, for Cherokee Nation

BY MR. SMITH:

Q State your name. A William Foreman.
Q Where do you live, Mr. Foreman? A Near Wagoner.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 64 years a little over.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Citizen by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A First knew him in '62.
Q Where? A Lees Country on Cabin Creek.
Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he with at that time? A With his father and his mother, they were living there working there.
Q What was his father's name? A Lumford I think.
Q What were they, Mr. Foreman, slaves or free colored persons?
Q My understanding is that they were free.
Q Where did they go during the war? A Fort Scott, Kansas.
Q When did you first see that family back in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A First saw this boy and his brother near Lees country in May, '66, but his father and mother I never saw since the war.
Q Well, how old was William when you saw him in '66, after the war here? A He was a young man probably 16, 17 or 18, somewhere along there, a young man.
Q Did you know the wife of Lumford, did you know his father?
A Yes, sir, I saw her at Fort Scott in '66.
Q What was her name? A I could not tell you.
Q Where did you see her say you saw her in '66? A I left them at Fort Scott in '66.
Q Now, were you acquainted with his mother before the war?
A No, sir, only at Lees Country in '62.
Q Where was she? A Working there.
Q And they were free colored persons you say? A Yes, sir, they claimed to be from Arkansas.
Q Well, you were acquainted with this country? A Yes, sir.
Q You knew whether they belonged to anybody?
A They didn't belong to anybody in this country that I knew of.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q When did you say you knew the applicant first?
A I first saw him in '62 at Lee Schrimmer's.
Q Is that the first time you ever saw the applicant?
A Yes, sir.
Q You testified for him before the Kern-Clifton Commission?
A Yes, sir.
Q You testified that you saw him on Shoals Creek with Eliza in 1862? A No, sir, some of that isn't correct.
Q How do you know his testimony isn't true?
A I have seen it and know it is not true.
Q Where did you see a copy? A Some fellow had it here.

Q Fellow L. A. Bell? A I think so.
Q Where were you living in '61? A I was living on Poteau river about six or seven miles below Chatopa.
Q What time of the year was it you saw this fellow?
A Along in the fall.
Q How long did you see him there? A I saw him there two different times, I was passing there and stayed all night at Lees country one time.
Q Do you know where this ~~fat~~ family came from? A No, sir, only what they claimed.
Q What did they claim? A Claimed to come from Arkansas.
Q You swore that they refuged from Arkansas in '64 then didn't you? A I don't know.
Q Did Lee Schrimsher live on the line? A No, sir, lived on Big Cabin Creek.
Q Well, didn't you swear before that you saw this Robinson in '61 or '2 on the neutral land? A I don't think I did.
Q Well, do you deny that now? A Yes, sir, I do.
Q You admit though that you testified for them before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, how many did you see in '66 of this family?
A I could not tell, the old man and his wife and a lot of children, this boy and another he claimed to be his family.
Q I thought you said just now you never saw his father?
A I saw him at Lee Schrimsher's in '62.
Q I mean in '66? A I never saw him in '66.
Q Now, who did you see in '66? A I saw this boy and his brother.
Q Was he older or younger? A Older.
Q And you only saw this boy about in '66? A He came there to Lee Schrimsher's in May, '66.
Q How long did he stay in there? Q I don't know, he came in.
Q Was Lee Schrimsher there? A No, sir.
Q Who was along with you? A A fellow named Wolf, dutchman.
Q Did he settle there with them? A He did that fall.
Q Where were you going? A I was going up to the Dave Martin place.
Q Who was living there at that time? A Nobody.
Q Did you have a place there at that time? A First bought a place from Tom Hudson and I afterwards sold it to Bill Martin.
Q Was there a place made in '66? A Made before '66.
Q Was any crop in then, '66? A No, sir.
Q Did you put any in? A No, sir, I moved out there and intended to stay and they stole my cattle.
Q Did you have any family with you? A No, sir, just some work hands.
Q Well, how long after that was it before you saw this Robinson family? A The next time I saw this one was when Wallace had the Wallace Court.
Q You don't know what became of them between that and the Wallace Court? A No, sir.
Q Did you see any other members of the family in the meantime?
A No, sir.
Q These two then were there alone? A Yes, sir, just the two, they claimed that was camped on Russell Creek; I don't know whether they was or not, I didn't see them.
Q How far was Lee Schrimsher's from Russell Creek? A About 25 miles.
Q Lee Schrimsher lived on Cabin Creek? A Yes, sir.
Q About how far from Vinita? A About ten miles.
Q There was nobody there in this house at that time?
A No, sir.
Q What were they doing down there? A They came there to see if Lee Schrimsher had come back for they wanted to get work.
Q There were five of these brothers applied before the Kern-Clifton Court? A I don't remember.
Q You charged them $125 didn't you? A I think I did.

Q To testify in that case? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you charging them anything this time? A No, sir; they paid my fare up here from Wagoner.

Q You were at Chelsea when this man applied? A No, sir; I was there three days at Chelsea and I understand he made application after I left there.

Q He was there while you were there? A Yes, sir.

Q And you saw him there? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. SMITH:

Q Why did you charge him $125 before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I thought it was right that I should have pay for my trouble running around tending to these courts, it cost me something to be here.

Q Where did you have to go to when you testified before the Kern Court? A I went from Wagoner to Lightning Creek, where the Court was held.

Q Was it at Lightning Creek he made his application? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How far is it from where you lived to Lightning Creek? A I came around by this place, I suppose it is about 25 or 30 miles.

Applicant offers in evidence some permits issued by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation.

Counsel for Cherokee Nation objects to the introduction of said permits for the reason it is irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial.

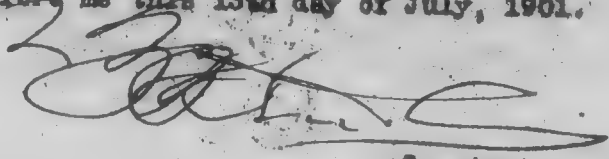

Permits are permitted to be filed.

GEORGE WALKER, being sworn and examined testified as follows:
BY MR. DAVENPORT:

- Q What is your name? A George Walker.
Q Where do you live, Mr. Walker? A I live on Cabin Creek.
Q What is your post-office? A Kennison, I. T.
Q How old are you? A About 72.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life pretty near it.
Q How long have you lived up in between here and Chetopa, Kansas, up in that neighborhood where you now live? A I moved to where I now live in the fall of '66.
Q You had been living before you moved to where you now live up right close to Chetopa, you know the Creek up there they call Russell Creek? A Yes sir.
Q Now how far is it from Chetopa, Kansas, down in the Territory? A It is about three miles, or little over maybe.
Q Were you around there during the year of '66 and '67? A Often and on.
Q You lived near Chetopa did you during the year '66 until you moved over to where you live now? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any houses along that Russell Creek built along there in '66 that you remember of? A Trott built one there in '66.
Q Did Sam Trott? A Yes sir.
Q That's the father of F. B. Trott and Doc Trott? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any colored families built along there on that Creek during that year? A Not that I know of.
Q Well did you see any there? A No sir.
Q Did you ever know a colored family named Poo or Vann, Sukey Poo and her family? A No sir.
Q Did you ever know Josh Vann? A No sir.
Q When did you ever see them in that country, if at all? A I can't know that I knew them.
BY MR. MELLETTE:
Q How long is Russell Creek, Mr. Walker? A Well it is about, as near as I could tell it is about 5 or 6 miles.
Q Five or six miles long? A Yes sir.
Q Where does it enter the Indian Territory, is it here in the Indian Territory? A It is all together.
Q How? A It is not in the State at all.
Q What? A There is none of it in the State.
Q It is all in the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q What does it empty into? A It empties into the Neosho.
Q Whereabout? A Well about something near two miles from where Trott lived.
Q Were you ever at its mouth? A Yes sir.
Q When? A Trott's house you mean?
Q No, were you ever at the mouth of Russell Creek? A Oh yes, often.
Q When? A I used to fish there.
Q How when did you move into that country? A On Cabin Creek?
Q Yes? A Well in '66 I moved there.

Q The fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q How far is that from Russell Creek? A Well it is about, something near 8 or 10 miles, eight miles anyway.

Q Do you pretend to have located everybody that lived in around that country 8 or 10 miles from you? A There was nobody living there.

Q How do you know? A I have been around that Creek often.

Q You swear that nobody lived in that country in '66? A Trott lived there.

Q Anybody else? A Then there was another house, it was built afterwards up the Creek, a little cabin, Oliver Morris built it.

Q I don't care whether there was logs or not, but do you know whether or not there were anybody camped around in that country? A No I don't.

Q You don't know whether they were there or not do you? A No.

Q How you located up there where you live in the fall of '66?

Yes sir.

Q What time? A I couldn't tell you exactly what time; it was in the fall, toward winter.

Q Do you swear that these people were not living on Russell Creek during that winter? A No, I swear I never saw them.

Q But you don't know whether they were there or not? A No sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:
Q As I understood you awhile ago, you said you were living near Chatops on Russell Creek when you moved to Cabin Creek? A Yes, I was living right joining Chatops.

M. D. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereon.

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A W. L. Trott.

Q What is your age? A 57.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have lived in the Cherokee Nation, well since the spring of '66 since the war, I lived here before the war too.

Q During the year '66, where were you? A During the year '66 I was on Russell creek in the Cherokee Nation.

Q How far from there Chetopa now is? A Three miles.

Q What were you doing there that year? A Living there improving the place.

Q You were living with your father that year were you not? A Yes sir.

Q Who owns that place now, the one you improved that year? A I don't know.

Q How long did you stay there on that place? A Came there in the spring of 1866 and moved away in the fall of '66.

Q When you went there were there any houses along on Russell creek? A No sir.

Q When you left there were there any houses other than the one you and your father built? A No sir.

Q How long is Russell creek, how far is it from there it comes into the Territory to where it empties into the river? A I don't know exactly, where the head of Russell creek is, but I think it is about six or eight miles from the head to the mouth.

Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I do not.

Q Do you know Sheckey Pee, his mother, or a woman that goes by that name? A No sir.

Q Was there any colored people living there on that creek, along Russell creek in the Cherokee Nation when you lived there in '66? A No sir there was no one there except our family either colored or white.

Q You were the only family, colored, white or Indians that lived on that creek then? A Yes sir. By the commission.

Q You moved on Russell creek in the spring of '66 and lived there until the fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know if any colored people stayed there in the fall of '66 and stayed there until the winter of '66 and '67? A No sir I can't tell you what happened after I left there.

J. C. TROTT, being first duly sworn by the commission testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation-

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A J. C. Trott.

Q Where do you live? A Here in Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 63.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '66.

Q Where did you live in the Cherokee Nation in '66? A On Russell creek.

Q What other family lived there on Russell creek in '66 except your family? A I don't know of anyone.

Q Were you up and down that creek any? A Yes sir.

Q What other houses were there then? A None.

Q When did you leave that section of the creek? A In the fall of '66.

Q Were there any colored people there in the fall of '66? A No sir.

Q Did you make any improvements there? A Built a house.

Q What became of it? A Sold it, in the fall and moved away.

Q Who did you sell it to? A I thought it was Denney, but some say Glenn is his name.

Q Have you been there since? A No sir.

Q Do you know of anyone else living on that place up there since you had it out and left? A I know of this Denny or Glenn.

Q Any one else? A No sir, I haven't been acquainted around there since I left.

Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I know him when I see him.

Q Did you know his mother? A No sir.

Q Did you ever see Josh Vann living up there? A No sir.

(By Mellette.)

Q You left Russell creek in the fall of '66? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know what colored people were there after you left? A No sir.

Q You don't know who was there in the fall and winter of '66 and '67?

A No sir.

LOUISA SPINGER being first duly sworn by the Commission testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport.)

Q What is your name? A Louisa Stinger.

Q How old are you? A I will be 22 on the 22d of next May, will be 58 years old.

Q What is your post office? A San, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Born and raised here.

Q What was your maiden name? A Morris.

Q Did you ever live on and about Russell creek, near Metopa? A Yes sir.

Q Did your parents live up there? A No sir.

Q What year did you move into that neighborhood? A Well I can't hardly tell the year, somewhere about '67.

Q What place did you move to when you moved there? A The old Glenn place we bought it from him.

Q Who originally made the place? A They claimed Mr. Trott made it.

Q How old were you when you moved there? A I was about 17 or 18 years old. I was married and had one child.

Q When you moved to the Glenn place there on Russell creek what other families lived there? A A man named Tom Fialda lived there close to the creek is all.

Q Was there any colored family there? A No sir.

Q Do you know Shockey Fee or Josh Vann her son? A I saw her, not personally acquainted with her.

Q Did you see her on Russell creek then? A No sir.

Q Did you ever know her to live there? A Yes sir a couple of years after I moved in there.

Q About what year do you think she moved in there? A Well I can't tell you the year.

Q She moved in there some time after you moved there? A Yes sir.

Q Did she build a house there? A I don't think so.

Q About how far were they living from you? A Half a mile northwest of where I live.

(By Mellette.)

Q Mrs. Stinger, you don't mean to say that there was nobody else living there when you went there on that creek in '67? A Yes there were some families living there then but she was not there.

Q Did you go up and down that creek to see who was living on it? A I lived there and knew.

Q And you can say positively that there were no colored people camped there around that creek anywhere? A To the best of my knowledge there wasn't any there.

Q You said a while ago that you could not tell the year exactly when you moved there, now you don't know if you was there in '67 or not do you? A I don't know just what year, I can't read or write and can't keep track of the years.

Q Now was it '66, '67, '68, or '69? A I don't know, I have a brother in law that knows and can tell you all about it.

Q You dont know if these people were camped somewhere on that creek or not do you? A Well I know I used to go up and down the creek hunting for wild unions and if they had been there I would have seen them.

Q Russell creek is six miles long isn't it? A No longer than that I guess.

Q How long do you think it is? A Over six miles I think.

Q How long do you think it is? A Seven miles I guess to the head.

Q Did you hunt wild unions from the head to the mouth? A No sir.

Q Then these people might have been there and you not see them? A There are others that never saw them there.

Q Is that the reason you say they were not there? A As far as I am concerned they were not there, I never saw them.

Q And you swear they were not there? A Not to my knowing.

Q You think colored people could not have been camped there and you not know it? A Yes they might have been in a holler log or something like that and we not know it.

Q How far out from the creek did you go hunting unions? A On the bank of the creek.

Q Suppose that they were camped half a mile from the creek, could you have seen them? A I might have.

Q All that country is called Russell creek for a mile or so away from the creek isn't it? A No sir, I dont think it is.

Q If you say a man lived on Russell creek, how far does he have to live from the creek? A Right on the banks of the creek.

Q Then if a man lived half a mile from the creek is is not living on Russell creek according to your idea? A No sir.

Q You say these people came there after you did? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you see them? A Half a mile from where I lived.

Q Where were they living? A In a shanty there.

Q How long after you came there did you see them? A Two years after I came there.

Q What year was that? A (No response)

Q How do you know it was two years? A To the best of my knowledge it was two years.

Q That is your opinion of yours? A I was living there two years before they came, I dont know the dates of the years and I can't answer that question, if I could I would.

Q You dont read or write and dont know the dates? A No sir, but I know one year from another.

(By Davenport.)

Q You know it was some time after you came there that they came there? A Yes sir.

WILLIAM H. NOBLE, being first duly sworn by the Commission, testified as follows for the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport.)

Q What is your name? A William H. Noble.

Q What is your age? A 51.

Q What is your post office? A Wana, Texas.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '66.

Q Where were you living in '66, in what part of the Cherokee Nation? A I came on Neosho river between the mouth of Fly and Cherry creeks in what was called Short creek, on the north side.

Q How far is that from where Ghatopa is now? A Two and a half miles.

Q Do you know a creek called Russell creek there? A Yes sir.

Q Were you on that creek any in '66? A Yes sir.

Q What did you see there on that creek then and who were living on in them? A In '66.

Q Yes sir, A Mr. Trott was there, he built the first house on the creek in the spring of '66.

Q Shows there any other houses built there that year if you know was not on that creek that year? A Yes sir.

Q Any other houses built there on Russell creek that year? A No sir.

Q And was any other houses built there, shanties or anything? A There was a shanty belonging to Oliver Morris, that was the next shanty built

- Q Was he any relation of Mrs. Stinger, who just testified? A Brother I think.
- Q Was that after the Trott house was built? A Yes sir.
- Q Was you on this creek in the winter of '66 and '77? A Yes sir.
- Q Were there any colored people there then? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Shockey Pee? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Josh Vann? A I don't know him, I have heard of him.
- Q How long did you live in that neighborhood? A Backwards and forwards on that creek from that time on until in the spring of '68, after '68 I went back on the creek every once and a while.
- Q Was you back there at that Trott place on Russell creek in '67 or '87? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you see any colored people there or any houses that were built there then? A No sir.
- Q When did you see any other shanties built there besides the Trott and Morris houses? Well it might have been in the summer of '68, but not before; I was back there every month or so then.
- Q You married a sister of Mrs. Stinger's? A Yes sir.
- Q Where was she living? A With Mrs. Donner.
- Q Where? A On Russell creek.
- Q In what house? A The Trott house.
- (By Hellette)
- Q How long has it been since 1866? A How long?
- Q Yes sir. A Well it has been a good many years; it has been 30 odd years I guess, I am not positive.
- Q How long has it been since 1866? A Yes up in 40 odd years.
- Q Forty how many years? A I can't tell exactly, unless I count it up.
- Q Take your pencil and figure out how much it is? A I can't figure how much it is, not much on figures anyway and then I haven't my glasses with me to see the figures after I make them.
- Q Well let's have it now, how much is it? A Six--this is 191--let's see, 44 years wouldn't it, I can't count it out right in my head.
- Q You were passing up and down that creek from the mouth to the head every month or two? A From '67 I was was, pretty near every month up and down there.
- Q Do you suppose that there might not have been a colored family stuck in behind some hill that you might not have seen the place, that you might not recollect having seen now at this time? A Not at that time, families were scarce then.
- Q Do you swear that they couldn't have been there? A No they couldn't.
- Q And you will swear that the family of Shockey Pee was not there in the winter of '66? A Yes sir I do.
- Q You are on your oath now, and do you swear that it has been 40 odd years since you were up there on Russell creek? A (No response.)
- Q It has been forty odd years, according to what you say, and do you swear that at no place on Russell creek in the winter of '66 was Shockey Pee there? A No sir she was not.
- Q Where were you living 35 years ago? A I believe I was living in Kansas then.

(By Davenport)

- Q You came from Kansas to the Territory? A Yes sir.
- Q What section of the Territory did you come to from Kansas? On Cabin creek.

(Witness William H. Noble here desires to make a correction in his testimony)

(By the commission)

- Q What is it you desire to say in regard to your former testimony? A I said 40 odd years, I was wrong, I got it in my mind wrong and spoke it wrong, it is 35 in place of 40. I came from Kansas to the Territory in '66 and I swear that it is 35 years from that time till now.

(By Mr. Smith of counsel for defendant)

Q By Smith?

Q How long do you say it was, 1871 or 1872?

Q How do you know? A It was 1871 and not 1872, that is 33 years, I said 33 and you say it is 32.

Q Didn't you say 33 years? A I don't believe I did, I might have.

Q And did you get to know it was 33 years? A I didn't get to know, I had it figured out before I left the store but did not know that I could correct it, and when I went down at the bar, Davidson told me that I could end as I was doing it.

Q Where were you when he was there? A I was in Louisville, Kentucky.

Q What month were you there? A I don't know, I don't know there.

Q What month did you get it? A I don't tell you, I have it at home.

Q You don't know how you got your discharge? A I don't tell it just that way.

Q When did the war close? A Closed in 1865, I don't speak that, you throwed me again there.

Q You were there, A No sir.

Q You don't know anything about the war? A That was the war I am talking about, Kansas to the Territory.

Q You don't give any other receipt but you say I was there I don't give me a other dates.

Q How long had the war been over when you came down from Kansas? A Two years, I had been discharged, I was there I was.

Q When you came here, two years after the war? A Yes sir, that I was discharged.

Q Well, you wasn't discharged until after the war, was you? A Yes sir.

Q You know that it was two or three years after you received your discharge that you came here? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't get to the Territory that until after I got here in 1871, I left home in March 1871.

Q Did you pass to Onatona before you came here? A Yes sir.

Q What was there? A Old Mr. Lyle lived there, and called it Onatona.

Q Was there any stores there? A It is still there yet, yes sir.

Q I asked if there were any stores there at that time? A Yes, charity.

Q Store? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever get into any trouble there at Onatona before you came here with a man named Carol? A I don't think I did, I don't recollect the man, or the name.

Q Have you ever been arrested for anything? A Yes sir.

Q What? A Gattle stealing.

Q Where? A Here in the Territory.

Q What? A About 4 or 5 years ago.

Q Anything else? A I believe that was all, taken to Fort Smith before Judge Parker got it and the Grand Jury didn't find a bill against me.

Q Have you ever arrested before that? A I don't think I was.

Q You would be not to remember it is you had been wouldn't you? A If I was I don't know it.

This will also be filed and made a part of the record in Onatona Freedman doctored cases 1-10; 1-105; 1-106; 1-107; 1-108 and 1-109.

There you will find that on 11th March to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported the above proceedings in full and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his statement.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskegee, I. T., March 3, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION, in the matter of the application of William H. Robinson for the enrollment of himself, wife and children as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearances:

Mr. Mellette, or Mellette & Smith, Vinita, I.T., attorneys
for the applicants;
W.W.Hastings, Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

ELIZABETH DAVIS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q What is your name? A Elizabeth Davis.
Q What is your age, Mrs. Davis? A 57.
Q What is your post-office address? A Fort Scott, Kansas.
Q How long has Fort Scott Kansas been your post office? A Since '63.
Q You formerly lived in this country? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know a coloredman by the name of Mumford Robinson?
A Yes sir.

Q When did you learn to know him? A In 1863. He was at Fort Scott, ~~where~~ when I left.
Q Did you continue to live there during the war? A Yes sir.
Q And after the war? A Yes sir, I lived up there right along.
Q Do you know his wife? A Yes sir.
Q What is her name? A Anna.
Q Do you know any of his children? A Yes, I knew his children.
Q You know any of their names? A Had one named Lizzie, and a boy named William and one Jim and Tobe and Wesley, and I don't know, he had a whole house full.
Q How long did you continue to know this family at Fort Scott,
Kansas? A I knew him from '63 down to the winter of '69.
Q Did you know them continuously? A Yes sir, they lived right there; I was about two blocks away from them.
Q Did you have occasion to see them frequently? A Yes sir, I saw them pass, they would have to pass my house to go to town.
Q You know where they went to from there or where they were gone?
A I don't know where they went to.
Q You know whether they had a house there or not? A Yes sir, they owned their home there; they bought their house; I don't know whether they bought a lot and built the house or whether they bought the house, I couldn't say, it was just a frame building, that was there when I left; I know they owned that and sold it.
Q You positive that they lived there until the fall or winter of '69? A Yes sir, I am positive; how that is, Mrs. Runyan- her father, Mr. Anthony died in July, 1869, and they was there then, and in the fall the boys helped dig the potatoes and gather the crop; him and his son Walter Runyan both died the same month, and left the widow woman and the girls and she got these boys to gather the crop.

BY MR. MELLETTE:

Q Are you a white woman? A Yes sir.
Q You are of white blood? A Yes sir.
Q You are not of Cherokee blood? A No sir.
Q This W. H. Robinson you have been talking about? A W.H. Robinson is Mumford Robinson's son.
Q Where is Mumford Robinson? A I don't know.
Q Is he alive or dead? A I don't know.
Q When did you see him? A I haven't seen him since '69, or heard of him.

Q You don't know whether the applicants here are the persons you knew in Fort Scott or not do you? A I knew that Mumford didn't, I knew that; I don't know whether these are them or not.

Q You don't know whether the Mumford Robinson they talked about in the testimony is the Mumford Robinson you knew at Fort Scott, do you? A I don't know, no sir.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes sir.

Q Married now? A No sir, I am a widow woman.

Q Who was your husband? A S.S. Davis.

Q Ever married half to any one else? A No sir.

Q Did you at one time live with a man named Alonzo Manley? A Nosir

Q You swear you didn't? A I swear I didn't live with him in the world. Lived with Alonzo Manley, what are you talking about?

Q I just asked you that question? A Well indeed I guess I didn't.

Q Did you know him? A Yes sir, I knew him.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him from '63 until '70, along in '70's somewhere.

Q How long has it been since you saw Mumford Robinson? A '69.

Q How long has that been? A I don't know; I haven't counted it up.

Q Well try to count it up? A 32 years or 33.

Q Now can you remember back everyperson that you saw in '69, 32 years ago? A Well I could remember their names and remember seeing them.

Q Can you remember when you last saw everybody that you saw in '69?

A Yes, I can remember when I last saw them for I last saw them when they was gathering those potatoes; that is the last time I saw these boys.

Q You remember you saw Mumford Robinson dig potatoes in '69?

A I saw the two boys and their mother I told you.

Q Did they ever dig potatoes at any other time? A Not that I know of.

Q Why do you remember that was in '69? A These girls father died in '69 and it is there in the Bible.

Q Where is the Bible? A Mrs. Anthony's house; I know they dug potatoes at that time.

Q You didn't bring the Bible with you? A No sir.

Q Maybe that is like the Bible that was not made in '67? A Probably it is, but it is there and can be produced just the same.

Q You didn't bring it with you did you? A No sir.

Q When were you first asked about this matter? A I don't know; sometime in December I guess, or January.

Q Some time last January, is that the first time that you were asked about when you saw Mumford Robinson last? A Yes sir, that is the first time.

Q You never had this matter called to your attention until then?

A No sir.

Q That was nearly 32 years after you had seen him there that you were asked about it? A Yes sir.

Q And then 32 years after that you remembered back about the boys digging potatoes 32 years before? A Yes sir, I remember the family well, because when I first went to Fort Scott there wasn't very many.

Q How much did you get for coming down here? A I haven't got anything yet.

BY MR. HASTINGS: I object to that; it is insulting to the witness.

Q Who first asked you about this matter? A I don't know, I suppose the judge of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Who is it, what is his name? A Mr. Keyes.

Q Did he tell you he was the Judge of the Cherokee Nation? A No, he didn't tell me so.

Q What makes you call him Judge of the Cherokee Nation? A I have learned it since.

BY MR. HASTINGS: That is not proper cross-examination of this witness.

A I am going to tell you I knew Judge Keyes before the war; he was in the army with my brother.

Q He is the man that came to you and asked you about them?

A Yes sir.

Q 32 years and nobody had ever called your attention to this fact before that time had they? A No sir.

Q Then you remembered backthere it was in '69 the boys dug potatoes for you? A They didn't dig for me at all, they dug for Mrs. Anthony

Q How many cases have you been a witness here in? A -

BY MR. HASTINGS: I submit this is not proper cross-examination, and I object to it.

BY COMMISSION: The objection will be noted; answer the question.

A How many have I? Three besides this I believe.

Q Who were they?

BY MR. HASTINGS: I submit that that is not proper cross-examination; I object to it.

BY COMMISSION: Objection noted; answer the question.

BY MR. MELLETTTE: I have got the right to ask questions touching the knowledge of this witness in the matter that brings her here.

A I think it was Mrs. Nancy Thompson, Mrs. Gales and the Alonzo Manley case.

Q How old did you say you are? A 57.

Q Were you married in '69? A No sir.

Q How long after that did you marry? A I married in '70.

Q What time in '70? A In March, 1871.

Q What day of March? A 13th of March.

Q Have you ever been married any more since that time? A No sir. My husband has been dead now three years.

BY MR. HASTINGS: I desire to introduce a certified copy of this contract. (Hands paper to Mr. Mellette.)

BY MR. MELLETTTE: I object to the introduction, because it does not show where Mumford Robinson lived at the time he made it, and it does not show that it is the Mumford Robinson that was mentioned in the testimony.

BY MR. HASTINGS: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation desire to call attention to the fact that it does say Mumford Robinson and Annie Robinson of the County of Bourbon, and State of Kansas.

BY COMMISSION: There is offered in evidence by the representative of the Cherokee Nation a Warranty Deed made by Mumford Robinson and Annie Robinson, his wife of the County of Bourbon, state of Kansas, on the 7th day of December 1869; same is filed herewith.

MINERVA RUNYON, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q What is your name? A Minerva Runyon.

Q What is your age? A 48, in my 48th year.

Q What is your post-office address? A Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived at Fort Scott, Kansas? A Well I lived there since 1862.

Q Do you know a coloredman up there by the name of Mumford Robinson?

Q I do sir.

Q Do you know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Annie.

Q Did you know any of their family? A I do.

Q Name as many of them as you can remember now? A William, James, Alonzo, Patette, Tebe and Wesley, that was the boys in the family, and there was Elizabeth Jane and Mary and Martha and Melvina, then was the girls.

Q Who did Elizabeth Melvina marry? A I don't know.

Q Did you ever know one of them married Mr. Hill? A Yes sir.

P. D-574.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Mustang, I.T., May 27, 1903.

In the matter of the application of William H. Robinson for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-574.

APPEARANCES:

Mallett & Smith for applicant.
W. W. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation asks that all the testimony introduced by the Cherokee Nation in the case of Freedman Doubtful
No. 1, as well as in the case of Freedman Doubtful No. 2, be introduced and made a part of the record in this case.

MR. SMITH: The applicant objects because the said testimony now offered was not taken under any rule of this Commission with reference to notice to the applicant or opportunity for cross-examination. The applicant further objects because the same is not the best evidence, because it is hearsay, and because it is immaterial and does not tend to prove any issue in this case, and because it is incompetent in the manner and form offered.

COMMISSIONER: This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the following Freedman cases: Martha M. Hill,
D-1014; Eva E. Anderson, D-688; Melvin Martin, D-687; Rebe Robinson, D-686; Jessie A. Slaughter, D-687; in addition to the case at bar, being that of William H. Robinson, D-574; also in the case of J. E.
Robinson, D-685. The applicants in the above named cases are represented by Mallett & Smith.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Arthur G. Croninger

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of July, 1903.

John J. Butler
Notary Public

Q What was her name? A Mary Ann.

Q When did you first learn to know this family? A In '68 when I came there they was there.

Q Neighbors from '68 until '69 continuously? A Continuously, they might have been there a little longer than that, but that much any way.

Q How do you fix the date, Mrs. Nunyon, that you knew them? A Well I fix the date by father's death.

Q When did your father die? A Father died July 13th, 1869.

Q Do you know they were living there then? A They were living there then; he raised a little crop and these boys helped us children gather our potatoes, as much as I can remember it was Frank and Tebe.

Q How far did the family live from you? A They lived just the next, there was one lot, a fifty foot lot between us.

Q Was that vacant or did it have a house on it? A I think there was a house partly on it; there was quite a space between their lot and our lot.

Q You are a citizen of the State of Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q Don't claim citizenship down here? A No sir.

Q You came down here by a subpoena as a witness? A I did.

Q You knew the family well I suppose? A I knew the family well.

BY MR. MELLITT:

Q You are a white woman? A I am a white woman.

Q Did you say your age was 40? A My age is 48, in my 48th year.

Q Have you ever seen any of the Robinson family you are talking about since the time you saw them in Fort Scott? A I saw Mary Ann on the street in Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q They are colored people? A Yes sir.

Q How is it you remember the names of the children 32 years? A Because I played with them. We was children together and I played with them, I remember them distinctly.

Q Have you read the testimony given in this case since you came here, has it been read to you? A The testimony?

Q Yes, that they gave, giving the names of the children? A No sir.

Q Have you had the names called to your attention since you came here the names of these children? A I don't think I have.

Q You could remember the names of those children 32 years? A Indeed I could, every one of them.

Q You have remembered them that long? A I have remembered them that long.

Q How old were you when your father died? A I was a girl of about 15 years, 14 or 15 years.

Q And you remember the names of children 32 years you haven't seen since that time? A I do.

BY COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-677, D-686, D-687, D-689, D-937, D-939, D-942 and D-1018

I, M.D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of EDWARD WRIGHT as a Cherokee Freedmen, introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation.

The Cherokee Nation by its representative makes satisfactory proof of service on E. B. Lawson, the attorney for the applicant in this case, that testimony would be introduced by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation tending to disprove the right of said applicant, Edward Wright, to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation at the office of the Commission in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 3rd day of March, 1902, and from day to day thereafter until the same could be heard by the Commission during the usual business hours.

Cherokee Nation represented by its representative, L. B. Bell.

G. F. Rogers, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation.

MR. BELL:

- Q Tell him your name? A C. V. Rogers.
- Q Age? A 63 years old.
- Q Place of residence? A Cherokee.
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long have you been well? A All my life, a little over 63 years.
- Q Did you go out of the country during the war? A Yes, sir.
- Q When did you return? A '66.
- Q Where did you come to? A Came to Fort Gibson.
- Q And stayed there did you? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well what was your business? A After I came back.
- Q First A I followed freighting for something over three years.
- Q Where and between what places? A Sedalia and Pleasant Hill and Kansas City to Fort Gibson.
- Q Were you ever acquainted with a freedman by the name of Moses Whitfire? A Yes, I know him.
- Q Where did he belong before the war? A He belonged in Cain, Snake District.
- Q Do you know what particular Whitfire he belonged to?
- A I don't remember whether he belonged to George Whitfire or Lee Whitfire.
- Q If you did see him when did you first see Moses Whitfire after the war, after your return to the Cherokee Nation?
- A As well as I can remember it was in February, '62. I met him just on this side of the Neosho River, as they were moving back to this country from Kansas. There was between 24, from 24 to 25 wagons and I met them right on this side of the Neosho River; Dick Whitfire, Moses Whitfire and Aaron Whitfire and old Major Wright is all I knew in the outfit.
- Q Did you have any conversation with them, stop and talk with them?
- A Yes, sir, and Col. Bill Rose passed while I was talking to them going to Fort Scott.
- Q Did you ask them where they were going to? A They said they was moving back.
- Q Well this 25 or 30 wagons was loaded with people?
- A Yes, mostly every one had household goods in them.
- Q Colony of Cherokee Freedmen? A Yes, sir, coming back to the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Well now that was where you say it was? A It was right on this side of the Neosho River, between the old Hudson place and Neosho River.
- Q How far from the Neosho River? A I suppose half a mile.

Q How far from the north line of the Cherokee Nation?

A I think the river is the line, about half a mile.

Q And how far is that from the Neosho river? A The Neosho is the line, way I understand it.

Q You had reference to where the military road crosses the Neosho river? A Yes, sir.

Q At Jack McLain's ferry? A They called it Hudson Ferry at that time.

Q Hudson lived there? A Yes, sir, in about a half mile.

Q And this Moses Whitacre you met and talked with is the same one you knew in Going Snake and belongs to the Whitacre family there?

A Yes, sir.

Q About how old a man was he when you met him? A He is an older man I think than I am.

Q And you saw other men with him you knew? A I think Aaron Whitacre and Moses Whitacre and old Major Wright is the old ones I know.

Q And you talked with him there? A Oh, I guess I talked with him ten or 15, 20 minutes and while I was talking to him Col. Ross passed going to Fort Scott.

Q Do you know where this man Whitacre lives now, Moses Whitacre, you met?

A No, I don't know where he lives.

MR. HASTINGS, Cherokee Representative:

Q Don't you know he lives on Salt Creek near Hayden? A No, I don't know for certain I heard he lived on Big Creek. I don't know thought where he lives, I have saw him ever since I have been here. I don't think I ever was at his house.

—000000000—

I hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had in this case on the above date, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., May 20, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Edward Wright for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman.

APPEARANCES:

Ben J. Scoville, representing E. B. Lawson, for applicant.
W. W. Hastings, for Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION: The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, makes satisfactory proof of service on the applicant's attorney that it would, on the 20th day of May, 1902 introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said Edward Wright to enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. The applicant this day appears by his attorney, E. B. Lawson, who is represented by Ben J. Scoville, Nowata, Indian Territory.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence a decision of the Chambers Commission on Citizenship as found on page 55 of a book taken from the records of the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation entitled, "Docket of the Chambers Commission on Citizenship," as follows:

"No. 25 Edward Wright
vs.
Cherokee Nation. (Ex. 7th of June.
(Answer filed.

Judgment against claimant June 27, 1872."

The Cherokee Nation also offers in evidence from the same record as above page 57 of the same, the following:

"No. 29. Major Wright
vs.
Cherokee Nation. (Ex. June 7th. Statement filed
on the 25 of June.
1st July set, 1st Aug.
set for trial.

Judgment against claimant June 27th, 1872."

The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence the application made for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by Lewis Whitliff on the 26th day of June, 1872, as found on pages 164 and 5 of book B, entitled, "Citizenship record 1872," as follows:

"Before the Commission sitting at Tahlequah to say claims to Cherokee citizenship.

The undersigned claimant in the case of Lewis Whitliff

vs.

Cherokee Nation

respectfully presents the following statement of his claim according to the requirement of the Commission.

Claimant claims under classification five of claimants in the law creating this Commission, that is, as a colored person formerly a slave owned by a citizen and resident of the Nation at the beginning of the late war, freed by law and made a citizen of this Nation by provision of the treaty of 1866. For claimant was at the time and place above said owned by George Whitmire, a Cherokee citizen, left the country during the war and returned in the summer of 1866 to select and prepare a home for his family (they then being without one) and again the following year prosecuting the work as his circumstances and the condition of the country at that time prevented and leaving his family in the intervals of time when they would subsist without discomfort and exposure and until a removal of them was practicable which removal of claimants finally was accomplished to the point of the Nation settled by claimants for theirs and his home in the spring of 1867.

Claimants rights have been called in question by competent authority, and he therefore presents them to the important examination of this Commission as are authorized so to do by law.

This June 26, 1878.

Lewis Whitmire,

By W. P. Boudinot, Atty."

The Cherokee Nation offers the following from the same book and continuing on the same page, the application of Moses Whitmire as follows:

"Before the Honorable Commission sitting at Tanlequah to try rights to Cherokee citizenship.

In case of Moses Whitmire

vs

Cherokee Nation,

claiming Cherokee citizenship.

Claimant claims under the fifth specification of the classes of claimants to citizenship as found in the law creating this Commission, to wit as a colored person formerly a slave owned by one George Whitmire, Cherokee citizen, resident of this Nation, at the beginning of the late war, and freed by law and made a citizen by provision of the treaty of 1866. Claimant respectfully refers to the statement by claimant Lewis Whitmire as embracing the facts which the present claimant would submit to the Commission as the grounds of his claim.

Respectfully submitted,

Moses Whitmire.

The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence from a book taken from the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation entitled, "Register of evidence before court of Commission Chambers Court, Book A." page 239, case No. 60, as follows:

"Case 60.

Aaron Whitmire)

vs)

Cherokee Nation.)

Tanlequah,

July 3, 1878.

Nike Fields a witness for claimant called and sworn.
I am I think I am about 47 years old. I live in Illinois District, C. N. Am a citizen of the Nation. I have been on the doubtful roll but had my rights proven to before the Supreme Court.

Am a citizen under the treaty of 1866. I went north to the state of Kansas in '62. I returned in August - 31st or 22nd, 1866. I left my family in Fort Scott when I came. I came down to get me a claim. I staid about three weeks that time, and then returned to Fort Scott. After I returned to Fort Scott there were others who started down, the Whitmires were of that number. The claimant was one of them. They came down in Decr. 1866. They returned to Fort Scott before I left there. I left Kansas about the 2nd week in January, 1867 and got to the crossing of the Neosho river about the last of January. When I first come down there was about 15 in the party. They left their families in Kansas when they came down here. There was some of party come with the Whitmires who piloted the Whitmire party and my party were Sam Webber, Mike Daniels, Sam Robber, Jr., Aaron Webber, Reubin Sanders, Tuck Sanders.

The Whitmire proper were Aaron, Lewis, Momo, Dennis and Nelson Whitmire and others that I do not recollect. The object of this party coming was for the purpose of erecting houses. When I moved with my family I stopped on Pryors Creek at Mrs. Alberty's and remained about two weeks. The reason we left that part of the country was because that part of the country was too sparsely settled and bare of subsistence. As I was coming down the first time we were overtaken by the Morokas Delegation. They were sore who come here were authorized by others to locate claims for them, one was by Mekey requesting Abe Fields to locate for him. The original request filed.

Cross Examined.

I can not remember the date I arrived here the first time from Kansas. The claim we made I got three sets of house logs, hauled them and piled them up, and some of the men put up houses, I did not put up a house. I started back to Kansas about the middle of September. When I first left the country it was in February, 1862. I was a slave before the war and was owned by Sam Taylor when the war broke out. He was living on Greenleaf near Brushy Mountain on this side of Arks. River. When the Whitmires returned to Fort Scott I do not know when they left there to come to this country as I left them there when I left. It was reported when they returned to the Nation that the Whitmire party had built houses. But I do not know this myself as I was not along. I only heard they had. The war closed in 1865 I think. I did not know it myself but people told me who could read.

I did not know myself that it was the month of Aug. When I come here first, but I was told it was that time.

Re Direct.

It was the December following the time I first came down that the Whitmires come down first to select and improve claims.

Bluford Alberty, witness for claimant.

on the 2nd of September, 1866. I had occasion some time in the last of Oct., or the first of Nov, or probably it might have been as late as the middle of November, to go to the Viridifris. While out there I fell in with a party of seven or eight persons who were camped with others near Sam Oathouses. I did not go to the camp. They were colored people. I knew most of them. Their names were old Sam Webber, Aaron Whitire, and a younger brother and Lewis Whitire. There was another person whom I was told was a Landrum. I do not recollect any of the others and can not identify them. The Whitires were Johnson and George Whitire, Aaron, Lewis and his mother belonged to George. In conversation with Sam Webber he asked me if I knew anything about the treaty and if Jim Hoban had got home. I told him I had not seen the treaty but had heard rumors about it. He told me they had come to pick themselves homes or make claims and that he was the leader of the company and the reason why Major Wright did not come was that he was an old man, but that he had sent his son down to work for him and make him a claim. He then asked what chances there was to get provisions over on the river. I told him there was none there, but that there was a lot of condensed flour at Gibson and if they would go there they would get some. He also represented that they had come down to make claims for others who had remained in Kansas, to build them homes and so forth. They also stated that they were notified to come, and that they had accordingly come to make claims for themselves and the others that they left behind in Kansas. As near as I can recollect it was some time in October or November that I saw these parties. I was not very cold weather at the time. I recollect as I carried out at night. Did not see any of these parties after this time. May, 1867. There was no provisions to be had in this country at that time. Provisions were very scarce. It was my understanding that they had come to prepare homes for themselves and families. They told me so at least. Major Wright belonged to Cornelius Wright before the war.

Cross Examined.

I heard after this some of them went back to Kansas. At the time I met them I do not know whether their families were with them. I think I saw Dennis Whitire with this party, but am not certain of seeing Dennis or Wilson. I know there was four of the Whitire boys. They were owned in the Nation and resided here up to the breaking out of the war.

B. W. Albany.

Aaron Whitire
vs
Cherokee Nation.

I know Melissa Ratliff. She was twelve or thirteen years old at the close of the war.

She was living with me here and still lives in my family. Jack Landrum was one of the band above referred to; also Parson Daniels. I learned from our leaders Uncle Mike and Sam Webber that the Cherokee delegates advised us to settle in a compact body on unoccupied lands. We crossed the Neosho in coming down at Hoban's Ferry in 1866. The chief ferryman who crossed us was Bill Martin.

While on Lightning Creek in 1866 I saw Mr. Albany but had no conversation with him, but Sam Webber had in my presence.

Cross Examined.

I am a claimant before this court for citizenship. I am a half-brother of Aaron Whitmire, Louis, Dennis and Nelson are also my brothers. Mariah Whitmire is my sister. Major Wright is my stepfather. The names of the party that come with me to the Nation are as follows: Mike Sanders, Sam Webber, Peter Neigh, Bill Foreman, Tuck Sanders, Ransom Daniels, Sam Webber, Jr., Louis Whitmire, Nelson Whitmire, Dennis Whitmire, Aaron Whitmire, is all I can recollect now. Witness and my brother were authorized to make claims for others still back in Kansas. Dennis made a claim for Major Wright. I can't name any others. Witness was a man of family in 1866 when we came on from Kansas. My family was at Fort Scott. Melissa Ratliff, Ed Wright, and my wife and myself composed my family. Louis had no family. Aaron and Nelson did. Major, Sam, Nelson and Allen were Aaron's children and his wife, Sarah. They were left, the wife and children in Fort Scott when we came in 1866. Eliza Sanders, Thos. Sanders were Nelson's family and back at Fort Scott. We went back 1st January 1866 to Kansas after coming to the Nation. Then witness returned in 1867 to the Nation Aaron, Louis, Nelson, Dennis, Ransom Daniels, Tuck Sanders, Peter Neigh and the families of those who had families all come as I did besides others not particularly remembered. This was the first time any of our families had been to the Nation, at least mine, Aaron's and Nelson's.

The first time Mariah Whitmire was in the Nation after the war closed was after our parties returned in families in 1867.

The first time Major Wright returned was on our first trip in 1867. Melissa Ratliff was owned by one Alec Ratliff at breaking out of war. She first came in March 1867. Jack Landrum was along in 1866. He was a slave at the beginning of the war. I was present during the examination of Mr. Alberty as a witness in this case.

Re Direct.

Mariah's family at the close of the war was a separate family. Harry Whitmire, her son, represented his mother on the first trip in 1866. Witness is about 53 yrs. old. Major Wright was an old man at the close of the war. Louis Whitmire had been back to the Nation before 1866.

Claiming citizenship.

Now comes claimant by Atty before the Commission sitting at Tahlequah to try certain claims for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and makes this his statement of his grounds for said claim to wit-

Claimant is a colored person and claims as aforesaid under privilege of the fifth specification of the classes of claims preferred by law to the Commission to examine and decide rights by competent authority having been denied citizens.

Claimant belonged to Geo. Whitmire a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the war of the rebellion and was then living in this Nation. After the beginning of said war claimant moved to on the vicinity of Fort Scott with his family at which location he resided until the summer of 1866 when he returned to this Nation and proceeded to select and improve a home on the Verdigris River for himself and family's permanent residence. While he was thus making preparations for the removal of his family by providing for their habitation and subsistence at the place mentioned they his family remained where they had been sojourning during the war.

Claimant was compelled by unfavorable circumstances and the attention he was obliged to bestow upon his family to remit his work upon his improvement on Verdigris River from the early fall of 1866 to the early winter of the same year, when he resumed labor upon his improvement, after which he removed his family as soon as practicable to sit in the spring of the year of 1867.

Claimant claims to have returned to this Nation in his own person and as representative of his family within the time provided for by treaty, in that having no residence to come to as other former citizens he did everything possible to constitute a return consistent with the duty he owed to his family by laboring as far as his means allowed to provide a home in this Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

Aaron Whitmire,

By Atty Wm. P. Boudinot.

Aaron Whitmire

August 1st, 1878.

Wm. Martin, witness for claimant, called and sworn.

I live on Big Creek, Coowascondonee, C. N. Am a citizen of the Nation. From August up to Christmas 1866 I was at the ferry on the Neosho River on the old military road leading from Fort Scott, Kansas to Fort Gibson, C. N. Am acquainted with claimant and his brother, Lewis, never knew Aaron until I met him at the river. Lewis I knew prior to that time. While I was in charge of the ferry I recollect having met claimant and Mose, Lewis, Dennis and Nelson, Whitmire, Peter Neige, Mike Sanders, Sam Padden, and Young Sam, Bill Foreman and others but I do not recollect anything about them. They were traveling. They stated they were coming from Fort Scott, Kans. they were traveling from the direction of Fort Scott. I crossed them from the Shawnee side of the River into the Cherokee Nation, they inquired the road to Big Creek. McLean gave them the directions to the head of Big Creek. They stated the reason why they were coming was that the Cherokee Delegation had invited them to come back under the treaty. They mentioned Jim McDonald as the principal one who had invited them and they were that of their way to select themselves homes.

It was after the Delegation returned that I met claimant and the others spoken of it was pretty cold weather when I crossed them. It was as near as I can recollect about the last of October, 1866. I am positive it was before Christmas as I left them at Christmas or probably a few days before Christmas.

Cross examined.

I was not acquainted with the claimant nor any of the others named previous to the war.

I do not know who owned before the war. I do not know whether they had lived in the Nation previous to the war. I do not recollect of seeing any of the families of the parties named at the time.

I crossed them over the river. I set some of this same party back over the river a short time after they had come in, Lewis, Nelson and Dennis Whitmire and little Sam Webber and I think they were Lord who crossed back but I can not place them now. I learned the names of the parties from conversation with them, but did not become particularly acquainted with their names at that time. I think there was one woman with the party, I think she was little Sam Webber though I would not be right positive that there was a woman alone or not. I was positive there was no children as I never saw any. They had camped there long enough that were they any women and children I would have known it. The next time I saw claimant was in the fall of 1867 on Big Creek. I learned from them that they had got there in March 1867. I know this from having heard it generally talked amongst themselves.

Re Direct.

At the present time the distance between our two settlements is about 5 miles. I recognize the claimant and the other parties spoken of. I have been there frequently since that time, I got them over the river. When I saw them in the fall of 1867 they had their families with them then. The means of subsistence at the time I crossed in the country at that time was short.

George Whitmire before the war lived in Going Snake Dist. This Dist. borders on the line of the state of Arkansas.

Claimant now resides near the western line of the Cherokee Nation. The settlement before the war was sparse where claimant now resides. I would say the distance from where George Whitmire resided prior to the war, and claimant's present residence is 20 or 100 miles. Witness states that he had a conversation with Sam Webber in which Webber assigned as a reason for settling there he had was that Agent Jones advised the colored people after their freedom to settle in colonies or as thickly as it was convenient to do in an unoccupied part of the country.

This was thought best for the colored man as they could have their own schools & until matters were more regulated in the country.

The first conversation was in the fall of 1866. The second conversation was in the spring of 1867. I saw several of their families in May, 1867 on Big Creek or Lightning Creek in the Nation.

The home of claimant is in the same locality as that at the time mentioned above. In Oct. or Nov. 1865 I gave claimant and other colored men permission to occupy my old fields in that neighborhood for the purpose of raising crops the year following. Louis Whitire is the name of the other man, I also permitted to go on the old fields. The Spring of 1867 I saw Aaron and Louis Whitire at work on the two fields spoken of. This settlement of colored folks had the character of quiet industrious and law abiding citizens as much as any in the Nation. Some of these people had a large and good farms all made by themselves since the war.

Witness with a party of six gentlemen in the fall of 1865 saw this colored party who settled on Big Creek afterwards in the neighborhood for his purposes as they said at the time of collecting their homes. Several claims were then in sight of witness upon the colored party said they had selected and are now the homes of the party above indicated.

Aaron Jones was at the time advising said col party. A delegation from the Cherokee Nation at Washington. There were parties of witnesses learned from one of them who wished to travel or drive off from their claims this colored party at the time they were prospecting the country. This was advised against by witness and it was not done or carried out. Witness' party spoken of above was composed of Cherokee citizens except one colored man. I am the sole survivor of this party except the colored man and possibly one other. Occupation of witness is herding his cattle. I travelled a good deal in that neighborhood at that time spoken of.

Cherokee Nation.

Sworn as witness for Deft. I live in Cooperscombe Dist. I first moved there in 1859 and have continued to reside there except in time of war. I came back in the month of August 1865 to the Nation. I knew Aaron Whitire. He returned on Oct. 15 to the Washington River to live in the town of March 1867. Also came at the same time but I know Mike Sanders, Sam Fieber, Billy Foreman, with their families and others whom I don't recollect. Claimant made a crop that spring in 1867 on an old place of Aaron Leachum. He had settled to other place before that.

Gross Examined.

I don't know of any colored heads of families coming in to the Nation in the month of Decr. 1866 to locate homes but I know of some who came in Sept. 1866 for that purpose. I know where Aaron Whitire lived at this time. I was near Goody's Bluff in Decr. 1866. I live on the west side of the river. Different tribes and settled on the east side of the river. If any heads of families came in Decr. 1866 I never heard of them. I never knew of Bluff. Albany being in the part of the country. In 1866 in the party who came down in Sept. 1866, Aaron Whitire was not along but Mike Sanders, Sam Fieber, Colbert & perhaps Billy Foreman. Moses was not along. Dennis was not along as I know of him having had Major Wright for Nelson Whitire that I know of. He was upon earth and came down in Decr. 1866 I think certainly I would have known it.

About the middle of May 1867 I first saw this party with their families at their new homes. Claimant and others of this colored party told witness that they returned in March 1867 to the Nation.
Re Direct

I learned from John Coker that most of this colored party returned to Kansas after their families and a few remained. I was at General Convention of the Colored People in 1866. It was witness' understanding that the purpose of said convention was to ratify the treaty of 1866. I think the object of the convention was to ratify amendments to the Constitution under the treaty and to ratify the treaty. The treaty was concluded the 8th of Aug. 1866 is my information. It might have been July 19, 1866.

Witness went South during the war. J. B. Jones was not at the time herein mentioned U. S. Agent but was a Delegate and was Agent afterwards.

In the matter of the application of PHILIP ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Applicant appears by Mellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings.

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17809 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 493, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Wm. R. Robinson, D 674;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1865, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings:

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of

DECISION.

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen were made to this Commission by William H. Robinson for himself and his minor children, James A., Jennetta, Charles S., Amanda E., John S., Ollie and William D. Robinson; the application also included his wife, Millie Robinson, who claims as a Cherokee freedman by intermarriage, but as the status of such claimants is not fixed at this time she is not embraced in this decision; by Josie A. Slaughter for herself and her minor daughter, Sadie Smith; by Tobe Robinson for himself, among others; the other parties to his application being differently classified are not embraced in this decision; by Sam Martin for his wife, Melvina Martin, and her minor children, Cora and Jesse Martin; subsequent to the date of his original application a birth affidavit was filed as to Allen Martin, another minor child of Melvina Martin, and the same is made a part of the record herein; and by Martha M. Hill for herself and her minor children, Luvada Martin, Annie Jones, Savannah Hill and Luther Daniels. Copies of the testimony taken at various times in the cases of Edward Wright, Cherokee Freedmen D 818, Sam Martin, et al., Cherokee Freedmen D 342, and Thomas Mayfield, Cherokee Freedmen D 200, are made a part of the record herein.

The evidence shows that the said William H. Robinson and Tobe Robinson, together with their parents, Mumford and Annie Robinson, were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the rebellion; that they went to Kansas during the rebellion and did not return to and establish their residence in the Cherokee Nation within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire trustee, vs. the Cherokee Nation et al., for the return of freedmen to said Nation.

It further appears that all the other applicants herein were born since 1866 and are the respective descendants of and claim their rights to enrollment through Mumford Robinson and his wife, Annie Robinson, and William H. Robinson and his wife, Millie Robinson, the latter claiming only as a Cherokee freedman by intermarriage; and that such descendants have no greater rights to enrollment than the said ancestors through whom they claim. None of the applicants herein can be identified on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll.

In the matter of the application for enrollment of William Henry Robinson, et. al., as Cherokee Freedmen, consolidating the applications of:

William H. Robinson, et. al., Cherokee Freedman D- 674,
Julia A. Slaughter, et. al., Cherokee Freedman D- 677, Tobe Robinson----- Cherokee Freedman D- 686,
Melvina Martin, et. al.,--- Cherokee Freedman D- 887,
Martha M. Hill, et. al.,--- Cherokee Freedman D-1018.

BRIEF AND ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF ATTORNEYS FOR THE CHEROKEE NATION.

In these cases which are consolidated and come under the head of the case of William H. Robinson, et. al., Cherokee Freedman D-674, the decision of the Commission of March 11th, 1904, a portion of which is quoted in the brief of attorneys for applicants, show as stated in the opinion as follows:

"The evidence shows that the said William H. Robinson and Tobe Robinson, together with their parents, Mumford and Annie Robinson, were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the rebellion; that they went to Kansas during the rebellion and did not return to and establish their residence in the Cherokee Nation within the time specified, in the decree of the Court of Claims, rendered on February 3rd, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, et al., vs. the Cherokee Nation et. al., for the return of freedmen to said Nation."

"It further appears that all the other applicants herein were born since 1866 and are the respective descendants of and claim their right to enrollment through Mumford Robinson and his wife, Annie Robinson, and William H. Robinson and his wife, Nellie Robinson, the latter claiming only as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage; and that such descendants have no greater rights to enrollment than the said ancestors through whom they claim. None of the applicants herein can be identified on the 1860 authenticated Cherokee roll."

Upon this advice by the Commission the attorneys for applicants lay great stress and take occasion to refer to the argument of attorneys for the Cherokee Nation by using the following language:

"One of the chief points as usual is that several witnesses named have testified in other Cherokee Freedmen applications and the much over-worked and ancient Cherokee General Brief is again resurrected and made to do service in a limping and senile fashion."

In reply to this reference of attorneys for applicants, the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation only desire to state that if weakness in the General Brief is as attorneys for applicants would attempt to show, it is very singular indeed that they would take occasion to use up about 3/4 of their brief referring to it. The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation contend that the decision of the Commission in this case is correct and should be affirmed by the Commission of Indian Affairs and the Secretary of the Interior for the reason that as heretofore argued the chief applicant in this case failed to show any familiarity whatever with the location of the country or the neutral lands which is now a part of Kansas. It does not require as contended by attorneys for applicant that a man should be a Civil Engineer to show knowledge of location and description of a country in which he lives; any one may be in a position to tell the location of the country without being a Civil Engineer, a linguist or a lawyer. The testimony clearly shows in this case that if applicant and those claiming under him were free negroes, they came from Arkansas to the Indian territory and went from the Cherokee Nation to the State of Kansas, where they remained until 1867 or 1868, and until long after the time to return to qualify under the Provisions of the Treaty of 1866, made with the Cherokee Nation and the United States Government. It is clearly shown by reputable testimony that they did not return in time to qualify under the Provisions of said Treaty. The attorneys for applicant take occasion to refer to the witnesses subpoenaed by the Cherokee Nation who were residents of the State of Kansas and who had resided in the localities where these Robinson negroes resided for several years. This has been thought best by attorneys for the Cherokee Nation in all cases where it was shown that applicants to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation had gone from the Cherokee Nation during the war and who were claiming that they returned within the time to qualify under the Provisions of said Treaty; one of the reasons being that they were parties who had no interest whatever in the outcome of the application, either for applicant or for the Cherokee Nation. Witnesses of this character are always more reliable than witnesses who have an interest in the case--That applicants themselves are interested, is clearly shown at every stage of the application, and the attorneys for applicant not only represents that before the Commission and file a brief ~~about~~ almost monthly, if not to say, semi-monthly, and we are called upon to read another brief prepared by the attorneys for applicant and in most instances submit a brief similar to the one which we are now replying to, fraught with grammatical expressions and of pettifogging criticism of the argument of the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, and without advancing any substantial testimony to refute the facts found by the Commission to be true. As the Commission had the record before it when it rendered its decision, we do not deem it necessary to now say what the evidence in this case is, but take it for granted that the Hon. Commissioner of Indian Affairs and the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, will, when they go to review the decision of the Commission, consider the record in its entirety.

The record in this case shows the character of the witnesses examined by the applicant and those claiming under him, as well as by the Cherokee Nation, and the criticism of witnesses of the Cherokee Nation by the attorneys for the applicants are such criticisms and of such a nature as would show any reasonable thinking mind that ~~what~~ the attorneys for the applicants were lacking in power to argue and present the facts in the record, or by reason of the facts presented in the record, were driven to desperation and must necessarily resort to critical and unjustified abuse of the witnesses without any record or facts to support their action. We do not know from what fertile imagination the attorneys for applicants use the expression when they say: "One of the witnesses brought from Kansas by the Cherokee Nation was a standing witness for the Cherokee Nation in at least four cases, was an old time acquaintance of Judge Keyes, one of the attorneys of the Cherokee Nation, and the exact amount she received for testifying is not disclosed."

In answer to this statement it is respectfully submitted by the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation that Judge Keyes is not at present nor has he been since April 1st, 1901, one of the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation in making the Freedmen roll. Judge Keyes has acted in the capacity of a Marshal or Constable serving process on witnesses, and this is the only capacity in which he has acted during the time the rolls were being made by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes. As to the expression used by counsel above quoted that "the exact amount she received for testifying is not disclosed", the representatives of the Cherokee Nation know not what counsel for applicants mean, or to what they refer--It is an insinuation without the foundation, and only such an insinuation as would arise in the mind of a man who had been in the habit of paying witnesses to tell that which was not true, or had been in the habit of associating with men who had been paying witnesses to swear, as it could not arise in this case from the testimony adduced nor could any inference be drawn from the testimony in this case that any witness for the Cherokee Nation had been paid other than the compensation allowed witnesses to testify. Therefore, we dismiss it with a mere suggestion that we defy counsel for applicants to show in any instance where the Cherokee Nation or any one representing the Cherokee Nation, has at any time, at any place or under any circumstances, offered, paid or attempted to offer or pay any witness to come before the Commission and testify at any time for greater fees than those allowed witnesses, by law.

As to the extremity which necessitated the Cherokee Nation calling Colonel L. B. Bell as ^awitness, we dismiss that argument with the suggestion that it is a child's play and only such a child's play as is introduced by a disgruntled and weakley person who knows no argument other than a childish fancy when disappointed. We do not desire to discuss the challenge laid down by attorneys for applicants, but prefer to use the milder and better legal phrase in calling attention to a certain fact, or suggesting what the record shows. The word "^{challenge}Cherokee" in its English interpretation having been handed down to us, has a significance of "brave".

Therefore, while it probably causes a thrill of excitement and shudder of fear to pass through the nervous system of the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation, we feel that it will not in any way affect the Honorable Commission of Indian Affairs or the Secretary of the Interior in their decision upon a review of this case from the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

As to the importance of Congress making provision for the payment of fees to witnesses, we care not to discuss this proposition, as we think that Congress in its wisdom provided sufficiently for procuring the attendance of all witnesses before the Commission, and that all that is necessary to procure the attendance of witnesses before the Commission is to go to the Commission and secure from it a subpoena and have it served on the party desired as the witness and pay him his legal compensation of Per-Diem and mileage. In no instance where this has been done has a party ever failed to procure his witnesses.

Sympathy is sought to be invoked by attorneys for applicant by referring to the negroes or colored persons as being ignorant and uneducated--This is not born out by the record that the negroes are ignorant; they may possibly be uneducated, but the record of this Commission will show, as well as your records and of the United States Supreme Court, that these negroes have been represented before the Courts and Commission by able attorneys, men who were learned in the law, and competent to manage any business entrusted to their care. It will further show however, that these negroes have discharged some of those attorneys and employed other and additional counsel not heretofore in the case, whether from a stand point of being uneducated or ignorance, I do not know, but if we are to accept the argument of the attorneys Blue & Bulger, who are now representing the applicant herein, we may at least conclude that it was through ignorance.

We desire to say in reply to the suggestion made in the brief of attorneys for applicant, that the negroes could readily prove their claims by Cherokee Citizens inter-married white or white persons in sympathy with the Cherokee Nation, that this is an ^{unfounded} ~~inferred~~ statement to insinuate that such was the case, because attorneys for applicants in this case know that they have brought before the Commission Cherokees by blood who went upon the witness stand willingly and testified for freedmen and in no way whatever sought to refuse to testify to the facts, and we respectfully call attention of the Department to the testimony of G. W. Clarke, in the case of Racheal Martin, where he testified for her son John Towers. This suggestion of attorneys for applicant is another unfounded statement by way of insinuation, when they well know it is not the truth as disclosed by this record or any other record before the Commission, and when they well knew it was presented for no other purpose than to try to prejudice the Commission of Indian Affairs and the Secretary of the Interior in behalf of these negroes, as against the Cherokee Nation. Attorneys for applicant go on to discuss the question of the doctrine of equitable estoppel, and refer to payment of money paid out under the Kern-Clifton Roll. This of course, would be argument were it not for the fact that the Act of Congress directing the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes to make the roll in ^{strict} ~~direct~~ compliance with the Court of Claims, in the case where Moses Whitmire, was Trustee for the Freedmen, and did not make any reference whatever to Kern-Clifton Roll, or any other roll by which the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes were to be governed. Whether or not it was for want of information on the part of the attorneys for applicants, or whether they had plenty of time to write the brief, which caused them to go in to this phase of the case, we know not, but we certainly insist that it must have been because of the fact that they had plenty of time, they did it, for no one familiar with the law authorizing the making of the Freedmen Roll by the Commission would have wasted the time attempting to impose upon any officer of the Government whose duty it was to supervise the making of a roll under a specific law, by trying to influence them to adhere to something which had no binding force upon any one.

We respectfully submit that the decision of the Commission in the cases herein named are right and should be confirmed by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs and the Secretary of the Interior.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment as Cherokee Freedman of Josie A. Slaughter and Sadie Smith.

Cherokee Freedman R-623.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman of Eva E. Anderson.

Cherokee Freedman D-889.

.....
To the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, and the Honorable Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes:

Now comes the above named applicants, William H. Robinson, James A. Robinson, Jennetta Robinson, (now Jennetta Rogers), Charles S. Robinson, Amanda E. Robinson, John S. Robinson, Ollie Robinson, William D. Robinson, Josie A. Slaughter, Sadie Smith, and Eva E. Anderson, by Soper, Huckleberry & Owen, their attorneys, and respectfully move that the above entitled causes, wherein decisions denying said applications for enrollment have heretofore been rendered, be reopened, and that said applicants be permitted to introduce further evidence of their right to enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen, and that the the decisions heretofore rendered therein, as aforesaid, be reconsidered, for the following reasons:

These applicants have discovered new evidence touching the residence of the Robinson family, particularly Mumford Robinson and William H. Robinson, in the Indian Territory, which evidence was not heretofore available to them by reason of the fact that none of these applicants were aware that the witnesses hereinafter referred to could give any testimony touching the material facts in this case.

Said newly discovered evidence which these applicants desire an opportunity to introduce, will consist of the testimony of - CORNELIUS BACON, who will testify that he is a resident of Nowata, Indian Territory, and that he visited said Mumford Robinson and his family, on the Robinson place in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, during the Spring of the year 1867. The affidavit of said Cornelius Robinson is hereto attached, marked "Exhibit A", and is and his testimony will be, flatly contradictory of the witness who testifies that Mumford Robinson and his family resided in Fort Scott, Kansas, until 1869.

LEM PARIS, who will testify that he was a soldier in the War of the Rebellion, and that in July, 1865, he was discharge, and arrived at his father's house in August, 1865, that his father was then living on the Captain Clark place, near Fort Scott, Kansas, and that Mumford Robinson and his family were then living on the same farm. The affidavit of said Lem Paris is hereto attached and marked "Exhibit B", and is, and his testimony will be, directly contradictory of the witnesses who testify that the Robinson Family lived within two blocks of them, within the city of Fort Scott, Kansas, from 1863 to 1869. Said Lem Paris will further testify that during the Spring of 1867 William H. Robinson, one of the applicants herein, was working upon a road from Big Cabin Creek to Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, and that in 1868 he visited the Robinson claim, near Big Cabin Creek, and found the same to be in such a state of cultivation as indicated that at least one crop had been raised on the land.

Moses Holt, who will testify that he is a resident of Fort Scott, Kansas, 60 years of age; that he was personally acquainted with Mumford Robinson and his family; that they were colored people, and resided in Fort Scott, Kansas, within one or two blocks of his own residence; that he frequently visited their home; that they moved to Captain Clark's place, immediately south of Fort Scott, in 1865; that in the early part of 1866 he worked in a stone quarry with Mumford Robinson, getting out stone for the Boardman County jail; that soon after this, and during the spring or summer of 1866, Mumford Robinson left Kansas for the Indian Territory, and that the witness has never seen or heard of his returning to the state. The affidavit of said Moses Holt is hereto attached, marked "Exhibit C", and gives the names of the parties who resided in the home of Mumford Robinson after he vacated it, within the city of Fort Scott.

ANDY JOHNSON, who will testify that he is a resident of Fort Scott, Kansas, 56 years of age; that he was personally acquainted with Mumford Robinson, and met him in the summer of 1865, at the time he was farming on Captain Clark's place, south of Fort Scott; that he knew said Mumford Robinson until the early part of 1866, when he left for the Cherokee Nation, as the witness understood, Said witness will further testify that he never met Mumford Robinson after he left for the Cherokee Nation in the early part of 1866, and that he is positive that said Mumford Robinson never resided in or about Fort Scott, Kansas, after the year 1866. The affidavit of said Andy Johnson is hereto attached, marked "Exhibit D".

J. F. RICHARDS, who will testify that he is a resident of Bourbon Count, Kansas; that he knew Mumford Robinson in 1866; that Mumford Robinson left Fort Scott, Kansas, about May, 1866, to the best of his knowledge, and that the witness has never seen or hear of said Mumford Robinson having a permanent residence in Fort Scott, since that time. The affidavit of said J. F. Richards is hereto attached marked "Exhibit E".

Said applicants further state that they have been unable to find any direct evidence or testimony touching the reason why the deed executed by Mumford Robinson to his place in Fort Scott, Kansas, in 1862, recites that he is a resident of Bourbon County, Kansas, but that they will introduce evidence showing that at that time Mumford Robinson, and many other persons residing in the Northern part of the Cherokee Nation, went to Fort Scott to purchase all of their supplies; that at that time the railroad had not been built, and that Mumford Robinson in all probability sold this place during one of his trips to Fort Scott, and the residence noted in said deed simply followed the location of the land.

Your petitioners further show that upon former /the hearing of their cases they used the utmost diligence to present their case in its entirety but were unable at that time to obtain the evidence herewith referred to, and that knowledge of the same has but recently come to them.

WHEREFORE said applicants respectfully pray that the record in the matter of their applications for enrollment may be returned from the Department of the Interior to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, with instructions that said causes be reopened, and that these applicants be permitted to introduce said newly discovered evidence, and that the adverse decisions heretofore rendered therein may be reconsidered, to the end that justice may be done.

Respectfully submitted,

Cornelius Bacon, of lawful age, being first duly sworn, on his oath says; that his post-office address is Nowata, Indian Territory, that he is 67 years of age; that he resided in the town of Nowata and vicinity since 1868; that for one year prior to that time I lived on Grand River & Cabin Creek, Cherokee Nation, Ind. Ter., that I came to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1867, and located on Grand River and lived there and on Cabin Creek until the Spring of 1868, and on the 8th day of April, 1868, I came to the Martin Thompson place about 6 miles east of Nowata, Ind. Ter., and have resided in that place and Nowata and vicinity ever since said time.

I knew William H. Robinson on Cabin Creek in the year 1867, and visited him at his home a number of times during that year. I came from the Chickasha Nation to Cabin Creek and Grand River in the year 1867, and William H. Robinson was living on Cabin Creek, Cherokee Nation, at that time, and I visited him, William H. Robinson, as above stated at his home in the Cherokee Nation a number of times during said year 1867. The reason that I know the above facts is because my master, Harvey Bacon, liberated me in the Spring of 1866, and I came from the Chickasha Nation to the Cherokee Nation the next year, and when I arrived at Lee Schrimpscher's place on Cabin Creek, Cherokee Nation, I found William H. Robinson located there and living in about one mile of Lee Schrimpscher's place.

Lem Paris, being first duly sworn deposes and says: I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood, and am fifty-seven years of age, and reside at Chelsea, Indian Territory. I am personally acquainted with William H. Robinson, and knew his father Mumford Robinson. I first met Mumford Robinson and his family in August 1865. They were residing on a farm near Ft. Scott, Kansas. I was discharged from Company "E" 14 Kansas, in July 1865, and arrived at my father's house in August 1865. He was then living on the Captain Clark farm near Ft. Scott, Kansas, and Mumford Robinson and family were living on the same farm.

I remained there two or three months, and then came to the Indian Territory. I do not know the exact date the Robinson family came to the Indian Territory. Some time during the Spring of 1867, I was at Prior Creek, Indian Territory, when Blue Alberty and others were laying out a road from the head of Big Cabin Creek to Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, and I understood at that time that William H. Robinson was one of the persons assisting in making that road.

I did not meet him personally at that time/ but understood that his family was making a claim near the Schrimpsier farm on Big Cabin Creek. Some time during the year 1868, I saw this claim which I afterwards learned was the Robinson claim. At the time I first saw it, in 1868, there had been a small tract of land cleared in the bottom, and put in cultivation, my best recollection is that there had been at lease one crop raised on the land.

The Robison family are colored people. I am a Cherokee Citizen by blood, and are not related in any way to any member of the family, and have no interest whatever in their claim.

The dates referred to herein are from my best recollection, and I fixed the time that I first knew the family from the date of my discharge, which I now have and from my recollection that I immediately went to my father's home after my discharge.

Moses Holt, being duly sworn says:- I am 60 years of age, of African descent and have resided in Fort Scott, Kansas most all of the time since the year 1862. I left Fort Scott in 1863 returning in 1865, and have lived here continually since that time. They were colored people and his family lived in Fort Scott, within one or two blocks of me. I frequently visited at their house up to the time they moved from Fort Scott in 1865. They moved at that time to the Captain Clark farm immediately South of Fort Scott. During the early part of the year 1866 I worked in a Stone Quarry with Mumford Robinson in getting out stone for the Bourbon County Jail. Soon after this and during the Spring or Summer of 1866 Mumford Robinson left this Country for the Indian Territory and I have never seen or heard of his returning to this State. After he moved to the Captain Clark farm a woman by the name of Jersua Sanders lived in the Robinson House in Fort Scott which adjoined the property owned by Mr. Anthony. There were other families that lived in this property besides Mrs. Sanders but I cannot now recall their names. I am no relation to any of the Robinson Family and have no interest in their affairs or claims in the Cherokee nation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of William H. Robinson, et al., as Cherokee freedmen, Cherokee Freedmen R 624.

In the matter of the motion for a rehearing of the application for the enrollment of Jessie A. Slaughter, et al., as Cherokee freedmen, Cherokee Freedmen R 623.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman of Eva K. Anderson, Cherokee Freedmen D 889.

Motion to Dismiss.

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and respectfully moves the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes to dismiss the motion for a rehearing filed on behalf of the above named applicants, and for grounds says:

That the records show that a copy of said motion was served upon the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation on the 26th day of October, 1906, and the records further show that the applicants were denied by the Commission on March 11, 1904, and the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, denying the applicants, was affirmed by the Department on March 22, 1906, and this motion to reopen was not served upon the attorneys for the Cherokee Nation until October 26, 1906.

Section 1 of the Act of Congress, approved April 26, 1906 (Public No. 129), provides:

no motion to reopen or reconsider any citizenship case in any of said tribes shall be entertained unless filed with the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes within sixty days after the passage date of the order or decision sought to be reconsidered, except as to decision made prior to the passage of this act, in which cases such motion shall be made within sixty days after the passage of this act;

Now, no motion can be properly filed with the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes without a sufficient showing of service upon the attorney for the opposite party and therefore no motion can be properly filed with the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes under all the previous rulings of the Department unless it is first shown that service of a copy of said motion has been had upon the representative of the Cherokee Nation, and under the law hereinabove quoted, inasmuch as the decision of the Secretary of the Interior, affirming the decision of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, was prior to the passage of the Act, service had to be had upon the representative of the Nation and the motion filed within sixty days after April 26, 1906, whereas the records show that the service was not had, and therefore the motion could not be legally filed under the rules of the Department, until October 26, 1906, or exactly six months after the passage and approval of the Act of April 26, 1906.

For these reasons we move to dismiss the motion filed on behalf of the above named applicants to reopen said case.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. Hastings

Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

Reply of the Cherokee Nation.

Comes now the representative of the Cherokee Nation and, without waiving the motion to dismiss the motion to reopen this case, but insisting upon the same, and insisting that the same should be sustained, yet in the event that the same is not sustained by the Department, and only in that event the following reply is submitted to the motion filed on behalf of applicants for a rehearing in this case.

The record in the case shows that these applicants were denied by the unanimous vote of the Commission on March 11, 1904, and the record further shows that the decision denying the applicants was affirmed by the Secretary of the Interior on March 2, 1906. The letter of the Department goes into the facts in the case at some length and indicates an agreement with the brief heretofore filed on behalf of the Cherokee Nation to the effect that the applicants were not entitled upon two grounds:

- First. That they were not free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the War of the Rebellion, and,
- Second. That they did not return to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the Treaty.

Upon both of these grounds that Department found on March 2, 1906:

"The finding of the Commission that some of the applicants were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation before the Rebellion is based upon very little and indirect testimony, and the Department is not prepared to concur in such conclusion, but it finds that the Commission was warranted in finding that the applicants who claim to have returned from Kansas in 1866 did not do so. The testimony for the claimants, to say the least, is vague in material particulars. It is not specific as to the residence of the principal applicants, who claim to have been in the nation in 1866, when some of the witnesses allege they saw them there, and for several years subsequent thereto.

If such claimants were residing in the nation from the middle of 1866, as alleged by William H. Robinson, the oldest of the applicants and the main interested witness for himself and the other applicants, until the latter part of 1869, during which time it is asserted by the nation they were in Kansas, some testimony might easily have been produced showing their occupancy and means of livelihood during that time. This was not attempted to any extent, nor has any effort been made to contradict the positive definite testimony of the witnesses submitted by the nation. If the principal applicants in question were not residing in Fort Scott, Kansas, until about the latter part of 1869, that was easy to prove.

No explanation is made concerning deed for land in Kansas, in which it is stated that Mumford Robinson and his wife were 'of the county of Bourbon, State of Kansas.

A rehearing as to Gera Martin was granted by departmental letter to you of November 11, 1905. Finding no reason to disturb your decision as to the other applicants, it is hereby affirmed so far as they are concerned."

By reference to the original testimony it will be seen that the applicants introduced on their behalf Lewis Whitmire and Harry Still, and testimony has been introduced in a great number of cases to the effect that the Whitmires, while the returned as individuals in the fall of 1866, did not remove with their families until about the first of March, 1867, and this voluminous testimony is introduced in the case of Edward Wright or Derriek, F. D. 818. The Department has also found in the case of Daniel Whitmire, F. D. 434, Luella Snaden, F. D. 987, and George Neigs, F. D. 394, that the Whitmires, which includes the witness Lewis Whitmire, in this case, also known as Lewis Wright, did not return to the Cherokee Nation until the Spring of 1867 with their families and that, therefore, he and his nephew Harry Still could not have known what they attempted to testify to before the Commission. The next witness, Fillmore Hicks, was a standing witness on behalf of applicants, is shown to have received compensation regularly for testifying in their behalf, and our general brief shows that he testified in 41 freedmen doubtful cases. The next witness on their behalf, William Foreman, admits that he charged these applicants $125 for testifying before the Kern-Glifton Commission in 1896, and was therefore in the habit of testifying for pay.

Now as against this testimony the Cherokee Nation sent to Kansas and procured two witnesses, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis and Minerva Runyan, who testified that they knew Mumford Robinson and family, and they gave the names of the children in Fort Scott, Kansas, from 1862 or '3 until 1869.

Mrs. Davis says that she learned to know them in 1863; she knew their children and gave the names of many of them; she says she continued to know them until 1869 and in answer to this question:

"Q. Did you know them continuously? A. Yes sir, they lived right there; I was about two blocks away from them."

"Q. Did you have occasion to see them frequently? A. Yes, sir, I saw them pass; they would have to pass my house to go to town."

Further on she stated:

"Q. Did you know whether they had a house there or not? A. Yes, sir, they owned their home there; they bought their house; I don't know whether they bought a lot and built the house or whether they bought the house, I couldn't say; it was just a frame house that was there when I left; I know that they owned that and sold it."

"Q. You are positive that they lived there until the fall or winter of 1869? A. Yes, sir, I am positive; how that is, Mrs. Runyan-----her father, Mr. Anthony died in July 1869, and they was there then, and in the fall the boys helped dig potatoes and gather the crop; him and his son, Walter Runyan both died in the same month and left the widow woman and the girls and she got these boys to gather the crop."

Minerva Runyon testified that she knew them in Fort Scott, Kansas, and she gives the names of all of the members of the family, and she knew the one that married Mr. Hill. Her testimony is so conclusive and convincing that she knew the members of the family that there can be no question about it. In answer to this question she said:

"Q. When did you first learn to know this family? A. In 1862, when I came there they was there."

"Q. Neighbors from '62 until '69 continuously? A. Continuously, they might have been there a little longer than that, but that much anyway."

"Q. How do you fix the date Mrs. Runyon, that you knew them? A. Well I fix the date by father's death."

"Q. When did your father die? A. Father died July 13, 1869."

"Q. Do you know they were living there then? A. They were living there then; he raised a little crop and these boys helped us children to gather our potatoes, as much as I can remember it was Frank and Tobe."

"Q. How far did the family live from you? A. They lived just the next, there was one lot, a fifty foot lot between us."

When we take it into consideration that the testimony of these two women is corroborated by the deed of Huxford Robinson and his wife, showing that they did own property in Fort Scott, Kansas, we feel justified in saying that the Department should refuse the motion to reopen filed in this case.

But lets examine the motion. In the first place no diligence whatever is shown in the motion. While the motion is made upon the grounds of newly discovered evidence, and while it is asserted that the applicants were not aware that the witnesses would swear the things referred to in the motion, yet that is entirely insufficient because in order to entitle a party to a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence the affidavit in the case must show:

First, the names of witnesses whose testimony has been discovered and the facts expected to be established by them.

Second, facts and circumstances sufficient to prove that the applicant has used due diligence in preparing his case for trial.

Third, that the facts and circumstances newly discovered have come to his knowledge since the trial and are such as if adduced on the trial would have been competent to prove the issue.

Fourth, that the evidence discovered is not cumulative of that previously relied on and will tend to prove material facts which were not put directly in issue on the trial.

The leading case upon this question, passing upon the requisites of a motion for a new trial by the Supreme Court of Arkansas is that of Burris vs. Wise, " Ark. 33, and the foot notes to this decision have collected practically all subsequent cases passed upon by the Supreme Court of Arkansas to the present date, and fully sustain the above contention.

The courts have held in numerous cases that it is not sufficient to allege that the applicants were not aware of the testimony of the witnesses that they intend to introduce at a subsequent trial, but that they must actually set up in their motion what diligence if any was used in the search of witnesses so that the Court might pass upon the question of diligence. In the case of Bourland vs. Skinney, 11 Ark. 67, the question of newly discovered evidence is discussed at length by the Court and upon the question of due diligence it was held that it was not sufficient to state in the motion that due diligence was used, but the motion must state what was done for or on behalf of the party for whom the motion was made, so that the Court might judge as to whether or not due diligence was used or what diligence was used. This is a very elaborate opinion, quoting a number of authorities in support of it and it seems to us decides the points exactly contended for by us to the effect that no diligence whatever has been shown in the motion. In support of our contention we desire to cite 13 Ark. 360; 17 Ark. 403; 25 Ark. 89; 25 Ark. 334; 25 Ark. 380; 25 Ark. 121; 30 Ark. 724; 36 Ark. 514; 38 Ark. 120; 35 Ark. 312; 60 Ark. 481.

In Cherokee Allotment Contest case No. 712, decided by the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes on June 6, 1906, the Commissioner held:

"The rule is general that a new trial or rehearing will not be granted on a mere showing that new evidence has been discovered. Newly discovered evidence in order to be sufficient must possess the following requisites:

- (a) It must be such as would probably change the result if a new trial is granted.
- (b) It must be discovered since the trial.
- (c) It must be such as could not have been discovered before the trial by the exercise of due diligence.
- (d) It must be material to the issues.
- (e) It must not be merely cumulative to the former evidence.
- (f) It must not be merely impeaching or contradicting the former evidence."

And in support of the holding there was cited the following:

"In motions for a rehearing resting on newly discovered evidence it should be shown that said evidence could not have been discovered by due diligence, and the facts showing such diligence should appear." Moore vs. Larney, Creek No. 49. 6 L. D. 9; 7 L. D. 126; 10 L. D. 483; 13 L. D. 31; 19 L. D. 543.

But the testimony which is desired to be submitted, if submitted, would not change the result of this case, because in the first place the Cherokee Nation contends and the Department in its letter hereinabove quoted, indicates an inclination to agree with the Cherokee Nation's contentions, that there is no sufficient showing whatever that these applicants were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the war of the rebellion. Now if they had been residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the War that would have been easy to establish and, as observed by the Department, if they had been residing in the Cherokee Nation in 1860 it would have been easy to establish by positive proof. The first witness, Cornelius Bacon, is a freedman and it will be noted that he signs the affidavit by an ex mark, which shows of course that he is ignorant and uneducated, and therefore but little weight could be given to his testimony as to the date of the happening of events some 40 years ago, but even he does not attempt to see the principal applicant in this case until the year 1867. Now much weight is based in the motion to reopen upon the statement of Lem Paris, whose affidavit is attached, but when his statement is critically examined it will be noted that he claimed to have seen Blue Alberty and others laying out a road "from the head of Big Creek to Prior Creek, Indian Territory, and I understand at that time that William H. Robinson was one of the persons assisting in making that road. I did not meet him personally at that time, etc." It will be noted that Lem Paris nowhere throughout his affidavit ever does fix the time when he personally remembers of having seen the Robinsons in the Cherokee Nation. This is the most remarkable affidavit for evasion that has ever been filed in a freedmen case. He saw them in Fort Scott, Kansas, in 1865, and Blue Alberty was laying out the road in 1867, in Indian Territory, but it will be noted that he only "understood," and did not see William H. Robinson in the Cherokee Nation at that time. Lem Paris, the witness, afterwards understands that he was making a claim upon Cabin Creek, but he did not see that, nor does he state when he ever saw any of the Robinson family thereafter in the Cherokee Nation. What a remarkable affidavit!

Moses Holt, the next witness who makes an affidavit, is a colored person and signs by ex mark, and it will be found that he was an applicant himself in the Cherokee Nation. This witness applied on October 21, 1901, to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as a freedman citizen, and he swears in his own application, in answer to the question:

"Q. Have you been living here continuously since? A. No, sir, went to Arkansas and come back in 1864 or '5 and stayed here until 1867."

This was in reference to his residence in the Cherokee Nation and will be found in his case, Freedmen Rejected 185, which was affirmed by the Department on June 9, 1904. Now, in his affidavit he testifies:

"I left Fort Scott in 1863, returning in 1865, and have lived here continuously since that time."

Further on in his affidavit he says:

"During the early part of 1866 I worked in a stone quarry with Mumford Robinson, getting out stone for the Bourbon County jail."

Later on he says that Mumford Robinson left that country in 1866.

Compare this statement with his own statement, and we are satisfied the Department will see what little weight should be given to his testimony.

The next witness, Andrew Johnson, is unknown to the representative of the Cherokee Nation, but his statement cannot be true in the light of the testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Davis and Minerva Runyon, and also the deed made by Mumford Robinson and his wife to town property in Fort Scott, Kansas, in 1869. And the same is true of the statement made by J. F. Richards.

Suppose the testimony of Richards and Andy Johnson were introduced as against the statements heretofore introduced by Mrs. Elizabeth Davis and Mrs. Runyon, together with the explanation as to the deed made by Mumford Robinson and his wife. We submit that the Department would be compelled under the testimony then to reject the applicants.

The applicants have had some two or three years to search the country for testimony to offset or refute the statements of Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Runyon and the record testimony introduced, and certainly no motion ought to be allowed upon insinulative testimony or negative testimony, and we submit in this motion to reopen there is no testimony of any kind of any witness which is to the effect that they saw these applicants in the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty of 1866, namely, before February 11, 1867. The affidavits are as indefinite as the original testimony and no attempt is made to show that the record testimony is untrue.

Attention is also invited to the fact that in a number of other cases which rely upon the same testimony, they have been rejected by the Department, and attention is invited to the case of Tobe Robinson, F. D. 686, a half brother of William H. Robinson, and a son of Mumford Robinson, and in whose case exactly the same testimony was filed as was in this one, and this case was rejected on March 11, 1904, by the Commission and affirmed by the Department on March 2, 1906, and no motion has been filed to reopen said case. The same is true of Melvina Martin, a half sister of William H. Robinson, who was rejected by the Commission and affirmed by the Department March 2, 1906, and no motion filed to reopen as to her although there was as to some Martin children claiming through their father.

The same is true of William H. Hill, F. D. 937, a nephew of the principal applicant in this case, and Hayes Hill, F. D. 939, and James Hill, F. D. 942, and Martha M. Hill, a sister of the principal applicant in this case, F. D. 1018.

We respectfully submit that in the first place these applicants are not entitled to be enrolled:

First. Because they were not free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war.

Second. Because it is not shown that they returned to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty of 1866.

And the motion filed herein to reopen this case should be denied:

First. Because it was not filed within the time prescribed by the act of April 26, 1906.

Second. Because no diligence whatever has been shown in attempting to procure the witnesses claimed to have been newly discovered.

Third. Because even if the case were reopened and remanded, and the testimony of the witnesses introduced it would not change the result, and the Department would be compelled to deny them upon the testimony.

Fourth. There is no merit in the case.

In order that a full comment may be at hand upon the testimony, attached to this answer is a copy of our brief heretofore filed in this case.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. Hastings

Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

(Referring to I. T. D. 5122-1904)

Argument in Behalf of the Cherokee Nation.

The applicants in these consolidated cases claim Freedmen citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by virtue of the fact that they were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the war of the rebellion and that they returned to the Cherokee Nation as provided in the 9th Article of the Treaty of 1866.

Whereas the Cherokee Nation contends in the first place that they never were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation prior to the late war nor did they return to the Cherokee Nation within the time prescribed by the treaty and therefore that the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes denying the applications of these people for enrollment should be affirmed by the Honorable Secretary of the Interior.

THE TESTIMONY, On Part OF APPLICANTS.

The Testimony of William H. Robinson, himself the oldest of the applicants, shows that he is not at all familiar with the topography of the country, because he claims to have lived on Beattie's prairie, in the Cherokee Nation, near the Neutral Lands in Kansas when it is a well known Historical fact that Beattie's Prairie is about six miles southwest of the Southwest corner of the State of Missouri or some seventy miles or more from the nearest point of the Neutral lands of Kansas, or the Neutral land strip in Kansas.

His testimony does not show any familiarity with the old citizens of the Cherokee Nation; but he does admit that his father was Mumford Robinson and his mother was named Anna Robinson; that he has a brother by the name of Tobe. He claims to have gone to Fort Scott Kansas during the war, and like all other Freedmen applicants, claims, of course, to have returned in the year of 1866.

LEWIS WHITMIRE. His first witness, Lewis Whitmire, claims to be sixty-two years of age, did not know the applicants before the war but does locate them in Fort Scott, Kansas during the war. He further testifies that he saw the applicants in the Cherokee Nation and one of them in ~~the winter of 1866.~~ ~~1866~~ X

There was introduced in this case by the Cherokee Nation the testimony in the case of Edward Wright F. D. 818 which contains the testimony of this same Lewis Whitmire and other members of the Whitmire family before the Chambers court in 1878 where this witness Lewis Whitmire testified himself that he himself did not return until the early Spring of 1867. This testimony is now introduced for the purpose of showing that the witness Lewis Whitmire was not himself back here at the time he now testifies that he was back in the Cherokee Nation and to show of course

THAT HE NEVER SAW THE APPLICANTS AT THE TIME ABOUT WHICH HE TESTIFIES.

On page 58 of our General Freedmen brief we show where this witness has testified in 30 Freedmen Doubtful and Rejected cases. See also page 111 of said brief.

HARRY STILL The next witness is Harry Still. The Commission knows that he is a notoriously disreputable witness. He has appeared before the Commission in a half drunken condition a very great number of times. He is an applicant for enrollment before the Commission and his application has been denied by the Commission in Cherokee Freedman case Number 876 and the Department in its letter upon his case agrees with the Commission that he did not return in time and only today have we written an argument in behalf of the Cherokee nation against a motion to reopen his case where the records of the Commission completely, convincingly and conclusively shows that he wilfully made a false statement as to the proceedings before the Commission. He has been a standing witness before the Commission, followed the Commission from place to place and testified in a great number of cases and in fact in all cases where he could with profit. He is the same witness referred to in our General Freedmen brief at page 106 and since the preparation of this brief he has continued to be a standing witness and has continued to testify in every case where an applicant would permit him regardless of what he knew about it. He testifies that he knew the principal applicant in this case in 1862 on the Neutral Land in Kansas. Of course he states that he saw them in the winter of 1866. At first he saw them in the winter and later on in his testimony it will be noted that he worked with the brother of applicant in the summer of 1866 on Snow Creek, in the Cherokee nation, then it has been clearly shown by the investigation of of the Freedmen cases wherein applicants claimed to have returned to Snow Creek that there was not a Freedman place on Snow Creek earlier than 1869. Our General Freedmen Brief shows that at the time of its preparation this same Harry Still gave his testimony in thirty-nine Doubtful and Rejected Freedmen cases and we believe we would be safe in saying that he has testified in even a greater number since that time.. See our General Freedmen brief page 87.

FILLMORE HICKS. The next witness introduced is a half negro by the name of Fillmore Hicks who testifies that the first time he knew the applicant was in January 1867. Now it has been shown in our General Brief also that this same Fillmore Hicks was another standing witness before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes. This witness Hicks is shown in our General Freedman brief at page 85 to have testified in forty-one Freedmen Doubtful cases and on page 96 of our General Freedmen brief we refer to this same Hicks testifying in the Aaron Martin case F. D. 235, wherein he admitted that he received a mule for testifying for the applicant. He was impeached in the George Thompson case F. D. 858 and in the Thomas Mayfield case F. D. 200. He is so clearly unworthy of belief that the Commission had no hesitancy in setting aside his testimony as it evidently did the testimony of Harry Still.

WILLIAM (Y. H.) FOREMAN (See Freedmen Genl Brief pages 84 and 85.)

William Foreman never knew the applicants until 1862 and that was on Cabin Creek in the Cherokee nation. It will be noted that he is the only witness that ever saw them in the Cherokee Nation prior to the war and later on in his testimony he admits that they claim to have come from Arkansas. To say that this notoriously disreputable witness made a business of testifying for applicants for gain is only putting it lightly. The testimony in this case shows that he charged these applicants $125.00 to testify for them before the Wern Clifton Commission in 1896. While it wasn't improper to have paid this witness his expenses to and from the Commission and while there yet he admits that he only lived thirty miles from where he went and it was only necessary for him to have been gone only one day but what lends suspicion to his whole testimony is that he contends th t he had to follow the Commission around from place to place to watch a plicants case and to see that they were protected.

On page 84 of our general Freedmen brief we show wherein this same witness had testified at that time in nineteen Freedmen Doubtful cases and we called attention to the disreputable practice of this witness making a business of charging Freedmen applicants. On page 93 of our General Freedmen Brief we cite the particular cases wherein he has been contradicted. Of course the members of the Commission soon find out who are disreputable witnesses. They are brought face to face with them daily and when the Freedmen a plicant goes to bringing in witnesses of this Character a general suspicion is aroused that he had a fraudulent case or he would not resort to the use of disreputable witnesses.

We appreciate the fact that the Department is not thrown in touch with the witnesses, that it can not know the topography of the country and therefore the testimony of all witnesses is given the same weight and unless it is shown by the record why they should be disregarded and disbelieved and for this reason we have called the attention of the Department to the record made by these several witnesses..

It will be noted that not one single witness appears and testifies that he knew the applicants prior to the war to be a permanent bona fide resident of the Cherokee nation. Robinson himself knows nothing of his whereabouts and he can not definitely locate himself in the Cherokee Nation prior to the war.

WITNESSES FOR THE CHEROKEE NATION.

The Cherokee Nation sent to Fort Scott, Kansas and brought two reputable citizens of that state before the Commission. These witnesses were people of the highest standing in Kansas and were entirely disinterested. Both of them testify that they knew Mumford Robinson and his wife Anna R. Robinson. They testify that they knew the members of the family and they go into details and tell the names of the different children. They tell exactly where they lived in Fort Scott, Kansas. They testify that they lived there until the fall of 1869. That they owned a home there and that each of them lived as neighbors to these applicants.

It is astonishing how correct these witnesses Mrs Davis and Mrs Runyan are, in giving in their testimony. Mrs Runyan testified that only one fifty foot lot was between their residence and that of the applicants. Neither of these witnesses are contradicted but upon the other hand one of the applicants admit that they lived in Ft Scott Kansas and their witnesses testified that the applicants during the war lived in Fort Scott, Kansas and the witnesses on part of the Cherokee Nation swear positively that they lived there until 1869. There is nothing in the record which would throw the slightest suspicion over the witnesses introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation. They do not come of their own accord. They are not citizens of the Cherokee Nation and they inconvenience themselves to come down and testify at the request of the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation in order that the truth might be developed.

These witnesses say that they saw these applicants from day to day as they did their other neighbors and they insist that they could not be mistaken and we submit that in the light of the history of the applicants witnesses that it was the duty of the Commission to reject these applicants and that the statements of applicants witnesses should be rejected in ~~taxxxx~~ toto.

We contend that even if the Cherokee Nation had not introduced any testimony that the testimony on part of applicants themselves is too vague and unsatisfactory upon which to admit the applicants. If they were free colored persons residing within the limits of the Cherokee Nation before the war this could be shown by direct and positive testimony and their exact whereabouts prior to the war could be shown and there would be no reason for applicants to evade the truth but the ~~xxxxxxxx~~ close examination of the testimony upon this point to a person acquainted with the topography of the country a very unsatisfactory account of their whereabouts. It will be noted that Robinson knew none of his neighbors; he located none of the farms about him and he evidently knew nothing of the country before the war and it is probably possible that he passed through the country from Arkansas to Ft Scott Kansas but they certainly never had anything like a permanent residence within the limits of the Cherokee Nation.

We submit that these applicants should be denied upon both grounds:

First, That they were not free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation prior to the war:

Second, That the testimony shows they did not return to the Cherokee Nation prior to 1869, too late to qualify under the treaty of 1866.

Respectfully,

W W Hastings
Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

Dear Sir: In regard to your inquiry as to where Charley Pea went from here. He went to the "Neutral Strip". We testified that his wife died in 1867. We were both intimately acquainted with him all the time he lived here. We also knew Josh Vanna. He was Sucker Pea's son by his young master, Col Vann Tim the nation.

Dear Sir:

There is herewith enclosed a copy of the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated March 11, 1904, in the consolidated case of William H. Robinson et al., rejecting the applications for the enrollment of William H., James A., Jennetta, Charles S., Amanda E., John S. Ollie and William D. Robinson, Josie A. March 2, 1906

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,

Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Sir:

June 20, 1904, the Indian Office submitted the Cherokee freedman case arising out of the applications of Williams H. Robinson for himself and seven minor children, James Aurelius, Jennetta, Charles S., Amanda Elizabeth, John Savannah, Ollie, and William Dewey Robinson; of Josie Ann Slaughter for herself and her minor daughter, Sadie Smith; by Tobe Robinson for himself; by Melvina Martin for herself and her minor children, Cora, Jesse and Allen Martin; and by Martha M. Hill for herself and her four minor children, Lavada Martin, Annie Jones, Savannah Hill, and Luther Daniels, and recommended that the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes of March 11, 1904, adverse to the applicants, be reversed.

The attorneys for the Cherokee nation and the claimants have had due opportunity to be heard upon this recommendation and have filed arguments.

The Commission found that William H. Robinson and Tobe Robinson, together with their parents, Mumford and Annie Robinson were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation at the commencement of the rebellion; that they went to Kansas during the rebellion and did not return to and establish their residence in the nation within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 23, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, etc., vs., The Cherokee Nation et al., for the return of Freedmen to the nation; that all the other applicants were born since 1866, and are the respective descendants of, and claim their rights to enrollment through, Mumford Robinson and his wife, Annie Robinson, and William H. Robinson and his wife, Millie Robinson, and that such persons have no greater rights to enrollment than the said ancestors through whom they claim.

The names of most of the applicants are found upon the Kern-Clifton and Wallace rolls, and not on the 1880 roll.

The Indian office merely stated that certain witnesses for the claimants testified that Mumford Robinson and his family returned to the Cherokee Nation prior to February 11, 1867, and that certain witnesses for the Cherokee Nation testified that Robinson and family lived in Kansas from 1863 to 1869. A deed for land in Bourbon County, Kansas, by Mumford Robinson and his wife, executed December 7, 1867, was also mentioned. The nation contends that the witnesses for the applicants are disreputable and not worthy of belief.

The finding of the Commission, that some of the applicants were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation before the rebellion, is based upon very little and indirect testimony, and the Department is not prepared to concur in such conclusion, but it finds that the Commission was warranted in finding that the applicants who claim to have returned from Kansas in 1866 did not do so. The testimony for the claimants, to say the least, is vague in material particulars. It is not specific as to the residence of the principal applicants, who claim to have been in the nation in 1866, when some of the witnesses allege they saw them there, and for several years subsequent thereto.

If such claimants were residing in the nation from the middle of 1866, as alleged by William H. Robinson, the oldest of the applicants and the main interested witness for himself and the other applicants, until the latter part of 1869, during which time it is asserted by the nation they were in Kansas, some testimony might easily have been produced showing their occupancy and means of livelihood during that time. This was not attempted to any extent, nor has any effort been made to contradict the positive definite testimony of the witnesses submitted by the nation. If the principal applicants in question were not residing in Fort Scott, Kansas, until about the latter part of 1869, that was easy to prove.

No explanation is made concerning deed for land in Kansas, in which it is stated that Mumford Robinson and his wife were "of the county of Bourbon, State of Kansas.

A rehearing as to Gora Martin was granted by departmental letter to you of November 11, 1905. Finding no reason to disturb your decision as to the other applicants, it is hereby affirmed so far as they are concerned.

Respectfully,

(Signed) THOS RYAN

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON.

-609-

February 6, 1907.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is forwarded herewith report of Commissioner Kirby, dated January 7, 1907, transmitting a notice for rehearing of the Cherokee Freedmen case of William H. Robinson, et al., filed with the Commissioner on June 21, 1906.

The Commissioner says that on November 14, 1906, the attorney for the Cherokee Nation filed a motion to dismiss the motion for rehearing, for the reason that a copy thereof was not served on him until October 26, 1906. A reply of the Cherokee Nation was filed on the same day, wherein the Nation insists on the motion to dismiss the motion for rehearing and, not moving the motion to dismiss, protests against the motion for rehearing being granted. Both of the motions filed on the part of the Nation are enclosed.

The decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated March 11, 1904, respecting, among others, the application of William H. Robinson for the enrollment of himself and children, James A., Jonathan, Charles H., Amanda E., John G., Ellie and

William B. Robinson, and of Josie A. Slaughter for the enrollment of herself and Sadie Smith, as Cherokee freedmen, was affirmed by the Department on March 2, 1906 (K. T. R. 8122-1906, 2828-1906, 1194-1906). In its decision the Department in part said:

"The finding of the Commission, that some of the applicants were free colored persons residing in the Cherokee Nation before the rebellion, is based upon very little and indirect testimony, and the Department is not prepared to concur in such conclusion, but it finds that the Commission was warranted in finding that the applicants who claim to have returned from Kansas in 1866 did not do so. The testimony for the claimants, to say the least, is vague in material particulars. It is not specific as to the residence of the principal applicants, who claim to have been in the Nation in 1866, when some of the witnesses allege they saw them there, and for several years subsequent thereto".

"If such claimants were residing in the Nation from the middle of 1866, as alleged by William B. Robinson, the eldest of the applicants and the main interested witness for himself and the other applicants, until the latter part of 1899, during which time it is asserted by the Nation they were in Kansas, some testimony might easily have been produced showing their co-existence and means of livelihood during that time. This was not attempted to any extent, nor has any effort been made to contradict the positive definite testimony of the witnesses submitted by the Nation. If the principal applicants in question were not residing in Fort Scott, Kansas, until about the latter part of 1866, that was easy to prove".

"No explanation is made concerning a deed for land in Kansas, in which it is stated that Sumner Robinson and his wife were of the county of Bourbon, State of Kansas".

The action herein is supported by the affidavits of Cornelius Bacon, who says that he visited William B. Robinson, the principal applicant, at his home a number of times during 1897; of Edm Ferris, who says that he does not know the exact date the Robinson family came to the Indian Territory; that he understood that William H. Robinson was one of the persons assisting in laying out a road from the head of Big Cabin Creek to Fryer Creek, Indian Territory; that he understood Robinson's family was making a claim near the Schrimper farm on Big Cabin Creek, and that sometime during the year 1896 he saw this claim which he afterwards learned was the Robinson claim; of Henson Hall, who says that Hiram Robinson, father of William H. Robinson, and his family left Fort Scott, Kansas, during the spring or summer of 1896, and that he has never seen or heard of him in that vicinity since; of Andy Johnson, who says that Hiram Robinson left Fort Scott, Kansas, in the early part of 1896, and that he has never seen him in that vicinity since; and of J. E. Richard, who says that Hiram Robinson left Fort Scott, Kansas, in about May, 1896, to the best of his knowledge, and that he has never seen him or heard of his having a permanent residence in Fort Scott since that time.

Relative to the deed executed by Hiram Robinson to his place in Fort Scott in 1898, wherein it was recited that he is a resident of Bourbon County, Kansas, it is alleged in the motion that the applicants have been unable to find any direct evidence or testimony in explanation thereof.

The attention of the Department is invited to the fact that not one of the affiants in his affidavit alleges that the principal applicant in this case, through whom all the others claim, returned to the Cherokee Nation prior to February 11, 1867, and that they do not say that they even knew when William H. Robinson returned to the Cherokee Nation. There appears to be no showing of a desire to introduce testimony as to whether William H. Robinson was a slave of a Cherokee citizen or a free colored person residing in the Nation at the commencement of the war of the rebellion.

In view of these facts, it is recommended that the petition be denied.

The case of Eva H. (Ellen) Anderson is not included in the case of William H. Robinson, et al., but the record therein is now in this Office and will be forwarded for Departmental consideration at an early date.

Very respectfully,

G. P. Larrabee,

Acting Commissioner.

Sir,

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Sir

The notice for rehearing received with your letter of January 7, 1907, in the Cherokee Freedmen case of William K. Robinson, et al., is denied, in accordance with the recommendations contained in your letter and in the letter of the Indian Office of February 4, 1907 (Land 2941-07), submitting your report.

Even if a prima facie case for further investigation had been made by the notice, the Department would not be warranted in ordering a rehearing in view of the provision in the second section of the act of April 26, 1906 (34 Stat., 137), relative to the completion of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation.

A copy of the Indian Office letter is inclosed. The papers in the matter have been sent to that office.

Kern Clifton roll examined and applicant's wife found as follows:
Page 135 No. 3861 Eva Daniels, Seawsonobowee district.

By Gen'l Breckinridge-

The applicant applies for the enrollment of his wife and two children; he is a man citizen, married in March of 1888, and makes no application for himself. His wife is identified on the Kern Clifton roll but not on the rolls of 1888 or 1890; she is 27 years of age. The applicant states that his wife has lived with him in the Cherokee Nation ever since their marriage and that she was never married prior to her marriage to him. She will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee freedman on a doubtful card to await proof of marriage and also to await proof of residence in the Cherokee Nation from the time of her birth until the time of her marriage, and for further information in this case there will be filed with it a copy of the testimony in the case of the wife's mother whose name is not Julia Kirkpatrick and her case is U. S. D. No. 1075. The final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at her post office address. As for the two children of this marriage, Haydon and Frank Finley, they also will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen on a doubtful card with their mother and the applicant is desired to supply the Commission with satisfactory certificates of their birth. The final decision with reference to these children will also be made known to the applicant at his post office address.

Chas. van Weise, being sworn states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

- Q Did she go out during the war? A. Yes sir.
- Q She came back before he did? A. Yes sir.
- Q What was the name she went by after the war, Landrum? A. Yes sir.
- Q Didn't she marry another man and take his name? A. No sir.
- Q How long do you think Cassie Landrum has been dead? A. She has been dead 12 or 13 years.
- Q Did she continue to live in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. Yes sir.
- Q Where has this ~~life~~ sister of yours lived since the war? A. She has lived at Brown's Ferry and Iran's Ford and in Simon Lynch's settlement and in Arch Landrum's settlement.
- Q Has she ever lived outside of the Cherokee Nation since the war? A. Most of the time.
- Q Do you mean to say she has lived in the Cherokee Nation most of the time since the war? A. No sir.
- Q What do you mean to say then? A. That she has lived right where my father first brought her most of the time since the war.
- Q Then you mean that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation most of the time since the war don't you? A. Yes sir.
- Q You are positive that she has made her home here all the time since the war? A. Yes sir.
- (By the Commission of applicant-)
- Q You didn't indicate that you had made your home here all the time since the war did you? A. I worked out some.
- Q Where have you been out at work? A. At Neosho Falls some times.
- Q Any other places? A. Chetopa.
- Q Anywhere else? A. No sir.
- Q How much work have you done at Neosho Falls? A. Sometimes six months maybe seven, then ~~your family~~ I would make a trip back here.
- Q Did you take your family with you? A. Yes sir I would take the baby there sometimes.
- Q How about Chetopa? A. Yes sir the same way.
- Q Have you spent as much as half your time in Kansas? A. No sir, would come back and stay as much as 3 and 4 months at a time and then light out again, sometimes here and sometimes there.
- Q When did your last husband die? A. 2 years ago.
- Q Where did you marry him? A. Neosho Falls.
- Q Where did you marry your first husband? A. On the river where I live now.
- (By Commissioner of witness, Jas. Landrum)
- Q What was the name of your sister's first husband? A. Tom Daniels.
- Q When did she marry him? A. Long before the war.

- Q Has she ever been married except those two times? A. No sir.
- Q Did she live with Kirkpatrick until he died? A. Yes sir.
- Q Do you know anything that your sister had been in the habit of going to Neosho Falls, and Chetopa and working there? A. No sir.
- Q You don't know anything about it? A. No sir.

Q Her testimony shows that she spent half her time there and yet you say you have kept the run of her all the time and don't know anything about it? A (No response)

By Gen'r Breakinridge,-

The testimony of the applicant and of the witness James Landrum, down to this point will be filed in the case of the said James Landrum, as it indicates that his testimony is unreliable and should be taken into consideration in weighing any statement he has made in his own application. His application is Cherokee Freedman D. #664.

(By Commission of witness, Jas. Landrum)

Q Can you explain how is it that your sister has spent so much of her time in Kansas and you know not know anything about it? A No sir.
Q You say you have kept the run of her all the time? A I have tried to.

(By Commission of the applicant)

Q Have you ever seen this brother while you were working in Kansas?
A No sir.

Q You have some grown children who will want to apply on the basis of your testimony haven't you? A Yes sir.

Q Give me the name of your oldest child? A. George Daniels.

Q About how old is he? A. About 34.

Q Where was he born? A. On the river.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir

Q Have you a child named Frank? A. Yes sir.

Q How old is he? A. I don't know exactly, it is there on that paper.

Q 29 years? A. Yes sir.

Q Where was he born? A. On Grand river.

Q Eva Daniels, is she married? A. Yes sir.

Q What is her name now? A. Finley.

Q Where was she born? A. On the river.

Q These three children, were they in the Cherokee Nation all the time?

A Yes sir.

Q Were they never with you in Kansas? A. Yes sir some time I would take them there and send them to school.

Q Have you ever kept house up there? A. No sir.

Q Who is Rade Finley? A That is my little grand daughter.

Q Is its mother alive? A. Yes sir.

Q What is its mother's name? A. Eva Finley.

Q That is this daughter Eva that you speak of is it? A. Yes sir.

Q She has another child, Frank, also, younger than Rade? A Yes sir.

Q Has Eva applied for her family yet? A No sir.

Q Has her husband applied? A. No sir.

(By Hastings of the witness, Jas. Landrum)

Q When was the last time you was in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A When was the last time?—about 15 years ago.

Q Was your sister Gelia there at that time? A. I don't remember seeing her.

Q Where was she at that time? A. I guess she was here on the river at that time.

Q Do you know? A. I think she was on Dave Landrum's place then.

Q Are you positive? A Yes sir I am pretty positive.

Q Are you positive that you didn't see her at Neosho Falls, Kansas, then?

A Yes sir.

Q How long did you remain at Neosho Falls that time? A Just a little while.

Q A month? A. Longer than that.

Q Two months? A About that.

Q Have you been back there? A. No sir.

Q You once went there since since the war? A. I was there twice.

Q When was the other time? A. When I was there before, when I went back for my family.

Q Was that the first time after the war? A. Yes sir.

Q And you never saw your sister, the applicant, at Neosho Falls since the war? A. Yes sir, I have.

Q When was that? A. That was just as I was discharged from the army.
Q Did you ever see her back there after she had come down here to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. No sir.

Q Did you ever see her in Kansas after she has come down here after the war? A. Yes sir, I saw her there when I came back.

Q I mean after she had come down here? A. No sir.

Q Where have you been living? A. Down here on the river.

Q In what settlement? A. Island Ford settlement.

Q How far has your sister been living from you? A. 7, 8, or 10 miles, sometimes 12 miles; I didn't live there all the time, I lived at Fort Gibson some times, staid there a long time.

Q Did she live with her husband directly after the war? A. Yes sir with Tom Daniels.

(By Hastings of applicant)

Q Where did you live with Tom Daniels first after the war? A. Lived right there with his father and my father.

Q Live with both of them at the same time? A. No sir lived first with one and then with the other.

Q How long did you stay down there until you went back to Kansas? A. A quite a while.

Q How long after you came there did you next go back? A. About 2 years.

Q Did you go back with your husband? A. No, sir he went first.

Q To what place in Kansas did you go that time? A. Neosho Falls.

Q What did you do up there? A. Worked a few times.

Q What did he do? A. He worked in a mill.

Q Who run the mill? A. I don't know, did know, don't remember it now.

Q How long did you stay up there that time, how many years to the best of your judgment? A. 3 or 4 months at a time.

Q How long did your husband stay? A. Off and on all the time.

Q He died there? A. Yes sir.

Q What year did Tom Daniels die in Kansas? A. I don't know.

Q Is Ethel his child? A. Yes sir.

Q He died before she was born? A. Yes sir a little while before she was born.

Q He died in Neosho Falls? A. Yes sir.

Q You kept house up there didn't you? A. No sir, I worked for a family there.

Q You didn't keep house there for your husband and children? A. No sir, I boarded with that family, and my husband boarded with some folks there.

Q Well you roomed together didn't you? A. Yes we staid together in a room.

Q Ethel was born in Kansas? A. No sir.

Q Eva was born in Kansas? A. No sir.

Q Where was she born? A. At my father's.

Q Your husband was in Kansas then though? A. He was here part of the time.

~~Q Your husband was in Kansas then though.~~

Q Your husband never worked in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A. He worked here some.

Q He never made a crop here did he? A. No sir but he helped my father make a crop and he helped his father make a crop.

Q You and he never kept house separate and apart from your parents or his folks in the Cherokee Nation did you? A. No sir.

Q You and your second husband were married in Neosho Falls? A. Yes sir.

Q Where did he die? A. Down here at Vinisa.

Q What year? A. I don't know, he has been dead 2 or 3 years.

Q You never had a child by him did you? A. No sir, got them all by Tom Daniels.

Q What did you and your husband come to the Cherokee Nation? A. I married him and brought him down here, got acquainted with him up there before my first husband died.

Q How long was it after your first husband died before you married this second husband? A. About 2 years.

Q Then you and your second husband had been married 2 or 3 years before he died? A. Yes sir, I guess so.

Q Your first husband died in Kansas and you had met your second husband up there long before, and after some five years after the death of your first husband you married your second husband, you met him and married him in the same place that your first husband died at, in Kansas?

A Yes sir.

Q How far did this brother, Jim Landrum, live from you all this while?

A I was living on the river at my Aunt Winnies.

Q Did he know that you and your husband were living in Neosho falls? I don't know.

Q You saw him there about 15 years ago? A. I guess I saw him there then

Q How long did he stay there with you? A. Not long.

Q A month? A. Maybe a month or two months.

Q That was before your first husband's death? A. Afterwards I guess.

Q About how many years ago? A. I don't know exactly.

Q What is your best judgment as to the time that you saw your brother, the witness here, in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A. I don't know, about 10 years or 11 years.

Q Was your brother married up there, when you saw him there at Neosho Falls had he a wife with him? A If he has a wife with him I didn't see her.

Q Didn't he have some children born there? A. No sir.

Q But you saw him there? A. Yes sir.

Q Where did you bury your second husband? A There at Neosho Falls; took him up there, that was his request when he died and I did it.
(By Hastings of witness)

Q How do you reconcile your statement with that of your sister; you testified positively that you never saw her in Kansas after the war?

A Didn't I say I saw her 15 years ago up there?

(His former statement read over to him here)

(By Commission of applicant)

Q Where were you during the time between the death of your first husband and your marriage to your second husband—where did you stay when you were a widow? A On the river.

Q Were you there all the time? A. Off and on.

Q Off and on? A. Yes sir.

Q When you were not on the river, were you up in Kansas? A. No sir at my mothers, at Muskogee and at Fort Gibson.

Q But you were at Neosho Falls when you married the second time? A Yes sir.

By Com'r Breckinridge,—

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and one child; it appears that the applicant was a slave in the Cherokee Nation and of a Cherokee citizen at the beginning of the Civil war; that she was carried to the state of Kansas and she claims to have returned within the time required within the treaty of 1866. She is identified on the Kern Clifton roll, but not identified on the 1880 or 1886 rolls; she is 50 years of age; her deceased husband, to whom she was married at the beginning of the war, is not identified on the roll of 1880, but she states that she returned prior to the return of her husband, with her father and Simon Lynch, the former deceased and the latter now living, but not introduced in this case. Both the deceased father and Simon Lynch are identified on the roll of 1886. It seems highly probable that the applicant qualified under the treaty of 1866, but it seems also highly probable that her omissions from the rolls since that time, is due to her living at Neosho Falls, Kansas; her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner, and the applicant will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at her post office address. Of her children, she applies for Ethel Buckles, she is identified on the Kern Clifton roll, is living at this time, it is not identified on the roll of 1886; the rights of this child should be the same as those established for its mother, and the child will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A. Born and raised here.
Q Were you out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A. Yes sir.
Q What time did you get back here? A. In the fall of '66.
Q Are you on the roll of 1866? A. Yes sir.
Q Do you know this applicant here, Tyre H. Finley? A. I am not really acquainted with him.
Q Do you know his wife? A. Yes sir.
Q Is she a niece of yours? A. Yes sir.
Q Do you know that he and she are married? A. Yes sir.
Q Give me her maiden name? A. Eva Daniels.
Q Is she a daughter of your sister Gelia Kistner? A. Yes sir.
Q And of her first husband? A. Yes sir.
Q When did this man here marry your niece? A. Just before the war.
Q What war? A. The war that freed us.
Q You don't mean that this young man here married your niece before the Civil war do you? A. No sir, I thought you meant when did my sister marry Tom Daniels.
Q How long has this man sitting here been married to your niece Eva? A. I never found it out that they was married until about 3 or 4 years ago.
Q Have you known them ever since as husband and wife? A. Yes sir.
Q Where was your niece born? A. I suppose she was born in Kansas, I don't know exactly.
Q When was she born? A. I don't know exactly.
Q When did you first see your niece Eva? A. I seen her at Vinita.
Q How old was she then? A. I cannot tell just how old she was, right smart sized girl.
Q What do you know of her from that time up until now? Since you saw her the first time in Vinita? A. I cannot tell you, living in the nation I guess, I cannot tell you to tell the truth.
Q You must tell the truth, you are under oath? A. I am telling it.
Q Has she been living in the Cherokee Nation since she married this man? A. Yes sir.
Q But before that you don't know? A. No sir.
Q Are you a full brother of her mother Gelia? A. No sir.
Q Has your sister Gelia ever lived near you in the Cherokee Nation? A. Before the war.
Q I mean since the war? A. No sir.
Q Where do you live? A. In Lightning Creek.
Q Have you kept any run of your sister Gelia since the war? A. I seen her off and on.
Q Where has she made her home lately? A. In Vinita.
Q How long has she lived in Vinita? A. I don't know.
Q Where did she live before that? A. In Kansas.
Q Neosho Falls, Kansas? A. Yes sir.

- Q Did she and Tom Daniels go to Neosho Falls together? A. Yes sir.
Q Did they come down here together again? A. I left them there.
Q When was that? A. A while after the war, after peace.
Q When was it you saw her in Vinita, was that after Tom Daniels had died? A. Yes sir.
Q Was that after she had married Jerry Kitchener? A. I cannot tell you anything about that, I can't tell of her last marriage.
Q After Tom Daniels died, she came to Vinita did she? A. Yes sir.
Q Had she made her home before that in Kansas? A. I don't know if she had made a home there at that time because I was was down here and left them there, and I don't know what they did up there, I was down here.
Q I am talking of between the time when you left here there after the war, when you saw her in Kansas, and when you next saw her in Vinita after Tom Daniels had died? A. She was up there in Kansas until Tom died.
Q How do you know that? A. To the best of my knowledge, I left them there both together.
Q What do you know of them staying there after you left that there until he died? A. I don't know anything about it for certain, not all the time I don't.
Q Did you ever hear from your sister? A. Yes sir I got letters from her.
Q What was Tom doing there? A. Working there in a mill.
Q Did your sister ever come down here before Tom died? A. Yes sir.
Q On a visit? A. Yes sir.
Q Short visits? A. Yes sir.
Q She has several children? A. Yes sir.
Q Do you know where those children were born? A. No sir I don't know.
Q How far have you lived from where your mother lived since the war—your mother was Canada, wasn't it? A. No sir my mother was Peggy.
Q Then you are only a half sister of Golia? A. Yes sir that is what I told you before that I was not a full sister of hers.
Q Did she have her children there at Vinita? A. She had two.

By W. W. Hastings:

- Q Where did you last see your half sister Golia Daniels when you left Kansas immediately after the war? A. I saw her there on the river.
Q How long before you left there? A. Quite a while, not a great while either.
Q Did you see her in the summer before you left in the fall of '08?
A. No sir, in the winter as near as I can remember.
Q So far as you know, she and her husband Tom Daniels continued to live in Kansas at Neosho Falls until after his death? A. Yes sir.

By the Commission:

- Q Do you know anything about her coming back after a while to the Cherokee Nation with your father and her father George Landrum? A. That is when they first came, when I used her first was in '09 at George Landrum on the river.
Q At your father's place in the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.
Q She seems to have come down for a while at least with your father, and very soon after that Tom Daniels and went back to Kansas and then she followed him? A. I don't know if Tom came down here or not, but I understood from what my father told me that Golia had come down here with him and with Simon Lynch, she went back and gained her husband Tom Daniels about A. I guess so,

I don't know as Tom came at all, he might have.

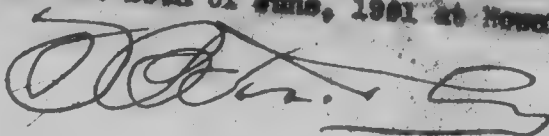

By Gen'r Breckinridge,--

This testimony will be filed in the application made for Eva L. Finley by her husband, and also a copy of this testimony will be filed in the case of Collis Kirkpatrick on Cherokee Freedmen

SUPPLEMENTAL Testimony in the matter of the application of Celia Kirkpatrick et al. C. F. D. 67B.

Appearances:

James S. Davenport for the Cherokee Nation
Hollotte & Smith for the applicants

C. R. Griffith being first duly sworn by Com'r T. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation
(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A C. R. Griffith.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q What is your age? A 29.

Q How long have you been living in Vinita? A I have been living here since the payment, before the payment, I forget just what year that was.

Q Did you ever live in Neosho Falls, Kansas? A Yes sir.

Q What year did you move to Neosho Falls Kansas? A I left there in '87.

Q When did you go there? A I went there in '78.

Q While you were living at Neosho Falls Kansas did you know a colored family by the name of Daniels? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know the man of that family? A Yes sir Tom.

Q Did you know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A Celia I think.

Q Do you know whether or not Tom Daniels is dead? A Yes sir he is dead.

Q Do you know if Celia married after his death? A Yes sir, I have heard she married, but I don't know anything about it.

Q Where was Tom and Celia Daniels living when you went to Neosho Falls, Kansas? A They were living about three quarters of a mile north of town across the Neosho river.

Q Did they afterwards live nearer town? A No sir.

Q You was a boy then? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know if Celia had any of her family, or her own family around there? A No sir I don't know any except the Daniel's family.

Q You haven't seen the applicant to-day? A No sir, not since I left Neosho Falls.

(By Hollotte)

Q Well Doctor, when do you remember of having first seen Celia Daniels? A Well it was shortly after ~~they had moved~~ we had moved to the town, I went over there to get a cow my father had bought of them.

Q Did you pay any particular attention to them after that? A I saw some of the children most ever day, they went to school there every day.

Q Did you know Celia personally? A Yes sir I saw her quite frequently.

Q Do you pretend to say that you saw them all the time from the time you got acquainted with them until you left? A No not all the time, shortly before I left there I think. I left late that fall and that summer I worked in the country and didn't see them then at all.

Q Was Celia here in this country any time that you were at Neosho Falls? A They kept house there all the time.

Q You don't know if she was here or not? A No sir I don't.

Q You left there in what year? A '87 or '88 I don't remember which.

Q Do you know where she was before you went there? A No sir.

Q Do you know if this is the woman, the one you are talking about, is the same woman who has made application here? A Yes sir.

Q How do you know? A I know her daughter that is here in town and it is her mother.

Q Do you know that this is the one? A I haven't seen this woman, but Finley the barber's wife is her daughter, she used to be her daughter and I guess she is yet.

Q You dont know where she was in '66? A No sir, that was before my time.

(By Davenport)

Q You knew Eva Finley there at Neosho Falls? A Yes sir.

Q She went to school there? A Yes sir.

Q Are you a freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know this applicant here, Celia Kirkpatrick? A Yes sir.

Q Did you know her before the war? A Yes sir.

Q Where did she live before the war?

BY MR. DAVENPORT: The Cherokee Nation objects to this testimony because it has never been questioned as to where she lived before the war.

(By Mellette of witness)

Q Do you know when she came back here after the war? A Yes sir.

Q What year? A In '66.

Q Where did she come to? A Come to Simon Lynch's cross Grand river with Jim Landrum.

Q Have you known her ever since she came back here in '66? A Yes sir, I dont know where she has been all the time, I saw her two or three times at Simon's.

Q Do you know where she has lived since that time? A No sir not exactly, I know she lived in Vinita a while.

Q When was she living here in Vinita? A Two or three years ago, I never paid much attention.

Q Do you know Tom Daniels, her first husband? A Yes sir.

Q Where were they married? A I disremember exactly where.

Q Did they live together in the Cherokee Nation, Tom Daniels and Celia? A I dont believe they did, I know they both went out from here together.

Q Were they married at that time? A I disremember if they was or not, I know when I come to them in Kansas they was married.

Q Was Tom Daniels a freedman? A Yes sir he was Simon Lynch's son.

Q Was he a citizen of this country? A He was before he went out.

Q He is dead now? A Yes sir.

Q Daniels was a recognized citizen of this country was he? A Yes sir belonged to Bob Daniels.

(By Davenport)

Q Is your father dead? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I was born here.
Q Lived here all your life? A No, I have not been here all my life but this has been my home.
Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Do you mean do I consider this as home, yes sir.
Q Have you ever been out of the Cherokee Nation? A Certainly.
Q Where have you been? A Washington, D. C., Colorado, Kansas, Mexico, I don't know where all. Before I was married I was travelling and would go and come when I felt like.
Q When is the first time you ever went out of the Cherokee Nation to stay any length of time? A I don't remember the first time.
Q Where did you go the first time you went out to stay any length of time? A Went to Kansas. That is the first place I went to that I remember.
Q Where? A Neosho Falls.
Q About when was that? A I don't know.
Q Was that after 1880, after the census takers came around?
A I don't remember.
Q How long did you stay in Kansas at that time? A Didn't stay very long at a time. I can't tell you now just how long I did stay.
Might have been two weeks or two months, or might have been three,
I don't remember now.
Q When did your father die? A In 1889.
Q Was he living in the Cherokee Nation when he died? A No sir.
Q Where did he die? A Neosho Falls, Kansas.
Q Was your mother living in Kansas at that time? A No, they were not living there, he was in poor health, and went up there on account of his health, and while he was there he died of consumption.
Q How long had he been living there before he died?
A I don't know.
Q Did your mother stay up there then for a while? A No, she came down here. He died in February, and we came in April.
Q Where did you come to? A To Vinita, and then out on the river.
We was here about three days before we got a chance to go out on the river.
Q What river? A Grand river.
Q What nation? A Cherokee Nation.
Q What point on Grand River? A Lynch's Prairie.
Q How long did you stay there then? A Stayed there until we moved to town here in Vinita.

Q How long was that? A I don't know, I think it was - I don't know whether it was a year or how long it was, I don't remember. Never kept track of things, because I never thought I would have to give an account of it.

Q How long have you lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation without going out? A Going on six years. It will be six years in March. I haven't been any further out except to go to Chetopa and back, stayed there two weeks.

Q For the past six years you resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation? A It will be six years in March.

Q Where did you live the year before you were married? A I wasn't to say living any place. I was traveling. It wasn't a year, either, because I was back and forth here.

Q Was your mother living here the year before you were married?

A Yes sir.

Q For how long before you were married had your mother lived here in the Cherokee Nation? A She hadn't been out since father died.

Q Since 1889 your mother lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes sir, she was right here, and before then she was back and forth.

Q Did you always make your home with your mother until you were married? A Yes sir.

Q What is your husband's name? A Finley.

Q He has always lived with you in the Cherokee Nation since you were married? A Yes sir.

Q Are your children both alive? A Yes sir.

Q What are their names? A Haydel and Frank.

Q They have lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since they were born?

A Yes sir, born here.

MR. BELL: Where were you born at? A Out on Grand River some place/

Q You don't know? A No sir, I don't, just what place.

Q Where were you living when you can first recollect? A Right near the lake out there on Lynch's Prairie, they call it, Lynch's Lake, I guess.

Q Who lived around there? A My grandmother and my grandfather, Simon Lynch, and my aunt.

Q Your grandmother, who was that? A Her name was Cassie Landrum.

Q Go on, who else? A Lewis Lynch, that's my uncle.

Q Simon Lynch, did you say? A Simon Lynch, my grandpa., and my grandpa George. Of course I don't remember him.

Q How old did you say you was? A Twenty-eight.

Q You don't have any recollection then of living up in Kansas with your mother? A I said I was up there, yes, at Neosho Falls.

Q She was up there? A Yes sir, mother is supposed to take the children wherever she goes.

Q When did your mother take you up there? A I don't remember.

Q How old was you? A I don't remember that.

Q About how big was you? A I don't know, old enough to go to school.

Q How long did you stay there? A I can't say.

Q Didn't you go there and go to school? A Might have been a year and might have been longer. I went to school there, and in several places.

Q You might have stayed there a year and longer? A Might have been, and maybe longer.

Q Wasn't it four or five years? A No, it wasn't that long.

Q You are ready to swear it wasn't five years? A I don't think it was. I said I wasn't positive how long I stayed.

Q How long did your mother stay up there? A Couldn't say.

Q Was your mother living down here, and your father, by old Simon Lynch's? A I was born out here some place.

Q Was your mother living out here at Simon Lynch's? A Yes, that was their home. Her father and my father's father lived out there.

Q Who was your father's father? A Simon Lynch.

Q How did you get the name of Kirkpatrick? A That was her second husband's name.

Q Kirkpatrick wasn't your father? A No sir, my name was Eva Daniels.

Q Who was your father? A Thomas Daniels.

Q What has become of Tom? A He is dead.

Q Can you tell about how long you stayed there in Kansas, you was going to school? A I said I couldn't, and what I said I mean.

Q You are going to stick to it? A Yes sir.

Q You were going to school? A Yes sir, I said I was going to school there.. Of course I didn't go to school there continuously. I went to school other places.

Q How long did you go to school at this place? A I don't know.

Q How many other places? A I don't know. I went to school most every place where I stayed, I travelled around.

Q You don't have any recollection at all about how long? A No, because I didn't keep account. Wherever I was at I went to school.

Q How old was you when you come back? A I don't know, of course

Q You know when you returned here? A I wasn't here steady until since I married. That has been going on six years, and then I have been here steady ever since.

Q I want to know where you was the other twenty-two years?

A I was here and there, in Colorado sometimes, Kansas sometimes, Washington sometimes, Mexico sometimes, wherever I wanted to go. I always had passes and lots of money.

Q Did you ever have any acquaintance at Neosho Falls? A Yessir, of course.

Q Did you ever know man by the name of Ephraim Beardon.

A Yes sir, of course there wasn't but a few colored people there, and I was supposed to know them all.

Q Did you ever know a white man there by the name of Griffith?

A Yes sir, he is here in Vinita.

Q You see him there? A Of course I seen him.

Q You didn't go to school with him? A No sir, of course I wasn't school age when he was attending school there.

Q Your mother was there and she knew him too, didn't she?

A There was an accident occurred there, how I come to remember the Griffiths, I always remember that.

Q I just want to know if you knew him? A I know him.

Q Where did you marry your husband? A Here in Vinita.

Q Six years ago? A Going on six years, yes sir.

Q Up to that time, until 1896 sometime, or '97, you never had a permanent residence here? A This was my home.

Q You didn't have any farm, house, or place to live at, you just worked about, went about? A Yes sir, I worked about.

Q Most of the time you was in Kansas? A No.

Q Where did you stay, commence and tell? A We stayed sometimes in Topeka, sometimes in Denver, Colorado, sometimes in Washington, D. C., sometimes in Mexico.

Q What I want to know is, neither one of the places you mention is in the Cherokee Nation? A That's what I say. Whenever I got ready to come, on Christmas or anything, I would come here.

Q You put in your Christmas and Thanksgiving coming here?

A Whenever I could come I always did.

Q Name one place you stayed twelve months out in this Nation?

A Out on Grand River.

Q Who with? A With different people, first one then another.

Q I am trying to find out if you stayed a year at one place?

A Out on Grand River.

— 9498 —

Q It wasn't on the river? A On the side.

Q Who with? A Simon Lynch.

Q Did you stay at any one place A No, I never stayed at any one house for twelve months. I would have to be sick if I stayed that long, because I couldn't be still that long.

Q Is he dead? A Yes, sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A About 15 years.
Q Give me the name of her mother? A Katie Hicks.
Q Is she dead? A No, sir.
Q Did you get out a Cherokee license when you married this woman?
A Later on I did; a preacher married us in the first place.
Q Have you that license? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: The applicant presents a license issued by the Clerk of Cooweescoowee District, December 18, 1893, as well as it can be made out, authorizing marriage between himself and Mrs. Mary Hicks, nee Hicks. The certificate shows that they were united in marriage on the 23rd day of December, 1892, by the Rev. A. W. Lewis, and it is endorsed as having been recorded on the 23rd day of December, 1892. This is filed here by J. H. Vannoy, Cherokee attorney. The representatives of the Cherokee Nation present protest against the introduction of the marriage certificate, dated 1892, page 225, of the Compiled laws of the Cherokee Nation of 1892.

Commissioner: The protest will be considered in the final determination of the case.
Q How give me the name of your second wife? A My name is Bettie Holt.
Q Is she living now? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you lived with her? A Since 1892.

- Q How old is your present wife? A She is 56 years old.
- Q When were you and she married? A About 2 years ago.
- Q Have you a certificate of marriage? A I have at this Court down here, I haven't it with me, it is down at the house.
- Q You claim that Bettie Volt is a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long has she lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you how long, all her life though pretty near I suppose.
- Q Give me the name of her father? A I don't know him, sir.
- Q Give me the name of her mother? A Her name is Easter Hill.
- Q Is she alive? A Yes, sir.
- Q Has this wife ever married before she married you? A Why I think so, I don't know.
- Q Give me the names of these children, begin with the oldest; these five children.
- Q Commence at Leroy Hicks.
- Q How old is that child? A He is about 19 years old.
- Q What is the next child? A Dennis Hicks, Jr.
- Q How old is Dennis? A Dennis is about 17, going on 18 I believe he is.
- Q Give me the name of the next child? A The next one is Delena Hicks.
- Q How old is that child? A She is about, I think she is at 14 years old.
- Q Give me the name of the next child? A Label Hicks.
- Q How old is that child? A She is about 12.
- Q The next child? A Elmer.
- Q How old is that child? A Nine, going on 10.
- Q Are these children all living now? A Yes, sir, all at home.
- Q Are these children of your first wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q Are you on any roll of the Cherokee Nation? A He myself, no sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined, and the applicant Dennis Hicks, nor Mary, his first wife, not identified on said roll.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and applicants not identified thereon.

- Q Did your wife ever draw Cherokee strip money? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you draw Cherokee strip money? A Yes for these children?
- A Yes, sir; no, sir, they didn't give her this last money; the children did.

The Kerns-Clifton roll examined, and the applicants identified thereon as follows:

Dennis Hicks not on said roll.

Mary Hicks not on said roll.

Leroy Hicks on page 120 No. 2676, Delaware District;

Dennis Hicks, Jr., on page 120, No. 2977, Delaware district;

as Dennis Hicks.

Delena Hicks on page 120, No. 2978, Delaware District as Delaney Hicks.

Elmer Hicks on page 120, No. 3480, Delaware district.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined, and the name of Bettie Hicks not identified thereon.

The Kerns-Clifton roll examined, and the applicant Bettie Hicks identified thereon, page 123, No. 4035, Coconawawee district, as Bettie Volt.

Consideration: That I wish to know particularly to know at this point in the case of the applicant's first wife, whereby brings whatever claim he may have as an intermarried man and the claim of his said children.

I want to know what the applicant says to that effect. That is what I want to know what the applicant says to that effect.

Q Who was her mother? A Fattie Ridge.
 Q Who was her father? A Henry Ridge.
 Q Did she have any sisters or brothers? A Yes, sir.
 Q Who were her sisters and brothers? A Cornelius Ridge, Phoebe Ridge, and Jesse Ridge, he is dead though.

Q Do you know Fattie Ridge yourself? A Yes, sir.
 Q How long have you known her? A I knowed her first in time of the war.

Q Where does Fattie Ridge live now? A She lives on the river.
 Q What river? A Grand river.

Q How far from Vinita? A About 25 miles or so.

Q Has she been here during the sitting of the Commission at this place? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether she made an application for the enrollment of herself or not? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you and your wife live together here in the Cherokee Nation? A We lived together about 29 years in all; no, we lived together, been 29 years since we married; it is about 29 or '7 years.

Q Was that up to the time of her death? A Yes, sir, up to the time she died.

Q Where did she die? A Here in Vinita; I don't know just exactly how many years.

Q You yourself don't know where your wife was during the war or in 1866? A Why she was during the war at Springfield.

Q Do you know of your own personal knowledge when she came back? A They came back right after the war; they left the place where they were and said they were coming to the Nation, that is all I know about it.

Q What place was that? A Springfield, but in the country about four miles from Springfield; we lived right on the same house; we lived in that house about a year together.

Q What was it they said that, then did they leave and tell you they were coming back? A The year after they brought corn in down here to sell for the Indians, my father-in-law was hauling corn down here to sell for them, and the next fall they moved, said they were coming to the Nation.

Commissioner: That was Springfield, Missouri? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Smith: Are you able to state what year that was in? A That was the year the war closed they hauled the corn in, and the next fall they moved.

Q And said they were coming to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I didn't see them for a good while after that.

Q And when did you next see her? A When I came here in 1872, or I first met them again in Joplin, that is before I came down here, and I married down here in 1872.

Q Where did you marry? A Down here on Grand River.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since that time?

A No, sir, I haven't. I went backwards and forwards to Joplin, I took my family up there and they were up there about two months, came to visit me, I was a blacksmith and I had to work out for a living.

Q And you were there about how long? A The year there about 14 months, I was there about 14 months.

Q Is there any one here who knows the year Fattie's mother was?

A Yes, sir, we have present.

Q Well we want to see all of them who know the year Fattie's mother was? A I don't know any more and I don't know any more.

Mr. J. B. Smith: Commission Attorney: Now I want to know you lived down here in the Cherokee Nation?

A I lived down here in the Cherokee Nation, I lived about 29 years in all, the last of the time I was down here, all the time, I was a blacksmith and I had to work out for a living.

Q That was the year the war closed they hauled the corn in, and the next fall they moved, said they were coming to the Nation.

there is where I worked.

Commissioner: What was your wife doing up at Joplin at that time?

A They lived up there a little while, they were living up there.

Q How far is Joplin from Springfield? A It is 75 or 80 miles.

Q How long had you been there when you met them at Joplin? A No, they were there when I went there, there was a great boom there and I went down there.

Q In what year was it you moved? A That was in '72.

Mr. Davenport: You say they were living there when you moved over there? A Yes, sir, they hadn't been there long, though.

Q How long did they stay there after you met them? A They came right away that fall, I went down in the spring and they came away that fall.

Q How do you know that? A They said they hadn't, I don't know anything about it.

Q Mr. Smith: You stated I believe, when they left Springfield the first time they stated they were coming to the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: The next time you saw them after they left Springfield you said they were coming to the Cherokee Nation, was at Joplin, Missouri? A Yes, sir, that was a good while after they left Springfield.

Q They left Springfield and said they were coming to the Cherokee Nation, but the next time you saw them was in Joplin, Missouri, and in the same state of Missouri? A Yes, sir.

Any Bean, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give your name? A Any Bean.

Q How old are you? A 45.

Q What is your post-office? A Vinita.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Mr. Smith: Do you know Dennis Hicks, the applicant in this case?

A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, I really don't know, I guess about 27 or 28 years ago I first got acquainted with him.

Q Did you know his first wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Mary Hicks.

Q What was her name before she married him? A Ridge.

Q Who was her mother? A Kate Ridge.

Q Where does Kate Ridge live now? A She lives on yonder side of Grand river.

Q What post office? A Spavinaw I think that is her post office name.

Q Do you know whether she is the same Kate Ridge who applied here the other day for enrollment? A Yes, sir, she is the same one applied up at the other table.

Mr. Smith: I will just ask to have the copies of the testimony in the Ridge case filed with this case.

Fred Martin, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your name? A Fred Martin.

Q How old are you? A 43.

Q What is your post-office? A Spavinaw.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Q Do you know Dennis Hicks, the applicant in this case?

A Yes, sir.

Q What is her name? A Dennis Hicks, he was Dennis Holt before he married her.

Q How long has he been married to her? A I don't know just exactly how long he has been married, but I know he is married.

Q Do you know what his present name is?

A Yes, sir.

Q They are recognized in the community as husband and wife?
A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known her? A Well, I don't know, I have known her a long time.
Q Was she ever married before she married this man? A I don't know.
Q Has she any children? A She has one to my personal knowledge.
Q But you don't know whether she has ever been married or not?
A No, sir I don't know whether she has ever married.
Q Have you ever known her to live with another man as husband and wife? A No, sir, except Dennis.

Dennis Hicks, recalled, testified:

Mr. Smith: Dennis, your present wife claims to be entitled to be enrolled upon the freedman roll in her own right? A Yes, sir.
Q What proof does she depend upon in her case? A That proof present this evening or not? A I don't know that it is, I think they are out west somewhere.
Q She will have to get that proof and make it in addition to the proof in your case, and it will all be one case then.

Commissioner: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and five minor children. The applicant is shown by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith to have been married in accordance with the Cherokee laws to his first wife, now deceased, one Mary Hicks, in 1892, they having previously been married according to the testimony under United States law. The applicant is a colored man and he claims as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage. He states that neither he or his first wife were ever previously married. He is not upon any roll, and his first wife is not upon the roll of 1830 or upon that of 1896, or upon the Kerns-Clifton roll.
Q How old was your wife, Mary Hicks, when she died? A She was about 42.

The Wallace roll examined, and Mary Hicks identified thereon, page 118, No. 2485, Coconawapowee district.

She is identified on the Wallace roll. Reference is made to the testimony as to her status, and also to the case of her mother, Bettie Hicks, Cherokee Freedman Doubtful card D 295 and the applicant will now be listed on a doubtful card as a Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage.

His present wife, for whom he makes application, Bettie Hicks, is identified on the Kerns-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1830 or 1896. But little testimony has so far been taken in her case, and to await further identification of the status of this woman, she will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card. The applicant's marriage to his second wife will also enter into his own status as far as he may possess a right by intermarriage, and it has been established by satisfactory testimony, but it is not entirely clear whether she was previously married or not, so far as it may affect his rights.

As for the five children named in the testimony, they are all five identified on the Kerns-Clifton roll. These are the applicant's children by his first wife, Mary Hicks. They are living and to await the determination of her status, and for the further consideration of their case, they will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen on a doubtful card. The final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at his post office address.

Mr. Smith: Do you know whether your present wife was ever married before she married you? A I don't know, sir.

 Q Do you know how long that was before the war? A No, sir, I don't.
 Q When did you see this applicant, Bettie, in the Cherokee Nation after the war closed? A I saw her in Fort Gibson.
 Q When was that? A That was when the Refugees was arriving, I was in there cooking for the refugees, and for the Commissary clerk.
 Q What were the Refugees doing? A They was issuing rations and the clerk was issuing rations to them and I was cook for him.
 Q And you mean the people that had gone out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir, that was all getting back to their homes.
 Q Had you been out or remain in the Nation? A I remained in the Nation; I just went out on Pryor Town and come back before peace was made.
 Q Are you yourself a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir; I am nothing else, I am half Cherokee and Freed as too.
 Q Are you a recognized citizen? A Yes, sir.
 Q On the 1890 roll? A Yes, sir, always has been.
 Q Can you state what year it was that they were issuing those rations? A No, sir, I can't exactly state, it was just after peace was made and they ordered them all to come in.
 Q When you saw her? A Yes, sir.
 Q How long did they issue those rations and keep that up as well as you remember? A I don't know exactly how long; they stopped and began; I could not tell how long I cooked about two years right along there.
 Q Right soon after peace was declared? A Yes, sir, right after peace was declared.
 Q Was she a young woman then? A Yes, sir.
 Q How you saw her over one time before the war when her Mistress came up to your Mistress' house? A Yes, sir.
 Q What was she doing up there? A She was waiting on her.
 Q How many girls would she usually come with her? A She sometimes would have two.
 Q How many sisters did she have up there? A One.
 Q Did you testify in the Saline Miller case yesterday? A Yes, sir.
 Q How when you testified in that case yesterday, didn't you testify that Saline Miller was with Mrs. Holt when she visited your sister, Mary Gibson at the waiting girl for Mrs. Holt? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did you testify that she was with her, now you saw her, didn't you bring her to the court? A Yes, sir, she sometimes bring her to the court.
 Q Did she come here that she visited when she visited Mary Gibson?

Q Well when you spoke of Mrs. Holt having brought Nellie up there as her waiting girl was that the same trip you are talking about now? A No, sir; they come up several times, come on the steam boat named Pilot.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q The same quite often to visit Mrs. Winfrey? A Several times, we were down there several times.

Q She carried her with her? A No, sir, not every time.

Q Then you have been down there and seen her? A Yes, sir; I have been to Mrs. Holt's that is right.

Q And well, a third in First District didn't they? A The Folts are talking about lived at that place.

Q You don't know whether they had ever lived up in First district?

A No, sir.

JOSHUA HOLT:—Joshua Holt applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Jane, his two stepchildren, Laura and Ella Benson, and his two four children, Jessie, Willard, Clifford and Maudie Holt. He cannot be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880 or census roll of 1890, upon examination; neither can his wife. He is identified as well as his wife on the Kern-Clifton and Wallace rolls according to the page and number of the rolls as indicated in the testimony, and his older stepchild, Laura, is identified upon the Wallace roll and Kern-Clifton roll. His remaining stepchild and his four children, Jessie, Willard, Clifford and Maudie, are not identified upon said rolls, having been born after said roll was compiled. He avers that he is a child of Esther Holt, and that his wife is the daughter of Anderson and Dinah Johnson. He avers that Dinah Johnson was a slave of a citizen of the State of Arkansas, and that Anderson Johnson was a slave of a Cherokee citizen. He also avers that Anderson Johnson, father of his wife, was a United States soldier and returned to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866, where his wife, Jane, was born. Anderson Johnson being a Cherokee slave and his wife, Dinah being a slave of a citizen of the State of Arkansas, it will be necessary to make satisfactory proof of the marriage between the said Anderson Johnson and the said Dinah Johnson in order to establish the citizenship of his wife, Jane; and it will also be necessary for satisfactory proof of marriage to be made between Joshua Holt and his wife, Jane, in order to establish the citizenship of his children, in case the citizenship and marriage of Jane's mother is not fully proven. By reason of the facts as set forth in the testimony, said Joshua Holt, his wife, Jane, and his two stepchildren, Laura and Ella Benson, and his four children, to-wit: Jessie, Willard, Clifford and Maudie, will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen upon a doubtful card. The fact that his two children's Clifford and Maudie, names do not appear upon any rolls of the Cherokee Nation it will be necessary for him to file satisfactory proof of birth as to said children.

J. J. Rosson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q When did he come to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A With us in our wagon.
Q When? A Long in the summer of '66.
Q Was he married then? A He was not.
Q When did you first become acquainted with his wife? A In Kansas.

Q When did you first see her in the Cherokee Nation? A I don't know exactly, several years after we came down here that I saw her down here.

Q Where do you live? A On Big Creek.

Q How far did you live from where Anderson Johnson was killed? A About 5 miles.

Q Did they have any children, Anderson and Dinah? A They had several.

Q Any girls? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know the name of the eldest girl? A I don't know if I do or not.

Q What are the names of those you remember? A Mary, I don't know much about the girls.

Q Do you know if any of these children are married? A One is married to Josh Holt.

Q Where does she live? A In Virginia.

Q How long did Anderson and Dinah live together? A From the time they married until he was killed, I don't know exactly the number of years.

Q How long since he was killed? A I think about 10 years.

Q Do you know when they married, Anderson and Dinah? A I don't know the exact date, it was somewhere about 5 or 6 years after he came here.

Q Did you see them married? A No, sir, but I know they occupied a house and kept house there and lived together as man and wife.

Q How were they recognized by the neighbors there? A As man and wife.

Q Do you know what these children of theirs were born? A No, sir.

Q Were they born while they were living together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they born? A On Big Creek, where they were lived.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember which one of the girls, Josh Holt married? A No, sir, I don't believe I remember her name.

Q Do you know whether she is the eldest child or not? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Do you know whether she was born? A Yes, sir, not exactly, but to my best judgment she was all born in the Cherokee Nation on Big Creek.

By Hastings: With whom did Anderson Johnson first live when he came down here? A Where I live.

Q You all first came down in August and then went back? A Yes, sir.

Q You say Anderson wasn't married then? A No, sir.

Q His wife was up in Kansas then? A No, wasn't his wife at that time.

Q The woman that he afterwards married was in Kansas then? A Yes, sir.

Q He afterwards went up there and married her? A Yes, sir, and then brought her back with him.

Q Did you know his wife before she married him? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did she live? A Where in Fort Scott.

Q And your recollection is that some 4 or 5 years after you all came down that she came down as Anderson Johnson's wife? A Yes, sir.

That, you will, being sworn stated that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cases, and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

SAM WEBBER, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows: By Mr. Brown:

- Q What is your name? A Sam Webber.
- Q Mr. Webber, do you know Anderson Johnson and Dinah Johnson, the mother and father of this applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q You know whether they were ever married or not? A I couldn't tell you about the wedding, they were living together as man and wife.
- Q So recognized by the community? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were they living together as man and wife at the time this applicant was born? A Yes, sir.
- Q You know this girl's sister, Mary Johnson? A Yes, sir.
- Q At the time she was born were they living together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you testify for Jane Holt in the Joshua Holt case? A I did 5 years ago, I didn't this time.
- Q You testified a while ago in the Mary Johnson case? A Yes, sir.
- Q You didn't say anything about their marriage then? A No one asked me; I didn't have no right to unless they asked me.
- Q When did you first see Anderson Johnson and the mother of this girl living together as husband and wife? A They come and settled down there; he married her somewhere and brought her there, I don't know where he married her.
- Q When was it? A I don't believe I can tell you just when that was.
- Q How long after the war was it? A I couldn't tell you that and be positive in it.
- Q Was Anderson Johnson married when he first came there? A No, sir, he was a single man.
- Q It was sometime after that when he married? A Yes, sir.
- Q Had he been married up to that time? A Up to what time?
- Q Up to the time he first came up there after the war in '66 as you testified a while ago? A He was single when he come down.

Q You don't remember how long after that when you saw him living with this woman? A No, sir. I couldn't say positive, but they was living together as man and wife on the creek there when he got killed, and had been for several years.

Q You remember just what year he got killed? A No, sir.

Q You don't remember just about how long after he come down there? A No, sir.

Q The circumstance of his getting killed is as great as the circumstance of your first seeing him after the war? A I don't know, it might be greater for all I know, but I never paid no particular attention.

Q About what is the first date that you are willing to swear that you saw them living together as husband and wife? A I tell you I never paid no attention to it, so many people married, I can't keep the dates of all of them, of no course I didn't rrry.

Q I am not asking you, Mr. Webber, the exact date, but how long ago, how many years ago you are willing to testify you saw them living together? A I don't know, I couldn't be positive about that.

Q Did they have any children when you first saw them living together as husband and wife? A When I first saw them they didn't have no

Q Do you have any idea how old this woman is (indicating applicant)? A No, sir, not exactly.

By Court Needles: Well, Mr. Webber, how long did they live together as husband and wife according to your best recollection, your knowledge? A I declare I couldn't answer that correct.

Q Did they raise a family there? A Raised them right there on the creek, three children.

Q While they were living together as man and wife they raised a family? A Yes, sir.

By Mr. Hastings: You don't know where he got the woman? A No, sir, I couldn't tell you.

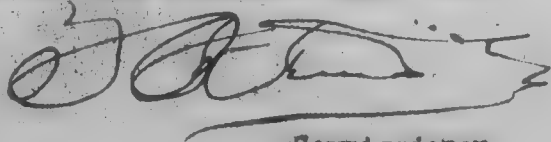

Q How far did they live from you? A About 10 miles I guess, as near as I can guess at it.

Q Did you get your strip money? A Yes sir.

The Kerns Clifton roll of the Cherokee Nation examined and the name of the applicant identified thereon as follows:
Page 156, No. 1363, Katie Ridge, Cooweescoowee District.

By Com'r Needles,-

Katie Ridge applies for herself; she is not found on the authenticated roll of 1880 or the census roll of 1896 but she is identified on the Kerns Clifton roll; she makes satisfactory proof as to her residence and will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a full card for the reason that her name is not found on the authenticated roll of 1880 and from the further fact that her citizenship is contested by the Cherokee representatives. When the Commission arrive at a conclusion in her case she will be notified by mail.

Applicant present.

Cherokee Nation present, by its attorneys.

ANDERSON LYNCH, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Vinita, testified as follows:

Q Your name is Anderson Lynch? A Yes, sir.

Q How old are you? A About 64.

Q What is your post-office address? A Vinita.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q You know Katie Ridge? A I didn't know her when I first saw her.
When I first saw they they were up there on Honey Creek and someone said that was the Ridge.

Q What year was that? A That was along in the fall of '66, I think it was.

Q How many her in the fall of 1866 then? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you known her since that time? A Yes, sir, after they came down here, I got acquainted with them, he said it was some of the Ridges that was up there on Honey Creek.

Q Do you know the Katie Ridge, the applicant here, as the same woman you saw on Honey Creek in the fall of 1866? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether she was a slave or not? A No, sir, I don't know all the Ridges, all I know about them is what Simon was telling me.

Q Simon who? A Simon Lynch.

Q Did you know them before the war? A No, sir, he knew them.

By E. B. Bell, Cherokee Attorney: Where were you going in '66?

A Going up to Southwest City.

Q How far is South West City from where they were living? A I don't know, sir, I never noticed; the first time I ever had been there, and I just went along with Simon.

Q About what time of the year was it? A It was long in the fall like.

Q Can you recollect, early or late? A It was early, it wasn't so cold, I don't know we slept out, we were going up there.

Q You don't recall at that time how far it was from where they lived to Southwest? A No, sir, I suppose Simon knows, he was acquainted up there and I wasn't.

Q You went on from there to Southwest City did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now where was Southwest City, in the Cherokee Nation or Missouri?
A It was in Missouri or Arkansas, I don't know which, it was across the line.

- Q State your name? A Polly Hivens.
Q Where do you live? A Fort Gibson.

- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
- Q Do you know Bettie Hicks, this applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long have you known her? A I know her just a while before the war.
- Q Was she a slave? A Yes, sir.
- Q Whom did she belong to? A Old lady Holt I suppose.
- Q Was Mrs. Holt a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where did she live before the war? A She lived at Webbers Falls on this side of the river.
- Q Where was this applicant, Bettie Hicks, at the time the war commenced, do you know? A I don't know, sir.
- Q How long before the war had you seen her there at Holt's? A It was a good little while before the war; when the steam boats was running she was coming up to my Mistress' on a visit.
- Q Do you know how long that was before the war? A No, sir, I don't.
- Q When did you see this applicant, Bettie in the Cherokee Nation after the war closed? A I saw her in Fort Gibson.
- Q When was that? A That was when the Refugees was drawing; I was in there cooking for the refugees, cook for the Commissary Clerk.
- Q What was the Refugees doing? A They was issuing rations and the Clerk was issuing rations to them and I was cook for him.
- Q And you mean the people that had gone out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir, that was all getting back to their homes.
- Q Had you been out or remain in the Nation? A I remained in the Nation; I just went out on Briar Town and come back before peace was made.
- Q Are you yourself a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir; I am nothing else, I am half Cherokee and Freedman too.
- Q Are you a recognized citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q On the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir, always has been.
- Q Can you state what year it was that they were issuing those rations? A No, sir, I can't exactly state, it was just after peace was made and they ordered them all to come in.
- Q When you saw her? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long did they issue these rations and keep that up as well as you remember? A I don't know exactly how long; they stopped and begin; I could not tell how long I cooked about two years right along there.
- Q Right soon after peace was declared? A Yes, sir, right after peace was declared.
- By Mr. Davenport: Was she a grown young woman then? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, you saw her owner one time before the war when her Mistress came up to your Mistress' house? A Yes, sir.
- Q What was she doing up there? A She was waiting on her.
- Q How many girls would she usually carry with her? A She sometimes would have one.
- Q How many waiters did she have up there? A One.
- Q Didn't you testify in the Gallie Miller case yesterday? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now when you testified in that case yesterday, didn't you testify that Gallie Miller was with Mrs. Holt when she visited your Mistress at Fort Gibson as a waiting girl for Mrs. Holt? A Yes, sir, that is right.
- By Mr. Smith: Did Mrs. Holt, what do you mean by that, now you saw Mrs. Holt brought Gallie up there? A Sometimes bring Gallie and sometimes bring Bettie.
- Q Did she make more than one visit? A Yes, sir, she visited more than once.
- Q Well when you spoke of Mrs. Holt having brought Gallie up there as her waiting girl was that the one trip you are talking about now? A No, sir; they came up several times, come on the steam boat named Pilot.

By Mr. ~~Wendert~~: They came quite often to visit Mrs. Hivens? A Several times, we went down there several times.
Q She carried you with her? A No, sir, not ever time.
Q Then you have been down there and seen her? A Yes, sir, I have been to Mrs. Holt's that is right.
Q And Holt's lived in Flint District didn't they?
A The Holts I am talking about lived at the falls.
Q You don't know whether they had ever lived up in Flint District?
A No, sir.

HARRY STILL, being sworn and examined by testified as follows: Mr. Smith:

Q State your name? A Harry Still.

Q Do you know whom she belonged to? A Belonged to Bill Holt.
Q Was he a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q When did you first see this applicant, Bettie Hicks in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A About '78 I believe.
Q Where was that? A Vinita.
Q Have you known her or rather have you known anything of her whereabouts since that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you seen her often or a few times? A Often from the time I come to Vinita.

By Mr. ~~Wendert~~: Where was Bill Holt living when you knew this woman at his place? A His home was, Bill Holt was down here on the Arkansas, where I saw this woman.
Q What part of the Arkansas? A George Whitmire had a cattle ranch there and that is the first time I saw this woman, in Canadian district, I reckon.
Q Near what point that you can name? A It was not far from the old ranch there.
Q I don't know where the Whitmire Ranch was? A It was on the Arkansas river there, I know I saw Bettie distinctly.
Q On what side of the Arkansas did you see this Bettie as a slave of Bill Holt? A I don't know which side, I think it was on the other side.
Q You were there at his place wasn't you? A No, sir, he was at our place.
Q Did he have all his darkies down there? A He didn't have all of them I saw Bettie.
Q Where was Bettie when you saw her? A I don't know.
Q How old was she when the war broke out? A She was brown woman, grown woman? A Looked like to me.
Q And you don't know where it was you saw her? A I don't know; I knew distinctly I saw her when I went to Kansas.
Q How many sisters had Bettie? A She had Sallie.
Q Which is the older Sallie or Bettie? A I don't know, I think Sallie is the oldest.
Q And you don't know which side of the river Bill Holt's place was on? A No, sir.
Q Which side of the river was Whitmire's ranch? A On the North side.
Q And Vian Creek? A On this side I reckon.
Q And on which side of the river was Bill Whitmire's ranch on?
A On the west side, towards Fort Smith.

In the matter of the application of Kate Ridge for enrollment
as a Cherokee Freedman.

TESTIMONY ON THE PART OF CHEROKEE NATION.

Appearance:

Mr. McCreese, of Hollister & Smith, attorneys for Kate Ridge;
Mr. L. B. Bell, of attorneys for Cherokee Nation; and Mr. W. W. Hastings, of attorneys for Cherokee Nation.
W. H. WOOD, being sworn by Commissioner Hastings, testified as follows:

BY MR. BELL:

- Q What is your name? A W. H. Wood.
Q What is your age? A 43.
Q Post-office address? A Zenith, I. T.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Were you living here when the war began? A Yes sir.
Q Where did you go? A Into the Cherokee Nation.
Q For when did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the close of the war? A In '86.
Q Where did you come to? A Came to a place known as the Polston place, on the south-west part of Pease's Prairie, Delaware District,
Cherokee Nation.
Q How far was that from where the Pease's place, around Honey Creek? A About a mile and a half.
Q When did you move onto to that place? A Moved on that place in the fall of '86, I don't remember the month exactly.
Q Well did you live there when the war began, or how come you to go on that place? A We lived on Whitewater in the Cherokee Nation.
Q How came you to go on that Polston place? A I bought it from Dr. Polston, my father-in-law.
Q How old were you at that time? A I guess I was about 14 years old.
Q Was there any town there at that time, near there? A No sir, there was no town, there was a little post-office and store over near the line that they called Honey Creek.
Q How long did you live there on that place? A We lived there about 2 years.
Q Then what did you do with it? A Sold it back to Dr. Polston.
Q And you left? A Yes sir.
Q Well now you went there in the fall of 1888 and you stayed there then? A Until the fall of 1888.
Q During the year of 1866, that is to say, the winter of 1866, were there any freedmen living on that place? A No sir.
Q Were you acquainted with one Kate Ridge a Freedman? A No sir.
Q Cornelius Ridge? A No sir.
Q No parties of that sort lived down on that farm? A No sir.
Q Are you acquainted with white known as the old Washburn place at that time? A Yes sir.
Q Was there any freedmen living at that place at that time? A No
sir.
Q How far is that from the Polston place? A About a mile and a half north and west.
Q Well now south and east of that place for a mile and a half around about that Polston place was there any other houses? A No sir, nothing but hills and hollows, no improvements whatever for or a mile.
Q What did Dr. Polston do with that place after you returned at that time or did he want? A He sold that place to the place where he went at

Katie Ridge et al (sup'2) 2 in '68.

Q Where did he move from to that place? A He moved from Mayesville, Arkansas.

Q Where was he living during the year of 1867 after you bought that place from him? A He was living, I think possibly he moved out part of his family to Mayesville and part of them was in Fayetteville in the early part of '67, and in the winter of '67 they all moved there to Mayesville and lived there until he bought this place.

Q Now do you know anything about where Dr. Polston was in the early part of '66, or where he came from when you saw him and your father bought the place? A He came from Arkansas.

Q He was a white man was he? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know when the, - No, I don't guess you do either, you never did get acquainted with Katie Ridge did you? A Never have seen her that I know of.

Q There never was any Freedmen on that place from '66 after you bought it? A No sir, there wasn't, but one house and we had it.

Q After that was there any Freedmen lived on the Washburn place that you know of? A Not that I had a knowledge of.

Q But you moved away from that place in '68? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MILLER:

Q How old are you, Mr. Wood? A 48 years old last July, sir.

Q You must have been about 13 years old then in 1866, that right?

A Yes sir, going on 14 I think.

Q What did you mean by buying a place at that time, you didn't buy a place did you? A I sold my father.

Q You were quite a young boy at that time? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember well everything that took place in those days?

A Yes sir, I do.

Q You paid particular attention to just who was living around there? A Yes sir, there wasn't as many but that you could count them very easy.

Q You were 13 year old boy and still you recollect it at this time? A Yes sir.

Q What place are you talking about as the one that mixed colored people did not live on? A On the Polston place.

Q Where was that? A On the south edge of Peter's place in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Was that on Honey Creek? A No sir, it wasn't directly; the branch of Honey Creek, a mile I guess from the Creek.

Q How many Polston places were there in that country? A Just the one.

Q How do you know? A I lived there.

Q You were a boy 13 years old, and you remember that there were no other places belonging to Polston? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A I went to the Cherokee Nation.

Q When did you return? A In '68.

Q What time in '68? A Spring.

Q What time in the spring? A We left Cherokee Point in the Cherokee Nation in April and I think we were possibly 3 months getting through.

Q Do you know Herman or Hiram Ridge? A No sir.

Q You don't know where he lived before the war then? A No sir.

BY JON R. NEEDLES:

Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.

BY JON R. NEEDLES:

Q By blood? A Yes sir.

Q What is your occupation? A I am farming and selling goods.

BY MR. NEEDLES:

Q Now you said you returned in '68, did you come to the Cherokee Nation in '68? A No sir.

Q Where did you come to? A I came to on Peter's place in the Cherokee Nation to Mrs. Hiram Ridge.

Q And then moved down to the Honey Creek place in '68? A Yes sir.

Katie Ridge etc (sup'113)

Wm. M. Woodall, being sworn by Commissioner New 103, testified as follows:

I MR. WOODALL

Q Give your name, age and post-office? A W. M. Woodall, 58, Big Cabin.

Q This is a case, Mrs. Woodall, of Katie Ridge, Freedman woman, claiming to be a Cherokee slave before the war of a Cherokee, and now claims a right as a Cherokee citizen under the 9th article of the treaty of 1856, were you acquainted with the Ridge family, Cherokees? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you know them? A I know them in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Q How did you get acquainted with them? A I married into the family.

Q Who was it? A I married Thomas Ridge.

Q About when was that? A I married him in '58, spring of '58.

Q Were you acquainted with one Herman Ridge? A Yes sir, it was my brother-in-law.

Q That was a brother of your husband? A Yes sir.

Q Were you acquainted with Miss Flora Polston? A Yes sir, she was a sister to my husband.

Q Were you acquainted with Mrs. Sarah Ridge? A No, she died before I went there; she was the mother of my husband. She died a year or so before I went there.

Q Where did this Herman Ridge, your brother-in-law, live when you became acquainted with him? A At Fayetteville, at his sisters, Mrs. Washbourn's.

Q Was that his home? A Yes sir, all the home I ever knew of.

Q You never knew of him having a home in the Cherokee Nation?

A No sir.

Q This home that he had was in Washington County, Arkansas?

A Yes sir.

Q Did you know a negro woman he had by the name of Katie? A Yes sir.

Q Did she have a husband named Henry? A Yes sir.

Q Have any children? A Yes sir.

Q Could you name any of them? A Cornelius is the only one I ever saw while I was there that I know of; she had other children, but I don't remember of ever seeing them when they were small; I have seen them since they were grown.

BY MR. WOODALL:

Q Mrs. Woodall, was Herman Ridge a Cherokee Indian? A Yes sir.

Q Didn't he have a farm in the Cherokee Nation? A Not that I ever knew of, there was a farm here that had belonged to his father, but I don't think he ever claimed it.

Q He claimed to be a Cherokee citizen didn't he? A I don't know whether he did or not; he always lived there; he was living in Fayetteville when I knew him and I never heard him say.

Q You didn't become a member of the family until 1866 did you?

A No sir.

Q That was two years before the war began, say? A Yes sir.

Q When did you see Katie Ridge back in the Indian Territory, in 1866? A I wasn't there in 1866; I saw Henry, her husband, in Springfield, Missouri, the winter of '66, but I didn't see her.

Q Well you were a witness for Katie Ridge before the Wallace Court were you not? A Yes sir, that is, they asked me the usual questions you have asked me; they didn't ask me whether she was here in '66 or not; they didn't ask me that question at all; they asked me if I knew her and knew she belonged to the Cherokees before the war, and I told them I did.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q By what right? A By marriage.

Q You married Herman Ridge's brother? A Yes sir.

Q And by virtue of marrying his brother you are a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir, I was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation during his life; he was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Your present husband is a Cherokee? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you live during the lifetime of Mr. Ridge? A We lived at Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Q How long did you live there? A A year and four months, that was as long as he lived.

Q That was up just about the beginning of the war? A Well I don't know, I lived there until '59. I left there in the fall of '59.

Q Where was the farm located that the father of Herman Ridge owned in the Cherokee Nation? A Well I don't know, it was somewhere on Honey Creek, but I don't know anything about the farm, that Herman Ridge owned?

Q No, that Herman Ridge's father owned? A Why it was somewhere on Honey Creek, but I don't know anything about the place; I never was there; I suppose that Dr. Polston lived on part of it, I don't know though whether it was or not.

Q How long after the close of the war was it that you saw Katie Ridge in Springfield, Missouri? A I never saw Katie Ridge in Springfield, Missouri, - I saw her husband.

Q Oh, you just saw her husband? A Yes sir.

Q Was she there? A I don't know, he said he was living near Springfield, Henry Ridge told me he was living there near Springfield at the time I saw him.

Q But you didn't see Katie at all? A No, I didn't see her; ~~xx~~ I didn't see any of his family at that time.

Q When did you see Watie Ridge first? A I saw her in '72 here in the Cherokee Nation, fall of '72.

Q Where did you see her? A I saw her on the road toward Southwest City on the old Watie place. That's as near as I can tell you; I don't know exactly where on the road I saw her, I was horseback and not the wagon; I was with Stan Watie's daughter, and she told me that was Uncle Henry and his family, and I stopped and spoke to him.

JOHN R. SHIELDS, being sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. REEL:

Q Tell that gentleman your name, your age and post-office? A Grove is my post-office; my name is John R. Shields; my age is 53.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A I guess not.

Q Well how do you put it down for a fact? A Well I expect you will have to put it down for a fact that I never proved my right somehow or another; my wife claims citizenship, but we never went through; we are one of these that got behind. I am not a citizen myself at all.

Q You are a white man, not an Indian? A Yes sir.

Q Where were you living in '66? A I was living 2 miles north of Southwest City, up on what is known as the "Line Road", line between the Cherokee Nation and Missouri.

Q Were you living 2 miles north of Southwest City or what is now called Southwest City? A 2 miles north of what is now Southwest City at the present time.

Q At the time you lived there was there a town on the present site of Southwest City? A No sir.

Q What was there? A Honey Creek without anything more, there was a man's farm there, crossing of the road on the Creek; there was no town or village there at all.

Q Can you state just when a store was first put up there and a town started? A I can't give the exact date, but directly after the war in '66 or perhaps '57.

Q Who was the first man that went there? A Alex Brothers and J. L. Langman were the first men to put up stores.

Q Was there a post-office established there? A Well they kept a post-office there in the store, in the hands of Mr. Brothers I think the post-office was handled.

Q Well the post-office was there in the store? A Yes sir.

Q What was the place called then? A Honey Creek. did it

Q How long did it remain that name of Honey Creek, or when changed back to Southwest? A It remained Honey Creek until there was a little village started up there and then it was changed to Southwest City.

Q Was that in one or two or three years? A Well yes, three years perhaps, somewhere along in that range, I don't know just when, I don't recollect the date as to when it was changed, but after the town was started a little.

MR. MELLATT: I don't believe I want to ask him anything.

JAMES M. BELL, being sworn by Commissioner Needles testified as follows:

BY MR. BELL:

Q Give me your name, age and post-office? A My name is James K. Bell, aged 69, post-office Needmore, or Vinita, either one.

Q You are a citizen of the Cherokee nation are you? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you lived in this Cherokee nation? A Well with the exception of a few intervals I have been here since '39.

Q Well you have been here 40 years or more? A Yes sir.

Q Were you acquainted with John Ridge's family? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know when John Ridge died? A He was killed the 12th day of June, 1839.

Q Where did he live then? A He lived on Honey Creek, in Delaware District.

Q Did he leave a family? A Yes.

Q Name what they were if you can do it? A As far as his first child was not of sound mind, a girl, Helen Ridge was the next, Herman, Kneous, Andrew, Susan Washburn, Flora Polston, constituted the family.

Q Well, how long did they continue to reside, or did they continue to reside in the Cherokee nation after John Ridge's death? A I think they moved out immediately, out of the country; they didn't remain long after the death of Ridge.

Q What became of them? A They moved to Benton County, Arkansas.

Q How long did they reside there, or did they continue to live there? A They were living there when I was visiting the family but afterwards moved to Fayetteville, that was in '50 sometime, that I was there.

Q That in Benton County? A In Benton County.

Q Where you say they afterwards moved to Fayetteville? A Yes sir.

Q Where is Fayetteville? A In Washington County, Arkansas.

Q You were acquainted with Herman Ridge were you? A Yes sir.

Q How old a man was he at the time of his death, if you know?

He was between 35 and 40; he was 25 I reckon; between that and 40.

Q Well he was killed when? A He was killed in '35 I believe, or '36, in the Cherokee nation.

Q Well his father was killed in '39, how old did you say he was you think? A I think he was between 35 and 40.

Q How where did he live and make his home? A He was with his mother; he was a single man; had no family of his own.

Q He was with his mother where? A In Benton County, Arkansas.

Q When did he join the army? A He joined in '62.

Q Where well did he come from Arkansas to the army? A Yes.

Q Do you know of his ever being a farm, location or home or plantation in the Cherokee nation after his father was killed and his family moved out of the country? A Never did.

Q You were intimately acquainted with the family were you? A Yes sir.

Q They were closely related to you were they? A Yes sir.

Q By blood, friendship, social matters or what? A It is my standing that we are related by blood, but what degree I don't know, but the family were intimately acquainted.

Kate Ridge (sup'1) 6

BY MR. HELLER:

Q Where did you live just before the war? A My father lived in what was called Flint district down here near Stillwell before the war.

Q Where did the Ridges move from when you say they moved to Benton County, Arkansas? A They moved from off of Honey Creek, Delaware District.

Q That's in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Well they kept up their farm after they went to Benton County, didn't they? A Rollin Ridge moved onto the farm after his father was killed, but didn't remain there long; Rollin Ridge was the oldest son, and moved back onto the farm with the expectation of restoring the old place I guess, and living there.

Q Now were you there and know all about this personally, did you see that? A I saw Rollin Ridge there, yes sir, at the place.

Q I will ask you if Peter Ridge, a slave, was not in charge of that place for the Ridges after they went out into the State? A I don't know anything in regard to that.

Q I will ask you if they didn't leave the Territory because of the murder of John Ridge? A That is the family?

Q Yes. A Left the country on that account, that's my understanding, yes sir.

Q You don't mean to say that they abandoned their citizenship in the country? A Well I don't know; it is my impression that they did.

Q Why? A Why it was impossible for them to live here.

Q All you know is that they were out of the Territory? A Yes, I know that they were out of here.

Q I will ask you now if a Mrs. Ridge, the mother of Herman Ridge, who lived in Benton County, there at Fayetteville, she didn't send her slaves back and forth from there and was to their farm to keep it up? A I know nothing of that.

Q Didn't she take supplies from that farm over to her house at Fayetteville to live on? A She might have done so, but I knew nothing of that.

B. HELL, being sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

BY MR. W. W. HASTINGS:

Q What is your name? A L. B. Bell, 62 years old, White.

Q Where were you born? A Well I was born in the State of Georgia I guess, Haverham County, they tell me; I don't have no recollection of it.

Q Where did you live when you were first old enough to remember, in the Cherokee Nation here? A Well I think I was right down here below the Grand Saline, below that Grand Saline town in 1812, when the whole world was flooded, I just have recollection of moving out of there, '43 or '44.

Q Do you remember the Ridge family? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember where the old Ridge place was on Honey Creek this side of Southwest City? A Yes, I know that they called the old Ridge place, on Peter's Prairie.

Q Were you ever at that place prior to the war? A Oh lots of times.

Q Now who lived there, comparatively? A One Peter, and my first got acquainted with John, Rollin Ridge, a son of John Ridge lived there, him and his family, and he stayed a long time and then he had to go to California, and then he came back and he was there, then an old man named Peter, an old man of the name of Peter, remained on the place for a long time, and then he was in the hands of Dr. Polston, and married a woman, and the Ridges family; they lived there until they were killed.

Kate Ridge (Sup' 1) 7

or 4 years.

Q Did you know Herman Ridge? A Yes sir, I knew Herman Ridge as far as I could recollect.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him in Benton County, Arkansas, was first born at Washington County, Arkansas, at Fayetteville.

Q Was he living at Fayetteville when the war came up? A He lived there and at Fayetteville from '40 on until the war as well as I could recollect him, and then he came and joined our command, that is the Confederate Army, General Watts was a kinman of his and he joined the 4th Regiment that he was in, and I think he was killed in '65, or maybe '62.

Q Anything else you want to state? A That's about all I know about that place, except that Polston occupied the place and lived there, his wife died in about 1868, his heirs own it yet.

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q You are chief counsel for the Cherokee Nation in the conduct of these Freedmen cases are you? A Yes sir, supposed to be.

MR. MELLETT: Well I believe if that is the case I will let you go.

MRS. M. M. WOODALL, being re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. WHEEL:

Q Did Herman Ridge keep his slaves, keep this Katie up there in Washington County while he lived there? A Yes sir, they lived right there.

BY MR. MELLETT:

Q Did she return to the Cherokee Nation at any time that you were there? A Not that I know of.

Q You don't pretend to say you can remember back that long and say she didn't return to the Cherokee Nation? A She never returned to the best of my knowledge, I was there.

Q How the descendants of the Ridges are still citizens of the Cherokee Nation are they not? A Yes sir.

Q The Washburns? A Yes sir.

Q What relations are the Washburns to Herman Ridge? A Mrs. Washburn was Herman Ridge's sister, the children are Herman Ridge's nieces and nephews.

Q Where was Mrs. Washburn living when you were living at Fayetteville? A She was living at Fayetteville.

Q And did she live after the war? A Yes, at Fayetteville.

Q No, where did she live after the war? A When I knew her after the war she lived here in the Cherokee Nation on Honey Creek.

Q This Mrs. Washburn was Herman Ridge's sister and lived at Fayetteville with Herman Ridge, came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war as a citizen? A Yes sir.

Q The wife of a young lady at the time she was living at Fayetteville?

A Yes, as a married woman.

Q Married to Washburn? A Yes sir.

Q Didn't they all leave the Cherokee Nation because they were afraid of their lives after John Ridge was murdered? A Well I don't know why they came, I don't know in the family then.

Q They all came back to the Cherokee Nation after that? A Mrs. Washburn and her family and Polston and his family came back.

Q Polston married Herman Ridge's sister? A Yes sir.

Q Did he leave the Cherokee Nation after that? A I don't know during the war, I don't know what time that is.

Q Where was Polston living when he came into the Cherokee Nation?

A He was living in the Cherokee Nation, I don't know where he was living before.

Q He was living with his family at that time? A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if you will, did you know Herman Ridge?

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I.T., OCTOBER 5th, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of BALLIE MILLER as a Cherokee Freedman, introduced on behalf of
Cherokee Nation:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Hollette, of Counsel for applicant;
Mr. Davenport, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SIMON MCKENZIE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows on behalf of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A Simon McKenzie.

Q Where do you live? A I live up Pryor Creek, about five miles north of Pryor Creek.

Q What is your age? A I am 59.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Been living here all my life, only few times I have been out of the Nation.

Q Well, you were out of the Nation; when you were out of the Nation what places were you at? A When I was out of the Nation I lived at Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q About what year did you live in Fort Scott, Kansas? A I lived from 1865 down to 1866, '67 and down to spring of '68.

Q During the years you lived there did you become acquainted with Ballie Miller, or Holt, or Walker? A Yes, sir, I was acquainted with one lady named at that time Ballie Holt.

Q Well, did you know her family at that time, her mother?

A Yes, sir.

Q What was her mother's name? A Aunt Easter Holt.

Q Did you know any of her brothers? A Tecumseh and I forget the other one's name, was another one.

Q Do you know whether it was Moses or Joshua? A Yes, sir, Moses and Joshua.

Q Did you know any of her sisters? A Yes, sir, but I forget their names.

Q Now, where were they living, if you know, during the years you lived at Fort Scott? A They lived in an old Government building right in Fort Scott.

Q You went there in 1865? A In '65.

Q How long had you been there before you knew these people, or got acquainted with them? A I was there about a month or two or three months, I could not state the time.

Q Well, where were they living when you left Fort Scott, Kansas, if you know? A Well, Aunt Easter was living in an old Government building.

Q Have you seen any of them since that time? A No, sir.

MR. HOLLETTE: Now, Mr. McKenzie, you don't know that the woman who is an applicant here for enrollment is the woman whom you say you saw up at Fort Scott, Kansas, at the close of the war, do you?

A I don't know the woman.

Q You don't know that that is the same woman? A In the same name.

Q It is not the same name? A She name Holt.

Q Well, you don't know that that is the same woman that you knew up there, do you? A Well, it was a daughter of Easter Holt, it was a Ballie woman.

Q Well, you don't know anything about this applicant, you have never seen this applicant here? A I haven't seen her here.

- Q Well, you have never seen her since she has made application here for enrollment have you? A No, sir.
- Q Now, when did you leave Fort Scott, Kansas? A I left there early in '68, in the spring.
- Q In the spring of '68? A Yes, sir.
- Q What were you doing up there at Fort Scott? A I was working there at Fort Scott, for Billy Shanahan, stone mason, doing public work there.
- Q Did you keep track of these colored people? A All I saw.
- Q Did you ever testify in this case before? A I guess I did.
- Q When? A Not long ago at Fort Gibson.
- Q You give testimony up at Fort Gibson? A I think I did.
- Q How long ago? A I don't know exactly whether it was last month.
- Q How old are you, Mr. McKenzie? A I am 59.
- Q Well, it has been 35 or 6 years ago then since you saw them up there at Kansas? A Yes, sir, I guess so, I never kept count of the time.
- Q Well say 35; well, Mr. McKenzie, can you remember just about the time you saw these people up there 35 years ago? A Well, I guess I could remember it, I stated before.
- Q There is no reason why you paid particular attention to them? A No, just seeing them pass and repassing about.
- Q You left there in the spring of '68? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well, they could leave there a year before that and you not remember it 35 years afterwards? A Didn't I saw they back and forth all the time I was up there, off and on.
- Q Well, now, off and on there, you saw them? A Every week.
- Q Can you remember 35 years ago you saw these people every weeks? A I guess so, I wouldn't be here if I didn't thought I could testify nothing.
- Q Well, you feel because you are here you have to testify something? A I don't know.
- Q Well, I want to know if you can remember 35 years ago you saw these people every week? A I did while I was living in Fort Scott most every week.
- Q Is it possible they might have left there a year before you did? A If they did they went back in a short time.
- Q What were you paying so particular attention to those people for? A I could not tell you.
- Q You just watched them? A Well, just seeing them pass and pass every day.
- Q Who else did you see up there at Fort Scott? A Why I see good many.
- Q What other colored people? A Good many. Good many other colored black people, but I don't know their names.
- Q Well, now, give the name of some other colored person you saw up there except this family? A I could not give their name.
- Q There were a great many colored people in Fort Scott? A Yes, sir.
- Q And of all the colored people that was in Fort Scott this family is the only one you remember the names? A Yes, sir; of course I was passing there and some lived out in the country.
- Q Well, who else lived in the Government building there? A Good many families.
- Q Good many families? A Yes, sir.
- Q Why don't you remember the names of the other colored people? A Because the boys I remember them, and part lived in town.
- Q Why can't you remember the names of some other colored people you saw there some time? A Well, I could if I wanted to state the whole thing I can, there was Bill Thompson.
- Q Who is Bill Thompson? A There he is (pointing to a man in the audience).

Q And who else was there? A Bill was blacksmith, Tom Brown.
 Q Was it Tom Brown or Bill Brown? A Tom Brown.
 Q When did they leave there? A I don't know.
 Q Were they there when you left? A I don't know, they lived out at the edge of town; at home when I left town I went out about three miles of town and a family lived there by the name of Campbell, worked right there at Fort Scott. I know the whole generation if you will give me time to call the name over, the whole generation of them.
 Q What makes you remember seeing these people there all the time you were there? A I saw them off and on, because I was working in town; Tom Brown was a blacksmith, worked in town.
 Q When was the last time you remember seeing this Sallie Miller? A Well, I saw when I left Fort Scott.
 Q Did you see her the day you left? A No, sir; I didn't see her the day before I left.
 Q How long before you left did you see her? A Oh, short time, maybe a week or two weeks.
 Q You remember then of seeing her two weeks before you left? A Yes, might have been two weeks, and maybe longer and not so long.
 Q Maybe a year too? [No response.]
 Q Was it a year? A No, sir, I don't think it was a year; if she left there at all she went west, went towards Hapleton.
 Q How do you know she went to Hapleton? A Well, if she left at all.
 Q What makes you think that? A That was the talk.
 Q How was that? A That is why I found out by talking with her brother.
 Q You got a letter? A No, sir, talking with her brother.
 Q You are testifying to what her brother told you?
 A That is how I found out where she went, if she went off at all.
 Q That is the reason you are swearing that she was there all the time you were there? A No, sir, I know it.

WILLIAM MARGRAVE, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A William Margrave.
 Q What is your age, Mr. Margrave? A My age is 30—about 32. I am away along in the 33 year.
 Q Where do you live, Mr. Margrave? A Fort Scott, Kansas.
 Q How long have you lived at Fort Scott, Kansas? A Since 1894.
 Q Since you lived at Fort Scott, Kansas, did you become acquainted with a colored family by the name of Holt or Holt?
 A Yes, sir.
 Q You know the old lady's name? A Yes, sir, do you mean the mother?
 Q Yes, sir; what was her name? A Baxter Holt.
 Q How many of the children do you remember, Mr. Margrave? A Let's see, there was Mose, Susan, Sallie and Josh.
 Q When did you become acquainted with the family? A I am not positive, I think they came there along towards the close of the Civil war, if they didn't they came there very shortly afterwards.
 Q Well, now, where did they live with reference to where your home was? A Well, most of the time they lived in, I should judge, about a hundred yards, except Mose he lived, after he married, he lived about 50 yards.
 Q Well, now, where is Mose Holt living now, do you know?
 A Living right there by me in Fort Scott.
 Q Do you know where Josh is living? A I do not, he has been away from there a good many years, I don't know how long.
 Q Well, about how many years has it been since Josh moved away from there? A Of course that would be long, I don't know, something I never keep no count of. I don't think he has been in Fort Scott for the last 25 years, I might not be correct about it.

Q About how long has it been since Teanumash moved away from there?
A That maybe all the way from five, six, seven or eight years, not longer than that.

Q Well, when did Bettie leave there, about when did she leave?
A That is quite a while ago, I could not tell that.

Q Well, did Gallie Holt marry while she was up there? A Yes, married twice.

Q What was her first husband's name? A Well, he died and then she married a Miller.

Q Do you know what Miller's first name was, or what he was known by up there? A Stephen I believe it is.

Q Have you seen Gallie Miller, the applicant, since you been down here? A I saw her this morning, spoke to her.

Q Did you recognize her as the same woman you knew up there as Gallie Holt? A Well, she lived right there near as far I expect 30 years, I don't know that it was that long, of course I knew her as well as I knew anybody in Fort Scott.

Q About how long ago was it since Gallie left Fort Scott?
A Well, now, I can't tell you.

Q Well, you came from there in -? A Seven, eight or ten years.

Q Do you know where Aunt Gaster Holt is living now, whether she is living or dead? A I saw her I think about a year ago up in Fort Scott, I have never heard of her dying.

Q When did she move away, if at all, from Fort Scott, Kansas?
A It wasn't to those dates.

Q About how long? A I would think it was six or seven years ago.

Q You got acquainted with this family as I understand you, sometime about the close of the war? A Yes, sir, I knew them by sight and afterwards got acquainted with them.

Q They afterwards lived right near you? A Yes, sir. It was right close to me, I don't think it was over a hundred yards from where I now live.

Q And they lived there then in your neighborhood from the time you got acquainted with them up until a few years ago? A Yes, just as I stated.

MR. MOLLISTON: Now, where was Gallie Miller in the fall of '65?
A I don't think I could tell just that because -

Q Well, now, where was she in '66? A The family was there, I am satisfied they were in Fort Scott in '66.

Q I am talking about Gallie Miller now? A I know you do; one of the family might have gone away.

Q You can't say that Gallie Miller, or Gallie Holt, was not here in the Cherokee Nation in 1866 can you? A No, sir, I cannot;
I know the family was living up there at that time. She or the family could go off and I would not know anything about that; go off and return again.

Q Isn't it a fact that she was down here in '66, and didn't go back up to Kansas for a couple of years after '66, about '68?

A No, I don't know.

Q You don't know? A No.

Q That might be true, might it not? A Yes, the family was there,
I know they didn't all come here; might be such a thing as she did,
of course not looking for a thing of that kind I might not know.

Q Well, those people might have come down in the Territory from time to time without you knowing their business, might they not, 20 years ago? A You mean me at the time?

Q Yes, or two at the time? A Of course they might.

Q Gallie Miller's husband died up there, one of them? A Well,

Q Didn't she take some children back from there the first of the year went back? A Children, I don't know anything about that.

JOHN FORBES, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows on part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A John Forbes.

Q What is your age, Mr. Forbes? A 54.

Q Where do you live? A Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in Fort Scott, Kansas? A 35 years.

Q Since you have been living at Fort Scott, Kansas, did you get acquainted with a colored family by the name of Holt? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the old lady's name, if you know Mrs. Forbes? A I don't exactly know what the old lady's name was.

Q What was the children's names? A I have heard the names; well, there was Moss and Josh and Mrs. Walker, well, there was one or two others.

Q Do you know whether her name was Sallie Walker or what her first name was? A Her name was Sallie Walker.

Q Did she marry a man by the name of Walker? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was Walker at the time of his death, if you know?

A I don't know where he died, but I was informed that he died; that I don't know where he died, away or whether he died in Fort Scott.

Q Well, do you know whether or not she married after Walker's death?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who did she marry that time? A Man by the name of Miller.

Q Do you remember his first name? A Well, I have heard it called Step Miller.

Q What business did he follow? A Sheemaker.

Q Well, did you know any of her brothers or sisters that you remember the names of? A Well, there was Bat or Bit, I think that is it; and there was Moss and Josh.

Q Any one else you remember? A I think there was more than that.

Q Do you know where Moss Holt is living now? A Living at Fort Scott.

Q Do you know anything about where Josh is living? A No, sir.

Q About when did Josh Holt move away from Fort Scott, Kansas?

A Well, he moved away from there good many years ago, I don't know very well; I wasn't very well acquainted with him on that account.

Q Well, when did the applicant, Sallie Miller now, formerly Sallie Holt, move away from there? A I could not say, I think the best of my judgment it was eight or ten years ago, but I could not say after I got acquainted with them in '70, then I was personally acquainted with them after that.

Q Was the mother of them living there and keeping house when you got acquainted with them in '70? A I am not sure whether the mother was there, but she was there afterwards.

Q Do you know what became of Bessie whether she is living up there or alive? A No, I do not.

Q You don't remember what year they left but they left there a number of years after you got acquainted with them? A Yes, sir.

MR. MELLETT: Mr. Forbes, you don't know where these people, any of them, were in 1866, '67 or '8, do you? A No, sir.

Q Isn't it a fact that they came, after you knew them, that they came back and forth down here in the territory and back up to Kansas?

A I didn't know anything about that; I think I heard some of them talking about going down to Fort Smith or going from Fort Smith, something when I got acquainted with them.

Q Fort Smith down here on the border? A Yes, sir; I wouldn't be positive of that; some little recollection is in my mind, but I wouldn't be positive.

JAMES BRIGHTON, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows on part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A James Brighton.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Brighton? A Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived in Fort Scott, Kansas? A 20 years.

Q Since you have been living at Fort Scott, Kansas, have you become acquainted with a family of colored people by the name of Holt?

A Yes, sir.

Q What members of the family are you acquainted with? A I know Mose, Mose lives there now, well I think any other one, George Maybe.

Q Did you ever know any of the girls? A Oh, I have seen them, I don't know.

Q You are not very well acquainted with them? A I knowed Mose well and knowed where they lived well; no, I am not well acquainted with the lady folks.

Q Did you ever know the mother? A No, sir.

MR. MELLETTE: You don't know where the women folks made their homes, whether they made it here and visited up there, or where they really belonged, do you? A No, sir.

WILLIAM SEXTON, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows: On part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: what is your name? A William Sexton.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Sexton? A Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived at Fort Scott, Kansas? A I have lived at Fort Scott ever since '69.

Q Well, since you came to Fort Scott, Kansas, did you get acquainted with a colored family by the name of Holts? A I did.

Q Did you know the mother, the old lady, or reputed mother of the family? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Easter Holt.

Q What were the names of the children, or as many as you can remember? A There was one by the name of Mose, Josh, and Gush and Jennie and Sallie; that's as many as I recollect.

Q Well, did you know Sallie Holt, if she was a grown woman?

A Sallie she was a woman when I got acquainted with her.

Q Josh, was he grown when you got acquainted with him?

A No, sir, he was a young man.

Q Would you know Sallie Holt if you would see her now?

A Yes, sir.

Q I wish you would look back through the audience and see if you see her? A Yes, sir.

Q You recognize her as being the same woman, Sallie Holt, you knew?

A Same woman.

Q Did she marry while she was living up at Fort Scott? A She was married when I got acquainted with her.

Q Do you know what her husband name was? A Her husband's name was Walker.

Q Do you know whether Walker is living or dead? A He died.

Q Well, did she marry again? A She did.

Q Do you know who she married? A She married a man by the name of Miller.

Q Do you know his first name? A Stepney.

Q What was his business? A He was a shoemaker up there.

Q You knew Josh too up there did you? A Yes, sir.

Q And Tecumseh? A Tecumseh.

Q Did you know any other girls of the family, was there any other girls that you remember? A I do not.

Q Do you know whether or not there was a girl by the name of Bettie?

A I wouldn't be positive but it appears to me there was.

Q Were they living in Fort Scott when you went there in '69, Mr. Sexton? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, about how long after you went there did they continue to live in Fort Scott? A Now, I could not say; I didn't pay particular attention, sometime they would leave and sometimes they was there.

- Q Did they keep house while they were there? A Yes, sir.
Q Did Sallie live there with Walker when he was living?
A Yes, sir.
Q Where is Mose living now? A Moses is living up there now.
Q About how long has it been since you remember of Josh and then living in Fort Scott? A Josh hasn't been there for some considerable time.
Q Well, about how long? A It has been, I should judge, some ten or 12 years.
Q Well, how long has it been since Tecumseh has been living there?
A She has lived there to the best of my recollection, it has been that long since I seen him there.
Q Do you know where he went when he left there? A No, sir.
Q You don't know whether he went to Kansas City or not?
A No, sir, I do not.
Q Well, how long has it been since Sallie has been living there?
A I don't know.
Q Has she lived there any since she and Miller married? A Yes, sir.
MR. WELLETTE: Well, how long do you think it has been since Sallie Miller lived there regularly? A Well, now, I could not say positive, it has been since she left there regularly.
Q Well, isn't it a fact that she was back and forth ever since you have known her, to the Territory and back to Kansas, would come down here a stay a while and go back to Kansas? A Yes, sir.
Q That is true? A Yes, sir.
Q You don't know where any of these people were in '66? '67 or '68?
A No, sir; I came to Scott in '69.
MR. DAVENPORT: And they were living there when you came?
A They was there when I came.

Com'r Needles: This testimony will be made part of the record in Freedmen doubtful cases #953, #979, #980, #645, and in case of Bettie Hicks.

In the matter of the application of John Carter for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee freedman.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-876.

Applicant represented by Mellette & Smith,
Cherokee Nation appears by W. W. Hastings.

COMMISSION: The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, makes satisfactory proof of service on the applicant's attorneys, Mellette & Smith, Vinita, Indian Territory, that it would, at the office of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes at Muskogee, Indian Territory, introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said John Carter to enrollment as a Cherokee freedman. The applicant and his attorneys have this day been called and fail to respond.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation asks that all the testimony introduced by the Cherokee Nation in the case of Nelson Murrell, Freedmen Docket #12, be introduced and made a part of the record in this case.

COMMISSION: The request of the Nation will be complied with and the testimony filed.

Arthur G. Grewinger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of WALTER ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Applicant appears by Walter A. Smith, Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings.

By Mr. Smith:
The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of James Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17208 filed in the Marion Hayden case F. D. 498, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of James Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Francis Johnson, D. 374;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree, because, First. It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second. Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third. Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth. The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Marion Hayden will be made a part of the record as referenced in all the cases above named with the exception of those which are within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Galt of the United States Court, of the Northern District Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Marion Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within this court to file any of the proof of any of the cases other than the decrees already referred to.

in the case of Moses Whitnir, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case re-opened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and perfect transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of FRANCES JOHNSON for the enrollment of herself as a Cherokee Freedman:

Appearances:

Applicant represented by Edn Wilson, her son,
Cherokee Nation, by L. B. Bell;

GEORGE GUNTER, called as a witness, being duly sworn and examined by the Commission, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A George Gunter.
Q What is your age? A Fifty two.
Q What is your post office address? A Redland.
Q Have you been enrolled by this Commission as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know Frances Johnson? A Yes sir.
Q About how old is she? A She is about fifty one or two, she's the same age I am. We were raised up together.
Q Is she an applicant to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman?
A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known her?
A I have known her ever since I can recollect.
Q Where does she live? A Down in Sequoyah District.
Q How long has she been living there?
Q Why she has been living around there in that neighborhood since about 1866, 1863 to 1865, I don't recollect.
Q From 1866 to 1885 do you know where she lived?
A She moved back with us from Red River. She came back from the Choctaw Nation to Skullyville, and then they moved down to the Peteau Bottom; my father turned them loose.
Q Was that in the Choctaw or Cherokee Nation? A Choctaw.
Q What year was that? A In 1866 as near as I can recollect.
Q Do you remember positively whether it was in 1866 or not?
A I can't say. Mr. Bell here knows, it was at the time Col.
Adair went back to Washington with other delegates to make the treaty.

Mr. Bell: That was in 1866.

Q Was it before the treaty was made? A Yes sir.
Q When you got back, Frances Johnson, along with other slaves, was turned loose, and she stayed in the Peteau Bottom, Choctaw Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know how long she stayed there?
A No sir.
Q After she went down there, from the time your father turned her loose, you lost sight of her till 1863 or 1865? A Yes sir.
Q You know nothing of her residence until she returned again in 1863 or 1865? A No sir.
Q Where has she been living since you knew her in 1863 or 1865?
A She has been in our neighborhood.
Q Has she been living in the Cherokee Nation continuously since that time? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know who owned her before the war?
A Yes sir, my father, George Gunter.
Q Was she a slave herself and she? A Yes sir.
Q Where did your parents live before the war?
A Down in Sequoyah District, at Redland.
Q What time did your father leave the Cherokee Nation during the war? A It must have been about 1861, I reckon.

Q Did he take Frances Johnson with him ? A Yes sir.
Q Did she live in the Cherokee Nation from the time she was born until she went out of the Nation with your father during the war ?
A Yes sir.

Examined by L. B. Bell, Esq:

Q Who is this man that is making this application ?
A Eph Wilson, son of Frances Johnson.
Q How long have you known him ?
A I have known him ever since he was a child.
Q How while Frances Johnson lived in the Cherokee Nation did n't you ever see any of them at any time ?
A No sir.
Q Never saw them during any of that time ? A No sir.
Q About 1885 was her first showing in Sequoyah District ?
A Yes sir.

By the Commission:

Q Has she got any other children besides this boy Eph ?
A Yes sir.
Q What are their names ? A Linnie and Master and Peggie.
Q Were these children living with her when you knew her in 1883 ?
A The smallest one wasn't born then.
Q Have these children lived with her, so far as you know, since they have been born ?
A Until they got grown and went off to themselves.

By L. B. Bell:

Q This is the eldest one ?
A This here is the eldest one I think.
Q Did he move back with her in 1893 when she moved ? A Yes sir.

The Commission: This testimony will be filed with and made a part of the record in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Ephraim Wilson, et al, Char F 55.

H. C. Bagwell, on oath states that, as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had in the above entitled cause, and that the foregoing is an accurate transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Jessie Anna Slaughter, et al.--2.

enrollment of himself and wife, Millie, and seven children your father? A Yes, sir.

Q Who is your mother? A Millie Robinson.

Q That is your mother? A Yes, sir.

COM'R NEEDLES: Jessie A. Slaughter applies for the enrollment of herself and her child, Sadie Smith. She is not identified upon the roll of 1880 or census roll of 1896; she is identified upon the Kern-Clifton roll as Jessie Robinson, that having been her maiden name. She avers that she has married to one Walter Smith, now deceased, and that she is now married to one Charles Slaughter. She avers that she is the child of William H. and Millie Robinson; said William H. Robinson, her father, has been listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on Doubtful card #674; reference is made to the testimony taken in the application of the said William H. Robinson, and said testimony will be made part of the record in the case at bar and a copy thereof filed herewith. The name of her child, Sadie Smith, not being found upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, it will be necessary for her to file satisfactory proof of birth of said child. Now, the said Jessie A. Slaughter and her child, Sadie Smith, will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card. She will be duly notified by mail of the decision of the Commission when arrived at.

Q Did you draw Strip money for your wife? A No sir.

Examined by Attorney Smith:

Q Where were you living when the war commenced, the Civil War?

A Best of my recollection, I was living in Delaware District, on the place they call Beatty's Prairie, in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Who was your father? A Munford Robinson.

Q Who was your mother? A Annie Robinson.

Q You were a free colored person? A Yes sir.

Q You were here at the time the war commenced? A Yes sir.

Q Did you go out? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you go? A To Ft. Scott, Kansas.

Q When did you return first to the Cherokee Nation? A In May, '86.

Q Where have you been living since that time? A In the Indian Territory.

Q What Nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q Have you any children now older than James A.? A Yes sir.

Q Name them? A Josie Ann and Eva Ellen.

Q Is Josie Ann married? A Yes sir, her name is Rosie Ann Slaughter

Q Where does she live? A At Dewey, Cooweescoowee District, Cherokee Nation.

Q What is your other daughter's full name? A Eva Ellen Anderson.

Q Tell her husband's first name? A Arthur.

Q What is Slaughter's first name? A Charlie.

Q Have they any children, either one of them? A Slaughter has a step-child.

Q But your daughter I speak of? A Yes, one.

Q What is that child's name? A Smith. Married a second time; her first husband was Smith, second husband was Slaughter, that's the one she lives with now.

Q What is the Christian name of the child? A Sadie.

Examined by Cherokee Representative, Davenport:

Q Now Robinson, you were living at what point in the Cherokee Nation when the war broke out? A I was living on the place they call Beatty's Prairie, near the neutral land in the strip, I think it is in Delaware District.

Q Who were living near where you were living at that time? A Old man named McGee is the only one.

Q Was that Jeff? A I don't know.

Q Was Joe Ward living there? A I don't know anything about that.

Q Where was Jim Yeargin's family? A I don't know.

Q How old were you when the war broke out? A Between seven and eight years old.

Q How old is your oldest child now? A 26.

Q You went out of the Nation during the war and to what point did you go? A Fort Scott.

Q How long did you stay at Ft. Scott? A During the war.

Q That's where you got acquainted with William F. Foreman?

A First of my recollection; of course I had seen him before, but I didn't get acquainted with him.

Q You came back to the Cherokee Nation when? A In '86, May.

Q You came back before or after the Treaty was made? A After.

Q Did you come back in May? A May.

Q When you came back to what point in the Cherokee Nation did you come? A Big Cabin Creek, not very far from Lee Schrimsher's old place.

Q Who was living on the Lee Schrimsher place at that time, if any one? Mr. Foreman, I believe,

Q Where was Newt Solrimacher when you came back? A My recollection is he lived over east somewhere, I don't know where.

Q Where was Reuben Sanders, and Solon James? A I don't know a thing about Solon James, but I remember Reuben Sanders and then, they lived on Big Creek. I don't know whether they came there after, or I think it was just about the time I moved in here.

Q William Foreman, did he live in Cooweescoowee or Delaware District at that time? A He lived in Cooweescoowee.

Q He is the same William Foreman that you and your brothers and sisters gave the one hundred and twenty-five dollars to to swear for you in the Kew-Clifton enrollment isn't he? A Same man.

By Mr. Smith:

Q What did you give him $125 dollars to swear for you for? A That's his price, he charged that, and more than that he was to follow the court in case of rebuttal he was to see that we wasn't injured, and he had to travel backwards and forwards on the railroad and pay his expenses, consequently we just volunteered to give him that amount.

Q Who is William Foreman? A A Cherokee man.

Q Was he acquainted with the facts in your case? A Yes sir.

Q Did you hire him to swear to anything that wasn't the facts? A No sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q You just simply hired him to represent, he your brains? A No sir.

Q Was that Mr. Blythe living there near you before the war? A No sir.

By Com'r Needles:

Q This man Foreman, he was also acting kind of attorney was he?

A Right determine it that way, children you know, our parents deceased.

Q Was anybody else included in that $125 dollar too besides your family? A No sir.

By Mr. Smith:

Q Was Foreman an older man than you? A Yes sir indeed.

Q You say he was acquainted with the facts in your case?

A Yes sir.

Q Did he demand that much from you? A He thought it ought to be worth about that much.

Q He knew the facts in your case, were there any witnesses who did know the facts? A There was two others we had that was acquainted with them.

Q That matter of paying Foreman wasn't before this Commission?

A No sir.

Q That was at another time, when the Clifton roll was made?

A Yes sir.

LEWIS WHITMIRE, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified:

By Mr. Smith:

Q State your name? A Lewis Whitmire.

Q Where do you live? A On Lightning Creek.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hayden.

Q What is your age? A 62 years old.

Q You know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A I don't know exactly, I guess it has been about 38 or 9 years.

Q Did you know him before the war? A No sir, I knew him in time of the war.

Q Where was he in time of the war? A He was at Ft. Scott.

Q Then did you first see him in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A First place I saw him was out here about a mile and a half south-west of Timbered Hill.

Q How far from Chelsea is Timbered Hill? A I don't know how far it is from here, the place I saw him is about eight miles north-west of Vinita.

Q When did you see him first? A It was the winter of '66, I don't know exactly what time; it was winter, I don't know whether it was December or January.

Q You remember how long it was from Christmas? A No sir, I don't remember how long it was until Christmas.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q You remember whether it was before or after Christmas? A I don't remember whether it was before or after Christmas.

Q You came back to the Territory in the summer of '66? A Yes sir I came back here in the summer of '66.

Q And it was sometime in the following winter you saw him? A Yes sir

Q You don't know what time? A No sir.

Q Nor what month of the year? A No sir, I don't.

By Mr. Smith:

Q For what circumstances did you see him? A He was living with his father and mother in a old Government tent; camped right down in the bottom on the bank of Big Cabin Creek; I was horse hunting at that time.

HARRY STILL, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows;

By Mr. Smith:

Q State your name? A Harry Still.

Q Where do you live? A Hayden.

Q You know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Since '82.

Q Where was he in '82? A First time I saw him was on the neutral land when we started to Kansas.

Q Who was he with when you saw him first? A His mother and father, and his brothers and sisters.

Q What was his father's name? A Old man Robinson I always called him.

Q You remember his mother's given name? A No sir, I don't remember her given name.

Q When did you first see him in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A In the winter of '66, over here on Cabin Creek, first time, not far from the Newt Schrimsher place.

Q About what time was that? A It was along in the winter of '66 when I was there.

Q How many trips did you make back to the Cherokee Nation? A Three

Q When did you come back here the third time? A In the fall of '66

Q About what month? A Sometime in October I think.

Q About how long after that was it before you saw this man William H. Robinson? A Maybe I am mistaken, I went back after Aunt Nancy when she died up there at Timbered Hill and I found William and his folks up there then; it was getting kinder late in the year; near the old Schrimsher place.

Q And when was it you think? A Sometime in the winter or fall of '66, I mean the last part of '66.

Q Was it before or after Christmas? A Before.

Q Before Christmas of '66? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know where he has been living since that? A Yes sir.

Q Where? A Next time I saw him he was clearing a place after that about three miles from there, and then along in the summer of '68 we and him and his brothers worked together up here on Snow Creek. I have been knowing him ever since; we worked there awhile, and he went back over here where he started a place over here on Cabin Creek, and I have been knowing him around in the Nation, I don't know how many places he did live, I have been him up here where he is living now.

Q How long has he been living where he is living now? A I don't

Q How long has he been living where he is living now? A I don't know exactly. I have known him out on Cane/ awhile, living out there, and right around in the Nation here all the while, we worked together in '87.

By Gen'l Needles:

Q When you talked about the neutral land, that was a claim considered part of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q That is the first time you have ever testified for Robinson?

A Yes sir.

Q You was around with the Kern-Clifton Commission in 1896?

A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Robinson was there? A Yes sir.

Q You know he applied? A Yes sir.

Q They didn't use you then, they used W. Y. Foreman? A Yes sir, he had other witnesses.

Q You knew the same facts then you know now? A Yes sir.

Q And never did tell them? A Nobody never did ask me to tell them.

Q How did it happen you was on Big Creek in the latter part of '86, and saw this fellow? A Went back to get my aunt.

Q Was there a road from Big Creek down towards Neesho River at that time? A No sir.

Q How did you happen to straggle on him? A It was right on my road, right across the prairie.

Q You never lived in that neighborhood towards Big Creek where Sam Webber lived? A No sir, I lived on middle prong of Lightning Creek.

Q How far from Hayden's postoffice? A Three or four miles.

Q And you were going up to Hewt Schrimsher's place to get your aunt?

A Yes sir.

Q Was Robinson grown then? A He looked big as he is now, he was a good big fellow; when we went to Kansas together he was nearly grown.

Q Just at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir, he was a young man, the other boys wasn't as large as he was.

Q You didn't know anything of them when the war broke out? A When we started to Kansas we got with the command taking refugee negroes out here, first time I saw William was up in the Neutral land, and we went together from there to Ft. Scott.

Q There was a whole lot of other colored people along? A Yes sir.

Q You remember him because he was nearly grown? A I remember him and his family because they was people I never forget.

Q What makes you think it was before Christmas in '86 that you saw them up there on Big Creek? A Because I am satisfied it was.

Q You have nothing on which to base your satisfaction? A I know I went after aunt Nancy and she was dead, and the result was I found them.

Q You know that was in the winter of '86? A Yes sir.

Q You know what time the applicant came back to the Cherokee Nation?

A No sir, I know I went with him, and that's what time I saw him ever there.

Applicant, WILLIAM HENRY FOREMAN, re-called and further examined, by Gen'l Needles:

Q Where were you born? A In the Cherokee Nation.

Q Your father and mother dead? A Yes sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Your parents, were they alive then? A Not that I know of.

Q You didn't reside in Arkansas in '81? A No sir, I didn't know it.

FILMORE HICKS, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows:

By Mr. Smith:

- Q State your name? A Filmore Hicks.
 Q Where do you live? A In Vinita now.
 Q How old are you? A 35.
 Q You know William H. Robinson, this applicant? A Yes sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A Ever since the winter of '67.
 Q You didn't know him before the war? A No sir.
 Q Did you know his father before the war? A No sir.
 Q Nor his mother? A No sir.
 Q You don't know where they lived before the war? A No, I don't know.

By Com'r Needles:

- Q Are you a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes sir.
 Q You don't know whether this applicant was a slave before the war or not? A No sir.
 Q First time you saw him was in January, '67? A Yes sir.
 Q Where? A On Cabin Creek.
 Q Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

By Mr. Davenport:

- Q What was he doing then Cap, when you saw him? A They were camped on the creek there when I saw them.
 Q You don't know where they had been during the war? A No sir.
 Q Had they just come from Kansas or some other place, or just seemed to be camping there? A They seemed to have been there somewhere-
 Q About a year? A No, not that long.
 Q What makes you think it was January, '67? A I can tell you: Bill Foreman, I had been hired to Bill Foreman, he moved to Big Creek and from Big Creek back to Cabin Creek; I had been working for him about three months I guess, right along, and I went home about the first of December, he owed me twenty-five dollars, he told me to come back after Christmas about the first of January, he didn't have any money, and I stayed there about four or five days waiting for him.
 Q Where was Bill Foreman living then? A On the John Foreman place.
 Q How far from the Lee Schrimsher place? A About two or three miles; while I was waiting there for Foreman and hunting around I run across this family: hunted on the creeks there and around through the country, nothing to do but hunt around.
 Q How far were they from the Lee Schrimsher or Foreman place when you run across them? A About a mile and a half.
 Q Did you work for Bill Foreman around the Foreman place in '66?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Did you see them there during that year of '66? A No sir.
 Q Were you following cattle around even the creeks? A Well, I was driving cattle for Foreman, and driving teams.
 Q You had been on the creeks around where you saw them in '67?
 A Not much, Foreman never left Big Creek until about December and he came to Cabin Creek, and about the first of December I went home, and about the first of January I came to get my money.
 Q Were you with Foreman from May to December, '66? A No never lived there up until then.
 Q Were you around the Schrimsher place from May up to '66? A I passed there twice.
 Q How far did you work from the Schrimsher place during '66?
 A About three or four miles down the creek.
 Q Did you see this applicant or his family about the Schrimsher place at any time during the year of '66? A No.
 Q How often did you say you passed the Schrimsher place? A I passed there twice. We came there as we moved over and when we came back we come back that way.

Applicant, WILLIAM HENRY ROBINSON, re-called and further examined, by Com'r Needles:

Q You present a marriage certificate certifying that you married your wife, Millie, did you ever have a license? A No sir, there is the first license I got.

Q Never had any license? A No sir, that's the first time we was married, we married only according to customs.

Q Was you ever married but once? A Yes sir, I married twice, but to the same woman.

Q What did you marry twice for? A She come in as a claimant, they failed to respect her such some years ago, and consequently we was advised to marry according to Cherokee laws.

Q When you marry according to Cherokee Law don't you have to procure a license? A That is all the license they claimed it was necessary for me to have.

By Mr. Smith:

Q Where did you marry your wife first? A In the Cherokee Nation.

Q How many years ago has that been? A 28 years ago.

Q Have you been living together as man and wife ever since that?

A Yes sir.

Q Who were you married by? A Brother named Nathan Duffin, a preacher.

Q Is he living or dead? A Dead.

Q Is there anyone here who saw you married? A I guess so, Thomas Mayfield was present.

THOMAS MAYFIELD, being sworn by Com'r Needles, testified as follows:

By Mr. Smith:

Q State your name? A Thomas Mayfield.

Q Where do you live? A On Grand River.

Q In what nation? A Cherokee Nation.

Q Do you know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes sir, I know him.

Q You know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present when they were married? A Yes sir.

Q Who married them? A Nathan Duffin.

Q About how long ago has that been as well as you can remember?

A Right near fifteen or twenty years ago.

Q Might have been near that? A Might have been.

Q You don't know how long it has been? A No sir, I don't know exactly.

Q Was Duffin a preacher? A Yes sir.

Q Where were they married? A Married in my church house there on Grand river, Island Ford.

Davenport, Cherokee Rep'vo, waives examination.

Applicant, WILLIAM HENRY ROBINSON, re-called and further examined, by Com'r Needles:

Q When were you married the first time? A Married last day of August, '72, I believe.

Q You know the reason your name is not on the roll of 1880?

A No sir.

Q Did you ever apply to have it put down? A I applied and I supposed they put it on, but it failed to show up.

Q You applied did you? A Yes sir.

Mr. Smith offers a marriage license, and hands it to Mr. Davenport, for examination.

Mr. Davenport: The Representatives of the Cherokee Nation object to the introduction of the certificate of marriage offered, for the reason that at the time it was en-cuted there was no law in force in the Cherokee Nation authorizing the issuing of marriage certificates according to Cherokee law by which anyone marrying a recognized citizen could acquire property rights in the Cherokee Nation, the law having been repealed on December 16th, 1866, and for the further reason that there was no law authorizing a clerk to issue a certificate of marriage according to the laws of the Cherokee Nation to any parties other than recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and if the clerk violated his duty it would give no force to the applicant in establishing his right as to having been a free colored person at the breaking out of the war and residing in the Cherokee Nation, having returned in accordance with the Treaty.

Applicant examined by Gen. H. Needles:

- Q You apply for your wife as an intermarried citizen? A Yes sir, by Mr. Smith.
- Q Did your wife apply for enrollment? A Her mother has a claim on file here, so I understand.

Gen. H. Needles: William H. Robinson applies for the enrollment of himself and wife and seven children: to-wit: James A., Jennette, Charles S., Ellis, Amanda J., John D., and William D. Robinson; he avers that he is a free colored person, never a slave, and was a resident of the Cherokee Nation before the adoption of the Treaty of 1866; he went out of the Cherokee Nation during the war between the North and the South and returned in the year 1866; he avers that he was married to one Millie Hill, a non-citizen; he however avers that his wife is an applicant or has a claim for citizenship; he presents no proof whatever as to the citizenship of his wife, and her name cannot be found upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation now in the possession of this Commission; he makes verbal proof of his marriage to his wife, Millie, more particularly shown in the testimony; he also files certificate signed by Joe M. Leahy, Clerk of Coconawcoossee District, certifying that he was married in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on the 10th day of March, 1897, to one Millie Robinson, nee Hill, a citizen of the United States, said certificate being recorded on page 192, book K, of marriage record of Coconawcoossee District; upon examination of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation his name cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1890, but he is duly identified upon the Kern-Olifton and the Wallace rolls, and his children are duly identified upon said roll, with the exception of the youngest child, William D., three years of age, which makes it necessary for him to file satisfactory proof of marriage of said child; consequently, said William H. Robinson and his children as enumerated herein, will be duly listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card, and his wife, Millie, will be duly listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedman by intermarriage or by her inherent rights, as the testimony may develop; he will be duly notified by mail of the action of the Commission on his application when arrived at.

APPLICANT re-called, supplemental examination

Mr. Smith:

- Q Did you ever have any law case, law case tried in the Cherokee courts? A No sir.

By Gen'l Needles:

Q How many votes in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Mr. Davenport:

Q Who did you vote for? A I don't know how many.

Q Joe Lebat? A No, I don't know as I voted for Joe Lebat to get him to sign anything for me.

Q Who did you vote for? A I voted for the treaty, and I voted for Mr. Burlington and I voted for you when you was running.

Q Are you sure of that now? A I know it.

By Gen'l Needles:

Q Was Davenport's majority over one? A I don't know that.

Q If it wasn't over one we could throw him out, because yours was illegal, eh? A (No reply)

Supplemental testimony in the matter of the enrollment of William H. Robinson as a Cherokee Freedman; introduced on the part of the applicant:

WILLIAM FOREMAN, being duly sworn by Commissioner T. B. Needles, testified as follows:

Appearances:

Messrs. Mallette & Smith, for Applicant.

Messrs. Hastings and Davenport, for Cherokee Nation.

By Mr. Smith:

Q State your name? A William Foreman.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Foreman? A Near Waggoner.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 64 years a little over.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Citizen by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know this applicant, William H. Robinson? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A First knew him in '62.

Q Where? A Lees County on Cabin Creek.

Q Is the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he with at that time? A With his father and mother, they were living there working there.

Q What was his father's name? A Langford I think.

Q What were they, Mr. Foreman, slaves or free colored persons?

Q My understanding is that they were free.

Q Where did you first see that family back in the Cherokee Nation after the war? A First saw this boy and his mother near Lees County in May, '68, but his father and mother I never saw since the war.

Q Well, how old was William when you saw him in '66, after the war here? A He was a young man probably 18, 17 or 18, somewhere along there, a young man.

Q Did you know the wife of Lumford, did you know his mother?

A Yes, sir, I saw her at Fort Scott in '68.

Q What was her name? A I could not tell you.

Q Where did you say you saw her in '68? A I left them at Fort Scott in '65.

Q Now, were you acquainted with his mother before he war?

A No, sir, only at Lees Country in '62.

Q Where was she? A Working there.

Q And they were free colored persons you say? A Yes, sir, they claimed to be from Arkansas.

Q Well, you were acquainted with this country? A Yes, sir.

Q You know whether they belonged to anybody? A They didn't belong to anybody in this country that I knew of.

By Mr. Hastings:

Q When did you say you knew the applicant first? A I first saw him in '62 at Lee Schrimsher's.

Q Is that the first time you ever saw the applicant? A Yes sir.

Q You testified for him before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A Yes sir.

Q You testified that you saw him on Shoals Creek with Blye in '61?

A No, sir; some of that isn't correct.

Q How do you know this testimony isn't true? A I have seen it and know it is not true.

Q Where did you see a copy? A Some fellow had it there.

Q Fellow L. A. Bell? A I think so.

Q Where were you living in '61? A I was living on Poteau river about six or seven miles below Chetopa.

Q What time of the year was it you saw this fellow? A Along in the fall.

Q How long did you see him there? A I saw him there two different times, I was passing there and stayed all night at Lees country one time.

Q Do you know where this family came from? A No, sir, only what they claimed.

Q What did they claim? A Claimed to come from Arkansas.

Q You swore that they refugees from Arkansas in '64 then didn't you? A I don't know.

Q Did Lee Schrimsher live on the line? A No, sir, lived on Big Cabin Creek.

Q Well, didn't you swear before that you saw this Robinson in '61 or 2 on the neutral land? A I don't think I did.

Q Well, do you deny that now? A Yes, sir, I do.

Q You admit though that you testified for them before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q Now how many did you see in '66 of this family?

A I could not tell, the old man and his wife and a lot of children, this boy and another he claimed to be his family.

Q I thought you said just now you never saw his father?

A I saw him at Lee Schrimsher's in '62.

Q I mean in '66? A I never saw him in '66.

Q Now, who did you see in '68? A I saw this boy and his brother.

Q Was he older or younger? A Older.

Q And you only saw this boy about in '66? A He came there to Lee Schrimsher's in May, '66.

Q How long did he stay in there? A I don't know, he come in.

Q Was Lee Schrimsher there? A No, sir.

Q Who was along with you? A A fellow named Wolf, Dutchman.

Q Did he settle there with them? A He did that fall.

Q Where were you going? A I was going up to the Dave Martin place.

Q Who was living there at that time? A Nobody.

Q Did you have a place there at that time? A First bought a place from Tom Hudson and I afterwards sold it to Bill Martin.

Q Was there a place made in '68? A Made before '68.

Q Was any crop in then, '68? A No, sir.

Q Did you ~~have any family with you?~~ any in? A No, sir, I moved out there and intended to stay and they stold my cattle.

Q Did you have any family with you? A No, sir, just some work hands.

Q Well, how long after that was it before you saw this Robinson family? A The next time I saw this one was when Wallace had the Wallace court.

Q You don't know what became of them between that and the Wallace Court? A No, sir.

Q Did you see any other members of the family in the meantime? A No, sir.

Q These two then were there alone? A Yes, sir, just the two, they claimed they was camped on Russell Creek; I don't know whether they was or not, I didn't see them.

Q How far was Lee Schrimsher's from Russell Creek? A About 25 miles.

Q Lee Schrimsher lived on Cabin Creek? A Yes, sir.

Q About how far from Vinita? A About ten miles.

Q There was nobody there in this house at that time? A No sir.

Q What were they doing down there? A They come there to see if Lee Schrimsher had come back for they wanted to get work.

Q There were five of these brothers applied before the Kern-Clifton court? A I don't remember.

Q You charged them $125 didn't you? A I think I did.

Q To testify in that case? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you charging them anything this time? A No, sir; they paid my fare up here from Waggoner.

Q You were at Chelsea when this man applied? A No, sir; I was there three days at Chelsea and I understand he made application after I left there.

Q He was there while you were there? A Yes, sir.

Q And you saw him there? A Yes, sir.

By Mr. Smith:

Q Why did you charge him $125 before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I thought it was right that I should have pay for my trouble running around tearing to these courts, it cost me something to be here.

Q Where did you have to go to when you testified before the Kern court? A I went from Waggoner to Lightning Creek, where the court was held.

Q Was it at Lightning Creek he made his application? A Yes, sir.

By Mr. Hastings:

Q How far is it from where you lived to Lightning Creek? A I come around by this place, I suppose it is about 25 or 30 miles.

Applicant offers in evidence some permits issued by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation.

Counsel for Cherokee Nation objects to the introduction of said permits for the reason it is irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial.

Permits are permitted to be filed.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of Cherokee Nation, in the matter of the application of William H. Robinson for the enrollment of himself, wife and children as Cherokee Freedmen.

Appearances:

Mr. Mellette, or Mellette & Smith, Vinita, I. T., attorneys for the applicants;

W. W. Hastings, attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

Elizabeth Davis, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

By Mr. Hastings:

- Q What is your name? A Elizabeth Davis.
Q What is your age, Mrs. Davis? A 57.
Q What is your post-office address? A Fort Scott, Kansas.
Q How long has Fort Scott Kansas been your post-office? A Since '63.
Q You formerly lived in this country? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know a colored man by the name of Mumford Robinson? A Yes sir.
Q When did you learn to know him? A In 1863. He was at Fort Scott, when I left.
Q Did you continue to live there during the war? A Yes sir.
Q And after the war? A Yes sir, I lived up there right along.
Q Do you know his wife? A Yes sir.
Q What is her name? A Anna.
Q Do you know any of his children? A Yes, I know his children.
Q You know any of their names? A Had one named Lizzie, and a boy named William and one Jim and Tobe and Wesley, and I don't know, he had a whole house full.
Q How long did you continue to know this family at Fort Scott, Kansas? A I knew him from '63 down to the winter of '69.
Q Did you know them continually? A Yes sir, they lived right there; I was about two blocks away from them.
Q Did you have occasion to see them frequently? A Yes sir, I saw them pass, they would have to pass my house to go to town.
Q You know where they went to from there or where they were gone? A I don't know where they went to.
Q You know whether they had a house there or not? A Yes sir, they owned their home there; they bought their house; I don't know whether they bought a lot and built the house or whether they bought the house, I couldn't say, it was just a frame building, that was there when I left; I know they owned that and sold it.
Q You positive that they lived there until the fall or winter of '69? A Yes sir, I am positive; how that is, Mrs. Runyan- her father, Mr. Anthony died in July 1869, and they was there then, and in the fall the boys helped dig the potatoes and gather the crop; him and his son Walter Runyan both died the same month, and left the widow woman and the girls and she got these boys to gather the crop.
By Mr. Mellette:
Q Are you a white woman? A Yes sir.
Q You are of white blood? A Yes sir.
Q You are not of Cherokee blood? A No sir.
Q This W. H. Robinson you have been talking about? A W.H. Robinson is Mumford Robinson's son.
Q Where is Mumford Robinson? A I don't know.
Q Is he alive or dead? A I don't know.
Q When did you see him? A I haven't seen him since '69, or heard of him.

Q You don't know whether the applicants here are the persons you know in Fort Scott or not do you? A I know that Mumford didn't, I knew that; I don't know whether these are them or not.

Q You don't know whether the Mumford Robinson they talked about in the testimony is the Mumford Robinson you knew at Fort Scott, do you? A I don't know, no sir.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes sir.

Q Married now? A No sir, I am a widow woman.

Q Who was your husband? A S. S. Davis.

Q Ever married to any one else? A No sir.

Q Did you at one time live with a man named Alonso Manley? A No sir.

Q You swear you didn't? A I swear I didn't live with him in the world. Lived with Alonso Manley, what are you talking about?

Q I just asked you that question? A Well indeed I guess I didn't.

Q Did you know him? A Yes sir, I knew him.

Q Where did you know him? A I knew him from '63 until '70, along in '70's somewhere.

Q How long has it been since you saw Mumford Robinson? A '69.

Q How long has that been? A I don't know; I haven't counted it up.

Q Well try to count it up? A 32 years or 33.

Q Now can you remember back every person that you saw in '69, 32 years ago? A Well I could remember their names and remember seeing them.

Q Can you remember when you last saw everybody that you saw in '69? A Yes, I can remember when I last saw them for I last saw them when they was gathering those potatoes; that is the last time I saw those boys.

Q You remember you saw Mumford Robinson dig potatoes in '69? A I saw the two boys and their mother I told you.

Q Did they ever dig potatoes at any other time? A Not that I know of.

Q Why do you remember that was in '69? A These girls father died in '69 and it is there in the Bible.

Q Where is the Bible? A Mrs. Anthony's house; I know they dug potatoes at that time.

Q You didn't bring the Bible with you? A No sir.

Q Maybe that is like the Bible that was not made in '67? A Probably it is, but it is there and can be produced just the same.

Q You didn't bring it with you did you? A No sir.

Q When were you first asked about this matter? A I don't know; sometime in December I guess, or January.

Q Some time last January, is that the first time that you were asked about when you saw Mumford Robinson last? A Yes sir, that is the first time.

Q You never had this matter called to your attention until then? A No sir.

Q That was nearly 32 years after you had seen him there that you were asked about it? A Yes sir.

Q And then 32 years after that you remembered back about the boys digging potatoes 32 years before? A Yes sir, I remember the family well, because when I first went to Fort Scott there wasn't very many.

Q How much did you get for coming down here? A I haven't got anything yet.

By Mr. Hastings: I object to that; it is insulting to the witness.

Q Who first asked you about this matter? A I don't know, I suppose the judge of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Who is it, what is his name? A Mr. Keyes.

Q Did he tell you he was the Judge of the Cherokee Nation? A No, he didn't tell me so.

Q What makes you call him Judge of the Cherokee Nation? A I have learned it since.

By Mr. Hastings: That is not proper cross-examination of this witness.

A I am going to tell you I knew Judge Keyes before the war; he was in the army with my brother.

Q He is the man that came to you and asked you about them?

A Yes sir.

Q 38 years and nobody had ever called your attention to this fact before that time had they? A No sir.

Q Then you remembered back there it was in '68 the boys dug potatoes for you? A They didn't dig for me at all, they dug for Mrs. Anthony.

Q How many cases have you been a witness here in? A -

By Mr. Hastings: I submit this is not proper cross-examination, and I object to it.

By Commission: The objection will be noted; answer the question.

A How many have I? Three besides this I believe.

Q Who were they?

By Mr. Hastings: I submit that that is not proper cross-examination; I object to it.

By Commission: Objection noted; answer the question.

By Mr. Mellette: I have got the right to ask questions touching the knowledge of this witness in the matter that brings her here.

A I think it was Mrs. Nancy Thompson, Mrs. Gales and the Alonzo Hanley case.

Q How old did you say you are? A 57.

Q Were you married in '69? A No sir.

Q How long after that did you marry? A I married in '70.

Q What time in '70? A In March, 1871.

Q What day of March? A 15th of March.

Q Have you ever been married any more since that time? A No sir. My husband has been dead now three years.

By Mr. Hastings: I desire to introduce a certified copy of this contract. (Hands paper to Mr. Mellette.)

By Mr. Mellette: I object to the introduction, because it does not show where Mumford Robinson lived at the time he made it, and it does not show that it is the Mumford Robinson that was mentioned in the testimony.

By Mr. Hastings: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation desire to call attention to the fact that it does say Mumford Robinson and Annie Robinson of the County of Bourbon, and State of Kansas.

By Commission: There is offered in evidence by the representative of the Cherokee Nation a Warranty Deed made by Mumford Robinson and Annie Robinson, his wife of the County of Bourbon, State of Kansas, on the 17th day of December 1869; same is filed herewith.

MINERVA RUNYAN, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

By Mr. Hastings:

Q What is your name? A Minerva Runyon.

Q What is your age? A 48, in my 48th year.

Q What is your post office address? A Fort Scott, Kansas.

Q How long have you lived at Fort Scott, Kansas? A Well I lived there since 1868.

Q Do you know a colored man up there by the name of Mumford Robinson? A I do sir.

Q Do you know his wife? A Yes sir.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Annie.

Q Did you know any of their family? A I do.

Q Name as many of them as you can remember now? A William, James, Alonzo, Patette, Tobe and Wesley, that was the boys in the family, and there was Elizabeth Jane and Mary and Martha and Melvina, them was the girls.

Q Who did Melvina marry? A I don't know.

Q Did you ever know one of them married Mr. Hill? A Yes sir.

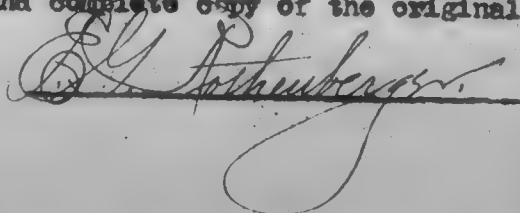

- Q What was her name? A Mary Ann.
- Q When did you first learn to know this family? A In '62 when I came there they was there.
- Q Neighbors from '62 until '69 continuously? A Continuously, they might have been there a little longer than that, but that much any way.
- Q How do you fix the date, Mrs. Runyon, that you knew them? A Well I fix the date by father's death.
- Q When did your father die? A Father died July 13th, 1866.
- Q Do you know they were living there then? A They were living there then; he raised a little crop and these boys helped us children gather our potatoes, as much as I can remember it was Frank and Tobe.
- Q How far did the family live from you? A They lived just the next, there was one lot, a fifty foot lot between us.
- Q Was that vacant or did it have a house on it? A I think there was a house partly on it; there was quite a space between their lot and our lot.
- Q You are a citizen of the State of Kansas? A Yes sir.
- Q Don't claim citizenship down here? A No sir.
- Q You came down here by a subpoena as a witness? A I did.
- Q You knew the family well I suppose? A I knew the family well.
- BY MR. MELLETT:
- Q You are a white woman? A I am a white woman.
- Q Did you say your age was 40? A My age is 48, in my 48th year.
- Q Have you ever seen any of the Robinson family you are talking about since the time you saw them in Fort Scott? A I saw Mary Ann on the street in Fort Scott, Kansas.
- Q They are colored people? A Yes sir.
- Q How is it you remember the names of the children 32 years? A Because I played with them. We was children together and I played with them, I remember them distinctly.
- Q Have you read the testimony given in this case since you came here, has it been read to you? A The testimony?
- Q Yes, that they gave, giving the names of the children? A No sir.
- Q Have you had the names called to your attention since you came here the names of these children? A I don't think I have.
- Q You could remember the names of those children 32 years? A Indeed I could, every one of them.
- Q You have remembered them that long? A I have remembered them that long.
- Q How old were you when your father died? A I was a girl of about 15 years, 14 or 15 years.
- Q And you remember the names of children 32 years you haven't seen since that time? A I do.

BY COMMISSION: This testimony will be filed and made a part of the record in the following Cherokee Freedmen cases: D-677, D-686, D-687, D-689, D-637, D-659, D-642 and D-1018.

W. W. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation asks that all the testimony introduced by the Cherokee Nation in the case of Freedman Doubtful 818, as well as in the case of Freedman Doubtful 800, be introduced and made a part of the record in this case.

MR. SMITH: The applicant objects because the said testimony
now offered was not taken under any rule of this Commission with reference to notice to the applicant or opportunity for cross-examination. The applicant further objects because the same is not the best evidence, because it is hearsay, and because it is immaterial and because it does not tend to prove any issue in this case, and because it is incompetent in manner and form offered.

COMMISSIONER: This testimony will be filed with and made a part

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of GUYARD FRIGHT as a Cherokee Freedman, introduced on part of the Cherokee Nation.

The Cherokee Nation by its representative makes satisfactory proof of service of H. B. Lawren, the attorney for the applicant in this case, that testimony would be introduced by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation tending to disprove the right of said applicant, Edward Wright to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation at the office of the Commission in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 3rd day of March, 1903, and from day to day thereafter until the same could be heard by the Commission during the usual business hours.

Cherokee Nation present by its representative, L. B. Bell.

C. V. Rogers, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation.

MR. BELL:

- Q Tell him your name? A C. V. Rogers.
- Q Age? A 63 years old.
- Q Place of residence? A Claremore.
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long have you been such? A All my life, a little over 63 years.
- Q Did you go out of the country during the war? A Yes, sir.
- Q When did you return? A '66.
- Q Where did you come to? A Come to Fort Gibson.
- Q And stayed there did you? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well what was your business? A After I come back?
- Q Yes? A I followed freighting for something over three years.
- Q Where and between what places? A Sedalia and Pleasant Hill and Kansas City to Fort Gibson.
- Q Were you ever acquainted with a Freedman by the name of Moses Whitire? A Yes, I know him.
- Q Where did he belong before the war? A He belonged in Coaling Snake District.
- Q Do you know what particular Whitire he belonged?
- A I don't remember whether he belonged to George Whitire or Leo Whitire.
- Q If you did see him when did you first see Moses Whitire after the war, after your return to the Cherokee Nation?
- A As well as I can remember it was in February, '68; I met him just on this side of the Neosho River, as they were moving back to this country from Kansas. There was between 24, from 24 to 25 wagons and I met them right on this side of the Neosho River; Dick Whitire, Moses Whitire and Aaron Whitire and old Major Wright is all I knew in the outfit.
- Q Did you have any conversation with them, stop and talk with them?
- A Yes, sir, and Col. Bill Ross passed while I was talking to them going to Fort Scott.
- Q Did you ask them where they was going to? A They said they was moving back.
- Q Well this 25 or more wagons was loaded with people?
- A Yes, mostly every one had household goods in them.
- Q Colony of Cherokee Freedmen? A Yes, sir, coming back to the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Well how that was; where you say it was? A It was right on this side of the Neosho River; between the old Hudson place and Neosho River.
- Q How far from the Neosho River? A I suppose half a mile.

Q How far is on the north line of the Cherokee Nation?
A I think the river is the line, about half a mile.
Q And how far is that from the Kansas line? A The Neosho is the line, way I understand it.
Q You had reference to where the military road crosses the Neosho river? A Yes, sir.
Q At Jack Molain's Ferry? A They called it Hudson Ferry at that time.
Q Hudson lived there? A Yes, sir, in about a half mile.
Q And this Moses Whitnire you met and talked with is the same one you knew in Going Snake and belonged to the Whitnire family there?
A Yes, sir.
Q About how old a man was he when you met him? A He is an older man I think than I am.
Q And you saw other with him you know? A I think Aaron Whitnire and Moses Whitnire and old Major Wright is the old ones I know.
Q And you talked with him there? A Oh, I guess I talked with him ten or 15, 20 minutes and while I was talking to him Col. Ross passed going to Fort Scott.
Q Do you know where this Man Whitnire lives now, Moses Whitnire you met?
A No, I don't know where he lives.

MR. HASTINGS, Cherokee Representative:

Q Don't you know he lives on Salt Creek near Hayden? A No, I don't know for certain I heard he lived on Big Creek. I don't know where he lives, I have saw him ever since I have been here. I don't think I ever was at his house.

APPEARANCES:

Hon. J. Scoville, representing E. B. Gibson, for applicant.
W. W. Hastings, for Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION: The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, called satisfactory proof of service on the applicant's attorney that it would, on the 26th day of May, 1902 introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said Edward Wright to enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. The applicant fails to answer by his attorney, E. B. Gibson, who is represented by Hon. J. Scoville, Nowata, Indian Territory.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence a decision of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship as found on page 57 of a book taken from the records of the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation entitled, "Book of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship," as follows:

"No. 85 Edward Wright

Judgment against plaintiff June 27th, 1873.

The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence the applicant on made for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by Lewis Whitner on the 26th day of June, 1873, as found on pages 154 and 155 book 5, entitled, "Citizenship Record 1874," as follows:

"Before the Commission sitting at Tahlequah to say claims to Cherokee citizenship.

The undersigned claims in the case of Lewis Whitner

Cherokee Nation

respectfully presents the following statement of his claim according to the requirements of the Commission.

Plaintiff states under oath and affirmation that he is a colored person formerly a slave owned by a citizen and resident of the Nation at the beginning of the late war, freed by law and made a citizen of this Nation by provision of the treaty of 1866. For claimant was at the time and place above said owned by George Whitmore, a Cherokee citizen, left the country during the war and returned in the summer of 1866 to select and prepare a place for his family (they then being without one) and again the following year prospecting the work as his circumstances and the condition of the country at that time prevented and leaving his family in the interval of time when they would subsist without discomfort and exposure and until a removal of this was practicable which removal of claimant finally was ascertained to the point of the Nation settled by claimant for their and his time in the spring of 1867.

Claimant's rights have been called in question by competent authority, and as therefore presents itself to the important examination of this Commission he is authorized so to do by law.

By W. F. Boudinot, Atty.

The Cherokee Nation offers the following from the same book and continuing on the same page, the application of Moses Whitmore as follows:

"Before the Honorable Commission sitting at Taniguan to try rights to Cherokee citizenship.

In case of Moses Whitmore

vs.

Cherokee Nation,

claiming Cherokee citizenship.

Claimant claims under the fifth specification of the classes of claimants to citizenship as found in the law creating this Commission, to wit as a colored person formerly a slave owned by one George Whitmore, Cherokee citizen, resident of this Nation, at the beginning of the late war, and freed by law and made a citizen by provision of the treaty of 1866. Claimant respectfully refers to the statement by claimant Leola Whitmore embracing the facts which the present claimant would submit to the Commission as the grounds of his claim.

Case No.

Leola Whitmore

vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Taniguan

July 3, 1872.

File filed in evidence for claimant called and sworn.
I am, I think, an about 44 years old. I live in Illinois.
Boudinot, C. F. is a citizen of the Nation. I have been on the tribunal roll but had my rights proven up before the Supreme Court.

Am a citizen under the treaty of 1866. I went north to the state of Kansas in '62. I returned in August - 1866 or 1867. I left my family in Fort Scott when I came. I came down to get in a claim. I staid about three weeks that time and then returned to Fort Scott. After I returned to Fort Scott there were others who started down. The Whitmire were of that number. The claimant was one of them. They came down in Decr. 1866. They returned to Fort Scott before I left there. I left Kansas about the end of Jan. in January, 1867 and got to the crossing of the Neosho River about the last of January. When I first came down there was about 15 in the party. They left their families in June & when they came down here. There was some of party come with the Whitmire who piloted the Whitmire party and my party were Sam Webber, Mike Daniels, Sam Webber, Jr., Aaron Webber, Hamlin Sanders, Buck Sanders.

The Whitmire party were Aaron, Lewis, Moses, Dennis and Nelson Whitmire and others that I do not recollect. The object of this party coming was for the purpose of erecting hom. ss. When I moved with my family I stopped on Pryors Creek at Mrs. Alberty's and remained about two weeks. The reason we left that part of the country was because that part of the country was too sparsely settled and bare of subsistence. As I was coming down the first time we were overtaken by the Herdies Delegation. They were sent and were here were authorized by others to look for claims for them, one was by Hekey requesting Abe Fields to locate for him. The original request filed.

Cross Examined.

I can not remember the date I arrived here the first time from Kansas. The claim we made I got three sets of house logs, hauled them and piled them up, and some of the men put up houses. I did not put up a house. I started back to Kansas about the middle of September. Then I first left the country it was in February, 1862. I was a slave before the war and was owned by Sam Taylor when the war broke out. He was living on a plantation near Barry Mountain on this side of Arka. River. When the Whitmires returned to Fort Scott I do not know when they left there to come to this country as I left them there when I left. It was reported when they returned to the Nation that the Whitmire party had built houses. But I do not know this myself as I was not along. I only heard they had. The war closed in 1865 I think. I did not know it myself but people told me who could read.

I do not know myself that it was the month of Aug. When I came here first, but I was told it was that time.

Re Direct.

It was the December following the time I first came down that the Whitmires came down first to select and improve claims.

Bluford Alberty, witness for claimant,

I reside in Coconococous District, C. I. I am a native Cherokee citizen. I left the Nation during the war. I returned to the Nation on the west side of Grand River, Coconococous District.

on the 3rd of September, 1866. I had occasion more time in the last of Oct., or the first of Nov. or probably at right have been in late in the middle of November, to go to the Viridilla. While out there I fell in with a party of seven or eight persons who were camped with others near Big Pouches. I did not go to the camp. They were colored people. I knew some of them. Their names were old Sam Webber, Aaron Whitlire, and a younger brother and Lewis Whitlire. There was another person whose name I did not know. I do not recollect any of the others and can not identify them. The Whitlires were Johnson and George Whitlire, Aaron, Lewis and his brother belonged to George. In conversation with Sam Webber he asked me if I knew anything about the treaty and if Jim Robinson had got home. I told him I had not heard the treaty, but had heard rumors about it. He said if they had come to pick themselves horses or make claims and that he was the leader of the company and the reason why Major Wright did not come was that he was an old man, but that he had sent his son down to work for him and was with a claim. He then asked what chance there was to get provisions over on the river. I told him there was none there, but that there was a lot of cornmeal flour at Gibson and if they would go there they would get some. He also represented that they had some claim to make claims for others who had remained in Kansas, to build their homes and so forth. They also stated that they were notified to go, and that they had accordingly come to make claims for themselves and the others that they left behind in Kansas. As near as I can recollect it was some time in October or November that I saw these parties. I was not very cold weather at the time. I recollect as I came out at night. Did not see any of these parties after this time, May, 1867. There was no provisions to be had in this country at that time. Provisions were very scarce. It was my understanding that they had come to prepare homes for themselves and families. They told me at least Major Wright belonged to Cornelius Wright before the war.

Cross Examined.

I asked after this group of them went back to Kansas. At the time I met them I do not know whether their families were with them. I think I saw Dennis Whitlire with this party, but am not certain of seeing Dennis or Nelson. I knew there was four of the Whitlire boys. They were born in the Nation and resided here up to the breaking out of the war.

A. W. Liberty.

Aaron Whitlire
vs
Cherokee Nation.

I know Hollins Battin. She was twelve or thirteen years old at the close of the war. She was living with her son and still lives in my family. Jack Landrum was one of the band above referred to, also Ransom Daniels. I learned from our leaders Uncle Mike and Sam Webber that the Cherokee delegates advised us to settle in a compact body on unoccupied lands. He crossed the river in coming down at Helena's Ferry in 1866. The chief Ferryman who crossed with him was Bill Martin. While on Lightning Creek in 1866 I saw Mr. Liberty but had no conversation with him, but Sam Webber had in my presence.

Now Examined.

I am a claimant before this court for citizenship. I am a half-brother of Aaron Whitmire, Louis, Dennis and Nelson are also my brothers. William Whitmire is my sister. Major Wright is my stepfather. The names of the party that came with me to the Nation are as follows: Mike Sanders, Sam Rehber, Peter Heiga, Will Foreman, Tuck Sanders, Ransom Daniels, Sam Rehber, Jr., Louis Whitmire, Nelson Whitmire, Dennis Whitmire, Aaron Whitmire, is all I can recollect now. Witness and my brother were authorized to make claims for others still back in Kansas. Dennis made a claim for Major Wright. I can't name any others. Witness was a son of family in 1865 when we came on from Kansas. My family was at Fort Scott. Melissa Ratliff, Ed Wright, and my wife and myself composed my family. Louis had no family. Aaron and Nelson did. Major, Sam, Nelson and Allen were Aaron's children and his wife, Sarah. They were left, the wife and children in Fort Scott when we came in 1866. Mike Sanders, Thos. Sanders were Nelson's family and back at Fort Scott. We went back 1st January 1866 to Kansas after coming to the Nation. Then witness returned in 1867 to the Nation Aaron, Louis, Nelson, Dennis, who had families all came as I did besides others not particularly remembered. This was the first time any of our families had been to the Nation at Fort mine, Aaron's and Nelson's.

The first time Mariah Whitmire was in the Nation after the war closed was after our parties returned in families in 1867.

The first time Major Wright returned was on our first trip in 1867. Melissa Ratliff was owned by one Albe Ratliff at breaking out of war. She first came in March 1867. Jack Lindrum was alone in 1866. He was a slave at the beginning of the war. I was present during the examination of Mr. Liberty as a witness in this case.

Re Direct.

Mariah's family at the close of the war was a separate family. Harry Whitmire, her son, represented his mother on the first trip in 1866. Witness is about 53 yrs. old. Major Wright was an old man at the close of the war. Louis Whitmire had been back to the Nation before 1866.

Claiming citizenship.

Now comes claimant by Atty before the Commission sitting at Tablequah to try certain claims for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and make this his statement of his grounds for said claim to wit-

Claimant is a colored person and claims an aforsaid under privilege of the fifth specification of the classes of claims preferred by law to the Commission to examine and decide rights by competent authority having been denied citizens.

Claimant belonged to Gen. Whitmire a Cherokee citizen at the commencement of the war of the rebellion and was then living in Ohio

Nation. After the beginning of said war claimant moved to or the vicinity of Fort Scott with his family at which location he resided until the summer of 1866 when he returned to this Nation and proceeded to select and improve a home on the Verdigris River for himself and family's permanent residence.

While he was thus making preparations for the removal of his family by providing for their habitation and subsistence at the place mentioned, they his family remained where they had been sojourning during the war.

Claimant was compelled by unfavorable circumstances and the attention he was obliged to bestow upon his family to remit his work upon his improvement on Verdigris River from the early fall of 1866 to the early winter of the same year, when he resumed labor upon his improvement, after which he removed his family as soon as practicable to his place in the spring of the year of 1867.

Claimant claims to have returned to this Nation in his own person and as representative of his family within the time provided for by treaty, in that having no residence to come to as other former citizens he did everything possible to constitute a return contingent with the duty he owed to his family by laboring as far as his means allowed to provide a home in this Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

Aaron Whitnire,

August 1st, 1878.

Wm. Martin, witness for claimant, called and sworn.

I live on Big Creek, Coovescoocoo, C. N. Am a citizen of the Nation. From August up to Christmas 1866 I was at the ferry on the Neosho River on the old Military road leading from Fort Scott, Kansas to Fort Gibson, C. N. Am acquainted with claimant and his brother, Lewis, never knew Aaron until I met him at the river. Lewis I knew prior to that time. While I was in charge of the ferry I recollect having met claimant and Mose, Lewis, Dennis and Nelson, Whitnire, Peter Helge, Mike Sanders, Sam Webber, and Young Sam, Bill Foreman and others but I do not recollect anything about them. They were traveling. They stated they were coming from Fort Scott, Kan., they were traveling from the direction of Fort Scott. I crossed them from the Shawnee side of the river into the Cherokee Nation, they inquired the road to Big Creek. McLean gave them the directions to the head of Big Creek. They stated the reason way they were coming was that the Cherokee Delegation had invited them to come back under the treaty. They mentioned Jim McDonald as the principal one who had invited them and they were then on their way to select themselves homes.

It was after the delegation returned that I met claimant and the others spoken of. It was pretty cold weather when I crossed them. It was as near as I can recollect about the last of October, 1866. I am positive it was before Christmas as I left them at Christmas or probably a few days before Christmas.

Cross examined.

I was not acquainted with the claimant nor any of the others named previous to the war.

I do not know who came before the war. I do not know whether they had lived in the Nation previous to the war. I do not recollect of seeing any of the families of the parties named at the time.

I crossed them over the river. I set some of this same party back over the river a short time after they had come in, Lewis, Nelson and Dennis Whitmire and little Sam Webber and I think they were more who crossed back but I can not place them now. I learned the names of the parties from conversation with them, but did not become particularly acquainted with their names at that time. I think there was one woman with the party, I think she was little Sam Webber though I would not be quite positive that there was a woman along or not. I was positive there was no children as I never seen any. They had camped there long enough that were they any women and children I would have known it. The next time I saw claimant was in the fall of 1867 on Big Creek. I learned from them that they had got there in March 1867. I know this from having heard it generally talked amongst themselves.

Be Direct.

At the present time the distance between our two settlements is about 5 miles. I recognize the claimant and the other parties spoken of. I have seen them frequently since that time, I set them over the river. When I saw them in the fall of 1867 they had their families with them then. The means of subsistence at the time I crossed in the country at that time was short.

George Whitmire before the war lived in Going Snake Dist. This Dist. borders on the line of the state of Arks.

Claimant now resides near the western line of the Cherokee Nation. The settlement before the war was sparse where claimant now resides. I would say the distance from where George Whitmire resided prior to the war, and claimant's present residence is 90 or 100 miles. Witness states that he had a conversation with Sam Webber in which Webber assigned as a reason for settling where he had was that Agent Jones advised the colored people after their freedom to settle in colonies as thickly as it was convenient to do in an uncultivated part of the country.

This was thought best for the colored man as they could have their own schools so until matters were more regulated in the country.

The first conversation was in the fall of 1866. The second conversation was in the spring of 1867. I saw several of their families in May, 1867 on Big Creek or Lightning Creek in the Nation.

About the 15th of May 1867 I first saw this party with their families at their new homes. Eliza and others of this colored party told witness that they returned in March 1867 to the Nation.

Re Direct
I learned from John Baker that most of this colored party returned to Kansas after their families and he remained. I was at general convention of the colored people in 1866. It was witness' understanding that the purpose of said convention was to ratify the treaty of 1865. I think the object of the convention was to ratify amendments to the constitution under the treaty and to ratify the treaty. The treaty was concluded the 8th of Aug. 1866 by information. It might have been July 15, 1866.

Witness went south during the war. J. B. Jones was not at the time herein mentioned. J. B. Acott but was a delegate and was agent afterwards.

Supplemental testimony.
Cherokee Freedman D-300

Appearance:
Melville S. Smith and F. P. Spence, for applicants;
W. C. Hastings, for Cherokee Nation.

The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation take proof of the proper service of notice of the introduction of testimony in the above case on this date.

Walter A. West, being first duly sworn by Commissioner Neelias,
testified as follows:

- Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A Walter A. West.
Q What is your age? A 60 years.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q By blood? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A 60 Years.
Q Were you out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir, I was out during the war three or four years.
Q When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation after the war?
A I came back in the spring of '68.
Q Where did you live in the spring of '68? A I lived up on Neosho River after I went up above.
Q How long did you live there? A I lived on Neosho, this side of Neosho River, about two or three months, and then I moved down below.
Q Do you know Thomas Mayfield, the applicant here present?
A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know him before the war? A No, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I got acquainted with him, I saw him in '69 the first time I saw him.
Q Well where was he? A Well he was on the military road right below where I was living.
Q From what point does that road run? A Runs from Fort Gibson,
at that time.
Q Whereabouts does it run north? A Fort Scott, Kansas, and Kansas City and Baxter Springs.
Q Well, state the circumstances of seeing him on the military road?
A I lived there on the military road and he came past by horse and camped there nearby, that is when I got acquainted with him, when I saw him.
Q Did he have his family? A He had a family with him I supposed to be his family.
Q Any others along with him? A Yes, sir, Jack Davis, Sandy Bean, and Jack Dean.
Q Had you ever seen him before? A Who you mean, Mayfield?
Q Mayfield? A No, sir.
Q Where had you been living the two years immediately before that, 1867 and '68? A Right on the military road there.

Q How far did Mr. Mayfield live from you after you saw him in '69?
A About five miles.
Q Did he stay there? A Yes, sir, rented a place across the river and lived on the place he rented.
Q Did you know where he was from where you first saw him? A I just supposed he was from up there in Kansas.
Q Tell all the circumstances, what you know about seeing him?
A He came down the road from Kansas, that direction, and he camped there, there is where I got acquainted with him.
Q Was he married? A Yes, sir.
Q Have his folks with him? A His family, this woman as lived on Mayfield's wife.
Q That is the first time you saw him in the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, the first time I saw him.
Q Is there anything that makes you positive about fixing the date in 1869? A No more than this; I had been trading with some government wagons, that is the man that was driving the wagons, selling some hay, the day he come there, and I got my hay for that two or three days afterwards, on the 20th I believe, February, 1866.
Q You mean 1866? A 1869.
Q Did you preserve any letter or document which shows that date when you received the pay for the hay? A Yes, sir, I have a paper that shows the date exactly, but I didn't preserve it at that time, I filed it away with all the papers I have, and I didn't think of it in this other case heretofore.
Q And you have that with you? A Yes, sir.
Q And what date does it show? A It shows I received my money on the 20th, that is my check.
Q On what month? A February, 1869.
Q You were pretty well acquainted in the neighborhood in '69?
A Yes, sir.
Q Had you been the two years previous? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you know any of the colored people who were in the crowd with Thomas Mayfield? A I did Jack Dean, I knew him.
Q Had you know him before the war? A Yes, sir, I knew him before the war.
Q Did you have any talk with him at that time? A Yes, sir, his wife was a servant of my wife's father, and they learned that we were there on the road and they came there and visited us, is how come me to know what I do of these circumstances.
Mr. Smith: Mr. West, you hadn't been acquainted with Thomas Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.
Q The time you speak of is the first time you ever saw him?
A Yes, sir, the first time I saw him.
Q You don't know how long he had been in the Cherokee Nation when you saw him? A No, sir.
Q You don't know whether he had his family with him at that time or not? A No, sir, He had a family but I don't know whether they were his or not.
Q When did you say you came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A I left Red River February 1st, 1866.
Q Where did you go to? A I went on up to Fort Scott, right direct through the country, to where my mother lived on this side of Fort Scott, Drywood.
Q How long did you stay there? A Till about the first or middle of May.
Q In what year? A 1866.
Q Then where did you go? A I came down to Neosho, in the Cherokee Nation, and there set up my tent and went to trading and trafficking with the travelers along the road.

- Q How long did you continue in that business? A I continued off and on the season through.
- A How long was the season? A From the time I went there till fall.
- Q From May until the fall? A Yes, sir.
- Q And where did you go from there? A I went lower down on the military road where I was stationed, where I first saw Thomas Mayfield, and I built a house.
- Q You built your house then in the fall of 1868? A Part of it, not all of it.
- Q When did you build the rest of it? A In 1867.
- Q How long after the time you saw Thomas Mayfield was it before you were called upon to remember anything about having seen Thomas Mayfield on that occasion; how many years? A It was during this Kern-Clifton examination.
- Q Now you saw him, Thomas Mayfield, you say, in 1869? A Yes, sir.
- Q When was the Kern-Clifton Commission? A I am not positive, '65 or '66; not '65, '66 when it was I believe.
- Q In 1896 was it? A It seems to me, I am not positive.
- Q Then that was about 26 years past it, from the time you had seen Thomas Mayfield? A Yes, sir, from the time I first saw him, but I saw him off and on all the time after I got acquainted with him.
- Q You have stated you had no occasion to remember the fact that you saw him upon this particular date in '66 until the meeting of the Kern-Clifton Court? A Yes, that drew my attention to it.
- Q That was about 28 years afterwards? A Somewhere along there I guess.
- Q Mr. West, did you remember for 28 years without ever having had any occasion to have your attention called to it, that you saw him upon a certain day that you got a letter or pay for the hay, or whatever it was? A Now as far as that is concerned, it is like this: we all remember when the people was coming in, and it was common talking when they come in.
- Q Just answer that question? A That is the one particular time.
- Q So 28 years afterwards you were able to remember that you had seen Thomas Mayfield about the time you got a letter or receipt for some hay or something that you had sold, is that right? A Yes, sir, somewhere along there.
- Q Well now Mr. West, what connection was there between Thomas Mayfield and the hay, that you can go back 28 years and remember and fix that date that you saw Thomas Mayfield by the letter which you are now talking about? A I had the transaction as I told you with these government teams, selling them hay, and the very day that he came there, the same day, that is the reason why I know it was the same time.
- Q Did you have but one transaction with the government men? A I had them often, but not as much as that was.
- Q How many times have you had transactions with the government teams about hay? A Two or three different times.
- Q Or three or four or half a dozen? A No, not that many.
- Q More than three or four? A Not over three or four.
- Q How can you go back 28 years and tell which one of these transactions it was you had had, and connect that particular transaction or any one with Thomas Mayfield 28 years after? A Simply I got a paper to that effect on that date.
- Q Did that paper say anything about Thomas Mayfield? A No, sir, that transaction never, but because of my knowledge.
- Q You say it didn't say anything about Thomas Mayfield? A No, sir.

Thomas Mayfield, - S 4.

Q You can go back 28 years and connect Thomas Mayfield with that particular transaction, how do you do that? A Simply I had that transaction at that time.

Q Were there not other transactions? A Yes, sir, but not so great as that was.

Q It couldn't have been some other transaction you had with the Government when you saw Thomas Mayfield? A It might have been some other, but it wasn't, that is all there is about that part of it.

Q Are you able to remember it was this particular transaction?

A Yes, sir.

Q Have you got that letter? A Yes, sir, it is just a receipt (hands Mr. Smith paper.)

Q (Returning paper) Mr. West, all that you claim about the paper about which you have spoken is that it carries that date by which you fix the time? A Yes, sir, it carries it, near about it.

Q Did you have that paper; were you a witness before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir, I was.

Q Did you have that paper then? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hunt that paper up? A I hunted it up during the Court time.

Q Were you subpoenaed as a witness during that Court? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you hunt the paper up, before or after you were subpoenaed?

A I hunted it up after I was subpoenaed, I didn't have occasion to hunt it up before.

Q You testified, I believe you stated, before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A Yes, sir.

Q Mr. West, you don't know where this man was in '66 do you?

A Not till that date, not before that date.

Q I say you don't know then where he was in '66 or at any time prior to '66? A Only that day of '66 when he passed my house.

Q He passed your house in '66 did he? A In '69 I meant, that is the first time; in '66 I don't know where he was, or any time before '69.

J. L. Thompson, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A J. L. Thompson.

Q What is your age? A 69.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q Do you know the applicant, Thomas Mayfield, the colored man there?

A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, I have to kinder study and tell you.

Q Did you know him before the war? A No, sir.

Q You have only known him since the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A West to Texas.

Q When did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war?

A I came to Fort Gibson in December, 1867, and Cabin Creek January, 1868.

Q Well, where did you first locate in this country, up near Vinita? A Right where I live now, but I didn't own the place then, I only rented it that season.

Q You have lived there ever since 1868? A No, sir, I moved away from there and moved back again.

Q You have lived in the same neighborhood ever since? A Yes, most always.

Q How far does Mr. Mayfield live from you, the applicant? A Where he lives now, just about five or six miles I reckon.

Q When did you first see Mr. Mayfield after the war? A Well, it must have been, to the best of my recollection, about '69 I reckon it was, I am pretty positive it was, to the best of my recollection.

Q Was he up there in that neighborhood when he first returned?

A No, sir, never heard of him.

Q Was there an investigation by the Supreme Court about five years after the war with reference to the return of colored people in the Cherokee Nation? A I don't remember.

Mr. Smith: I object to that as not being apparently the best evidence of the fact.

Q How far has Mayfield lived from you since you saw him in '69?

A He lives about as far now as he ever did.

Q Lives in the same neighborhood then? A Yes, sir, he lived right in the same neighborhood there, probably five or six miles from where he first settled.

Q You didn't know Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.

Mr. Smith: What time did you say it was, Mr. Thompson, when you came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A I said I came to Fort Gibson in December, 1867, I came to Cabin Creek in January, 1868.

Q In January, 1868? A Yes, sir.

Q You didn't know Thomas Mayfield before the war? A No, sir.

Q You don't know where he was in 1868? A No, sir.

Q You don't know whether he was in that neighborhood that you went to when you went up there or not? A If he was there I never heard of him, he might have been, so far as I know, but if he was I know I never heard of him.

Q He might have been there though? A He might have been, but I knew most of the darkies in the neighborhood.

Q You can't state he wasn't in that neighborhood when you went there?

A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: You never saw him? A I never saw him.

Q You were well acquainted throughout the neighborhood? A Yes, sir, I lived there before the war.

Q You were acquainted with it before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Was it thickly settled or thinly settled? A It was sparsely settled.

Q You knew people from a distance? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Smith: You didn't go around as soon as you got her and found out who was in that country? A No, sir, it wasn't my business.

Q And a man might have been here a year or two before you saw him?

A I don't believe he would have been in the neighborhood, I don't believe that long.

Q You don't know so, but you don't know he couldn't have been?

A Of course it wasn't my business to run around and hunt them up.

Q But you can't say whether Mayfield was there when you came there or not? A I can't positively say he wasn't there, but if he was I didn't see him.

R. L. Martin, being first duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A R. L. Martin.

Q What is your age? A 31.

Q What is your post office? A Penascola.

Q What was your father's name? A Joseph L. Martin.

Q Do you know the applicant there, Thomas Mayfield? A Yes, I think I do.

Q Did you go out of the Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you come back to the Nation after the war?

A November, '66.
Q Where did you go to? A Went to Texas.
Q Come back with your father? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you first locate after the war? A We located at our old place, called Greenbrier, on Grand River.
Q Did you know Tom Mayfield before the war? A No.
Q Did you know him after the war? A Yes, I knew him after the war.
Q Do you know when Tom returned to the Cherokee Nation? A No.
Q When was the first time you ever saw him after the war? A The first time I ever saw him to know him was about '69.
Q How far did he locate from you? A About two miles and a half; well I wasn't living there in '68, that is there I live now.
Q How far were you from him when he located there in '69? A I don't know really, I was at my old place, I guess down about ten miles.
Q How far were you from where you located in '68? Were you at your old place then? A Yes, in November, '66, about ten miles.
Q You were at the same place in November, '66 and in November, '69 also? A Yes, I made that by some although I did not stay there all the time, I was about from one place to another.
Mr. Smith: You were unmarried at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q A young man living with your father, and made that your headquarters? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did you spend most of the time? A I was here and there and in Texas and back and forward and on the road a great deal.
Q There part of the time and Texas part of the time and here and there? A Yes, sir.
Q Then that place you speak of was about ten miles from where Mayfield went to live, was it? A Yes, that is where my father lived.
Q At that time you didn't have a home, stayed with your father?
A I didn't have any certain place only at father's.
Q About what age were you then? A About 18 or 19.
Q When was it you first saw Thomas Mayfield? A The first time I remember seeing him I think was about '68, he was running a ferry.
Q And you are not right certain about its being '69? A Well, yes I am pretty certain it was '68 the first time I saw him to know him; if I saw him before I didn't know him.
Q Might that not have been '68? A Well, I don't know as it was, I think it was '68.
Q But you are not positive about it? A No, I will not be positive, it has been so long ago.
Q Well you didn't go back to your father's place at all until in November, 1868? A That is as early as I came there.
Q How long did you then stay at your father's place after you came back before you went away anywhere? A We were there all winter.
Q Then did you go back to Texas? A No, the next summer I was there and Pryor Creek, and most of the spring and summer.
Q But your father's place was ten miles at least from where Mayfield lived when you became acquainted with him? A Yes, sir.
Q How long was it then before you had a place of your own and went to living there regularly? A In '72 I moved there in about two miles and a half of him.
Q You have been living in about two and a half miles of him ever since '72? A Yes, sir; that is, until he moved away, he moved away from the place he was living on then seven or eight years ago.
Q You saw him from time to time until the time you became acquainted with him when you would be in the Cherokee Nation? Yes, sir, after I got acquainted with him I saw him often.

Thomas Mayfield - 7.

Q You of course don't pretend to say he hadn't been living up at a place ten miles away from your place when you became acquainted with him? A No, I don't know how long he was living here at all, only when I first saw him.

Lucien B. Bell, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: What is your name? A Lucien B. Bell.

Q What is your age? A 53, about.

Q What is your post office? A Vinita.

Q Do you know the applicant Thomas Mayfield? A Yes, sir.

Q He is present here is he? A Yes, sir. that is him right behind Smith.

Q Are you citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q You go out of the Cherokee Nation during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q What time did you return to the Cherokee Nation after the war?

A Well, I came back in the neighborhood of where I settled, right in a mile of where I located, in the latter part of 1867; I came into the Cherokee Nation along in May, 1867, stopped ten miles below there, or twelve, and made a little crop; I located right on Cabin Creek near the military road where it crosses it, on the south side.

Q How far was this from where Mayfield afterwards located, the applicant, Mayfield? A Well, I guess it was three, two or three miles, something like that, three and a half.

Q How long did you live at that place? A Well, if you count me living here now, I have been living here thirty odd years.

Q You own the place now? A I have sold some part of the claim off, but I have got my farm on the same claim.

Q You are familiar with that country? A Yes, I am pretty well acquainted with it, more so than that latterly; latterly I have been away from there a good deal.

Q You lived on that farm then at that time? A Yes, sir, I lived right on the same spot from 1867 to 1881, and then I moved about three quarters of a mile to another part of it.

Q When was the first time you ever saw Thomas Mayfield? A Well, I saw Tom Mayfield about two years after I returned, was the first time I saw him, about 1869.

Q Were you familiar with the place where he located, this section of the country and all? A Yes, I saw him on the other side of the Grand River sorter opposite the mouth of Cabin Creek; he lived there; I don't know whether he was living on his own place or not, probably it was the Bill Hicks place where I saw him first; that is all in the same neighborhood.

Mr. Smith: He was living there when you did see him? A Oh yes he was living there; he wasn't dead.

Q He hadn't just come there had he? A I can't say as to that, I know about when he first came, about when I first saw him; I know when the people around there said he came in.

Q I am asking you about your own personal knowledge? A I told you that is the first place I saw him, I don't recollect whether he said to me he had just come or whether he had been there, I don't recollect that we talked about that; I had known him some years before that.

Q You have already answered my question. A Well that is enough.

Q Are you the chief counsel of the Cherokee Nation in these Tracts?

Thomas Hayfield - 8.

ings in the matter of the enrollment of the Freedmen before this Commission? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Hastings: Is there anything else you desire to state with reference to Hayfield's return? A No, I don't know that I know of anything further than what I have stated about him, of my personal knowledge.

Mr. Hastings: We desire to have that testimony thrown in the case of Charles Hayfield, et al, Freedman D-202, and Melinda Martin et al, Freedman D-206.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Cherokee Nation represented by W. W. Hastings.

COMMISSIONER: The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, makes satisfactory proof of service on the attorneys for the Applicant, Mellette & Smith, residing in Indian Territory, that it would, at the office of the Commissioner at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 15th day of May, 1902, introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said Thomas Hayfield to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman. The Applicant and his attorneys have this day, to wit the 15th day of May, 1902, been called and failed to respond either in person or by attorney.

GEORGE A. CAMPBELL, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. HASTINGS: What is your name? A George A. Campbell.

Q. What is your age? A. 58 years old.
 Q. What is your occupation? A. Carver, Kansas, Anderson County.
 Q. How long have you been a resident of Carver, Kansas? A. I have been there 22, or some odd years, came there in '56.
 Q. Did you live there for the first few years after the war? A. Yes, sir, right after the war I was there always.
 Q. Did you live there in '58 and '59? A. Yes, sir.
 Q. Did you know a man named Mr. Thomas Mayfield? A. Yes, sir.
 Q. Did you know him first? A. Yes, sir.
 Q. What was his wife's name? A. Her name was Eliza, she used to wash for my mother.
 Q. When did you first learn of their being a well just right away after the war? I don't know whether it was '55 or '56, well '56 or '57 and they lived on our place, I think they had a lease for three years and I believe they took that lease in '56.
 Q. Well do you know where that well was? A. Yes, sir.
 Q. Where were they? A. They were down on my mother's place.
 Q. Well what did they have there? A. They left there in the winter or fall of '58 in a well.
 Q. Do you know what or who was down there in the year of '58? A. Yes, sir, I know right well.
 Q. How did they get down there? A. They got down in the same field.
 Q. In the same field? A. Yes, sir.
 Q. Did they claim to be Cherokee Indians? A. Well I believe they did.
 Q. Do you know where they said they had got when they left there? A. They said they were going to the Nation.
 Q. You say you lived in the same field with them? A. Same field with him, they had a lease on my father's place, and he bought their crop that fall after they had it.
 Q. What fall? A. Well, I married in '58 as the reason I know this, and they were married for a while, and my father was probate judge and he left everything to me, in '58 or I recollect all those things, and I don't see nothing about farming, never had none my farming for a while, and I would go over to his and ask what I should do the next day, and what I should have done and so on.

In the matter of the application of Thomas Mayfield for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee Freedman.

SUPPLEMENTAL TO D-200.

APPEARANCES:

Mellette & Smith for applicant.
W. W. Hastings for Cherokee Nation.

MR. HASTINGS: The Cherokee Nation offers in evidence a decision of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation taken from a book labeled "Docket of Decisions Cases for Cherokee Citizenship Tried in 1871," from Saline District, the following:

"No. 60. Thomas Mayfield.

Decided against defendant June 2, 1871."

MR. SMITH: Counsel for applicant objects to the introduction of the matter offered for the reason that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and because the matter offered is not proven to be a judgment rendered against anybody, and because it is insufficient to prove any issue in this case, and because it does not tend to prove any issue in this cause, and because the same is not competent to be offered before this Commission in evidence in the form sought to offer it, and because the Thomas Mayfield mentioned therein is in no way shown to be identical with the applicant in the above entitled application.

W. W. Hastings, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

My name is W. W. Hastings; I am one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation. This book was given me as coming from the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation, where the records of the Supreme Court, as well as citizenship courts, are kept, and this book is part of the records of the Executive Department of the Cherokee Nation, and at the present time in my keeping as one of the representatives of the Cherokee Nation.

Arthur G. Croninger, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he

MR. HASTINGS: What is your name? A J. M. Johnson.

Q What is your postoffice? A Garnett, Kansas.

Q What is your age? A 56 years old.

Q What is your business? A My business is real-estate, loan and abstracting.

Q I believe you have already testified that you have lived at Garnett since '59? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know a colored man up there by the name of Tom Mayfield?

A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q What was her name? A Mollie.

Q Did they have any children? A One son in t I remember.

Q What was his name? A Charley.

Q When did you learn to know Thomas Mayfield? A In '66.

Q In '66? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he live then, I mean how far did he live from you, in the town or country? A He lived about no miles and a half from Garnett.

Q From Garnett? A Yes, sir.

Q What direction from town? A Southeast.

Q How long did he continue to live there, when did he leave there?

A He left there in '68 or after '68, he was there on the 25th day of December, 1868.

Q Do you remember it? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever work with him? A No, sir, I was out of his place different times.

Q You was at his place different times? A Yes, sir.

Q On whose place did he live, if you remember? He first lived on J. C. Gibean's place, an uncle of mine.

Q An uncle of yours? A Yes, sir, in '66.

Q Well it was after '68? A Yes, sir, when he liv d on my uncle's place was July, '66.

Q Where did he live after that? A Well he moved about half a mile southeast onto J. Y. Campbell's farm.

Q Did he make a crop there in '68? A Yes, sir.

Q And sometime after this crop was made before he came to the territory? A Yes, sir.

MR. SMITH: When was it you say he left there? A He left there in '68, after '68.

Q Well how long after '68? A I couldn't tell you just wht time he left in '68, he was there on the 25th day of December, '68.

Q December of '88? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was he on the 25th day of August, '88? A He was there on Judge Campbell's farm.

Q How do you know? A Knew those was where he lived until he left Kansas, left Anderson County.

Q Well the question was where was he on the 25th day of August, '88? A Well now, I couldn't say where he was.

Q Where was he you say the last time you saw him? A He was there on Judge Campbell's place.

Q When did he go on Judge Campbell's place? A I think he moved on Judge Campbell's place in '87.

Q What time in '87? A Spring of '87.

Q Where did he go from, where was he living before? A He moved from Gibson's farm, right adjoining Campbell's.

Q How long had he been there? A I don't know, only the year '86, he moved Gibson's place in '86, part of it.

Q That line of the year was it in '88 when you first saw him? A I think sometime in June.

Q Sometime in June? A Yes, sir, that was my first recollection.

Q Well that's been how long ago? A Which, '88?

Q Yes, sir. A Be about 24 years, wouldn't it?

Q From now? A Yes, sir, this is 1902, and '08 would be about twenty - let's see, 30, '86, would be more than that, be about 32 years ago.

MR. HASTINGS: How many years did you say now it was, after you have figured it up? A '86 would be 30, and four would be 34, and two would be 36 this year.

MR. SMITH: Well now after that lapse of time what is it that makes you remember that it was in June '88 that you first saw this man? A This uncle of mine died in '86, July of '86, that's what fixed it, he was living there on the place when he was taken sick.

Q Who was? A Mayfield, living on my uncle's farm.

Q Have you ever seen him since he went away from there? A No, sir.

Q Well you don't know whether that is the same man that is the applicant in this application or not? A No, sir, I would say that he was.

Q Well, Mr. Johnson, when did you first have your attention called to the fact that Thomas Mayfield left Kansas? A Last week when I was talking with parties about these other colored people I mentioned him.

Q Well now when was he first mentioned to you? A Which, about Thomas Mayfield? He were talking about the colore' people, and that is the way it come up, I spoke of Mayfield myself, and they were talking to the old ones that lived there.

Q Where? A At Ournett.

Q Why did you do that? A They were asking me what colored families I knew.

Q Well did they ask you about Thomas Mayfield? A No, sir, I told them about Mayfield, they were asking me and the other parties and trying to fix the names, and I spoke of Mayfield myself, named him among the others.

Q Well he didn't go away from there at the same time according to your idea of it that McNair went away, did he? A No, sir, McNair was among the first that left.

Q Which ones? A I think Sandy Bean left at the same time.
Q Who else? A I don't know but the other Beans, some of them Beans, I think that probably all of them.
Q Well what were their names, who were they? A There was Tobo, and Joe, there was five of them all together.
Q What was this man McHair's name? A Riley.
Q Riley McHair? A Yes, sir.
Q Well now, Mr. Johnson, when was the matter first mentioned to you could you remember of your independent recollection the date when Mayfield left there? A Yes, sir.
Q Just remembered that? A Remembered that from the circumstances which occurred, just related.
Q Well you had to look up the record about McHair? A Yes, sir, but I didn't about my uncle's death, and things of that kind, circumstances that occurred about that time, know the time that they lived at McHair's, and they left there, and the length of time they lived on there.
Q You remembered Mayfield better than you did McHair? A Yes, sir.
Q When was it you say your uncle died? A July, '66.
Q '66? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say Mayfield didn't leave until '69? A '69, sometime in the first of '69.
Q Let's see, '66, that was some time after your uncle died?
A About a year and a half.
Q Well he died in '66? A Yes, sir.
Q The next year would have been '67? A Yes, sir.
Q Next '68? A Yes, sir.
Q Been two and a half, wouldn't it? A Yes, sir, two and a half years.
Q Well there was nothing about that fact or month that you have stated that would have made you remember this ran two years and a half after your uncle died, was there? A No, sir that occurrence, that would be about all, being bound back to my uncle's death there, and knowing Mayfield and my uncle, the time that they lived on Campbell's farm.
Q Well how long did they live on Campbell's farm? A About two years and a half, two years.
Q Well he lived on Campbell's farm then all the time from the time of your uncle's death on until they left? A Yes, sir.
Q Well now 36 years afterwards you remember whether it was one year and a half, two years and a half, or three years and a half?
A Could from the facts that I told you about.
Q Well you stated a minute ago that it was a year and a half? A Two years and a half after figuring.
Q You had to figure it then? A No, I hadn't made no account of it, no.
Q Well now after a lapse of 36 years do you think that you can be positive that that man lived there two and a half years after you got acquainted with him there? A Yes, sir, by the events and circumstances that occurred, yes, sir.
Q Well now what event occurred? A Well circumstances that we were thrown together, and being back and forth from visiting.
Q What was the circumstance? A Hunting and fishing.
Q Well that long afterwards do you remember whether you had hunted and fished with a man a year or two? A Well, about seasons; '68 was a dry year with us, and about compelled to go to the creek for water, we could tell what people were living there, would remember it.

Q That's in the early part of '07? A That he left there, yes, sir.
 Q Well the place left there in the early part of '07? A None that I know of.
 Q Anybody leaves there in the early part of '07? A There was several parties left there in '07.
 Q 1911? A I think there were some of them left in '11.
 Q 1912? A I couldn't say about '12.
 Q Well you remember better the further back it goes? A Being associated with them, I would know better. If I had been associated with them after that probably it would have been increased in my mind. I might remember it just as well after as back there.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment
as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Mellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by
W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation,
No. 17209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F.D. 498, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Jessie A. Slaughter, D 677;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case.
Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship.
Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings:

The Cherokee Nation certainly most strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case re-opened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of Sidney West for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

A. Sequoyah, agent for applicant;

W. W. Barnidge, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SIDNEY WEST, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Sidney West.

Q How old are you? A I really don't know.

Q About how old? A I am about, as near as I can come at it, about 56 I guess.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hayden.

Q What district do you live in? A Coconawpoo.

Q Do you apply to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

Q Who do you want to enroll besides yourself? A Just my children.

Q How many children? A Six.

Q Have you got any children under age? A No, sir.

Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A I don't know, sir, whether it is on there.

Q You don't know whether it is on any roll or not? A No, sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The 1880 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

Mr. Sequoyah: Mrs. West, can you give any reason why you are not on any of the rolls? A Well, I followed the Kern around to Gibson and to Vinita and I followed them to Anderson, and they didn't put me on because I didn't have any witnesses just then.

Q What court do you mean by that? A Kern's.

Q The Kern-Clifton enrollment? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the reason you didn't have any witnesses with you?

A Well, I thought I would find witnesses there on the ground and it seems like nobody didn't want to own me.

Q Who did you belong to? A John West.

Q Were you here in the Cherokee Nation during the war between the Confederates and the Union rebellion, the last war? A During of the war, no sir.

Q Were you here before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A Went down to the Choctaw
Nation.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was your husband? A Charles Chambers.

Q How long did Charles Chambers and yourself live together?

A We lived together till we raised a family.

Q Do you remember what year you came back to the Cherokee Nation
after the war? A In '65 they told me, the fall of '65.

Q Who came back with you? A Charles Chambers.

Q Anybody else? A No, sir, because we went out from Red River here.

Q What part of the Cherokee Nation did you come to when you returned? A Sequoyah.

Q Do you know the reason why you are not enrolled on the 1880 roll?

A Why I don't know nothing at all about it.

Q In fact, you had no one to look after you? A No, sir, I didn't have anyone to look after me.

Q Just alone? A Myself alone.

Commissioner: Were you a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q To whom did you belong? A John West.

Q Was he a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you born? A On Grand River.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q And you went out during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go any farther south than the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir.

Q Been living here in the Cherokee Nation with that exception all your life? A No, sir, I have been in and out through the Creek Nation and then back in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Did you ever apply to the Creek Nation for enrollment? A No, sir.

Q You never drew any money from the Cherokee Nation then at all?

A No, sir.

Q Never been recognized? A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you live before the war? A On Canadian.

Q In Canadian district? A Yes, sir.

Q Is your old master alive? A No, sir, he is dead.

Q Your young master alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Tell John West? A Yes, sir.

Q You belonged to them when the war came up? A Yes, sir.

Q You went south during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Now you stated a while ago that you followed that Kern-Clifton court around, and that you never could get a hearing, d'nd't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q You didn't get any hearing, did you? A No, sir, I never get any hearing from it.

Q I don't want you to misunderstand, you mean you never got to go before the court? A Yes, sir, I went before the court.

Q But you couldn't find any witnesses then? A No, sir.

Q Wasn't Charlie Chambers there? A He was there.

Q Wasn't Columbus Lasley there? A Yes, sir, he was there.

Q Couldn't you get them to swear for you then? A No, sir, I didn't, I didn't try, I must tell you the truth about it, for I was sick at the time.

Q Well, you followed them around from different places? A Yes, sir, I followed them around, me and my young mistress went to Vinita and they wouldn't hear her there at all.

Q What was her name? A At that time she was a Brewer, but she is Mrs. Ruthie Finley now.

Q Where does she live? A Oolagah.

Q Does she know when you came back? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you come back with her? A No, sir, I came ahead of her.

Q Where did you come in the Cherokee Nation? A Sequoyah district.

Q Now who came with you? A Charles Chambers.

Q Did anybody else besides Charlie Chambers come with you? A Not with us they didn't.

Q Well, you came to Sequoyah district, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, who did you live with down there in Sequoyah? A I lived with Charlie Chambers until he came away, then he left me living in a place belonging to a widow woman named Mrs. Franklin, near Jack Campbell's.

Q Did you continue to live there? A Yes, sir, lived there three years.

Q Do you know John Melton? A Well, no sir, I don't know whether I did or not.

Q Who did you know down there in that settlement? A John Campbell.

Q He is dead, is he? A Yes, sir, he is dead.

Q Anybody that is living that was there then? A Well, old man

Jack Campbell, he is dead too.

Q How about Dr. Campbell, at Illinois Station? A I don't know nothing about him.

Q Anybody else down there that you can think of that is living now?

A Well Harrison Foreman was one.

Q Was he living down there then? A Yes, sir, he was right there then.

Q Where was he living? A Living with his grandmother about a mile from Mrs. Franklin's next to the river.

Q Do you know Mrs. Franklin's daughter, Eliza McGrady? A Well, I don't know, she might have been married and away from there, I don't know, I know one they called Malinda.

Q Did you live with Charlie Chambers as husband and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him after you came up there, up to Sequoyah district? A We lived together there about a year.

Q About what time of the year was it you came there? A When we came to Sequoyah, it was in the winter.

Q That was the winter after the close of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q That was the next winter was it? A It was that coming winter.

Q The war closed in the spring and that was the next winter, coming winter? A Yes, sir, that following winter.

Q You came up there with him? A Yes, sir.

Q And you lived there with him about a year? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live with him until the winter following that? A He left in the spring.

Q The following spring? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you see him any more? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you see him? A Well, I came to Gibson and we lived there together again when I came there.

Q Well, how long had he been gone before you went up there?

A He had been gone about a year.

Q And you went up there and lived with him, to Gibson? A Yes, sir.

Q It was about a year after he left you before you went to Gibson?

A Yes, sir.

Q Then that was about two years after the war when you went to Gibson? A Yes, sir, it was about three years.

Q Where did you go from Gibson? A I went to Tahlequah; went to Park Hill.

Q Did you live with Charles Chambers at Park Hill? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him there? A Well, I don't know, really, exactly how long it was that we lived together there, some year or two.

Q Then where did you go? A I went to Tahlequah.

Q How long did you stay there? A I stayed around about Tahlequah about a year or maybe longer.

Q Well, where did you go from Tahlequah? A I came to Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you live there? A I stayed to Pryor Creek about a year.

Q Well, then where did you go? A I went to Timber Hill.

Q Who did you live with at Timber Hill? A Lived with my sister.

Q What was her name? A Harriett Harmon.

Q Where did you go from Timber Hill? A Well, I hired myself to a man over in the Creek Nation.

Q About when was that? A I really can't tell you.

Q About how many years ago? A Well, I just can't tell you that, to be honest with you.

Q As much as 20; about how long after the war was it? A I don't know as I can tell you that.

Q Well, just try to give us some sort of an estimate of it, to the best of your judgment how long after the war was it you went over into the Creek Nation? A I reckon about ten or twelve years, and maybe longer.

Q Have you married over there? A Yes, sir, I married over there.

Q What was your husband's name? A Holey Scott.

Q Is that your present husband? A Yes, sir, he is dead though.

Q Did you just keep the name of West, your maiden name? A Yes, sir, my name never was changed.

Q Where did he die? A He died in the Creek Nation.

Q Are you living there now? A No, sir.

Q When did you move back from there? A Been about five years.

Q You moved back when the Kern-Clifton Court was around here?

A Before that.

Q Just a little before that? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived over there all the time up to then? A No, sir, when I married I didn't live with him about two years before he died, and I came back to the nation.

Q Where did you live? A I went to Four Mile Branch.

Q Who did you live with there? A A cousin of mine, Isaac Wilson.

Q How long did you live with Isaac Wilson? A Well, a year or so to my best knowledge.

Q Haven't you got a whole lot of children? A Yes, sir.

Q What are their names? A James.

Q Well, name them? A Sabra.

Q How old is Sabra? A Well she was born the spring season was declared.

Q Did you bring her back from the south with you? A Yes, sir.

Q And you walked? A Yes, sir, and carried two children.

Q Her and what other one? A That one is dead.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Hattie.

Q What are your other children's named who are alive?

A William Chambers.

Q Where was he born? A Born down in Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Eliza.

Q Eliza Chambers? A Yes, sir, she lives down here to Claremore.

Q Where was she born? A She was born down to Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Dick.

Q Where was Richard born? A Park Hill.

Q How old is Richard? A I really can't tell you his age.

Q What is the next one? A Sarah.

Q Her name Sarah Smith now? A No, sir, she is not a Smith now, she is a Charman.

Q Where was Sarah born? A She was born in the Creek Nation.

Q Whose child is she? A Henry Smith.

Q Were you ever married to anybody besides Scott? A No, sir, I never was married to anybody besides Scott over there.

Q Didn't you testify before the Kern-Clifton Commission that you lived west of Checotah, towards the sunset of Checotah, at that time? A Yes, sir, I did, I told you it was in the Cherokee Nation though.

Q You said it was towards the sunset from Checotah? A No, sir, I never did live in that direction.

Q You never said that? A No, sir, if I did I don't remember it, I meant to tell you I never did live in that direction.

Q Did you say you lived near Henry Schoonover? A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live? A It was to his house, to my judgment, about as much as two or three miles.

Q How long did you live that far from him? A Well, I lived there during the time I was married there, for two years.

Q Henry Schoonover lives in the Cherokee Nation? A I know he does.

Q You said a while ago that you lived in the Creek Nation? A Well I did.

Q That is when he lived near you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, how long have you lived in Canadiana district now? A I don't ~~live~~ live there.

Q Where do you live? A I live up here on Lightning Creek.

Q When did you move up here? A Over five years ago.

Q Where did you move from up here? A I moved from the Creek Nation.

Q Now, how long had you been living in the Creek Nation when you moved up here? A I hadn't been there more than a month or two, because I went from Fort Gibson over there.

Q How long had you been living at Gibson when you went over there?

A I was just going backwards and forwards.

Q Where did you have a house? Have one at Gibson? A Yes, sir, I had a house at Four Mile Branch, well at Park Hill.

Q When did you have one there? A When me and Charlie lived there.

Q After that? A I never had a house after that, I was just working out.

Q You never had a house after that? A No, sir.

Q That was about four years after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You never had a house? A Yes, sir, just working around among the people, I would just go and leave the children at people's houses.

Q Where have these children been living? A Left them once with my sister.

Q What is her name? A Mintie Martin.

Q Where does she live? A On Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you leave them there? A Left them once about six months, and another time near about a year.

Q Now tell me how long you have been living in the Creek Nation?

A Well I haven't told you.

Commissioner: Tell it again, about how long? A To the best of my recollection, I haven't been living there continuously.

Mr. Hastings: All the time, combined? A I can't go to work and tell you that, it wasn't combined at all, because I was just backwards and forwards.

Q Did your husband have a home over there? A Yes, sir, he did.

Q What did you do with it after he died? A Well, his daughter took it and sold it to McKellop.

Mr. Sewichie: Which McKellop? A Albert.

Commissioner: You lived backwards and forwards in the Creek Nation and the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you could get work? A Yes, sir, wherever I could get work to support my children.

Mr. Hastings: Have you worked any in Kansas? A No, sir, I don't know where Kansas is.

Q Never worked there? A Never was in the state in my life.

Q Arkansas? A No, sir.

Q Texas? A No, sir, the nearest place I have ever been was Fort Smith and I was called there as a witness.

Q You had two children, Lucinda and Eva, born in the Creek Nation?

A No, sir, never had a child of that name in my life.

Q They are your grandchildren? A Might be.

Q I ask you if you knew them, Lucinda and Eva Colonel?

A That is right.

Q You know them now? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they born? A They were born in the Creek Nation I reckon, because I don't know nothing about it.

Q Whose children are they? A They are my daughter's children, they are in the Creek Nation with their father.

CHARLIE CHAMBERS, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Charlie Chambers.

Q About how old are you? A 70 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hudson.

Mr. Sequichie: Do you know Mrs. Sidney West here? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you and her ever live together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Who... were you married? A Well, we were not married, we took up together just like the darkies always just used to do; there wasn't anybody to marry us in that time.

Q When was that? A That was in the war time, just directly after the war first came up.

Q Where did you first become acquainted with her? A When I first got acquainted with her, that was away before the war, I got acquainted with her at Fort Gibson, but when we came together that was on Red River.

Q During the war? A In time of the war.

Q How long did you and her live together? A We lived together I guess about, as well as I can recall it, six or seven years.

Q Did you return back to the Cherokee Nation with her? A Yes, sir.

Q What year was that? A They told me it was in '65, they wasn't hardly stopped fighting yet, when we came along, they were killing all along the road.

Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Sequichie: I would like to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Commissioner: He isn't an applicant; there is no use to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you know this woman down south? A Knew her right at John West's.

Q John West living down there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Charlie, you ever been up before the courts any? (No response)

Q Ever tried at Fort Smith; answer the question? A Well yes I told you that; you ask me that every day.

Q Convicted? A No, sir.

Q Was you ever tried in the Cherokee courts? A Yes, sir.

Q Ever tried by the United States Court at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around when the Kern-Clifton Commission was making the roll five years ago, were you? A Yes, sir.

Q You never testified for this woman then? A No, sir.

Commissioner: Why didn't you testify for this woman then when they were making the Kern-Clifton roll? A I suppose she testified for herself down to Gibson, she wasn't with me then.

Q Did she ask you to testify for her? A No, sir.

Q Was this woman Sidney West a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did she belong to? A She belonged to John West.

Q John West a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she taken out of the country during the war? A Taken out at the commencement of the war.

Q Where to? A She was taken down there to Red River in the Choctaw Nation.

Q Do you know when she came back? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Came back in '66.

Q You came with her? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with her after that? A After I came back, why I lived with her a little while down there and I left her down there and I came on back up to Tahlequah, and she came there, and I don't know how long we did live together there.

Q For say you lived with her in the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir, lived there this side of Fort Smith in the Cherokee Nation.

Q You know where she has been living since that? A No I don't, when I left her all I know about her, I left her right there between Fort Gibson and Tahlequah.

Mr. Hastings: You know she has been living in the Creek Nation? A Yes, sir, I had heard she was living in the Creek Nation.

A She has married over there? A Yes, sir.

Q He lived over there until a few years before the Kew-Clifton Commission? A No, sir, she hadn't been living there ever since, of course her husband wouldn't allow her to come back, and as quick as he was died, she came back.

Q How much are you charging this woman for testifying for her, anything? A No, not charging her a cent.

Q You charge any of these people anything to testify for them?

A Some of them I do, of course they have got to pay me while I stay here.

Q What is the most you ever charged any of them to testify for them? A I don't know, I can't say, sometimes three or four dollars.

Q How long did you live with her down in the lower part of the Cherokee Nation? A Down this side of Fort Smith, I didn't stay there long, I don't know; I came there along the spring and stayed there along in the summer, and I came on up here.

Q Who did you leave with her? A Nobody but her children.

Q Living in a house? A Yes, sir.

Q On whose place? A It was on nobody's place, it was on an old waste place we had come on to.

Q Made a crop, didn't you? A No, sir.

Q What did you live on? A Just what I could work around and get.

Q Who did you work for around there? A I don't know the man's name, I worked a little in town, I worked a little around in town, I don't know who I worked for, I don't know the man's name.

Q Well, when did you see her next? A She came up to Tahlequah, she came herself.

Q You ran off and left her down there? A Yes, sir, I come off and left her down there.

COLUMBUS LASLEY, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Columbus Lasley.

Q How old are you? A 35.

Q What is your postoffice? A Tahlequah.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Bequith: Mr. Lasley, do you know Mrs. Sidney West? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a slave? A I can't tell you that.

Q Do you know what year she returned from the south, after the war?

A Not exactly I can't, I can tell you about what time I seen her.

Q When did you see her after the war? A In the beginning of the war I lived at Fort Gibson, and in '67 we lived out to Four Mile Branch, what is called Four Mile Branch east of Fort Gibson; shortly after that time is when I saw her.

Mr. Hastings: You know where she has lived since that time? A I know several different places; she lived at what is called Park Hill since that time.

Q Where else? A Well, I said I don't know, I don't know all them, she told me she lived over here on Canadish or some place, in the Creek Nation somewhere.

Q You never saw her there? A No, sir.

Commissioner: What time is '67 did you see this woman? A It was in '68 we went out on the Four Mile Branch, it was after that I got acquainted with her.

Q What time of the year, do you recollect? A No, sir, my recollection, it was the spring or summer.

Q Or fall? A I think it was in the summer.

Q You think it was after the first of January? A No, sir, it was in '87 when we went out there, and after that I saw this woman.

Q What time in '87 did you go out there? A We went out there in the summer.

Mr. Sequichie: I wish to explain for her that she is very humble in her circumstances, and we have witnesses in Muskogee we wish to introduce, who live there, Mrs. Finley and Mr. West.

Commissioner: Sidney West applies for the enrollment of herself. Her name is not found upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation. As to her residence and citizenship, reference is made to the testimony. She will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman upon a doubtful card, awaiting the further consideration of the Commission. She will be notified by mail of the decision of the Commission when arrived at.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q Once before this? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the name of your first husband? A Bob Jamison.

Q Was he a Cherokee Freedman? A A Creek.

Q Is he dead or alive? A I don't know sir, whether he is dead or not, I think he is living though.

Sarah Chatman - 2.

Q When did you and he marry? A It has been quite a while, I can't tell you.

Q Are any of these children his children? A No, sir.

Q Give me the names of your children? A Evaline Chatman.

Q How old is Evaline? A She is 10 years old.

Q Well, will Chatman be the father of that child? A She goes by the name of Jimison.

Q What is the child's name? A Evaline Jimison.

Q What did you tell me it was Chatman for? A I thought it was on that paper that way.

Q I asked you what is the child's name? A Jimison is the child's name.

Q Now give me the name of the next child? A Henry Caesar.

Q How old is Henry Caesar? A 7 years old.

Q Give me the name of the next child? A James Chatman.

Q How old is James Chatman? A He is 14.

Q Now the next child? A Nannie Chatman.

Q How old is Nannie? A 10 months old.

Q Are these children all living now? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you got somebody here who knows about your having lived with this man Jimison and knows something about these children?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who is it? A My mother and brother.

Q What is her name? A Sidney West.

Sidney Scott, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Give me your full name? A Sidney Scott.

Q Aren't you enrolled as Sidney West? A Yes, sir.

Q What did you give in the wrong name for? A You told me what my name was at this time. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~

Q And you say it is Scott? A Yes, sir, that is the married name.

Q Your husband Scott, what was he? A A Greek.

Q Did you leave him? A No, sir, he is dead.

Q Well then did you take up the name of West again? A Yes, sir, never did drop the name of West, nobody never did call me by my own married name.

Q You don't lay any claim to the name of Scott at all? A No, sir.

Q And you don't want to be enrolled as Scott? A No, sir.

Q How old are you? A Well, I don't know, but just from trying to tell it, I expect I must be something near 56 or 57.

Q You applied here two or three days ago for enrollment? A Yes, sir.

Q Is this woman here your daughter? A Yes, sir.

Q How many times has she been married? A She has been married twice.

Q What was the name of her first husband? A Bob Jimison.

Q Was he a Greek? A Yes, sir.

Q How many children has she got? A Five.

Q What is the name of the oldest child? A Evaline.

Q Evaline what? A Jimison.

Q What is the name of the next child? A Henry.

Q Henry what? A Henry Caesar.

Q And the next child? A Jim Chatman.

Q And then Julia and Nannie, are they Chatman children? A Yes, sir.

Q Did she and Bob Jimison part? A No, sir, they didn't, because I took her away from him, she wasn't but 13 years old.

Q Well now this child Henry Caesar, is that child this woman's own natural child? A Yes, sir.

Sarah Chatman - 3.

Q Born to her? A Yes, sir.
Q No adopted child, or anything of that kind? A No, sir, no adopted child at all.
Q Are these five children all living now? A All living, all right here.
Q Where was this woman born? A Timbered Hill.
Q In what Nation? A Cherokee Nation.
Q How long has she lived at Muskogee? A We lived there often and on I guess something over three years; I lived there continuously two years straight.
Q The last two years? A Yes, sir, after I married there.
Q Where has this woman lived down to the time she married Jimison? A She lived at Four Mile Branch with her cousin, Isaac Wilson.
Q What Nation is that? A Cherokee Nation.
Q Where did she marry Jimison? A At Port Gibson.
Q Where did she marry her present husband, Chatman? A Married him in the Creek Nation.
Q At Muskogee? A Yes, sir.
Q How long had she been living in Muskogee when she married Chatman? A I had been there near a year.
Q Where did she live down to the time she moved to Muskogee then? A She came from Four Mile Branch.
Q Had she lived all her life in the Cherokee Nation down to that time, to the year before she married Chatman? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did she live? A Often and on, from the Creek Nation back to the Cherokee Nation.
Q Only between those two Nations? A Yes, sir.
Q Has she ever been out to Kansas, or any place like that? A No, sir, don't know what Kansas is.
Q Did you ever apply to have this woman enrolled as a Creek?
A No, sir.
Q Have you applied to have her enrolled with any other tribe or nation except the Cherokees? A No, sir.

Sarah Chatman, recalled, testified:

Q Have you ever applied to have any of these children enrolled as Creeks? A No, sir.
Q Only with the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Where was that child Evalina born? A She was born at Port Gibson.
Q Where was Henry born? A He was born at Muskogee.
Q Where was James born? A He was born in the Cherokee Nation.
Q And Julia? A In the Cherokee Nation.
Q And the baby, Mannie? A She was born in the Cherokee Nation.
Q Well you were making your home in Muskogee when these three youngest were born? A Yes, sir, I was making my home there just with me mother.
Q Well how did you happen to be in the Cherokee Nation when these three children were born? A Why I have had them since I have been continually at home in the Cherokee Nation.
Q You are not living in the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes, sir.
Q You are? A Yes, sir.
Q Where are you keeping house, living now? A Down here on Lightning.
Q Mr. Hastings! When did you move? A It has been about five, I can't hardly tell you exactly how long it has been, but I moved here on Lightning pretty near five years ago.
Q Were you living here when the payment was made? A Yes, sir.
Q You heard your mother when she testified you were born at Timbered Hill; where is that in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't really tell you whereabouts it was, because I am not been there in so long I can't really tell you where it was at.

Sarah Chatman - 4.

Sidney West, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Brockinridge, testified as follows:

Mr. Hastings: Where is Timbered Hill at which your daughter was born? A In the Cherokee Nation right on the old California road.

Q Where was that, in what district? A In Cooweescoowee district, I guess it is.

Q Near what town? A Way Chouteau is the nearest town.

Q How far and what direction from Chouteau? A I can't tell you the directions at all.

Q How far from Chouteau? A I don't know sir.

Q How long did you live there? A I lived there two or three years, lived there with my sister.

Q Where was your husband? A Hadn't none.

Q What was your sister's name? A Harriett Marrow.

Q You lived there two or three years and you don't know the direction to town and don't know how far? A No, sir, because I never went to town.

Q Didn't you go up there on the train? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q Wasn't any train running there then, was there? A I never seen any.

Q Where did you go from when you went up to Timbered Hill? A I went from Pryor Creek.

Q To Timbered Hill? A Yes, sir.

Q Then how far was Timbered Hill from Pryor Creek? A I don't know.

Q In which direction did you go? A I am kinder turned around.

Q Towards the sunrise or sunset? A We traveled to sunset.

Q How long did it take you to travel it? A We went it in a day.

Q Was it a days trip? A By starting early in the morning we got there just about sunset.

Q And that was from the town of Pryor Creek? A No, sir it wasn't from the town, there wasn't no town there then, not where I was.

Q What place did you start from on Pryor Creek? A When I left Pryor Creek I left right out by Henry Melton's house, and about a mile of Blue Alberty's; I was working for Blue Alberty.

Q And you moved on another place close to Timbered Hill then and you traveled towards sunset from Pryor Creek all day, and you don't know any place closer to Timbered Hill than Chouteau? A That is the nearest town I recollect anything about; if there is any other place there it is unbeknown to me.

Q You never heard them talk about coming to town to trade? A I heard them talk about going to town to trade, but I thought they were going to Chouteau.

Q And you claim to have lived there two or three years? A Yes sir I did, honestly.

Q You never were at any town yourself? A No, sir, I wasn't.

Q Who were some of your neighbors up there around Timbered Hill.

Q It was a neighborhood of colored folks.

Q I want to know their names? A Rube Still.

Q Who else? A Jesse Chouteau, and a man by the name of Pee, but Pee what I don't know, I always called him Mr. Pee.

Q They were living there around there were they? A Yes, sir.

Q You just made your home with your sister? A Yes, sir, just made my home with my sister, because my brother in law went and got me.

Sarah Chatman, recalled, testified:

Commissioner: Were you enrolled as Sarah Smith when you enrolled? A I never have been enrolled.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and and the applicants not identified thereon.

Sarah Chatham- 5.

The 1896 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

Q Did you draw Cherokee strip money? A No, sir, we never was on any roll at all.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

Q Did you try to get strip money? A No, sir.

Commissioner: The applicant applied for the enrollment of herself and five children. It is established with reasonable certainty that the applicant was born in the Cherokee Nation; that she lived in the Cherokee Nation down to something less than 10 years ago, and that since that time she has divided her life between the Cherokee and Creek Nations, and has been living now and has been living for several years in the Cherokee Nation. She is not identified upon any roll. Her change of name arising from marriage is established in a satisfactory manner. She will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, inasmuch as her mother has been so listed, through whom alone she seems to claim, and there will be filed with this case a copy of the testimony in the case of her mother, Sidney West, Cherokee Freedman Doubtful D-564. As for the five children named in the testimony, none of them are identified on any roll. They are living, and when the applicant files a proper certificate of birth for these five children, they also will be listed with her on a doubtful card. Their names are varied, but they are satisfactorily established as the natural children of the applicant. Their father is said to be a Creek, and their claim therefore rests through their mother alone. She claims that neither she or the children have ever been enrolled nor has applications ever been made for their enrollment with any other tribe or Nation than the Cherokee Nation. The final decision of the Commission with respect to all these persons will be made known to the applicant at her post office address. A copy of the testimony in this case will be supplied to the Creek files of the Commission.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

The 1896 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

Mr. Sequichie: Mrs. West, can you give any reason why you are not on any of the rolls? A Well, I followed the Kern around to Gibson and to Vinita and I followed them to Anderson, and they didn't put me on because I didn't have any witnesses just then.

Q What court do you mean by that? A Kern's.

Q The Kern-Clifton enrollment? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the reason you didn't have any witnesses with you?

A Well, I thought I would find witnesses there on the ground and it seems like nobody didn't want to own me.

Q Who did you belong to? A John West.

Q Were you here in the Cherokee Nation during the war between the Confederates and the Union rebellion, the last war? A During of the war, no sir.

Q Were you here before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A Went down to the Choctaw
Nation.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was your husband? A Charles Chambers.

Q How long did Charles Chambers and yourself live together?

A We lived together till we raised a family.

Q Do you remember what year you came back to the Cherokee Nation
after the war? A In '85 they told me, the fall of '85.

Q Who came back with you? A Charles Chambers.

Q Anybody else? A No, sir, because we went out from Red River here.

Q What part of the Cherokee Nation did you come to when you returned? A Sequoyah.

Q Do you know the reason why you are not enrolled on the 1880 roll?

A Why I don't know nothing at all about it.

Q In fact, you had no one to look after you? A No, sir, I didn't have anyone to look after me.

Q Just alone? A Myself alone.

Commissioner: Were you a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q To whom did you belong? A John West.

Q Was he a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you born? A On Grand River.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q And you went out during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go any farther south than the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir.

Q Been living here in the Cherokee Nation with that exception all your life? A No, sir, I have been in and out through the Creek Nation and then back in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Did you ever apply to the Creek Nation for enrollment? A No, sir.

Q You never drew any money from the Cherokee Nation then at all?

A No, sir.

Q Never been recognized? A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you live before the war? A A Canadian.

Q In Canadian district? A Yes, sir.

Q Is your old master alive? A No, sir, he is dead.

Q Your young master alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Tell John West? A Yes, sir.

Q You belonged to them when the war came up? A Yes, sir.

Q You went south during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Now you stated a while ago that you followed that Kern-Clifton Court around, and that you never could get a hearing, didn't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q You didn't get any hearing, did you? A No, sir, I never get any hearing from it.

Q I don't want you to misunderstand; you mean you never got to go before the Court? A Yes, sir, I went before the Court.

Q But you couldn't find any witnesses then? A No, sir.

Q Wasn't Charlie Chambers there? A He was there.

Q Wasn't Columbus Lasley there? A Yes, sir, he was there.

Q Couldn't you get them to swear for you then? A No, sir, I didn't, I didn't try, I must tell you the truth about it, for I was sick at the time.

Q Well, you followed them around from different places? A Yes, sir, I followed them around, me and my young mistress went to Vinita and they wouldn't hear her there at all.

Q What was her name? A At that time she was a Brewer, but she is Mrs. Ruthie Finley now.

Q Where does she live? A Colagah.

Q Does she know when you came back? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you come back with her? A No, sir, I came ahead of her.

Q Where did you come in the Cherokee Nation? A Sequoyah district.

Q Now who came with you? A Charles Chambers.

Q Did anybody else besides Charlie Chambers come with you? A Not with us they didn't.

Q Well, you came to Sequoyah district, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, who did you live with down there in Sequoyah? A I lived with Charlie Chambers until he came away, then he left me living in a place belonging to a widow woman named Mrs. Franklin, near Jack Campbell's.

Q Did you continue to live there? A Yes, sir, lived there three years.

Q Do you know John Walton? A Well, no sir, I don't know whether I did or not.

Q Who did you know down there in that settlement? A John Campbell.

Q He is dead, is he? A Yes, sir, he is dead.

Q Anybody that is living that was there then? A Well, old man

Jack Campbell, he is dead too.

Q How about Dr. Campbell, at Illinois Station? A I don't know nothing about him.

Q Anybody else down there that you can think of that is living now?

A Well Harrison Foreman was one.

Q Was he living down there then? A Yes, sir, he was right there then.

Q Where was he living? A Living with his grandmother about a mile from Mrs. Franklin's next to the river.

Q Do you know Mrs. Franklin's daughter, Eliza McGrady? A Well, I don't know, she might have been married and away from there, I don't know, I know one they called Malinda.

Q Did you live with Charlie Chambers as husband and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him after you came up there, up to Sequoyah district? A We lived together there about a year.

Q About what time of the year was it you came there? A When we came to Sequoyah, it was in the winter.

Q That was the winter after the close of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q That was the next winter was it? A It was that coming winter.

Q The war closed in the spring and that was the next winter, coming winter? A Yes, sir, that following winter.

Q You came up there with him? A Yes, sir.

Q And you lived there with him about a year? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live with him until the winter following that? A He left in the spring.

Q The following spring? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you see him any more? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you see him? A Well, I came to Gibson and we lived there together again when I came there.

Q Well, how long had he been gone before you went up there?

A He had been gone about a year.

Q And you went up there and lived with him, to Gibson? A Yes, sir.

Q It was about a year after he left you before you went to Gibson?

A Yes, sir.

Q Then that was about two years after the war when you went to Gibson? A Yes, sir, it was about three years.

Q Where did you go from Gibson? A I went to Tahlequah; went to Park Hill.

Q Did you live with Charles Chambers at Park Hill? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him there? A Well, I don't know, really, exactly how long it was that we lived together there, some year or two.

Q Then where did you go? A I went to Tahlequah.

Q How long did you stay there? A I stayed around about Tahlequah about a year or maybe longer.

Q Well, where did you go from Tahlequah? A I came to Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you live there? A I stayed to Pryor Creek about a year.

Q Well, then where did you go? A I went to Timber Hill.

Q Who did you live with at Timber Hill? A Lived with my sister.

Q What was her name? A Harriett Marcus.

Q Where did you go from Timber Hill? A Well, I hired myself to a man over in the Creek Nation.

Q About what was that? A I really can't tell you.

Q About how many years ago? A Well, I just can't tell you that, to be honest with you.

Q As much as 30? About how long after the war was it? A I don't know as I can tell you that.

Q Well, just try to give us some sort of an estimate of it, to the best of your judgment how long after the war was it you went over into the Creek Nation? A I reckon about ten or twelve years, and maybe longer.

Q How you married over there? A Well, sir, I married over there.

Q What was your husband's name? A Haley Scott.

Q Is that your present husband? A Yes, sir, he is dead though.

Q Did you just keep the name of Scott, your maiden name? A Yes, sir, my name never was changed.

Q Where did he die? A He died in the Creek Nation.

Q Are you living there now? A No, sir.

Q When did you come back from there? A About five years.

Q You moved back when the Kera-Dilton Court was around here?

A Before that.

Q Just a little before that? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived over there all the time up to then? A No, sir, when I married I didn't live with him about two years before he died, and I came back to the nation.

Q Where did you live? A I went to Four Mile Branch.

Q Who did you live with there? A A cousin of mine, Isaac Wilson.

Q How long did you live with Isaac Wilson? A Well, a year or so to my best knowledge.

Q Haven't you got a whole lot of children? A Yes, sir.

Q What are their names? A Isaac.

Q Well, name them? A Sabra.

Q How old is Sabra? A Well she was born the spring before she married.

Q Did you bring her back from the south with you? A Yes, sir.

Q And you walked? A Yes, sir, and carried two children.

Q Her and what other one? A That one is dead.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Hattie.

Q What are your other children's names who are alive?

A William Chambers.

Q Where was he born? A Born down in Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Eliza.

Q Eliza Chambers? A Yes, sir, she lives down here to Claremore.

Q Where was she born? A She was born down to Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Dick.

Q Where was Richard born? A Park Hill.

Q How old is Richard? A I really can't tell you his age.

Q What is the next one? A Sarah.

Q Her name Sarah Smith now? A No, sir, she is not a Smith now, she is a Chapman.

Q Where was Sarah born? A She was born in the Creek Nation.

Q Whose child is she? A Henry Smith.

Q Were you ever married to anybody besides Scott? A No, sir, I never was married to anybody besides Scott over there.

Q Didn't you testify before the Kera-Dilton Commission that you lived west of Checotah, towards the mouth of Checotah, at that time? A Yes, sir, I did, I told you it was in the Cherokee Nation though.

Q You said it was towards the mouth from Checotah? A No, sir, I never did live in that direction.

Q You never said that? A No, sir, if I did I don't remember it, I want to tell you I never did live in that direction.

Q Did you say you lived near Henry Schoonover? A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live? A It was to his house, to my judgment, about as much as two or three miles.

Q How long did you live that far from him? A Well, I lived there during the time I was married there, for two years.

Q Henry Schoonover lives in the Cherokee Nation? A I know he does.

Q You were a while with him and lived in the Creek Nation? A Well I did.

Q That is when he lived near you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, how long have you lived in Canadian district now? A I don't know live there.

Q Where do you live? A I live up here on Lightning Creek.

Q When did you move up here? A Over five years ago.

Q Where did you move from up here? A I moved from the Creek Nation.

Q Now, how long had you been living in the Creek Nation when you moved up here? A I hadn't been there more than a month or two, because I went from Fort Gibson over there.

Q How long had you been living at Gloccon when you went over there?

A I was just going backwards and forwards.

Q Where did you have a house? have one at Gibson? A Yes, sir, I had a house at Four Mile Branch, well at Park Hill.

Q Then did you have one there? A When me and Charlie lived there.

Q After that? A I never had a house after that, I was just working out.

Q You never had a home after that? A No, sir.

Q That was about four years after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You never had a house? A Yes, sir, just working around among the people, I would just go and leave the children at people's houses.

Q Where have these children been living? A Left them once with my sister.

Q What is her name? A Mintie Martin.

Q Where does she live? A On Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you leave them there? A Left them once about six months, and another time near about a year.

Q Now tell me how long you have been living in the Creek Nation?

A Well I haven't told you.

Commissioner: Tell it again, about how long? A To the best of my recollection, I haven't been living there continuously.

Mr. Hastings: All the time, combined? A I can't go to work and tell you that, it wasn't combined at all, because I was just backwards and forwards.

Q Did your husband have a home over there? A Yes, sir, he did.

Q What did you do with it after he died? A Well, his daughter took it and sold it to McKellogg.

Mr. Serwiche: Which McKellogg? A Albert.

Commissioner: You lived backwards and forwards in the Creek Nation and the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you could get work? A Yes, sir, wherever I could get work to support my children.

Mr. Hastings: Have you worked any in Kansas? A No, sir, I don't know where Kansas is.

Q Never worked there? A Never was in the state in my life.

Q Arkansas? A No, sir.

Q Texas? A No, sir, the nearest place I have ever been was Fort Smith and I was called there as a witness.

Q You had two children, Lucinda and Eva, born in the Creek Nation?

A No, sir, never had a child of that name in my life.

Q They are your grandchildren? A Might be.

Q I ask you if you know them, Lucinda and Eva Polomel?

A That is right.

Q You know them now? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they born? A They were born in the Creek Nation I reckon, because I don't know nothing about it.

Q Whose children are they? A They are my daughter's children; they are in the Creek Nation with their father.

CHARLIE CHAMBERS, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Seelies, testified as follows.

Q What is your name? A Charlie Chambers.

Q About how old are you? A 70 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hudson.

Mr. Sequichie: Do you know Mrs. Sidney West here? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you and her ever live together as man and wife? A Yes sir.

Q When were you married? A Well, we were not married, we took up together just like the darkies always just used to do; there wasn't anybody to marry us in that times.

Q When was that? A That was in the war time, just directly after the war first came up.

Q Where did you first become acquainted with her? A When I first got acquainted with her, that was away before the war, I got acquainted with her at Fort Gibson, but when we came together that was on Red River.

Q During the war? A In time of the war.

Q How long did you and her live together? A We lived together I guess about, as well as I can recollect, six or seven years.

Q Did you return back to the Cherokee Nation with her? A Yes, sir.

Q What year was that? A They told me it was in '85, they wasn't hardly stopped fighting yet, when we came along, they were killing all along the road.

Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Sequichie: I would like to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Commissioner: He isn't an applicant; there is no use to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you know this woman down south? A Knew her right at John West's.

Q John West living down there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Charlie, you ever been up before the courts any? (No response)

Q Ever tried at Fort Smith; answer the question? A Well yes I told you that: you ask me that every day.

Q Convicted? A No, sir.

Q Was you ever tried in the Cherokee Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q Ever tried by the United States Court at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around when the Kern-Clifton Commission was making the roll five years ago, were you? A Yes, sir.

Q You never testified for this woman then? A No, sir.

Commissioner: Why didn't you testify for this woman then when they were making the Kern-Clifton roll? A I suppose she testified for herself down to Gibson, she wasn't with me then.

Q Did she ask you to testify for her? A No, sir.

Q Was this woman Sidney West a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did she belong to? A She belonged to John West.

Q John West a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she taken out of the country during the war? A Taken out at the commencement of the war.

Q Where to? A She was taken down there to Red River in the Choctaw Nation.

Q Do you know when she came back? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Came back in '85.

Q You came with her? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with her after that? A After I came back, why I lived with her a little while down there and I left her down there and I came on back up to Tahlequah, and she came there; and I don't know how long we did live together there.

Q You say you lived with her in the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir, lived here this side of Fort Smith in the Cherokee Nation.

Q You know where she has been living since that? A No I don't, when I left her all I know about her, I left her right there between Fort Gibson and Tahlequah.

Mr. Hastings: You know she has been living in the Creek Nation?

A Yes, sir, I had heard she was living in the Creek Nation.

A She has married over there? A Yes, sir.

Q She lived over there until a few years before the Kern-Clifton Commission? A No, sir, she hasn't been living there ever since, of course her husband wouldn't allow her to come back, and as quick as he was died, she came back.

Q How much are you charging this woman for testifying for her; anything? A No, not charging her a cent.

Q You charge any of these people anything to testify for them?

A Some of them I do; of course they have got to pay me while I stay here.

Q What is the most you ever charged any of them to testify for them? A I don't know, I can't say, sometimes three or four dollars.

Q How long did you live with her down in the lower part of the Cherokee Nation? A Down this side of Fort Smith, I didn't stay there long, I don't know; I came there along the spring and stayed there along in the summer, and I came on up here.

Q Who did you leave with her? A Nobody but her children.

Q Living in a house? A Yes, sir.

Q On whose place? A It was on nobody's place, it was on an old waste place we had come on to.

Q Made a crop, didn't you? A No, sir.

Q What did you live on? A Just what I could work around and get.

Q Who did you work for around there? A I don't know the man's name, I worked a little in town, I worked a little around in town, I don't know who I worked for, I don't know the man's name.

Q Well, when did you see her next? A She came up to Tahlequah, she came herself.

Q You ran off and left her down there? A Yes, sir, I came off and left her down there.

COLUMBUS LASLEY, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Columbus Lasley.

Q How old are you? A 58.

Q What is your postoffice? A Tahlequah.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Seghiche: Mr. Lasley, do you know Mrs. Stanley West? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a slave? A I can't tell you that.

Q Do you know what year she returned from the south, after the war?

A Not exactly I can't, I can tell you about what time I seen her.

Q When did you see her after the war? A In the beginning of the war I lived at Fort Gibson, and in '67 we lived out to Four Mile Branch, what is called Four Mile Branch east of Fort Gibson; shortly after that time is when I saw her.

Mr. Hastings: You know where she has lived since that time? A I know several different places; she lived at what is called Park Hill since that time.

Q Where else? A Well, I said I don't know, I don't know all them, she told me she lived over here on Canadian on some place, in the Creek Nation somewhere.

Q You never saw her there? A No, sir.

Commissioner: What time is it? A I did you see this woman? A It was in '88 we went out on the Four Mile Branch, it was after that I got acquainted with her.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant identified thereon, page 107, No. 2279, Cooweescoowee district, as Richard Chambers.

Q When you were first old enough to remember, where were you living?
A Lived out on the Four Mile Branch with Isaac Wilson, when he first started a place.

Q How far was that from Grand River? A Why it was eight miles.

Q How old were you when you left Isaac Wilson's? A I don't know.

Q About how old were you? A I ~~can't~~ don't know.

Q Can't you form any idea at all? A No, I don't know, I can't say, I would make some mistake in my age.

Q Were you half grown? were you as much as ten years old? A Yes, I was about 14 I guess.

Q Who were your neighbors at Isaac Wilson's? A Arch Carter and Suwak Walker.

Q Either of those alive? A Suwak Walker is dead.

Q Arch Carter alive? A Arch Carter I think is living.

Q He the father of Andy Carter? A Yes, sir.

Q You had lived near them ever since you can remember until you were about 14 years of age? A Yes, sir.

Q Right there? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go from there? A I went from there to Muskogee.

Q Have you been married? A No, sir.

Q You were never married? A No, sir, never was married.

Q Well, how long did you live at Muskogee? A I didn't stay there over two months.

Q Then where did you go? A I went back down in the Cherokee Nation down close to Webbers Falls.

Q Who did you live with down there? A I worked for Mrs. Julia Taylor.

Q How long did you remain there? A I worked there a year.

Q Then where did you go? A I came back then to Fort Gibson.

Q How long did you remain there? A I stayed there I think two years.

Q Well, who did you work for at Fort Gibson? A At Fort Gibson I worked for Mr. Nash.

Q F. H. Nash? A Yes, sir, he had a farm out there.

Q Where did you go from Fort Gibson? A Came back to Muskogee.

Q Well, how long did you live at Muskogee at that time? A I lived around Muskogee then about, lets see, two years I think, about a year and a half anyway there.

Q Where did you go from Muskogee? A I went from Muskogee, I came up here at Lightning Creek.

Q You have lived at Lightning Creek since? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you come to Lightning Creek? A I came to Lightning Creek I guess about three years ago.

Q Have you ever been in Kansas? A No, sir.

Q Never was in the state? A No, sir, I never was in the state.

Q Even in Texas? A No, sir.

Q You have then lived, so far as you know, either in the Creek Nation or the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, tramping around.

Q Did you ever apply to be enrolled with the Creeks or any other Nation except the Cherokees? A Never applied for any enrollment at all, except with the Cherokees.

Q Mr. Hastings? Did you ever know Columbus Lanley over there on 14 Mile creek? A Yes, sir, I know Columbus Lanley.

Q Or John Lanley? A Yes, sir, I know Columbus Lanley.

Q Did you know them over there on 14-Mile creek? A Yes, sir, over on 4 Mile Branch.

Dick Chambers - 3.

Q Where was he living then? A He was living at Tahlequah, right in town.

Q Now where did you come from when you went to Four Mile Branch?

A Lets see where did I come from, when I came to Four Mile Branch I came from Muskogee. It wasn't Muskogee either, it was the old Creek Agency, I was riding horses there, I run off from the man I was working for and went over there.

Q How old were you when you were riding these races? A I was about eight years old I guess when I first commenced riding races.

Q Where were you born? A They told me I was born at Eufaula, Okla. Park Hill.

Q You don't remember living at Park Hill? A No, sir, I don't remember it.

Q How long did you live at Isaac Wilson's on Four Mile Branch? A I don't know, about three years I guess.

Commissioner: The applicant avers that he has lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life, and he seems to have spent his life in the Cherokee Nation ~~some~~ time past in the Creek Nation. He further affirms that he has not applied for enrollment with any other tribe or Nation than the Cherokees. He is identified on the Wallace roll, but not upon the roll of 1890 or upon the Kern-Clifton roll or that of 1898. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and for further evidence in his case, there will be filed herewith the testimony in the case of his mother, Sidney West, Cherokee Freedman D-554. It is possible, so far as the present testimony indicates, that he may have a claim through his father, Charles Chambers, but the relations between Charles Chambers and the applicant's mother are fully set forth in the case just cited. The final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at his post office address.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q Mr. West, do you know a Cherokee Freedman, applicant, by the name of Sidney West? A Yes, sir.

Q Did she belong to you or your family some way? A Yes, sir, she belonged to father.

Q Do you remember what time, whether before the war or after the war, she left the Cherokee Nation? A She left the Cherokee Nation in about '63.

Q You remember what year she came back? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever hear of her any more after she left here?

(Counsel objected to by Mr. Hastings.)

Q Do you know when she came back to the Cherokee Nation?

A No, sir, I don't.

Q Did you see her at any time while she was away? A Yes, she was with the family.

Q Where? A From '63 until about '66 I guess.

Q There was that? A Down in the Chickasaw and Choctaw Nation, down on Red River.

Q In the Indian Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q To about what year was she in the family? A As well as I remember about '65.

Q Do you know where she went then? A No, sir, I don't.

Q Did you ever see her in the Cherokee Nation after that?

A No, sir, I don't believe I ever did.

Q Never seen her? A No, sir.

MR. HASTINGS: Where do you live, in what district?

A Canadian.

Q How long have you lived there? A I have lived there since '60.

Q How wide across east and west is Canadian district? A I suppose it is about 32 miles, east and west.

Q How far north and south? A About the same distance.

Q You have been sheriff of your district? A Yes, sir.

Q You have lived there ever since the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Been on the Police force? A Yes, sir.

COM. NEEDLES: You say Sidney West during the war went to the Chickasaw Nation? A Choctaw Nation, she went down there with the family.

Q She didn't go any farther south than the Choctaw Nation?

A No, sir.

Q And the last you saw her was in the Choctaw Nation in '65?

A Yes, sir.

J. C. Bosson, being first duly sworn, states that as Attest-rapler to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recalled the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his statements as so stated.

ACTING CHAIRMAN

CONFIDENTIAL

Supl.C.P.D.#554.---

Subscribed and sworn to before me this October 4th, 1901.

Commissioner

Cherokee Freedmen D 679.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Dick Chambers for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on June 11, 1901, Dick Chambers appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made personal application for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman. The testimony taken at various times in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Sidney West as a Cherokee Freedman has been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence shows that the applicant is a son of Charlie Chambers, who is identified on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee roll as an adopted colored. It is presumed from this enrollment that the Cherokee Nation recognized that the said Charlie Chambers had complied with the terms of the treaty of 1866.

The evidence further shows that the applicant, Dick Chambers, has resided in the Indian Territory all his life, and that during the greater part of that time he has lived in the Cherokee Nation.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Dick Chambers, having been born since 1866, should be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress, approved June 25, 1896 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application of Sidney West for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Appearances:

J. R. Sequichie, agent for applicant;

W. W. Hastings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SIDNEY WEST, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner
Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Sidney West.

Q How old are you? A I really don't know.

Q About how old? A I am about, as near as I can come at it, about 56 I guess.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hayden.

Q What district do you live in? A Coomescoowee.

Q Do you apply to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

Q Who do you want to enroll besides yourself? A Just my children.

Q How many children? A Six.

Q Have you got any children under age? A No, sir.

Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A I don't know, sir, whether it is on there.

Q You don't know whether it is on any roll or not? A No, sir.

The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The 1886 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant not identified thereon.

Mr. Sequichie: Mrs. West, can you give any reason why you are not on any of the rolls? A Well, I followed the Kern around to Gibson and to Vinita and I followed them to Anderson, and they didn't put me on because I didn't have any witnesses just then.

Q What Court do you mean by that? A Kern's.

Q The Kern-Clifton enrollment? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the reason you didn't have any witnesses with you?

A Well, I thought I would find witnesses there on the ground and it seems like nobody didn't want to own me.

Q Who did you belong to? A John West.

Q Were you here in the Cherokee Nation during the war between the Confederates and the Union rebellion, the last war? A During of the war, no sir.

Q Were you here before the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you go during the war? A Went down to the Choctaw
Nation.

Q Were you ever married? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was your husband? A Charles Chambers.

Q How long did Charles Chambers and yourself live together?

A We lived together till we raised a family.

Q Do you remember what year you came back to the Cherokee Nation
after the war? A In '65, they told me, the fall of '65.

Q Who came back with you? A Charles Chambers.

Q Anybody else? A No, sir, because we went out from Red River here.

Q What part of the Cherokee Nation did you come to when you returned? A Sequoyah.

Q Do you know the reason why you are not enrolled on the 1880 roll?

A Why I don't know nothing at all about it.

Q In fact, you had no one to look after you? A No, sir, I didn't have anyone to look after me.

Q Just alone? A Myself alone.

Commissioner: Were you a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q To whom did you belong? A John West.

Q Was he a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you born? A On the river.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q And you went out during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go any further south than the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir.

Q Been living here in the Cherokee Nation with that exception all your life? A No, sir, I have been in and out through the Creek Nation and then back in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Did you ever apply to the Creek Nation for enrollment? A No, sir.

Q You never drew any money from the Cherokee Nation then at all?

A No, sir.

Q Never been recognized? A No, sir.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you live before the war? A On Canadian.

Q In Canadian district? A Yes, sir.

Q Is your old master alive? A No, sir, he is dead.

Q Your young master alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Tell John West? A Yes, sir.

Q You belonged to them when the war came up? A Yes, sir.

Q You went south during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Now you stated a while ago that you followed that Kern-Clifton court around, and that you never could get a hearing, didn't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q You didn't get any hearing, did you? A No, sir, I never got any hearing from it.

Q I don't want you to misunderstand; you mean you never got to go before the court? A Yes, sir, I went before the court.

Q But you couldn't find any witnesses then? A No, sir.

Q Wasn't Charlie Chambers there? A He was there.

Q Wasn't Columbus Lusby there? A Yes, sir, he was there.

Q Couldn't you get them to swear for you then? A No, sir, I didn't. I didn't try. I must tell you the truth about it, for I was sick at the time.

Q Well, you followed them around from different places? A Yes, sir, I followed them around, me and my young mistress went to Winita and they wouldn't hear her there at all.

Q What was her name? A At that time she was a brewer, but she is Mrs. Ruthie Finley now.

Q Where does she live? A Colagen.

Q Does she know when you came back? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you come back with her? A No, sir, I came ahead of her.

Q Where did you come in the Cherokee Nation? A Sequoyah district.

Q Now who came with you? A Charlie Chambers.

Q Did anybody else besides Charlie Chambers come with you? A Not with us they didn't.

Q Well, you came to Sequoyah district, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, who did you live with down there in Sequoyah? A I lived with Charlie Chambers until he came away, then he left me living in a place belonging to a sister whose name was Mrs. Franklin, near Jack Campbell's.

Q Did you continue to live there? A Yes, sir, lived there three years.

Q Do you know John Melton? A Well, no sir, I don't know whether I did or not.

Q Who did you know down there in that settlement? A John Campbell.

Q He is dead, is he? A Yes, sir, he is dead.

Q Anybody that is living that was there then? A Well, old man

Jack Campbell, he is dead too.

Q Now about Dr. Campbell, at Illinois Station? A I don't know nothing about him.

Q Anybody else down there that you can think of that is living now?

A Well Harrison Foreman was one.

Q Was he living down there then? A Yes, sir, he was right there then.

Q Where was he living? A Living with his grandmother about a mile from Mrs. Franklin's next to the river.

Q Do you know Mrs. Franklin's daughter, Eliza McGrady? A Well, I don't know, she might have been married and away from there, I don't know, I know one they called Malinda.

Q Did you live with Charlie Chambers as husband and wife? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him after you came up there, up to Sequoyah district? A We lived together there about a year.

Q About what time of the year was it you came there? A When we came to Sequoyah, it was in the winter.

Q That was the winter after the close of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q That was the next winter was it? A It was that coming winter.

Q The war closed in the spring and that was the next winter, coming winter? A Yes, sir, that following winter.

Q You came up there with him? A Yes, sir.

Q And you lived there with him about a year? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you live with him until the winter following that? A He left in the spring.

Q The following spring? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you see him any more? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you see him? A Well, I came to Gibson and we lived there together again when I came there.

Q Well, how long had he been gone before you went up there?

A He had been gone about a year.

Q And you went up there and lived with him, to Gibson? A Yes, sir.

Q It was about a year after he left you before you went to Gibson?

A Yes, sir.

Q Then that was about two years after the war when you went to Gibson? A Yes, sir, it was about three years.

Q Where did you go from Gibson? A I went to Tahlequah; went to Park Hill.

Q Did you live with Charles Chambers at Park Hill? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with him there? A Well, I don't know, really, exactly how long it was that we lived together there, some year or two.

Q Then where did you go? A I went to Tahlequah.

Q How long did you stay there? A I stayed around about Tahlequah about a year or maybe longer.

Q Well, where did you go from Tahlequah? A I came to Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you live there? A I stayed to Pryor Creek about a year.

Q Well, then where did you go? A I went to Timber Hill.

Q The did you live with at Timber Hill? A Lived with my sister.

Q What was her name? A Harriett Maroon.

Q Where did you go from Timber Hill? A Well, I hired a man to a man over in the Creek Nation.

Q About what was that? A I really can't tell you.

Q About how many years ago? A Well, I just can't tell you that, to be honest with you.

Q As much as 20; about how long after the war was it? A I don't know as I can tell you that.

Q Well, just try to give us some sort of an estimate of it, to the best of your judgment how long after the war was it you went over into the Creek Nation? A I reckon about ten or twelve years, and maybe longer.

Q Have you married over there? A Yes, sir, I married over there.

Q What was your husband's name? A Haley Scott.

Q Is that your present husband? A Yes, sir, he is dead though.

Q Did you just keep the name of Scott, your maiden name? A Yes, sir, my name never was changed.

Q Where did he die? A He died in the Creek Nation.

Q Are you living there now? A No, sir.

Q When did you move back from there? A Been about five years.

Q You moved back when the Kern-Clifton court was around here?

A Before that.

Q Just a little before that? A Yes, sir.

Q You lived over there all the time up to then? A No, sir, when I married I didn't live with him about two years before he died, and I came back to the Nation.

Q Where did you live? A I went to Four Mile Branch.

Q Who did you live with there? A A cousin of mine, Isaac Wilson.

Q How long did you live with Isaac Wilson? A Well, a year or so to my best knowledge.

Q Haven't you got a whole lot of children? A Yes, sir.

Q What are their names? A James.

Q Tell, name them? A Sabra.

Q How old is Sabra? A Well she was born the spring before was declared.

Q Did you bring her back from the south with you? A Yes, sir.

Q And you walked? A Yes, sir, and carried two children.

Q Her and what other one? A That one is dead.

Q What was her name? A Her name was Rattie.

Q What are your other children's named who are alive?

A William Chambers.

Q Where was he born? A Born down in Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Eliza.

Q Eliza Chambers? A Yes, sir, she lives down here to Claremore.

Q Where was she born? A She was born down in Sequoyah.

Q What is the next one? A Dick.

Q Where was Richard born? A Park Hill.

Q How old is Richard? A I really can't tell you his age.

Q What is the next one? A Sarah.

Q Her name Sarah Smith now? A No, sir, she is not a Smith now, she is a Chapman.

Q Where was Sarah born? A She was born in the Creek Nation.

Q Whose child is she? A Henry Smith.

Q Were you ever married to anybody besides Scott? A No, sir, I never was married to anybody besides Scott over there.

Q Didn't you testify before the Kern-Clifton commission that you lived west of Cherokee, towards the sunset of Cherokee, at that time? A Yes, sir, I did, I told you it was in the Cherokee Nation though.

Q You said it was towards the sunset from Cherokee? A No, sir, I never did live in that direction.

Q You never said that? A No, sir, if I did I don't remember it, I want to tell you I never did live in that direction.

Q Did you say you lived near Henry Schoonover? A Yes, sir.

Q How far did you live? A It was in his house, to my judgment, about as much as two or three miles.

Q How long did you live that far from him? A Well, I lived there during the time I was married there, for two years.

Q Henry Schoonover lives in the Cherokee Nation? A I know he does.

Q You said a while ago that you lived in the Creek Nation? A Well I did.

Q That is when he lived near you? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, how long have you lived in Canadian district now? A I don't live there.

Q Where do you live? A I live up here on Lightning Creek.

Q When did you move up here? A Over five years ago.

Q Where did you move from up here? A I moved from the Creek Nation.

Q Now, how long had you been living in the Creek Nation when you moved up here? A I hadn't been there more than a month or two, because I went from Fort Gibson over there.

Q How long had you been living at Gibson when you went over there?

A I was just going backwards and forwards.

Q Where did you have a house? Have one at Gibson? A Yes, sir, I had a house at your little branch, well at Park Hill.

Q When did you have one there? A When me and Charlie lived there.

Q After that? A I never had a house after that, I was just working out.

Q You never had a home after that? A No, sir.

Q That was about four years after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You never had a house? A Yes, sir, just working around among the people, I would just go and leave the children at people's houses.

Q Where have these children been living? A Left them once with my sister.

Q What is her name? A Mintie Martin.

Q Where does she live? A On Pryor Creek.

Q How long did you leave them there? A Left them once about six months, and another time for about a year.

Q Now tell me how long you have been living in the Creek Nation?

A Well I have told you.

Commissioner: Tell it again, about how long? A To the best of my recollection, I haven't been living there continuously.

Mr. Hastings: All the time, combined? A I can't go to work and tell you that, it wasn't combined at all, because I was just backwards and forwards.

Q Did your husband have a wife over there? A Yes, sir, he did.

Q What did you do with it after he died? A Well, his daughter took it and sold it to her father.

Mr. Beuchamp: Which daughter? A Albert.

Commissioner: You lived backwards and forwards in the Creek Nation and the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did you could get work? A Yes, sir, wherever I could get work to support my children.

Mr. Hastings: Have you worked any in Kansas? A No, sir, I don't know where Kansas is.

Q Never worked there? A Never was in the state in my life.

Q Arkansas? A No, sir.

Q Texas? A No, sir, the nearest place I have ever been was Fort Smith and I was called there as a witness.

Q You had two children, Lucinda and Eva, born in the Creek Nation?

A No, sir, never had a child of that name in my life.

Q They are your grandchildren? A Might be.

Q I ask you if you know them, Lucinda and Eva Colonel?

A That is right.

Q You know them now? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were they born? A They were born in the Creek Nation I reckon, because I don't know nothing about it.

Q Whose children are they? A They are my daughter's children, they are in the Creek Nation with their father.

CHARLES CHAMBERS, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Charlie Chambers.

Q About how old are you? A 70 years old.

Q What is your postoffice? A Hudson.

Mr. Sequichie: Do you know Mrs. Sidney West here? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you and her ever live together as man and wife? A Yes sir.

Q When were you married? A Well, we were not married, we took up together just like the darkies always just used to do; there wasn't anybody to marry us in that times.

Q When was that? A That was in the war time, just directly after the war first came up.

Q Where did you first become acquainted with her? A When I first got acquainted with her, that was away before the war, I got acquainted with her at Fort Gibson, but when we came together that was on Red River.

Q During the war? A In time of the war.

Q How long did you and her live together? A We lived together I guess about, as well as I can recollect, six or seven years.

Q Did you return back to the Cherokee Nation with her? A Yes, sir.

Q What year was that? A They told me it was in '65, they wasn't hardly stopped fighting yet, when we came along, they were killing all along the road.

Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Sequichie: I would like to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Commissioner: He isn't an applicant; there is no use to identify him on the 1880 roll.

Mr. Hastings: Where did you know this woman down south? A Know her right away John West's.

Q John West living down there? A Yes, sir, he was living there.

Q Charlie, you ever been up before the courts any? (No response)

Q Ever tried at Fort Smith; answer the question? A Well yee I told you that; you ask me that every day.

Q Convicted? A No, sir.

Q Was you ever tried in the Cherokee court? A Yes, sir.

Q Ever tried by the United States court at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q You were around when the Kern-Clifton Commission was making the roll five years ago, were you? A Yes, sir.

Q You never testified for this woman then? A No, sir.

Commissioner: Why didn't you testify for this woman then when they were making the Kern-Clifton roll? A I suppose she testified for herself down to Gibson, she wasn't with me then.

Q Did she ask you to testify for her? A No, sir.

Q Was this woman Sidney West a slave? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did she belong to? A She belonged to John West.

Q John West a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she taken out of the country during the war? A Taken out at the commencement of the war.

Q Where to? A She was taken down there to Red River in the Choctaw Nation.

Q Do you know when she came back? A Yes, sir.

Q When? A Came back in '65.

Q You came with her? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did you live with her after that? A After I came back, why I lived with her a little while down there and I left her down there and I came on back up to Tallegus, and she came there, and I don't know how long we did live together there.

Q You say you lived with her in the Choctaw Nation? A No, sir, lived here this side of Fort Smith in the Cherokee Nation.

Q You know where she has been living since that? A No I don't, when I left her all I know about her, I left her right there between Fort Gibson and Tahlequah.

Mr. Hastings: You know she has been living in the Creek Nation?

A Yes, sir, I had heard she was living in the Creek Nation.

Q She has married over there? A Yes, sir.

Q She lived over there until a few years before the Kern-clinton commission? A No, sir, she hasn't been living there ever since, of course her husband wouldn't allow her to come back, and as quick as he was dead, she came back.

Q How much are you charging this woman for testifying for her? anything? A No, not charging her a cent.

Q You charge any of these people anything to testify for them?

A Some of them I do, of course they have got to pay me while I stay here.

Q What is the most you ever charged any of them to testify for them? A I don't know, I can't say, sometimes three or four dollars.

Q How long did you live with her down in the lower part of the Cherokee Nation? A Down this side of Fort Smith, I didn't stay there long, I don't know, I came there along the spring and stayed there along in the summer, and I came on up here.

Q Who did you leave with her? A Nobody but her children.

Q Living in a house? A Yes, sir.

Q On whose place? A It was on nobody's place, it was on an old waste place we had come on to.

Q Made a crop, didn't you? A No, sir.

Q What did you do around there? A Just what I could work around and get.

Q Who did you work for around there? A I don't know the man's name, I worked a little in town, I worked a little around in town, I don't know who I worked for, I don't know the man's name.

Q Well, when did you see her next? A She came up to Tahlequah, she came here.

Q You run off and left her down there? A Yes, sir, I came off and left her down there.

WILLIAM L. LAMBERT, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A William Lambert.

Q How old are you? A 33.

Q What is your birthplace? A Tahlequah.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Squibb: Mr. Lambert, do you know Mrs. Tucker West? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a slave? A I can't tell you that.

Q Do you think that year she returned from the south after the war?

A Not exactly I can't, I can tell you about what time I seen her.

Q When did you see her after the war? A In the beginning of the war lived at Fort Gibson, and in '87 we lived out in Four Mile Branch, which is called Four Mile Branch east of Fort Gibson, shortly after that time is when I saw her.

Mr. Hastings: You know where she has lived since that time? A I know several different places, she lived at what is called Park Hill some time.

Q Where else? A Well, I said I don't know, I don't know all them, she lived on the river ever here on Canadian or some place, in the Creek Nation somewhere.

Q How many years has she been here? A No, sir.

Commissioner: What time is '87 did you see this woman? A It was in '87, that was in the Four Mile Branch, it was after that I got acquainted with her.

Q What time of the year, do you recollect? A No, sir, my recollection, it was the spring of summer.
 Q Or fall? A I think it was in the summer.
 Q You think it was after the first of January? A No, sir, it was in '87 when we went out there, and after that I saw this woman.
 Q What time in '87 did you go out there? A We went out there in the summer.

Mr. Sequoia: I wish to explain for her that she is very humble in her circumstances, and we have witnesses in Muskogee we wish to introduce, who live there, Mrs. Finley and Mr. West.

Commissioner: Sidney West applies for the enrollment of herself. Her name is not found upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation. As to her residence and citizenship, reference is made to the testimony. She will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman upon a doubtful card, awaiting the further consideration of the Commission. She will be notified by mail of the decision of the Commission when arrived at.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Q Now, how does it happen that neither you nor your wife is on the roll of 1880? A Well, I guess they just didn't want to put it on there.

Q What reason did they give? A Didn't give any reason.

Q Did you talk to them about it when they come around? A Yes sir.

Q What did they say? A Didn't say anything, said they would put it down.

Q Did they tell you it was all right or they didn't know?

A They didn't know; wasn't but one man told me it was all right and that was Rufus Ross.

Q Did you ever go to Tahlequah and see about having your rights recognized? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you go? A When John Chambers was Judge.

Q Did you attend his court? A Yes, sir, he sent a summon for me.

Q Did you have proceedings there before his court? A Yes, sir.

Q And what was the result of the proceedings? A He put me off for two or three weeks.

Q And then what did they do? A When I went back they had done tried me and put me on the doubtful roll and I said it was a poor way to try a man and him absent.

Q Did they question you when you first went there? A No, he just talked some when I went there and told me all he wanted was good evidence.

Q Did he examine any witnesses? A No, sir.

Q Did he ask you about when you come back and all about it?

A Yes, sir.

Q Asked you all about it at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q He took your own evidence? A Yes, sir; I got to the door and he got to talking Cherokee to me and we stood there talking Cherokee a long time and he said we will put it off for two weeks and I returned inside of two weeks.

Q Did you take any witnesses? A Yes, sir, they are dead now.

Q Did you take them back in that two weeks? A No, sir, they lived down there.

Q Did they live at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q You had them there at the end of two weeks did you? A Yes, sir.

My Mr. Mellotte:

Q Who did you come back with? A I come with a fellow by the name of Web Grittendon.

Q Where is the first point you struck in the Cherokee Nation when you came here? A The first point I struck was on the Illinois River by Mr. Musgrove's; I come down the big road, down Lindsey's prairie.

Q Where did you come from? A I come from Caldine Gunter's.

Q In what State? A That was in Arkansas he lives, I moved him there.

By Commissioner Beckinridge:

Q You moved him from where? A From Texas.

Q How long did you stay at Caldine Gunter's? A I stayed there that winter, in '65, and in '66 I left them, told mother there was a limit and I had better get back.

Q Is that up in Washington County, Arkansas? A Benton County I think.

Q Did you stay there as much as a year? A No, sir.

Q What time of the year was it you got there? A In the winter.

Q And what time did you leave? A I left in the spring.

Q The following spring? A Yes, sir, the following spring.

Q You came to Gunter's from Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time in the winter? A I don't know just exactly.

Q Well about how long after Christmas? A Oh, I guess it must have been a week or two after Christmas.

Q How did you happen to leave Texas and go up to Gunter's?

A He was coming back and he said he would bring me back.

Q Was the war over? A Yes, sir, peace was declared in '65, I drove teams for him.

Q Had Gunter been in the Confederate army? A No, sir, he hadn't been in any army at all; he stayed with his family.

Q There was no fighting when you came back? A No, sir, the war was ended but it was little kinda squally times yet.

Q Who came with you and the Gunters? A Fellow by the name of Crittendon.

Q How long had the war been over when you went to Gunters?

A Peace was declared in '65; I was with Gunter there in Texas when peace was declared, we started back home that same summer.

Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since you came to it from Gunter's in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Was your wife with you at Gunter's? A Yes, sir.

Q Did she come with you from Gunter's to the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir, I moved her down from Gunter's to the Cherokee Nation.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Now, Robert, did you belong to Caldine Gunter at the breaking out of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You belonged to whom? A Old Akey Webber.

Q Where were you living with reference to Caldine Gunter and family when the war broke out? A I was living down here by Tahlequah.

Q How far from Gunter's? A About 35 or 40 miles.

Q They were living at what is known as Siloam Springs? A Yes, sir.

Q You went south to Texas during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q And you came back to Arkansas with Caldine Gunter and his family?

A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember the names of Caldine Gunter's children that were living then? A Yes, sir, I know part of them, John T. Gunter.

Q He lives here at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember his oldest daughter's name? A Ann Eliza.

Q Mrs. Doctor Fortner at Vinita? A Yes, sir, and Eliza was out cow driver.

Q When you applied to the Chambers Court in 1871 to be admitted, you were decided against, of course, you had returned too late?

A That is what they said.

Q Now, when you came back to the Nation whose farm did you come to first? A I went to the old Roach farm on Barren Fork, the George Roach's farm.

Q He was living there? A Yes, sir.

Q He is now living down in there? A Yes, sir.

Q He would know when you got back? A Yes, sir, he ought to know I made a crop there.

Q In giving your testimony before you didn't state that you returned to Caldine Gunter's in 1868? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q How long did you live on the Roach place on Illinois river in that country there? A I lived down in that country four or five years.

Q Who else of the Cherokee families were living there when you returned to the Roach place? A Nan Roach and John Roach and Sallis.

Q Were there any other Cherokee families there other than the Roach family? A Aaron Crittendon.

Q How far is this Roach place from Tahlequah? A Ten miles.

By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Where was Caldine Gunter living when the war broke out?

A He was living there where I left him I guess.

Q At Siloam Springs, Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Was your wife living with him? A I guess so, I didn't know anything about her when they were living there.

Q You met her in Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, was she living with Caldine Gunter in Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q And she belonged to Caldine Gunter at the time she went back with Caldine Gunter to his house? A Yes, sir, she was in the family.

Q Now, you and your wife have a lot of children? A Yes, sir.

Q They are of age? A Yes, sir.

Q They may need to claim in your case so I will take their names now; give me their names? A Frank Webber.

Q How old is Frank? A About 37.

Q And then the next child? A Katie but then she went in with her husband.

Q She is with her husband? A Yes, sir.

Q What is her present name? A She is a Manley now.

Q Has she already applied? A Yes, sir.

Q Now the next child? A Josh.

Q How old is Josh.

Q How old is Josh? A 35.

Q Now the next child? A Sam.

Q How old is Sam.

Q Now, the next child? A Ella, you get her down with her old man, Ella Wright.

Q Has she applied yet? A Yes, sir, told me to speak to you about it; she was down with him, Walter Wright, I guess he put his name down.

Q What is the name of Katie's husband? A Jos Manley.

Q Which one comes next to Ella? A That is all.

LOUIS D. DANIELS, being sworn and examined by Commissioner O. R. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know this applicant here? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know him before the war? A No, sir, I got acquainted with him after the surrender.

Q Where did you first meet him after the surrender? A In Fort Gibson, sir.

Q When was that you met him in Fort Gibson? A That was in the summer of '65.

Q That was the first time you met him was it? A For me to know him.

Q What were the circumstances of your meeting, were you acquainted with him? A There were eight or ten of us going to go out and hunt some meat and kill some beaves, we was allowed to kill beaves by going to see the Chief and getting a permit, and we come up to Grand river and got an order from Chief Downing to kill some beaves and Bob was in the crowd with me.

Q This man, Bob? A Yes, sir, there were several of us, there is six living now.

Q Did he go with you to kill the beaves? A Yes, sir.

Q And you remember of his being in that party? A Yes, sir, and every man remembers it that is living.

Q Were there any other times that you have met him? A Yes sir, I have met him since that; after he left Fort Gibson I don't know exactly what time I met him in '68 on Barren Fork; I was going by there to buy some hogs and I stayed all night with him in the Cherokee Nation, about 15 miles the other side of Tahlequah.

Q Where was he living when you met him in Fort Gibson? A He was staying with his brother, I guess, I didn't ask him.

Q Where was his brother living? A Right in Fort Gibson, Dude Webber.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Now, Louis, the first time you remember seeing Bob here in the Cherokee Nation from the time you want to get an order from Louis Downing to kill some beaves - ? A I may have seen him before that, but I didn't know it was Bob Webber.

 Q What Chief? A Downing.
 Q That was in August, 1886? A Yes, sir.
 Q What time in August, '86? A About the first of August.
 Q Then did Louis Downing become Chief? A He was only acting chief then, he run the next coming year, because I voted for him; didn't vote for him either, voted for Bill Ross.
 Q You remember distinctly it was in 1886? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where was Robert Webber living then? A I don't know, he come from down below there.

Q You never asked him any questions about that? A No, sir, I knew Louis Daniels and all of them and I knew George Ross because we was raised together.

Q That is the George Ross that lives down here about Claremore?
A Yes, sir.

SAM WEBBER, being sworn and examined by Commissioner C. R. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q Your name is Sam Webber is it? A Yes, sir.

Q How old are you? A About 58.

Q What is your postoffice? A Nowata.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I was born here and raised here and come back in '66 here.

Q Are you on the 1880 roll? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you a slave in the Cherokee Nation when the war broke out?
A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know this man, Robert Webber before the war broke out?
A Yes, sir.

Q To whom did he belong? A Akey Webber, some woman I belonged to...

Q She was a recognized Cherokee citizen was she? A Yes, sir; talked all Cherokee, could not talk any English.

Q Did this man go out with you when the war came up?

A No, sir, I found him with the Pin Indians. When they pulled up and went north I found him with them when they went there.

Q Where was that? A That was somewhere near on the line, Arkansas line, where I found him when I went to him.

Q When was that? A That was ~~somewhere~~ along sometime near the war commenced.

Q He was with the Pins? A Yes, sir, when I seen him.

Q What did you see of him after that? A He was taken prisoner and was taken off and I didn't see him any more; his wife come to Kansas and said they come and got him at their house one night and I never seen him any more.

Q His wife came to your house? A Come to the soldiers' quarters.

Q Who did she say took him? A The Bushwhackers.

Q And they took him north? A No, sir, taken him south what she said.

Q And you don't know what they did with him down there? A No sir.

Q When did you see him after the war? A I seen him here along after the war when I lived up here he come up to see us.

Q That was two or three years after you got back? A Yes, sir.

Q When did you get back? A '86.

Q And that was '86 or '87? A Yes, sir, somewhere along there.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Sam, what became of Bob's wife after she came in to the soldiers' camp? A She stayed there and went to Bigsaw.

Q Where were you camped at that time? A Over there about, I can't think of the name of the place, over here in Arkansas.

Q Now, what year was that? A That was along, the war run a little while.

Q Fighting was going on then? A Yes, sir.

ROBERT WEBBER, the applicant, recalled, By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q What is this about your being with the Pin Indians? A I was a soldier.

Q Soldier in the army? A Yes, sir.

Q And you were captured were you? A Yes, sir.

Q And what did they do with you? A They took me to Texas.

Q You didn't go down to Texas with your mistress, Akey Webber?

A No, sir, she was dead.

Q When did she die? A She died in '81.

Q She did you belong to after your mistress died? A I belonged to nobody, you see she died in '81 and I was still on the place.

Q You don't know who claimed you at that time? A No, sir.

Q Who had charge of the place? A Her son, Robin Webber.

Q Well, did you recognize his authority? A Oh, yes.

Q Well then when they took you down to Texas what did you do?

A I drove teams.

Q For whom? A The Southern Government.

Q Did you find this woman down there? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you find any of your people down there?

A Found Charley Webber, son of Akey.

Q Were you hired out to the Southern Government? A Yes, sir.

Q Who did the hire? A Charley Webber I suppose.

Q What did you have to do with Webber at that time?

A They took me there and hauled and he was working for the Government.

Q What did this young Webber have to do with it? A The war was nearly over and he said I could just stay there.

Q Was he living in Gunter's neighborhood? A No, sir, he heard of me later and come over after me.

Q That you married this woman that belonged to Gunter? A Yes, sir.

Q This woman Margaret? A Yes, sir.

Q And went on up to Gunter in Benton County? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, when you first came back from Texas you went to Benton County? A Yes, sir.

Q And then from Benton County where did you go? A To the Cherokee Nation.

Q Whereabouts? A On the Barren Fork.

Q How far to the mouth of Barren Fork? A It must be about ten or 12 miles above.

Q Well how long after you got there to Barren Fork was it before you ever had an occasion to go down to Fort Gibson?

A I don't know, sir, how long I stayed at Barren Fork before I went to Fort Gibson.

Q What neighbors did you have down there? A Dugg Gunter and Wooten Looney.

Q Is that the time you got with Louis Daniels? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you go on that cattle hunt with them? A Yes, sir.

Q After that where did you go? A I went back to Barren Fork.

Q How long did you live there? A About four years.

By Mr. Davenport:

Q Bob, in giving your testimony a while ago how did it happen that you didn't say anything about being taken by the soldiers north?

A You asked me how I got down there as I know of.

Q Didn't I ask you if you didn't go down there with Caldine Gunter and family? A Yes, sir.

Q Didn't you tell me on cross-examination that you had married this girl before you went south? A No, sir.

Q And didn't you tell me that you lived; that Gunter lived about 55 or 60 miles from where Webbers lived and that Gunter lived in Arkansas and that you lived in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q How many children has your wife got? A Two, sir.

Q How old is your oldest child? A 31.

Q Was she a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.

Q Was Gunter himself a Cherokee? A No, sir.

Q Where is Nancy Gunter living now? A She is living here.

Q Where? A In Benton County.

Q Has she lived there ever since the war? A I guess so.

Q You never heard of her coming back?

A No, sir, I never heard of her since.

Com'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself and wife. The applicant is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, but not upon the roll of 1880 or upon that of 1888. It appears that he was a slave of a Cherokee citizen in the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the Civil War. He was taken to the State of Texas and it is quite satisfactorily established that he returned to the Cherokee Nation in the year 1866, and that he has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since. He states that he applied to the ~~Sauk~~ ~~Cherokee~~ ~~Nation~~ ~~Court~~ ~~and~~ ~~at~~ ~~one~~ ~~part~~ ~~of~~ ~~his~~ ~~testimony~~ ~~he~~ ~~said~~ ~~that~~ ~~they~~ ~~deferred~~ ~~his~~ ~~case~~ ~~and~~ ~~decided~~ ~~in~~ ~~his~~ ~~absence~~ ~~and~~ ~~in~~ ~~another~~ ~~part~~ ~~of~~ ~~his~~ ~~testimony~~ ~~he~~ ~~said~~ ~~that~~ ~~he~~ ~~was~~ ~~told~~ ~~by~~ ~~the~~ ~~Court~~ ~~that~~ ~~he~~ ~~was~~ ~~rejected~~ ~~at~~ ~~that~~ ~~time~~ ~~because~~ ~~he~~ ~~had~~ ~~returned~~ ~~too~~ ~~late~~ ~~after~~ ~~the~~ ~~war~~. By this as it may the present testimony given by witnesses who are considered credible indicates that he did return within the time required by the treaty of 1866 and is not valid objection to be made at this time to his enrollment, but inasmuch as he was omitted from the roll of 1880 and for the further consideration by the full Commission of the conditions stated, he will at present be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a Doubtful card and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his postoffice address.

As for his wife; she is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll, and her Mistress, Nancy Ward, is appears was a Cherokee woman prior to the war she was married to one Galdine Sumier who lived in Benton County, Arkansas, and she was there residing with her husband, and the applicant's wife was living with them in the State of Arkansas prior to the breaking out of the Civil War. She was taken to the State of Texas where she met the applicant and they were married and after the war she returned to Benton County, Arkansas, her husband going with her, and he alleges that prior to the time he has been shown to have been at Fort Gibson in the year 1866, he had brought his wife to the Garretts Fork of the Illinois River in the Cherokee Nation and that they had there located.

Q Has your wife lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since you brought her after the war? A Yes, sir.

The weight of the testimony at present is that his wife by reason of the change of ownership that she underwent prior to the war and that was maintained in her case during the war, was not in a position to avail herself of the rights of Freedmen arising under the treaty of 1866. It may be, but it is not established, that Sumier and his wife were subsequently readmitted to Cherokee citizenship, but a decided weight of the testimony is that the wife of Galdine Sumier never resumed citizenship in the Cherokee Nation after taking up her residence in the State of Arkansas under the Civil War. Therefore, under these conditions there appears at present really no valid reason to justify the enrollment of the applicant's wife, Margaret, but for the further consideration of her case, as stated, she will not be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, but the applicant has five children enumerated in the testimony all of whom have now reached their majority and whose rights should be decided early upon the status of the applicant and his wife. Now, it seems from the testimony that both the applicant and his wife were married previous to their marriage but that he was separated by the war and under the operation of the treaty tation of slavery from his wife, and she was similarly separated from her first husband and that under those conditions they contracted marriage in the State of Texas while the war was going on. It is not considered that the strict meaning of the laws of marriage are applicable to people as the applicant and his wife at that time, and it is believed at present that the marriage contracted by him and his wife, Margaret, during the war and maintained continuously from that time until now is a valid marriage, and that these children should be considered the lawful children of the applicant and his wife and that they should enjoy, in the absence of any testimony to the contrary, all the rights that may be finally established for the applicant himself.

SUPPLEMENTAL INTERROGATORIES by Com'r Breckinridge: The APPLICANT recalled:

Q Are these children all the children of your wife, Margaret?

A Yes, sir.

Q How many of them were born in Texas, any of them? A The eldest one was born in Texas before we left.

Q Frank? A Yes, sir.

Q And then Frank is older than you think he is? A That is what I call him, what I think he is.

Q But he was born in Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did Frank come with you and your wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Come with you over to Barren Fork? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, these other children were they all born in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Have they always lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Davenport: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation protest against the enrollment of his wife, Margaret, for the reason that Cherokee card #423 gives the testimony of Nancy Gunter in full, who was alleged to have been the owner of the wife of the applicant at the time the war broke out, which testimony shows the continuous residence of Nancy Gunter in the State of Arkansas for years up to and including the date of the giving of the testimony which was on the 25th day of September, 1900.

J. O. Reason, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

- Q Jim Little was at home at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q And he knows about it? A Yes sir.
- By Mr. Mellette:
- Q How close to the line did you come with old man Gunter? A It couldn't have been more than a mile, I guess from his house to the line.
- Q Siloam Springs is right on the Cherokee line? A Yes sir.
- Q Is Galdeen Gunter the father of John Gunter here at Vinita?
- A Yes sir.
- Q John Gunter is a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation?
- A Yes sir. They says they has recognized him. He told me he was admitted too, and one of his sisters.
- By Mr. Hastings:
- Q Was admitted? A Yes, sir, at this court.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Chelsea, I.T., June 11, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Susie Webber for the enrollment of herself, and two children as Cherokee Freedman, and for the enrollment of her husband as a Cherokee Freedman by inter-marriage.

Susie Webber, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Brackinridge, testified as follows:

- Q Give me your name? A Susie Webber.
- Q How old are you? A 31.
- Q What is your post office? A Hayden.
- Q In what district do you live? A Cooweescoowee district.
- Q Do you apply to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you want to apply for anybody besides yourself? A Two children and my husband.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Why I can't exactly tell you how long I have lived in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Were you born in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Are you living in the Cherokee Nation at this time? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation down to the present time? A Why I guess I have been living in the Cherokee Nation for about, that is here, I have been living here —
- Q How long at Hayden? A I have been living at Hayden now going on five years.
- Q Where did you live before that? A Where I came from when I came to Lightening, why I came from Four Mile Branch.
- Q That in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where did you live before that? A We lived in the Creek Nation before that, we lived there about two years with my mother, of course I was little and had to go with her.
- Q That at Muskogee? A Yes, sir.
- Q You ever live in Kansas or Texas? A No, sir, never in my life.
- Q Or Arkansas? A No, sir.
- Q Have you ever lived anywhere else except in the Cherokee Nation and the Creek Nation? A No, sir, never did.
- Q How much time have you spent in the Creek Nation? A I really can't tell you how much I have spent in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Ten years? A Yes, sir, probably that time.
- Q More than 11 years in the Creek Nation; how many years have you spent altogether in the Creek Nation? A About three years I expect, maybe not quite so much.
- Q Outside of that, you have lived altogether in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Give me the name of your father? A Henry Smith.
- Q Is he alive? A I really can't tell you whether he is or not, but I think he is.
- Q Was he a Cherokee Freedman, or a state man? A Why I think he was a Cherokee Freedman.
- Q You don't know? A No, sir, don't know.
- Q Give me the name of your mother? A Sidney West.
- Q She is alive, is she? A Yes, sir.
- Q Didn't she marry some years ago a man named Scott? A Yes, sir.
- Q But she goes under the name of West now? A Yes, sir.
- Q She applied a few days ago? A Yes, sir.
- Q She is living at Muskogee now, isn't she? A No, sir.
- Q She has moved back in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Are you a sister of Dick Chambers who applied just now? A Yes, sir.
- Q You are a half sister, aren't you? A Yes, sir, a half sister.
- Q You are both the children of Sidney West? A Yes, sir.
- Q And you get your claim through her? A Yes, sir.
- Q How many times have you been married? A Haven't never been married but, once.

Susie Webber - 2.

Q Give me the name of your husband? A Frank Webber.

Q How old is he? A 37.

Q Where is he living? A Cooweescoowee district.

Q Out at Hayden? A Yes, sir.

Q Is he here with you? A Yes, sir, he is here with me, but then he is sick.

Q How long has he lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Why I expect he has lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life, I can't tell you.

Q You never heard of him living anywhere else? A No, sir.

Q Give me the name of his father? A Bob Webber.

Q Is he alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Give me the name of his mother? A Margaret Webber.

Q Is she alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Is Robert Webber a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

Q Is Margaret Webber a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

Q Have they both applied? A Bob Webber has, his wife hasn't yet.

Q When were you and your husband married? A Married in 1897.

Q Have you a certificate of marriage? A No, sir, I haven't.

Q How many times has he been married? A Why I think he has been married twice only, if I mistake not.

Q Only once before he married you? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner: Robert and Margaret Webber are on Cherokee Freedman D-630.

Q Who was your husband's first wife? A Paulina, that is the name I knew her by, Paulina Sanders.

Q Is she alive? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he ever get a divorce from her? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you got a copy of that decree of divorce? A I don't know sir whether he has or not.

Q Well then after a while he married you? A Yes, sir.

Q You haven't got a certificate of your marriage? A No, sir.

Q Is there somebody here who knows that you and your husband have lived together as husband and wife? A Yes, sir.

Sidney West, being duly sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A Sidney West.

Q How old are you? A As well as I can tell you, I guess about something over 38.

Q What is your post office? A Hayden.

Q Is this your daughter here? A Yes, sir, that is my baby.

Q Is she married? A Yes, sir.

Q What is the name of her husband? A Frank Webber.

Q About how long has she been married to Frank Webber? A Some three or four years.

Q Has she two children by that marriage? A Yes, sir.

Q They are living now are they? A Yes, sir.

Q They are living together now are they as husband and wife?

A Yes, sir.

Q And have lived ever since their marriage? A Yes, sir.

Susie Webber, recalled, testified:

Q Give me the names of your children? A Julia Webber.

Q How old is Julia? A She is 3 years old.

Q The next child? A Samuel Webber.

Q How old is Samuel? A One year and five months.

Q These children are both living now are they? A Yes, sir.

The 1890 authenticated roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

The 1890 census roll of Cherokee Freedmen examined and the applicants not identified thereon.

Susie Webber - 3.

Q Did you draw strip money? A No, sir, I didn't.

Q Did your husband draw strip money? A Yes, sir.

The Kern-Clifton roll examined and the applicants identified thereon as follows:

Susie Webber not on said roll;

Frank Webber on page 180, No. 4488, Cowessacoos district.

Q Are you on the Wallace roll? A No, sir, I don't think I am.

The Wallace roll examined and the applicant, Susie Webber, not identified thereon.

Commissioner: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, her husband and two children. The applicant is not identified on any roll. She is 31 years of age. It appears that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life except a few years in the Creek Nation, and her change of name by marriage is established in a satisfactory manner. She will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and for further evidence in her case, there will be filed herewith the testimony taken in the case of her mother, Sidney West, through whom alone she claims to have a claim of her own right, which is Cherokee Freedman doubtful case D-534. In addition to the claim that the applicant may have through her mother, there is a possible claim by marriage through her husband. It appears that the applicant was never married except to her present husband. In regard to the status of her husband in this respect, it appears that he was married once prior to his marriage to the applicant, and no evidence of divorce from his first wife, who is said to be still living, is produced at this time. Therefore, if the applicant has occasion to look to this source for enrollment, the status of her husband in this particular will have to be established, in addition to his own right as a Cherokee Freedman. In regard to his right in the latter particular, he is identified on the Kern-Clifton roll; the applicant thinks that he has lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on a doubtful card, and for fuller evidence in his case, there will be filed herewith a copy of the testimony in Cherokee Freedman Doubtful case D-530, the same being the case of his mother and father, Robert and Margaret Webber.

As for the two children for whom application is now made, Julia and Samuel Webber, they are too young to be on any roll. The applicant is desired to file with the Commission proper certificates of their births, and these two children will be listed for enrollment on a doubtful card, to await the determination of the status of their mother, and that if she be not properly established as a Cherokee Freedman of her own right, then the determination of their right through their father, provided it be established that his marriage to this applicant was of such a character as to convey rights to them, should he be found to possess them, and the mother be shown not to possess rights herself. The final decision of the Commission with reference to this case will be made known to the applicant at her post office address.

Byes C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 24th day of June, 1901.

VINITA, I.T., OCTOBER 14th, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of ROBERT WEBBER, et al., as Cherokee Freedmen, introduced on part of Cherokee Nation.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. Smith of Counsel for applicants;

Mr. Davenport, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

ELIZA CHANDLER, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles,
testified as follows on part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A Eliza Chandler.

Q Where do you live, Mrs. Chandler? A In Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 54.

Q Where were you living at the breaking out of the war?

A Arkansas.

Q Did you leave the State of Arkansas during the war and your family? A Yes, sir.

Q Your father, what was his first name? A Calhoun Gunter.

Q Did your father own any slaves at the breaking out of the war?

A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether or not he owned a woman by the name of Margaret? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know who she afterwards married and lived with as his wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Whom did she live with Mrs. Chandler? A Bob Webster, he goes by that name.

Q Do you know what became of Margaret during the war? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did she go? A We carried her to Texas with us.

Q Well, after the close of the war what became of her? A We brought her back to Arkansas.

Q You got back to Arkansas in what year? A In '65.

Q How long did she live with you after you got back to Arkansas, that is, did she live there at all? A She only stayed a little while; they moved up on Butler's creek.

Q Butler's creek, Territory or Arkansas? A Arkansas, at Mr.
Tittles.

Q Do you know what Mr. Tittles first name was? A Dan.

Q Did you know Bob Webster before the war? A No, sir, I first seen him in Texas.

Q And he came down there while you were in Texas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he come back with you and your family? A Yes, sir.

Q Was he with Margaret when they moved up on Butler's creek in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q About what year was that they moved up on Butler's creek at Dan
Tittles in Arkansas? A It was in the winter of '62.

Q Now, Margaret as I understand was owned by your father at the breaking out of the war? A Yes, sir.

Q You don't know of your own knowledge she owned Bob? A No, sir.

Q Was your father and your mother a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at that time, or any of your family? A No, sir.

Q They weren't citizens when they returned from the south, were they? A No, sir.

MR. SMITH: Mrs. Chandler, your mother was a Cherokee Indian,
was she not? A Yes, sir.

Q She was readmitted to citizenship here I understand you to say here in another case? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, do you remember what month you returned to Arkansas in 1865? A I think it was in November, I won't be positive.
 Q Not sure? A No, sir.
 Q Well, none of your family owned Robert Webber? A No, sir.
 Q Did you know anything about him before the war? A No, sir, did not.
 Q You say after the war he was married to a woman named Margaret?
 A It was in time of the war that they came to our house in Texas.
 Q Well, then when you took Robert Webber and Margaret to Arkansas they were still husband and wife there, were they? A Yes, sir, after we come back.
 Q Now, you don't remember the month that they went up on this Butler creek, you are speaking about? A No, sir, they went that winter some time.
 Q You mean the winter in the year you returned? Yes, sir.
 Q That was in '66? A Yes.
 Q How far from that place where they went to from where you lived?
 A About 25 miles.
 Q How far did you live from the Cherokee Nation? A I guess it was about two miles and a half.
 Q Lived right on the line? A Yes, sir.
 Q You don't know of your own knowledge where Robert Webber was during the year 1866? A Well, he made a crop up there on Butler's creek and then he moved back that summer down to Pa's, and then he come down here in the Nation, or said he was coming and left his family there at our place until in the fall, and then he come back and moved them down in the Nation, I reckon. I have seen her here since I have been in the Nation.
 Q Well, at the time you came back with these people from Texas the war was over? A Yes, sir.
 Q They were free then? A Yes, sir.
 Q They could go wherever they wanted to? A Yes, sir.
 Q And they were only two miles and a half from where you lived to the Cherokee Nation line? A Yes, sir.
 Q Now, you can't state of your own knowledge either when Robert Webber or his wife first came into the Cherokee Nation after the war was over? A No, sir, I would not try to state.

JOHN L. GUNTER, being duly sworn by Commissioner Needles, testified as follows on part of Cherokee Nation:

MR. DAVENPORT: What is your name? A John L. Gunter.
 Q Where do you live, Mr. Gunter? A Live in Vinita, Indian Territory.
 Q How old are you? A 46.
 Q Where were you living at the time war broke out? A Living in Benton County, Arkansas.
 Q Your father's name was Caldwine Gunter? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did your father own a slave, a woman, at that time by the name of Margaret? A Yes, sir.
 Q Do you know whether or not she was married before the breaking out of the war? A Yes, sir, she had a man named Adam.
 Q What became of Margaret during the war, if you know, Mr. Gunter?
 A My father took her to Texas.
 Q How long did she stay there? A Until 1865 when we returned to Arkansas.
 Q Did you have her and the fellow by the name of Bob Webber?
 A Yes, sir.
 Q Did he and Margaret live together as man and wife? A Yes, sir.
 Q Where did you first see Webber? A Hopkins County, Texas.
 Q How long did he stay there? A He stayed there until '65, drove a team back for my father.
 Q To what point did you come? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Were your family citizens of the Cherokee Nation at that time?

A No, sir.

Q Were they citizens of the Cherokee Nation at the breaking out of the war? A No, sir.

Q Well, after they came back to Benton County, Arkansas, what became of Margaret and Bob, if you know? A They left my father's house and went to Dan Tittler near Sulphur Springs.

Q What place? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Do you know how long they stayed there? A They went there in the winter of '65 and stayed until the fall of '66, made a crop at Dan Tittler; I don't know whether they made a crop or not.

Q Well, what became of them then? A Along in the fall Bob came back to my father's and he and Uncle Dan had fell out and he wanted to move back and my father had a little old snake house and fixed that up for them and moved his family there, and stayed there that winter, he went away and was gone, quite a while. I don't know where he was, here in the Territory somewhere he said he was going.

Q That was the winter of '66? A Yes, sir.

Q What took place after that? A In the spring of '67, he moved his family here.

Q Do you know who Bob belonged to before the breaking out of the war? A No, sir.

Q You don't know anything about him, about as to who he belonged?

A Only what he told me, he said he belonged to the Webbers.

Q Margaret belonged to your father? A Yes, sir.

MR. SMITH: What Webber did he say he belonged to? A I don't know.

Q Was there an Akey Webber? A I don't know of her.

Q You weren't acquainted with her? A No, sir.

Q You weren't in the Cherokee Nation before the war? A No, sir.

Q Didn't live here? A No, sir.

Q Now, you say, Mr. Hunter, Bob Webber, this applicant moved his family into the Territory in the spring of '67? A Yes, sir, in the spring of '67.

Q Well, now, can you state the month? A No, sir, but it was some time early in the spring.

Q You can't be positive as to the month? A No, sir.

Q Was it as early as first of the year, '67? A No, sir, grass was up, cattle was grazing on the grass, and the reason I can remember it, my father made Margaret a present of a cow and a calf, and sent me out to drive her up and get her off of the grass, it was a young calf, he took them with him.

Q Robert Webber had made preparations to make to the Cherokee Nation before that? A I think he went to George Beach's on Barton Farm before that.

Q That was in the winter of '66? A Yes, sir, at least he was gone quite a while.

Q That is where he said he was going? A That is where he said he was going.

Q Well, your father and your mother and children were all admitted to citizenship here after the war? A Yes, sir.

Q That was in what year? A 1880.

Q This woman, Margaret, that used to belong to your father was this man's wife? A Yes, sir, lived with her.

Q This man you speak of her having been with that was in Slavery times? A Yes, sir.

Q What became of Adams? A He went to Kansas I was told.

Q The old Adams belong to? A Belonged to my father.

Q Why didn't he go with your father? A He went away before we were freed.

Q Was he sold? A No, sir, in '62 when the army came down there was a number of our slaves went away and some of them returned and some of them didn't, there is one of them lives up here at Fort Scott.

Q Well, this man Adam that you speak of and Margaret, they were just simply living together under the fashion of slaves at that time?

A Yes, sir.

Q No marriage about it? A No, sir.

Q They were separated from each other by the exigencies of war?

A Yes, sir.

Q You never heard of Adam afterwards? A Yes, sir, I have heard of him.

Q You never seen him? A No, sir.

Q Do you know how Robert came down to Texas? A Yes, sir, I know how he came to Hopkins County, he came with Dan Tittles and Jim.

Q Do you know whether the Pin Indians ever got him or not? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever hear? A No, sir, I heard Dan Tittles bought him and took him to Texas; the Pin Indians didn't come that way.

Q Do you know whether he was ever captured from the Pin Indians by anybody? A Never heard of it.

Q All you know about Robert Webster is that he came to Texas?

A No, sir.

Q Mr. Gunter, your mother was a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q And you say she was brought up in the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir, she was born and raised in the Cherokee Nation.

Q Was she in the Cherokee Nation when she married? A Married just across the line.

Q Living in the Cherokee Nation when she married? A Yes, sir.

Q And when she married your father went across the line of Arkansas to live? A Yes, sir.

Q During the time of the war did she claim to be a Cherokee Indian?

A Yes, sir.

Q Draw money? A Draw money in '53 I believe it was.

Q What money was that? A Old settler money.

Q Did she exercise any other rights or did any of your family before the war? A No, sir.

Q You didn't live in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, never except her mother and brothers and sisters, none of our immediate family.

Q But in the year 1830 she was formally admitted by an Act of the Council? A Yes, sir, Court created by the Council.

Q Mr. Gunter, can you state whether there were many or few of these Acts of Admission? A Admitting people to citizenship?

Q Yes? A Yes, sir, there were a great many.

Q They were applied for in favor of persons living in the Nation and claiming to be citizens? A Yes, living out and wanted to return, that is, had been citizens at one time and moved out and forfeited their citizenship; they applied to the Council for readmission. My mother being residing in the Territory and going out she forfeited her citizenship.

Q That is she stated she had forfeited it, you don't know whether she forfeited or not? A That is her understanding.

MR. DAVENPORT: What brought up the question of their applying to the Council, Mr. Gunter, if you know? A It was the understanding of the laws and constitution of the Cherokee Nation.

Q If they expected to participate in the benefits of the Cherokee Nation, they must be readmitted? A Yes, sir.

Q Your father was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation?

A No, sir.

MR. NEEDLES: What was your father's property was your mother's?

A I don't know.

Com'r Needles: This testimony will be made part of the case at bar and made part of the record in D.#663, D.#628, D.#691, and D.#680.

Q How long had they been residing in Arkansas? A About 15 years.

Q Were they or were they not recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation? A Not then, we was outside of the Cherokee Nation then.

Q Well, after the close of the war you say you returned back to your old home place, in Benton County, Arkansas? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever move back to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q What year did you move back to the Cherokee Nation?

Q Were they recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation or was there some action taken to the establishing of right? A We had to establish a right, my father was admitted and remarried after he came back to the Cherokee Nation.

Q Was it your father had the Cherokee blood on mother? A Mother.

COM' R NEEDLES: She was readmitted in 1867? A Yes, sir.

MR. DAVENPORT: Did your father marry again? A Yes, sir;
he married and went out and come back and married again.

Q So you mean he was married twice according to the laws of the Cherokee Nation? A He married and went off and come back and married again.

MR. SMITH: Where did your father marry first? A In the
Cherokee Nation.

Q Married according to the Cherokee laws then? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, what year was that? A That was, that would be in '65 I guess it would be.

Q About what year? A About 55 years ago, I would have to count it up; it was in '46.

Q He was in this Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, then, when he married he was a citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q How long did he continue to live in the Cherokee Nation?

A He lived there when I was about five years old; let's see, married in '46, that would be, I think we left there in '52.

Q Where did you go? A First went to Texas and stayed there a while and came back to the Cherokee Nation and stayed until after the old Settler payment and went to Arkansas; we drew money in the old settler payment.

Q Your family all drew money in the old Settler's payment?

A Yes, sir.

Q In what year was that? A I think that was in '52; '1 or '2.

Q How long after that was it before you went into Arkansas?

A Right away after that.

Q How many years? A Oh, I guess probably inside of a year or such matter.

Q Where did you live in Arkansas? A Benton County.

Q How far from the line? A What line, Arkansas line or Missouri line.

Q The Cherokee Nation line? A It was about ten miles from Cherokee line and three miles from Missouri line.

Q What was your father's name? A Dan Tittle.

Q Who did your father get this man from? A Fellow by the name of John Grinnett.

Q When did he get him? A About '62.

Q Where did he get him from? A Down here about Mayesville.

Q Who is Grinnett? A He is said to be the owner of Rob, who he bought him from.

Q Where did Grinnett live? A He lived down there in the Nation somewhere.

Q He was a Cherokee, Grinnett was? A I don't know whether he was or not.

Q Did you ever know Grinnetts? A No, sir.

Q Well, do you know what date it was that he bought this man?

A I think it was in '62, I think.

Q It was after the war had commenced? A Yes, sir.

Q It might have been in '63? A It was in '62. somewhere along there as well as I remember about it.

Q You think it could not have been as late as 1864? A No, for we had him before he was bought, and we kept him there and went down on the Arkansas river and come back there and found Grinnett and bought him.

Q It was either in '62 or '3 your father bought him? A Yes, sir.

Q He had been captured and taken there? A Yes, sir, went down there and come back and he bought him.

Q Do you know who he had been captured from? A Only what he said; he said he belonged to a man and a woman, he belonged to Mrs. Webber, and Mrs. Grinnett was a daughter of Mrs. Webber.

Q What was Webber's name? A I don't know.

Q Did you ever know an Akby Webber? A No, sir.

Q Akby Webber was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation when the war came up? A I don't know.

Q Now, you claim that your father owned this man in '62 or '63?

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he own him? A Benton County, Arkansas.

Q Who lived near him when he owned him? A In the settlement there?

Q Yes. A The nearest fellow in the neighborhood was a man by the name of Wells, and Thomas.

Q Are they living there now? A I guess they are all dead now.

Q Does anybody but you know that your father owned this man?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who? A Will Thompson, living at Bentonville, Arkansas, and Bph Thompson that lived on Butler's creek where I lived, he is living there yet.

Q How long do you claim this man Robert Webber was with your father from the time you say your father bought him? A He must have been with him including the time we left, three or four years.

Q What time you say he left your father? A He left him in the fall of '66.

Q Well, it was a man named Grimmett that your father undertook to buy him from? A That is the man he bought him from.

Q After the man had been captured and taken out of the Indian Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And you don't know what right Grimmett had for selling if he had any? A No, sir, claimed he sold him.

COM'R NEEDLES: As I understand your father before that was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q And when did he come back to the Cherokee Nation?

A He come back in '67.

Q And was re-admitted? A Yes, sir.

Q And this darkey was not with him then? A No, sir.

MR. SMITH: Now, Mr. Little, you lived in Arkansas after you went out after the old settler payment; what property did your father have back in the Cherokee Nation? A He didn't have any when he lived there; he killed a man and they kept hunting him.

COM'R NEEDLES: He refused over there? A Yes, sir, he stood his trial and come clear.

Q Where did he stand his trial? A Right on the line right close to High Case at that time.

Q In the Cherokee Nation? A In the State.

Q He killed a man in the State? A Killed an Indian in the State and tried him right at the place he killed him.

Q When he killed the Indian he was living in the Cherokee Nation?

A No, sir, he was living in the State, right within a quarter of where he killed him; but he had been born in the Nation.

MR. SMITH: What Court did they try him in in the State of Arkansas? A Arkansas Court.

Q What Court? A Courts from Bentonville come down there and tried him.

Q Tried him in Bentonville? A No, sir.

Q They had to have a Court there? A I don't know, they tried him at Cal Gunter's right on the edge of Lindsey's prairie.

Q It is the regular Circuit Court in Benton County, Arkansas, tried him? A I could not tell you, they came there and tried him.

Q What did they try him in? A Tried him in Cal Gunter's house.

Q You don't claim that it was a court of the State of Arkansas?

A Yes, sir.

Q Come down to Cal Gunter's house? A Yes, sir.

Q They were very accommodating at that time?

A I can't tell you anything about that, that was where he was tried.

Q Well, now, during all that time he claimed to be a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A He was not at that time was tried because he was living in the State of Arkansas.

Q That didn't keep him from being a citizen because he was not living in the Cherokee Nation? A He was not a citizen at that time.

MR. DAVENPORT: This was a trial before a Justice of the Peace? A I don't know, they had a trial and he come clear I was a small boy, about five years old, there was about three hundred men with him and the Indians had gathered five or six hundred with them, and he was tried right there at the line.

Q He had a farm down there? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he ever hold any office down there among those peop o'?

A No, sir, not as I know of.

Q Well, at the time your husband was preaching over the country he had a home with you in Texas? A Yes, sir, we just rented white folks' land.

Q Lived there? A Yes, sir, but my husband come back here, I think they said in '67.

Q Did he bring you with him? A No, sir.

Q He come up here preaching? A Yes, sir.

Q And went back to Texas? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. DAVENPORT:

Q You and your family moved about ten or twelve years ago to the Nation, wasn't Gallie Mayfield living in and near Overton in Texas when you and your family came from Texas; wasn't she living in or near Overton, in the State of Texas? A She come from here and went to Overton.

Q Wasn't she living there? A Yes, sir, she come back here.

Q Wasn't that her home and wasn't her children living there?

A I told you as near as I can, she come here in the spring and in the fall she would go back to Texas; that is the way she done.

BY COM'R NEEDLES:

Q You never drew any money for any of the children did you?

A No, sir.

Q Nor yourself either? A No, sir.

COM'R NEEDLES: Permelia Rowe applies for the enrollment of herself and her three children, to-wit: Nancy, Salina and Celist. Their names do not appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation now in the possession of the Commission, after a thorough examination and they cannot be found thereon. She avers that she was a slave of Gallie and Jess Mayfield, who removed with her to the State of Texas, when she was a child and she grew up in the State of Texas, and married here to one Jesse Rowe, who claims to be Pernellia Rowe, et al.--3.

Cherokee Freedman. She avers that in 1866 she came to the Cherokee Nation in search of her father, leaving her family at home and returned. She avers that her said children were all born in the State of Texas and that she returned with her family 12 or 13 years ago, and has been living in the Cherokee Nation ever since. The testimony fails to show that the applicant returned in the year 1866 with her family and that although she herself came into the Cherokee Nation in 1866 for a short time and returned to Texas, the testimony fails to show that said return was in accordance with the spirit or either the in letter of the provisions of the treaty of 1866 permitting Cherokee Freedmen who return within the time specified to become citizens of the Cherokee Nation, but under the circumstances the said Pernellia Rowe and her three children as enumerated herein will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee Freedmen upon a doubtful card, because of the fact that the testimony in her case has not all been presented, by her attorney asserting that he has three witnesses that he desires to introduce. The final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at her post office address.

Q Where did you come to? A. I suppose it was Fort Gibson, but I don't really know where I first came to.
Q How long did you stay there? A. Just a short time.
Q About how long? A. Somewhere between six weeks and two months.

Q What age were you then? A. 17 or 18 years old, my master told me in '82 as best I can recollect that I was 14 years old then.

Q Where did you go after that? A. Home, went home in March.

(By the Commission)

Q What do you mean by HOME? A. To my master's in Texas.

(By Smith)

Q Your master had not returned then? A. No sir.

Q When did he return? A. In the winter or fall of '87 or '88.

Q When did you come here next? A. In '90.

Q When did you get married? A. In '88 that is how I came to know my age, my master made fun of me and told me I wasn't but 14 years old and too young to marry.

Q How old was you when you commenced preaching? A. 18 or 20, just after the war I commenced to preach, I reckon you would call it preaching: time of the war I was out to services and learned to pray and talk and the people then called it preaching.

Q How long did you stay here when you came the second time? A. Just a little while.

Q What did you do when you were here? A. I stayed here just this side of Fort Smith in Sequoyah district knocking around there and then went back to Texas.

Q When did you ever come back to the Cherokee Nation after that? A. The next time must have been in '90 or '91 I brought my children out here, my father in law was in Sequoyah and I brought my children out here then.

Q Where was your wife up to '91? A. In Texas with me sir.

Q Are you still preaching? A. Yes sir.

Q How do you preach, in other words, in what places? A. I have three churches.

Q Is there any rule or regulation in your church as to how and where you are to preach, or do you go where ever you want to? A. No are called by the voice of the church, the majority of the members govern that.

Q The Methodists have of Conference, what do you have? A. Associations.

Q Is that similar to the Conference of the Methodists? A. Not exactly.

Q What do you have in place of Bishops? A. Missionaries.

Q What are you? A. I was a Missionary when I was in Texas, I am Moderator now.

(By the Commission)

Q You are not called to any particular church now? A. I am the providing officer or Moderator of the churches in this district now.

Q When to become the minister of a church you are called there by the members of that church? A. Yes sir.

Q And not by a general conference? A. No sir.

Q That is the difference between the Methodists and Baptists in selecting their ministers? A. Yes sir.

(By Sawyer)

Applicants not found on any of the Cherokee rolls now in the possession of this Commission.

(By Mr. Savenper)

Q When did your master, George Starr go to Texas? A. I don't know.

Q Was you born before he went there? A. Yes sir I was born before he took me there; my understanding is that my master Dave Rowe was a very wild and reckless man and owed a great deal of money and we got sold off, and George Starr got us and took us to Texas.

Q You were in Texas several years before the war? A. Yes sir.

Q When you brought your family to the Cherokee Nation to live it was in '79 or '80, you brought your children here then? A. Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

 Q What year was she married? A. I don't remember.
 Q How old was she when she married? A. I don't remember.
 Q How old was she when she died? A. She died in '90 and she was born in '65 in August.
 Q She was 25 years old when she died? A. Yes sir.
 (By Davenport)
 Q The mother of these children was born in Texas? A. Yes sir.

By Gen'l Needles,

Jesse Rowe applies for himself and four grand children, Adamiah, Alveria, Pearle and Clifford Seal; his name is not found on any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation nor in the possession of this Commission; he avers that he was a slave of Dick Rowe, who was a Cherokee citizen; he avers that he was taken to Texas by one George Starr, having been turned over to the said Starr by Dick Rowe for a debt. He avers that he returned to the Cherokee Nation in January of '57 and returned to Texas in a few weeks; that he remained in Texas until 1860 or 1862 and then brought his children to the Cherokee Nation and returned again to Texas where he and his wife resided until 1867 at which time he and his wife came to this country to live; he avers that his eldest child was named Lissie, that she was born in the State of Texas, married there to one Paul and died there when she was 25 years of age; that there were born to her the four grandchildren of the applicant now applies for, said children having been born in Texas, but now live with the applicant in the Cherokee Nation. The attorney for the applicant asks that said applicant, Jesse Rowe and his four children applied for, be placed on a doubtful card for further consideration, stating that there may be other testimony taken in connection with this case, and asks that this testimony may be made a part of the application of Parmelia Rowe as Cherokee Freedman & Card 1001. At the present time the Commission cannot see any ground for placing the applicant and his four grand children on a doubtful card even, but it will be done at the request of the attorney for the applicants; therefore the said Jesse Rowe and the four grand children mentioned herein will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen on a doubtful card and when the final decision is arrived at by the Commission he will be notified by mail.

It is further ordered that a copy of this testimony be filed in the case of Parmelia Rowe, G. F. D. 1001.

Chas. von Weise, being sworn states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes therein.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 17th of August, 1901.

Q Did he have Jess Rowe with him when he went there? A Yes sir, that is my impression-- he was there and grew up there.

Q Do you know anything about where Jess was at the close of the war? A No sir. I am not certain where he was then.

Q Your father and Mrs. Mayfield and George Starr went to Texas together? A They went the same year.

Q What year was that? A '47.

Q Had they lived in Texas continuously from '47 until the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir.

(By Smith)

Q They claimed to be citizens of this Nation at the breaking out of the war? A No sir they were not citizens. I think they were considered citizens of Texas.

Q What did they claim, I am not asking you for your opinion? Well they were Cherokees by blood.

Q They had moved from this country? A Yes sir.

Q And they still claimed to be citizens of this country? A No sir, they voted there to my knowledge.

Q How do you know? A They had elections there and they voted.

Q Did you see them vote? A I don't know as I can specify the one they voted, but they voted.

Q How do you know it? A They were recognized as citizens and paid taxes and were old enough, and every one down there who was old enough, voted.

Q You didn't see them vote? A No sir, but I have every reason to believe that they voted.

Q Do you know of your own personal knowledge that they voted in Texas? A I am satisfied that they voted.

Q Do you know it? A Yes sir, as well as I know anything that I didn't see.

Q As well as you know anything that you don't know? A I know many things sometimes that he don't see.

Q You don't know anything that is in favor of these freedmen to you? A If I did and was asked about it I would tell it.

Q Have you ever testified in behalf of a single one of them here? A I have not directly, I have not been called upon.

Q You have been right active in testifying in favor of the Cherokee Nation? As well as my knowledge of the facts goes I have been, and I think I have a right to.

Q You don't really know what these folks did in Texas as to voting or not do you? A I am pretty sure that they voted.

Q You can say if they did or did not?

A I can say they did.

Q Did you see them? A No sir.

Q How do you know them that they voted? A They were citizens there.

Q How do you know that? A They owned property there and were taxed.

Q How do you know that they were taxed? A The assessor went round and taxed everybody.

Q Do you know that George Starr was taxed? A I have every reason to believe that he was.

Q You don't know that Sallie Mayfield was taxed? A I think that they were taxed.

Q You don't know it though? A Well as a man can know it I do.

Q Did they ever come back to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q They were recognized as citizens when they did come back here? A They were re-admitted then.

Q They were recognized then? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know where Jess Rowe was in '66? A No sir.

Q You don't know where Permelia Rowe was in '66? A No sir.

(By Deavenport.)

Q Have any one of these applicants that belonged to your father, or to Sallie Mayfield or to George Starr ever asked you to testify for them? A No sir never have.

Q You would not have failed to obey a subpoena if they had had you subpoenaed to testify, would you? A No sir.

GEORGE STARR, being first duly sworn by Court F. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation:

(By Deavenport.)

Q What is your name? A George Starr.

Q What is your post office address? A Talliequah.

Q What is your age? A 52.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '68.

 Q Do you know Jess Rowe? A Yes sir.
 Q Who did he belong to? A To my father.
 Q Do you know if your father had him with him when he went to Texas in '47? A That is before I recollect.
 Q Where was Jess when you could first remember? A He was living there with us in Texas.
 Q Who did Phillis belong to? A To Aunt Sallie Mayfield.
 Q Do you know where Jess Rowe and his family were when the war broke out? A He was living with us when the war broke out.
 Q Where were you living at that time? A Russ County Texas.
 Q You were born in Texas, yourself? A Yes sir.
 Q Have you seen Jess Rowe since he came to this country? A Yes sir.
 Q Do you know him to be the same Jess Rowe that belonged to your father in Texas? A Yes sir the same Jess Rowe.
 Q Have you seen his wife since he came here? A I guess I have I don't know as I know his wife exactly though.
 Q When did you come to the Territory after the war? A In 1868.
 Q Where was Jess Rowe and his family when you moved back? A As far as I know he was in Texas.
 Q Where was he when you started away from Texas? A There.
 Q Where was he when the war closed? A In Texas with us.
 Q When did you first see Jess Rowe in this country? A 10 or 11 years ago.
 Q Did he have his family with him at that time? A I don't know if he had his family or not.
 Q At the breaking out of the war was your father a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A He was a citizen of the State of Texas I guess.
 Q Were you recognized as citizens of the Nation when you came back?
 Q He had to be re-admitted as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation on his return is my understanding.
 (By Smith)
 Q How many slaves did your father have, Mr. Starr? A 50 or 60.
 Q A good many? A Yes sir.
 Q How old were you when the war closed? A I guess I was 15 or 16 years old.
 Q A Boy? A Yes sir.
 Q Where were you then? A In Texas.
 Q How long did you remain there after the war closed? A We left Texas in the spring of '68.
 Q Were you at home all the time there? A Yes sir, except when I was going to school.
 Q Where did you go to school? A At Sulphur, close to where we lived I went there one or two sessions and part of the time I boarded with Aunt Sallie Mayfield, she lived closer than we did.
 Q Where was Jess Rowe when you were boarding with Aunt Sallie Mayfield? A At home on our farm.
 Q How far was your farm from your Aunt Sallie Mayfield's? A Six or seven miles.
 Q Did you have any special reason for recollecting Jess Rowe during that time, or did you just remember that he was one of your father's slaves? A He was there on the place.
 Q As far as Jess Rowe himself is concerned, can you state from your own knowledge and recollection that he was there all the time during the years '68, '69 and '71? A Not by anything particular, but they was all there like the other slaves and I thought he was there too.

Q Where was Fannelia Rowe? A She was there.

Q Was that Jess' wife? A I think she was, he married one of Aunt Sallie Mayfield's nigröes.

Q Where had your family gone from to Texas? A Cherokee Nation

Q They were citizens here? A Yes sir.

Q Did they have any property here? A They sold it I understand and went to Texas.

Q Where had your aunt Sallie Mayfield lived before she went to Texas? In the Cherokee Nation I have been told.

Q Did she ever come back? A Yes sir.

Q They were recognized as citizens here? A She lived here a while and then went back to Texas.

Q She was a Cherokee by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Was your father a Cherokee? A Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

Q Where was Jess born? A I dont know, he is older than I am.

Q Was Jess taken to Texas when your father went there? I suppose he was, I dont know, I was born in Texas in '49.

Q You dont know where Jess was born? A No sir.

(By Davenport)

Q When your family returned here were they recognized as citizens of the Cherokee Nation or did they have to be readmitted? A-

BY MR. SMITH: " The applicant's object to the testimony as to the re-admission for the reason that the record would be better evidence.

(By Davenport of witness)

Q You don't know what took place as to their citizenship? A No sir

Q You do know that they moved to Texas before the war and lived there until after the war? A Yes sir.

Q When your father came back here did he have any property here? A No sir.

(By Smith)

Q You were born in Texas? A Yes sir.

Q You are a citizen of the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes sir.

Q By blood? A Yes sir.

Q You came here from the State of Texas? A Yes sir.

(By Davenport)

Q Your understanding is that it was after your return that you were re-admitted? A Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

Q How did you get to be a Cherokee citizen if you were born in Texas?

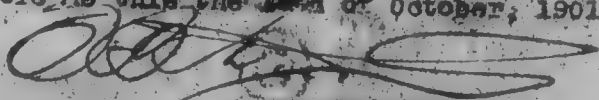

Q After father was re-admitted I suppose the whole family was re-admitted with him.

Commissioner

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Washoe, D. C., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman.

Applicant appears by Mallett & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings.

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitnire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 11309 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F. D. 468, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Fennell case, F. D. 461.

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a dependant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove or disprove in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of our people who make application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in such individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the records other than the decree already referred to.

in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings:

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case re-opened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary as desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee Freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of the attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings had in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

-: D E C I S I O N :-

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen were made to this Commission by Permellia Rowe for herself and her three minor children, Nancy, Salona and Colis Rowe; by Jesse Rowe, Jr., for himself; by Arre Ray for herself and her minor daughter, Ina Ray; by Mary Wilson for herself and her three minor children, Claude, Joseph and Flossie M. Wilson; by Savannah Reese for herself; by Elias Lyons for his wife, Martha Lyons; by Jesse Rowe for himself and his four minor grand-children, Adami, Alverta, Pearley and Clifford Seals, and by Joseph Rowe for himself, his wife, Pollie Rowe, and two minor children, Clarinda, and Osa Rowe; that subsequent to the date of the last-mentioned application a birth affidavit, which is made a part of the record herein, was filed with the Commission, showing the birth of Loma Rowe. A copy of the testimony taken at different times and places in Cherokee Freedmen D-1014 is filed herewith and made a part of the record in this case.

The evidence in this case shows that Jesse Rowe and Permellia Rowe are husband and wife and that they were at one time the slaves of Cherokee citizens who, prior to the commencement of the rebellion, removed to the State of Texas, taking these two applicants with them and established a residence in said State; that the applicants, Nancy Rowe, Salona Rowe, Colis Rowe, Jesse Rowe, Jr., Arre Ray, Ina Ray, Mary Wilson, Claude Wilson, Joseph Wilson, Flossie M. Wilson, Savannah Reese, Martha Lyons, Adami Seals, Alverta Seals, Pearley Seals, Clifford Seals and Joseph Rowe are the children and grand-children of the said Jesse and Permellia Rowe, have been born since the commencement of the rebellion, and take only such rights as may be possessed by the said Jesse Rowe and Permellia Rowe; that the applicants, Clarinda Rowe, Osa Rowe and Loma Rowe, are the minor children of and claim their right to enrollment through their parents the said Joseph Rowe and Pollie Rowe; that the said Pollie Rowe was born since 1866 and is the daughter of and claims her right to enrollment through Judith Chambers.

It further appears from the evidence herein that neither the said Jesse Rowe nor Permellia Rowe returned to and established a residence in the Cherokee Nation within the time specified in the decree of the Court of Claims rendered on February 3, 1896, in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, etc., vs. the Cherokee Nation, et al., for the return of Cherokee freedmen to said Nation, and that the said Pollie Rowe is not the descendant of a slave of a Cherokee citizen nor of a free colored person residing in said Nation at the commencement of the rebellion.

It further appears that the names of none of the applicants herein appear on the 1880 authenticated Cherokee Roll.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the applications for the enrollment of Permelia Rowe, Nancy Rowe, Salona Rowe, Colis Rowe, Jesse Rowe, Jr., Arre Ray, Ina Ray, Mary Wilson, Claude Wilson, Joseph Wilson, Flossie M. Wilson, Savannah Reese, Martha Lyons, Jesse Rowe, Adami Seals, Alvetta Seals, Pearley Seals, Clifford Seals, Joseph Rowe, Pollie Rowe, Clarinda Rowe, Osa Rowe and Loma Rowe as Cherokee freedmen should be denied, under the provisions of section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

ADDRESS ONLY THE
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Muskogee, Indian Territory, May 5, 1904.

W. W. Hastings,

Attorney for Cherokee Nation,

Tahlequah, Indian Territory.

Dear Sir:

There is herewith enclosed a copy of the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated April 20, 1904, in the consolidated case of Permella Rowe et al., rejecting the applications for the enrollment of Permella, Nancy, Salona, Collis, Jesse, Joseph, Pollie, Clarinda, Osa, Loma and Jesse Rowe Jr., Adami, Alverta, Pearly and Clifford Seals, Martha Lyons, Arre and Ina Ray, Mary, Claude, Joseph and Flossie M. Wilson and Savannah Reese as Cherokee freedmen.

The decision, with the record of proceedings had in the case, has this day been transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior for his review and decision. The action of the Secretary will be made known to you as soon as the Commission is informed of the same.

Respectfully,

Enc. D-197.

Commissioner in Charge.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
CHULSEA, I.T., JUNE 11th, 1901.

In the matter of the application of Jesse Rowe, Jr., for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman; said Rowe being sworn and examined by Commissioner T. B. Needles, testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Jesse Rowe, Jr.
Q How old are you? A 28 years old.
Q What is your post office address? A Ketchum.
Q What district do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Do you apply to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.
Q Who do you want to enroll besides yourself? A No, one.
Q Does your name appear upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q Never been recognized as a Cherokee Freedman? A No, sir.
Q Where were you born? A State of Texas.
Q What was your mother's name? A Permelia Rowe.
Q Is she the Permelia Rowe who has just applied to be enrolled as a Cherokee Freedman? A Yes, sir.

The Rolls of Cherokee Freedmen in the possession of this Commission examined and applicant's name found on none of them.

- Q You never drew any money from the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A About ten or twelve years.
Q Come from the state of Texas about ten or twelve years ago with your mother? A Yes, sir.

COM'R NEEDLES: Jesse Rowe applies for the enrollment of himself. He cannot be identified upon any of the rolls of the Cherokee Nation now in the possession of this Commission. He avers that he is the child of Permelia Rowe who has been listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman on doubtful card #381, and the testimony taken in said case will be made part of the record in the case at bar and a copy thereof filed herewith. He will be duly listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman upon a doubtful card and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his post office address.

James S. Davenport for the Cherokee Nation.
Mellotte & Smith for the applicant.

James M. Bell, being first duly sworn before Com'r T. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport)

- Q What is your name? A James M. Bell.
- Q How old are you? A 68.
- Q Where do you live? A Delaware district, Cherokee Nation.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since 1839.
- Q Have you ever been outside of the Cherokee Nation and if so where?
- A My father moved to Texas in '47 to Russ county.
- Q When did you return from Texas? A In '52, after his death.
- Q Did you know a lady known as Aunt Sallie Mayfield? A Yes sir.
- Q Where did she live when you first got acquainted with her? A In the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Did she ever live anywhere except in the Cherokee Nation? A She moved to Texas.
- Q When did she move to Texas? A In '47.
- Q How long did she live in Texas? A She lived there until after the war.
- Q Do you know whether or not they owned any slaves? A Yes sir they owned a good many.
- Q Do you know the names of any of them? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Parmelia Rowe? A No sir.
- Q Do you know Jesse Rowe? A Yes sir.
- Q Where did you know him? A In Texas.
- Q Did he have a wife at that time? A I dont know exactly about that.
- Q Did you ever know a colored woman that belonged to Aunt Sallie Mayfield named Phillis? A Yes sir I knew old Phillis.
- Q Where was she when you knew her? A In Texas, she was cooking there.
- Q Was that before or after the war? A That was before and after both.
- Q Where was Aunt Sallie Mayfield living at the breaking out of the war? A She lived in Texas.
- Q Was Phillis and her family there with her at the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir she was.
- Q Do you know what year Aunt Sallie Mayfield came back to the Cherokee Nation after the war? A No sir.
- Q Who did Jesse Rowe belong to? A George Starr.
- Q Where did he live at the breaking out of the war? A In Texas, Russ-County.
- Q When did he go to Texas? A In '47, my father's family went with him.
- Q Did he have Jesse Rowe with him when he went there? A Yes sir, that is my impression—he was there and grew up there.
- Q Do you know anything about where Jesse was at the close of the war?
- A No sir, I am not certain where he was then.
- Q Your father and Mrs. Mayfield and George Starr went to Texas together? A They went the same year.
- Q What year was that? A '47.
- Q Had they lived in Texas continuously from '47 until the breaking out of the war? A Yes sir.
- (By Smith)
- Q They claimed to be citizens of this Nation at the breaking out of the war? A No sir they were not citizens, I think they were considered citizens of Texas.
- Q What did they claim, I am not asking you for your opinion? Well they were Cherokee by blood.

Q They had moved from this country? A Yes sir.

Q And they still claimed to be citizens of this country? A No sir, they voted there to my knowledge.

Q How do you know? A They had elections there and they voted.

Q Did you see them vote? A I don't know as I can specify the line they voted, but they voted.

Q How do you know it? A They were recognized as citizens and paid taxes and were old enough, and every one down there who was old enough, voted.

Q You didn't see them vote? A No sir, but I have every reason to believe that they voted.

Q Do you know of your own personal knowledge that they voted in Texas? A I am satisfied that they voted.

Q Do you know it? A Yes sir as well as I know anything that I didn't see.

Q As well as you know anything that you don't know? A A man knows things sometimes that he don't see.

Q You don't know anything that is in favor of these freedmen do you? A If I did and was asked about it I would tell it.

Q Have you ever testified in behalf of a single one of them here? A I have not directly, I have not been called upon.

Q You have been right active in testifying in favor of the Cherokee Nation? As well as my knowledge of the facts goes I have been, and I think I have a right to.

Q You don't really know what these folks did in Texas as to voting or not do you? A I am pretty sure that they voted.

Q You can say if they did or did not?

A I can say they did.

Q Did you see them? A No sir.

Q How do you know them that they voted? A They were citizens there.

Q How do you know that? A They owned property there and were taxed.

Q How do you know that they were taxed? A The assessor went round and taxes everybody.

Q Do you know that George Starr was taxed? A I have every reason to believe that he was.

Q You don't know that Sallie Mayfield was taxed? A I think that they were taxed.

Q You don't know it though? A Well as a man can know it I do.

Q Did they ever come back to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q They were recognized as citizens when they did come back here? A They were re-admitted then.

Q They were recognized then? A Yes sir.

Q You don't know where Jess Rowe was in '66? A No sir.

Q You don't know where Permelia Rowe was in '66? A No sir.

(By Davenport)

Q Have any one of these applicants that belonged to your father, or to Sallie Mayfield or to George Starr ever asked you to testify for them? A No sir never have.

Q You would not have failed to obey a subpoena if they had had you subpoenaed to testify, would you? A No sir.

ZECK STARR, being first duly sworn by Com'r T. B. Needles, testified as follows on the part of the Cherokee Nation:

(By Davenport)

Q What is your name? A Zeck Starr.

Q What is your post office address? A Tahlequah.

Q What is your age? A 52.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since '68.

Q Where did you live before you came to the Cherokee Nation? A Texas, Ross county.

Q Did she have any children? A Yes sir I think she had some children.
Q Do you know Jess Rowe? A Yes sir.
Q Who did he belong to? A To my father.
Q Do you know if your father had him with him when he went to Texas in '47? A That is before I recollect.
Q Where was Jess when you could first remember? A He was living there with us in Texas.
Q Who did Phillis belong to? A To Aunt Sallie Mayfield.
Q Do you know where Jess Rowe and his family were when the war broke out? A He was living with us when the war broke out.
Q Where were you living at that time? A Ross County Texas.
Q You were born in Texas, yourself? A Yes sir.
Q Have you seen Jess Rowe since he came to this country? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know him to be the same Jess Rowe that belonged to your father in Texas? A Yes sir the same Jess Rowe.
Q Have you seen his wife since he came here? A I guess I have I don't know as I know his wife exactly though.
Q When did you come to the Territory after the war? A In 1868.
Q Where was Jess Rowe and his family when you moved back? A As far as I know he was in Texas.
Q Where was he when you started away from Texas? A There.
Q Where was he when the war closed? A In Texas with us.
Q When did you first see Jess Rowe in this country? A 10 or 11 years ago.
Q Did he have his family with him at that time? A I don't know if he had his family or not.
Q At the breaking out of the war was your father a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A He was a citizen of the State of Texas I guess.
Q Were you recognized as citizens of the Nation when you came back?
Q He had to be re-admitted as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation on his return is my understanding.
(By Smith)
Q How many slaves did your father have, Mr. Starr? A 50 or 60.
Q A good many? A Yes sir.
Q How old were you when the war closed? A I guess I was 15 or 16 years old.
Q A Boy? A Yes sir.
Q Where were you then? A In Texas.
Q How long did you remain there after the war closed? A He left Texas in the spring of '68.
Q Were you at home all the time there? A Yes sir, except when I was going to school.
Q Where did you go to school? A At Baldpate, close to where we lived I went there one or two sessions and part of the time I boarded with Aunt Sallie Mayfield, she lived closer than we did.
Q Where was Jess Rowe when you were boarding with Aunt Sallie Mayfield? A At home on our farm.
Q How far was your farm from your Aunt Sallie Mayfield's? A Six or seven miles.
Q Did you have any special reason for recollecting Jess Rowe during that time, or did you just remember that he was one of your father's slaves? A He was there on the place.
Q As far as Jess Rowe himself is concerned, can you state from your own knowledge and recollection that he was there all the time during the years '65, '66 and '67? A Not by anything particular, but they was all there like the other slaves and I thought he was there too.

Q Where was Fannelia Rowe? A She was there.

Q Was that Jess' wife? A I think she was, he married one of Aunt Sallie Mayfield's nigröes.

Q Where had your family gone from to Texas? A Cherokee Nation

Q They were citizens here? A Yes sir.

Q Did they have any property here? A They sold it I understand and went to Texas.

Q Where had your aunt Sallie Mayfield lived before she went to Texas? In the Cherokee Nation I have been told.

Q Did she ever come back? A Yes sir.

Q They were recognized as citizens here? A She lived here a while and then went back to Texas.

Q She was a Cherokee by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Was your father a Cherokee? A Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

Q Where was Jess born? A I dont know, he is older than I am.

Q Was Jess taken to Texas when your father went there? I suppose he was, I dont know, I was born in Texas in '49.

Q You dont know where Jess was born? A No sir.

(By Davenport)

Q When your family returned here were they recognized as citizens of the Cherokee Nation or did they have to be readmitted? A-

BY MR. SMITH: " The applicant's object to the testimony as to the re-admission for the reason that the record would be better evidence.

(By Davenport of witness)

Q You don't know what took place as to their citizenship? A No sir

Q You do know that they moved to Texas before the war and lived there until after the war? A Yes sir.

Q When your father came back here did he have any property here?

A No sir.

(By Smith)

Q You were born in Texas? A Yes sir.

Q You are a citizen of the Cherokee Nation now? A Yes sir.

Q By blood? A Yes sir.

Q You came here from the State of Texas? A Yes sir.

(By Davenport)

Q Your understanding is that it was after your return that you were re-admitted? A Yes sir.

(By the Commission)

Q How did you get to be a Cherokee citizen if you were born in Texas?

Q After father was re-admitted I suppose the whole family was re-admitted with him.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., May 31, 1902.

In the matter of the application of PERRY ADAMS for enrollment as a Cherokee Freedman:

Applicant appears by Hellette & Smith; Cherokee Nation, by W. W. Hastings:

By Mr. Smith:

The applicant moves the Commission to make the certified copy of the decree of the Court of Claims in the case of Moses Whitmire, Trustee for the Freedmen, vs The Cherokee Nation, No. 17209 filed in the Mariah Hayden case F D 493, a part of the record in this case and the cases hereinafter mentioned by reference to the said case of the said Mariah Hayden, and if it be deemed necessary that a copy of the said decree be filed in this case and in the following cases, to-wit:

Jesse Rowe, D 623;

By W. W. Hastings:

Comes now the Cherokee Nation and objects to the introduction of the decree because, First: It does not tend to show that the applicant was a slave of the Cherokee Nation at the beginning of the war, nor that he returned within the time specified in the treaty of 1866, or that he had been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation since that time, or that he is a descendant of such a person. Second: Because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and does not tend to prove an issue in this case. Third: Because the Commission will take judicial knowledge of all laws, treaties and decrees necessary for the determination of the right of any person who makes application for citizenship. Fourth: The Cherokee Nation objects to the filing of a certified copy of this decree in the case of an applicant unless the same is called and filed in each individual case.

Commission:

The motion of the attorney for the applicant will be entertained and the decree of the Court of Claims filed in the case of Mariah Hayden will be made a part of the record by reference in all the cases above named with the exception of those which come within the provisions of the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Gill of the United States Court, of the Northern District, Indian Territory.

Mr. Smith:

The applicant further moves that as to the above named cases including the Mariah Hayden case that counsel for the applicant be allowed within thirty days to file any of the proof of any or all of the record other than the decree already referred to

9 in the case of Moses Whitmire, trustee, vs Cherokee Nation, on file in the Court of Claims to the counsel of the Cherokee Nation if it is desired to do so.

W. W. Hastings:

The Cherokee Nation most certainly strenuously objects to the allowance of this permission or to the granting of this request for the reason that most of these applicants have had more than a year in which to file all of their testimony that they desired to file to make out their case before the Commission and that notice was given them all by agreement in March last, that the cases would be closed so far as testimony was concerned by the special permission of the firm of attorneys representing these applicants, on the 31st day of May, 1902, and that this being the 31st day of May, 1902, we say that under the rulings of the Commission, that under the agreement between the attorneys, that the testimony in all these cases is to close and should be closed by the Commission, and that no extension should be granted in any case and no case reopened unless there is some special and particular reason shown either by the Cherokee Nation on the one side or the applicant on the other why an extension of time is necessary or desired.

The Commission:

The law provides that the roll of Cherokee freedmen shall be made in strict compliance with the decree of the Court of Claims rendered the 3rd day of February, 1896, and as the Commission must take judicial notice of the judgment roll of said Court in the proceedings referred to the motion of attorneys for applicants for additional time to file certified copies of the proceedings of the said Court is denied.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.
